- (d) The term “mesne profits” includes interest on such mesne profits; and the interest accrues from the date upon which each instalment of the mesne profits may become due. 25 A. 275 = 23 A.W.N. 42; 27 C. 951. Q
- (e) In the ascertainment of mesne profits due to the decree-holder, he is entitled to get interest, annually, on the amount found to be due. 7 C.W.N. 437—30 C. 506 (8 C. 382; 9 I.A. 1, dist.). R
- (f) Interest, as forming a part of the mesne profits, cannot be allowed for any period subsequent to that limited by the rule. Interest at 6%, and not 12 per cent., was allowed on mesne profits after possession was delivered. 12 C.W.N. 285. S

3.—“Three years.”

- (a) Where a decree awarding future mesne profits is affirmed by an appellate Court, the three years from the date of the decree, until the expiration of which mesne profits are recoverable, should be calculated from the date of decree of the Court of appeal. 27 I.A. 209; 10 M.L.J. 290; 5 C.W.N. 52; 28 A. 152. T
- (b) When a decree directs that plaintiff should get mesne profits from a certain date till delivery of possession, the decree is subject to the limitation laid down in this rule, even though the possession was not delivered during that period. 24 B. 345. U

3 —“ Three years.”—(Concluded).

- (c) Where an appeal is dismissed for default and the lower Court's judgment awards future mesne profits, the three years period should be computed from the date of the appellate decree dismissing the appeal for default.
7 C W N. 486=30 C 660. at p. 664. Y

4.—“ Final decree.”

- (a) The wording of S. 197 of Act VIII of 1859 is quite consistent with a view that, where a decree for possession is given and an inquiry as to the amount of mesne profits is reserved, the decree for possession of the land is only a partial decree in the suit, and that there is to be a further inquiry and a further decree in respect of mesne profits. 4 C. 629 ; see, however, 8 M. 187. W
- (b) Where, in pursuance of a decree for possession directing an inquiry into the amount of mesne profits, the amount of the mesne profits is ascertained, a formal decree embodying that decree should be drawn up. 32 C. 175. X
- (c) If the result of the inquiry is that the sum found due in respect of mesne profits is in excess of the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, the Court can, nevertheless, pass a final decree for the sum found due. 21 C. 550. Y

13. (1) Where a suit is for an account of any property and for its due administration¹ under the decree of the Court, the Court shall, before passing the final decree, pass a preliminary decree ordering such accounts² and inquiries to be taken and made, and giving such other directions as it thinks fit.

(2) In the administration by the Court of the property of any deceased person, if such property proves to be insufficient³ for the payment in full of his debts and liabilities, the same rules shall be observed as to the respective rights of secured and unsecured creditors⁴ and as to debts and liabilities proveable, and as to the valuation of annuities and future and contingent liabilities respectively, as may be in force for the time being within the local limits of the Court in which the administration suit is pending with respect to the estates of persons adjudged or declared insolvent ; and all persons, who in any such case would be entitled to be paid out of such property, may come in under the preliminary decree, and make such claims against the same as they may respectively be entitled to by virtue of this Code.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 213 of Act XIV of 1882.

(1) The word “when” is changed into “where.”

(2) The words “before making the decree” are changed into “before passing the final decree.”

- (3) The words "pass a preliminary decree" are new.
- (4) For the words "of any person who dies after this Code comes into force," the words "of any deceased person" are substituted.
- (5) The words "within the local limits of the Court in which the administration suit is pending" are new.
- (6) The words "or declared" are new.
- (7) The words "under the decree for its administration" are omitted, and for them the words "under the preliminary decree" are substituted.

(General).

- (a) This rule does not purport to create any jurisdiction, but it recognises the possibility of administration suits being instituted and tried under the Code and provides for them accordingly. The jurisdiction to entertain such a suit does not depend upon whether the deceased person is one to whose estate the Indian Succession Act is applicable. 68 P.R. 1881. Z
- (b) Where a money-decree is passed against the estate of a deceased debtor, a claim for such a decree is not of the nature of an administration suit. 7 A. 122; 9 C. 406; 29 M. 508; 26 A. 28; 52 P.L.R. 1908; but see 4 C. 402; 19 A. 504; 8 C. 20; 8 C. 370. A
- (c) The fact that an administration suit is pending is not a sufficient ground for staying the execution of a mortgage decree. 7 C. 783; 9 C.L.R. 344. B
- (d) The rule does not apply all the principles of bankruptcy to insolvent estates. It seems to point to uniformity of administration in respect of the four heads specified in the rule. Re Whitaker (1901), 1 Ch. p. 13; Annual Practice (1908), Vol. II, p. 538. C

1.—"Administration."

(1) Suit by creditor—Principle.

- (a) The principle of the rules that the creditor of a deceased person suing for administration is in the same situation with regard to all other persons, as if he were bringing an action at law against the administrator, and that a debtor to the estate of a deceased person can only be made answerable as such debtor by the representative of the deceased's estate, is to be adhered to in this country, where there is a different procedure. 15 B.L.R. 296. D

- (b) When a creditor of a deceased Mahomedan sues the heir in possession and obtains a decree against the assets of the deceased, such a suit is to be looked upon as an administration suit; and those heirs of the deceased who are not parties to the suit cannot claim anything but what remains after the debts of the testator have been paid. 24 W.R. 3; 4 C. 142; 3 I.A. 295; 5 I.A. 211; 8 C. 370; 10 C.L.R. 346; 21 C. 311. E

(2) Position of creditors.

The general rule governing the position of creditors of an estate under administration by the Court is that they will, on due cause shown, be let in at any time while the fund is in Court, even where the money has been apportioned amongst the creditors. 9 C.W.N. 167. F

(3) Proof of debt.

In the administration by the Court of the estate of a deceased, the dividend in respect of a debt against the estate is to be estimated on the amount of the debt at the date of the order for payment, and not at the date of proof. 6 B.L.R. 140. G

1.—“Administration.”—(Concluded).

(4) Barred debt.

The rule followed by the Courts of Equity in England, whereby, notwithstanding the provision of the statutes of limitation, the share of one of the next-of-kin in the estate of an intestate, while in the hands of the administrator, is liable for a debt due by the next-of-kin to the deceased, though barred at the date of the death of the latter, is to be applied to the Courts of British India. 2 B. 75 ; 7 C. 644. H

(5) Receiver.

(a) Before the completion of the administration decree, no order can be made for the discharge of receiver directing him to make over possession of the estate to the plaintiff. 5 C.W.N. 417. I

(b) A decree for administration is a decree in favour of all creditors, and when all of them are comprised in the decree, it is unjust that one should be in a better position than another. 15 C. 202. J

(6) Effect of decree.

A decree in an administration suit brought by the parties whose interest had been sold against the executor of their father's will, by whom the sale had been made, was held to be no bar to the maintenance of a suit against the purchaser to have the sale set aside. 14 B.L.R. 276 ; 23 W.R. 6 ; 2 I.A. 18. K

2.—“Accounts.”

(a) A suit for an account is a suit which seeks for a decree, and not for a definite sum of money. 23 C. at p. 890. L

(b) A suit for mesne profits is not a suit for an account. 24 M. 118. M

(c) Notwithstanding the language of the decree, it was within the competency of the master in taking the account and within the competency of the Court upon the report, to charge the executor for the value of certain property, it being impossible to doubt that the original executor had possessed himself of the property, and that the property so possessed was not forthcoming and accounted for. 4 W.R. 106. N

3.—“Proves to be insufficient.”

These words mean that there is good reason to believe that the estate will turn out insolvent. Re Hopkins, 18 C.D. 317 ; Annual Practice (1908), Vol. II, p. 534. O

4.—“Secured and unsecured creditors.”

(a) For the rules to be observed as to their respective rights, see 15 C. (208). P

(b) The respective rights of secured and unsecured creditors means not the respective rights of the classes of such creditors as against each other, but the respective rights of the classes inter se. Re Whitaker (1901), 1 Ch., p. 13 C.A ; Annual Practice (1908), Vol. II, p. 534. Q

14. (1) Where the Court decrees a claim to pre-emption in respect of a particular sale of property and the purchase-money has not been paid into Court, the decree shall —

Decree in pre-emption suit.

- (a) specify a day¹ on or before which the purchase-money shall be so paid, and
 - (b) direct that on payment into Court of such purchase-money² together with the costs³ (if any) decreed against the plaintiff, on or before the day referred to in clause (a), the defendant shall deliver possession of the property to the plaintiff, whose title thereto shall be deemed to have accrued from the date of such payment, but that, if the purchase-money and the costs (if any) are not so paid, the suit shall be dismissed with costs.
- (2) Where the Court has adjudicated upon rival claims⁴ to pre-emption, the decree shall direct—
- (a) if and in so far as the claims decreed are equal in degree, that the claim of each pre-emptor complying with the provisions of sub-rule (1) shall take effect in respect of a proportionate share of the property including any proportionate share in respect of which the claim of any pre-emptor failing to comply with the said provisions would, but for such default, have taken effect; and,
 - (b) if and in so far as the claims decreed are different in degree, that the claim of the inferior pre-emptor shall not take effect unless and until the superior pre-emptor has failed to comply with the said provisions.

(Notes).

Old Act.

The sub-rule (1) corresponds to S. 214 of Act XIV of 1882 which is as follows :—

When the suit is to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of a particular sale of property, and the Court finds for the plaintiff, if the amount of purchase-money has not been paid into Court, the decree shall specify a day on or before which it shall be so paid, and shall declare that, on payment of such purchase-money together with the costs (if any) decreed against him, the plaintiff shall obtain possession of the property, but that, if such money and costs are not so paid, the suit shall stand dismissed with costs.

- (1) The old section has been considerably altered. “ These amendments are based on the rulings contained in the decisions of the High Court of Allahabad in 6 All. 370 (455) and 11 A. 164.”

“ Having regard to the opinion expressed in I.L.R. 24 Mad. at page 463, we have thought it right to make it clear that title, vests without an instrument of transfer. To require a transfer now might throw a cloud over numberless titles which rest on the assumption sanctioned by long practice that no instrument of transfer was necessary.” (Statements of Objects and Reasons).

(2) The words "whose title thereto shall be deemed to have accrued from the date of such payment" in (b) of sub-rule (1) are inserted to give effect to the observations in 24 M. 449 at p. 463.

(3) Sub-rule (2) is new.

(General).

(1) Scope.

(a) S. 214 of Act XIV of 1882 does not apply to a case in which the parties setting up the right of pre-emption are already in possession. 20 M. 305 at p. 310. R

(b) Ss. 17 and 18 of the Punjab Laws Acts, 1872, do not extend to a Court of appeal as regards suits for pre-emption on a sale. S. 214 of Act XIV of 1882 applies to the decree of an appellate Court made upon the successful appeal of a defendant for increasing the amount of purchase money. 70 P.R. 1890 (F.B.). S

(2) Appeal.

(a) The pre-emptor can appeal within the limitation against the original Court's decree, whether he has made the payment on, or before, the day fixed, or has not done so. 18 A. 223 at p. 226; 13 A. 376; 16 A. 126; 92 P.R. 1900; but see 161 P.R. 1890. T

(b) The intention of S. 214 of Act XIV of 1882 is not to transfer or preclude the right of appeal, but to provide a penalty for disobedience of the terms of the decree. 67 P.R. 1895. U

(d) A vendee does not forfeit his right of appeal, merely because he had withdrawn the purchase money paid in Court by the pre-emptor for his benefit. 16 P.R. 1907. W

(e) An appeal lies as to whether the decree-holder has paid money into Court within time. 38 P.R. 1898. X

(3) Form of decree.

The decree should direct the execution and registration of a sale deed, in case in which the Transfer of Property Act requires a sale-deed for the effectual transfer of property. 11 M.L.J. 132=24 M. 449. Y

(4) Final decree.

As to when a decree becomes final in a pre-emption suit, see 1 A. 298; 3 A. 135; 7 A. 107; 1 A. 132. Z

(5) Right of pre-emption.

(a) Where a plaintiff having a right to pre-empt joins with himself in a suit for pre-emption a stranger, he forfeits his right. 19 A. 324; 5 A. 197; 5 A. 180; 15 C. 224; see, however, 4 A. 259; 19 A. 466. A

(b) No right of pre-emption arises when a lease is granted by a co-proprietor. 15 C. 184. B

(c) For the successful maintainability of a pre-emptive claim, the cause of action should subsist at the time of the institution of the suit. 21 A. 375; 21 A. 441. C

(d) The right is personal, and, as such, a transfer by the plaintiff in any manner inconsistent with the object of the suit debars his claim. 5 A. 180; but see 18 A. 382. D

General—(Concluded).

- (e) The transferee of a pro-emption decree cannot execute it, but the pre-emptor can execute it for the benefit of a subsequent vendee. 7 A. 109; 7 A. 107; 78 P.R. 1896. E
- (f) The omission on the pre-emptor's part to deposit the purchase money in Court within the period fixed in the original decree on account of the enlargement of the period in the appellate decree does not deprive him of all right to pre-empt. S.C. 157. F

1.—“Specify a day.”

- (a) Where the day specified happens to fall on a Sunday or at the time when the Court is closed, payment may be made on the following day, or on the re-opening day of the Court. 3 A. 850; 7 A. 107; 2 N.W.P. 112; 31 P.R. 1877. G
- (b) The decree-holder must pay the purchase money within the prescribed time; if he fails to do so, the decree cannot be enforced. The omission in the decree about what would be the effect of plaintiff's non-payment within the day specified is not a plea for a subsequent application with tender of the money. 14 A. 529; 53 P.R. 1908. H
- (c) The date of the passing of the judgment ought to be deducted in computing the prescribed period. 3 A. 850. I
- (d) The appellate Court has power to specify another day and to extend the period fixed by the lower Court. 2 A. 744; 13 A. 376; 137 P.R. 1894. J
- (e) Where the appellate Court's decree is silent about the extension of time, and the lower Court's decree is confirmed, the period specified in the latter must be estimated from the date of the appellate decree. 11 A. 346; 21 P.R. 1889; 70 P.R. 1890; 10 P.R. 1895; 88 P.R. 1898; but see 18 A. 223. K
- (f) The appellate Court is not bound to fix a period subsequent to the date of its decree within which the price fixed by the Court is to be paid, when it confirms the lower Court's decree and does not fix any period; the true meaning of the appellate decree is that the date or time fixed for payment of the pro-emptive money in the original decree is approved. 48 P.R. 1906=104 P.L.R. 1906. L
- (g) Where the period specified in the decree is over, the time cannot be extended. 13 A. 400. M
- (h) The mere appeal by the plaintiff or the defendant cannot extend the time. 18 A. 223. N
- (i) When a decree fixed the time for payment of money into Court, but did not state consequences of non-compliance, time could not be extended. 47 P.R. 1898. O

2.—“Payment into Court of such purchase-money.”

- (a) Although the petition with which the money was tendered asked that it might be deposited and paid to the judgment-debtor after mutation of names, yet it could not be said that the tender and deposit were saddled with a condition precluding the payment of the money before such mutation, and that the terms of the decree had been satisfied. 6 N.W.P. 45. P

2.—“Payment into Court of such purchase-money.”—(Concluded).

- (b) The question, whether the plaintiff has paid the purchase money into Court within time, was not one relating to the execution of the decree, but was one which must be decided in the suit itself. 4 A. 420. Q
- (c) The profits of the property which accrued between the date of sale and the date when the pre-emptor, in accordance with the decree, paid the decreed pre-emptive price, belonged not to the pre-emptor nor to the original vendor, but to the original vendees. 12 A. 234 (F.B.). R
- (d) A pre-emptor could not successfully maintain a suit against the judgment-debtor-co-sharer for the profits of the pre-empted share accruing between the date of the original decree and the date of his obtaining mutation of names. 19 A. 261. S
- (e) There is nothing in the former section to put a restricted or technical meaning upon the words “purchase-money.” 67 P.R. 1892, (70 P.R. 1890, dist.). T
- (f) Where a decree-holder tendered payment within the stipulated time in the appellate decree to the executing Court, and the executing Court declined to accept payment, the defendant was not entitled to require the decree for pre-emption to be set aside. 31 P.R. 1880. U
- (g) Payment partly in cash and tender of a receipt for the balance constitute valid payment. 21 P.R. 1869. Y
- (h) When the decree-holder had already tendered the amount within the period fixed and been directed to take it back and pay it after the decision of the appeal, he could offer the amount after the prescribed period. 79 P.R. 1881. W

3.—“Costs.”

- (a) A pre-emptor who has obtained a decree, loses his decree, if he fails to pay the costs, though he has paid the actual purchase-money within the stipulated time. 96 P.R. 1884. X
- (b) In cases where costs are awarded in plaintiff's favour, the payment may be made after deducting costs. 6 A. 351 at p. 353; (B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 938; 9 W.R. 230; 13 W.R. 106; 4 C. 742, R); 70 P.R. 1888. Y

4.—“Rival claims.”

Provision has been made in sub-rule 2 for the form of decrees in adjudications upon rival claims to pre-emption. 6 A. 370; 6 A. 455; 11 A. 164; 10 A. 182; 9 A. 480; 8 P.R. 1904. Z

15. Where a suit is for the dissolution of a partnership¹, or the taking of partnership accounts², the Court, before passing a final decree, may pass a preliminary decree³ declaring the proportionate shares of the parties, fixing the day on which the partnership shall stand dissolved or be deemed to have been dissolved, and directing such accounts to be taken, and other acts to be done, as it thinks fit.

Decree in suit for dissolution of partnership.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 215 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) The word 'When' is changed into 'Where.'
- (2) The words "or the taking of partnership accounts" are new.
- (3) For the words "before making its decree," the words "before passing a final decree" are substituted.
- (4) The words "an order" are omitted.
- (5) The words "a preliminary decree declaring the proportionate shares of the parties" are new.
- (6) The words "or be deemed to have been dissolved" are new.

1.—"Suit is for the dissolution of a partnership."

- (a) A suit for dissolution of partnership, taking the accounts of the firm, and a declaration of the plaintiff's right to a certain share in the debts due to the firm, was a suit of the nature mentioned in the rule and was not cognizable in the District Court. 5 A. 500; 7 C. 157; 7 C. 428, diss.
- (b) A suit to wind up the business of a partnership firm, to provide for payment of the debts, and to distribute the surplus according to the shares of the partners, should be brought in the District Court. 7 C. 157; 8 C.L.R. 329; C. 428; 9 C.L.R. 157. B
- (c) A partner cannot remove an attachment in execution of a decree, without suing for a dissolution of partnership. 4 B. 222. C
- (d) He cannot sue for profits; but the suit must be for an account. 16 W.R. 141. D

2.—"The taking of partnership accounts."

The plaintiff prayed for taking an account of a dissolved partnership. It appeared that something was due to defendants. The suit ought to be dismissed and no decree should be made in favour of the defendants. 8 A.L.J. 233=A.W.N. (1906), 111. E

3.—"A preliminary decree."

- (a) In a suit for an account of a dissolved partnership, a decree should be passed under the rule, and it should direct an account to be taken of the dealings and transactions between the parties and of the credits, property and effects due and belonging to the late partnership, and it should direct the appointment of a receiver of the outstanding debts and effects. 20 M. 813; 23 P.R. 1908=77 P.L.R. 1903. F
- (b) The provisional decree should contain declarations as to all the rights and liabilities which had been adjudicated on, and embody an order contemplated by the rule. 18 M. 73 at p. 87. G
- (c) An absolute decree ought not to be passed without anything to guide the Court in ascertaining the amount. 15 W.R. 852. H necessary, in order to ascertain the amount of money due to or from any party, that an account should be taken, the Court shall, before passing its final decree, pass a preliminary decree³ directing such accounts to be taken as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 215-A of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) For the words "where a suit is," the words "in a suit" are substituted.
- (2) The words "in all other suits" are changed into "in any other suit."
- (3) For the words "before making its decree," the words "before passing its final decree" are substituted.
- (4) For the words "an order," the words "a preliminary decree" are substituted.

1.—"Suit for an account."

(1) Onus.

In a suit for accounts, once the plaintiff establishes defendant's liability to account, he is entitled to a preliminary decree. The onus does not lie upon him to prove some surplus in the hands of the defendant. 1888 A.W.N. 218; 1905 A.W.N. 1; 1905 A.W.N. 3=1 A.L.J. 722=27 A. 374. I

(2) Right to account.

Before passing the final decree, the Court ought to direct the usual agency accounts to be taken. 14 C. 147; 13 I.A. 123; 1 A.L.J. 347; 1 A.L.J. 722. J

2.—"Any other suit."

In a suit for partition of family property, a decree was passed declaring the share to which the plaintiff and some of the defendants were entitled in the family property but reserving all other questions involved in the suit, held that the decree was a provisional decree. 18 M. 78. K

3.—"Preliminary decree."

(1) General.

The rule is imperative, and a preliminary decree for dissolution of partnership must have been passed before the accounts could be gone into. 100 P.W.R. 1908; (27 A. 374, F.). L

(2) Procedure.

- (a) For the proper procedure to be observed in taking accounts, see 24 W.R. 70; 6 C. 754; 8 C.L.R. 321; 9 C.L.R. 265; 13 I.A. 123; 15 W.R. 260; 14 C. 147; 20 M. 313. M

- (c) Where accounts are impeached on the ground of fraud, two or three instances of particular false or fraudulent items should be brought to the notice of the Court. 9 Ch. D. 529; 11 B. 78. O

(3) Stay of preliminary order.

Where an appeal is pending in the High Court against a preliminary order under the rule, the High Court can make an order staying the carrying out of such order pending the hearing of the appeal. 8 C.W.N. 572=31 C. 722 (F.B.). P

(4) Appeal.

An order directing accounts to be taken is a decree and is appealable. 13 P.R. 1901; 137 P.R. 1901; 23 C. 406. Q

17. The Court may either by the decree directing an account to be taken or by any subsequent order give special directions with regard to the mode in which the account is to be taken or vouched and in particular may direct that in taking the account the books of account in which the accounts in question have been kept shall be taken as prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein contained with liberty to the parties interested to take such objection thereto as they may be advised.

In all cases, except partnership cases, a special direction should be obtained to render books of account admissible as prima facie evidence. Cookes v. Cookes, 3 N.R. 97; Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 416. R Decree in suit for partition of property or separate possession of a share therein.

18. Where the Court passes a decree for the partition of property or for the separate possession of a share therein, then,—

(2) if and in so far as such decree relates to any other immovable property or to moveable property, the Court may, if the partition or separation cannot be conveniently made without further inquiry, pass a preliminary decree declaring the rights of the several parties interested in the property and giving such further directions as may be required.

Decree.

As to the form and contents of the decree, vide 23 B. 184; 18 M. 73; 14 C. 498; 14 I.A. 37; 16 C. 397; 16 I.A. 71; 14 W.R. 92; 4 B. 494. B

19. (1) Where the defendant has been allowed a set-off against the claim of the plaintiff, the decree¹ shall state what amount is due to the plaintiff and what amount is due to the defendant, and shall be for the recovery of any sum which appears to be due to either party.

(2) Any decree passed in a suit in which a set-off is claimed shall be subject to the same provisions in respect of appeal to which it would have been subject if no set-off had been claimed.

(3) The provisions of this rule shall apply whether the set-off is admissible under rule 6 of Order VIII or otherwise.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 216 of Act XIV of 1882.

(1) The word "if" is changed into "where."

(2) The words "if any" in the first para are omitted.

(3) The second para is omitted.

(4) Sub-rule (2) is new.

(5) The words "this section," "section 111," are changed into "this rule," "rule 6 of Order VIII," respectively.

"The Committee have introduced an amendment to give effect to the view that appeals from decrees relating to set-off should lie to the Courts to which appeals in respect of the original claim would lie." (Statement of Objects and Reasons.)

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a) S. 195 of Act VIII of 1859 was only applicable where defendant had been allowed to "set off" a demand against plaintiff's claim, and did not apply to a case where deductions were allowed from the rent proved to have been received, in the nature of allowances made for costs of cultivation or collection expenses. 25 W.R. 275. T

(b) The cases in which a decree can be made in favour of the defendant are those provided for by the rule. 3 A.L.J. 233 = A.W.N. (1906), 111. U

(2) Appeal.

An appeal from the decree in a suit for money lay to the High Court, and not to the District Court by reason of sub-rule (2). 10 A. 587. Y

(3) Stamp.

A written statement containing a claim of set-off is chargeable with the Court fee which would be payable on a plaint of that nature. 13 B. 672. W

1.—"Decree."

The decision of the Court is final between the parties and the same matter cannot be litigated again. The decree may, in some instances, be in favour of the defendant against the plaintiff. 32 C. 654 at p. 659. X

2.—"Set-off."

(a) R. 6 of Order VIII is not exhaustive of the descriptions of cross-claim which may be allowed by way of set-off. 2 M. 296; 4 M. 120; 4 B. 407; 7 A. 284; 4 C. 557; 16 C. 711; 15 A. 9; 1904 A.W.N. 193 = 1 A.L.J. 529 = 27 A. 145. Y

(b) An equitable right of set-off exists in this country when both the claim of the parties arise out of the same transaction. Quære: Whether a decree could be passed in favour of the defendant for any balance which might be found due to him. 20 C. 527. Z

(c) For further cases see notes under Order VIII, rule 6.

Certified copies of judgment and decree to be furnished.

20. Certified copies of the judgment and decree shall be furnished to the parties ¹ on application to the Court, and at their expense.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 217 of Act XIV of 1882.

I.—“Parties.”

(a) Parties to a suit are entitled to receive copies of the original judgment, not merely a translation. 1 Bom. H.C. 165. A

(b) Judges of Courts of Small Causes were bound to give copies of their judgments to parties requiring them. 7 Bom. H.C. 180. B

(1) Strangers.

Strangers to a suit may obtain, as a matter of course, copies of judgments, decrees or orders, at any time after they had been passed or made. 2 C.L.R. 553. C

(2) Delay in furnishing copies.

The judicial officer was not justified in delaying the giving of copies until blank papers are put in. Such copies are to be issued on production of the necessary stamps. 12 B.L.R. 8; 20 W.R. 405, (Such a practice has now been set aside). D

ORDER XXI.

EXECUTION OF DECREES AND ORDERS.

Payment under Decree.

Modes of paying money under decree.

1. (1) All money payable under a decree ¹ shall be paid as follows, namely:—

- (a) into the Court ² whose duty it is to execute the decree;
or
- (b) out of Court to the decree-holder; or
- (c) otherwise as the Court which made the decree directs.

(2) Where any payment is made under clause (a) of sub-rule (1) notice of such payment shall be given to the decree-holder.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 257 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

Sub-rule (2) of this rule is new.

I.—“Under a decree.”

Where a party was directed by the High Court to pay the costs of the day and the money was paid into Court under S. 257 of the C.P.C. of 1882, it was held that the section was not applicable as the order was not a decree. 12 M. 130. E

2.—“ Into the Court.”

(1) Judgment-debtor may elect.

A judgment-debtor has the right under S. 257, C.P.C., to elect to pay the money into Court. 1 Bom. L.R. 644. F

(2) Effect of payment into Court.

Payment by a judgment-debtor, through Court in satisfaction of a decree when it was entire, should be taken into account and set off in satisfaction of the whole decree, though the decree is afterwards split up into shares. 20 W.R. 131. G

2. (1) Where any money payable ¹ under a decree of any kind ² is paid out of Court, or the decree is otherwise adjusted ³ in whole or in part to the satisfaction of the decree-holder ⁴, the decree-holder shall certify ⁵ such payment or adjustment to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree ⁶, and the Court shall record ⁷ the same accordingly.

(2) The judgment-debtor ⁸ also may inform the Court of such payment or adjustment, and apply ⁹ to the Court to issue a notice to the decree-holder to show cause ¹⁰, on a day to be fixed by the Court, why such payment or adjustment should not be recorded as certified; and if, after service of such notice, the decree-holder fails to show cause why the payment or adjustment should not be recorded as certified, the Court shall record ¹¹ the same accordingly.

(3) A payment or adjustment, which has not been certified or recorded as aforesaid, shall not be recognized by any Court executing the decree ¹².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 258 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the word “if,” the word “where” is substituted.
- (2) The words “of any kind,” “and the Court shall record the same accordingly” and “or recorded” are newly inserted in this rule.
- (8) The words “or if any payment is made in pursuance of an agreement of the nature mentioned in S. 257-A,” “to appear on the day fixed or having appeared, fails” and “as a payment or adjustment of the decree” are deleted from this rule.

(GENERAL).

1.—Scope of the section.

(1) Appeal.

- (a) An order under S. 258 (r. 2) is appealable under S. 244; no separate suit lies since the question is res judicata between the parties. 18 M. 26. H
- (b) The provision of law contained in S. 258, cannot be evaded by the device of moving for an enquiry under S. 244—namely, to find out whether the decree had been satisfied or not, and if the Court found that the decree had been satisfied, to cancel the execution of it. U.B.R. Vol. (1897-1901), p. 256. I

1.—Scope of the section—(Concluded).

(2) Application of S. 462, C.P.C.

The provisions of S. 462, C.P.C., are applicable to agreements entered into and certified to Court under S. 258, C.P.C. 2 O.C. 45. J

(3) Court not bound to execute decree.

Where a decree has been adjusted out of Court by a contract binding upon the parties under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859, a Court is not bound to execute the original decree, although the decree-holder refuses to certify the adjustment. 7 M.H.C.R. 387. K

(4) Mortgage-decree.

(a) The question whether S. 258, C.P.C., applies to proceedings in execution of a mortgage decree was left undetermined. 12 C.W.N. 282. L.

(b) An application for order absolute for sale under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act, is an application for execution of the decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, for which the provisions of S. 258, C.P.C., is applicable. A.W.N. (1908), 108. M

(c) In an application for order absolute for foreclosure under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, S. 258, C.P.C. is no bar to an enquiry into an alleged payment of the mortgage-debt. 16 C.P.L.R. 111. N

(5) Recognition of adjustments.

(a) The Court cannot recognise any arrangement between the parties enlarging the period of limitation allowed by law for the execution of decrees or which alters the terms of the decree. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 101; 13 W.R. (F.B.), 44; 17 W.R. 396; 23 W.R. 129. O

(b) A sum paid under an agreement void under S. 257-A cannot be acknowledged or recognised in execution of a decree under S. 258 of the Code, unless it has been certified within the proper time. 25 C. 86. P

(c) A decree, being attached as directed by S. 273, C.P.C., its adjustment subsequent to such attachment cannot be recognised by the Court. 16 B. 522. Q

(d) S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859, applied only to proceedings taken while the decree was in execution and did not preclude the Court, before putting the decree in execution, from enquiring if it had been satisfied out of Court. 22 W.R. 270. R

(6) Retrospective effect of Act VII of 1888.

Changes of law relating to procedure have a retrospective effect. Under S. 27 of the Amending Act VII of 1888, uncertified adjustment can be recognised by other Courts than the Court executing the decree, and this applies to adjustments previous to the Amending Act. 19 B. 204. S

2.—Whether the section does or does not apply.

(1) Involuntary payments and other adjustments.

(a) A judgment-debtor paying money to the officer of the Court under the pressure of the Court's process is entitled to protection. The latter part of S. 206 of C.P.C. of 1859 refers not to such payments but to voluntary adjustments. 9 W.R. 462. T

2.—Whether the section does or does not apply—(Continued).

- (b) Plaintiff sued defendant to recover land. Defendant pleaded that he was Mirasi tenant and entitled to possession so long as he paid rent. A consent decree was passed in favour of the defendant. He was declared a Mirasi tenant and directed to pay rent 'as before.' Plaintiff, afterwards, applied in execution for possession alleging non-payment of rent and also alleging that even if it had been paid, it could not be recognised as it was not certified to the Court under S. 258. It was held that the rent paid was to be deemed as paid under the Mirasi tenure and therefore S. 258 did not apply. 18 B. 690. U
- (c) Plaintiff was surety to defendant in a bond passed to X. X got a decree on the bond against plaintiff and plaintiff paid the decree amount out of Court. Then plaintiff sued the defendant for the uncertified payment to X and X gave evidence in plaintiff's favour. It was held that the last clause of S. 258 did not apply to such a case and that the uncertified payment may be proved. 12 B. 235. Y
- (d) An adjustment out of Court by way of a compromise, having been effected after the decree had been reversed in appeal, did not come within the meaning of S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859, and, therefore, need not have been certified to the Court; such an adjustment may be pleaded as a defence to a suit about the same matter brought by one party against the other. 5 B.H.C.A.C. 78. W
- (e) A part-payment of a decree amount out of Court was not certified. Subsequently the decree was reversed in appeal. And the defendant now applied for the refund of the amount. It was held that the payment, whether certified to the Court or not, could only be regarded as made without consideration and the defendant was entitled to have it restored. 11 B. 724. X
- (f) The agreement that plaintiff will not execute decree against certain defendants, if they refrain from appealing, is not opposed to public policy. Such an agreement may be pleaded as an estoppel. 5 O.C. 217. Y
- (g) Where for consideration the decree-holder agrees out of Court not to enforce his decree, on the suit of the opposite party, a Court can restrain the execution of the decree by injunction, notwithstanding S. 206 of C.P.C., 1859. 22 W.R. 194. Z

(2) Kistbandi agreements.

- (a) A decree for money was obtained without interest, and afterwards a Kistbandi was filed in Court by which it was agreed by both parties that the decree should be satisfied by instalments with interest. As the judgment-debtor by his conduct for several years treated the Kistbandi as if it were a decree, he was not allowed, afterwards, to plead that it could not be executed as a decree. 14 B.L.R. 287=21 W.R. 310; 5 W.R. Mis. 19. A
- (b) Where an instalment bond was given providing for the satisfaction of the decree, it was held that the decree-holder can enforce the terms of the bond in execution. 2 B.L.R. A.C. 223=11 W.R. 86. B
- (c) If the terms of a decree are modified by agreement made with consent of Court and the agreement is acted upon, the Court will not allow the decree-holder to fall back upon the old decree. 10 B.L.R. Ap. 28=19 W.R. 155. C

GENERAL—(Concluded).2.—Whether the section does or does not apply—(Concluded).

- (d) There is no procedure under Act VIII of 1859, under which execution can be taken out upon a Kistbandi filed in Court after decree which has not been incorporated with the decree. 14 B.L.R. 288 note=15 W.R. 542. D
- (e) At first there was a decree for money and subsequently the parties agreed that the decree amount should be paid by instalments with a high rate of interest, and some payments too were made under the terms of the arrangement. In an execution of the balance of the decree amount, the Court held that the decree-holder could not recover any sum beyond what was stated in the decree. 14 B.L.R. 291 note=16 W.R. 275; 6 W.R.S.C.C. Ref. 1. E
- (f) An arrangement to pay by instalments the amount of a decree obtained upon a bond, does not effect an extinction of the original debt or the mortgagee's lien upon property mortgaged to him by the bond. 14 B.L.R. 428 note; 11 W.R. 481. F
- (g) The suing on a Kistbandi in Court does not necessarily make it the instrument of a public adjustment through the Court, within the meaning of S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 7 W.R. 485. G

1.—“Money payable.”

A receipt, by a usufructuary mortgagee of the profits of the land in his possession, is a payment to the mortgagee within the meaning of S. 22 of the Limitation Act, but it is not money payable under a decree within the meaning of S. 258 (=O. XXI, r. 2) of the Code. 15 M.L.J. 126=28 M. 473 (F.B.) H

2.—“Decree of any kind.”

- (a) S. 258 cannot be confined to adjustments of money decrees alone. It is applicable to all decrees alike. 44 P.R. 1906=82 P.L.R. 1907; 6 C. 786; 8 C.L.R. 36. I
- (b) S. 258 of the C.P.C. of 1882 refers only to the execution of decrees under which money is payable, and is not applicable to decrees for possession of property. 22 M. 182=8 M.L.J. 175. J
- (c) Every decree by virtue of which money is payable is to that extent a decree for money, and S. 258 must be applicable to such. So it would apply to a mortgage decree under which money is payable. 15 M.L.J. 126=28 M. 473 (F.B.). K
- (d) A mortgage decree for sale of property was passed and a third party agreed to buy the property privately and pay the mortgage money to the mortgagee, he also consenting. Under the agreement, the sale was completed and the money was tendered. But the mortgagee would not accept it. The third party now filed a petition requesting to be allowed to deposit the money in Court and praying for a declaration that the property was free. Mortgagee now contended that the agreement was out of Court and uncertified and could not be recognised by the Court. It was held that S. 258 did not apply to the case. 24 M. 412. L
- (e) S. 206 of C.P.C. of 1859 did not apply to decrees under Bengal Reg. 7 of 1799. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 76. M

3.—“Otherwise adjusted.”

(1) General.

All adjustments of decrees must be made with the knowledge of the Court, under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 18 W.R. 520. N

(2) Not an adjustment.

(a) The consent of parties cannot give jurisdiction, nor can it alter the nature of the decree. An agreement introducing fresh parties cannot be substituted for the decree or become capable of execution as if it was the original decree. 24 W.R. 205. O

(b) An instalment bond by a judgment-debtor, acknowledging balance of a barred decree amount but executed without any consideration, cannot either revive a decree or be legally binding on his representatives. 24 W.R. 282. P

(c) During the execution of a decree, an agreement was entered into by parties as to the mode of realising the decretal amount, and it was filed in Court and both parties requested that the execution petition may be struck off the file for the present. It was done so. In a subsequent execution petition for the execution of the same decree, defendant's plea that the agreement superseded the decree was held not valid, as the decree was clearly kept alive by its terms and the conduct of the parties. 7 A. 424=5 A.W.N. 76. Q

(3) Proper adjustment.

(a) Where there is a money-decree against two defendants, an agreement discharging one of them is an adjustment in part of the decree and so requires to be certified. 4 M.L.T. 229. R

(b) A composition-deed assented to by the decree-holder whereby judgment-debtor transfers all properties to trustees to pay off his debts and is himself released from all liability, is not an agreement to give time under S. 257-A, but is an adjustment under S. 258, and if it has not been properly certified, the decree-holder may proceed in execution. 2 M.L.J. 221. S

(c) The execution of a decree was opposed by the judgment-debtor, on the ground that he himself became the owner of the decree, having bought it in another Court auction in which it was sold. It was held that those proceedings amounted to an adjustment out of Court, which, not having been certified to the Court, could not be recognised by it. 10 W.R. 354. T

(d) A release from liability under a decree without any consideration is invalid. Being an adjustment of the decree out of Court, it should have been certified in order to be recognised. 6 B.L.R. 339=15 W.R.O.C. 5. U

(4) Proper adjustment and not amended decree.

(a) An arrangement, between the parties that the decree amount should be paid by instalment and recorded duly by Court, is, an adjustment out of Court duly certified under S. 258, and not an amendment of the decree under S. 210, C.P.C. 1886 P.R. 61 Civil. Y

(b) An agreement between the parties to a decree to reduce its amount, or to give time for its payment, or that the amount shall be paid by instalments, does not amount to a varying of the decree itself. 2 C.L.R. 143. W

3.—“Otherwise adjusted.”—(Concluded).

(5) Unenforceable adjustment.

If, in an instalment agreement entered into by parties through Court, after the decree, provision is made to enforce it against property which could not have been attached and sold in execution of the decree, this provision will not prevent the decree-holder from proceeding by execution, so long as he did not seek to enforce that provision. 2 C.L.R. 148. X

4.—“The decree-holder.”

(a) Regard being had to the general clauses Act (I of 1868), the word decree-holder in S. 258, C.P.C., should be read in the plural. 9 C. 831; 12 C.L.R. 566. Y

(b) The inquiry, as to the satisfaction of the decree (by payment to the transferee of the decree before the transfer) between the judgment-debtor and the transferee of the decree, is foreign to the terms of S. 258, C.P.C., which applies only to the case of parties who stand in the relation of judgment-debtor and judgment-creditor at the date of the transaction. 19 M. 230. Z

5.—“Shall certify.”

1.—General.

(a) The law casts a duty on the decree-holder to certify to the Court payments received by him and if he fails, a cause of action arises against him. So by reason of decree-holder's failure to certify payment to the Court, a suit may be brought to recover the money paid. 80 M. 545=3 M.L.T. 15. A

(b) Even if it was intended by the decree that the payments under it should be made out of Court, still such payment should be certified to Court; otherwise they cannot be recognised under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 1878 P.R. 26 (Civil). B

2.—Competency to certify.*

One or some of several joint decree-holders without direct authority from others, cannot certify to the Court as to the complete satisfaction of the decree. At best the certificate will operate to the extent of his share. 34 P.R. 1906=93 P.L.R. 1906; 26 A. 334=1 A.L.J. 40=24 A.W.N. 34. C

3.—Effect of certifying.

(1) Limitation.

(a) An application by the decree-holder to certify an adjustment, made out of Court, is a step in aid of execution. But if the application is made by the general attorney when the decree-holder is residing within jurisdiction, it is not an application made in accordance with law. 23 A.W.N. 172=26 A. 19. D

(b) An untrue certificate, under S. 258, is not a step in aid of execution and will not keep the decree alive. 8 A.W.N. 28. E

(2) Barred decree.

An application to certify adjustment of a decree more than three years old (and consequently barred) should not be referred to the High Court under S. 617 (=S. 118 and O. 46, r. 1), C.P.C., as the order passed upon it being appealable under Ss. 2 and 244 (=S. 47), C.P.C. 11 B. 57. F

(3) Right of suit.

Agreement made through Court for the payment of the decree amount does not give the parties any right of suit. 1 M. 387; 3 A. 585=1 A.W.N. 42; 4 A. 240. G

5.—“Shall cert. v.”—(Concluded).

4.—Insufficiency certifying.

- (a) To certify a payment or adjustment under S. 258, it is insufficient for the decree-holder to certify that money has been paid or an adjustment has been made without specifying the amount of the payment or the terms of the adjustment. 2 Bom. L.R. 901. H
- (b) A letter from the decree-holder to his vakil to put in an acknowledgment into Court is not a settlement out of Court, certified to the Court in the manner required by S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 7 W.R. 510. I

5.—Sufficiency in certifying.

- (a) A certificate of payment signed and filed in Court by the judgment-creditor is sufficient acknowledgment of adjustment under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 12 W.R. 358. J
- (b) A bond was executed in satisfaction of a decree. In a subsequent execution application, defendant pleaded execution of the bond. Decree-holder replied that he accepted the bond as part satisfaction of the decree. It was held that this was sufficient certification and that the last para of S. 258 did not preclude the Court from considering to what extent the decree was satisfied by the bond. 8 A.W.N. 115. K
- (c) An adjustment out of Court taken to the notice of the Court at the time of execution of the decree was virtually taken as certified to Court under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 1871 P.R. 82 (Civil). L

6.—Time of certifying.

- (a) S. 258, C.P.C. of 1882, does not limit the time within which the decree-holder should certify payments made out of Court, and so such payments may be certified by him at any time. 21 Bom. 122. M
- (b) The holder of a decree that is attached, may certify satisfaction of the decree under S. 258 after the attachment, if the payment was made bona fide and before the attachment. 2 M.L.J. 288. N

6.—“To the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree.”

- (a) Where execution of a decree was transferred to the Collector, and both the parties acknowledged before him part-payment of the decretal amount by an application, it was held that the application was properly made to “the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree” and that it was a valid acknowledgment sufficient to save limitation. 16 A. 228=14 A.W.N. 55. O
- (b) Where a Court deals with a question relating to the discharge or satisfaction of a decree under S. 258, it may be said to be executing the decree in the sense of S. 244, C.P.C., although no formal application for execution may have been made to it; and an order passed by the Court is a decree and is appealable. 7 C.W.N. 172. P

7.—“Shall record.”

A minor's decree cannot be adjusted by a compromise by the guardian without Court's permission under S. 462 (=O. XXXII, r. 7), C.P.C., and an application under S. 258 to certify the adjustment will not be allowed. 29 M. 306. Q

8.—“The judgment-debtor.”

The word ‘judgment-debtor’ in S. 258 includes those who claim through him or in his right. 17 M.L.J. 417=2 M.L.T. 466. R

9.—“And apply.”(1) Application to certify.

A judgment-debtor should, of his own motion, move the Court to call upon the decree-holder to show cause why the payment should not be certified. Where he merely pleads payment out of Court to an execution application, it cannot be taken as a proceeding under S. 258. 11 A. W.N. 11; contra see 1 A.W.N. 168=4 A. 155. S

(2) Effect of not applying to certify.

Plaintiff sued to recover property. Defendant pleaded that he held the property under mortgage given by plaintiff's mother in satisfaction of a decree-debt which plaintiff held against plaintiff's father. It was an uncertified adjustment. The Court held that the mortgage could not prevail against plaintiff's claim. 11 B. 6, followed; 11 M. 469. T

(3) Separate suit does not lie.

(a) Proceedings under S. 258 should be taken for the recognition of a payment made out of Court. No separate suit lies against the decree-holder to have such a payment recognised by decree of Court. 1881 P.R. 47 (Civil); 11 B. 6. U

(b) A judgment-debtor applied to the Court to call upon the decree-holder to certify certain payments made. It was disallowed as time barred. Then he brought a separate suit for the cancellation of the order and declaration of the payment. On the objection of the defendant taken on second appeal, it was held that no suit lay as the original order was one under S. 244. 9 A.W.N. 95. Y

(c) S. 258 (=O. XXI, r. 2) does not restrict the operation of S. 244. S. 244 (=S. 47 of the present Code) bars a suit for a declaration that a decree has been satisfied by an uncertified adjustment out of Court and for an injunction restraining the decree-holder from executing it. 31 C. 480=9 C.W.N. 895. W

(d) No agreement to adjust the decree, which has not been duly certified to the Court, can be recognised by any Court and a separate suit to enforce such an agreement is not maintainable. 10 B. 155. X

Nor can a suit for a declaration of the satisfaction of decree be maintainable. 15 M. 802=2 M.L.J. 112. Y

10.—“To show cause.”

(a) The term ‘to show cause’ does not mean merely to allege causes, nor even to make out that there is room for argument, but both to allege cause and to prove it to the satisfaction of the Court. 11 C. 166. Z

(b) In an enquiry under S. 258 as to an alleged payment, evidence must be gone into. 4 A.W.N. 40; 8 A.W.N. 82. A 11.—“Shall record.”(1) Appeal.

It would seem that an order passed under Ss. 244 and 258, C.P.C., in execution of a Small Cause Court's decree, is appealable. 5 M.L.J. 140. B

(2) Bars fresh suit.

An executing Court has jurisdiction to pass an order under S. 258, that a decree has been only partly satisfied. Such an order falls under S. 244, C.P.C., and bars a fresh suit for declaration that the whole decree is satisfied. 5 M.L.J. 140. C 11.—“Shall record.”—(Concluded).

(3) S. 108 of C.P.C.

- (a) An ex parte order certifying payment, on the application of the judgment-debtor, is governed by S. 108, C.P.C. and can be set aside. An appeal lies from an order dismissing or rejecting an application for re-opening the case by cancelling the ex parte order. U.B.R. Vol. (1897-1901), p. 254. D
- (b) On the application of the judgment-debtor, notice was issued to the decree-holder to show cause why a certain payment should not be certified, and an ex parte order was passed. The decree-holder applied, under S. 108, C.P.C., to set aside the ex parte order, which was refused, the Court refusing to treat it even as an application for review under S. 623. It was held that there was no appeal against this. A.W.N. (1906), 58 = 3 A.L.J. 119. E

12.—“A payment or adjustment.....Court executing the decree.”

A.—UNCERTIFIED ADJUSTMENTS CANNOT BE PROVED OR RECOGNISED.

- (a) An uncertified adjustment of a decree cannot be pleaded in the execution of the decree. 16 M.L.J. 33; W.R. 1864, Mis. 38; 7 W.R. 134; 9 W.R. 362; 1870 P.R. 51 (Civil); 20 C. 32. F
- (b) An uncertified adjustment of a decree cannot be pleaded in execution proceedings. The proper remedy is by a suit for damages. L.B.R. Vol. (1893-1900), p. 621. G
- (c) A Court is not bound to recognise an uncertified adjustment of a decree by agreement to receive a smaller sum in entire satisfaction of the decree. 17 M.L.J. 527. H
- (d) No adjustment can be recognised unless made through the Court or certified to the Court. The policy of S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859 is to exclude the reception of evidence upon the point. 8 W.R. 319. Contra see 4 Bom. H.C.A.C. 120. I
- (e) In the execution of a decree payable by instalment, defendant pleaded limitation, to which the decree-holder pleaded that he had waived the default in payment of the first instalment by accepting such payment shortly afterwards and that the application was within time from the second default. It was held that the decree-holder could not raise this plea as the payment in question had not been certified and could not be recognised under S. 258 by Court. 12 A. 569 = 10 A.W.N. 79. J
- (f) An agreement to give time to the judgment-debtor was filed in Court. Within the stipulated time money was paid out of Court, but it was not certified to the Court under S. 258. It was held that such payment could not be recognised by the executing Court. 10 A.W.N. 68. K
- (g) It was doubted whether part-payment may not be proved, although not made through or certified to the Court under S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 320 = 11 W.R. 232. L

—(Continued).

B.—WHEN CAN UNCERTIFIED PAYMENTS BE PROVED.

1.—To save limitation.

- (a) In instalment decrees where the whole amount is payable on default of payment of any instalment :—

On an application to execute the decree for the last instalment, it was held that whether the former instalments were paid or not was immaterial and that the present application, being within three years from the date on which the last instalment was due, was not barred. 2 A. 291. M

- (b) On an application to execute for the whole amount from the third instalment, the judgment-debtor pleaded limitation on the ground that he had not paid the first two instalments and more than three years had elapsed since the first default, it was held that, although under S. 258 (=r. 2) the payment in question if made could not be recognised as a payment or adjustment of the decree, yet it was competent to the decree-holder to prove such payment for the purpose of showing that the execution of the decree was not barred. 4 A. 316=2 A.W.N. 47; 7 A. 327; 21 C. 542; 19 M. 162; 2 B.L.R.A.C. 320=11 W.R. 232; 15 W.R. 459; 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 130=13 W.R. (F.B.), 40; 15 W.R. 66; 11 B. 506, per contra see 12 A. 560. N

- (c) Though, under S. 258, C.P.O. of 1882, payments not made through Court or not certified could not be recognised as payments or adjustments of the decree, yet the decree-holder may prove it for showing that the execution of the decree was not barred. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 130, followed; 21 C. 542; 7 A. 327; 17 A. 42=14 A.W.N. 198; 21 B. 122. O

- (d) For deciding whether or not an application for execution is time-barred, the executing Court may take into consideration an uncertified payment made out of Court. 26 A. 36=28 A.W.N. 179. P

2.—To ascertain the shares of joint decree-holders.

- (a) One of two joint decree-holders applied for execution of the whole decree amount. The other had received a certain sum from the judgment-debtor but the payment had not been certified. It was held that the payment was valid only to the extent of the share to which the payee was entitled, and that this share having been ascertained and credit given for it, the decree should be executed in favour of the present applicant for the balance. 15 M. 348=2 M.L.J. 50. Q

- (b) In an execution for the whole amount by one of several joint decree-holders, the debtor objected that he had paid out of Court a large portion of the decree amount to another joint decree-holder which was duly certified to the Court. It was held that the Court should determine whether such payment was fraud upon others and also what amount the latter were entitled to have out of the whole decree. 9 C. 831=12 C.L.R. 566. R

3.—In criminal prosecutions.

- (a) Where a decree-holder is charged under S. 210, I.P.O., with fraudulently executing a satisfied decree, S. 258, C.P.O. of 1882 does not debar the Criminal Court from recognising the payment made out of Court. The words ‘any Court’ in S. 258 does not refer to Criminal Courts. 9 M. 101; 10 B. 288. S

—(Continued).

3.—In criminal prosecutions—(Concluded).

- (b) The word ‘satisfied’ in S. 210 of the I.P.C. should be understood in its ordinary sense. If a decree is once satisfied out of Court, though, not having been certified to the Court, it could not be recognised by the executing Court, yet the fact of satisfaction is enough to give sanction to prosecute the decree-holder. 10 B. 288; 16 C. 126; 16 C. 126 was overruled by 16 C. 766. T
- (c) S. 258 does not prevent a Criminal Court from taking cognisance of an uncertified payment out of Court, for the purpose of conviction of the decree-holder. 1885 P.R. 7 (Criminal). U

4.—To prove fraud.

- (a) A Court executing decrees, whilst giving effect to S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859, should take care that no fraud is committed. For this purpose and for the purpose of informing itself of the position of the decree, it may take evidence. 27 N.W.P. 48. Y
- (b) Where the judgment-debtors complained that owing to the fraud of the decree-holder, they were in ignorance of the fact that payment was not certified, till within a month of their application, it was held that the matter could be investigated under S. 244. 12 C.W.N. 485. W
- (c) S. 258 (=r. 2) applies only when the parties are in the relation of judgment-debtor and creditor at the date of the adjustment; hence when a transferee decree-holder, who got the transfer when he should have got the payment on the decree certified, applied for execution fraudulently, it was held that the judgment-debtor’s allegation about the satisfaction should be enquired into in the execution proceedings. 19 M. 230. X
- (d) A decree-holder, notwithstanding adjustment out of Court, fraudulently brought property to sale in execution and bought it himself. Within one month of the sale, judgment-debtor filed petitions challenging the fraudulent sale and he was allowed to prove the adjustment and have the sale set aside. 21 M. 356. Y
- (e) When suving to have a sale under a decree set aside on the ground of fraud, the decree having been satisfied by an uncertified payment out of Court, the quondam judgment-debtor may prove the payment of the decree-money otherwise than by a certificate under S. 258, C.P.C. 14 C. 376. But see 15 C. 557. Z

5.—In a Court which is not executing the decree.

- (a) Where under a bond a decree was adjusted by making a small deduction, and by providing for the payment of the balance as part of the entire amount of the bond, it was held that since the amendment made in S. 258 by S. 27 of Act VII of 1898, such adjustment may be recognised by a Civil Court except in execution. 16 B. 589. A
- (b) Where a regular suit under S. 283 (=O. XXI, r. 63) was brought by plaintiff to establish his right to certain attached property, on the ground that the property was transferred to him by the judgment-debtor in satisfaction of a decree held by him, it was held that it was not necessary that such transfer should have been certified under S. 258. The prohibition under S. 258 relates only to the executing Court. 13 A. 339=11 A.W.N. 100. B

—(Continued).

B.—WHEN CAN UNCERTIFIED PAYMENTS BE PROVED
—(Concluded).

5.—In a Court which is not executing the decree—(Concluded).

- (c) Under S. 258, the fact that uncertified adjustments should not be recognised has reference only to proceedings in execution between parties to the decree.

When a judgment-debtor assigned his bond-debt to the decree-holder in satisfaction of his decree, in the suit by the decree-holder upon the bond, the defendant would not be allowed to raise objections to the assignment on the ground that it was not certified. 10 M.L.J. 218. G

- (d) If payment is made out of Court after attachment, it is not a valid payment, and if sale takes place under the decree, the Court can enter into the question of payment and determine whether the alleged satisfaction is binding upon the auction-purchaser. 24 W.R. 245. D

C.—UNCERTIFIED ADJUSTMENTS CAN BE BASIS OF A SUIT.

1.—Suit to recover money or property paid.

- (a) A suit to recover money paid or property delivered as an adjustment or as satisfaction or part satisfaction of the decree (not certified to the Court), after execution of the entire decree, would lie. The last para of S. 258 would be no bar. 5 B.L.R. 223=13 W.R. (F.B.), 69; 3 W. R.S.C.O. Ref. 3; 3 A. 588; 25 C. 718=2 C.W.N. 247; 21 M. 409; 4 B. 295; 4 B.H.C.R.A.C. 76; 5 A.L.J. 475=A.W.N. (1908), 220; 1884 P.R. 88; per contra see 3 M.H.C.R. 188. E
- (b) S. 258 is no bar to a suit for damages against the decree-holder for execution of the decree after satisfaction by an uncertified payment. 3 C.L.R. 414; 5 M. 397; 23 B. 394; 6 M. 41; 8 M.L.J. 51. F
- (c) Suit to recover decree or property mentioned in the decree sold to the judgment-debtor on an uncertified adjustment of the decree which was subsequently executed by the decree-holder is maintainable. 3 A. 583=1 A.W.N. 21; 15 C. 187. G
- (d) A third party claiming the property attached may sue to set aside the attachment and prove previous adjustment of the decree out of Court, though uncertified. 5 A. 269=3 A.W.N. 18. H
- (e) A suit to set aside a sale held in execution of, or for the recovery of, money paid on a decree which was satisfied by an uncertified adjustment, would lie on the ground of fraud. 9 C. 788=12 C.L.R. 391; 10 C. 354; 20 A. 254=18 A.W.N. 37. I
- (f) A suit to recover payments made not directly in adjustment of a decree would lie. 1 M. 208. J
- (g) Suit to recover money paid out of Court, which the decree-holder refuses to certify, lies on equitable grounds, independent of fraud. 1877 P.R. 66 (Civil). K
- (h) S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859 is no bar to a suit for the refund of money paid into the collectorate as Government revenue on behalf of the decree-holder, who recovered the whole decree amount by executing it. 8 W.R. 449. L

—(Continued).

C.—UNCERTIFIED ADJUSTMENTS CAN BE BASIS OF A SUIT—(Concluded).

1.—SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY OR PROPERTY PAID—(Concluded).

- (i) Where an alleged payment out of Court is not certified, the Court is bound to proceed as if no such payment had been made. If such a payment is in fact made and the decree-holder dishonestly refuses to certify, he can be made liable to refund it in an action. 20 W.R. 150. M

2.—A BREACH OF CONTRACT TO CERTIFY IS ACTIONABLE.

A suit for damages for breach of contract to certify satisfaction of decree, does lie and S. 258 of C.P.C., 1882, is no bar to it. 8 M. 277; 1 N.W. 155 = Ed. 1873, 237 = Agra F.B. Ed. 1874, 185. N

3.—SUIT TO ENFORCE CONTRACT OF ADJUSTMENT.

- (a) A suit to enforce a contract by which a dispute was adjusted between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor is not barred by S. 206, C.P.C. of 1859. 22 W.R. 298. O
- (b) A suit may be brought on a bond which was given in satisfaction of a decree, though the satisfaction was not certified to the Court. S. 258 would be no bar to such a suit, as the suit is upon quite a new contract. 1882 P.R. 182 (Civil.) P
- (c) A mortgage bond given for a decree-debt and interest (the decree not providing for interest) would not fall under the terms of S. 257-A, but would come under the terms of S. 258 as an adjustment of the decree, and a suit would therefore lie on it. 1894 P.R. 54. Q
- (d) A executed a mortgage to B in consideration of a cash payment and a decree debt due by A to B. B did not certify satisfaction to Court, nor was this stipulated for in the mortgage instrument. It was held that S. 258 is no bar to a suit upon the mortgage. 2 M. 611. R

D.—UNCERTIFIED ADJUSTMENT CANNOT BE THE BASIS OF A SUIT.

- (a) A suit for recovery of money paid as adjustment of decree out of Court is barred both under S. 244 (c) and the latter part of S. 258. 6 B. 146. S
- (b) Question as to part satisfaction of a decree cannot be raised by a separate suit under S. 244 (c). The section cannot be evaded by the addition of an unnecessary party to the suit. 8 C. 402. T
- (c) Where a decree is satisfied by an uncertified agreement out of Court, a subsequent suit on the agreement is not maintainable, if the object of the suit is to restrain the decree-holder from executing it in contravention of the agreement. 21 C. 437. U
- (d) No suit lies for the recovery of decree-money paid out of Court and uncertified under S. 258 of C.P.C. of 1877 as amended by Act XIII of 1879. 1888 P.R. 11 (Civil.) V

The above case was overruled in 1884 P.R. 83 (Civil), where they held that such a suit would lie, as the words ‘any Court’ in S. 258 should be construed as restricting to an executing Court.

- (e) It was doubted whether a suit to refund monies paid out of Court for a decree and not certified, could be maintained under S. 36 of Act XII of 1879 which had been substituted for S. 258 of Act X of 1877. 4 B. 295. W

This rule is new.

1.—“Jurisdiction.”

A single revenue-paying estate, though situate within the jurisdictions of different Courts, may be attached and sold by any one of the Courts, in execution of its decree. 11 B.L.R. 56=19 W.R. 434; 8 C. 703; 12 C. 307; 23 W.R. 154; 12 C.L.R. 404; per contra, see 23 W.R. 233; 2 C.L.R. 384. X

Court passing the decree.

- (a) The Court that has the power to pass a decree for sale of property has also power to carry out its decree by selling it, whether any portion of it be within the local limits of its jurisdiction or not. 19 C. 13; 21 C. 639; 22 C. 871; 13 C. 13. Y
- (b) A Court having jurisdiction to pass decree, has also jurisdiction to execute it, even though part of the immovable property is outside its jurisdiction. 1902 P.R. 8. Z

4. Where a decree has been passed in a suit of which the value as set forth in the plaint did not exceed two thousand rupees and which, as regards its subject-matter, is not excepted by the law for the time being in force from the cognizance¹ of either a Presidency or a Provincial Court of Small Causes, and the Court which passed it wishes it to be executed in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Rangoon, such Court may send to the Court of Small Causes in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Rangoon, as the case may be, the copies and certificates mentioned in rule 6; and such Court of Small Causes shall thereupon execute the decree as if it had been passed by itself².

Transfer to Court of Small Causes.

(Notes).Old Act.

- (2) The words "under S. 223" after the words "The Court sending a decree for execution" are deleted from this rule.

1.—“ Shall send.”

A Small Cause Court's decree may be executed by a Court in another District. But before ordering execution, the executing Court should see that the transmitting Court had strictly complied with the requirements of r. 6. 4 M. 331. R

2.—“ A copy of the decree.”

Where a copy of the decree is transmitted to another Court for execution, the original Court cannot execute the decree, until the transmitted copy is returned with a certified result. 1869 P.R. 49 (Civil). S

3.—“ A certificate.”

When a partial execution was had in a transferred Court and the petition was struck off the file and the records were still with the same Court, no fresh certificate from the original Court was necessary for entertaining another petition. 3 A.W.N. 247; 20 A. 129=17 A.W.N. 218. T

4.—“ A copy of any order for the execution of the decree.”

The words “a copy of any order for the execution of the decree” in clause (c) mean a copy of any subsisting order. 13 B. 371. U

7. The Court to which a decree is so sent shall cause such copies and certificates to be filed, without any further proof of the decree or order for execution, or of the copies thereof, unless the Court, for any special reasons¹ to be recorded under the hand of the Judge, require such proof.

Court receiving copies of decree, etc., to file same without proof.

This rule corresponds to S. 226 of the old Code

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the words "when," "be," and "by any subordinate Court which it directs to execute," the words "where," "is," and "be transferred for execution to any subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction" are respectively substituted in this rule.

(General).

An executing Court cannot question the propriety or correctness of the order of transfer of the decree by the transferring Court. 5 C. 736; 21 W.R. 141; 21 W.R. 219; 21 B. 456. W

1.—"District Court."

When an Assistant Judge is invested with all the powers of a District Judge within any part of the District of such Judge—he is also a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in such part of the District and is therefore a 'District Court.' 7 Bom. H.C.A. C. 97. X

Powers of the District Court.

(a) A District Court to which a decree was sent for execution, has no jurisdiction to transfer it to some other District Court. Its jurisdiction is strictly limited to carrying out such execution. 21 W.R. 337; 3 C. 512=1 C.L.R. 539. Y

(b) If complete execution cannot be had in the District to which a decree is sent for execution, the decree-holder should get the decree re-transmitted to the original Court and there apply for transmission to another District. 21 W.R. 337; 3 C. 512=1 C.L.R. 539. Z

2.—"Be transferred."

(a) A Munsiff's Court in one District cannot send its decree for execution to another Munsiff's Court in another District directly in contravention of the last clause of S. 223 (=O. XXI, r. 5). The executing Court will have no jurisdiction unless it is sent by the District Court under S. 226 (=O. XXI, r. 8). 22 C. 764. A

(b) A District Court's order forwarding a decree for execution to the subordinate Judge's Court need not be signed by the District Judge himself. If it is issued under his authority, it is enough. 23 C. 480. B

9. Where the Court to which the decree is sent for execution is a High Court, the decree shall be executed¹ by such Court in the same manner as if it had been passed by such Court in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

Execution by High Court of decree transferred by other Court.

1.—"Shall be executed."

A decree passed by a Zillah Court and transmitted to the High Court for execution was duly executed by it. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 189; 2 N.W. 399. C

Application for Execution.

10. Where the holder of a decree¹ desires to execute it, he shall apply² to the Court which passed decree³ or to the officer (if any) appointed in this behalf, or if the decree has been sent under the provisions hereinbefore contained to another Court then to such Court⁴ or to the proper officer thereof.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the first para of S. 280.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the words "when" and "enforce," the words "where" and "execute" are respectively substituted in this rule.

(General).

- (a) An application for the transfer of a decree for execution is an application which involves a question relating to the execution of a decree and as such comes under S. 244, C.P.C. Therefore an appeal lies against an order rejecting it. 8 C.W.N. 575. D
- (b) Persons seeking rateable distribution of assets should apply to the Court prior to its realisation by the Court, and under S. 280, the decree-holder should get his decree transferred for that purpose to that Court. 1 L.B.R. 121. E

1.—"The holder of a decree."

- (a) If before transfer, a decree is sent to another Court for execution, the transferee of the decree has no right to apply to such Court for execution, but should apply to the Court which passed the decree. 2 A. 288. F
- (b) An application by the transferee of a decree for execution after substitution of his name, can be entertained only by the Court which passed the decree. If it is entertained by the Court to which the decree has been transferred and orders passed thereon, it is done so without any jurisdiction, and such order may be set aside on appeal notwithstanding S. 578, C.P.C. 27 C. 488. G

2.—"Shall apply."Necessity for application for execution.

To realise a decree a party must apply for execution. Even if he had attached property before judgment, in order to share in the rateable distribution under S. 295 (=S. 99 of the present Code), he must come with an execution application. 12 B. 400. H

3.—"Court which passed the decree."

- (a) Every Court is bound to execute its own decree. It is only when the decree cannot be executed within its jurisdiction, that it should be sent to another Court, where execution can be had. 19 W.R. 846. I
- (b) After the passing of a decree by a District Munsiff, the local area within which the cause of action arose and the judgment-debtor resided was transferred to another District Munsiff. Still, the decree-holder should apply for execution to the Court which passed the decree. 25 C. 815. J
- (c) A decree passed by a Court subsequently abolished should be executed by the Court which has succeeded to its functions. 9 Bom.H.C.R. 118; 17 W.R. 472. K

3.—“Court which passed the decree.”—(Concluded).

- (d) After passing of a decree, a Court of Sudder Ameen was abolished and the execution of it was regularly issued by the Zillah Judge. It was held that, even after the re-establishment of the Ameen's Court, the Zillah Court had jurisdiction to order execution. 7 W.R. 124. L

4.—“To such Court.”

Upon transfer of a decree to another Court, an application for execution should be made to that other Court. 6 A.W.N. 31. M

Power of the executing Court.

Where a decree is transferred, the executing Court does not become functus officio, by reason of an order to strike the petition off the file, but can entertain another petition for execution of the same decree. 1897 P. R. 70. N

11. (1) Where a decree is for the payment of money the Court may, on the oral application of the decree-holder at the time of the passing of the decree, order immediate execution thereof by the arrest of the judgment-debtor, prior to the preparation of a warrant if he is within the precincts of the Court.

(2) Save as otherwise provided by sub-rule (1), every application for the execution of a decree shall be in writing, signed and verified by the applicant or by some other person¹ proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case, and shall contain in a tabular form the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the number of the suit ;
- (b) the names of the parties² ;
- (c) the date of the decree ;
- (d) whether any appeal has been preferred from the decree ;
- (e) whether any, and (if any) what, payment or other adjustment³ of the matter in controversy has been made between the parties subsequently to the decree ;
- (f) whether any, and (if any) what, previous applications have been made for the execution of the decree, the dates of such applications and their results ;
- (g) the amount with interest (if any) due upon the decree, or other relief granted thereby, together with particulars of any cross-decree whether passed before or after the date of the decree sought to be executed ;
- (h) the amount of the costs (if any) awarded ;
- (i) the name of the person against whom execution of the decree is sought ; and

(j) the mode in which the assistance of the Court⁴ is required, whether—

- (I) by the delivery of any property specifically decreed ;
- (II) by the attachment and sale, or by the sale without attachment, of any property ;
- (III) by the arrest and detention in prison of any person ;
- (IV) by the appointment of a receiver ;
- (v) otherwise as the nature of the relief granted may require.

(3) The Court to which an application is made under sub-rule (2) may require the applicant to produce a certified copy of the decree⁵.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to S. 256 of the Code.

Sub-rule (2) corresponds to S. 235 of the Code.

When a decree is passed for a sum of money only, and the amount decreed does not exceed the sum of 1,000 rupees, the Court may, when passing the decree, on the oral application of the decree-holder, order immediate execution thereof by the issue of a warrant directed either against the person of the judgment-debtor if he is within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court or against his moveable property within the same limits.—(S. 256 of the old Code).

The application for the execution of a decree shall be in writing verified by the applicant or by some other person proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case, and shall contain in a tabular form, the following particulars (namely) :—

- (a) the number of the suit ;
- (b) the names of the parties ;
- (c) the date of the decree ;
- (d) whether any appeal has been preferred from the decree ;
- (e) whether any and what adjustment of the matter in dispute has been made between the parties subsequently to the decree ;
- (f) whether any and what previous applications have been made for execution of the decree and with what result ;
- (g) the amount of the debt or compensation, with the interest, if any, due upon the decree, or other relief granted thereby ;
- (h) the amount of costs, if any, awarded ;
- (i) the name of the person against whom the enforcement of the decree is sought ; and

- (j) the mode in which the assistance of the Court is required, whether by the delivery of property specifically decreed, by the arrest and imprisonment of the person named in the application, or by the attachment of his property or otherwise as the nature of the relief sought may require.—(S. 235 of the old Code.)

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The differences and amendments are numerous and minute.

GENERAL.

A.—Cases to which S. 235 does not apply.

- (a) An application for an order absolute under S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act is not an execution application under S. 235, C.P.C., and so need not conform to the form prescribed by S. 235. 21 C. 818. O
- (b) There is no section in the C.P.C. under which an application for possession under a decree for redemption could be made. Such an application need not be in the form prescribed by S. 235, C.P.C. 4 L.B.R. 88. P

B.—Court's powers.

In execution proceedings a Court cannot go behind the decree. 4 C.L.R. 97. Q

C.—Execution application—necessity for.

- (a) A decree-holder who has made no application under S. 235, C.P.C., cannot claim, by a mere petition, to share in the rateable distribution under S. 295. 1889 P.R. 98. R
- (b) To realise a decree a party must apply for execution. Even if he had attached property before judgment in order to share in the rateable distribution under S. 295 (=S. 73 of the present Code), he must come with an execution application. 12 B. 400. S

D.—Limitation—Defective execution petitions.

(1) When applications though defective 'save limitation.

- (a) An execution petition, though defective as not containing every particular mentioned in S. 285 (rule 11), and though not amended as required by S. 245 (r. 17), may still suffice to keep the decree alive. 6 M. 250; 16 M. 142. T

But see 28 C. 217, where 6 M. 250 and 16 M. 142 were dissented from.

- (b) But see 25 C. 594=2 C.W.N. 556, where it was held that the failure to mention the number of the suit and the date of the decree, in an execution petition, was not a material defect and so could not vitiate the application. U
- (c) An execution application against certain persons as legal representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor is in accordance with law, though it turns out subsequently that none of the above persons is the legal representative of the deceased. 12 A.W.N. 241. V
- (d) Although by mistake a deceased judgment-debtor's name was mentioned in an execution petition, it would be a step in aid of execution. 17 M. 76. W
- (e) Failure to give full particulars required by O. XXI, r. 11 (2), cl. (f) will not prevent such application being 'in accordance with law.' 12 A.W.N. 114. X

GENERAL—(Concluded).

D.—Limitation—Defective execution petitions—(Concluded).

- (f) In order that the application may be 'in accordance with law,' it must surely ask for some relief which the law enables the Court to grant. 1 N.L.R. 61. Y
- (g) An application for execution defective in not specifying the relief asked for, but which was received by Court without being objected to, as an invalid application under S. 235, and without returning it for amendment under S. 245 (r. 17), is an application in accordance with law and saves limitation. 1883 P.R. 23 (Civil) Z
- (h) If the application is in terms of S. 235, even if it is not accompanied by a copy of the decree required by the rules of practice, it will be an application in accordance with law. 28 M. 557. A
- (i) An application for execution without complying with the provisions of r. 13, though defective in form, is a valid execution petition under rules 10 and 11. 17 C. 631 (F.B.). B

The minority held that it was not a valid execution petition. 17 C. 631. C

(2) When applications, if defective, do not save limitation.

- (a) A barred decree cannot be revived by an inadvertent admission of an application for execution. 1864 C.P. Select Case, Part IV, No. 14. D
- (b) An application for execution not in accordance with the terms of the decree is not a step in aid of execution and would not save limitation. 1901 P.R. 98. E
- (c) The interest due under the decree was not stated and the petition was not also amended under that head. It was not an application in accordance with law. 10 A.W.N. 93. F
- (d) An incomplete execution application without specifying the mode in which the Court's assistance was wanted, but requesting notice under S. 248 (=O. XXI, r. 22) for the express purpose of saving limitation, will not amount to an act to save limitation. 9 C.P.L.R. 15. G

1.—"Some other person."

Though the principal resides within jurisdiction, the general attorney of the decree-holder, who satisfies the Court about his knowledge of the facts of the case, may verify the execution petition. 26 A. 154=23 A.W.N. 209. H

2.—"Names of the parties."

Where a person is named as a guardian ad litem in an execution application and notice under S. 248 (=O. XXI, r. 22) is issued to him as such guardian, it must be presumed that he has been appointed guardian by implication by the Court. 5 C.L.J. 434. I

3.—"Other adjustment."

Under S. 235, C.P.C., a party is bound to state in his application for execution any adjustment of the decree between the parties after the decree, whether such adjustment has or has not been previously certified to the Court. 2 M. 216; 10 B. 288. J

4.—“ The assistance of the Court.”

- (a) In a suit under S. 539 (=S. 92 of the present Code), defendants were appointed trustees of a temple with certain rules to guide them. The plaintiffs applied for execution and filed a darkhast praying that defendants be ordered to conform to the decree and if they failed, steps be taken according to law. It was held that the darkhast was not in accordance with S. 235, C.P.C., as it did not specify the mode in which the Court's assistance was sought. 19 B. 34. K
- (b) The decree-holder is not necessarily limited to the relief asked for in his application but may be granted other reliefs, which the law allows him. 33 C. 306=10 C.W.N. 297=3 C.L.J. 112.

5.—“ A certified copy of the decree.”

An execution application need not be accompanied with either the original decree or a copy. 9 W.R. 362; 11 W.R. 271; 16 W.R. 25. M

12. Where an application is made for the attachment of any moveable property belonging to a judgment debtor¹ but not in his possession, the decree-holder shall annex to the application an inventory of the property to be attached, containing a reasonably accurate description of the same.

Application for attachment of moveable property not in judgment - debtor's possession.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 236 of the Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the word “ whenever,” the word “ where ” is substituted.

GENERAL.

Limitation.

- (a) Where no inventory of the moveables to be attached was filed and the execution petition expressly stated that it was filed for saving limitation, it was not an application in accordance with law. 12 A.W.N. 70. N
- (b) Where no inventory of the property to be attached was filed, the execution petition was not in accordance with law. 12 A.W.N. 47 O
- (c) Where an application for attachment is made and it is not known what kind of property it is, which is to be attached, it being not known whether it is moveable or immoveable, the absence of an inventory will not prevent such an application being considered in accordance with law. 12 A.W.N. 55. P

1.—“ Belonging to the judgment-debtor.”

Investigation of title.

Neither S. 214 of C.P.C. of 1859 nor S. 15 of Act XXIII of 1861, which corresponded to S. 236 of the C.P.C. of 1882, contemplated any inquiry before the Court whether the property belongs to the judgment-debtor or not. 9 B.L.R.A.C. 413=12 W.R. 329. Q

Application for attachment of immoveable property to contain certain particulars.

13. Where an application is made for the attachment of any immoveable property belonging to a judgment-debtor, it shall contain at the foot—

- (a) a description of such property sufficient to identify the same and, in case such property can be identified by boundaries or numbers in a record of settlement or survey, a specification of such boundaries or numbers ; and
- (b) a specification of the judgment-debtor's share or interest in such property to the best of the belief of the applicant ¹, and so far as he has been able to ascertain the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 237 of the Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words "whenever," "the property," "it," and "therein," the words "where," "such property," "the same" and "in such property" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "also," and "every such description..the verification of the plaint" are deleted.
- (3) The words "and in case such property..such boundaries or numbers" are newly added.

(General).

Limitation.

- (a) An application for execution without complying with the provisions of r. 18, though defective in form, is a valid execution petition under rules 10 and 11. 17 C. 681 (F.B.). R

The minority held that it was not a valid execution petition. 17 C. 681. S

- (b) An application for attachment which does not contain the particulars required by S. 237 (=r. 13) is not one in accordance with law. 12 A.W.N. 8. T

- (c) Where an application for attachment is made and it is not known what kind of property it is, which is to be attached, it being not known whether it is moveable or immoveable, the absence of an inventory will not prevent such an application being considered in accordance with law. 12 A.W.N. 55. U

1.—"To the best belief of the applicant."

Limitation.

In an execution application to attach immoveable property, the omission to verify the inventory of the property under S. 237 is a mere irregularity and does not vitiate the application. 28 A. 244 = A.W.N. (1905), 268.Y

14. Where an application is made for the attachment of any land which is registered in the office of the Collector, the Court may require the applicant to produce a certified extract from the register of such office, specifying the persons registered as proprietors of, or as possessing any transferable interest in, the land or its revenue, or as liable to pay revenue for the land, and the shares of the registered proprietors.

Power to require certified extract from Collector's register in certain cases.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 238 of the Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

For the words "if the property be land registered in the Collector's Office, the application for attachment shall be accompanied by an authenticated extract," the words "where an application... a certified extract" are substituted.

15. (1) Where a decree has been passed jointly ¹ in favour of more persons than one, any one or more of such persons ² may, unless the decree imposes any condition ³ to the contrary, apply for the execution of the whole decree ⁴ for the benefit of them all, or, where any of them has died, for the benefit of the survivors and the legal representatives of the deceased.

Application for execution by joint decree-holder.

(2) Where the Court sees sufficient cause ⁵ for allowing the decree to be executed on an application made under this rule it shall make such order as it deems necessary for protecting the interests ⁶ of the persons who have not joined in the application.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 231 of the Code.

- (1) For the words "if," "representatives in interest," "if," and "pass," the words "where," "legal representatives," "where," and "make" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "or his or their representatives" and "so" are deleted.
- (3) The words "unless the decree imposes any condition to the contrary" and "under this rule" are new.

GENERAL.

1.—Appeal.

- (a) Where an order passed under S. 231, C.P.C., purported to decide questions to be dealt with under S. 244, C.P.C. (S. 47 of the present Code), the party aggrieved is entitled to appeal. 2 M.L.T. 807. W
- (b) No appeal lies against an order passed under S. 231, C.P.C. 1 Bom. L.R. 87=28 B. 628. X
- (c) An order under S. 231 refusing to allow one of the joint decree-holders to execute the decree is appealable. 17 M. 894, followed; 1898 P.R. 28. Y

2.—Joint decree.

- (a) A decree making the defendants jointly and severally liable is a joint decree. 12 B.L.R. 500=20 W.R. 31. Z

3.—Joint judgment-debtor's liability.

- (a) In a joint decree, the fact that one debtor had paid his quota of an instalment will not relieve him from his joint liability. 1 Agra Mis. 14. B
- (b) A decree remains joint though the decree-holder releases one or more of the defendants from liability. 16 W.R. 49; 6 C.L.R. 212. C

Joint liability destroyed when.

- (a) In a joint decree against several defendants, a decree-holder by dealing with some defendants as if they were severally liable for certain respective shares, destroys the effect of the joint decree. 2 Hay 297. D
- (b) In the case of a joint and several decree for mesne profits, if it could be incontestably proved that any one of the defendants had possession only of a particular land, he will be liable in equity only to satisfy the decree to that extent. 14 W.R. 175. E

Determination of separate liability.

The liabilities of joint judgment-debtors inter se, if not settled privately, can be determined only in another suit. 8 C.L.R. 34. F

A.—JOINT DECREE-HOLDERS.

- (a) Every application made or proceedings taken by one or more of several joint decree-holders is made or taken in the interest of all and saves limitation. 8 W.R. 100; 11 W.R. 421; 21 W.R. 243; 22 W.R. 468; 4 B.L.R. Ap. 41=13 W.R. 128; 6 W.R. Mis. 59; 6 W.R. Mis. 76. G
- (b) This is so even if arrangements are made among the decree-holders as to their relative shares in the decree amount, as it would not alter the character of the decree. 6 W.R. Mis. 76; 1 W.R. Mis. 1. H
- (c) This is so even if the application is made after the death of some of the decree-holders, as the application made would enure to the benefit of all. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 62; 10 W.R. 95. I
- (d) This is so even if some of the joint decree-holders take out separate executions for their shares alone—as there was no severance of the decree. 2 B.L.R.Ap. 47=11 W.R. 343; 13 W.R. 244. J
- (e) This is so even if the application is formally defective but accepted by Court. 4 C. 605. K

Limitation in partial executions.

- (a) An application to execute part of a decree, though irregular and ineffectual for the purpose, must, if made bona fide under a misapprehension of law, be regarded as a proceeding which keeps the decree alive. 15 W.R. 449; 16 W.R. 29; 16 W.R. 267; 25 W.R. 70. L

Limitation—(Continued).

A.—JOINT DECREE-HOLDERS.—(Concluded).

- (b) An application for partial execution of a joint decree by one of the joint decree-holders is not one according to law and consequently cannot keep the decree alive. 1 A. 231; 4 A. 72=1 A.W.N. 120. M
- (c) A subsequent amended application after the decree was barred does not cure the defect. 4 A. 72=1 A.W.N. 120. N
- (d) But if such partial execution is acquiesced in by the judgment-debtor without objection, he cannot subsequently impeach it on the ground of limitation as illegal. 7 A. 282=5 A.W.N. 41. O
- (e) Though law does not allow partial execution of a joint decree, yet such an application in respect of so much of the relief granted to all as the applicant considers appertains to him individually, may keep in force the decree. 3 M. 79. P

Limitation in partition decrees.

- (a) In decrees for partition, the execution taken out by one co-sharer is always on behalf of other co-sharers also and hence limitation does not apply. 3 C. 551=2 C.L.R. 187, 9 C. 568. Q
- (b) In a decree for partition, if one of the decree-holders be a minor, the disability of minority will not help him in saving limitation. 13 M. 236. R
- (c) A father obtained a decree for partition and the son obtained a decree against the father for a share of whatever the father should acquire under the original decree, and applied for the execution of the whole of the original decree. The son being an assignee in law, his execution application would keep the original decree alive. 14 M. 252=1 M.L.J. 240. S

Minors.

- (a) In the execution of a joint-decree, the fact that one of the decree-holders was a minor would not entitle him to execute the whole decree or his share alone, after the period of three years from the last execution. 25 M. 431=12 M.L.J. 165. T
- (b) In 1891, G and S minors obtained a decree. In 1902, when more than three years had passed since G had attained his majority and whilst S was still a minor, G applied to execute the decree. It was held that the application was not barred. 6 Bom. L.R. 647. U

B.—JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS.

- (a) Execution proceedings against some only of several joint judgment-debtors keep alive the decree against all. 9 W.R. 240. V
- (b) But a joint judgment-debtor, who was not a party to a previous barred application which was allowed, is not precluded from showing that the said application was barred, was not in accordance with law, and would not affect him. 27 C. 210. W

Legal representatives.

- An application for execution against one of the legal representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor keeps alive the decree against other representatives. 3 A. 157; 12 B. 43. X

GENERAL—(Concluded).

Limitation—(Concluded).

B.—JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS.—(Concluded).

Decree not joint.

- (a) Where the decree is nominally in one document, but really contains separate decrees against separate defendants, execution against one or some will not save the decree against others. 6 W.R. Mis. 18. Y
- (b) Where the decree for rent is against two persons specifying the period for which each was liable, execution against one will not save limitation against the other. 1 B.L.R. (F.B.), 258=10 W.R. 30; 10 B.L.R. 259 note=10 W.R. 10. Z
- (c) But see 8 W.R. 80 where, in the case of a decree declaring separate liability in respect of a definite amount against each of several defendants, it was held that the execution against some alone would keep the whole decree alive. A

Surety.

- (a) A—, who agrees to pay the decree debt or the instalment if the judgment-debtors fail to pay, has got only separate liability, and as such any execution proceedings against him will not save the decree against the principals or vice versa. 6 W.R. Mis. 44. B
- (b) Execution against a surety, becomes a step in aid of execution against a principal, only when it was made to enforce a liability which was common to both. 23 B. 478. C

Notice.

For an application under S. 231, C.P.C., no notice is necessary to the judgment-debtor, especially when he has deliberately disobeyed Court's orders. 33 C. 806=10 C.W.N. 297=8 C.L.J. 112. D

1.—“Passed jointly.”

The effect of a P.C. judgment being that each of two co-plaintiffs was entitled to a half of a taluk—it was held that one co-plaintiff could obtain execution according to the extent of his interest in the estate. 9 C. 482=12 C.L.R. 511=10 I.A. 4. E

2.—“Of such persons.”

Transferees.

- (a) Where there are several joint decree-holders and some of them transfer their interest to third parties, these third parties will be allowed to execute the whole decree as joint decree-holders if justice requires it. 24 W.R. 245. F
- (b) The transferee from one of the joint decree-holders is entitled to execute the whole decree for the benefit of all. 8 A.W.N. 262. G

3.—“Imposes any condition.”

- (a) The provisions of S. 231 (=O. XXI, r. 15) of C.P.C. are not applicable to the case of joint decree-holders, the execution of whose decree is conditional on their joint performance of a particular act. 6 A. 69=3 A.W.N. 211. H
- (b) Where two co-plaintiffs' claim were decreed partly, and one of them appealed and the appellate Court reversed the decree and rejected the plaintiffs' claim, it was held that the other co-plaintiff could not execute the original decree as he was also bound by the appellate decision. 11 B. 596. I

4.—“Apply for the execution of the whole decree.”A.—GENERAL.

- (a) Partial applications for execution of portions of a decree may be allowed, when the decree is complex and grants relief of different kinds to be obtained by different processes. 7 N.W. 9. J
- (b) When one of several persons entitled to the benefit of a decree seeks to execute it without joining others, he should apply under S. 207 of the C.P.C. of 1859. 19 W.R. 302. K
- (c) A discharge by one of several joint decree-holders, for the whole amount, will not be a valid discharge so far as the shares of the other joint decree-holders are concerned. 4 C.L.R. 70. L

B.—EXECUTION OF THE WHOLE DECREE.

- (a) A joint decree-holder applied for execution of the whole decree, alleging that the other refused to join with him. The debtor said that he had paid more than half of the decree amount to the other who also admitted it. It was held that the Court should have allowed execution for half the amount of the decree only. 3 C.L.R. 513. M
- (b) In an execution for the whole amount by one of several joint decree-holders, the debtor objected that he had paid out of Court a large portion of the decree amount to another joint decree-holder which was duly certified to the Court. It was held that the Court should determine whether such payment was fraud upon others and also what amount the latter were entitled to have out of the whole decree. 9 C. 831 = 12 C.L.R. 566. N
- (c) Where payment is made out of Court to one of several joint decree-holders, such payment will discharge the judgment-debtor, if it is proved to be for the benefit of all and if it is certified to the Court. Otherwise it will operate as a discharge, only to the extent to which the payee is entitled in the decree. 1 N.L.R. 24. O
- (d) One of two joint decree-holders applied for execution of the whole decree amount. The other had received a certain sum from the judgment-debtor but the payment had not been certified. It was held that the payment was valid only to the extent of the share to which the payee was entitled, and that this share having been ascertained and credit given for it, the decree should be executed in favour of the present applicant for the balance. 15 M. 343 = 2 M.L.J. 50. P

C.—EXECUTION IN PART.General.

- (a) An application for a partial execution of a joint-decree is bad and not maintainable. 18 M. 464. Q
- (b) Partial execution of an unsatisfied decree should not be confounded with the execution for all that remains due upon a decree, where the rest has been previously satisfied. 12 W.R. 370. R
- (c) Where one of several joint decree-holders applies for execution of his share only, and the joint judgment-debtors under the decree had inherited the right in the decree of one of the joint decree-holders, it was held that the application was contrary to law, that so much of the judgment-

debt as had devolved upon the defendants had been extinguished, and that the application should have been made for execution in respect of the entire unextinguished portion of the judgment-debt. 5 A. 27 = 2 A.W.N. 140. S

Separate execution for their shares—not allowed.

- (a) The law does not allow the application for partial execution of a decree or separate applications by joint decree-holders for their shares in the decree. An application by one of several joint decree-holders enures for the benefit of all. 4 N.W. 90; 13 W.R. 244; 7 W.R. 535; 3 B. L.R. Ap. 21 = 11 W.R. 241; 17 W.R. 19; 23 W.R. 342; 7 W.R. 10; 22 W.R. 354; 5 A. 27. T
- (b) Joint decree-holders are not entitled to apply separately for execution of their shares in the decree. 6 W.R. Mis. 65; 6 W.R. Mis. 76; 2 N.W. 413. U

Separate execution for shares—when allowed.

- (a) A joint decree cannot be broken up. But S. 231 does not prevent the execution of such a decree against part of the property decreed. Also on proof of collusion of some of the decree-holders with the judgment-debtor, the other decree-holders were entitled to execute the decree to the extent of their shares. 6 A.W.N. 125. Y
- (b) When one of the joint decree-holders gives a bharpai without the other's consent, the others are entitled to execute for their shares. 4 A.W.N. 55. W
- (c) Where two joint decree-holders, each entitled to one half, issued execution, and one of them after the other's death received the whole amount of the decree, the representatives of the deceased were held entitled to execute for the half due to them. 2 B.L.R. Ap. 43 = 11 W.R. 262. X
- (d) Where a joint decree was passed in favour of two persons for costs and subsequently one died and the judgment-debtor himself was the legal representative of the deceased, the other was entitled to execute for the half of the decree-amount. 14 A.W.N. 15. Y

Amendment of application for execution of a share.

- (a) One of the joint decree-holder's application to execute his share of the decree was allowed to be amended so as to convert it into an application to execute the whole decree. 7 W.R. 535. Z
- (b) One of the joint decree-holder's application to execute his share of the decree could not in appeal be changed into an application to execute the whole decree. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 21 = 11 W.R. 241; 17 W.R. 19; 23 W. R. 342. A

5.—“Sufficient cause.”

- (a) The Court should use discretion and allow execution to one of several joint decree-holders, only when sufficient cause is shown. U.B.R. Vol. (1897-1901), p. 247. B
- (b) A co-decree-holder should show cause to the satisfaction of the Court for applying alone for the execution of the decree. The Court must hear also the judgment-debtor's objections to it. 21 W.R. 31; 22 W.R. 77. C

5.—“Sufficient cause.”—(Concluded).

- (c) Any one of the joint decree-holders may execute the whole decree on behalf of all, and the judgment-debtor has no right whatever to object. 8 M.L.J. 91. D
- (d) Where some joint decree-holders applied for execution of their shares alone and the others though they virtually joined in the application by signifying their consent, subsequently retracted their consent, it was held that the application was not maintainable. 24 W.R. 11. E

6.—“Protecting the interests.”

- (a) If the Court allows one co-decree-holder to execute the decree, it should make arrangements to protect the interest of the other decree-holders. 2 Agra 188 ; 15 W.R. 159 ; 22 W.R. 204 ; 28 W.R. 282. F
- (b) A person, acting for himself and as guardian of the minor members of his family, obtained a decree which was adjusted by a bond in his favour alone. He certified to the Court under S.258, and the Court demanded security from him as there were some minor decree-holders. It was held that, being the manager of the joint Hindu family, no security could be demanded from him. 11 O.C. 246. G
- (c) If a Court allows one co-decree-holder to execute and he recovers in execution, all the monies so received, must be for the benefit of all the decree-holders. 16 W.R. 29 ; 1 B.L.R.A.C. 28. H

16. Where a decree or, if a decree has been passed jointly in favour of two or more persons, the interest¹ of any decree-holder² in the decree is transferred by assignment in writing³ or by operation of law⁴, the transferee may apply for execution of the decree⁵ to the Court which passed it⁶; and the decree may be executed⁷ in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if the application were made by such decree-holder :

Application for execution by transferee of decree.

Provided that, where the decree, or such interest as aforesaid, has been transferred by assignment, notice⁸ of such application shall be given to the transferor and the judgment-debtor, and the decree shall not be executed until the Court has heard their objections⁹ (if any) to its execution ;

Provided¹⁰ also that, where a decree for the payment of money¹¹ against two or more persons¹² has been transferred to one of them¹³, it shall not be executed against the others.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 282 of the Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words “if,” “be,” “such” and “several,” the words “where,” “is,” “its” and “two or more” are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words “from the decree-holder to any other person,” “if that Court thinks fit” and “in writing” are deleted.
- (3) The words “or if a decree...the interest of any decree-holder in the decree,” “of the decree,” “or such interest as aforesaid” and “the payment of” are newly added.

GENERAL.

1.—Scope of the section.

- (a) S. 232 appears to recognise a transfer before the transferee applies to execute it. There is nothing in the section to make transfers of decrees conditional upon obtaining Court's sanction. 2 M.L.T. 93. I
- (b) The substitution of assignee's name on the record in lieu of the original decree-holder is not a condition precedent to the assignor's passing title under the assignment. 9 A. 46=6 A.W.N. 287. J

Assignee not allowed to execute under a special law.

- (c) Under S. 148 (h) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the assignee of a decree for arrears of rent cannot be allowed to execute it. But execution cannot be refused if, before the Tenancy Act came into operation, the assignment had been recognised by the execution Court under S. 232, C.P.C. 14 C. 380. K

Mortgage decree.

- (d) A mortgage suit does not end till sale actually takes place, though an order absolute might have been passed. It is a pending suit till the end of sale. So, an application made by the representatives of a deceased decree-holder to substitute their names before sale is governed by S. 372, C.P.C. (=O. XXII, r. 10) and not by S. 232 or 265 (=S. 54 of the present Code). 9 C.W.N. 171. L

Transferee of a mortgage decree—his powers.

- (e) The provision of law under S. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act applies to a transferee of a money-decree obtained by a mortgagee, even though such transferee cannot institute a suit under S. 67 of Transfer of Property Act. 17 M.L.J. 508=8 M.L.T. 107. M

Executing Court cannot question validity of transferring Court's order under S. 232 (r. 16).

- (f) A Court to which a decree is sent for execution has no jurisdiction to question the validity of an order passed by the original Court recognising an assignment of the decree. 156 P.L.R. 1905. N

Representative of the decree-holder—Court's powers—Limitation.

- (g) If application is made to execute a deceased person's decree, the Court should, in its discretion, put one of the applicants at least on record and take such steps as would protect the interests of other claimants. 20 W.R. 51. O
- (h) If the decree-holder dies pending appeal and some are brought on record in appeal as his representatives, the executing Court must also put the names of these on record as a first amendment. 20 W.R. 51. P

2.—Appeal, &c.

I.—REFUSING EXECUTION TO THE TRANSFEREE.

(i) Appeal lies and suit does not lie.

- (a) An appeal lies against an order refusing execution under S. 232 to a transferee, by operation of law, as the transferee is to be regarded as the representative of the original decree-holder, within the meaning of cl. (a) of S. 244, C.P.C. 11 B. 506. Q

I.—REFUSING EXECUTION TO THE TRANSFEREE—(Concluded).

- (b) An order refusing to recognise the transferee of a decree may be regarded as an order under S. 244 and is therefore appealable. 25 M. 383. R
- (c) The order under S. 232, refusing to recognise or refusing to allow the execution application of the legal representative of the decree-holder without even any enquiry, is appealable. 11 O.W.N. 239. A suit brought without preferring an appeal to such an order, should be dismissed. 16 M.L.J. 27. S
- (d) When an order dismissing an application under S. 232 has been allowed to become final, no suit will be allowed to be brought to establish a right to execute the decree. 28 A. 613=A.W.N. (1906), 133=3 A.L.J. 428.T
- (ii) Suit may be considered as an application under S. 244.
- (a) In the case of an acquisition by transfer of partial interest in the decree, the transferee applied to the Court for recognition as transferee. Being a partial transferee he was not recognised, and he brought a suit to enforce his purchase against the judgment-debtor who pleaded bar under S. 244. It was held that he was entitled to bring the suit if he cannot come under S. 232, and that, if he can come under S. 232, the plaint may be considered as an application for execution under S. 244, C.P.C. 28 M. 64. U
- (b) An order refusing to recognise the transferee of a decree is appealable under S. 244. No separate suit lies for declaration that he is the assignee of the decree. In such a separate suit, the plaintiff without asking the lower Court asked the High Court to treat it as an execution petition for the first time, and the High Court declined to do so. 1 A.L.J. 61. Y
- (iii) Appeal does not lie, suit does.
- (a) The refusal to recognise and allow execution to an assignee of part of a decree is an order under S. 232, and not an order under S. 244, and is therefore final. 1896 P.R. 78. W
- (b) No appeal lies from an order under S. 232, C.P.C., rejecting an application by an assignee. 7 A. 457=5 A.W.N. 72; 20 A. 589=18 A.W.N. 145. X
- (c) The assignee of a decree, whose application under S. 232 was rejected, can bring a separate suit for a declaration that he is the person entitled to execute the decree. 7 A. 457=5 A.W.N. 72; 20 A. 589=18 A.W.N. 145. Y
- (d) Where a transferee decree-holder's petition for recognition was rejected under such circumstances as would not debar the applicant from making a fresh application to the same effect, it was held that he might bring a suit for declaration of his right as a transferee 16 A.W.N. 201. Z
- (iv) Suit lies against assignor.

The assignee for value of a decree obtained by two persons, one of whom was a minor, applied for execution under S. 232, C.P.C., but was refused. He can sue his assignor for the sum paid by him for the assignment. 16 M. 325. A

II.—ALLOWING EXECUTION TO THE TRANSFEREE.

(i) Appeal lies.

An order allowing the substitution of the name of a transferee decree-holder is an order under S. 244 and is appealable. 11 A.W.N. 87; 25 A. 443. B

GENERAL—(Concluded).2.—Appeal, &c—(Concluded).II.—ALLOWING EXECUTION TO THE TRANSFEREE.—(Concluded).(ii) No appeal lies.

Under S. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, no appeal lay from an order passed under S. 208 of Act VIII of 1859 substituting the name of the assignee in lieu of the original decree-holder. 4 B.L.R., A.C. 200 = 13 W.R. 224. Contra see 9 Bom. H.C.R. 49. C

3.—Limitation.1.—LIMITATION UNDER ART. 179.*(i) Application for recognition.

(a) Instead of an application for execution, an application for recognition put in by a transferee decree-holder, is an application to take a step in aid of execution in accordance with law. 18 M.L.J. 24. D

(b) An application by the legal representative of the deceased decree-holder, for recognising him as the decree-holder, is not prohibited by the Code. Such an application is a step in aid of execution. 17 M.L.J. 475. E

(ii) Application for execution.

(a) An application by a transferee decree-holder for recognition and for attachment and sale of property hypothecated under the decree without filing also an inventory, is still a valid application under law, as the other prayers beyond that of recognition were superfluous and should not have been made at that stage. 10 A.W.N. 245. F

(b) An application for execution by a transferee of a decree is an application by the 'decree-holder,' within the meaning of S. 2, C.P.C., and is, therefore, in accordance with law, within the meaning of the Limitation Act. 2 M.L.T. 339. G

(c) An application for execution made by a transferee decree-holder, though unsuccessful, is a step in aid of execution. 19 A.W.N. 16. H

(d) An application for execution made by a transferee of a decree and rejected, would not save limitation. A.W.N. (1907), 39. I

(iii) Application for transmission and notice.

An application by an assignee of a decree for transmission of the decree and for notice to issue under r. 16 can only be treated as one for execution. 29 C. 235. J

(iv) Application for bringing in heirs of the judgment-debtor on record.

There is nothing in S. 232 which would prohibit the transferee of a decree from applying for and obtaining an order to bring in the representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor. Such an application is a step in aid of execution. 17 M.L.J. 485 = 3 M.L.T. 21. K

II.—LIMITATION UNDER ART. 180.

Where notice was issued, under r. 16 and r. 22, for execution, and further proceedings were dropped, it was held that there being no order made by Court, such notice alone did not operate as a revivor of the decree sa per art. 180 of the Limitation Act, 30 C. 979 = 7 C.W.N. 793. L

1.—“The interest.”

- (a) One of two decree-holders may assign his interest ; and the assignee will be allowed to execute unless the judgment-debtor is able to show that it will prejudice him. 19 M. 306=6 M.L.J. 172. M
- (b) One of the representatives of a deceased decree-holder may transfer his rights under the decree and the Court can recognise it under S. 232, C.P.C. 11 B. 153. N
- (c) Where one of several joint decree-holders applies for execution of his share only, and the joint judgment-debtors under the decree had inherited the right in the decree of one of the joint decree-holders, it was held that the application was contrary to law, that so much of the judgment-debt as had devolved upon the defendants had been extinguished, and that the application should have been made for execution in respect of the entire unextinguished portion of the judgment-debt. 5 A. 27=2 A.W.N. 140. O
- (d) Legislature does not prohibit transfer of a portion of a decree. Provided the whole decree is executed, the transferee of such a portion will be allowed to execute the decree. 24 W.R. 11, diss.; 17 C. 341. P
- (e) It was doubted whether purchasers of a share in a decree could be added on record under S. 208 of the C.P.C. of 1859 as co-decree-holders. 24 W.R. 11. Q
- (f) See also cases under the general head ‘APPEAL’ where transferees of part of the decree were not allowed execution.
- (g) N.B.—Now by the present amendment all such transfers will be recognised.

2.—“Any decree-holder.”

The word ‘decree-holder’ in S. 232 means the decree-holder in fact and not the person who will be entitled to be a decree-holder in equity. So where a decree to be passed in favour of a party was transferred during pendency of a suit, such a transferee was not allowed to execute the decree passed afterwards. 17 M.L.J. 391=2 M.L.T. 197. R

3.—“Assignment in writing.”

- (a) If the transfer is by assignment and in writing, then S. 232 enables the transferee to apply for and the Court to proceed to execution in the manner stated therein. 9 B. 179. S
- (b) An assignee of a decree under an oral agreement has no locus standi to apply for execution of the decree. 15 B. 307. T
- (c) The sale of property for the possession of which the vendor has obtained a decree, does not, necessarily, carry with it the right to execute the decree. 30 A. 28=A.W.N. (1907), 280=4 A.L.J. 759. U

4.—“Operation of law.”A.—Cases of transfers by operation of law.

- (a) The holder of a certificate of administration granted under S. 7 of Bom. Reg. VIII of 1827 is a transferee by law within the meaning of S. 232, C.P.C. 11 B. 368. Y

4.—“Operation of law”—(Concluded).

A.—Cases of transfers by operation of law.—(Concluded).

- (b) A person attaching a decree is a representative of the decree-holder, and if both the attaching Court and the Court, which passed the decree attached, be the same, it should allow execution of the decree by the attaching creditor. 15 C. 371. W
- (c) If a decree is transferred to one as benamidar for the actual purchaser, the latter is entitled to execute the decree and he should apply under S. 232, C.P.C. 21 M. 388. X
- (d) The official assignee obtained a decree against the debtor of an insolvent. Subsequently the insolvent compounded with his creditors and transferred his effects to B who stood as surety and promised to pay the insolvent's creditors. So the Court cancelled the adjudication and ordered the official assignee to make over the estate of the insolvent to him. B now applied for the execution of the decree obtained by the official assignee. It was held that he was a transferee by operation of law and, therefore, could come in under S. 232, C.P.C. 4 C.W.N. 785. Y
- (e) Upon the death of the full owner, the mother obtained a probate of the will. Then as executrix she obtained a decree for rent. In the meantime her minor son disputed the will and the probate was revoked. He was subsequently allowed, under S. 232, C.P.C., to execute the rent decree obtained by his mother as executrix, on the ground that his succession to his father's estate was by operation of law. 16 C. 847; 21 M. 353. Z
- (f) A left properties to B in trust for C with directions to assign the properties to C as soon as he came of age. B as trustee sued some persons for money and pending the suit transferred all properties including those in action to C. But C was not substituted in the suit and a decree was passed in favour of B. Long after the period, C was allowed to execute the decree, as a transferee ‘by operation of law’ under S. 232, C.P.C. 11 B. 506. A
- (g) A obtained a decree for possession against B. Then C sued A claiming the same property in which a consent decree was passed allowing C to execute A's decree. It was held that, under S. 208 of the C.P.C. of 1859, C could execute A's decree against B, though B was not a party to the second suit. 1 N.W. 34; Ed. 1878 (31). B

B.—Case where there was no transfer by operation of law.

During the life-time of the father and in the absence of any proper assignment, a son cannot execute the father's decree. 4 A.W.N. 39. C

C.—Succession certificate.

(i) Necessity for it.

- (a) Under S. 232, transfer by operation of law cannot be recognised, unless a succession certificate is produced in cases in which a succession certificate is necessary. Execution allowed without such a certificate becomes invalid. 1898 P.R. 37. D
- (b) Under S. 208 of Act VIII of 1859, it was not essential that a certificate should in every instance be obtained by a representative before he can be allowed to apply for execution. 7 W.R. 393. E

(ii) Limitation.

An application for execution by the heir of the deceased decree-holder under S. 232 may be in accordance with law, notwithstanding the fact that no succession certificate is filed with it. 1893 P.R. 54. F

5.—“For execution of the decree.”

Where pending execution a decree is transferred, the allowing of the assignee proceed with the execution, without a formal application from him, is merely an error of procedure and not an error affecting the merits of the case. 26 C. 250. G

6.—“To the Court which passed it.”A.—General.

- (a) The expression “the Court which passed the decree” includes the Court which, by reason of a transfer of jurisdiction, has jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the suit. 12 C.W.N. 859. H
- (b) The word ‘Court’ in S. 208 of Act VIII of 1859 did not include the Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution. B.L.R. 497=14 W.R. 65. I

B.—Assignee to apply to the original Court.

- (a) The assignee should apply to the Court which passed the decree, to recognise his title and to substitute his name in lieu of the plaintiff. 9 Bom. H.C.R. 46; 9 Bom. H.C.R. 49; 4 N.W.P. 90; 2 All. 288; 27 C. 488. J
- (b) A transferee decree-holder should apply to the Court which passed the decree, to recognise his transfer, and transfer the decree to another Court for execution against the judgment-debtor as well as his surety under S. 836. 26 M. 258. K

C.—The transferred Court has no jurisdiction.

- (a) If before transfer, a decree is sent to another Court for execution, the transferee of the decree has no right to apply to such Court for execution, but should apply to the Court which passed the decree. 2 A. 288. L
- (b) A Court to which a decree has been transferred cannot give permission under S. 282 to continue execution proceedings begun upon the application of the decree-holder since deceased. Such permission can be granted only by the original Court. 11 O.C. 112. M
- (c) The Court to which a decree was transferred for execution cannot entertain an application by a subsequent transferee decree-holder for a rateable share in the assets. 25 A. 448. N
- (d) An application by the transferee of a decree for execution after substitution of his name, can be entertained only by the Court which passed the decree. If it is entertained by the Court to which the decree has been transferred and orders passed thereon, it is done so without any jurisdiction, and such order may be set aside on appeal notwithstanding S. 578, C.P.C. 27 C. 488. O

7.—“May be executed.”A.—Court’s discretion to recognise.

- (a) S. 208 of Act VIII of 1859 put the transferee of a decree in the position of the original decree-holder. 7 W.R. 205. P
- (b) The transferee of the entire decree by operation of law, is entitled to come into the shoes of the decree-holder and execute the decree. 1 N.L.R. 49. Q

7.—“May be executed.”—(Continued).

A.—Court's discretion to recognise—(Concluded).

- (c) If the assignment be in writing or by operation of law, the Court has a discretion under S. 232 to recognise it or not. 15 B. 307. R
- (d) A decree-holder can execute a decree as a matter of right; but an assignee can do so only with the Court's permission, which depends entirely on the Court's discretion. 15 W.R. 283; 9 Bom. 179. S
- (e) It is only when the assignee comes forward and claims execution for himself instead of the original decree-holder, that an execution Court can notice it and exercise its discretion under S. 208 of the C.P.C. of 1859. 10 W.R. 354. T

B.—Discretion to be reasonably exercised.

- (a) The discretion vested in Courts under S. 232, C.P.C., must be exercised reasonably. The mere fact of existence of a cross-claim against the assignor by the judgment-debtor, is no ground for refusing recognition of the assignment and issue of execution. 15 C. 446. U
- (b) S. 232 gives the Court discretion to allow the transferee of a decree to execute it. And the appellate Court will not interfere, unless it is shown that the discretion is improperly exercised. 2 C.P.L.R. 45. Y

C.—Cases where petition was allowed by Court in its discretion.

- (a) The transferee from one of the joint decree-holders is entitled to execute the whole decree for the benefit of all. 3 A.W.N. 262. W
- (b) Where there are several joint decree-holders and some of them transfer their interest to third parties, these third parties will be allowed to execute the whole decree as joint decree-holders if justice requires it. 24 W.R. 245. X
- (c) A Court cannot refuse execution to a transferee-decree-holder on the ground satisfaction of the decree to the original decree-holder by an uncertified payment out of Court. 4 C.P.L.R. 132. Y
- (d) When a transferee decree-holder applied for execution and the judgment-debtor wanted to set off a decree obtained by him against the original decree-holder subsequent to the transfer, it was held that the time of purchase was immaterial for the purposes S. 209, C.P.C. of 1859. 1876 C. P. Select cases, Part X, No. 38. Z
- (e) The fact that, if allowed, a decree would be executed against a particular judgment-debtor, in order to benefit another judgment-debtor, is no ground for refusing to allow the assignee of the decree to execute it. 8 M. 455. A

D.—Cases where petition was not allowed by Court in its discretion.

- (a) Certain persons alleging to be the transferee of a decree by operation of law applied for recognition. Their transfer was disputed and was sub-judice in another suit. The District Munsiff dismissed their execution petition, as, under both Ss. 232 and 244, he had the discretion to stay execution or dismiss the petition. 28 M. 357. B
- (b) This rule does not apply to cases where the right to an equitable interest in the decree is seriously contested and was not intended to enable a Court to try, on an application for execution, such an important question as the legitimacy of an heir to the original decree-holder. 2 C. 327 = 4 I.A. 66. C

7.—“May be executed.”—(Concluded).

D.—Cases where petition was not allowed by Court in its discretion
—(Concluded).

- (c) So also where the decree was purchased benami and there was a dispute as to who was the real purchaser of the decree. 3 C. 371=1 C.L.R. 331. D
- (d) A Court disallowed an assignment and refused to recognise it where the assignor was liable under a cross-decree for a considerable sum to the judgment-debtor. 8 W.R. 202. E

8.—“Notice.”

- (a) If the decree is transferred after the death of the judgment-debtor, the notice of the transfer mentioned in S. 232 should be served on the representatives of the judgment-debtor. 11 B. 727. F
- (b) A decree not being a ‘debt’ within the meaning of S. 131, Transfer of Property Act, no express notice need be given of its assignment. Notice given under this rule is enough. 24 B. 502. G

9.—“Their objections.”

- (a) The assignee of an assignee of a decree-holder applied for recognition under S. 232. The original assignee was dead and his representatives were not cited. It was held that the judgment-debtor had no locus standi to raise the objection that the original assignee’s representatives were not served with notices, and that it was not necessary to cite the representatives of the said original assignee. 9 A. 46=6 A.W.N. 297. H
- (b) In an execution by the assignee of the decree, the judgment-debtors were not allowed to plead nullity of decree on the ground that it was obtained by fraud. 15 B. 307. I

10.—“Provided.”

The object of the proviso.

The object of S. 232, cl. (b) is not to deprive the judgment-debtor, who gets the transfer of a decree, of all relief, but merely to impose upon him the duty of proceeding by a suit for contribution. 10 Bom. L.R. 89=3 M.L.T. 175=82 B. 195. J

11.—“For payment of money.”

- (a) The expression “a decree for money against several persons” in S. 232 means a personal decree for money against the defendants, and does not extend to a decree which may become a personal decree for money on determination by Court. It applies only where, in the decree, there is a distinct order upon the defendants personally to pay the money. 31 B. 308=9 Bom. L.R. 409. K
- (b) A mortgaged properties to B. C bought the properties in Court-auction subject to the mortgage of B. B sued A and C on the mortgage and obtained a decree for sale and a personal decree against A. C got transfer of this decree from B. He was allowed to execute it against A, as under the 2nd proviso, it was not a decree for money personally due by two or more persons. 11 C. 393. L
- (c) There was a mortgage decree against two persons. Before execution, the 8 as. share of one of them in the property was sold in auction under Bengal Act VII of 1868 and one A bought it. In order to prevent the decree-holder from proceeding against the share in his hands, A bought the mortgage decree and proceeded to execute it against the other half share. It was held that he could do so and that, if any equity should arise among them, the decretal amount should be distributed over the whole property, and that it should be enforced by an independent suit. 4 C.L.R. 156. M

12.—“Against two or more persons.”

A decree directed that A should pay certain amount and costs and B should pay certain other amount and costs. The decree was transferred to B. B could execute the decree so far as it was passed against A. 10 Bom. L.R. 89=3 M.L.T. 175=32 B. 195. N

13.—“To one of them.”

It is doubtful whether a transferee of a decree can be debarred from executing it on the ground that the transfer is benami. But if one of the co-judgment-debtors is the person who pays for the transfer, then the benami transferee cannot be allowed to execute it. 2 C.P.L.R. 45. O

17. (1) On receiving an application for the execution of a decree

as provided by rule 11, sub-rule (2), the Court shall ascertain whether such of the requirements ¹ of rules 11 to 14 as may be applicable to the case have been complied with; and, if they have not been complied with, the Court may reject the application, or may allow the defect to be remedied ² then and there or within a time to be fixed by it.

(2) Where an application is amended under the provisions of sub-rule (1) it shall be deemed to have been an application in accordance with law ³ and presented on the date when it was first presented.

(3) Every amendment made under this rule shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

(4) When the application is admitted, the Court shall enter in the proper register a note of the application and the date on which it was made, and shall, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application :

Provided that, in the case of a decree for the payment of money, the value of the property attached ⁴ shall, as nearly as may be, correspond with the amount due under the decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 245 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words “sections 235 to 238,” “it to be amended,” “fixed by the Court,” “section,” “attested by the signature of” and “for which the decree has been made,” the words “rules 11 to 14,” “the defect to be remedied,” “to be fixed by it,” “rule,” “signed or initialled by” and “due under the decree” are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words “if the application be not so amended, it shall be rejected,” and “of the suit” are deleted.
- (3) The words “as provided by rule 11, sub-rule (2),” “proper,” “subject to the provisions hereinafter contained” and “the payment of” are newly added.
- (4) Sub-rule (2) is new.

1.—“Such of the requirements.”(1) Filing decree.

S. 15 of Act XXIII of 1861 (S. 215 of C.P.C. of 1859) did not make it essential that the decree itself should be filed, but only required certain particulars specified in S. 215 of C.P.C. of 1859. 4 W.R. Mis. 16. P

(2) Investigation of title.

Neither S. 214 of C.P.C. of 1859 nor S. 15 of Act XXIII of 1861, which corresponded to S. 236 of the C.P.C. of 1882, contemplated any inquiry before the Court whether the property belongs to the judgment-debtor or not. 8 B.L.R.A.C. 413 = 12 W.R. 329. Q

(3) Terms of the decree.

Under S. 15 of Act XXIII of 1861, if an application for execution corresponds with the terms of the decree, it should be admitted. If the decree needs correction, the executing Court cannot correct it, but the Court which passed it should be moved. 8 W.R. 277. R

2.—“Allow the defect to be remedied.”(1) Application for amendment.

(a) An execution application was ordered to be amended within one week. The order was disobeyed but no order rejecting the application was passed. After a month, the applicant applied for leave to amend the application and it was granted. It was held that this was not ultra vires under S. 245, C.P.C. 8 C. 479 = 10 C.L.R. 519. S

(b) An application to amend an execution petition by inserting a reference to a former decree should have been allowed by the Court under S. 245, C.P.C. 17 M. 67. T

(2) Cases where amendment was allowed.

(a) A Judge's decree was appealed against and the High Court dismissed the appeal. Before and after the dismissal of the appeal, execution was being taken out regularly on the Judge's decree, when defendant objected. It was held that the defect was merely formal and the Court should have asked the decree-holder to amend the application under S. 245. 5 A.W.N. 304. U

(b) Under S. 15 of Act XXIII of 1861, a Judge should not reject an execution application on the ground of an irregularity in form. He should either return it for correction or cause the correction to be made. 6 W.R. Mis. 15. Y

(3) Case where amendment was not necessary.

Overstating the amount due in the execution petition will not prevent the decree-holder from recovering by execution what is due under the decree; nor will he be obliged to amend his application under S. 245, C.P.C. 15 A.W.N. 18. W

3.—“In accordance with law.”

LIMITATION.

(1) Application defective under rule 11.

(a) An application for execution defective in not specifying the relief asked for, but which was received by Court without being objected to, as an invalid application under S. 235, and without returning it for amendment under S. 245, is an application in accordance with law and saves limitation. 1888 P.R. 23 (Civil). X

3.—“In accordance with law.”—(Concluded).

LIMITATION—(Concluded).

- (b) An execution petition, though defective as not containing every particular mentioned in S. 235 (rule 11), and though not amended as required by S. 245 (r. 17), may still suffice to keep the decree alive. 6 M. 250; 16 M. 142. Y
- (c) But see 23 C. 217, where 6 M. 250 and 16 M. 142 were dissented from. Z
- (d) But see 25 C. 594=2 C.W.N. 556, where it was held that the failure to mention the number of the suit and the date of the decree, in an execution petition, was not a material defect and so could not vitiate the application. A
- (e) Amendment of the date of the decree in an execution petition, after the period of limitation, relates back to the original date on which the petition was filed and the petition therefore was not barred. 13 A.W. N. 112; 20 A. 478=18 A.W.N. 128. B

(2) Application defective under rule 13.

- (a) An execution application was filed within time without complying with the provisions of S. 237 (rule 13). Subsequently, after the period of limitation amendment for conforming with rule 13 was applied for and granted. It was held that the original application and the amendment under S. 245 should be considered as one and that the application was not barred. 14 C. 124. See also 17 C. 631 (F.B.). C
- (b) An application for execution without complying with the provisions of rule 13, if admitted and registered under S. 245 without any amendment, is a valid application. 17 C. 631 (F.B.). D

The minority held that it was not a valid application.

(3) Application, defective and not verified.

A defective application which was also not verified was presented on the re-opening day of the Court, but was returned and duly amended under S. 247 (r. 17) and was presented again after the period of limitation. It was held that no valid application was made and so it was barred. 26 M. 101=12 M.L.J. 435. E

4.—“Value of the property attached.”

Petitioner objected to certain attachment on the ground that the previous attachments would be more than enough to satisfy the decree. Without an enquiry the petition was disallowed. Held that the order was under S. 244 (=S. 47 of the new Code) and appealable. The petition was remanded for enquiry. 8 A.W.N. 155. F

18. (1) Where applications are made to a Court ¹ for the execution of cross-decrees ² in separate suits for the payment of two sums of money ³ passed between the same parties ⁴ and capable of execution ⁵ at the same time by such Court, then—

- (a) if the two sums are equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees; and

(b) if the two sums are unequal, execution may be taken out only by the holder of the decree for the larger sum and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum.

(2) This rule shall be deemed to apply where either party is an assignee⁶ of one of the decrees and as well in respect of judgment-debts due by the original assignor⁷ as in respect of judgment-debts due by the assignee himself.

(3) This rule shall not be deemed to apply unless—

(a) the decree-holder in one of the suits in which the decrees have been made is the judgment-debtor in the other and each party fills the same character in both suits; and

(b) the sums due under the decrees are definite⁸.

(4) The holder of a decree passed against several persons⁹ jointly and severally may treat it as a cross-decree in relation to a decree passed against him singly in favour of one or more of such persons.

Illustrations.

(a) A holds a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. B holds a decree against A for the payment of Rs. 1,000 in case A fails to deliver certain goods at a future day. B cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(b) A and B, co-plaintiffs, obtain a decree for Rs. 1,000 against C, and C obtains a decree for Rs. 1,000 against B. C cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(c) A obtains a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. C, who is a trustee for B, obtains a decree on behalf of B against A for Rs. 1,000. B cannot treat C's decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(d) A, B, C, D and E are jointly and severally liable for Rs. 1,000 under a decree obtained by F. A obtains a decree for Rs. 100 against F singly and applies for execution to the Court in which the joint-decree is being executed. F may treat his joint-decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 246 of the Code of 1882.

If cross-decrees between the same parties for the payment of money be produced to the Court, execution shall be taken out only by the party who holds a decree for the larger sum, and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum.

If the two sums be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees.

Explanation I.—The decrees contemplated by this section are decrees capable of execution at the same time and by the same Court.

Explanation II.—This section applies where either party is an assignee of one of the decrees, and as well in respect of judgment-debts due by the original assignor as in respect of judgment-debts due by the assignee himself.

Explanation III.—This section does not apply unless—the decree-holder in one of the suits in which the decrees have been made is the judgment-debtor in the other, and each party fills the same character in both suits; and the sums due under the decree are definite.—(S. 246 of the old Code).

Illustrations (a), (b) and (c) same as in the new Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The additions and amendments are numerous.
- (2) Sub-rule (4) and illustration (d) are new.

(General).

(1) Stay of execution till the pending suit is disposed of.

- (a) A Court need not stay execution of a decree till the pending cross-suit is disposed of. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 330. G
- (b) But if the decree under execution is its own decree and the pending suit is in the same Court, then on the application supported by affidavit or other satisfactory proof, a stay of execution may be ordered. 8 W.R. 392. H
- (c) It is so even if the decree is not its own decree but only sent for execution. 12 W.R. 212. I

(2) Stay of execution for giving credit to another decree.

In cross-decrees, where an order was made on one of the decrees by Court with the consent of both parties, that it should not be executed without giving credit to the other decree, it is inequitable to allow execution of the other decree in full. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 114=11 W.R. 488. J

I.—“Where applications are made to a Court.”

(1) Cross-decrees must be in the same Court for execution.

- (a) The set-off of cross-decrees applied only to the decrees of the same Court or decrees sent to a Court for execution. 6 W.R. 21, reversed; 7 W.R. 480; 17 W.R. 46; 3 N.W. 104; 16 W.R. 303; B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 503=6 W.R. Mis. 72. K
- (b) The decree against which set-off is asked for must be before the Court for execution. 24 A. 481=22 A.W.N. 126. L

(2) Time:

The decrees must be under execution in the same Court at the same time. 7 W.R. 535. M

(3) Assignee of a cross-decree of different Courts.

Where the cross-decrees are of different Courts and an assignment of one is taken bona fide, there could be no set-off. 13 B.L.R. 489=22 W.R. 235; 5 W.R. Mis. 22. N

2.—“Cross-decrees.”

(1) Award and decree.

An award on private arbitration per se cannot be set-off against a decree of Court.
11 W.R. 144. O

(2) Unenforceable decree.

A decree not enforceable, as being barred or otherwise, cannot be set-off against a decree which is alive. 16 W.R. 808; 5 W.R. Mis. 16; 5 W.R. Mis. 8; 5 W.R. Mis. 43. P

(3) A barred decree, when may be set-off.

A decree, which becomes incapable of execution by the fact of a larger decree being passed subsequently in the same suit in favour of the defendant against the plaintiff, though becomes barred at the time when the defendant takes out execution of his decree, may be pleaded as a set-off. 9 W.R. 590. Q

3.—“For the payment of two sums of money.”

In an application for execution of a decree for realisation of the entire amount due by sale of properties directed by the decree to be sold, the judgment-debtor claimed to set-off a money decree held by him. The contention, that the above decree was not a money decree under S. 246, was overruled and the judgment-debtor was allowed to set-off. 29 M. 318. R

4.—“Same parties.”

Set-off of a benami decree.

(a) In the execution by the holder of a decree bought in Court auction, the defendant sought to set-off his son's decree against the person at whose instance the former decree was sold by Court, alleging that the son held the decree benami for him (defendant). The Court held that it was not a cross-decree. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 110=10 W.R. 450. S

(b) A judgment-debtor can set-off a decree obtained by him against the decree-holder, though the decree-holder is merely a benamidar. 8 M.L.J. 220. T

5.—“Capable of execution.”

(1) Cross-decrees for mesne profits.

(a) In cross-decrees for mesne profits and possession of property, if the properties are not identically the same, each party may take out execution separately for their mesne profits. 16 W.R. 256. U

(b) If, when the mesne profits in one decree are ascertained, a third party attaches the sum, the attachment will hold good. 12 W.R. 891. V

(c) Two decrees were passed under which A was entitled to 2/3 and B to 1/3 of a property with proportionate mesne profits. B appealed against both the decrees to the Privy Council. Pending appeal he applied for execution and the execution Court found that 1/3 of the mesne profits came up to Rs. 18,700, but on A's objection, stayed execution till the disposal of the appeal by Privy Council. The appeal was duly dismissed and now A applied for execution against B for 2/3 of the mesne profits. B wanted to set off his item of Rs. 18,700. The Court held that until the amount of mesne profits due to A had been definitely ascertained by the execution Court, B's right to maintain his set-off did not arise; that the set-off was, therefore, not barred by limitation; that when the execution Court finds the amount of A's mesne profits, the decision would become a decree and that only then S. 246 of the Code could be applied. 10 A. 138=8 A.W.N. 66. W

5.—“Capable of execution.”—(Concluded).(2) Set-off to be allowed irrespective of appeal.

A judgment-debtor is entitled to set-off a decree, whether the judgment-creditor may or may not intend to object on appeal to the judgment-debtor's decree. 5 W.R. Mis. 52. X

(3) Where there is a first charge upon a decree.

Where by law a first charge for the Court fee is allowed in favour of Government, as in S. 411, C.P.C. (=O. XXXIII, r. 10), against a pauper plaintiff, a claim to set-off under S. 246 (=O. XXI, r. 18) or 247 (O. XXI, r. 19) will not be allowed to the judgment-debtor. 9 A. 64 =6 A.W.N. 300. Y

6.—“Is an assignee.”(1) Assignee's name on record after assignment, not necessary.

The assignee of a decree, which subsequent to the assignment is appealed against and confirmed by the appellate Court without assignee's name being brought on record, is an assignee within the meaning of S. 246 (=O. XXI, r. 18), and a satisfaction entered on the decree under S. 246 is binding on him, though made subsequent to his assignment. 7 M.L.J. 227. Z

(2) Attachment by a third party will not take effect in cross-decrees.

A sued B for money and some days after B sued A for money. While the suits were pending, C attached the money which B claimed in his suit against A. Both the suits subsequently were decreed on the same day. It was held that even if C had followed his original attachment and attached even B's decree itself, it would have had no effect, as they were cross-decrees and the smaller sum became merged in the larger. 2 A. 866. A

(3) Purchaser at Court auction not being an assignee is protected.

Where, property sold in execution of a valid decree under the order of a competent Court, was purchased bona fide and for value, the mere existence of a cross-decree for a higher amount in favour of the judgment-debtor will not support a suit by him to set aside the sale. 14 C. 18=13 I.A. 106; 15 C. 557. B

7.—“Judgment-debts due by the original assignor.”(1) Assignee of a decree is subjected to equities.

(a) The purchaser of a decree held by A, against whom B holds a cross-decree, takes it subject to a set-off on account of B's decree. 1 B.L.R. (F.B.), 28=10 W.R. (F.B.), 32; 6 W.R. Mis. 73; 18 W.R. 442; 19 W.R. 85; 21 W.R. 141; 24 W.R. 299. C

(b) On the same day cross-decrees were passed between A and B; B's decree being for the smaller amount, B transferred it to C who gave notice to A about nine months afterwards and then wanted to execute the decree. It was held that C took the decree subject to equities, and that the decree being incapable of execution under r. 18, even on the date of the decree, he cannot execute it. 26 M. 428 D

(c) A got a decree against B and then transferred it to C. C applied for execution, B wanted to set-off a previous decree which he had against A. It was held that he was entitled to do so as C's transfer was subject to equities. S.C. 131. E

7.—“ Judgment-debts due by the original assignor.”—(Concluded).

- (d) When a transferee decree-holder applied for execution and the judgment-debtor wanted to set off a decree obtained by him against the original decree-holder subsequent to the transfer, it was held that the time of purchase was immaterial for the purposes of S. 209, C.P.C. of 1859. 1876 C.P. (2) Fraudulent assignment of a decree.

- (a) A—will not affect the right of set-off. 7 W.R. 470. G
 (b) Where execution of a decree by A was stayed pending the passing of a decree in B's cross suit, then no assignment of B's decree will have any effect against A's attaching B's decree in execution of his own decree. 7 W.R. 219. H

8.—“ Sums due under the decrees are definite.”

Same parties and definite sums.

For a set-off of cross-decrees, the parties must be the same and the sum due under each decree must be definite. 5 W.R. Mis. 12. I

9.—“ Against several persons.”

(1) Joint decree against several—Set-off allowed.

- (a) In a decree-holder's application for execution, the judgment-debtor may plead set-off of a decree which he holds against the decree-holder and others. 9 C. 479=13 C.L.R. 93; 16 C. 619. J
 (b) If a decree-holder holds a joint decree against a defendant and others, and if the defendant holds a decree against the decree-holder, in the defendant's application for execution, the decree-holder may set off his joint decree. 14 A. 339=12 A.W.N. 12. K

(2) Joint decree in favour of several—Set-off not allowed.

- (a) Where S and others hold a joint decree against M and M holds a decree against S alone, they cannot be treated as cross-decrees, as the decrees are not between the same parties. 2A, 91; 6 B.L.R. Ap. 125=15 W.R. 127. L
 (b) The assignee of a decree sought execution against B. B and others held a decree against the assignor, which B wanted to set-off. It was held that he cannot do so. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 125=15 W.R. 127. M

Execution in case of cross-claims under a decree under which two parties¹ are entitled² to recover sums of money from each other, then,—

- (a) if the two sums are equal, satisfaction for both shall be entered upon the decree; and
 (b) if the two sums are unequal, execution may be taken out only by the party entitled to the larger sum and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum³ and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered upon the decree.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 247 of the old Code.

When two parties are entitled under the same decree to recover for each other sums of different amounts, the party entitled to the smaller sum shall not take out execution against the other party; but satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree.

When the amounts are equal, neither party shall take out execution, but satisfaction for each sum shall be entered on the decree.—(S. 247 of Act XIV of 1882).

Difference between the old and the new Act.

The differences are many.

1.—“Two parties.”Conditions for the application of S. 247 (r. 19).

To make S. 247 applicable in the case of cross-claims under one decree, the parties must hold the same character and possess identical rights of enforcing execution. So in the same decree, mortgage amount to be realised not personally but by property, and the costs awarded to the other party to be realised personally or otherwise, cannot be set off against each other. 5 A. 272. N

But 5 A. 272 was dissented from in 16 A. 395=14 A.W.N. 133, where it was held that S. 247 was not limited in its application to cases in which the remedy of each party against the other is of precisely the same nature. O

2.—“Are entitled.”When set-off not allowed.

Where by law a first charge for the Court fee is allowed in favour of Government, as in S. 411, C.P.C. against a pauper plaintiff, a claim to set-off under S. 246 or 247 will not be allowed to the judgment-debtor. 9 A. 64=6 A.W.N. 300. P

3.—“Execution may be...the smaller sum.”(1) General.

(a) Under S. 247 (r. 19), all that the decree-holder is entitled to enforce execution of, is the difference between the amount found recoverable by him and the amount which the judgment-debtor is entitled to recover against him. 5 O.W.N. 497. Q

(b) Where two parties are to recover sums from each other under the same decree, or where there is a decree in favour of one with costs in favour of the other, or where there are two awards of costs in the same decree in favour of each of the parties, only the difference between the sums may be recovered. 13 W.R. 106; 12 W.R. 308; 23 M. 121; 19 W.R. 187. R

(2) Conditional pre-emption decree.

(a) In a pre-emption decree conditional on the payment of purchase money, costs were awarded to the plaintiff. Plaintiff deposited in Court the purchase money minus the costs awarded to him. It was held that he was entitled to do so under S. 247 (r. 19). 6 A. 351. S

(b) A decree directed the delivery of immoveable property on payment of a sum to the defendant within two months, and also awarded costs in a larger sum to the plaintiff. Plaintiff applied for execution stating the facts, claiming the property and the balance of costs due to him after the set off. It was held that he could claim the set-off. 6 O.C. 23. T

22. (1) Where an application for execution is made—

(a) more than one year after the date of the decree, or

(b) against the legal representative ¹ of a party to the decree ², the Court executing the decree shall issue a notice ³ to the person against whom execution is applied for requiring him to show cause ⁴, on a date to be fixed, why the decree should not be executed against him :

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution if the application is made within one year from the date of the last order against the party ⁵ against whom execution is applied for, made on any previous application for execution ⁶, or in consequence of the application being made against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person the Court has ordered execution to issue against him.

(2) Nothing in the foregoing sub-rule shall be deemed to preclude the Court from issuing any process in execution of a decree without issuing the notice thereby prescribed, if, for reasons to be recorded, it considers that the issue of such notice would cause unreasonable delay or would defeat the ends of justice.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 248 of the old Code.

The Court shall issue a notice to the party against whom execution is applied for, requiring him to show cause, within a period to be fixed by the Court, why the decree should not be executed against him—

- (a) if more than one year has elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for its execution, or
- (b) if the enforcement of the decree be applied for against the legal representative of a party to the suit in which the decree was made :

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary—in consequence of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution, if the application be made within one year from the date of any decree passed on appeal from the decree sought to be executed, or of the last order against the party against whom execution is applied for, passed on any previous application for execution, or in consequence of the application being against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person the Court has ordered execution to issue against him.

Explanation.—In this section the phrase, “the Court,” means the Court by which the decree was passed unless the decree has been sent to another Court for execution, in which case it means such other Court.—(S. 248 of the old Code.)

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The differences in transposition are many.
- (2) The explanation of the old section is omitted.
- (3) Sub-rule (2) is new.

1.—“Legal representative.”

Plaintiff and his brother were joint. Plaintiff's joint property was attached but before sale plaintiff died. The attaching creditor issued notice under S. 248 to the brother and the plaintiff's widow as representatives of plaintiff. It was held that the plaintiff's widow was the legal representative for this purpose, for it must be as a quasi-separate property of the deceased that the attaching creditor had a claim to it.

2.—‘Party to the decree.’

A judgment-debtor died after argument but before judgment. The decree was drawn up as if the deceased was living. It was held that it was a good decree and it could be executed against the heirs of the deceased under Ss. 234 and 248, 249 and 250. 21 B. 314. X

3.—‘Shall issue a notice.’I.—General.

Although a Judge should, when necessary, direct notices to be served on judgment-debtors, he cannot proceed in execution on a mere application to issue such notices over the parties who are bound to apply under S. 212 of Act VIII of 1859 (r. 11). 3 B.L.R. Ap. 21=11 W.R. 241. Y

II.—Effect of omission to give notice.(1) General.

(a) Without serving notice on parties under S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859, the Court is not competent to execute a decree more than a year old. 13 W.R. 400. Z

(b) Issuing of notice under S. 248 (r. 22) is a condition precedent to the execution of a decree against the representative of a deceased judgment-debtor. 20 C. O. A

(2) On subsequent proceedings.

Omission to give notice of execution under S. 248 (r. 22) to the legal representative of a deceased debtor or in execution of a decree more than year old—vitiate all the subsequent proceedings. 6 C. 103=7 C.L.R. 85; 3 A. 424. B

III.—Effect of serving notice.A.—ON AN OFFENCE UNDER SEC. 210, I.P.C.

The offence of fraudulently obtaining execution of a decree, after it has been satisfied, is not completed, when application is made or notice is sent under S. 248. It is completed only when the Court orders execution. 1902 P.R. 13 Criminal. D

B.—ON LIMITATION.(1) UNDER ART. 164.

A notice served under S. 248, is an execution of a process for enforcing judgment under Art. 164 of the Limitation Act. 110 P.L.R. 1905. E

(2) UNDER ART. 179.(1) Notice on defective applications.

(a) An application for execution defective in form, but praying for notice under S. 248, which was accordingly issued, is an application according to law and saves limitation. 116 P.R. 1907. F

(c) Even on a defective application for execution if notice issues under S. 216 of Act VIII of 1859, further limitation is computed from the date of the notice. 1 A. 676 ; 25 C. 594 = 2 C.W.N. 556. H

(d) It is so even if it is issued on an invalid execution petition. 15 A. 84. I

(2) Barred application.

But if any previous application was really time-barred, the fact that the judgment-debtor received notice under S. 248 (r. 22) for that application without challenging it, will not avail. In a subsequent application the Court can enter into the question and dismiss the application. 2 M. 1 ; 3 C. 518 = 1 C.L.R. 408 ; 2 A.L.J. 67. J

(3) Applications where notice is necessary.

(a) Though the application is in accordance with law or not, if the decree-holder entitled to apply for notice under S. 248 applies for it, the application should be regarded as a step in aid of execution. 28 M. 557. K

(b) An execution application, though not in accordance with law, may be held to save limitation if notice is prayed for under S. 248, where such notice is necessary. 18 M.L.J. 14 per contra see 125 P.L.R. 1908 L

(4) Incomplete execution petitions.

An incomplete execution application without specifying the mode in which the Court's assistance was wanted, but requesting notice under S. 248 for the express purpose of saving limitation, will not amount to an act to save limitation. 9 C.P.L.R. 15. M

(5) Service of notice.(a) From what date limitation runs.

(i) Service of notice under S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859 made bona fide with a view to take further proceedings, is sufficient to keep the decree alive. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 146 ; 6 W.R. Mis. 97 ; 9 W.R. 380 ; 5 M. 100 ; 19 W.R. 102. N

It is so even without bona fides. 22 W.R. 484 ; 23 W.R. 195.

(ii) The date of issue of notice under S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859 and the service of it gives a fresh start of limitation to the execution of a decree. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 492 = 1 Ind. Jur. N. (iii) In an execution case where notice was first issued before and application for execution was made after, the law of Limitation was passed, the period was held to be reckoned from the date of the notice. 25 W.R. 249 ; 24 W.R. 20. P

(iv) Where an application for execution was made, and notice under S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859 was served and also subsequent proceedings were taken, it was held that limitation ran not from the subsequent proceedings from the dates of the other two. 22 W.R. 546. Q

(v) Where a notice, to show cause why a decree should not be executed, is issued under S. 248, limitation runs from that date. Actual service of notice is not necessary. 27 B. 622 = 5 Bom. L.R. 594.

III.—Effect of serving notice—(Concluded).

B.—ON LIMITATION—(Concluded).

(b) Meaning of date of issuing notice.Calcutta and Madras H. C.'s views.

Time runs from the date when notice is actually issued, and not from the date when notice was ordered by Court. 10 C.W.N. 303=4 C.L.J. 530; 30 M. 30=16 M.L.J. 548=1 M.L.T. 395; 6 C.W.N. 656. S

Allahabad and Bombay H. C.'s views.

(i) The date of issuing notice under S. 248, C.P.C., is the date on which the Court orders the issue of notice, and not the date on which notice is actually issued, for the purposes of limitation. 5 A.L.J. 524=A.W.N. (1908), 245=4 M.L.T. 446. T

(ii) For limitation, the date of issuing notice is the date on which the Court orders that it should issue, and not the date on which the notice is formally drawn up afterwards and signed. 28 B. 416=6 Bom. L.R. 457; per contra see 23 B. 35. U

(3) UNDER ART. 180.

Order after issue of notice.

(a) An order made by Court after issue of notice under S. 248 (r. 22) amounted to a revivor of the decree under Art. 180 of the Limitation Act and would therefore give a fresh start of limitation. 26 A. 361=24 W.N. 51=1 A.L.J. 80. Y

(b) An order for execution under C.P.C. made after notice under S. 248 (r. 22) has, on the original side of the High Court, the same effect as an award of execution in pursuance of a writ of scire facias had under the rules of the Supreme Court, namely, it creates a revivor of the decree. 6 C. 504=8 C.L.R. 23; 20 C. 551. W

(c) On an application to transfer a decree to another Court, upon which notice under S. 248 (r. 22) issued to the judgment-debtor, order was passed transferring the decree. This order being an order for execution, operated as the revivor of the decree under art. 180 of the Limitation Act. 22 C. 921; 24 C. 244. X

No order after issue of notice.

Where notice was issued, under r. 16 and r. 22, for the execution, and further proceedings were dropped, it was held that there being no order made by Court, such notice alone did not operate as a revivor of the decree under Art. 180 of the Limitation Act. 30 C. 979=7 C.W.N. 793. Y

IV.—Presumption as to service of notice.

A notice under S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859 stands on a different footing from the processes which a party is bound to serve. And so it should be presumed until the contrary is proved that such a notice was issued by the Court. 22 W.R. 5. Z

3.—“Shall issue a notice.”—(Concluded).

V.—Sufficiency of and objections to the service of notice.

Sufficiency of service of notice.

- (a) Service by affixing a copy on the wall of the house in which defendant was residing is enough. 5 M. 100; 19 W.R. 102. A
- (b) In an application for order absolute of sale, notice under S. 248 issued but the guardian of the minor defendant was dead, and so the decree was made absolute without notice. Later, when the defendant impugned it, it was held that, as he was bound by the original decree passed, which was merely made absolute by the subsequent order, he cannot question its validity in execution. 2 A.L.J. 640 = A.W.N. (1905), 241. B

Time for objecting to notice.

Objection to the sufficiency of the notice of execution should be taken at the earliest opportunity— 21 W.R. 148. C

VI.—Which Court, executing or transmitting, can issue notice.

General.

The Court has discretion, before ordering transmission of a decree, to issue notice or not. Notice under S. 248 may be issued by the executing Court and not necessarily by the transferring Court. 12 C.W.N. 897. D

To the legal representatives.

- (a) Application for execution against representatives should, under S. 234, be made to the Court which passed the decree. But notice to the legal representatives under S. 248 should be sent by the executing Court. 18 B. 224. E
- (b) A decree was sent to another Court for execution. Pending execution, one judgment-debtor died. Decree-holder applied to the Court to execute it against the representative and notice was issued under S. 248. On the objection of the representative, it was held that S. 234 does not limit the power of Court to order execution under S. 249 after notice under S. 248. 22 C. 558. F

Effect of failure to show cause.

If the judgment-debtor fails to show cause, etc., on the service of notice under S. 248, he will subsequently be barred by the law of res judicata from disputing the substitution or the execution by the substituted decree-holder. 2 C.L.J. 499. G

5.—“Against the party.”

The word ‘party’ includes all the persons in the same set of defendants. So notice to one or proceedings against one should be taken as notice to all. S.C. 149. H

6.—“Made on any previous application for execution.”

A suit brought by the judgment-creditor against his judgment-debtor and a third party may be of such a nature as to count as previous proceedings in execution for the purpose of saving time in regard to limitation; but it cannot, in any sense, be considered as an “order passed on a previous application for execution,” within the meaning of S. 216 of C.P.C. of 1859. 23 W.R. 32. I

23. (1) Where the person ¹ to whom notice is issued under the Procedure after last preceding rule does not appear or does not issue of notice. show cause to the satisfaction of the Court why the decree should not be executed, the Court shall order the decree to be executed.

(2) Where such person offers any objection ² to the execution of the decree, the Court shall consider ³ such objection and make such order as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 249 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts

For the words "if," "section," "if he," "enforcement" and "pass," the words "where," "rule," "where such person," "execution" and "make" are respectively substituted.

1.—"The person."

Representative.

(a) A decree was sent to another Court for execution. Pending execution, one judgment-debtor died. Decree-holder applied to the Court to execute it against the representative and notice was issued under S. 248. On the objection of the representative, it was held that S. 284 does not limit the power of Court to order execution under S. 249 after notice under S. 248. 22 C. 558. J

(b) A judgment-debtor died after argument but before judgment. The decree was drawn up as if the deceased was living. It was held that it was a good decree and it could be executed against the heirs of the deceased under Ss. 284 and 248, 249 and 250. 21 B. 814. K

2.—"Any objection."

Objection petition.

A petition, under S. 217 of Act VIII of 1859, need not be verified. 8 W.R. 200.L

3.—"Shall consider."

When notice was served under S. 216 of Act VIII of 1859 and the judgment-debtor appeared and filed objections by pleader, no day for hearing was fixed, but the case was called on suddenly, and, on account of the absence of the pleader, the objections were disallowed. It was held that, though the pleader was absent, the Judge should have considered the objections and passed order under S. 217. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 65=14 W.R. 155. M

Process for execution.

24. (1) When the preliminary measures (if any) required by the foregoing rules have been taken, the Court shall, unless it sees cause to the contrary, issue its process ¹ for the execution of the decree.

(2) Every such process shall bear date the day on which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Judge or such officer as the Court may appoint² in this behalf, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court and delivered to the proper officer to be executed³.

(3) In every such process a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be executed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 250 and S. 251, para (1) and a part of para (2) of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words "provisions," "warrant," "be dated," and "appoints," the words "rules," "process," "bear date" and "may appoint" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "subject to the provisions of S. 245-A and 245-B" are omitted.
- (3) The words "every," "and shall be" are newly added.

1.—"Issue its process."

The Court had no authority to remove an attachment on an informal letter from the Official Assignee. The Court is bound to issue process for attachment and cannot properly refuse to do so except as provided in S. 250, C.P.C. 1897 P.R. 57. P

2.—"Shall be signed.....Court may appoint."

- (a) A warrant of arrest like any other warrant may be signed by the Judge or by any officer appointed in that behalf by Court. 6 C.W.N. 845. Q
- (b) A Munsarim of a Court has no authority to sign warrants of execution unless he has been actually appointed to do so by the Court. 7 A.W.N. 42. R
- (c) Under S. 222 of C.P.C. of 1859, the warrant of execution and the order of attachment should be signed by the Judge. But when it was signed not by the Judge but by the Munsarim of the Court, the sale held was set aside. 7 A. 506. S

3.—"To the proper officer to be executed."

The words "to be executed" in S. 251 (r. 24), C.P.C., would seem to imply that it was not intended that the "proper officer" should himself execute all warrants sent to him. He may delegate them to the peons. 22 C. 596. T

25. (1) The officer entrusted with the execution of the process shall endorse thereon the day on, and the manner in, which it was executed, and, if the latest day specified in the process for the return thereof has been exceeded, the reason of the delay ¹, or, if it was not executed, the reason why it was not executed, and shall return the process with such endorsement to the Court.

(2) Where the endorsement is to the effect that such officer is unable to execute the process, the Court shall examine him touching his alleged inability, and may, if it thinks fit, summon and examine witnesses as to such inability and shall record the result.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the latter part of the second para of S. 251 and S. 343 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words "and the proper officer" and "warrant," the words "the officer entrusted with execution of the process" and "process" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "on oath" have been omitted.
- (3) The words "and if the latest day... the reason of the delay" are taken from the first para of S. 343.

1.—"The reason of the delay."

Stay of execution.

26. (1) The Court to which a decree has been sent for execution shall, upon sufficient cause ¹ being shown, stay the execution of such decree for a reasonable time, to enable the judgment debtor to apply to the Court by which the decree was passed, or to any Court having appellate jurisdiction in respect of the decree or the execution thereof, for an order to stay execution, or for any other order relating to the decree or execution which might have been made by such Court of first instance or appellate Court if execution had been issued thereby, or if application for execution had been made thereto.

(2) Where the property or person of the judgment-debtor has been seized under an execution, the Court which issued the execution may order the restitution of such property or the discharge of such person pending the result of the application.

Power to require security from, or impose conditions upon, judgmentdebtor.

(3) Before making an order to stay execution or for the restitution of property or the discharge of the judgment-debtor, the Court may require such security from, or impose such conditions upon, the judgment-debtor as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rules 1 and 2 correspond to S. 239 of Act XIV of 1882, and sub-rule 3 to S. 240.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words "and in case" and "the restitution or discharge of such property or person," the words "where" and "the restitution of such property or the discharge of such person" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "for such order" have been deleted.
- (3) For the word "passing," the word "making" is substituted.
- (4) The words "under S. 239" have been deleted.

1.—"Sufficient cause."

(1) General.

A Court to which a decree has been transferred may refer the objector to the Court which passed the decree after stay of execution. 9 C. 916=11 O.L.R. 348. X

(2) Clerical error.

The proper course, where a decree is found to contain a clerical error, is for the executing Court to stay execution of the decree, pending an application by the judgment-debtor to the Court which passed the decree to amend it. 78 P.R. 1889. Y

(3) Jurisdiction of Court.

It is not open to the Court to which a decree has been sent for execution to refuse to execute it, on the ground that the Court which passed the decree had no jurisdiction. In case of doubt, the Court where execution is sought may adjourn the execution proceedings to enable the party interested to make an application to the Court passing the decree, and thence, if necessary, to the higher Court. 7 B. 481. Z

(4) Order transferring decree for execution.

Where a decree passed by one Court is transferred for execution to another Court, the Court executing the decree cannot question the correctness or propriety of the order under which the decree was sent to such Court for execution. But such Court should follow the procedure prescribed by this rule, if sufficient cause has been shown against the execution of the decree. 5 C. 736. A

1.—“ Sufficient cause.”—(Concluded).

(5) Validity of the decree.

A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution is not competent to question the validity of the decree. The only course open to the defendant was to apply to the Court which passed the decree for a review of its judgment, for which purpose the executing Court might stay execution. 10 B. 65. B

27. No order of restitution or discharge under rule 26 shall prevent the property or person of a judgment-debtor from being retaken in execution of the decree sent for execution.

Liability of judgment-debtor discharged.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 241 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) The words “ order of restitution or ” are newly added.
- (2) For the words “ S. 239,” the words “ rule 26 ” have been substituted.

28. Any order of the Court by which the decree was passed, or of such Court of appeal as aforesaid, in relation to the execution of such decree, shall be binding upon the Court to which the decree was sent for execution.

Order of Court which passed decree or of appellate Court to be binding upon Court applied to.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds exactly to S. 242 of Act XIV of 1882.

29. Where a suit is pending in any Court ¹ against the holder of a decree of such Court ², on the part of the person against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, on such terms as to security or otherwise, as it thinks fit, stay execution of the decree until the pending suit has been decided.

Stay of execution pending suit between decree-holder and judgment-debtor.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 243 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The words “ if it thinks fit,” occurring in the old Act after the word “ may,” are omitted, and the phrase “ either absolutely or on such terms,” in the old Act has been recast into “ on such terms as to security or otherwise.”

General.

(1) Appeal.

No appeal lies against an order staying execution under this rule. The High Court, however, in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction, will examine the judicial propriety of such an order. 11 Bom. H.C. 151. See also 9 C. 214=12 C.L.R. 53; see contra 10 A. 389=8 A.W.N. 51. C

General.—(Concluded).(2) Applicability of rule to executed decree.

There is no provision in law which empowers the Court passing a decree to set aside the proceedings under which the decree-holder had already been placed in possession, in execution of his decree. This rule providing for stay of execution has no reference to a case in which execution has already been carried out and the decree-holder placed in possession of the property decreed to him. 7 A. 73=4 A.W.N. 226. D

1.—“Any Court.”

The provisions of this rule are confined to those cases only, where the execution and the suit are pending in the same Court and between the same parties, and have no reference to a case, where the suit between the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder had been decided by the Court executing the decree and was pending in the Court of appeal. 41 P.R. 1904. See also 6 N.W.P.H.C.R. 181; 7 A. 73; 10 A. 389=8 A.W.N. 51; 20 M. 366. E

2.—“Such Court.”

The words “such Court” in this rule do not limit the exercise of the powers given by the rule only to decrees passed by the Court in which the suit is pending. That Court is empowered to stay execution of decree transferred to it for execution from either a Court of co-ordinate jurisdiction or a Court of appeal. 10 A. 389=8 A.W.N. 51. See also 6 N.W.P. 181; see contra 8 W.R. 392. F

Mode of execution.

30. Every decree¹ for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed² by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 254 of Act XIV of 1882.—

“Every decree or order directing a party to pay money, as compensation or costs, or as the alternative to some other relief granted by the decree or order or otherwise, may be enforced by the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment and sale of his property, in manner hereinafter provided, or by both.”—(S. 254 of Act XIV of 1882).

Difference between the old and the new Code.

(1) The scope of the present rule is wider than that of the old section, in that, instead of “Every decree or order directing a party to pay money, as compensation or costs,” we have “Every decree for the payment of money,” without any qualification whatsoever.

(2) Instead of “imprisonment,” the phrase “detention in the civil prison” is used, and instead of the word “enforced,” the word “executed.”

1.—“Every decree.”

Where, in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act, money deposited by the Collector was paid out to a wrong party by mistake, and the Court, thereupon, passed an order directing him to refund the money, the Court has jurisdiction under this rule to enforce its order for refund by imprisonment or attachment or by both, even though rule 32 may not be applicable. 32 C. 921=2 C.L.J. 595. G.

2.—“May be executed.”

Discretion of Court.

- (a) judgment-creditor has uncontrolled option to proceed in the first instance against the person or the property of his judgment-debtor; and by S. 15, Act XXIII of 1861, the Small Cause Court is bound to issue execution according to the nature of the application, if made in writing after the passing of the decree. The Court may, at its discretion, refuse execution against the person and property at the same time 8 W.R. 282. H
- (b) Under this rule (=S. 201 of Act VIII of 1859), a judgment-creditor has the option of enforcing his decree against the person or property of the judgment-debtor, and the fact that such decree is an ex parte one makes no difference. 4 C. 588. I
- (c) In execution of a decree for money ordering the sale of certain immoveable property in satisfaction of the amount, the decree-holder prayed for arrest of judgment-debtor. The immoveable property had been previously purchased by decree-holder's brother. Held, applying equity, the decree-holder should first proceed against the property and not against the person of the judgment-debtor. 4 A. 497=2 A.W.N. 127. J
- (d) Where the decree-holder obtained a decree against the hypothecated property and against the defendants personally, the decree-holder was entitled to enforce his decree either against the person or property of the judgment-debtor, and it was not necessary first to execute it against the hypothecated property, and then to proceed for any balance against the person of the judgment-debtor. 9 A. 484=7 A.W.N. 101. K

31. (1) Where the decree is for any specific moveable, or for any share in a specific moveable, it may be executed by the seizure, if practicable, of the moveable or share, and by the delivery thereof to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he appoints to receive delivery on his behalf, or by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

(2) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) has remained in force for six months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold, and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder, in cases where any amount has been fixed by the decree to be paid as an alternative to delivery of moveable property, such amount, and, in other cases, such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of six months from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or, if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 259 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The phrase "or for the recovery of a wife" has been omitted; the words "executed" and "detention in the civil prison" have been used instead of "enforced" and "imprisonment" respectively; and the words "imprisonment and attachment if necessary" at the close of the 1st clause after the word "both" have been omitted.

Effect of the changes in the new rule.

By the omission of the words "or for the recovery of a wife," this rule is made inapplicable to cases where recovery of a wife has been decreed.

The Select Committee, while commenting on the omission of these words, state:—

"The Committee have omitted in this rule all reference to a decree for the recovery of a wife, for there can be no such decree under the law, as a wife cannot be treated as a chattel to be delivered over to the husband. Where any third person prevents the wife from returning to her husband, the latter may obtain an injunction against him, which may be enforced in case of disobedience either by the imprisonment of the defendant, or by the attachment of his property, or by both."

General.

(1) Applicability of rule 58.

Rule 58 applies not only to cases of attachment in order to sale, but also to seizures under this rule as well as to specific moveable property attached by prohibitory order under rule 46. 7 C.P.L.R. 105 and 14 C.P.L.R. 124. See also 4 B. 323; 22 W.R. 36; 24 M. 20. L

(2) Construction of a decree.

Where a decree provided "that plaintiff obtain possession as owner of jewels, clothes, shawls, trappings, dishes of sorts, cattle and other goods to the value of Rs. 30,000 in accordance with his plaint," the proper construction of the decree, read with the judgment, was that it ordered the defendant to deliver to the plaintiff whatever moveable property she had of the kind specified in the list attached to the plaint up to Rs. 30,000 in value, and, on default, to pay Rs. 30,000 or such portion thereof as should represent the value of the property not delivered. The decree so construed was capable of execution under rule 32, if not under this rule. 64 P.R. 1890. M

32. (1) Where the party against whom a decree for the Decree for specific performance, for restitution of conjugal rights, or for an injunction.

specific performance of a contract, or for restitution of conjugal rights ¹, or for an injunction ², has been passed, has had an opportunity of obeying the decree and has wilfully failed to obey it ³, the decree may be enforced by his detention in the civil prison, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

(2) Where the party against whom a decree for specific performance or for an injunction has been passed is a corporation, the decree may be enforced by the attachment of the property of the corporation, or, with the leave of the Court, by the detention in the civil prison of the directors or other principal officers thereof, or by both attachment and detention.

(3) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) has remained in force for one year, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold; and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder such compensation⁴ as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(4) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of one year from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or if made has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(5) Where a decree for the specific performance of a contract or for an injunction has not been obeyed, the Court may, in lieu of or in addition to all or any of the processes aforesaid, direct that the act required to be done, may be done so far as practicable by the decree-holder or some other person appointed by the Court, at the cost of the judgment-debtor, and upon the act being done the expenses incurred may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct and may be recovered as if they were included in the decree.

Illustration.

A, a person of little substance, erects a building which renders uninhabitable a family mansion belonging to B. A in spite of his detention in prison and the attachment of his property, declines to obey a decree obtained against him by B and directing him to remove the building. The Court is of opinion that no sum realizable by the sale of A's property would adequately compensate B for the depreciation in the value of his mansion. B may apply to the Court to remove the building and may recover the cost of such removal from A in the execution-proceedings.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rules 1, 3 and 4 correspond to S. 260 of Act XIV of 1882, while sub-rules 2 and 5 and the illustration are new additions.

Differences between the old and the new Code.

- (1) Instead of "or for the performance of, or abstention from, any other particular act", in the first clause of S. 260, "or for an injunction" is used in sub-rule 1.
- (2) Instead of "imprisonment," the words "detention in the civil prison" are used.

- (3) Instead of "may pay the balance" in the second clause of S. 260, "shall pay the balance" is used in sub-rule (3).
- (4) The clause "or, if made, has been refused" is substituted in sub-rule (4) in the place of "and granted" in the third clause of S. 260.

- (c) A decree of a Civil Court for restitution of conjugal rights supersedes any previous order of a Magistrate for maintenance, if the wife should persist in refusing to live with her husband. A.—“FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF OR ABSTENTION FROM ANY OTHER PARTICULAR ACT” OF THE OLD CODE.—(Concluded).

the proper construction of the decree, read with the judgment, was that it ordered the defendant to deliver to the plaintiff whatever moveable property she had of the kind specified in the list attached to the plaint up to Rs. 30,000 in value, and, on default, to pay Rs. 30,000 or such portion thereof as should represent the value of the property not delivered. B.—FORM OF EXECUTION APPLICATION AND MODE OF EXECUTION.

- (a) Where the defendants were appointed managing trustees of a Hindu temple, and certain rules were laid down for their guidance by a decree, and the plaintiffs applied for execution of decree and filed a darkhast praying that defendants be ordered to act as directed by the decree, held, darkhast was not in accordance with this rule, as it did not specify the mode in which the assistance of the Court was sought. 19 B. 84. G

- (b) A decree-holder applied for issue of notice to the judgment-debtor to show cause why certain property ordered to be removed by the decree should not be removed. Though the application was not in accordance with this rule, yet the Court should issue a notice. 3 A.W.N. 149. H

- (c) A decree directing the defendant to do, or refrain from doing, a particular act, such as removing obstruction, &c., should be executed by attachment of judgment-debtor's property or his detention in civil prison or by both, in case of his disobedience. It is illegal to direct the Nazir or any other Court officer to remove the obstruction or do such other act as may be enjoined by the decree. The application for execution must pray for the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor or attachment of his property or for both, in case he fails to obey the decree and not for removal of obstruction, &c., by the Court agency. 8 C. 174=9 C.L.R. 453; 26 B. 238=4 Bom. - (d) Where the application is not in form, the Court should point out to the decree-holder the manner in which he should have asked the assistance of the Court; and, upon the application being amended, notice should have been served on the judgment-debtor directing him to comply with the decree within a time to be fixed by the notice, failing which the Court might, at the instance of the decree-holder, order the judgment-debtor's arrest or attachment of his property. 8 C. 174=9 C.L.R. 453. J

2.—“For an injunction.”—(Concluded).

C.—LIMITATION.

- (a) Art. 179 of Schedule II to the Indian Limitation Act does not apply to an application to enforce a decree granting an injunction to abstain from some particular act. 28 A. 300=A.W.N. (1906), 10=3 A.L.J. 836. See also 23 A. 465. K
- (b) An application to enforce a decree for perpetual injunction must be made within three years of the date of the particular breach of it which is the occasion for the application. The decree-holder is not, however, obliged to take action in regard to every petty infringement of the injunction on pain of allowing the decree to become inoperative after three years from the first petty breach and depriving the decree-holder of the fruit of his decree, if a serious infringement of it were afterwards made. 29 M. 314. L

3.—“Has had an opportunity..failed to obey it.”

- (a) No order for enforcing a decree by imprisonment should be made, until the defendant has had an opportunity of obeying the decree, or has contumaciously refused to obey it. 7 Bom. H.C. 122. See also 28 A. 300=A.W.N. (1906), 10=3 A.L.J. 836 ; 23 A. 465. M
- (b) On obtaining a decree for perpetual injunction, the holder of it may enforce the same, on each successive breach of the injunction, under this rule. The decree-holder is not, however, obliged to take action in regard to every petty infringement. 29 M. 314. N

4.—“May award..such compensation.”

The provisions of this rule supply a primitive means of punishing disobedience, and are not intended to be a satisfaction of the decree, so as to prevent a decree-holder from taking further steps. Hence, if a successful decree-holder, in a possessory suit, has, under the provisions of this rule, received some compensation for an injury done, he can still enforce a right to possession of the property found under the decree to be his. 1 A.L.J. 431. O

- 33. (1) Notwithstanding anything in rule 32, the Court, either at the time of passing a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights or at any time afterwards, may order that the decree shall not be executed by detention in prison.

Discretion of Court in executing decrees for restitution of conjugal rights.

(2) Where the Court has made an order under sub-rule (1), and the decree-holder is the wife, it may order that, in the event of the decree not being obeyed within such period as may be fixed in this behalf, the judgment-debtor shall make to the decree-holder such periodical payments as may be just, and, if it thinks fit, require that the judgment-debtor shall, to its satisfaction, secure to the decree-holder such periodical payments.

(3) The Court may from time to time vary or modify any order made under sub-rule (2) for the periodical payment of money, either by altering the times of payment or by increasing or diminishing the amount, or may temporarily suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again revive the same, either wholly or in part as it may think just.

(4) Any money ordered to be paid under this rule may be recovered as though it were payable under a decree for the payment of money.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

34. (1) Where a decree is for the execution of a document or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument and the judgment-debtor neglects or refuses to obey the decree, the decree holder may prepare a draft of the document or endorsement in accordance with the terms of the decree and deliver the same to the Court.

Decree for execution of document, or endorsement of negotiable instrument.

(2) The Court shall thereupon cause the draft to be served on the judgment-debtor together with a notice requiring his objections (if any) to be made within such time as the Court fixes in this behalf.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor objects to the draft, his objections shall be stated in writing within such time, and the Court shall make such order approving or altering the draft, as it thinks fit.

(4) The decree-holder shall deliver to the Court a copy of the draft with such alterations (if any) as the Court may have directed upon the proper stamp-paper if a stamp is required by the law for the time being in force; and the judge or such officer as may be appointed in this behalf shall execute the document so delivered¹.

(5) The execution of a document or the endorsement of a negotiable instrument under this rule may be in the following form, namely:—

and shall have the same effect as the execution of the document or the endorsement of the negotiable instrument by the party ordered to execute or endorse the same.

(6) The Court, or such officer as it may appoint in this behalf, shall cause the document to be registered if its registration is required by the law for the time being in force or the decree-holder desires to have it registered, and may make such order as it thinks fit as to the payment of the expenses of the registration.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rules 1 to 4 correspond to S. 261, and sub-rule 5 to S. 262 of Act XIV of 1882, while sub-rule 6 is new.

If the decree be for the execution of a conveyance, or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, and the judgment-debtor neglects or refuses to comply with the decree, the decree-holder may prepare the draft of a conveyance or endorsement, in accordance with the terms of the decree, and deliver the same to the Court.

The Court shall thereupon cause the draft to be served on the judgment-debtor, in manner herein before provided for serving a summons, together with a notice in writing, stating that his objections (if any) thereto shall be made within such time (mentioning it) as the Court fixes in this behalf.

The decree-holder may also tender a duplicate of the draft to the Court for execution upon a proper stamp paper, if a stamp is required by law.

On proof of such service, the Court, or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall execute the duplicate so tendered, or may, if necessary, alter the same, so as to bring it into accordance with the terms of the decree, and execute the duplicate so altered.

Provided that, if any party object to the draft so served as aforesaid, his objections shall, within the time so fixed, be stated in writing, and argued before the Court; and the Court shall thereupon pass such order as it thinks fit, and execute, or alter and execute, the duplicate in accordance therewith.—(S. 261 of Act XIV of 1882).

The execution of a conveyance, or the endorsement of a negotiable instrument by the Court, under the last preceding section, may be in the following form:

“ C.D., Judge of the Court of

(or as the case may be) for A.B. in a suit by E.F. against A.B.”, or in such other form as the High Court may from time to time prescribe; and it shall have the same effect as the execution of the conveyance or endorsement of the instrument by the party ordered to execute or endorse the same.—(S. 262 of Act XIV of 1882).

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) Though the wording of the old section 261 has been altered here and there and the paragraphs have been recast, there is no material difference between the old Act and the new on any point.
- (2) One difference, however, which may be noted is that while in the old section the word "conveyance" was used, in the present rule the word "document" is used, thus probably rendering the scope of the section a little wider.
- (3) Section 261 has been recast as above, so as to bring it into conformity with the chronological order of events.
- (4) As regards sub-rule 5 except the omission of "or in such other form.. prescribe," there is very little alteration in the wording.
- (5) Sub-rule 6 is newly added to meet the requirements of the Indian Registration Act.

1.—"And the Judge..so delivered."

(1) Registrar of the High Court—Power to execute documents.

The Registrar of a High Court has authority, when so directed by an order of Court, to execute a conveyance on behalf of a party refusing to do so, so as to pass his estate, if any, but has no authority to bind him, by entering into any covenants on his behalf.

The power of the Registrar to execute such a conveyance rests upon statutory authority. 16 C. 380. P

(2) Decree for execution of sale deed—Application for execution—Form.

The appellant obtained a decree against the respondent, by which the latter was to execute a sale deed in his favour and applied for execution by compelling the judgment-debtor to execute a sale deed in terms of the decree. A draft was produced; and subsequently, with some alterations, the deed was executed by the judgment-debtor. Held, that, if the application was considered as one made under this rule, it had not been complied with as the Court did not execute the sale deed; but, if the application were considered to be one to compel the judgment-debtor to execute the sale deed, then no such application was entertainable by the Court, and that, both parties having considered the application as one made under this rule, it had not been disposed of according to law. 5 O.C. 370. Q

35. (1) Where a decree is for the delivery of any immoveable property¹, possession thereof shall be delivered² to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, and, if necessary, by removing any person bound by the decree who refuses to vacate the property.

(2) Where a decree is for the joint possession of immoveable property such possession shall be delivered by affixing a copy of the warrant in some conspicuous place on the property and proclaiming by beat of drum, or other customary mode, at some convenient place, the substance of the decree.

(3) Where possession of any building or enclosure is to be delivered and the person in possession, being bound by the decree, does not afford free access, the Court, through its officers, may, after giving reasonable warning and facility to any woman not appearing in public according to the customs of the country to withdraw, remove or open any lock or bolt³ or break open any door or do any other act necessary for putting the decree-holder in possession.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 263 of Act XIV of 1882, while sub-rules 2 and 3 are new additions.

(General).

- (a) If, in executing a decree for khas possession, it is necessary to remove any of the defendants from the land covered by the decree, the Court, on application, is authorised to remove such person; but, if the decree is silent as to a building situated on the land, it is not within the province of the Court which executes to direct that the building be pulled down. 18 W.R. 527. R
- (b) Where a person obtained a decree, entitling him to redemption, and, in execution, possession of the land was delivered through Court to such person under this rule, the delivery must be deemed to have been made, not of the land alone, but of all things attached to it, including the crops growing thereon; and the defendant could not, therefore, claim to re-enter to reap and gather or dispose of the crops. 3 L.B.R. 129. S
- (c) Where plaintiffs obtained a decree for the possession of a village, they were also entitled to the possession of the account books and documents relating to the village, as being essential to the proper and effectual enjoyment and management of the village awarded by the decree. Such books and documents should be deemed as accessory to the estate and as claimable by those to whom it had been awarded. The title deeds of an estate, counterpart leases, and other documents of the like kind ought also to be regarded as accessory to the estate and to pass with it whether the transfer is by a conveyance, a decree, or a certificate of sale. 11 B. 485. T
- (d) The delivery of possession under this rule contemplates the decree-holder being placed in actual possession by possibly dispossessing, in the eye of law, a third person who is not affected by the decree. The mere formal delivery of possession cannot of itself effect such dispossession, unless the deprivation of possession be complete as a fact, a conclusion which the Court has to form on the whole of the evidence. It does not make any difference if such a decree is in a partition suit. 20 B. 351. U
- (e) Where a decree, under which mortgagors obtained possession of mortgaged property, is reversed, the mortgagees are entitled to be replaced in possession and to get complete restitution, and to be placed in the same position as they were in before the erroneous decree was made, even if the decree reversing the erroneous decree does not provide that the mortgagees should recover possession. 14 W.R. 465. V

General—(Concluded).

- (f) Act VIII of 1859, S. 223, refers to decrees generally, whenever they may be passed, and provides that, being so passed, they are to be effectual from the time the suit was instituted, so far as parties claiming under a title made by the judgment-debtor are concerned, even when such title was created before an appeal was filed from the order dismissing the suit, and when no decree existed. 20 W.R. 204. W

- (a) Where a decree is partly for a share of land in the occupancy or Khas possession of the defendants and partly for a share of land in the occupancy of raiyats, the decree as to the former can only be executed according to this rule, and as to the latter according to rule 36. 7 W.R. 376. See also 3 W.R. 144. X
- (b) Where the plaintiff obtained a decree to recover possession of a share of an ijmalī family talukh, the Court executing was bound to put her in possession under S. 223 of Act VIII of 1859 (corresponding to this rule), and, if necessary, to remove any person who might refuse to vacate; and her having already been put in possession under S. 224 of that Act (i.e., rule 36) was no bar to her being put into the more direct and actual possession contemplated by S. 223. 9 W.R. 454. Y

2.—“ Possession thereof shall be delivered.”

- (a) Where a decree-holder, who had received possession under S. 224 of Act VIII of 1859 and given the usual acknowledgment, was refused Khas possession of part of the land which defendants claimed to hold as raiyats, his proper course was an application under S. 223, although the case had been struck off the execution file; and defendant's sole plea of purchase having failed, they could not, afterwards, set up a raiyati title. 12 W.R. 285.
- (b) A Munsiff had jurisdiction to issue an order for Khas possession under this rule, although in the first instance he had ordered possession to be given under rule 36. 17 W.R. 80. See also 3 W.R. Mis. 2. A
- (c) A decree which is not a decree for possession cannot, under S. 223 of Act VIII of 1859, be executed by an order for delivery of possession of property in the possession of a third party who has acquired a title subsequently to the institution of the suit. 16 W.R. 307. B

3.—“ Open any lock or bolt.”

Where the judgment-debtor had bolted and locked the doors of a house and the officers were, consequently, unable to give decree-holder possession of the house, the Court was bound to remove the locks and to place the decree-holder in possession. 22 W.R. 283. C mode, at some convenient place, the substance of the decree in regard to the property.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 264 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The proviso in the old section, viz., "Provided that, if the occupant can be found, a notice in writing containing such substance shall be served upon him, and in such case no proclamation need be made" has been omitted in this rule.

(General).

- (a) To give legal possession under S. 224 of Act VIII of 1859, corresponding to this rule, it was essential that all the requirements of that section should be carried out. 15 W.R. 99. D
- (b) Where the formalities prescribed by this rule have been complied with, and there was a legal receipt for possession as well, they would confer such a right under a Civil Court's decree, as would prevail over one founded on mere actual receipt of rent. 9 W.R. 358. E
- (c) Where, in a suit for possession with mesne profits against several persons, the plaintiff only partially succeeded against two, the plaintiff could only ask for delivery, in the mode prescribed by section 224 of Act VIII of 1859, (r. 36) of the shares of those two; and the Court in execution was not authorised to make any enquiry into the extent or amount of these shares in relation to the other defendants. 13 W.R. 128. F
- (d) Where the vendee from one of four co-sharers obtained a decree for possession of a joint quarter share of a house in the occupancy of a tenant who had obtained a lease from all the four co-sharers; on the vendee applying for physical possession of the house, and refusing to accept possession through receipt of rent, the application was rightly rejected on the ground that the house, having been enjoyed by the co-sharers only through receipt of rent, it was not open to one co-sharer to transfer to his vendee the right to interfere with the rights of the other co-sharers, so as to deprive them of the enjoyment of their shares in the joint property. 16 P.R. 1898. G
- (e) Where a decree is partly for a share of land in the occupancy or Khas possession of the defendants and partly for a share of land in the occupancy of raiyats, the decree as to the former can only be executed according to rule 35, and as to the latter according to this rule. 7 W.R. 376. - (g) An application for execution of a decree for possession, asking for the eviction of the defendant, is quite different from an application for possession under S. 224 of Act VIII of 1859. Although the former application is rightly refused, the latter application should not be refused, except as to that part in which the decree-holder asked for an order to issue to the raiyats to pay rent to him, which order would be beyond the purview of that section. 17 W.R. 236. J

I.—“ Delivery to be made by affixing.”A.—EFFECT OF THE DELIVERY OF FORMAL POSSESSION ON PARTIES.

- (a) As between the judgment-creditor or his assigns on one side, and the judgment-debtor or his heirs on the other, symbolical possession, under the execution of a decree, is as good as actual possession to give the purchaser or his assigns the right to bring his suit for possession within 12 years from that date. 2 Bom. L.R. 1087. See also 22 B. 667. L
- (b) Delivery of possession, by going through the process prescribed by this rule, is the only way in which the decree of the Court, awarding possession to the plaintiff, can be enforced; and as, in the contemplation of law, both parties must be considered as being present at the time of delivery, such delivery must, as against the defendant, be deemed equivalent to actual possession. Consequently, if the defendant subsequently dispossess the plaintiff by receiving the rent and profits, the plaintiff will have 12 years, from such dispossession, to bring another suit. 5 C. 584=5 C.L.R. 548. See also 6 C.L.R. 539 and 4 C.W.N. 297; 10 C. 998. M
- (c) When formal possession has been delivered according to law to a decree-holder, the subsequent continuance in actual possession of the judgment-debtor does not give the decree-holder a right to a fresh order for delivery of possession in execution of the decree, but gives him a right to institute a fresh suit for possession. 4 A. 184. See also 6 N.W. 187. But see 12 W.R. 235. N

B.—EFFECT OF FORMAL DELIVERY ON THIRD PARTIES.

- (a) Symbolical possession given under a decree does not, as against third parties, entitle the person, to whom such possession has been given, to count a fresh period of limitation from the date of the possession. 11 C.L.R. 395. P
- (b) As against third parties, symbolical possession under this rule, is of no avail, because they are not parties to the proceedings. 5 C. 584=5 C.L.R. 548. See also 10 C. 998. Q
- (c) A person who prefers a claim to property attached under a decree, but whose claim is disallowed, is not a party to the decree; and the decree-holder, on obtaining symbolical possession, will not be entitled to count a fresh period of limitation as against him. 11 C.L.R. 395. R

1.—“Delivery to be made by affixing.”—(Concluded).

C.—SYMBOLICAL POSSESSION—LIMITATION.

- (a) Symbolical possession will not save limitation in cases where actual possession might have been granted. 5 C. 331. S
- (b) Where a plaintiff, who has obtained a decree for possession of immoveable property, undergoes the mere ceremony of receiving formal possession on the spot by beat of drum and posting of bamboos, and then allows 12 years to elapse, without taking any steps to acquire and assert actual possession, he loses the title conferred by the decree. 24 W.R. 418. T
- (c) Formal possession, given to a decree-holder by an officer of the Court in execution of his decree, is sufficient to give him a fresh cause of action, and notwithstanding that he may never have obtained actual possession, he or his assigns may sue to recover possession, at any time within 12 years from the time of such formal possession. 4 C. 870 = 4 C.L.R. 55. U
- (d) Delivery of formal possession in execution of a decree for possession gives a cause of action, against a defendant who remains in occupation of the premises, which may be enforced in a regular suit. 11 C. 93. Y
- (e) A suit for possession of immoveable property is not barred, if the suit be brought within 12 years of delivery of possession under this rule, or if possession by the plaintiff be admitted within 12 years by the party through whom defendant claims. 7 B.L.R. Ap. 20 = 15 W.R. 307. W
- (f) Where the auction-purchaser was put into formal possession, a suit for actual possession within 12 years from the date of sale will not be barred, if the judgment-debtor was in possession at the time of sale, 4 C. 216. X

Arrest and detention in the Civil prison.

37. (1) Notwithstanding anything in these rules, where an application is for the execution of a decree for the payment of money by the arrest and detention in the civil prison of a judgment-debtor who is liable to be arrested¹ in pursuance of the application, the Court may, instead of issuing a warrant for his arrest, issue a notice calling upon him to appear before the Court on a day to be specified in the notice and show cause why he should not be committed to the civil prison.

(2) Where appearance is not made in obedience to the notice, the Court shall, if the decree-holder so requires, issue a warrant for the arrest of the judgment-debtor.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 245-B of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

Instead of “decree for money,” we have in the new Act “decree for the payment of money,” instead of “imprisonment,” “detention in the civil prison,” and instead of “jail,” “civil prison.”

1.—“Liable to be arrested.”

- (a) Even after a vesting order has been made and the schedule of the insolvent has been filed, the Court has power, under this rule, to direct execution against the person of the defendant by his arrest and imprisonment, in cases of fraud or misconduct, although the amount of the judgment-debt is fully admitted by the insolvent in his schedule. 9 Bom. L.R. 898. Y
- (b) The mere fact that the judgment-debtor has made an application for insolvency in execution of one decree cannot debar other decree-holders from causing his arrest, until he has been actually discharged by the insolvency Court, even though the debt due to the other decree-holders have been mentioned in the schedule to the insolvency application. 9 O.C. 42. Z

38. Every warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor shall direct the officer entrusted with its execution to bring him before the Court with all convenient speed, unless the amount which he has been ordered to pay, together with the interest thereon and the costs (if any) to which he is liable, be sooner paid.

Warrant for arrest to direct judgment-debtor to be brought up.

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 337 of Act XIV of 1882.

39. (1) No judgment-debtor shall be arrested in execution of a decree unless and until the decree-holder pays ¹ into Court such sum as the Judge think sufficient for the subsistence of the judgment-debtor from the time of his arrest until he can be brought before the Court.

Subsistence allowance.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison in execution of a decree the Court shall fix for his subsistence such monthly allowance ² as he may be entitled to according to the scales fixed under section 57 or, where no such scales have been fixed, as it considers sufficient with reference to the class to which he belongs.

(3) The monthly allowance fixed by the Court shall be supplied by the party on whose application the judgment-debtor has been arrested by monthly payments in advance ³ before the first day of each month.

(4) The first payment shall be made to the proper officer of the Court for such portion of the current month as remains unexpired before the judgment-debtor is committed ⁴ to the civil prison, and the subsequent payments (if any) shall be made to the officer in charge of the civil prison.

(5) Sums disbursed by the decree-holder for the subsistence of the judgment-debtor in the civil prison shall be deemed to be costs in the suit:

Provided that the judgment-debtor shall not be detained in the civil prison or arrested on account of any sum so disbursed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rules 1 to 4 correspond to S. 339 of Act XIV of 1882, and sub-rule 5 to S. 340 of that Act.

Verbal alterations in the new Act.

- (1) "Having regard to the scales so fixed" is omitted before "the Judge thinks" in sub-rule 1, and instead of "from his arrest," we have "from the time of his arrest" in the new Act.
- (2) The words "civil prison" are used instead of "jail" in sub-rule 2.
- (3) The expression "the judgment-debtor has been arrested" is used in sub-rule 3, instead of "the decree has been executed" in the old Act.

(General).

- (a) Where the defendants, who were arrested in execution of a decree, were released at the request of the creditor before they had been sent to the civil jail, the creditor was entitled to a refund of the balance of subsistence money that remained at the time of his debtor's release. 5 Bom. H.C.R. 84. A

- (b) The discharge of a defendant from confinement in jail, in consequence of the plaintiff's failure to pay subsistence money at the rate fixed by the Court, bars a second arrest and imprisonment in execution of the decree. 4 M.H.C.R. 76. B

1.—"Until the decree-holder pays."

According to Act VIII of 1859, the batta for the maintenance of a debtor could not become payable until he was arrested and brought before the Court and the order made for his committal to the civil jail. 4 B. 65.C

Under this rule, the subsistence of the judgment-debtor from the time of his arrest until he can be brought before the Court has to be paid before the order for arrest is made. D

2.—"Monthly allowance."

A Civil Court executing a decree is not competent to require a decree-holder to supply anything but the judgment-debtor's subsistence allowance in money which it is required to fix by this rule. A Civil Court has absolutely no concern with the bedding, clothing or cooking utensils, or any other article which may be declared by the jail authorities necessary for the prisoner. The Prisons Act makes provision for the demand of the cost of bedding and clothing by the Superintendent of jail; but both the Code and the Prisons Act are silent as to cooking utensils and the Court has no concern with the mode in which the judgment-debtor is to be supplied with food in the jail. It has only to require the decree-holder to make provision in money for the prisoner's subsistence. 48 P.R. 1893. E

3.—"Payments in advance."

- (a) No one is to be imprisoned in execution of a decree unless subsistence money for a month in advance be paid to the person in whose custody he is. A similar payment must be received in advance every successive month pending the imprisonment; and if any such payment be not made the prisoner is entitled to be released. Bourke O.C. 52. See also Bourke O.C. 51. F

3.—“Payments in advance.”—(Concluded).

- (b) Before the committal of a judgment-debtor, the execution creditor paid into the hands of the jailor subsistence money for 27 days at 4 annas per diem. Two days after, a further sum of 4 annas was paid to make up any deficiency. Held, the requirements of S. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 had not been complied with and the prisoner was, therefore, entitled to be discharged under S. 278 of that Act. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 79. G
- (c) On 30th September plaintiff paid to the jailor subsistence money for 30 days, the jailor then having a balance of 4 annas over from the subsistence money for September. Held, S. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 had been sufficiently complied with. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 8. H
- (d) No particular form of petition of discharge was required from a prisoner applying for his discharge for non-payment of subsistence money. On failure of subsistence money, the prisoner should be released, and further detention of him by the person in whose custody he is, illegal. Bourke O.C. 28. I

4.—“Before the judgment-debtor is committed.”

- (a) Where a defendant is arrested prior to decree and a decree is afterwards obtained against him, the plaintiff, if he wishes to detain the defendant in prison, must have him brought before the Court, and his subsistence money fixed, in the same way as in the case of an arrest in execution of a decree; and if he fails to do so, the defendant is entitled to his discharge from prison. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 327. Also Bourke O.C. 423. J
- (b) Unless subsistence money is paid before commitment, the commitment is illegal. The jailor is bound by the words of the Act. It is for him, and not for the prisoner to see that the money is paid. Bourke O.C. 421. K
- (c) A jailor or other officer cannot lawfully receive a prisoner for debt under commitment, unless the preliminary payment of subsistence has been made in compliance with the order of the Court; and the jailor cannot lawfully detain a judgment-debtor, when the time limited for payment of any subsistence money under the order of the Court passes without due payment accordingly. Bourke O.C. 59. L

40. (1) Where a judgment-debtor appears before the Court in obedience to a notice issued under rule 37, or is brought before the Court after being arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and it appears to the Court that the judgment-debtor is unable from poverty or other sufficient cause¹ to pay the amount of the decree or, if that amount is payable by instalments, the amount of any instalment thereof, the Court may, upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order disallowing the application for his arrest and detention, or directing his release, as the case may be.

(2) Before making an order under sub-rule (1), the Court may take into consideration any allegation of the decree-holder touching any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the decree being for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in any fiduciary capacity to account ;
- (b) the transfer, concealment or removal by the judgment-debtor of any part of his property after the date of the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, or the commission by him after that date of any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree ;
- (c) any undue preference given by the judgment-debtor to any of his other creditors ;
- (d) refusal or neglect on the part of the judgment-debtor to pay the amount of the decree or some part thereof when he has, or since the date of the decree has had, the means of paying it ;
- (e) the likelihood of the judgment-debtor absconding or leaving the jurisdiction of the Court with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree.

(3) While any of the matters mentioned in sub-rule (2) are being considered, the Court may, in its discretion, order the judgment-debtor to be detained in the civil prison, or leave him in the custody of an officer of the Court, or release him on his furnishing security ², to the satisfaction of the Court, for his appearance when required by the Court.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this rule may be re-arrested.

(5) Where the Court does not make an order under sub-rule (1), it shall cause the judgment-debtor to be arrested if he has not already been arrested and, subject to the other provisions of this Code, commit him to the civil prison.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 337-A of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) Instead of the words " decree for money," " jail " and " imprisonment," the words " decree for the payment of money," " civil prison," and " detention in the civil prison," are respectively employed in the new Act ;
- (2) in sub-rule 2 (a), instead of the words " as a trustee or as acting in any other fiduciary capacity," the words " in any fiduciary capacity " are used ;

(2) Application for insolvency.

Where the debtor did not express his intention to present an insolvency application under S. 55 (4) of this Code on being first brought before the Court after arrest, but made such application after proceedings under this rule had terminated, the Court was not bound to release the petitioner. 59 P.R. 1898. 1.—“Other sufficient cause.”

(a) When the judgment-debtor is brought before the Court under a warrant of arrest, or comes before it upon notice under rule 37, the Court has a discretionary power not to put the warrant in force, or not to issue it, if the applicant furnishes security for his appearance when called upon. In such cases, the Court can also act under rule 40. 22 B. 731. O

(b) A Court is not bound to order the arrest of a lunatic, in execution of a decree passed against him. The power to order his arrest is discretionary. The lunacy of a judgment-debtor is a good cause, within the meaning of this rule, for disallowing an application for his arrest. 22 B. 961. P

Surety's liability.

(b) in the case of a corporation, any officer thereof, or

(c) any other person,

be orally examined as to whether any or what debts are owing to the judgment-debtor and whether the judgment-debtor has any and what other property or means of satisfying the decree; and the Court may make an order for the attendance and examination of such judgment-debtor, or officer or other person, and for the production of any books or documents.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 267 of Act XIV of 1882.

The Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of the decree-holder, summon any person whom it thinks necessary, and examine him in respect to any property liable to be seized in satisfaction of the decree, and may require the person summoned to produce any document in his possession or power, relating to such property, and, before issuing the summons of its own motion, shall declare the person on whose behalf the summons is so issued.—(S. 267 of the Code of 1882).

Difference between the old Act and the new.

While, under the old Act, the Court may summon any person for the purpose of the section, of its own motion, under the present Code, those words are omitted, and, it would therefore appear, that the Court can exercise the power, only on the application of the decree-holder.

Attachment in case of decree for rent or mesne profits or other matter, amount of which to be subsequently determined.

42. Where a decree directs an inquiry as to rent or mesne profits or any other matter, the property of the judgment-debtor may, before the amount due from him has been ascertained, be attached, as in the case of an ordinary decree for the payment of money.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 255 of the old Code.

If the decree be for mesne profits or any other matter, the amount of which, in money, is to be subsequently determined, the property of the judgment-debtor may, before the amount due from him under the decree, has been ascertained, be attached, as in the case of an ordinary decree for money.—(S. 255 of the Code of 1882).

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) The words "or rent" are added before the word "mesne profits" in the new Act.
- (2) Instead of "decree for money," "decree for the payment of money" is substituted.

43. Where the property to be attached is moveable property, other than agricultural produce, in the possession of the judgment-debtor, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the attaching officer shall keep the property in his own custody or in the custody of one of his subordinates¹, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof:

Attachment of moveable property, other than agricultural produce, in possession of judgment-debtor.

Provided that, when the property seized is subject to speedy and natural decay, or when the expense of keeping it in custody is likely to exceed its value, the attaching officer may sell it at once.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the 1st two clauses of S. 269 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) Instead of "If the property be moveable property in the possession of the judgment-debtor, other than the property mentioned in the first proviso to S. 266 (S. 60 of the new Act)" in the first clause of the old Act, we have in the new Act "where the property..... judgment-debtor."
- (2) Instead of "the proper officer" in the proviso of the old Act, we have "the attaching officer" in the proviso of the new Act.
- (3) The last clause of S. 269 of Act XIV of 1882, viz., "The local Government may, from time to time, make rules for the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of livestock and other moveable property, and the officer attaching property under this section shall, notwithstanding the provisions of the former part of this section, act in accordance with such rules" is omitted.

(General).

- (a) The security given by a depositary for the safe custody of live stock which has been attached cannot be realised by summary process in execution. 13 C.P.L.R. 104; dissenting from 12 C.P.L.R. 149. See also 15 C. 497; 22 C. 25; 12 B. 411; 17 A. 99; 13 M. 1; and 19 A. 247. R
- (b) If moveable property of the judgment-debtor, amply sufficient to satisfy the decree, is attached and made over by the attaching officer to a care-taker under the rules framed under this rule, and is subsequently not forthcoming from the custody of the care-taker, who is himself missing, the decree-holder cannot further execute his decree against the person or property of the judgment-debtor other than that attached and made over to the care-taker, unless it be proved that the judgment-debtor was a party to the disappearance of the property attached. 21 P.R. 1899. S

1.—"Subordinates."

The duty of the attaching officer is to "keep the property in his own custody or in the custody of one of his subordinates," i.e., some public officer on the staff to which the attaching officer belongs, and for the purposes of the attachment, subject to his orders. By virtue of the written instructions of the Court's bailiff, private persons could not be converted into public officers. S. 186 of the I.P.C. has, therefore, no application to a case where certain persons are prosecuted for assaulting and removing attached property from the custody of certain private persons who were placed in charge of the property by the attaching officer with instructions in writing. L.B.R. Vol. (1872 to 1892), p. 336. T

44. Where the property to be attached is agricultural produce, the attachment shall be made by affixing a copy of the warrant of attachment,—

produce.

- (a) where such produce is a growing crop, on the land on which such crop has grown, or

(b) where such produce has been cut or gathered, on the threshing-floor or place for treading out grain or the like or fodder-stack on or in which it is deposited, and another copy on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which the judgment-debtor ordinarily resides or, with the leave of the Court, on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which he carries on business or personally works for gain or in which he is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain; and the produce shall thereupon be deemed to have passed into the possession of the Court.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

45. (1) Where agricultural produce is attached, the Court shall make such arrangements for the custody thereof as it may deem sufficient and, for the purpose of enabling the Court to make such arrangements, every application for the attachment of a growing crop shall specify the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

Provisions as to
under attachment.

(2) Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Court in this behalf either in the order of attachment or in any subsequent order, the judgment-debtor may tend, cut, gather and store the produce and do any other act necessary for maturing or preserving it; and if the judgment-debtor fails to do all or any of such acts, the decree-holder may, with the permission of the Court and subject to the like conditions, do all or any of them either by himself or by any person appointed by him in this behalf, and the costs incurred by the decree-holder shall be recoverable from the judgment-debtor as if they were included in, or formed part of, the decree.

(3) Agricultural produce attached as a growing crop shall not be deemed to have ceased to be under attachment or to require re-attachment merely because it has been severed from the soil.

(4) Where an order for the attachment of a growing crop has been made at a considerable time before the crop is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered, the Court may suspend the execution of the order for such time as it thinks fit, and may, in its discretion, make a further order prohibiting the removal of the crop pending the execution of the order of attachment.

(5) A growing crop which from its nature does not admit of being stored shall not be attached under this rule at any time less than twenty days before the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

Attachment of debt, share and other property not in possession of judgment-debtor.

46. (1) In the case of—

- (a) a debt¹ not secured by a negotiable instrument,
- (b) a share in the capital of a corporation,
- (c) other moveable property² not in the possession of the judgment-debtor, except property deposited in, or in the custody of, any Court, the attachment shall be made by a written order prohibiting,—

- (i) in the case of the debt, the creditor from recovering the debt and the debtor from making payment thereof³ until the further order of the Court;
- (ii) in the case of the share, the person in whose name the share may be standing from transferring the same or receiving any dividend thereon;
- (iii) in the case of the other moveable property except as aforesaid, the person in possession of the same from giving it over to the judgment-debtor.

(2) A copy of such order shall be affixed on some conspicuous part of the Court-house⁴, and another copy shall be sent, in the case of the debt, to the debtor, in the case of the share, to the proper officer of the corporation, and, in the case of the other moveable property (except as aforesaid), to the person in possession of the same.

(3) A debtor prohibited under clause (i) of sub-rule (1) may pay the amount of his debt into Court⁵, and such payment shall discharge him as effectually as payment to the party entitled to receive the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the first three clauses of S. 268 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The words 'any public company' are omitted from this rule.

(General).

(1) Applicability of rule 58.

- (a) Rule 58 applies not only to cases of attachment in order to sale, but also to seizures under rule 31 as well as to specific moveable property attached by prohibitory order under this rule. 7 C.P.L.R. 105 and 14 C.P.L.R. 124. See also 4 B. 323; 22 W.R. 36; 24 M. 20. U
- (b) Where a debt is attached by a prohibitory order issued under this rule, the person served with the order cannot apply to have the attachment removed under rule 58 of this order, that rule having no application to such a case. 4 B. 323. Y

(2) Effect of attachment.

- (a) The effect of an attachment under the Code is to prevent alienation. It does not confer title. 26 M. 673=12 M.L.J. 278. W
- (b) An order of attachment of a debt under this rule merely restrains the debtor's creditor from paying to the debtor and restrains the debtor from receiving the same. An attachment of a debt becomes complete so as to prevent the title of the trustee in bankruptcy or the official assignee, only on receipt of the debt. Even where an attachment is made and an order for sale is obtained by the creditor, the latter obtains no title to the property attached, so as to prevent the same from vesting in the official assignee. 26 M. 673=12 M.L.J. 278. X
- (c) Where the plaintiff obtained an order of attachment, before judgment, of a sum of money belonging to the defendant and subsequent to the decree the judgment-debtor was declared an insolvent, the official assignee was entitled to an order setting aside the attachment as being ineffectual as against him. 26 M. 673=12 M.L.J. 278. Y
- (d) There is nothing in the Code which authorises a Court to which an application under S. 344 of Act XIV of 1882 (vide Provincial Insolvency Act) has been made, to stay the execution of a decree in another Court against the applicant's property, before the applicant is declared an insolvent and a receiver is appointed. 5 C.P.L.R. 112. Z

(3) Sale of debt attached.

- (a) Before issuing a proclamation of sale of the debt attached in execution of a decree, it is the duty of the Court under rule 66 of this order to ascertain all that the Court considers material for the intending purchaser to know to judge of the nature and value of the property. Consequently, if the Court receives notice from the alleged debtor that no debt exists, the Court should satisfy itself as to the existence or otherwise of the debt, and, if no debt exists, should abstain from proceeding to sale. 4 B. 323. A
- (b) Under the provisions of this rule, bonds cannot be sold, till the end of six months from the date of attachment. 2 B. 558. B

I.—“A debt.”

Though a decree of a Court of Revenue is not liable to attachment and sale, in execution of a decree of a Civil Court under rule 58, such decree stands in the position of an ordinary debt and may be dealt with under this rule. 21 A. 405=19 A.W.N. 157. C

2.—“Moveable property.”1.—Deposit with Railway Company.

- (a) Where money, deposited with a railway company by one of its servants as a guarantee for the due performance of his duties, was attached by a judgment-creditor of such servant under this rule, the creditor was not entitled to have his decree satisfied out of the deposit, but was entitled to a stop order under clause (iii) of sub-rule 1, and also to payment of the interest, if any, due by the company on such deposit to the servant. 9 M. 203. D
- (b) The deposit which a railway servant makes towards the Provident Fund is “compulsory deposit,” and it does not cease to be so when he leaves the service of the company. A deposit of the above description is not liable to be attached under this rule or rule 48. 29 B. 259=6 Bom. L.R. 921. E

2.—Mortgage debt.

- (a) A mortgage debt is, for the purposes of execution of a decree, moveable property within the meaning of this rule. 26 B. 305=4 Bom. L.R. 18. F
- (b) The attachment of the rights and interests under a mortgage without possession must be effected as prescribed in this rule. Rule 54 has no application. 15 A. 134=13 A.W.N. 51. G
- (c) A sale of mortgage debt in pursuance of an attachment under this rule is a legal and valid sale. 14 C.P.L.R. 5. H
- (d) Where a mortgage debt had been attached under this rule and sold under rule 77, the Court had no jurisdiction to set aside the sale. 26 B. 305=4 Bom. L.R. 18. I

3.—Moveable property must belong to the judgment-debtor.

Where certain Government promissory notes in the custody of the Bank of Bengal were declared to belong to the plaintiff, and the plaintiff applied for execution of the decree by attachment, this rule was held to be applicable only to cases where, the property in the possession of a third party, belonged to the judgment-debtor, and not to cases where it was declared to be plaintiff's. The only remedy open to the plaintiff to recover possession of moveable property decreed to belong to him and not in the possession or power of the judgment-debtor, is to proceed by suit against the person in whose possession or power it is. 1 C.W.N. 170. J

3.—“The creditor from recovering..thereof.”(1) No bar to suit by creditor.

- (a) This rule does not intend that, while a debt is under attachment, the person to whom the debt was originally owing should be barred from bringing a suit in respect of it. What it prohibits is the recovery of the debt and the payment of it by the debtor to the creditor. 13 A. 76=10 A.W.N. 194. See also 142 P.R. 1894. K
- (b) An attachment before judgment issued by a Court at the instance of a third party prohibited the creditor from recovering and the debtor from paying the debt. An order in these terms is not an order staying the institution of a suit, within the meaning of S. 15 of the Limitation Act; whether the attachment be before or after judgment. 17 A. 198=22 I.A. '81. See also 14 A. 162=12 A.W.N. 27; 13 A. 76=10 A.W.N. 194; 142 P. B. 1894. L

3.—“The creditor from recovering...thereof.”—(Concluded).

(2) Procedure when debt denied by debtor.

- (a) Where a debt is attached under this rule, the Court may make an order upon the garnishee to pay such debt to the judgment-creditor in case the former admits it to be due to the judgment-debtor. Where the garnishee denies the debt, the judgment-creditor can only have it sold or have a receiver appointed under Order XL, rr. 1 to 3. 11 B. 448. M
- (b) Where a decree-holder attached a debt due to the judgment-debtor, but the judgment-debtor's debtor denied the debt, a suit by the decree-holder against such debtor of the judgment-debtor will not lie, as he is not an assignee of the debt. 24 P.R. 1874. N

(3) Non-service of order on judgment-debtor.

The omission to serve the judgment-debtor with a prohibitory order was an irregularity which did not invalidate the attachment. 67 P.R. 1877. O

4.—“Shall be affixed...Court-house.”

- (a) Where a mortgage-debt was attached but no copy of the attachment order was affixed in the Court-house, as required by this rule, the attachment was not good, and the assignee of the bond, who took the assignments four days after the order of attachment, acquired a valid title. 9 C.W. N. 693. P
- (b) The omission to prohibit the creditor from receiving the debt and to fix up the prohibitory order in some conspicuous part of the Court house are sufficient to vitiate attachment of a debt made under this rule. 79 P. L.R. 1907. Q

5.—“A debtor...into Court.”

- (a) The Court cannot call on a person subject to a prohibitory order under this rule to pay, or to show cause why he should not pay, his debt into Court. The Court is bound to satisfy itself that the debt is due; the debt must then be sold and delivery made under rules 64 and 79 (3) of this order. 10 M. 194. R
- (b) Though, under this rule, a debtor of a judgment-debtor may pay the debt attached by prohibitory order into the attaching Court, such payment is optional with him, and he is not bound and cannot be compelled by summary process to make such payment. 95 P.R. 1886. S
- (c) Where a Small Cause Court and a Munsiff's Court had both attached a debt due to the judgment-debtor before judgment, and the debtor of the judgment-debtor paid the amount of the decree of the Small Cause Court in spite of a notice by the Munsiff's Court, it was held that the payment by the judgment-debtor's debtor was a voluntary one in a Court of inferior jurisdiction with full knowledge of the attachment by the higher Court and that he was therefore liable to pay the amount once again. 17 M.L.J. 488. T
- (d) Where a debt attached under this rule was paid out of Court to the only person who, had the money due been paid into Court, would have been entitled to withdraw the said money from Court, and such payment was certified to the Court, this amounted to a sufficient compliance with the requirement of this rule. 21 A. 145=19 A.W.N. 12. U

47. Where the property to be attached consists of the share or interest of the judgment-debtor in moveable property belonging to him and another as co-owners, the attachment shall be made by a notice to the judgment-debtor prohibiting him from transferring the share or interest or charging it in any way.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

48. (1) Where the property to be attached is the salary or allowances of a public officer or of a servant of a railway company or local authority, the Court, whether the judgment-debtor or the disbursing officer is or is not within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction¹, may order that the amount shall, subject to the provisions of section 60, be withheld from such salary or allowances either in one payment or by monthly instalments as the Court may direct; and, upon notice of the order to such officer as the Government may by notification in the Gazette of India or in the local official Gazette, as the case may be, appoint in this behalf, the officer or other person whose duty it is to disburse such salary or allowances shall withhold and remit to the Court the amount due under the order, or the monthly instalments, as the case may be.

(2) Where the attachable proportion of such salary or allowances is already being withheld and remitted to a Court in pursuance of a previous and unsatisfied order of attachment, the officer appointed by the Government in this behalf shall forthwith return the subsequent order to the Court issuing it with a full statement of all the particulars of the existing attachment.

(3) Every order made under this rule, unless it is returned in accordance with the provisions of sub-rule (2), shall, without further notice or other process, bind the Government or the railway company or local authority, as the case may be, while the judgment-debtor is within the local limits to which this Code for the time being extends and while he is beyond those limits if he is in receipt of any salary or allowances payable out of His Majesty's Indian revenues or the funds of a railway company carrying on business in any part of British India or local authority in British India; and the Government or the railway company or local authority, as the case may be, shall be liable for any sum paid in contravention of this rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

The last three clauses of S. 268 of Act XIV of 1882 contain the provisions relating to attachment of salary of a public officer or the servant of a Railway Company. They run as follows :—

“In the case of the salary of a public officer or the servant of a Railway Company, the attachment shall be made by a written order requiring the officer whose duty it is to disburse the salary to withhold every month such portion as the Court may direct, until the further orders of the Court.

A copy of every such order shall be fixed up in a conspicuous part of the Court house, and shall be served on the officer so required.

“Every such officer may from time to time pay into Court any portion so withheld, and such payment shall discharge the Government or the Railway Company, as the case may be, as effectually as payment to the judgment-debtor.”

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The differences are many.

(a) On the 31st March, the Civil Court granted a prohibitory order attaching the pay of the servant of a Railway Company. The pay was due only on the 1st April, and the prohibitory order was, therefore, returned by the Auditor of the Company with that remark. The Court issued another order on the 1st April, but the Auditor returned it also with the remark that the pay had been made over to the servant since the service of the first order. The Auditor was not guilty under S. 188 or 188 of the Indian Penal Code, as, on the 31st March, there was no debt due to the servant on which the prohibitory order could operate, and the Auditor was not, therefore, bound to obey such order. 9 P.R. 1874. Y

(b) An attachment of the allowance due to a judgment-debtor for half of a month is not premature, though the amount is payable only on the first of the following month, as the attachment is against an existing debt. 9 C.W.N. 708. See also 27 C. 38 and 14 M.L.A. 40. W

1.—“Whether the judgment-debtor..Court's jurisdiction.”

(a) A Civil Court executing a decree for money has no jurisdiction to attach a moiety of the judgment-debtor's salary, when the said judgment-debtor as well as the garnishee resides outside the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction. 40 P.R. 1895. X

(b) A Small Cause Court has no authority to attach the salary of a Railway servant that has not yet fallen due, by a prohibitory order under this rule to the officer whose duty it is to disburse the salary, when the disbursing office is situate outside the jurisdiction of the Court. The decree must be sent for execution to the Court within the local limits of which the disbursing office is situate. 30 C. 713=7 C.W.N. 821. See also 28 B. 198=5 Bom. L. Note.—But see the wording of the present rule “ whether the judgment-debtor or the disbursing officer is or is not within the local limits of the Court’s jurisdiction.”

(c) A disbursing officer, who has so far submitted to such a prohibitory order as to recover and keep in deposit with him the portion of the salary attached, is not bound to pay the money into the Court which attached it without jurisdiction. 30 C. 713=7 C.W.N. 821. Z

1.—“Property belonging to a partnership.”

Jurisdiction of Court to pass orders against foreign firms.

The Court has jurisdiction to make an order under the above rule (=O. XLVI, r. 1-A of English rules) against the partnership property of a foreign firm having a branch place of business within its jurisdiction. Brown, Janson and Co. v. Hutchinson and Co., (1895) 1 Q.B. 73—Annual Practice, 1908, p. 688. A

2.—“An order charging the interest.”

Order under charging the interest—Effect—Bankruptcy.

A judgment-creditor of a partner who has obtained a charging order under this sub-rule is not “secured creditor” under the Insolvency Laws, neither has he completed his execution by seizure and sale. Wild v. Southwood, (1897) 1 Q.B. 317. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 688. B

Accounts—Direction to take—Discretion—When to be exercised.

The discretion given by the section to direct accounts should only be exercised under special circumstances as, e.g., with a view to a dissolution. Brown, Janson and Co. v. Hutchinson and Co., (1895) 2 Q.B. 126. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 688. C

Execution of decree against firm. 50. (1) Where a decree has been passed against a firm¹, execution may be granted² — O. XLVIII. 4
r. 8

- (a) against any property of the partnership³;
- (b) against any person who has appeared in his own name⁴ under rule 6 or rule 7 of Order XXX or who has admitted on the pleadings that he is, or who has been adjudged to be, a partner;
- (c) against any person who has been individually served as a partner with a summons and has failed to appear⁵;

Provided that nothing in this sub-rule shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect the provisions of section 247 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, (IX of 1872).

(2) Where the decree-holder claims to be entitled to cause the decree to be executed against any person other than such a person as is referred to in sub-rule (1), clauses (b) and (c), as being a partner in the firm, he may apply to the Court which passed the decree for leave ⁷, and where the liability is not disputed, such Court may grant such leave, or, where such liability is disputed, may order that the liability of such person be tried and determined in any manner in which any issue in a suit may be tried and determined.

(3) Where the liability of any person has been tried and determined under sub-rule (2), the order made thereon shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(4) Save as against any property of the partnership, a decree against a firm shall not release, render liable or otherwise affect any partner therein unless he has been served with a summons to appear and answer.

1.—“Where a decree has been passed against a firm.”

(1) Suit against a firm—Service of summons according to O. XXX, r. 3—Decree.

Where a suit has been instituted against a firm and summons has been served on a partner according to rule 3 of O. XXX, infra, a decree must be given against the firm. It cannot be given against one partner separately for default of appearance. Jackson v. Litchfield, 8 Q.B.D. 474. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 659. E

(2) Defence by one partner—Another partner consenting to a decree—Decree passed on such consent—Whether binding as against the firm.

No judgment can be entered in an action against the firm, so long as any partner in the firm is defending the action on behalf of the firm, even though his co-partner may consent to judgment. See Annual Practice, p. 659. See also Niemann v. N., 43 C.D. 198 and Lysaght v. Clark, (1891) 1 Q.B.D. 556. F

2.—“Execution may be granted.”

(General).

No execution can issue against any partnership property except on a judgment against the firm, but a judgment-creditor of a partner of the firm may apply for an order charging that partner's interest and for a receiver (vide r. 49 above). See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 660. G

3.—“Against any property of the partnership.”

(General).

A writ of execution shall not issue against any partnership property except on a judgment against the firm. See cl. 1 of Rule 49 above and also Annual Practice, 1908, p. 661. H

4.—“Against any person who has appeared in his own name, &c.”

As to effect of entry of appearance under rr. 6 and 7 of O. XXX, see those rules and notes thereunder. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 661. I

5.—“Has failed to appear.”

Where one person is trading as a firm, execution cannot issue against him under cl. (c) of this rule, unless he has been individually served (either personally or by substituted service), and the judgment in default is based on such service or leave has been obtained under this rule. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 661. J

6.—“Claims entitled..against any person other than...”

Applicability of sub-rule (2) to partner leaving before action.

This does not include a partner who has left the firm to the knowledge of the plaintiff before action brought. If he has been served with the writ as provided by O. XXX, r. 3, he becomes liable under cl. (b) or (c) of this rule. The proviso of O. XXX, r. 3, is imperative, and if he has not been served with the writ, no order can be made against him hereunder. Wigram v. Cox & Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 792. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 661. K

7.—“May apply to the Court which passed the decree for leave.”

Decree against firm—Issue of bankruptcy notice—Necessity of obtaining leave to execute.

A creditor who has obtained a final judgment against a partnership firm cannot issue a bankruptcy notice against a partner without obtaining leave to issue execution under this rule, unless such partner is liable to execution under cl. (b) or (c) of this rule. Exp. Ide, 17 Q.B.D. 755, and Exp. Young, 19 C.D. 124 C.A. See Annual Practice, 1908, p. 660. L

This rule corresponds to S. 270 of the old Code.

52. Where the property¹ to be attached is in the custody² of any Court or public officer, the attachment shall be made by a notice to such Court or officer, requesting that such property, and any interest or dividend becoming payable thereon, may be held subject to the further orders of the Court from which the notice is issued :

Attachment of property in custody of Court or public officer.

Provided that, where such property is in the custody of a Court, any question of title or priority arising between the decree-holder and any other person, not being the judgment-debtor, claiming to be interested in such property by virtue of any assignment, attachment or otherwise, shall be determined by such Court³.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 272 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The words "is deposited in or" in the first line of the proviso are omitted in the proviso to this rule.

(General).(1) Scope of the section.

This rule is applicable only to cases where the property is in the custody of the Court or public officer and belongs to the judgment-debtor, and not where it has been declared to belong to the plaintiff. The remedy in such cases is to sue to recover possession. 1 C.W.N. 170. M

3.—“Any question of title..such Court.”

The plaintiffs, having obtained decrees against K and P, attached certain money deposited in Court in a suit in which D was plaintiff, on the ground that D was a fraudulent transferee from K and P of the hundies sued on by him, and that the decree obtained by D was for the benefit of K and P. The Munsiff referred the plaintiffs to a regular suit. The question of ownership of the decree obtained by D and the title of the plaintiffs as against D to have their debt paid out of the money in deposit, ought to have been decided by the Court in which the money was in deposit. The Munsiff was in error in referring the plaintiffs to a regular suit. 20 W.R. 73. U

Attachment of decrees. 53. (1) Where the property to be attached is a decree, either for the payment of money¹ or for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge², the attachment shall be made,—

- (a) if the decrees were passed by the same Court³, then by order of such Court, and,
- (b) if the decree sought to be attached was passed by another Court, then by the issue to such other Court of a notice by the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed, requesting such other Court to stay the execution⁴ of its decree unless and until—
- (i) the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed cancels the notice, or
- (ii) the holder of the decree sought to be executed or his judgment-debtor applies to the Court receiving such notice to execute its own decree.

(2) Where a Court makes an order under clause (a) of sub-rule (1), or receives an application under sub-head (ii) of clause (b) of the said sub-rule, it shall, on the application of the creditor who has attached the decree or his judgment-debtor, proceed to execute the attached decree and apply the net proceeds in satisfaction of the decree sought to be executed.

(3) The holder of a decree sought to be executed by the attachment of another decree of the nature specified in sub-rule (1) shall be deemed to be the representative⁵ of the holder of the attached decree and to be entitled to execute such attached decree in any manner lawful for the holder thereof.

(4) Where the property to be attached in the execution of a decree is a decree other than a decree of the nature referred to in sub-rule (1)⁶, the attachment shall be made, by a notice by the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed, to the holder of the decree sought to be attached, prohibiting him from transferring or charging the same in any way; and, where such decree has been passed by any other Court, also by sending to such other Court a notice to abstain from executing the decree sought to be attached until such notice is cancelled by the Court from which it was sent.

(5) The holder of a decree attached under this rule shall give the Court executing the decree such information and aid as may reasonably be required.

(6) On the application of the holder of a decree sought to be executed by the attachment of another decree, the Court making an order of attachment under this rule shall give notice of such order to the judgment-debtor bound by the decree attached; and no payment or adjustment⁷ of the attached decree made by the judgment-debtor in contravention of such order after receipt of notice thereof, either through the Court or otherwise, shall be recognized by any Court so long as the attachment remains in force.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 273 of Act XIV of 1882 which runs as follows:—

If the property be a decree for money passed by the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed, the attachment shall be made by an order of the Court directing the proceeds of the former decree to be applied in satisfaction of the latter decree.

If the property be a decree for money passed by any other Court, the attachment shall be made by a notice in writing to such Court under the hand of the Judge of the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed, requesting the former Court to stay the execution of its decree until such notice is cancelled by the Court from which it was sent. The Court receiving such notice shall stay execution accordingly, unless and until—

- (a) the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed cancels the notice, or
- (b) the holder of the decree sought to be executed applies to the Court receiving such notice to execute its own decree.

On receiving such application the Court shall proceed to execute the decree and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the decree sought to be executed.

In the case of all other decrees the attachment shall be made by a notice in writing, under the hand of the Judge of the Court which passed the decree sought to be executed, to the holder of the decree sought to be attached, prohibiting him from transferring or charging the same in any way; and, when such decree has been passed by any other Court, also by sending to such Court a like notice in writing to abstain from executing the decree sought to be attached until such notice is cancelled by the Court from which it was sent. Every Court receiving such notice shall give effect to the same until it is so cancelled.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) While in the first clause of the old section there was provision only for the attachment of "a decree for money," under sub-rule (1) of this rule, provision is made for "a decree, either for the payment of money or for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge."
- (2) While the old Act requires attachment of a decree for money or for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge passed by the Court which executes the subsequent decree to be made by an order of the Court, directing the proceeds of the former decree to be applied in satisfaction of the latter decree, under the new Act, the attachment order has first to be made, and then the attached decree has to be executed on the application of the creditor who has attached the decree or his judgment-debtor.
- (3) Sub-rules 3 and 6 are new.

(General).

(1) Applicability of rule.

- (a) This rule applies only to cases in which the right attached is one expressly settled by the decree. 24 M. 341. Y
- (b) Though a decree of a Court of Revenue is not liable to attachment and sale, in execution of a decree of a Civil Court under this rule, such decree stands in the position of an ordinary debt and may be dealt with under rule 46. 21 A. 405=19 A.W.N. 157. W

(2) Attached decrees not to be sold.

- (a) The attachment of a decree for money in the mode prescribed in S. 273 of the old Code cannot lead to its sale, and the Code did not contemplate the sale of a decree for money as the result of its attachment in the execution of a decree. 2 A. 290. See also 16 B. 522 and 20 C. 111; 5 A.W.N. 123. X
- (b) Decrees mentioned in sub-rule 1 cannot be sold after being attached. 16 B. 522. Y
- (c) A decree for money obtained by a judgment-debtor is not a debt, within the meaning of section 60. If the decree-holder desires to render such a decree available for satisfaction of his own decree, the procedure laid down in this rule should be followed. 6 M. 418. Z
- (d) All decrees, other than those referred to in sub-rule 1, are both attachable and saleable as "saleable property", under section 60 of the Code. 16 B. 522. A General—(Concluded).(3) Effect of attachment of decree.

- (a) This rule does not render the decree attached under it permanently incapable of execution, or does not destroy the decree-holder's interest in the decree attached. It merely operates as a stay of execution, unless and until the events mentioned therein take place and delays the realisation of the decree by the decree-holder. 13 M.L.J. 265. B
- (b) An application for execution of a decree made by the decree-holder, when his decree has been attached and while the attachment is yet subsisting, is one in accordance with law and keeps the decree alive for purposes of limitation. 13 M.L.J. 265. C

1.—“For the payment of money.”(1) Mesne profits.

- (a) A decree for mesne profits to be ascertained in execution is a decree for money, within the meaning of S. 232 of Act VIII of 1859; and there is no irregularity in the decree-holder applying for attachment of judgment-debtor's property, pending the ascertainment of mesne profits. 8 W.R. 9. D
- (b) A decree for unascertained mesne profits is a decree for money and may be attached as provided by this rule. 2 M.L.J. 288. E
- (c) If a summary order under S. 144 (1) awarding mesne profits had been made prior to the decree-holder's attachment, it might have amounted to a decree within the meaning of this rule. 24 M. 341. F
- (d) Where a decree against the judgment-debtor compelling him to give up possession of certain property was reversed on appeal and the judgment-debtor declared entitled to recover possession thereof with mesne profits, the right of the judgment-debtor to recover mesne profits by way of restitution was not a decree for money within the meaning of this rule. Such a right might be enforced by suit or by summary process in execution under S. 144 (1), but was not a decree. 24 M. 341. G

(2) Dissolution of partnership.

A decree for the dissolution of the firm and for the taking of the accounts of the partners and for the incidental reliefs requisite in such decrees, including the appointment of a receiver and a direction to pay the debts of the firm could so far be regarded as a money-decree, and could, therefore, be attached in execution of a decree against the firm, but not sold. The proper remedy in such cases is by proceeding under this rule. 27 B. 556; 5 Bom. L.R. 529. H

2.—“For sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge.”(1) Decree for sale on mortgage—Whether a decree for money.

A decree for sale upon a mortgage is not a decree for money and can be attached and sold in execution of a money-decree, under the penultimate clause of S. 273 of the old Code, corresponding to sub-rule 4 of this rule. 28 A. 771=3 A.L.J. 585=A.W.N. (1906) 236=1 M.L.T. 247.

2.—“For sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge.”—(Concluded).

Overruling A.W.N. (1885), 123. See for contra 28 M. 244. See also A.W.N. (1893), 184; 27 A. 501; 4 C.W.N. 31, 35; 6 C.W.N. 5; 26 A. 91 = 1903 A.W.N. 206, 2 A. 290; 2 C.L.J. 499; 16 B. 522. I

N.B.—But all the differences and doubts on this point have been completely set at rest now by the inclusion specifically of “decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge” in sub-rule 1 and by taking such a decree out of the category of decrees referred to in sub-rule 4 corresponding to the penultimate clause of S. 273 of the old Code.

(2) Attachment of mortgage-decree—Procedure.

The proper procedure for a decree-holder attaching a mortgage decree is to ask for a sale of it, and, if he succeeds in being the purchaser, to apply for execution as purchaser of the interest of the mortgagee decree-holder. 2 C.L.J. 499. J

N.B.—But see note above.

3.—“Passed by the same Court.”

Decree passed by two Courts and executed by one Court.

Where two decrees for money, though passed by different Courts, were being executed by the same Court, the provisions of sub-rule 1 (a) would be applicable on principle. 2 A. 290. K

4.—“To stay execution.”

Where a decree of a Subordinate Court was attached by a Munsiff under this rule, but the Subordinate Judge, instead of giving effect to the attachment order, returned it to the Munsiff on the ground that it did not state the amount of the decree, and then proceeded with the execution of the decree of his Court which resulted in the sale in question, held, that the Subordinate Court, on receiving the attachment order, was bound to comply therewith; that the attachment of a decree, under this rule, has the effect of staying further execution and of debarring the Court from proceeding further, until that bar has been removed in either of the ways specified in the rule; and that the Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to proceed with the sale in question and the sale, therefore, was invalid. 32 C. 1104 = 10 C.W.N. 198 = 3 C.L.J. 27. L

5.—“Deemed to be the representative.”

(a) Although by attachment of a decree belonging to the judgment-debtor, a decree-holder becomes entitled to execute the decree attached, he does not thereby become a party to, or transferee of, the attached decree, within the meaning of S. 47 of the Code. 21 M. 417 = 8 M.L.J. 77. M

(b) An attaching decree-holder is entitled to execute the decree attached. 3 M.L.J. 211. N

6.—“Other than...sub-rule (1).”

(1) Attachment of a foreclosure decree.

Where, on application to a Court which was not the Court which passed it, a decree for foreclosure was attached by a creditor of the decree-holder, it was not competent to the Court which passed it to follow up the attachment, by substituting the name of the attaching creditor in place of that of the decree-holder. 26 A. 91 = 23 A.W.N. 206. O

6.—“Other than..sub-rule (I).”—(Concluded).(2) Attachment of a redemption decree.

This rule having expressly provided a mode for the attachment of decrees, the procedure in rule 54 relating to immoveable property has no application to the attachment of a decree for redemption. 10 B. 444. P

(3) Decree for possession of land.

A decree for possession of land is of the nature of immoveable property, and a Judge has no jurisdiction to interfere with the order of a lower Court setting aside the sale of such a decree. 4 W.R. Mis. 22. Q

(4) Pre-emptor and vendee.

A pre-emptor stands in the shoes of the vendee, in respect of all the rights and obligations arising from the sale under which he has derived his title, and by reason of the sale and the decree for pre-emption he is the representative in interest of the original vendor; where, therefore, a vendee obtained a decree against certain persons for possession of the property purchased and subsequently a pre-emptor obtained a decree against the vendee, the pre-emptor can execute the decree obtained by the vendee. 8 O.C. 186. R

7.—“Payment or adjustment.”

(a) Adjustment of a decree attached under this rule, subsequent to such attachment, cannot be recognised by the Court. 16 B. 522 S

(b) Where an attaching decree-holder has been paid and the attachment raised, a kanom executed during the attachment cannot be questioned by other simple money decree-holders who have not applied for execution, on the mere ground of a possibility of their becoming entitled to rateable distribution, if the sale had not been averted by the payment of the debt for which the property was attached. The case may be different if the other decree-holders had applied for execution at the date of payment, so that the attachment had subsisted for the benefit not only of the attaching creditor but of the other creditors as well. 28 M. 478 = 10 M.L.J. 98. T

MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

(1) Decree—Not immoveable property.

A decree is held to be part of a judgment-debtor's effects, and not to fall under the head of immoveable property. W.R. 1864 Mis. 28. U

(2) Decree—Liable to attachment.

A decree of Court fell within the description of “other property” in S. 205 of Act VIII of 1859, and was, therefore, liable to attachment under S. 237 of that Act. 7 B.L.R. 318 = 15 W.R. 34. Y

(3) Necessity for adding representatives.

Where a decree-holder attached a decree held by his judgment-debtor against a third party, and the attached decree was transferred from the Court which passed it to the attaching Court, it was not necessary to bring upon the record the representative of the judgment-debtor who died subsequent to such transfer. 20 A.W.N. 99. W

7.—“Payment or adjustment.”—(Concluded).

MISCELLANEOUS CASES—(Concluded).

(4) Title of the purchaser.

Where a decree is attached in execution of another decree, and the execution proceedings in the latter are struck off, without notice to the decree-holder, a bona fide purchaser, whose sale has been confirmed, of the property of the judgment-debtor of the attached decree, sold in execution by the attaching decree-holder, is entitled to it, notwithstanding an assignment of the attached decree in favour of a third person, after the execution proceedings are struck off and before the sale. 3 M.L.J. 211. X

54. (1) Where the property is immoveable ¹, the attachment shall be made by an order prohibiting the judgment-debtor ² from transferring or charging ³ the property in any way, and all persons from taking any benefit from such transfer or charge.

(2) The order shall be proclaimed ⁴ at some place on or adjacent to such property by beat of drum or other customary mode, and a copy of the order shall be affixed ⁵ on a conspicuous part of the property and then upon a conspicuous part of the Court-house, and also, where the property is land paying revenue to the Government, in the office of the Collector of the district in which the land is situate.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 274 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) Instead of “and all persons from receiving the same from him by purchase, gift, or otherwise,” we have in sub-rule (1) “and all persons..charge.”
- (2) Sub-rule 2 contains the provision in clauses 2 and 3 of S. 274 of the old Act.

(1) Attachment irregular.

- (a) An attachment of immoveable property is not voidable, merely because all the forms prescribed are not followed, when the irregularities complained of are immaterial and not productive of any substantial injury to the person who objects to the proceedings. 6 W.R. Mis. 52. Y
- (b) A sale of the mortgagee's rights under a mortgage, duly held and confirmed, was effectual to pass the mortgagee's rights to the auction purchaser, even though the attachment which preceded the sale might have been made under a wrong section of the Civil Procedure Code. 18 A. 469=16 A.W.N. 154. See also 5 A. 142=9 I.A. 182 and 15 A. 134=18 A.W.N. 51. Z

- (c) But where there was no attachment at all prior to sale, the sale was held to be de facto void, attachment being an essential preliminary to sale. 5 A. 86; 10 A. 506. A

General—(Concluded).

- (d) An attachment of property for arrears of rent is not vitiated by the circumstance that notice of the attachment was given before a portion of the arrears claimed had become due. 1 M.H.C.R. 24. B

(2) Incorrect description of property.

- (a) Where the judgment-debtor had only muafi interests in a village, but the holder of a money decree in attaching the judgment-debtor's interest in the village incorrectly described it as zamindari interest and a sale of the zamindari interest was held subsequently, the attachment was not a good attachment of the muafi interests of the judgment-debtor; and the auction-purchaser could not be held to have purchased those muafi interests; and the title of certain persons who had obtained a pre-emptive decree in respect of the muafi interests must prevail over that of the auction-purchaser. 13 A. 119. C

- (b) When a description of property is partly correct and partly incorrect and the former part is sufficient to identify the subject-matter intended while the latter does not apply to any subject, the erroneous part will be rejected; and, consequently, where land is described in a document by boundaries and the area is wrongly specified, the land within the boundaries will pass, whether it be less or more than the quantity specified. 15 C.P.L.R. 163. (2) Equity of redemption.

The equity of redemption of the mortgagor is immoveable property, and its attachment can be effected under this rule. 21 B. 226. F

(3) Standing crops.

Standing crops are immoveable property in the sense of the General Clauses Act (I of 1868), and clause 6 of the second schedule of Act IX of 1887, and of the Code of Civil Procedure. 14 A. 80=11 A.W.N. 417. See also 11 M. 198. G

(2) Mortgage debt.

- (a) A debt secured by a mortgage lien on immoveable property is not “immoveable property” within the meaning of this rule; and, consequently, where bonds creating lien on immoveable property were purchased in Court auction, in a suit on the bonds, the plaintiffs were entitled to

2.—“Prohibiting the judgment-debtor.”

- (a) It is not necessary that notice should be served on the judgment-debtor personally. When the order of attachment is promulgated under this rule, section 64 of this Code begins to operate and renders void any transfer within its terms, pending the attachment, as against all claims enforceable under the attachment. 9 A.W.N. 132. K
- (b) Where service of the prohibitory order was effected by affixing it to the wall of the dwelling house of the person on whom it was intended to serve it, it was not a sufficient service under S. 239 of Act VIII of 1859. It ought to have been served by delivery or by registered letter. 10 B.L.R. Ap. 12. L

*3.—“From transferring or charging.”(1) Effect of private sale.

- (a) Where certain money decree-holders applied for rateable distribution while a property of the judgment-debtor was under attachment in execution of another money decree, and the judgment-debtor sold the property and paid out of the price the amount of the decree in execution of which the property was attached, without paying the other decree-holders who had applied for rateable distribution, held :—Inasmuch as no order for the attachment of property was passed in favour of those decree-holders in manner provided by this rule, they were not entitled to any protection against private alienation by the judgment-debtor and that the alienation by the judgment-debtor was valid. 7 A. 702. - (b) Where an attachment of land was made by written order under S. 235 of Act VIII of 1859, the conditions in S. 239 of that Act had to be fulfilled to render any private alienation of the property attached null and void. 1 B.L.R.S.N. 20. See also 10 W.R. 264 and 2 A. 58. N

(2) Property not of judgment-debtor.

This rule refers only to property undoubtedly belonging to the judgment-debtor. If the property attached does not belong to the judgment-debtor, the decree-holder has no claim enforceable against it, and there is nothing to prevent the rightful owner from selling it. 139 P.R. 1893. O

4.—“Shall be proclaimed.”

- (a) Where property was sold but no attachment was made on the spot by proclamation, nor was any publication made at the Court house or the Collector's office, nor boundaries specified, held, that the formalities laid down in the Code, as preliminary to a valid sale, not having been complied with, the sale was de facto void. 76 P.R. 1890. P
- (b) This rule does not require that the sale proclamation should be served in each of the villages comprised in the property to be sold. The word “property” in this rule evidently refers to each “lot” to be sold separately from the rest. 12 C.W.N. 758. See also 11 C. 74 and 12 B. 368. Q
- (c) Though not indispensable under this rule, it is advisable to serve a separate proclamation in each of the villages embraced in the same process, when they are at such a distance from one another that there is no moral certainty of communication to persons on or interested in the one of what is publicly done on the other. 12 C.W.N. 758. R

5.—“A copy of the order shall be affixed.”

Effects of the omission.

- (a) The omission to put up a copy of the order of attachment at a conspicuous part of the land to be attached is a fatal defect and vitiates the attachment. 5 P.R. 1897. See also 32 P.R. 1878 and 9 C.L.R. 114.S
- (b) Where a copy of an order of attachment of property was not fixed up in the Office of the Collector of the district in which the land was situate, as required by this rule, though the defect in the manner of attachment might render the attachment ineffectual for the purpose of voiding alienations made, the attachment was effectual against the judgment-debtor, and the defect did not afford a ground for declaring the execution proceedings ineffectual. 7 A. 731. T
- (c) Where it did not appear that a copy of the notice of attachment was affixed in the Court-house or in the Collector's office, held, that the plaintiff, who had purchased the property subsequent to attachment, had notice aliunde of the attachment and that, whether all the conditions of this rule were complied with or not, the attachment was valid as against him; and that the rule laid down in 1 B.L.R. 20 and 2 A. 58 should not be strictly applied in Punjab. 33 P.R. 1898. U

Removal of attachment after satisfaction of decree.

55. Where—

- (a) the amount decreed with costs and all charges and expenses resulting from the attachment of any property are paid into Court¹, or
- (b) satisfaction of the decree is otherwise made through the Court or certified to the Court, or
- (c) the decree is set aside or reversed, the attachment shall be deemed to be withdrawn, and, in the case of unmovable property, the withdrawal shall, if the judgmentdebtor so desires, be proclaimed at his expense, and a copy of the proclamation shall be affixed in the manner prescribed by the last preceding rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 275 of Act XIV of 1882 which runs as follows :—If the amount decreed with costs, and all charges and expenses resulting from the attachment of any property, be paid into Court, or if satisfaction of the decree be otherwise made through the Court, or if the decree is set aside or reversed, an order shall be issued, on the application of any person interested in the property, for the withdrawal of the attachment.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) In clause (b), the words “or certified to the Court” are added.
- (2) While the old Act required an application from the party for an order of withdrawal of attachment, the new Act provides that the attachment shall, ipso facto, be deemed to be withdrawn; and the application of the party is necessary only for the proclamation of withdrawal, and that in the case of immoveable property alone.

1.—“Paid into Court.”

Under S. 245 of Act VIII of 1859, the mere tender of money before the Judge is not sufficient to entitle the judgment-debtor to have the sale of his property stayed, and the law contemplates that payments should be made in accordance with the rules and forms of Courts. 2 Hay. 302. V

56. Where the property attached is current coin or currency

Order for payment of coin or currency notes to party entitled under decree.

notes, the Court may, at any time during the continuance of the attachment, direct that such coin or notes, or a part thereof sufficient to satisfy the decree, be paid over to the party entitled under the decree to receive the same.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 277 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The word ‘current’ is added before the word ‘coin’ in this rule.

57. Where any property has been attached in execution of a decree but by reason of the decree-holder’s default the Court is unable to proceed further with the application for execution, it shall either dismiss the application or for any sufficient reason adjourn the proceedings to a future date. Upon the dismissal of such application the attachment shall cease.

Determination of attachment.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

Object.

The purpose of this rule is to put an end to doubts, which, from time to time, have arisen as to the continuance of an attachment, by reason of the practice of "striking off proceedings," or "removing proceedings from the file", for which there is no justification in the Code. (Select Committee's Report).

Investigation of claims and objections.

58. (1) Where any claim¹ is preferred to, or any objection² is made to the attachment of, any property attached in execution of a decree³ on the ground that such property is not liable to such attachment, the Court shall proceed to investigate⁴ the claim or objection with the like power as regards the examination of the claimant or objector, and in all other respects, as if he was a party to the suit⁵:

Provided that no such investigation shall be made where the Court considers that the claim or objection was designedly or unnecessarily delayed⁶.

(2) Where the property to which the claim or objection applies has been advertised for sale, the Court ordering the sale may postpone it pending the investigation of the claim or objection.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 278 of the old Code and also to Ss. 246 and 247 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

The words, "where any claim is preferred to," are substituted for the words, "if any claim be preferred to" found at the beginning of the old section, in sub-rule (1). In sub-rule (2) the word "where" is substituted for the word "if."

(General).

(A) Principle of the rule.

While S. 244 of the old Code=S. 47 of the new Code is applicable only to cases of dispute between decree-holders and judgment-debtors or the representatives of either of them, rr. 58 to 63 apply to matters involving the rights and interests of third parties. W

(B) Scope of the rule.

The provisions of this rule and the rules immediately succeeding are not exclusive of the remedy provided by r. 68 of this order. 18 A. 410=16 A.W.N. 126; 7 A. 588, considered. X

(C) Application of the rule.

(1) The rule applies only to cases of money-decrees where property has been attached, and not to claims preferred to properties directed to be sold under mortgage-decrees. 14 C. 681; see also, 1 C.W.N. 701; 1 A. 881

(2) See report of the Select Committee. "Statement of Objects and Reasons."

"Though the execution of mortgage-decrees is expressly incorporated in the Code, the Committee still think that claims and objections arising out of the execution of such decrees should not be the subject of summary procedure under this and the following rules (meaning thereby rules 58 to 62), but should be determined in the ordinary course. This does not imply that the procedure under the later rules as to resistance to possession or dispossession does not apply."

(3) The rule applies also to specific moveable property attached by prohibitory order under S. 268 of the old Code=O. XXI, r. 46 of the present Code. 14 C.P.L.R. 124; 4 B. 323; 22 W.R. 36; 24 M. 20, R. Z

(D) Object of the rule.

The—is not to deprive a claimant of his remedy by suit, but to give him, if he is diligent, a more speedy and summary remedy. 23 B. 266. See also U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, p. 267. A

(E) Object of rules 58 to 63 and Limitation Act, Art. 11.

(1) The—is to secure prompt and speedy determination of questions raised in execution-cases and the object would be frustrated, if a party, unsuccessful under r. 60, on account of his own laches or voluntary non-production of evidence, were allowed to plead that the order was a nullity. 1 C.L.J. 296. B

(2) The legislature has provided a special means of readily and expeditiously dealing with questions that arise in execution-proceedings, and this it has done with the express object of preventing all unnecessary litigation. U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, p. 262; 14 C. 617; 18 C. 290, R. C

(3) Under—, where land was attached for sale in execution of a decree, the point of possession was the one which determined its liability to sale. I. — "Any claim."

(A) Nature of the claims.

- (1) The claims under this rule are not restricted to titles derived from the judgment-debtor or out of his estate. The rule comprises all claims or objections to the sale of lands in execution of decrees. 6 W.R. 164. I
- (2) A claim by an intervenor under S. 246 of the Code of 1859=O. XXI, rs. 58, 60, 61 and 63, to a share of moveable property attached in execution of a decree, must be investigated by a Court. 14 W.R. 52; 17 W.R. 74. J
- (3) Where certain growing crops were attached for rent by a landlord under Bengal Act VI of 1882, S. 16, the Court was bound to investigate the claim of an intervenor in the same manner as a claim to property attached in execution of a decree. 10 W.R. 21. K
- (4) Where a person claims property as his own and denies that it ever belonged to him as representative of a deceased person, his claim can be properly dealt with under this rule. 6 W.R. Mis. 61; see also 6 B.L.R. 721 = 15 W.R. 163 and 6 B.L.R. 725, note=12 W.R. 333. But see 8 O.C. 405. L
- (5) A claim to attached property preferred by the judgment-debtor in the capacity of a Shebait to a Hindu Deity, when the decree was obtained against him for his personal debt, comes within S. 244 of the old Code=S. 47 of the present Code, and not under this rule. 8 C.W.N. 353. But see 23 M. 195, infra, and 18 M.L.J. 21. M
- (6) Where a judgment-debtor puts forward a claim to the attached property in the capacity of a trustee for third persons not parties to the suit, the claim is one to be dealt with under this rule and not under S. 47 of the present Code=S. 244 of the old Code. 23 M. 195=10 M.L.J. 64. N
- (7-a) Where an objection is raised by the judgment-debtor or his representative, that the property he holds is property held in trust for some third person or body of persons, or a religious charity or institution, S. 244 of the old Code=S. 47 of the present Code does not apply, but the claim must be investigated under rules 58 to 63 of this Code. 18 M.L.J. 21; 23 B. 237, F'; 23 M. 195, F'; 30 M. 26, R; see also 3 A.L.J. 370=A.W.N. (1906), 157; 12 A. 313, F'. O
- (7-b) A legal representative of a judgment-debtor is not bound to make such an objection, and he can raise his defence in a subsequent suit brought by the auction-purchaser for possession. A.W.N. (1906), 158=3 A.L.J. 565=28 A. 644. P
- (8) Where a decree has been given against the karnavan of a Malabar Tarwad, the fact that some of the members of the Tarwad claim the attached property, adversely to the other members, does not make them any less constructive parties to the decree, and S. 244=S. 47 of this Code applies to such a claim, and not this rule. 2 M.L.T. 31=30 M. 215 = 17 M.L.J. 377; 24 M. 658, F; 23 M. 195; 10 M.L.J. 85, Expl. and D; 14 M.L.J. 137, R. But see 10 M.L.J. 85. Q
- (9) Where an assignee of a decree sought to have the assigned decree released from attachment, his claim came rightly under this rule, as he was not a representative of the judgment-creditor. 10 M.L.J. 116. R

1.—“ Any claim.”—(Concluded).

- (10) A mortgagee, in possession of mortgaged premises that have been attached by prohibitory order, can come under this rule and have the attachment raised. 10 B.H.C. 100; see “Statement of Objects and Reasons.” Select Committee’s Report. S

(B) Act VIII of 1885 (Bengal Tenancy).

- (1) Where, in a suit for rent, the plaintiff is shown to have been the landlord both at the date of the suit and also at the date of the decree, the suit and the decree would be clearly a suit and a decree under the Bengal Tenancy Act, and as provided in S. 170 of the same Act, no claim can be preferred under this rule, when such a decree is put in execution. 10 C.W.N. 547 (F.B.)=3 C.L.J. 470=38 C. 566. T
- (2) S. 170 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) bars a claim under this rule to a tenure or holding attached in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due thereon, in all cases where it is shown that the decree was one for such arrears. 28 C. 382=5 C.W.N. 474. U

(C) Application for removal of attachment—Withdrawal without consent of Court.

Where an application, put in for removal of attachment under this rule, is withdrawn without the permission of the Court, S. 373 of the old Code (=O. XXIII, r. 1 of the present Code), read with S. 647=S. 141 of the present Code, is no bar to a fresh suit for a declaration of right to the attached property. 4 L.B.R. 75. Y

(D) Claim, dismissal of.

Where the wife of the debtor claimed the Government securities attached by the creditor and proved that they were in her name and she dealt with them as owner, the claim ought not to have been dismissed on the mere suspicion that she might be holding it for the benefit of the husband. 29 C. 543. W

(E) Court of Wards Act, S. 55.

The word “suit” in—includes miscellaneous proceedings, and if a claim is preferred by the Manager of the Court of Wards without its sanction, the order disallowing the claim is not binding on the Ward. 4 C.W.N. 405. X

(F) Objector’s claim—Decision—Second trial.

- (1) A Judge has no jurisdiction to try the same objector’s claim a second time or to re-open a question finally decided on a former occasion. 14 W.R. 144. Y
- (2) But, where a claim is dismissed without any adjudication, a fresh claim may be entertained. 16 W.R. 59. Z

2.—“ Any objection.”(A) Alienees of judgment-debtor.

- (1) The provisions of this rule applied to an application, which really sought to enforce a particular remedy against a third party named, and not against the original defendant: 8 W.R. 378. A

2.—“Any objection.”—(Concluded).

- (2) Where immoveable property was attached, and the objectors who claimed a 14 annas share in the property compromised with the decree-holder, and the decree-holder afterwards applied for a sale of the remaining 2 annas in the possession of specified parties, and the lower Court ordered that the sale should not proceed, if the objectors paid to the decree-holders a sum equal, rateably, to that levied from the 14 annas, it was held that the provisions of this rule applied to such an application. Ibid.

(B) Benefit of order—Decree-holders.

[B]

An order in favour of one of several decree-holders, on an objection under this rule, does not enure for the benefit of other decree-holders, who are not parties to the proceedings. 18 A. 413 = 16 A.W.N. 129; 1 A. 382, R.C.

(C) Judgment-debtor insolvent—Objection to attachment—Jurisdiction.

- (1) The right of an objector to assert his claim to be the true owner of the property and the jurisdiction of the Court to entertain the objection is not ousted by the mere circumstance, that the judgment-debtor has been declared an insolvent and his property vested in a receiver. It is the judgment-debtor's property only and not that of the objector, that is thus vested. 9 A. 232. D

- (2) Where a judgment-debtor has been adjudicated an insolvent and the property has been vested in the official assignee, so long as the vesting order stands, he cannot prefer a claim or an objection in the interests of the official assignee. 57 P.R. 1897. E

(D) Plea that property does not belong to judgment-debtor—Procedure.

Where the plea is that the property in question is not the property of the judgment-debtor, the judgment-creditor is not obliged to take proceedings under this rule and wait until an adverse order is passed, but he may institute a regular suit for a declaration that the property sought to be taken in execution is the property of the judgment-debtor. A.W.N. (1907), 207 = 4 A.L.J. 574; 18 A. 410; 28 B. 266, F; 16 A. 165; A.W.N. (1904), 190, D. F

3.—“Any property attached in execution of a decree.”

(A) “Any property.”

- (1) The term—includes debts and other species of intangible property. 27 M. 67, 71. But cf. the Code of 1859 which applied only to immoveable property or to specific moveable property, and not to a debt due. 22 W.R. 36. G
- (2) The term—includes also an equity of redemption. 2 Bom. L.R. 134; 5 B.L.R. 380. H
- (3) A debt is liable to attachment. See S. 266 of the old Code = S. 60 of the new Code. I
- (4) The term—also includes undivided shares in land. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 175; 17 C. 260; 12 C. 209; 12 M. 309. J
- (5) The contributions, made by Railway servants towards Provident funds, are not liable to attachment and any such attachment is invalid. 29 B. 259. K

Perishable property.

Where moveable property under attachment is sold to prevent waste or deterioration and where there are proceedings pending, for removal of attachment, the sale-proceeds should be kept in deposit, and should follow the result of the order passed in the removal of attachment proceedings. 4 L.B.R. 16. L

3. "Any property 'attached' in execution of a decree"—(Concluded).

(B) Attached in execution of a decree.

Principle.

The property must have been attached in execution of a decree. If it has not been attached, the rule has no application. See infra. See also the Select Committee's Report and the "Statement of Objects and Reasons."

M

EXAMPLES—MORTGAGE.

- (1) Where property was ordered to be sold in execution of a decree obtained by a puisne mortgagee, a prior mortgagee objected to the sale and the objection was allowed, it was held that the order allowing the objection was passed without jurisdiction. S. 278 of the old Code, which corresponds to this rule, did not apply to such a case, as the property, sought to be sold, was not attached in execution, but the decree had ordered its sale. A.W.N. (1905), 157=27 A. 700. N
- (2) The Court executing the decree was bound to give effect to the decree as it stood, and had no power to go behind the decree and investigate the existence or non-existence of a prior mortgage. (Ibid). O
- (3) It is a settled law that the rule is not applicable to claims preferred to properties directed to be sold under mortgage-decrees. A Court executing a decree cannot take upon itself to alter or vary that decree. 1 N.L.R. 142; 14 C. 631; 18 B. 98; 1 C.W.N. 701 and 10 A. 480, R. P
- (4) The rule does not apply where the property in question is not attached. A.W.N. (1906), 62. Q
- (5) It is not necessary for the holder of a mortgage-decree to apply for the attachment and sale of the mortgaged property. If a mortgage decree-holder unnecessarily applies for an attachment, which is granted, a claim to the property cannot be preferred under this rule. 2 L.B.R. 138; 14 C. 631; 18 B. 98; 4 B. 515, R. R

4.—"Shall proceed to investigate."

(A) Appeal.

No—lies from an order under this rule. See r. 60, infra. "ORDER—APPEAL," S

(B) Executing Court refusing to attach property.

- (1) Where a decree-holder applies for attachment of certain property as belonging to his judgment-debtor, the Court executing the decree cannot suo moto refuse to attach it on the ground that it does not belong to the judgment-debtor. The proper procedure is to allow attachment and, in the case of an objection by a claimant under this rule, to decide it in accordance with law. 18 P.W.R. 1907 T
- (2) A Court is ordinarily bound to issue process for attachment and cannot properly refuse to do so except as provided in S. 250 of the old Code= O. XXI, r. 24 (1). 57 P.R. 1897. U
- (3) A Court cannot refuse to attach property merely on an informal letter from the official assignee, nor release the property from attachment without a formal application from him. (Ibid). Y

4.—“Shall proceed to investigate.”—(Concluded).

(C) Investigation.

- (1) It is not possible to define the amount of inquiry, which constitutes an——. If the order purports to deal with the claim on the merits, it must be taken that there has been an——. 16 M.L.J. 136=29 M. 225. W
- (2) The rule gives the Court power to investigate the claim or objection of a person in all respects as if he were a party to the suit, so that the Court is bound to make a full and thorough enquiry and to come to distinct findings on the points in issue, irrespective of what may happen in the way of a suit under r. 63. It is obvious that, unless the Court does so, there will be an opening for further litigation which it is the interest of the commonwealth to avoid. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Civil, p. 262. X
- (3) Where the lower Court, without going into the merits, declined jurisdiction on the impression that the application to release property from attachment was barred by authority, there was no——in the sense of this rule. No. 8 P.R. 1897. Y
- (4) In an——under this rule as to moveable property, what the Court has to determine is merely the question of possession, and the Court cannot go into the question of title. 4 L.B.R. 289; see also 1 L.B.R. 180. Z

(D) Revision.

A Court has power to revise the order of a lower Court, where the Court below declines jurisdiction without going into the merits, under the impression that the application before it was barred by authority. No. 8 P.R. 1897; 13 C. 90; 7 B. 341, F. See also 1 L.B.R. 180. A

(E) Validity of order.

Where a claim is preferred, the Court should define the respective shares of the judgment-debtor and the intervenor and sell the judgment-debtor's definite share only. An order made, without doing so, is not a valid one. A.W.N. (1905), 49=2 A.L.J. 178; 4 W.R. 85, F. B

5.—“With the like powers....party to the suit.”

Onus of proof.

- (1) Where a claim to attached property is made by a third party, the claimant must begin, and the onus is on him to prove that the goods attached were his property, or in his possession, and therefore not in the possession of the judgment-debtor. 2 B.L.R. (F.B.), 91=11 W.R. (F.B.), 8; 8 W.R. 358; 8 W.R. 362, overruled. C
- (2) The onus of proof is on the decree-holder and not on the claimant, on the proper construction of the words, “proceed to investigate the same with like powers as if the claimant had been originally made a defendant.” (Per Mitter, J., dissenting). Ibid. D

6.—“Provided, that no such investigation made.....designedly or unnecessarily delayed.”

Claim—Petition after sale, but before confirmation.

It is competent for a Civil Court to entertain an objection to attached property, after sale but before confirmation, because there is no reason for thinking that the Legislature intended to make the mere holding of a sale, a bar to an objection under this rule. 1 N.L.R. 187; 26 C. 727 (732), R.E

59. The claimant or objector must adduce evidence ¹ to show that at the date of the attachment he had some interest in, or was possessed of, the property attached ².

Evidence to be adduced by claimant.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 279 of the old Code.

1.—“Must adduce evidence.”

(1) Admissible evidence—Refusal.

An order made by a Judge, after refusing to receive evidence which it is his duty to receive, is ultra vires. 24 W.R. 422. F

(2) Particular kind of evidence.

The Court has no power to require from a claimant any—, the claimant being at liberty to establish, what the law requires, by any evidence sufficient for the purpose. 22 W.R. 392. G

2.—“Some interest in, or was possessed of, the property attached.”

(1) “Some interest.”

(a) To reconcile r. 59 with rules 60 and 61, the words—must be taken to imply such interest as would make the possession of the judgment-debtor, possession not on his own account, but on account of, or in trust for, the claimant. 1 C.W.N. 617. H

(b) Where a mortgage-deed stood nominally in the name of one person but stated that the money was really advanced by four persons, and the nominal mortgagee died, and a judgment-creditor of the mortgagor attached the property, it was held that the other three creditors were competent to prefer the claim and establish, within the meaning of this rule, “some interest” in the property attached. 25 M. 555. I

(c) In the above case, if the nominal mortgagee was the agent of the applicants, they had a legal interest in the property attached, and, if he was a trustee, they had a beneficial or equitable interest therein. A beneficial interest is as much an interest, within the meaning of this rule, as a legal interest in the property attached. 25 M. 555=11 M.L.J. 346. J

(2) Onus of proof.

If a claimant to attached property proves that, at the date of attachment, he was possessed of the property, the—that he is not the owner, or that he holds in trust for the judgment-debtor, is on the decree-holder, and, if he fails to discharge it, the Court should remove the attachment. 2 L.B.R. 152. K

(3) “Possessed.”

The word—is not used in a restricted sense as relating to tangible or physical possession. It includes constructive possession or possession in law. 4 L.B.R. 289; 27 M. 67, B. L

60. Where upon the said investigation ¹ the Court is satisfied that for the reason stated in the claim or objection such property was not, when attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor or of some person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant or other person paying rent to him ², or that, being in the possession of the judgment-debtor at such time, it was so in his possession, not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of or in trust for some other person, or partly on his own account and partly on account of some other person ³, the Court shall make an order releasing the property, wholly or to such extent as it thinks fit, from attachment ⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 280 of the old Code and also to S. 246 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

The word "where" stands for the word "if," at the beginning of this rule, while the phrase "make an order" is substituted after the words "the Court shall," instead of the words "pass an order for," found in the old section.

(General).

(1) Conditions for release.

(a) The conditions that must be satisfied according to this rule are :—

- (i) That the property was not, when attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor, or of some person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant paying rent to him.
 - (ii) or that the property, being in the possession of the judgment-debtor, at such time, it was so in his possession, not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of, or in trust for, some other person or party.
 - (iii) or that the property was in the possession of the judgment-debtor partly on his own account and partly on account of some other person.
- (b) A release from attachment, under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, can only be made under this rule. The rule indicates the conditions on which alone that release can be directed. So, a Court, before directing a release, must hold those conditions established.
- 8 Bom. L.R. 794. M

(2) Circular order of High Court, Bombay, No. 90 (c)—Court Fees Act, Sch. II, cl. 1.

- (a) A person holding a claim on property ordered to be sold in execution of a decree is required to make the application contemplated in the High Court's Civil Circular, No. 90 (c), page 40 of the "Circular Orders."
- 16 B. 700. N

General—(Concluded).

- (b) The application must be in writing and must bear the proper fee prescribed by sch. II, No. 1, of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870). The circular does not require any notice to be served on the judgment-debtor. Whether he is bound by the order passed in the proceedings must depend upon the facts of each case. (Ibid). O

(3) In trust for."

The words—should be construed in the sense that the claimant held the property as servant of or agent for, or otherwise, on behalf of the judgment-debtor, and that he had no right to the possession of it on his own account, if the judgment-debtor claimed it. 2 L.B.R. 152. P

(4) Possession."

The word—is not used in a restricted sense as relating to mere tangible or physical possession. It includes constructive possession or possession in law. 4 L.B.R. 289; 27 M. 67, F. Q

I.—"Where upon the said investigation."

Investigation.

- (1) The extent to which the—required by this rule should be carried, depends upon the circumstances of the case. 15 C. 521=15 I.A. 123. R
- (2) What the Civil Procedure Code provides is a summary—into the question of possession, and the question of title is required to be gone into only so far as it may be necessary to determine, whether the person in possession holds such possession as agent of, or as trustee for, another. 1 C.W.N. 617. S.
- (3) Questions such as whether the doctrine of lis pendens applies, and whether the decree-holder can succeed upon the principle that a debt contracted for legal necessity by a mohunt de facto is recoverable from the endowed property in the hands of the mohunt de jure, are questions which do not come within the scope of an—under this rule. (Ibid). T
- (4) Where a claimant was given an opportunity to adduce evidence and, on the day of hearing, the Court refused to grant time and rejected his claim, it was held that there was an—sufficient to bring the case within this rule. 32 C. 537. U
- (5) The Court directs an—but does not direct the extent to which the investigation ought to proceed. If a Court, having jurisdiction to decide a matter, decides it and passes an order, holding such—as it seems fit, the conditions of the claim-sections are satisfied. 1 C.L.J. 296. V
- (6) In an—under this rule, the Court has to determine the question of possession merely and cannot go into the question of title. 29 C. 543; 14 C. 617 and 18 C. 290, F. W
- (7) In a summary—under this rule, the Court cannot hold merely on suspicion that the claim is untenable. 29 C. 543; 11 M.I.A. 28; 11 M.I.A. 551, R. X
- (8) The principle laid down in 6 C.P.L.R. 81 does not apply where the plaintiff's objection to the attachment has been disposed of otherwise than on the merits. 13 C.P.L.R. 69; 12 B. 270; 12 C. 108; 4 B. 21; 3 A. 504; 15 C. 521; 13 C.P.L.R. 1; 6 C.P.L.R. 81, R. Y

2.—“Such property was not, when attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor, . . . person in trust for him, or . . . occupancy of a tenant paying rent to him.”

(A) Question for decision on a claim.

- (1) The only—is whether the property attached is in the possession of the judgment-debtor, or some person in trust for him, or whether it is in the possession of a third party not in trust for the judgment-debtor. 16 W.R. 119 ; 14 C. 617. Z
- (2) Where a claim is preferred under r. 58, what the Court has to see is whether the property, though standing in the name of the claimant or of some other person, is in the possession of the judgment-debtor or not. 18 C. 290. A
- (3) A Judge should not concern himself with questions of title to the property under this rule. He must confine himself to determining, whether the property was in the possession of a third person on his own account at the time it was attached. 10 C. 1057. B
- (4) If the Court finds the claimant to be in possession, the only other question that can be considered is whether that possession is really on account of, or in trust for, the judgment-debtor. 4 L.B.R. 289 ; 4 C. 402, R ; 27 M. 67 ; 29 C. 543 ; 2 L.B.R. 152, F. C

(B) “Possession of the judgment-debtor, or of some person in trust for him.”

The words—, refer to cases, where the possession of a claimant as a trustee is of such a character as to be really the possession of the debtor, and not to cases where intricate questions of law may arise as to whether or not valid trusts may result in particular instances. 14 C. 617 ; 2 B.L.R. 152. D

(C) Beneficial interest.

- (1) The mere fact that the judgment-debtor has some—in the income, would not render the property liable under this rule. If the claimant satisfies the Court that he has some interest in, or is possessed of, the property attached, and it does not appear that the possession of the claimant was in reality that of the judgment-debtor, the claim must be allowed. 18 C. 290. E
- (2) If the possession of the person holding the property be on his own account, the fact that the judgment-debtor may have a beneficial interest or some title in it cannot be gone into. 29 C. 543 ; 14 C. 617 ; 18 C. 290, F.F

- (1) Where property in the hands of some widows was attached, as the right, title and interest of a deceased person, and a third person claimed and proved that the property was in his possession and not in the possession of the widows, it was held that the property must be released from attachment. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 389. G
- (2) Where in execution of a decree against a judgment-debtor, his right, title and interest in certain lands were attached, and a third person claimed a share in them and sought to have the attachment removed, it was held that he was entitled to have the attachment removed so far as his share was concerned. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 175=18 W.R. (F.B.), 63. H

2.—“Such property was not, when attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor..person in trust for him, or..occupancy of a tenant paying rent to him”—(Concluded).

(E) Purchaser before attachment.

Where the claimant is a—, and the decree-holder alleges that he is a benamidar of the judgment-debtor, the Court must enquire whether the property is or is not in the possession of the judgment-debtor, or of some other person in trust for him. 20 W.R. 202. I

(F) Judgment-debtor transferring property.

Where, in virtue of an agreement contained in a hibanama, the judgment-debtor had transferred the property to the petitioner, who undertook to discharge the decree-holder's debt, it was held that the property having been transferred to the petitioner and being admittedly his property, the lower Court acted without jurisdiction in directing execution against the property. 18 C. 290. J

(G) Right to receive a debt.

The attachment of a—is not property capable of possession, within the meaning of this rule and r. 61, infra. 24 M. 20; 22 W.R. C.R. 36, R.K

(H) Property of different sets of defendants—Claim by one set.

Where two distinct orders for payment of costs were made against two sets of defendants, and the property of one of the former set was taken in execution of the order against the latter set, the application of the aggrieved defendant for release of his property fell within this rule. 22 W.R. 392. L

3.—“That, being in the possession....so in his possession....but on account of or in trust for some other....partly on his own account and partly....person.”

(1) Equitable assignment.

Where the defendant created an equitable assignment in favour of the plaintiff of a certain fund, and afterwards received the money belonging to the fund, he was bound to hold the money on account of the plaintiff, and, if it was attached in his hands, the plaintiff could get it released under this rule. P.R. (No. 60 of 1884); Civil P.R. (No. 63 of 1873, Civil), cited. M

(2) Judgment-debtor in possession for third party.

(a) Where the judgment-debtor objected to the attachment on the ground, that, previously to the attachment, he dedicated the property as a wakf, and that he was only in possession as matwali, and the Court released the property from attachment, the only mode in which the Court's order could be contested was by a regular suit as provided by r. 68. 15 C. 437; 23 M. 195. N

(b) An objection by the judgment-debtor that he is in possession of the property, not on his own account, but on account of two idols and the property is debutter, falls under this rule. 6 C.W.N. 63. O

(3) Possession of judgment-debtor “on account of, or in trust for, some other person.”

Where goods were consigned to an agent for sale on commission, and the consigner drew hundis against the goods for a certain amount, which the agent accepted and paid, and such payment was in the nature of specific advances made against the goods, it was held that a creditor of the consigner could not attach the goods, as, at the date of the attachment, the goods were in the possession of the consigner, “on account of, or in trust for,” the agent in the sense in which that expression is used in this rule. 21 B. 287. P

4.—“The Court shall make an order releasing the property . . . attachment.”

(1) Objection, dismissal of.

Where an objection to the attachment of property is dismissed for default, the dismissal is not equivalent to an order under this rule. 62 P.R. 1894; 12 C.L.R. 43, D; 3 A. 504, cited. Q

(2) Order—Appeal.

(a) No appeal lies from an order under this rule. 6 C.W.N. 63; 16 C. 1; 17 C. 711; 23 B. 246; 2 A. 752; 7 A. 36; 15 C. 437; 23 B. 237, R; 6 Bom. L.R. 462=28 B. 458; 29 C. 696; 6 C.W.N. 10 and 23 A. 486, F; see also 8 C.P.L.R. 67; 4 B. 323, R; 12 A. 313; 6 C. 777 and 786; 12 C. 458; 13 C. 326; 14 C. 640; 16 C. 1; 17 C. 57; 17 C. 711 (F.B.); 9 A. 232; 1 O.C. 11; S.C. 224; 30 C. 134=6 C.W.N. 10; 6 A.W.N. 77; 23 M. 195; 21 W.R. 365; 6 B.L.R. 725 note=12 W.R. 333. R

(b) An order by a Judge on the original side of the High Court dismissing a claim preferred under rr. 58 and 62 of the Code by the mortgagees of immovable property, which has been attached in execution of a decree, is subject to appeal. Art. 15 of the Letters Patent is not restricted by Ss. 588 and 591 of the old Code (=Ss. 104 and 105 of the new Code). 25 M. 555. S

(c) An order under this rule releasing property from attachment is not a decree; and, therefore, no appeal lies against an order rejecting an application under Ss. 108 and 647 of the old Code (=O. IX, r. 13 and S. 141 of the present Code), to set aside such an order passed ex parte. L.B.R. (1906), Vol. III, p. 203; 11 M. 26, R; 16 C. 31, diss. T

(3) Order, conclusiveness of.

(a) An order passed under the provisions of this rule, unless overruled in a regular suit brought within the statutory period, is binding on all persons who are parties to it, and is conclusive. 1 A. 382; 1 C.W.N. 701; 1 A. 382, D; 9 B. 35; 14 B. 372; 10 M. 357, 361. But see per contra, Pearson, J. in 1 A. 382. U

(b) The order must be made after due investigation in the sense of rr. 58, 59, and this rule. If it is not so made, it is not conclusive. 1 A.W.N. 126. Y

(4) Order, effect of.

(a) Prima facie, an attachment ceases on an order being passed by the Court. (1875) Select Case, Part X, No. 44. W

(b) Where a Judge makes an order, after refusing to receive evidence, which it is his duty to receive, his order is ultra vires. 24 W.R. 422. X

(c) The order for release holds good only with reference to the particular claimant, who has obtained the order. It is not to be regarded as a general decision (of which all the world can have the benefit) that the property does not belong to the judgment-debtor. 8 W.R. 27; 21 W.R. 230. Y

(5) Order—Presidency Towns Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882).

An order made upon a claim to attached property filed in the Small Cause Court of Calcutta in a proceeding under r. 58 is “an order made in suit”, within the meaning of S. 37 of the Presidency Small Cause Court’s Act and is final, subject only to the right to apply for a new trial. 26 G. 773; 3 C.W.N. 590; 4 C.W.N. 470; 18 C. 296, F. See also 18 C. 296. Z

4.—“ The Court shall make an order releasing the property..attachment”
—(Concluded).

(6) Proper order.

The——for the Court to make under this rule, is an order releasing the property from attachment, if it is of opinion that the property attached must not be sold. 8 W.R. 93. A

(7) Setting aside of order—Decree-holder's rights.

The fact that a judgment-debtor's property is provisionally released from attachment, does not prevent the decree-holder from working out his rights acquired by virtue of the attachment, if, subsequent to the judgment-debtor's death, the order of release made under this rule is set aside in a regular suit. 10 C.W.N. 978=33 C. 1158; 6 I.A. 88 and 23 C. 829 (relied on). B

61. Where the Court is satisfied that the property was, at the time it was attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor as his own property and not on account of any other person, or was in the possession of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant or other person paying rent to him, the Court shall disallow the claim¹.

Disallowance of claim to property attached.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 281 of the old Code and to S. 246 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

The word “where” is substituted for “if,” at the beginning of this rule.

1.—“ Where the Court is satisfied.....paying rent to him, the Court.... disallow the claim.”

(1) Claim can be disallowed.

(a) Where the claimant does not appear in support of his claim. 1 C.L.J. 296; 24 W.R. 411; 22 B. 875, 883; 21 W.R. 409; 15 W.R. 311; 13 W.R. 121; 16 W.R. 59. C

(b) Or where the claimant has failed to adduce evidence. 22 B. 875, 883; 21 W.R. 409; 22 W.R. 39. D

(c) Or where the evidence tendered by the claimant is not worthy of credit. 20 W.R. 345. E

(2) Disallowance of claim—Stay of sale.

Where an objection is disallowed by a Court, any order made by it that the sale of the property shall be stayed until the claimant brings a suit to establish his right to the property, is illegal and it must be quashed. 3 A.W.N. 205. F

(3) Order, conclusiveness of.

(a) An order disallowing a claim is not conclusive where the decree has been disallowed for default. 32 C. 537; 1 C.W.N. 24, D; 22 B. 875, 882; 16 W.R. 59. G

1.—“Where the Court is satisfied ..paying rent to him, the Court..disallow the claim.”—(Concluded).

(b) Where a claim is withdrawn, the order disallowing the claim is not conclusive. 18 M. 265 ; 20 W.R. 456 ; 7 M.H.C.R. 359. H

(c) An order, under this rule, is not conclusive as against the judgment-debtor, unless he is a party to the proceedings in which the order was passed, and it cannot be availed of by a person who was not a party to the proceedings. 18 M.L.J. 26 ; 13 M. 366 ; 25 M. 721 ; 30 M. 335 (F.B.), F ; 18 A. 413, R. I

(4) Order, effect of,

The effect of an order disallowing a claim to attached property, is to give the auction-purchaser a title as against the claimant, unless the order is set aside by a suit. 17 C. 260. J

(5) Order, nature of.

An order cannot be held to be an order under this rule, unless it is passed after an investigation into the facts of the case and judgment given on the merits. 87 P.R. 1904. K

(6) Order—Review.

An order passed under this rule disallowing a claim to release attached property is not open to review, such a review being excluded by the concluding words of r. 63, infra. P.R. (No. 143 of 1879, Civil). L

62. Where the Court is satisfied that the property is subject to a mortgage or charge in favour of some person not in possession, and thinks fit to continue the attachment, it may do so, subject to such mortgage or charge¹.

Continuance of attachment subject to claim of incumbrancer.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 282 of the old Code.

1.—“Where....is satisfied....subject to a mortgage or charge...., it may do so, subject to such mortgage or charge.”

(1) Distinction between this rule and r. 66, infra.

In r. 62, the Court, after satisfying itself of the existence of the mortgage, sells only the judgment-debtor's right of redemption, and the purchaser gets only the right to redeem the mortgage. In r. 66, the Court decides nothing as to the existence of the mortgage, and the purchaser buys the property with notice of the mortgage and subject to such risks as the notice might involve. 28 A. 418. M

(2) Legality of order.

Where the Court of the first instance made an order under S. 244 of the old Code =S. 47 of this Code, which was confirmed in appeal, and the case came again before the first Court, which then made an order under this rule, it was held that the order was ultra vires and illegal. 5 A.W.N. 270.N

1.—“Where....is satisfied....subject to a mortgage or charge...., it may do so, subject to such mortgage or charge.”—(Concluded).

(3) Mortgage lien—Effect on purchaser—Estoppel.

(a) Where a person purchases property in execution of his own decree, subject to a mortgage-lien as declared by the Court under this rule, he is not estopped from questioning the validity of the mortgage, by way of defence in a suit brought against him by the mortgagee to enforce his mortgage-lien, although he may not have instituted any suit under r. 63 to establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute. 2 C.L.J. 599. O

(b) A fraudulent and collusive mortgage cannot be enforced even as against a purchaser with a declaration as above under this rule, if impeached within the period allowed by law. (Ibid.) P

(c) Where, in execution of a simple money-decree, the rights of a mortgagor in certain property, ostensibly subject to a mortgage, were put up for sale, and the property was not sold subject to the mortgage, as contemplated by this rule, it was held in a suit by the mortgagee for sale, that the auction-purchaser was not estopped from proving that the mortgage was fictitious and without consideration. A.W.N. (1906) = 3 A.L.J. 200 = 28 A. 418. Q

(4) Order, nature of.

An order under this rule must be an order passed on an adjudication on the claim asserted. Where the order was to the effect, that the Court passing it had declined to enter into the question of the rights of the parties and had not adjudicated on the claim, such an order was not an order under this rule. 14 A.W.N. 14. R

(5) Purchaser at auction-sale.

A—of the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor in property, subject to a mortgage, is not precluded from resisting a suit on the mortgage, on the ground that nothing is due on it. The mortgagee is bound to prove that the amount claimed is really due, and an order under r. 62 in execution proceedings cannot absolve him from this necessity. 7 C.P.L.R. 73; 18 W.R. 39 (Civil). S

63. Where a claim or an objection is preferred, the party against whom an order is made¹ may institute a suit² to establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute³, but, subject to the result of such suit⁴, if any, the order shall be conclusive⁵.

Saving of suits to establish right to attached property.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 283 of the old Code and also to S. 246 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

For the clause in the old section, viz., “The party against whom an order under Ss. 280, 281, or 282, is passed,” the clause, “Where a claim or an objection is preferred, the party against whom an order is made,” is substituted in this rule.

(General).

4 M. 302. T

(2) Burma Land and Revenue Act II of 1876, S. 56.

No argument can be used upon — to show that a Civil Court has no jurisdiction to try the regular suit contemplated by this rule. L.B.R., Printed Judgments, Judicial Commissioner's Court, 1893-1900, p. 293. U

(3) Cause of action.

(a) In a suit under this rule, the — is the alleged wrongful attachment.
13 M.L.J. 479 = 27 M. 94. Y

(b) Different purchasers of the attached property may be properly joined as defendants in the same suit. 27 M. 94. W

(4) Object of the suit.

(a) The — provided for by this rule and Art. 11 of the Limitation Act, is not to have the order in the claim proceedings set aside, but to have the right of a claimant in the property established. 1 C.L.J. 296; 18 B. 241; 31 C. 228, diss. X

(b) The — contemplated by this rule, must be to obtain compensation for any injury or to recover possession. 17 W.R. 304 = 9 B.L.R. Ap. 28. Y

(c) It was never the object of the Legislature that the time of the Court should be taken up with a perfectly useless inquiry apart from any claim for compensation or possession. (Ibid). Z

(d) A suit in which the plaintiff's object was to establish the truth of his assertion, that the interest of a judgment-debtor which was put up for sale was that of a tenant only, and not that of an usufructuary mortgagee, cannot lie under this rule. (Ibid). A

(5) Appeal.

Where an objection was summarily dismissed without any investigation, and a regular suit for the recovery of the price realised by sale of the attached property was brought, it was held that the suit not being triable by a Court of Small Causes and not having been tried as such, an appeal lay from the decision of the first Court. 8 O.C. 281. (7) Revision.

Where the consideration of an objection was first entertained and adjourned by an Additional Subordinate Judge and subsequently came before the Subordinate Judge, who struck off the case for default and no order under S. 25 of the old Code = S. 24 of the present Code transferring the case to him was on the record, it was held that the High Court should not interfere in revision, but the proper remedy of the petitioner was an application under S. 103 = O. (8) Evidence—Summary proceeding.

(a) A Judge is bound to find facts upon the evidence tendered and taken in the suit, and not upon any evidence taken in the summary cause.
14 W.R. 95. E

(b) The judgment in the claim case is not admissible. (Ibid). F

General—(Concluded).(9) S. 12 of the old Code = S. 10 of the new Code and this rule.

S. 10 of the new Code provides that no suit shall be tried, if the same issues are involved in a previously instituted suit. It does not dispense with the institution of a suit within the proper time, when the law requires such institution. 22 B. 640. G

1.—“When..is preferred, the party against whom an order is made.”(1) Party against whom an order had been made.

(a) Where it had not been proved that plaintiff had actually received notice of the terms of the order in the claim-proceedings, he was not a—, within the meaning of this rule, and the order was not conclusive as against him. 25 M. 726=12 M.L.J. 411; 4 M.H.C.R. 472, doubted. H

(b) Where the evidence as to the service of the notice of claim is inconclusive, and the order upon the claim does not show on its face that the judgment-debtor has been a party to the same, such order cannot be said to have been made against the judgment-debtor, within the meaning of this rule, so as to oblige him to bring a suit to set aside the order within a year. 13 M.L.J. 367. I

(c) Where there is no allegation in the plaint that the judgment-debtor was, in fact, a party to the claim-proceedings, he cannot, in point of law, be considered a party to it. 17 M.L.J. 95 (F.B.)=2 M.L.T. 116=30 M. 335; 25 M. 721, R; 16 M.L.J. 136, commented upon. See also 1 N.L.R. 150; 1 C.P.L.R. 3; 7 C.P.L.R. 73, R. J

(2) Different creditors attaching same property.

(a) Where the same property is attached in execution of different decrees, and all the attachments are removed, each creditor is not bound to bring a separate suit. A decree obtained in a suit by one enures to the benefit of all. 12 W.R. 221. K

(b) Where different creditors separately attached the same property, and a claim was preferred against the attachment of some of the creditors and disallowed, while no claim was preferred against the attachment of the other creditors, a suit by the claimant against the other creditors also can be maintained under this rule, although no claim had been made to the goods which they had attached, and no order made disallowing the attachment in their case, the reason being that a claimant is not deprived of his right to sue by r. 58 of this order. 23 B. 266. L

(3) Co-heirs.

Where the plaintiff obtained a money-decree for a debt due from a deceased Muhammadan, against only one of his several heirs, and attached some of his immoveable property, it was open to the transferees of the property, who obtained the transfer from the judgment-debtor before such attachment, to raise the defence that only the rights and interests of the judgment-debtor were liable to attachment, and not the rights and interests of his co-heirs. 23 A. 263=1901 A.W.N. 75; 7 A. 822; 7 A. 36; 12 A. 313, R. M

2.—“May institute a suit.”

1.—Conditions necessary for a suit under this rule.

- (1) In order to maintain a suit under this rule, the plaintiff must prove two things, viz., (1) that the right he puts forward, has been investigated and disallowed, and (2) that the right which he seeks to have declared is still in existence. 17 W.R. 304. N
- (2) An essential condition precedent to a suit under this rule is the making of an attachment of some property; of objection being taken to such attachment; of investigation being made into such objection; and lastly, of its being allowed or disallowed. 10 A. 479. O
- (3) A suit under this rule contesting an order passed under r. 62 of this order, can be brought only when the attaching Court finds, under r. 62, that the property is subject to a mortgage or lien in favour of some person not in possession. If the finding is otherwise, this rule has no application. 1 A.L.J. 531. P

II.—Court-Fees.

- (1) Where a suit is brought under this rule, the proper Court-fee payable on the plaint is Rs. 10, under cl. (1) of Art. 17 of Sch. II of the Court-Fees Act. 7 C.L.J. 36 (P.C.); 9 B. 20, appr.; see also 17 M.L.J. 618. Q
- (2) A suit to set aside an order allowing a claim to attached property and releasing it from attachment is a suit to try the title and establish the right of the person who brings the suit; and such a suit must be valued according to the value of the property, and cannot be brought upon a stamp of Rs. 10, under Art. 17 of Sch. II of the Court Fees Act. 15 B. L.R. Ap. 1=22 W.R. 422; but see 2 A. 63; 6 A. 341; 6 A. 466 and also 4 B. 515; 4 B. 535, infra. R
- (3) A suit brought by a plaintiff after rejection of a claim to attached property for a declaration, that the property belonged to him, was a suit in which consequential relief was asked for, and the ad valorem duty prescribed by Sch. I of the Court Fees Act was payable on the plaint, and not that provided by Sch. II, Art. 17. 13 C. 162; 15 B.L.R. Ap. 1=22 W. R. 422, F. See also 31 C. 511, (13 C. 162; 15 C. 104; 15 B.L.R. Ap. 1, F; 2 A. 720, R); P.R. (No. 80 of 1886, Civil); Civil appeal No. 125 of 1874, F; (No. 84 of 1870, Civil); (No. 167 of 1882, Civil); (No. 97 of 1888, Civil, R). But see 2 A. 63; 1 A. 360, F; 15 B.L.R. Ap. 1 (Diss); 11 B.H.C. 186 and 1 M. 40, D. See also, infra. S
- (4) Decisions as to the removal or retention of attachments are “summary decisions or orders,” within the meaning of Art. 17, Cl. 1, Sch. II of the Court Fees Act (VIII of 1870). 4 B. 515; 11 B.H.C. 186 (Exp.); 4 B. 123 (Diss.); see also 6 A. 341; 4 B. 515; and 2 A. 63, F; 6 A. 466; 6 A. 341, F. T
- (5) The construction given in the Limitation Acts (s.g., Act IX of 1871, Sch. II, Art. 15, and Act XV of 1877, Sch. II, Art. 13) affords no guide to their construction in the Court Fees Act. 4 B. 515. U
- (6) Where a claim to attached property was allowed, and the plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that the property in dispute belonged to his judgment-debtor and was liable to be attached and sold, and the plaint not stating any amount as the value of the claim, bore a Rs. 10 stamp, it was held that the plaint was properly stamped under Sch. II, Art. 17, Cl. 1 of Act VII of 1870, as the suit was one to set aside a summary decision of a Civil Court not established by Letters Patent. 4 B. 585; 51 P.R. 1897; S.C. 225; 10 B. 610, R. V

III—Declaratory suit.

- (1) The claimant may bring a—to establish his right to the property in dispute. 4 B. 529; 11 B.H.C.R. 174; 4 M. 131; 23 A. 60; 16 M. 140; 16 B. 608. W
- (2) A—to establish the claimant's right and to obtain any further relief to which he may be entitled may be brought. 16 B. 608. X
- (3) A plaintiff, besides asking for a declaratory decree, may also pray for any consequential relief. He is not bound to ask for any other relief than a declaratory decree, and an omission to ask for any other relief is no bar under S. 43 of the old Code=O. II, r. 2. L.B.R. Printed Judgments, Judicial Commissioner's Court, 1893—1900, pp. 410, 481. Y

IV.—Estoppel by judgment.

- (1) Where a person objected to the attachment on the ground, that the property was not family property or partible, and his objection was disallowed, and he failed to bring any suit to set aside the order disallowing the objection, within one year from the date of the order, it was held that he was estopped from again pleading that the same property was not family property or partible. 4 M. 302. Z
- (2) Where a claim has been rejected after investigation, the claimant, if he does not contest by suit, will be estopped, afterwards, from pleading adverse possession at the date of the order, in a suit brought to eject him by the decree-holder. 8 M. 506. A
- (3) Where, in a suit brought by a prior mortgagee, a puisne mortgagee was not made a party, and in the execution, he intervened alleging that the land was not liable to be attached and sold, and the Court, while recognising the priority of the decree-holder's lien, gave the second mortgagee an opportunity to discharge the first mortgage, and the second mortgagee failed to do so, it was held that the second mortgagee was estopped from, afterwards, re-asserting his claim. 17 M. 17. B
- (4) Where a claim was rejected, and the claimants did not bring a regular suit, within one year from the date of the order of rejection to establish their right to possession, it was held that the order did not operate as an estoppel against them; and even if it would so operate, it would not do so, until the time had run out, within which they could have brought a suit to establish their right to possession. 11 C. 673. C
- (5) Where a person claimed attached property on the ground that it was not the personal property of his father, but that it was debutter property, and the claim was disallowed, and the appeal by him was also dismissed owing to the decree-holder's objection, that the order disallowing the objection was one under this rule, and not under S. 244 of the old Code=S. 47 of the present Code, it was held, in a suit by the claimant for a declaration, that the property was debutter, that the decree-holder was estopped from saying that it was barred by S. 47 of the present Code. 11 C.W.N. 145. D

V.—Judgment-creditor removing attachment—Necessity for suit.

The object of a claim, which is contemplated by r. 58, is the removal of attachment, and when this attachment is removed by the judgment-creditor's own act, there is no longer any attachment or any proceeding in execution of which the order can operate to the prejudice of the claimant, and, therefore, there is no necessity to bring a suit to set aside the order. 18 B. 241. E

VI.—Limitation.

A.—LIMITATION ACT XV OF 1877, ART. 11, SCH. II.

- (1) Art. 11, Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877, refers only to suits contemplated by O. XXI, r. 63 of the new Code. 12 C. 453. F
- (2) The procedure prescribed by O. XXI, rules 58 to 63 of the new Code must be adopted. 3 M.H.C. 139; 12 C. 108. G
- (3) Where the plaintiff attached certain property, and, on objection by the defendant, the property was released from attachment, the plaintiff was bound to sue in the Civil Court to establish his right, within a year from the date of the order of release. 7 W.R. 456; 5 W.R. 214; 3 M.H.C. 220; 1 A. 541; 1 A. 382, F; 7 C. 608=9 C.L.R. 8; 12 C.L.R. 43; 15 C. 521=L.R. 15 I.A. 123; 17 C. 260; 15 C. 521=15 I.A. 123, R; 27 C. 714; 22 B. 640, R; 24 C. 563; 32 C. 537; 1 C.W.N. 24, D; 15 C. 521=15 I.A. 123, R; 7 N.W.P. 113; 4 B. 21; 4 B. 23 note; 12 B. 231; 18 B. 260; P.R. - (4) Where a claim is rejected on the ground that the claimant has failed to produce evidence, the limitation of one year applies. 20 W.R. 345; 21 W.R. 409; 22 W.R. 39; 24 W.R. 411; 12 C.L.R. 43; 32 C. 537; 1 C.W.N. 24, D; 15 C. 521=15 I.A. 123, R; 1 C.L.J. 296; 20 W.R. 345; 21 W.R. 409; 24 W.R. 411; 12 C.L.R. 43, F; 11 O.C. 130; 1 C.W.N. 24, not F; 15 C. 521; 20 W.R. 345; 21 W.R. 409; 24 W.R. 411; 32 C. 537; 19 A. 253 and 22 B. 875, R. - (5) Where the suit is for a declaration that property, which has been held ostensibly by one of the defendants, is in fact the property of another defendant, who is the judgment-debtor of the plaintiff, the rule of one year will operate. 14 W.R. 192. J
- (6) To hold that the right of an unsuccessful claimant to bring a suit remains suspended for an indefinite period, after the expiration of a year from the date of the order against him, and is liable to be revived by the payment of the amount of the decree, would lead to an uncertainty of title and great inconvenience, and would be inconsistent with the policy of the Legislature in prescribing a short period of limitation for suits by parties, against whom an order has been made in claim-proceedings. 16 M.L.J. 136=29 M. 225. K

B.—THE ONE YEAR'S RULE DOES NOT APPLY,——

- (1) Where the property attached is merely a debt due to the judgment-debtor. 22 W.R. 36. L
- (2) Where the lower Court's decree is on the face of it without jurisdiction. 15 W.R. 311=7 B.L.R. 235. M

VII.—Misjoinder of parties and causes of action.

Where various attachments have been made by different defendants on different dates for different sums, and the plaintiff's objections thereto have been disposed of by separate orders on different dates, a suit brought under this rule by the plaintiff to set aside all the attachments and to declare his right to the property is bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. 43 P.R. 1897. B

2.—“May institute a suit.”—(Continued).

VIII.—Nature of the suits under this rule.

- (1) Suits under this rule, although brought for establishing rights which have been negatived in execution-proceedings, are neither described in the Code nor are dealt with in practice, as appeals from the orders of lower Courts. 12 C. 696. C
- (2) Such suits are substantially suits to all intents and purposes, and must be tried like any other suit subject to the ordinary rules of procedure and evidence. (Ibid). D
- (3) The rule says nothing as to the nature of the suit or the Court in which it is to be brought. Whether the party is to sue in the Civil Court or in the Small Cause Court depends entirely upon the nature of the claim and the right which is sought to be enforced. 7 C. 608=9 C.L.R. 8.E
- (4) A suit brought under this rule is a suit to set aside an order, directing the removal of attachment, and must be determined by ascertaining the rights of the parties at the date of the order. If the defendants have not, at the date of the order, acquired a title to the property by adverse possession for twelve years, the plaintiff is entitled to a decree. 18 B. 260. F
- (5) Where, in a suit brought by the plaintiff, his object was to establish, that there was no redemption, and that the property of the objectors was still under mortgage and was liable to be attached in execution of his decree, to the extent of the mortgage interest, it was held that the suit fell under this rule. 111 P.R. 1900. G

IX.—Onus of proof.

- (1) Where an unsuccessful claimant sues for confirmation of alleged possession and adjudication of title, the onus is on him. 15 W.R. 202; 3 B.L.R.A.C. 70=11 W.R. 422; 25 W.R. 79. H
- (2) Where a claim to attached property was rejected and the claimant sued to establish her right to the property, it was incumbent on her to prove her case. 12 B. 270; 5 B.A.C. 76; S.C. 204; A.W.N. 1887, 71 and 12. B. 270, F; 11 W.R. 454. I
- (3a) Where a claim was disallowed on the ground that the deed relied on by the claimant was fictitious, and the claimant brought a suit for a declaration that the property was not liable to be taken in execution, but did not file the sale-deed or account for its non-production, the onus was on the plaintiff to prove that the sale-deed was not fictitious. 18 A. 369; 12 B. 317, R; see also 7 A.W.N. 71; 19 A.W.N. 220; 8 A. 178 (considered); 7 A.W.N. 71, R; 4 L.B.R. 228; (2 L.B.R. 152, D; 12 B. 270, F); 9 C.P.L.R. 142; 1 C.P.L.R. 59; 6 C.P.L.R. 81; 22 W.R. 124; 15 W.R. 155, R. J
- (3b) Where a person objects to an attachment and fails, and is, consequently, obliged to bring a suit under this rule, he must give prima facie evidence to establish the genuineness of the document upon which he relies. A.W.N. (1908), 125=30 A. 321; A.W.N. (1887), 71; A.W.N. (1889), 220; 18 A. 369 and 12 B. 270, F; 8 A. 178, disc. See also 5 A.L.J. 358; A.W.N. 1887, p. 71; A.W.N. (1899), p. 220; 18 A. 369;

(3c) In a suit under this rule, the onus of proof is not affected by the summary order under rr. 60, 61 or 62. U.B.R. (1905), First Quarter, pp. 16-17. L

(4) Where a plaintiff alleged that the sale-deed, on which the defendant relied, was fraudulent and void, the onus was on him to show that the deed was not bona fide. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 71, note=10 W.R. 321. M

(5) Where the defendant alleged that the plaintiff's assignment was fraudulent, the onus was on him to prove that the transaction was not bona fide. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 73 note; 15 W.R. 155. N

(6) Where a suit is brought by a person to establish his right to attach property, the onus is on him to prove that the property is the property of the judgment-debtor. The defendant, who defends such a suit, may rely on the title of a third person. 17 B. 94; 6 C.P.L.R. 81; 12 B. 270, F. O

(7) In a suit by the plaintiff praying for his right of ownership and possession, which was menaced by the defendant's decree and sale, the onus was on the defendant to show that he had an equitable right which he could assert against the plaintiff. 12 B.L.R. 66 note=10 W.R. 199. P

(8) Where, in a suit to establish title, unsuccessfully asserted in an execution-case, to property sold in satisfaction of a decree, the plaintiff claims under a gift and other titles originating with the judgment-debtor, it is not sufficient for the plaintiff merely to make out a prima facie case, but he is bound to satisfy the Court of the genuine bona fide nature of the transfer. 11 W.R. 454. Q

(9) Where, on a claim to certain goods, the Court ordered them to be released from attachment, and the claimants sued to recover the value of the goods, it was held that the defendant was not debarred by that order, or by the law of limitation from disputing the plaintiff's right to the goods, and the plaintiffs were bound to prove their right to entitle themselves to a decree, the miscellaneous order not being conclusive proof of their right, and still less such an adjudication on the question as precluded a re-adjudication of it. 7 N.W.P. 85. R

(10) The plaintiff, in a suit under this rule, is neither in a better nor in a worse position than he was as a claimant in the summary proceeding. It is sufficient for him to adduce evidence of possession or title. If he shows that he is in possession, S. 110 of the Evidence Act throws the burden of proof on the defendant. U.B.R. (1905), Civil Procedure Code, 16; U.B.R. (1904), Civil Pro. Code, p. 8. But see U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, p. 270. S

(11) The plaintiff will succeed upon proof of possession by him at the time of attachment, if the decree-holder does not prove that he held in trust for the judgment-debtor, or that the attached property is the property of the judgment-debtor. 2 L.B.R. 152. T

X.—Parties to suit, under this rule.

- (1) In a suit under this rule, the judgment-debtor is a necessary party. 1901 A.W.N. 14. But see 28 A. 41=A.W.N. (1905), 172=2 A.L.J. 491. U
- (2) In a suit by a third party to establish his right to the property, the decree-holder who attached it may be made a defendant. (176), Select case, Part X, No. 40. V

XI.—Regular suit.

- (1) A—to set aside a summary order is against general principles and lies only when the power is expressly conferred, as under this rule. 14 W.R. 340. W
- (2) In the case of such a suit, the party, against whom the order was made, must assert substantially the same right as that which has been contended for in the execution. 2-B.L.R.A.C. 212=11 W.R. 40. X
- (3) A claimant or an objector is at liberty to bring a—and r. 58 of this order does not exclude his right to bring such a suit. 18 A. 410; 7 A. 583 (considered). Y
- (4) A—would lie, whether there has been an application under this rule or not, and it was immaterial whether the order of the Court had been or ought to have been one dismissing the application for default, or one deciding it on the merits that the attachment was to be withdrawn or maintained. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, Civil, p. 267. Z

XII.—Possession, proof of—Failure—Dismissal.

A plaintiff's failure to prove his possession at the time of the institution of the suit is not sufficient for its dismissal. The question of title must be tried according to the meaning of this rule. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 108=11 W.R. 482. A

XIII.—“Res Judicata.”

- (1) Where a claim under r. 58 is allowed and a suit by the judgment-creditor to set aside the order and establish his right to sell the property as that of the judgment-debtor fails, the adjudication is not res judicata between the successful claimant and another creditor who attaches the property for his decree. 15 M. 477=2 M.L.J. 212. B
- (2) A judgment-creditor attaches the debtor's property not as the privy or the representative of the debtor, but by virtue of an inherent right to attach property really belonging to the debtor. (Ibid.) C
- (3) Where a claimant does not bring a suit within one year to set aside an adverse order passed against him in the claim proceedings, the order is res judicata against him in subsequent proceedings. 14 M.L.J. 14=27 M. 361. D
- (4) Where a decree-holder attaches certain property and an objection is made by a third person and the property is released from attachment, and no suit is brought by the decree-holder, the order releasing the property becomes conclusive and operates as res judicata between such third person and the decree-holder. The decree-holder, cannot, by a fresh attachment under another decree of his against the same judgment-debtor, re-open the question. 8 O.C. 306. E
- (5) The order passed in the first case so far as the decree-holder is concerned operates as res judicata against him in the second case as well. 8 O.C. 306; 3 O.C. 229; 21 A. 29; 14 M.L.A. 496; 21 A. 238; 16 M. 290; 26 A. 282, R. F

2.—“May institute a suit.”—(Continued).

XIV.—Satisfaction of decree—Release of property.

Where a person's property is wrongly attached in execution of a decree against another person, and a claim preferred by him under r. 58 is rejected, and he brings a suit under this rule, the objection to such suit, viz., that previously to the filing thereof, the decree was satisfied and the property released from attachment, is not a valid objection. 9 C. 10=11 C.L.R. 181. G

XV.—Small Cause Court.

A.—PRINCIPLE.

- (a) The rule enables a party to bring a suit to establish his rights, whatever they may be, but it says nothing as to the nature of the suit or the Court in which it is to be brought. Whether the party is to sue in the Civil Court or in the Small Cause Court depends entirely upon the nature of the claim and the right which is sought to be enforced, 7 C. 608=9 C.L.R. 8.
- (b) Where goods have been illegally seized and sold in execution, a suit by the owner against the purchaser for the goods or their value will lie in a Small Cause Court, if the value of the goods is within the amount limited by law for the jurisdiction of such Court; but if the plaintiff makes the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor parties to the suit and requires a declaration of his right to property, such a suit will not lie in the Small Cause Court. (Ibid.) I

B.—EXAMPLES.

- (1) A—had no jurisdiction to entertain a suit by the decree-holder to establish his judgment-debtor's title to the property, which had been released from attachment on the application of a claimant. 1 B.L.R.S.N. 10=10 W.R. 141; P.R. (No. 84 of 1870, Civil); (P.R. No. 72 of 1868, Civil), Exp. See also 68 P.R. 1889; 51 P.R. 1890. But see 2 B. 365; 3 B. 179; 3 N.W.P. 155, 3 N.W.P. 156 note; 5 M.H.C. 191; 23 B. 266. J
- (2) A suit by an unsuccessful claimant to establish his right to personal property and to recover the value of the same is not cognizable by a Small Cause Court, 13 W.R. 99; 18 W.R. 337; 2 W.R. 44; 2 W.R.S. C.C. Ref. 5; 51 P.R. 1890. K
- (3) A suit by a party, against whom an order had been passed under r. 61, to establish his right to moveable property attached in execution of a decree passed by a Civil Court, was not cognizable in a Court of Small Causes. 5 A. 462; 4 A. 416; 5 O.C. 190; S.C. 89; 7 A. 152, R. L
- (4) Where a claim had been disallowed and the claimant sued the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor in a Court of Small Causes for the property or its value, it was held that the suit could not properly be regarded as a suit “for personal property or for the value of such property,” within the meaning of Act XI of 1865, but had to be regarded as a suit to establish the plaintiff's right in the sense of this rule, and, therefore, it was not cognizable in a Court of Small Causes. 7 A. 152; 5 M.H.C. 191; 8 M.H.C. 36; 3 B. 179; 4 B. 503; 4 B. 505 note and 3 N.W.P. 155, disc. See also 6 B.H.C.A.C. 27; 9 M. 206; 11 M. 264; 7 C. 608=9 C.L.R. 8; 1 B.L.R.S.N. 10=10 W.R. 141; 13 W.R. 99; 2 W.R. 44, disc. and exp. M

XVI.—Splitting cause of action—Suit by mortgagee—Subsequent suit for possession.

Where, in the execution of a decree against the mortgagor, the mortgagee intervened unsuccessfully and then instituted a suit under this rule, it was held that he was not bound in that suit to ask for possession, and any subsequent suit for possession was not barred by S. 43 of the old Code=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code. 29 P.R. 1891. P

XVII.—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction of Court.

- (1) If the execution debt exceeds the value of the property, the latter is the value of the suit, and if the execution debt is less than the value of the property, the former is the value of the suit. 7 C.L.J. 36 (P.C.). Q
- (2) (a) The general rule is, that when the amount of the decree exceeds the value of the property sought to be sold, the latter is the value of the suit, but when the value of the property attached exceeds the amount sought to be realized, the value of the suit is the value of so much of the property sought to be sold, as will, on sale, satisfy the amount sought to be realized by sale of such property. 2 A.L.J. 115=A.W.N. (1905), 37=27 A. 440; 17 A. 69 (Exp.); 2 N.L.R. 87; 15 C. 104; 31 C. 511; 17 A. 69 and 27 A. 440, R; 17 M.L.J. 95 (F.B.)=2 M.L.T. 116=30 M. 835; 17 A. 69, D. See also 1 L.B.R. 1=Civil Second Appeal No. 241 of 1899. R
- (b) Where a decree was for a sum much below Rs. 1,000 and the value of the property attached exceeded that sum, and the Munsiff returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court on the ground that the value of the suit was beyond his jurisdiction, it was held that the Court had jurisdiction to try the suit, since the decree was for a sum less than Rs. 1,000, the jurisdictional limit of the Court. (Ibid). S
- (3) There are three possible classes of suits under this rule :—
- (a) When property attached has been released on objection, suit by decree-holder for a declaration that the property is liable to attachment.
- (b) When property attached has not been released, the objection being disallowed, suit by the objector against the decree-holder to declare the property not liable, the judgment-debtor siding with the objector, and not claiming the property as his own.
- (c) When property attached has not been released, the objection being disallowed, suit by the objector against the decree-holder to declare the property not liable, the judgment-debtor resisting the suit and claiming the property as his own, and the plaint asserting that this is judgment-debtor's attitude.

In class (a) the value for purposes of jurisdiction is the decretal amount.

In class (b) also the value is the decretal amount.

XVII.—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction of Court—(Concluded).

In class (c) the value is the value of the property. 74 P.W.R. (1908) (F.B.) ; 121 P.R. 1890 ; 55 P.R. 1906 ; 142 P.R. 1906 and 15 C. 104, approved and distinguished ; 17 A. 69, F. and 2 A. 799, criticised. See also 71 P.L.R. (1906) = 55 P.R. (1906), 11 A. 799, F. T

- (4) A Township Court has jurisdiction to try a suit, brought under this rule, to assert the same right which a Sub-divisional Court had disallowed under r. 61. In such a suit the jurisdiction of the Court is determined by the amount in dispute, and not by the amount of the decree in execution of which the property had been attached. U.B.R. 1903, Fourth Quarter, 1. U

3.—“To establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute.”

(1) General.

- (a) The words “right which the plaintiff claims to the property in dispute,” in this rule mean the right claimed in that proceeding in respect of the property, that is, the right to have it sold or the right to have it released from attachment. They do not mean the right or title to the property. The three rules, 58, 61 and 63 must be read together. 3 C.L.J. 381 ; 15 C. 674 and 31 C. 228, F. Y

- (b) Where an unsuccessful claimant got the property released from attachment by coming to terms with the decree-holders, without notice to the judgment-debtors, a suit subsequently brought by him against the judgment-debtors for recovery of possession is not barred by this rule. (Ibid). W

(2) Right of suit.

- (a) A decree-holder has a statutory right of suit to establish his right by instituting a suit under this rule, where he has attached the property of an insolvent-debtor and another person has successfully claimed it. The official assignee is not a necessary party to such a suit. 4 M.L.T. 197 = 31 M. 347 ; 17 M.L.J. 618, R. and F. ; 3 B. 438, D. ; see also 7 M. 295 ; 5 M. 183, overruled ; 4 L.B.R. 252 ; 23 B. 266, R. X

- (b) An unsuccessful claimant in execution-proceedings has a right of suit under this rule. 7 C. 608 = 9 C.L.R. 8 ; 14 Bur. L.R. 185. Y

- (c) The owner of property attached in execution of a decree may either object and then bring a regular suit for declaration of his title in case the objection is disallowed, or pay the decree-holder and then bring a suit for damages. (1878) Select case, Part X, No. 41 ; 3 A. 504. Z

- (d) A plaintiff need not wait until the attached house is sold, before he sues under this rule. (178) Select Case, Part X, No. 40. A

- (e) A person is under no necessity to bring a suit to establish his right, where his objection to attached property has been dismissed for default. 62 P.R. 1894 ; 12 C.L.R. 43, D. ; 3 A. 504, cited. B

- (f) Where a mortgagor and one of his sons mortgaged the family property, and the mortgagee, in the execution of his decree, was obstructed by the other sons and was referred by the Court to bring a regular suit, it was held that a suit by the mortgagee against all the sons to establish the lien over the mortgaged property could lie. 9 C. 888 = 12 C.L.R. 574 ; 10 B.L.R. 200 and Dhoke v. Hurry Prosad, unreported, D. C

3.—“To establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute”
—(Concluded).

- (g) The effect of a successful suit at the instance of the attaching creditor is to set aside the order of release and to restore the state of things which it had disturbed. 21 W.R. 435 ; 23 C. 829. D

(3) Right of suit—Not personal.

The right of suit conferred by this rule is not a personal right confined to the claimant alone, but extends also to his representative in interest. 26 A. 89. E

(4) Specific Relief Act, S. 42, Proviso.

- (a) In a suit for a declaration, that land attached and sold in execution of a decree at the instance of the defendant was the property of the plaintiff and not liable to attachment, where no application for removal of attachment was made under r. 58, it was held that the proviso to S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act did not apply and the suit was, therefore, not barred. 4 L.B.R. 263 ; 1 L.B.R. 1 ; 4 L.B.R. 88 ; 4 L.B.R. 75, R.F.
- (b) The special right of suit conferred by this rule is not controlled by the proviso to S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, 29 M. 151 ; 16 M. 140, doubted ; 14 M. 23, at p. 25, F. But see 1 O.C. 272 ; 5 O.C. 304 ; 1 O.C. 272, R. See also L.B.R., Printed Judgments, Judicial Commissioner's Court, 1893—1900, pp. 410, 481. G

(5) Wrongful attachment—Damages.

- (a) Where a claimant objected to the attachment of certain moveable property, and his objection was struck off for default of prosecution, it was held that such a person might sue for damages for the wrongful attachment, without suing to establish the right he claimed to the property. 3 A. 405 = 1 A.W.N. 14. H
- (b) The omission to apply for compensation, under S. 88, Act VIII of 1859, does not bar a regular suit for compensation for illegal attachment. 1 Agra Rep. A.C. 104. I
- (c) There is nothing in the provisions of the Code, which limits a plaintiff's right to compensation or the defendant's responsibility for his wrongful act ; and if the summary procedure leads to delay, and that delay to further loss, the consequences must fall upon the defendant. 12 C. 696 ; 17 C. 436. J
- (d) Where the attachment is wrongful, a suit to recover costs in unsuccessfully objecting to it, will lie, and the plaintiff need not prove in such a suit that the defendant acted maliciously or without probable cause, in making the attachment or resisting the application for its removal. U.B.R. (1905), First Quarter, pp. 18—22 ; U.B.R. (1904), First Quarter, pp. 4—7. K

4.—“Subject to the result of such suit.”

- (1) Where property has been released from attachment, and subsequently declared liable to attachment by a decree against which an appeal is pending, a sale of such property before the final result of the appeal is not illegal. 6 M. 98. L

4.—“Subject to the result of such suit.”—(Concluded).

- (2) Where a suit was brought under this rule for a declaration, that certain property was the property of the plaintiff and, therefore, not liable to be sold in execution, and the suit was dismissed and the plaintiff appealed, it was held that the doctrine of lis pendens applied to the auction-purchaser of the property and that he took it subject to the result of the appeal, which was pending at the time when the property was sold. 23 A. 60 ; 8 C. 690 ; 21 W.R.C.R. 349 ; 2 A. 828 and 12 M.L.A. 366, R.M

5.—“The order shall be conclusive.”

- (1) Where an order has been passed, it is conclusive unless the unsuccessful party asserts his right by a suit. 9 B. 35 ; 1 A. 381 ; 14 B. 372 ; 10 M. 357, 361 ; 27 C. 714, 722. N
- (2) The conclusiveness is only as regards the particular property in dispute. 14 B. 206. O
- (3) The conclusiveness is subject to the other provisions of the Code, such as review and revision. 7 W.R. 79 ; 8 M. 484, 493. P
- (4) Where a Court finds under r. 62 of this order that there is no mortgage or lien subsisting on the attached property, the order embodying such finding does not become conclusive. 1 A.L.J. 531. Q
- (5) The effect of a decree affirming the right of the intervenor to the property attached as that of the judgment-debtor has the effect of declaring the execution-proceedings against such property null and void, as if they had never been in so far as they have transferred possession of the property to any one else. U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. II, Civil, pp. 255, 256.R

Sale generally.

64. Any Court¹ executing a decree may order that any pro-

Power to order property attached to be sold and proceeds to be paid to person entitled.

erty attached² by it and liable to sale, or such portion thereof as may seem necessary to satisfy the decree, shall be sold³, and that the proceeds of such sale, or a sufficient portion thereof, shall be paid to the party entitled under the decree to receive the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 284 of the old Code and also to S. 242 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The words “executing a decree” are newly added after the word “Court.” The clause “which has been attached,” has been removed and the words “attached by it and liable to sale” are newly added.

1.—“Any Court.”

Jurisdiction.

- (a) S. 285 of the old Code=S. 68 of the present Code, does not take away the —conferred by this rule. 6 C.L.J. 180=34 C. 896. S

- (b) Where the same property is under attachment by two Courts of different grades, as by the Court of the lower grade is not a nullity. (Ibid).T

1.—“Any Court.”—(Concluded).

- (c) Whether an order under S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act is necessary or not, the Court has general jurisdiction to direct sale either under this rule or under S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act or under the two together. Such execution accords with the cursus curiae. 6 C.L.J. 95=11 C.W.N. 879=34 C. 886. U

2.—“Any property attached.”

The words “any property attached” do not include a decree for money, which cannot be sold. 16 B. 522; 2 A. 290; 6 M. 418; 20 C. 111; 12 C. 317.V

3.—“Shall be sold.”

Effect of sale.

When a sale takes place, all previous attachments effected on the property fall to the ground. 12 C. 317. W

65. Save as otherwise prescribed, every sale in execution of a decree shall be conducted by an officer of the Court or by such other person as the Court may appoint¹ in this behalf, and shall be made by public auction in manner prescribed.

Sales by whom conducted and how made.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 286 of the old Code and also to S. 248 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

The words “save as otherwise prescribed” are new. For the phrase “sales in execution of decrees,” the phrase “every sale in execution of a decree” is substituted, and the words “such” and “as” stand for the words “any” and “whom” of the old section. The phrase “in this behalf” is newly added after the word “appoint” while the phrase “except as provided in S. 296,” and the word “hereinafter,” are omitted. The word “mentioned” is changed into “prescribed.”

1.—“Such other person as the Court may appoint.”

- (a) The words “whom the Court may appoint,” in Act VIII of 1859, S. 248, apply not only to the words “any other person” but also the officers of the Court. 12 W.R. 233. X
- (b) In the case of postponement of sale, if the information has not reached the Nazir in time and he sells the property, the sale is void. 12 A. 96. Y

66. (1) Where any property is ordered to be sold by public auction in execution of a decree, the Court shall cause a proclamation of the intended sale to be made in the language of such Court¹.

Proclamation of sales by public auc

(2) Such proclamation shall be drawn up after notice to the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor and shall state the time and place of sale², and specify as fairly and accurately as possible—

(a) the property to be sold³;

(b) the revenue assessed upon the estate or part of the estate, where the property to be sold is an interest in an estate or in part of an estate paying revenue to the Government⁴;

(c) any incumbrance to which the property is liable⁵;

(d) the amount for the recovery of which the sale is ordered ;
and

(e) every other thing which the Court considers material for a purchaser to know in order to judge of the nature and value of the property⁶.

(3) Every application for an order for sale under this rule shall be accompanied by a statement signed and verified in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the signing and verification of pleadings and containing, so far as they are known to or can be ascertained by the person making the verification, the matters required by sub-rule (2) to be specified in the proclamation.

(4) For the purpose of ascertaining the matters to be specified in the proclamation, the Court may summon any person whom it thinks necessary to summon and may examine him in respect to any such matters and require him to produce any document in his possession or power relating thereto.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 287 of the old Code and also to S. 249 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

The word "when" is changed into "where" in sub-rule (1). The words "shall be drawn up after notice to the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor" are newly added after the word "proclamation" in sub-rule (2). The word "in" is substituted for the word "a," before the phrase "part of an estate paying revenue...." in sub-rule (2) (b). The words "a purchaser" are substituted for the words "the purchaser" in sub-rule (2) (e). Sub-rule (3) is new. The word "so" is omitted after the word "matters" in sub-rule (4), and the words "in the proclamation," are newly added after the word "specified," while the words "to summon" are added after the word "necessary."

4.—“The revenue assessed upon the estate..revenue to the Government.”(1) Omission to state Government tax.

The—in a proclamation of intended sale is a material irregularity. 23 M. 628. M

(2) Part of an estate.

The term—in S. 248 of the Act of 1859, which corresponds to this rule, meant the aliquot part of an estate. 11 B.L.R. 56=19 W.R. 434. N

(3) Revenue assessed.

The omission to state the revenue is an irregularity; but the objection must be taken before the first Court when seeking to set aside the sale. 9 C. 656; 23 M. 628. O

5.—“Any incumbrance..liable.”(1) Any incumbrance.

The amount of mortgage-debt unpaid must be stated in the case of a mortgage. 7 C. 34, 41, and 42. P

(2) Auction-purchaser—Notice of lien to.

(a) Where a judgment-creditor brings a suit to enforce his lien on the property in the hands of the auction-purchaser, it lies upon the plaintiff, to entitle him to recover in the suit, to show that the defendants have purchased with notice of the lien. 10 C. 609. Q

(b) The fact that, at some time or other, the judgment-creditor informed the Court of the mortgage is not evidence of notice on the auction-purchaser. (Ibid). See also 15 M. 412. R

(3) Claims.

—admitted by parties or established by the decree of a Court must be entered in the proclamation as charges upon the property. 18 B. 175. S

(4) Omission to disclose lien.

(a) An omission to insert a mortgage in the sale proclamation, does not affect the interests of the mortgagee. 3 L.B.R. 275. T

(b) Where there was an——on the part of the person who applied for execution, it was held that the purchaser, if he supposed that he was purchasing the full proprietary title, purchased the property free of the mortgagee's lien. 22 B. 686. U

(c) The effect of this rule and S. 237 of the old Code=r. 13 of this order is to impose a duty on the person applying for execution to disclose to the Court his own lien (which he must know of), in his application for sale, and on the Court the duty of specifying the same in the proclamation. 22 B. 686; 12 B. 678; 5 B. 2; 5 B. 5; 20 B. 290, R. Y

(d) An absence of specifying the incumbrance may amount to a material irregularity avoiding the sale. 6 C.W.N. 836. W

(e) It is unnecessary to specify in the sale-proclamation a charge to which the property would not be subject in the hands of a purchaser after sale. No. 80 P.R. 1399. X

5.—“Any Incumbrance...liable”—(Concluded).

(5) San-mortgage—Registration of sale-certificate.

If the Court sells the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor subject to all existing equities against the property sold, the registration of the sale certificate cannot enlarge the scope of that conveyance and discharge the property free from any unregistered encumbrance which was binding on the judgment-debtor. 6 B. 193; 6 B. 168; 6 B. 495. Y

6.—“Every other thing....material.....to judge of the nature and value of the property.”

(1) Duty of the Court.

(a) It is the—to ascertain all that it considers material for the intending purchaser to know in order to judge of the nature and value of the property proclaimed for sale. 4 B.H.C. 328. Z

(b) If the property, which is the subject of sale, is a debt, and the Court receives notice from the judgment-debtor that no debt exists, the Court should satisfy itself as to the existence or otherwise, of the debt, and if it finds that no debt exists, should abstain from proceeding to sale. (Ibid). A

(c) It is the—to secure the accuracy of the information contained in the proclamation. 1901 A.W.N. 671; see also 8 C.W.N. 257; 25 I.A. 146; 15 I.A. 171 (relied on). B

(d) It is the—, before it proceeds to execute a mortgage-decree, to examine the mortgagor and the mortgagee and ascertain whether the mortgaged property is subject to any other incumbrance. (Per Prinsep, J.) 7 C.W.N. 766=80 C. 607 (F.B.) C

(e) It is the—, if the property to be sold is held in occupancy tenure, to notify the fact in the sale-proclamation as a warning to prospective bidders. 27 A. 684=1905 A.W.N. 138=2 A.L.J. 401 (F.B.); 1892 A.W.N. 5, F.D

(f) It is the—not to enquire into the merits of an alleged mortgage further than is necessary under this rule. 3 L.B.R. 275. E

(2) Material fact.

An under-statement of the value of the property stated in a proclamation, on account of which the sale resulted in an inadequate price, is a material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. 20 A. 412=25 I.A. 146=2 C.W.N. 560; see also 28 M. 568. F

(3) Proclamation.

The—and notification under this rule are intended to inform persons what is to be sold and to give the names of the parties, defendants, whose rights and interests in it are to be sold. 18 W.R. 56. G

(4) Proclamation—Enquiry as to approximate value—Necessity.

(a) It cannot be laid down generally that in no case should any enquiry be held as to the value of the judgment-debtor's property before issuing the sale-proclamation. 12 C.W.N. 542. H

(b) Where the decree-holder states a certain value and the judgment-debtor objects stating that the value is far higher, in the face of this discrepancy in the value, an enquiry as to the approximate value is obviously necessary and must be held. 12 C.W.N. 542; 31 C. 922, 923. (see also 8 C.W.N. 264=31 C. 922.) I

6.—“Every other thing....material..to judge of the nature and value of the property.”—(Concluded).

(5) Profits of land.

The—to be sold must be specified in the sale-proclamation. 4 O.C. 329. J

(6) Rules by High Court—Notification of arrears of rent.

The rules made by the High Court under this rule make it obligatory on the decree-holder to notify the arrears of rent in respect of the property to be sold, although there is no express provision in the Code of Civil Procedure casting such a duty on him. 5 C.W.N. 497. K

(7) Sale of permanent tenant's rights—Mentioning incidents of tenure in sale-proclamation.

Where the rights of a permanent tenant are sold, the sale-proclamation need not mention the ordinary incidents of tenure, but all unusual incidents and purely personal covenants must be mentioned; otherwise the auction-purchaser will not be bound. 7 C.W.N. 203=30 C. 213. L

(8) Upset price.

An—need not be specified in the sale-proclamation. 28 C. 73 at 77. M

67. (1) Every proclamation shall be made and published, as nearly as may be, in the manner prescribed by Mode of making proclamation. rule 54, sub-rule (2).¹

(2) Where the Court so directs, such proclamation shall also be published in the local official Gazette or in a local newspaper, or in both, and the costs of such publication shall be deemed to be costs of the sale.

(3) Where property is divided into lots for the purpose of being sold separately, it shall not be necessary to make a separate proclamation for each lot, unless proper notice of the sale cannot, in the opinion of the Court, otherwise be given ².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 289 of the old Code and also to S. 249 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to the first para of S. 289, the words “and a copy thereof..fixed up..Court-house..Collector's office” being omitted. In sub-rule (2), the word “where” stands for “if,” and the word “directs” for the word “direct.” The phrase “and in some local newspaper” is substituted by the phrase “or in a local newspaper or in both.” Sub-rule (3) is new.

1.—“Every proclamation..published..by r. 54, sub-rule (2).”(1) Distinct properties—Proclamation of sale.

Where distinct properties are proclaimed for sale in one execution, the omission to affix a copy of the proclamation in each of such properties amounts to an irregularity in the publication of the sale. 11 C. 74. But see 12 B. 368. N

(2) Omission to beat drum.

The—as required by this rule and r. 54, supra, of this order is a material irregularity vitiating a sale. 10 B. 504. O

(3) Proclamation, publication of.

(a) A copy of the sale-proclamation should be affixed to some conspicuous place on the attached property. Omission to do so is a material irregularity within the meaning of r. 90, infra. 7 C. 466=9 C.L.R. 114. P

(b) Where the sale-proclamation was not fixed up in the Collector's Office and no affidavit was filed showing the incumbrances to which the property was subject as required by r. 66, sub-rule (2) (c), and the sale also was held on the thirtieth day from the publication of notice, it was held that the sale could not be set aside as no substantial injury resulted from such irregularities. 8 C. 932; see also 18 C. 422. Q

2.—“Where property is divided into lots...., it shall not be necessaryseparate proclamation....otherwise be given.”Property broken up into lots—Separate proclamation.

(a) The law does not require a separate proclamation of sale with reference to each lot, where property is divided into a number of small lots. 12 B. 368. R

(b) But, where estates are situated at such a distance that there is no moral certainty of communication to persons interested in the one, of what is publicly done in the other, there should be a separate proclamation in each, in order that full intimation may be given of what is to be done. (Ibid). But see 11 C. 74. S

68. Save in the case of property of the kind described in the proviso to rule 43, no sale hereunder shall, without the consent in writing of the judgment-debtor, take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days in the case of immoveable property, and of at least fifteen days in the case of moveable property, calculated from the date on which the copy of the proclamation has been affixed on the court-house of the Judge ordering the sale¹.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 290 of the old Code and also to S. 249 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

The word “except” is changed into “save,” and the phrase “of the kind” is newly inserted after the word “property.” The word “mentioned” is changed into “described,” while the words “S. 269” are changed into “r. 43.” The phrase “under this chapter” is changed into the word “hereunder,” while the words “fixed up in” have been changed into “affixed on.”

1.—“ Save as.... r. 43, no sale.....ordering the sale.”

(1) Non-compliance with provisions.

- (a) The—contained in this rule is a material irregularity within the meaning of r. 90, infra. But its effect is not to make the sale a nullity without proof of substantial injury to the judgment-debtor. 21 C. 66=20 I. A. 176; see, also, 31 C. 385; 21 C. 70=20 I.A. 165; 21 C. 66=20 I.A. 176, R. But see 7 A. 289; 9 A. 511; 14 C. 1; 7 A. 289, R. T
- (b) It is a material irregularity for the proclamation to be published less than thirty days prior to a sale in execution of a decree, and where damage has resulted, the sale may be set aside. 11 C.L.R. 303; 8 C.L.R. 369=7 C. 34, F; 4 A. 300, contra. U
- (c) An infringement of the provisions contained in this rule is an irregularity vitiating a sale. 7 A. 289; see, also, 9 A. 511; 14 C. 1; 7 A. 289, R. V
- (d) A sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree, which takes place before the expiry of thirty days, without the consent of the judgment-debtor, is an irregularity which amounts to an illegality, and the judgment-debtor can apply to set it aside, without proving substantial injury. 11 A. 333; see contra (per Brodhurst, J) in 11 A. 333. W
- (e) Where the time of sale was not specified as required by this rule, the sale was void. P.R. No. 76 of 1890. X

(2) Consent.

An application by the judgment-debtor, on the day of sale, that a part only of his property may be sold instead of the entirety cannot be considered such a—as will do away with the provisions of this rule. 5 C. 259=4 C.L.R. 23; 5 C. 878. Y

69. (1) The Court may, in its discretion, adjourn any sale hereunder to a specified day and hour, and the officer conducting any such sale may in his discretion adjourn the sale, recording his reasons for such adjournment¹:

Provided that, where the sale is made in, or within the precincts of, the court-house, no such adjournment shall be made without the leave of the Court².

(2) Where a sale is adjourned under sub-rule (1) for a longer period than seven days, a fresh proclamation under rule 67 shall be made, unless the judgment-debtor consents to waive it³.

(3) Every sale shall be stopped if, before the lot is knocked down, the debt and costs (including the costs of the sale) are tendered to the officer conducting the sale, or proof is given to his satisfaction that the amount of such debt and costs has been paid into the Court which ordered the sale⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 291 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the words "under this chapter" are changed into "hereunder," and the phrase "other than a sale by the Collector" is omitted. The word "whenever" is changed into "where," and the words "sub-rule (1), and r. 67" are substituted for the words "under this section," and "S. 289" respectively in sub-rule (2). The word "such" is omitted after the word "every." The words "such officer" are re-placed by the words "the officer conducting the sale," and the words "that ordered" are substituted by the words "which ordered," in sub-rule (3).

(General).

Appeal.

An order for stay of sale of mortgaged properties in execution of a mortgage-decree is an order virtually for stay of execution, within the meaning of S. 244 (= S. 47 of the present Code) and an—lies from such an order. 31 C. 373. But see 8 A.W.N. 71. Z

(4) Indefinite postponement.

(a) An—cannot be regarded as an adjournment from day to day and a fresh notice should fix another date for the sale. 25 W.R. 328. E

(b) If, in consequence of an—, an estate has been sold for an inadequate price, the irregularity is one that has occasioned substantial injury. (Ibid). F

(5) Order for postponement of sale.

Where the Court passes an—, a sale cannot be held notwithstanding and the Court can set aside the sale, on the ground of irregularity. 6 N.W.P. 354; 4 N.W.P. 135; 2 A. 686. G

2.—"Provided that, where the sale....within the precincts of the Court-house....no adjournment....without the leave of the Court."

A sale within Court's precincts cannot be adjourned without the leave of the Court and a sale so held after such adjournment, must be set aside as irregular under r. 90, infra, if, in consequence of such irregularity, the property has been sold for an undervalue. 12 M.L.J. 97. H

3.—“Where a sale..for a longer period than seven days, a fresh proclamation....consents to waive it.”

(1) Adjournment.

- (a) Where there is a series of short adjournments less than seven days, which taken together amount to more than seven days, a fresh proclamation is necessary. 6 C.W.N. 144; 11 C. 558. I
- (b) Under rules of the High Court, Courts must proceed with sales from day to day and as each property is taken up in its turn, an——of the sale of a particular property, which is the consequence of such procedure, is not an——and there is no irregularity in such a case. 17 C. 152. J

(2) Fresh proclamation.

- (a) When a sale is postponed, a——must issue. 6 W.R. Mis. 84; 3 C. 542=1 C.L.R. 349; 3 W.R. Mis. 11. K
- (b) But a——is not necessary, when the sale is fixed for the eighth and the order for the postponement to the ninth is made in open Court. 18 W.R. 347. L
- (c) If there is no order for postponement, and the sale, which is fixed for a certain day, is delayed, there is a prima facie case of injury to the judgment-debtor. 2 N.W.P. 143; see also 6 C.L.R. 237. M
- (d) When the stay of proceedings is removed, a——ought to be issued under the terms of this rule. Where it has not been issued, the judgment-debtor's remedy is to object to the confirmation of sale and not to impeach the sale by a regular suit. 9 Bom.L.R. 83 (P.C.)=2 M.L.T. 47=5 C.L.J. 138=11 C.W.N. 393=17 M.L.J. 112=29 A. 196. N
- (e) The omission to issue a——is only an irregularity, and if it involves no loss to the judgment-debtor, the sale cannot be set aside. (Ibid.) O
- (f) The omission to issue a——after a sale has been adjourned, when it has not been waived is such a material violation of the prescribed procedure that it vitiates the sale. (P.R. No. 45 of 1886, Civil) (P.R. No. 45 of 1886, Civil, note). P

(3) Waiver.

- (a) Whether there has been a—or not of the rights of a judgment-debtor to object to a sale, and to what extent they may have been waived, depend upon the circumstances of each case. 11 C.W.N. 848=6 C.L.J. 62. Q
- (b) A judgment-debtor's application for an adjournment of the sale ‘without issue of a fresh proclamation and beat of drum’ does not amount to a——preventing him from applying to set aside the sale, on the adjourned date, provided that he has been ignorant of the non-posting of the proclamation on the various properties. 6 C.W.N. 24; 31 A. 230; 15 I.A. 171, R; see, also, 6 C.W.N. 48, at 57. R
- (c) Such a——does not amount to a——of any fraud practised upon the judgment-debtor. (Ibid.) S
- (d) Where a guardian in applying for adjournment waived his right to a fresh proclamation, and only a month's adjournment was granted, and a sale was held, he could not say that this waiver was conditional on two months' adjournment being given. 28 C. 73. T
- (e) The——by a judgment-debtor does not indicate a waiver of the non-specification of the hour of the day to which the sale is adjourned, inasmuch as he has no control over the form of the order of the Court. 6 C.W.N. 48. U

3.—“Where a sale...for a longer period than seven days, a fresh proclamation...consents to waive it.”—(Concluded).

- (f) Where an adjournment was made on the application of one of two judgment-debtors and the applicant waived the issue of a fresh proclamation, and the interests of both were sold, it was held, on the application of the other judgment-debtor to set aside the sale, that the omission to issue a fresh proclamation amounted to a mere irregularity, so that it could not vitiate the sale. 18 C. 496; 12 A. 510; 11 C. 658, F. Y
- (g) A judgment-debtor, who consents on the day of sale that he will not object to any irregularities affecting the sale, if it is to take place a month afterwards, cannot object, after the sale takes place, on the ground that he is entitled to a fresh proclamation. 23 W.R. 256. W

4.—“Every sale...stopped...the debt and costs...are tendered.. which ordered the sale.”

(1) Auction-purchaser of first sale tendering decree-amount and costs of the second sale—Representative of judgment-debtor.

When a first mortgagee obtained a decree on his mortgage and proceeded to sell the property, a person who purchased the same property at an execution sale held at the instance of a second mortgagee, which sale was not then confirmed, deposited the decretal amount under this rule and prayed for a stoppage of sale. It was held he was entitled to make the deposit, as he was representative of the judgment-debtor, the second mortgagee, within the meaning of S. 244 of the old Code = S. 47 of the present Code. 11 C.W.N. 495. X

(2) Knocked down.

A bid may be withdrawn until the lot is knocked down. 14 M. 235. Y

(3) Transfer of Property Act, S. 89—Payment into Court of decretal amount and costs—Stay of sale.

(a) The rule must be taken to have modified S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, when the debt and the costs (including the costs of the sale) are tendered to the officer conducting the sale, or when he is satisfied that the amount of such debt and costs has been paid into the Court that ordered the sale. 20 A. 354 = 18 A.W.N. 70; 19 A. 205, F. But see 25 C. 703. Z

(b) Where a sale of mortgaged property has been directed by an order absolute, under S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, it is open to the holder of the equity of redemption to pay into Court, the amount of the decree debt and costs, and thereupon the execution-proceedings will cease. The holder of the equity of redemption need not wait until the property is actually put up for sale. A.W.N. (1905), 168 = 28 A. 28; 19 A. 209 and 20 A. 354, F; 31 C. 863, R. A

(c) The rule is not inconsistent with the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act. It only provides, that before the lot is knocked down, if the debt and costs are paid to the Court-officer, the sale shall be stopped. The order absolute does not extinguish the judgment-debtor's ownership in the property until the sale actually takes place. 31 C. 373. B

(4) Transferee of property tendering debt.

The assignee of a purchaser from a judgment-debtor is entitled to come in and protect the property from sale in execution of the decree by tendering the debt and costs under this rule, and the executing Court is bound to accept the money and stop the sale. 10 A. 1. C

70. Nothing in rules 66 to 69 shall be deemed to apply to any case in which the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector¹.

Saving of certain sales.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the last para of S. 287 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the words "nothing in this section," the words "nothing in rules 66 to 69" are inserted, while the phrase "shall apply to cases" is changed into "shall be deemed to apply to any case." The words "the decree" are also changed into "a decree."

1.—"Nothing in rr. 66 to 69....to apply....the execution of a decree has been transferred....Collector."

Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Enquiry whether property ancestral or non-ancestral.

(a) According to rule I of the rules regarding sales of land published under notification 671, dated 21st August, 1880, every Civil Court shall ascertain from the judgment-debtor whether the land to be sold or part of it is ancestral, and after hearing the decree-holder's objections, shall transfer the proceedings to the Collector of the District in which the property is situate. 2 A.L.J. 448=A.W.N. (1905), 183; 4 A. 382, F. D

(b) Where upon report from the Collector, that the property to be sold was not ancestral, the Civil Court sold the property, and, after hearing the objections of the judgment-debtor that the property was ancestral, the District Judge set aside the sale, it was held that the sale was rightly set aside. (Ibid). E

(c) The mere fact of the property or part of it being ancestral was sufficient per se to oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. (Ibid). F

71. Any deficiency of price¹ which may happen on a re-sale, by reason of the purchaser's default, and all expenses attending such re-sale, shall be certified² to the Court or to the Collector or subordinate of the Collector, as the case may be, by the officer or other person holding the sale, and shall, at the instance of either the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor³, be recoverable from the defaulting purchaser⁴ under the provisions relating to the execution of a decree for the payment of money.

Defaulting purchaser answerable for loss on re-sale.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 293 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words "if any" have been removed, and the word "any" has been placed at the beginning of this rule.

The phrase "under this Code" has been omitted after the word "re-sale." The words "or to the Collector or subordinate of the Collector, as the case may be," are newly added after the word "Court," while the phrase "or other person" is newly placed after the word "officer." The word "judgment-creditor" has been replaced by the word "decree-holder," and the word "defaulter" by the words "defaulting purchaser." The phrase "under the rules...contained...chapter...decree for money" is also replaced by the phrase "under the provisions relating to the execution of a decree for the payment of money."

(General).

(1) Scope and application of the rule.

- (a) The rule extends to re-sales held under rr. 84 and 86, infra=Ss. 306 and 308 of the old Code. 2 C.W.N. 411. G
- (b) The provisions of this rule for making a defaulting purchaser at a sale liable for any deficiency on a re-sale, extend to all sales, whether of moveable or of immoveable property and also to re-sales under rules 77 84 and 86. 7 C. 337=9 C.L.R. 23. H
- (c) Where, owing to default by a purchaser, a re-sale was ordered, but before the re-sale, the property was sold at the instance of another creditor for a lower price than on the first occasion, it was held that there was no re-sale, and the first purchaser was not liable for the difference between his bid and the price obtained at the same sale. 16 W.R. 14. I
- (d) The sale contemplated by this rule must be a sale of the same property that was first sold and under the same description, and any substantial difference of description at the sale and re-sale in any of the matters specified under r. 66, supra, will disentitle the decree-holder to recover the deficiency of price under this rule. 16 C. 535. The phrase "any deficiency of price" does not include interest on the price. 9 W.R. 500. M

2.—"Shall be certified."

Right of suit to set aside order—Certificate of deficiency not granted.

A suit will lie to set aside an order passed under this rule. The fact that the certificate provided for by this rule has not been granted will not prevent the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor from recovering from the defaulter the deficiency of price arising on a re-sale of property. 19 A. 22=16 A.W.N. 168. N

3.—“ At....of....the decree-holder or judgment-debtor.”

- (a) A judgment-debtor need not proceed under this rule and he is not prevented from setting aside the sale on the ground of irregularity. 12 C.L.R. 316. O
- (b) A judgment-creditor also is not debarred from proceeding against any other property of the judgment-debtor than that originally sold. 21 W.R. 149; 13 B.L.R. 114. P
- (c) A judgment-debtor was entitled to credit for the full amount bid at the first sale. 7 W.R. 110. Q

4.—“ Defaulting purchaser.”

- (a) A purchaser of property at a Court-sale, who fails to pay the 25 per cent. on the purchase-money under r. 84, is a defaulting purchaser within the meaning of this rule, and he must make good any deficiency of price which may happen on a re-sale and all expenses attending the same. 5 B. 575; see also 12 M. 454. R
- (b) Although the judgment-debtor might have recovered the difference between the original bid and the price fetched on a re-sale, the original sale could be set aside on the ground of the judgment-debtor having sustained substantial injury. 9 C. 98=16 C.L.R. 316. S
- (c) A purchaser who fails to make a deposit is answerable for any deficiency in the price which might be realized on a re-sale. 6 M. 197. T
- (d) The principal is liable and not the agent who bids at a sale, and if the principal proves his repudiation, the agent can be proceeded against on breach of contract for false representation. 20 W.R. 80, 397. U

72. (1) No holder of a decree ¹ in execution of which property is sold shall, without the express permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the property ².
 Decree-holder not to bid for or buy property without permission.

(2) Where a decree-holder purchases with such permission, the purchase-money and the amount due on the decree may, subject to the provisions of section 73, be set off against one another, and the Court executing the decree shall enter up satisfaction of the decree in whole or in part accordingly ³.
 Where decree-holder purchases, amount of decree may be taken as payment.

(3) Where a decree-holder ⁴ purchases, by himself or through another person ⁵, without such permission ⁶, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the judgment-debtor ⁷ or any other person whose interests are affected by the sale ⁸, by order set aside the sale; and the costs of such application and order, and any deficiency of price which may happen on the re-sale and all expenses attending it, shall be paid by the decree-holder.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 294 of the old Code.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to the first para of S. 294.

In sub-rule (2), the word "when" is changed into "where." The phrase "if he so desires" is omitted after the word "may," and the phrase "subject to the provisions of S. 73" is newly added after "may."

In sub-rule (3), the word "when" is changed into "where," while the phrase "interested in the sale" is changed into the clause "whose interests are affected by the sale."

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

The rule applied to cases transferred to the Collector for execution. 7 A.W.N. 214. Y

(2) Appeal.

(a) An—lies from an order under this rule under O. XLIII, r. 1 (f). W

(b) No—lay from an order refusing permission to a decree-holder to bid. 10 C. 368; 13 C. 174. See also 3 A.W.N. 104. X

(c) But an—lies from an order confirming or setting aside sale or refusing to set aside sale. (Ibid.) Y

(d) No second—lies from an order on appeal under this rule, notwithstanding that S. 47 bars a separate suit in such a case. 21 C. 789. Z

1.—"No holder of a decree."

(a) An auction-purchaser is not a holder of a decree within the meaning of this rule. 4 C.W.N. 474. A

(b) An assignee of a decree under an oral assignment has no locus standi at all to apply for execution, and such an assignee is under no necessity to obtain leave to bid at the sale held in execution of the decree. (Ibid.) B

2.—"Without express permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the property."(1) Benami purchase.

Where a decree-holder was refused permission to bid, it was held that he was guilty of an abuse of the process of the Court in bidding at the sale and buying the property benami, and therefore the sale could not be enforced. 10 C. 757. C

(2) Express permission.

(a) A decree-holder must have—from the Court to purchase the property, and a sale to him is invalid without such—. 5 C. 308. D

(b) Leave to bid puts him in the same position as any other purchaser. 23 M. 227=27 I.A. 17; 4 C.W.N. 474. E

3.—"Where a decree-holder purchases..set-off..accordingly."(1) Deterring bidders.

The practice by decree-holders of—from bidding for the property is a sufficient irregularity to render the sale invalid. 5 C. 308; 7 C. 346=9 C.L.R. 263. F

3.—“Where a decree-holder purchases..set-off..accordingly.”—(Concluded).

(2) Necessity to pay deposit.

A decree-holder who purchases with permission must pay the deposit required by rule 84, infra, in cash, but where all parties have waived their right to the deposit, the sale ought not to be set aside. 5 C.L.R. 181. G

(3) Qualified permission of Court—No set-off.

Where one of the terms on which permission to bid is granted is that there should not be this right of set-off, no set-off can be allowed. 10 Bom. L.R. 296=32 B. 379. H

(4) Reversal of decree—Effect on purchasers.

The sale to the decree-holders is affected by a reversal of the decree and not the sale to bona fide purchasers, who are not parties. 10 A. 166; 15 I.A. 12. I

(5) Set-off.

(a) (i) A mortgagee decree-holder who purchases the property in execution of his decree, is bound to give credit only for the actual price, and he need not give credit for the market-value of the property. 18 A. 31; 19 C. 4. J

(ii) But where the equity of redemption was sold, and the mortgagee decree-holder applied for execution of the balance of his decree against the mortgagor's assignor, he had to give credit for the price set off and the mortgage-debt. 18 M. 153. K

(iii) It would be otherwise if the mortgaged property were sold instead of the equity of redemption. 16 C. 132; 16 C. 632. L

(b) No—can be allowed where S. 295=S. 73 of the present Code applies. 6 B. 570. M

(c) A—can be allowed only for so much of the judgment-debt as the assets can satisfy. 5 M. 128. N

(d) Where the decree-holder-purchaser of the property, failed to pay the balance of the price within 15 days as required by r. 85, infra, and applied later on under this rule that the said balance might be—against the amount due under the decree, it was held that there was no necessity under this rule to make such an application within 15 days, and the reason for the provision in r. 85 did not exist where the decree-holder was the purchaser. 3 O.C. 240. O

4.—“Decree-holder.”

A purchase by the undivided son of the decree-holder is a purchase by the decree-holder within this rule and is void. 5 B. 180. Since the amendment of the Civil Procedure Code by Act XII of 1879, the sale is only voidable and not void. P

5.—“By himself or through another person.”

Decree-holder purchasing in stranger's name.

(a) A—for a lower price than that for which leave to bid has been given constitutes a fraud, for which the sale can be set aside. 5 C.W.N. 265. Q

(b) A purchase by the judgment-creditor or any other person on his behalf does not invalidate the sale, though the sale may be set aside on that ground at the instance of the judgment-debtor or any other person interested in the sale. 22 B. 624. R

6.—“ Without such permission.”

- (a) Where a decree-holder has purchased without permission, it is in the Court's discretion to set aside the sale and unless substantial injury is caused, the Court will not interfere with the sale. 11 C. 781. S
- (b) Where the decree-holder or some other person for him, without the permission of the Court becomes the purchaser, the sale is not void ab initio, but only voidable “on the application of the judgment-debtor or other person interested in the sale.” 11 B. 588; 5 B. 575, F; 6 B.L.R. Ap. 37=14 W.R. 405. See also 14 M. 498; 22 B. 271; 13 M.L.J. 231. T

7.—“ On the application of the judgment-debtor.”

Suit—Fraud.

- (a) Even where the sale was the result of fraud, and the purchase was by a person not a party, no suit would lie against the judgment-creditor. 9 B. 468; 17 C. 769. U
- (b) Where the sale took place secretly, and the purchasers were benamidars of the decree-holders, a suit was not maintainable. 23 A. 478. V

8.—“ Or any other person whose interests...by the sale.”

- (a) The sons of a judgment-debtor are not interested in the sale of ancestral property in execution of a money-decree against their father, so as to be entitled to apply under this rule. 13 M.L.J. 231. W
- (b) A person entitled under S. 295=S. 73 of the present Code, to rateable distribution, can apply. 13 M.L.J. 231. X

73. No officer¹ or other person having any duty to perform in connection with any sale shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for, acquire or attempt to acquire any interest in the property sold.

Restriction on bidding or purchase by officers.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 292 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The phrase “or other person” is newly inserted after “officer,” while the phrase “under this chapter” is omitted. The words “any property sold at such sale” are also replaced by the words “property sold.”*

I.—“ No officer.”

Pleader of a party.

- (a) The—is not an officer. 10 M. 111. Y
- (b) But where the pleader did not act properly, a sale to him was set aside. 15 M. 389. Z
- (c) A vakil engaged in execution-proceedings cannot interest himself in the purchase. 13 W.R. 209; 4 B.L.R. 181; 17 W.R. 480. See, also, N.W.P.H.C.B. 46. A

Sale of moveable property.

Sale of agricultural produce.

74. (1) Where the property to be sold is agricultural produce, the sale shall be held,—

- (a) if such produce is a growing crop, on or near the land on which such crop has grown, or,
- (b) if such produce has been cut or gathered, at or near the threshing-floor or place for treading out grain or the like or fodder-stack on or in which it is deposited :

Provided that the Court may direct the sale to be held at the nearest place of public resort, if it is of opinion that the produce is thereby likely to sell to greater advantage.

(2) Where, on the produce being put up for sale,—

- (a) a fair price, in the estimation of the person holding the sale, is not offered for it, and
- (b) the owner of the produce or a person authorized to act in his behalf applies to have the sale postponed till the next day or, if a market is held at the place of sale, the next market-day, the sale shall be postponed accordingly and shall be then completed, whatever price may be offered for the produce.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

75. (1) Where the property to be sold is a growing crop and the crop from its nature admits of being stored but has not yet been stored, the day of the sale shall be so fixed as to admit of its being made ready for storing before the arrival of such day, and the sale shall not be held until the crop has been cut or gathered and is ready for storing.

(2) Where the crop from its nature does not admit of being stored, it may be sold before it is cut and gathered, and the purchaser shall be entitled to enter on the land, and to do all that is necessary for the purpose of tending and cutting or gathering it.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

76. Where the property to be sold is a negotiable instrument or a share in a corporation, the Court may, instead of directing the sale to be made by public auction, authorize the sale of such instrument or share through a broker¹.

Negotiable instruments and shares in corporations.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 296 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word "if," the word "where" is substituted, while the words "any public company" are omitted before the words "a corporation." The phrase "at the market-rate of the day" is also omitted after the word "broker."

1.—"Authorize the sale....through a broker."

The sale through a broker is permissive and not obligatory. 8 W.R. 415. B

77. (1) Where moveable property ¹ is sold by public auction the price of each lot shall be paid at the time of sale or as soon after as the officer or other person holding the sale directs ², and in default of payment the property shall forthwith be resold ³.

(2) On payment of the purchase-money, the officer or other person holding the sale shall grant a receipt for the same, and the sale shall become absolute.

(3) Where the moveable property to be sold is a share in goods belonging to the judgment-debtor and a co-owner, and two or more persons, of whom one is such co-owner, respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot, the bidding shall be deemed to be the bidding of the co-owner ⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 297 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the phrase "in the case of other moveable property" is changed into the clause "where moveable property is sold by public auction," while the word "for" is omitted after, "shall be paid." The words "or other person" are newly inserted after "officer," and the words "again put up and sold" are replaced by the word "resold."

In sub-rule (2), the words "or other person" are newly inserted after the word "officer."

Sub-rule (3) is new.

1.—"Moveable property."

Sale of arms.

The—by a Nazir is excluded from the operation of the Indian Arms Act. 9 B. 518. G

2.—"The price of each lot shall be paid....time of sale or as soon after....officer....directs."

The purchase-money can be paid at a reasonable time after the sale has been made. 4 A.H.C.R. 37. D

3.—“Shall forthwith be resold.”

- (a) The provisions of r. 71, supra, apply to a re-sale under this rule. 7 C. 337. E
 (b) In rr. 77 and 84, express reference has been made to a re-sale, so as to make it clear that the default mentioned in those rules will attract the consequence indicated in r. 71. In this connection reference may be made to 7 C. 337. See “Report of the Select Committee. Statement of Objects and Reasons.” F

4.—“Bidding of the co-owner.”

Co-owner.

Of. O. XXI, r. 88.

No irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale of moveable property shall vitiate the sale ¹; but any person sustaining any injury by reason of such irregularity at the hand of any other person may institute a suit ² against him for compensation, or (if such other person is the purchaser) for the recovery of the specific property and for compensation in default of such recovery.

(N o t e s).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 298 of old Code and also to S. 252 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The word “be” is changed into “is” before the words “the purchaser.”

1.—“No irregularity in publishing a.... the sale.... vitiate sale.”

(1) Irregularity.

- (a) Where the amount of the decree has not been specified in the sale proclamation, there is no—. 2 W.R. 80. G
 (b) The non-service of the notification of sale on the judgment-debtor or in his village is no—. 6 W.R. Civ. Ref. 14. H

(2) Proclamation warranting title.

Where the sale proclamation warrants a title, the injured party may apply to set aside the sale. 9 W.R. 118. I

2.—“At the hand of any other person may institute a suit.”

(1) Suit by rightful owner.

The true owner of property can sue the decree-holder for value of the property, which has been sold in execution of a decree against the judgment-debtor. 14 W.R. 120. J

(2) Suit for compensation for injury—Questions for Court executing the decree.

Though this rule provides for a suit for compensation for injury caused by reason of an irregularity in publishing or conducting a sale of moveable property, it must be read with S. 244 (=S. 47 of the present Code.) P.R. No. 14 of 1886, Civil. K

79. (1) Where the property sold is moveable property of which actual seizure has been made, it shall be delivered to the purchaser.

Delivery of moveable property, debts and shares.

(2) Where the property sold is moveable property in the possession of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the delivery thereof to the purchaser shall be made by giving notice ¹ to the person in possession prohibiting him from delivering possession of the property to any person except the purchaser.

(3) Where the property sold is a debt not secured by a negotiable instrument, or is a share in a corporation, the delivery thereof shall be made by a written order of the Court prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debt or any interest thereon, and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person except the purchaser, or prohibiting the person in whose name the share may be standing from making any transfer of the share to any person except the purchaser, or receiving payment of any dividend or interest thereon, and the manager, secretary or other proper officer of the corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment to any person except the purchaser.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to S. 299 of the old Code.

Sub-rule (2) corresponds to S. 300 of the old Code.

Sub-rule (3) corresponds to S. 301 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the word "when" is changed into "where," while the words "a negotiable instrument or other" are omitted. The words "the property" are changed into the word "it."

In sub-rule (2), the word "when" is changed into "where," and the word "any" is removed before "moveable property." The clause "to which the judgment-debtor is entitled subject to the possession of some other person" is replaced by the phrase "in the possession of some person other than the judgment-debtor."

In sub-rule (3), the word "when" is changed into "where," while the words "any public company" have been replaced by the words "a corporation." The words "the company" are again replaced by the words "the corporation" after the words "proper officer."

1.—"Giving notice."

For form of giving notice under this rule, see Form No. 146, schedule IV of the former Code.

80. (1) Where the execution of a document or the endorsement of the party in whose name a negotiable instrument or a share in a corporation is standing is required to transfer such negotiable instrument or share ¹, the Judge or such officer as he may appoint in this behalf may execute such document or make such endorsement as may be necessary, and such execution or endorsement shall have the same effect as an execution or endorsement by the party.

Transfer of negotiable instruments and shares.

(2) Such execution or endorsement may be in the following form, namely :—

A. B. by C. D., Judge of the Court of (or as the case may be), in a suit by E. F. against A. B.

(3) Until the transfer of such negotiable instrument or share, the Court may, by order, appoint some person to receive any interest or dividend due thereon and to sign a receipt for the same; and any receipt so signed shall be as valid and effectual for all purposes as if the same had been signed by the party himself.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 302 of the old Code and also to S. 267 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the phrase "if the endorsement or conveyance of the party" has been changed into the phrase "where the execution of a document or the endorsement of a party." The words "any public company" are replaced by the words "a corporation," while the word "negotiable" is newly inserted after the words "to transfer such." The clause "or such officer as he may appoint in its behalf" is also newly inserted after the word "Judge," while the words "may endorse the instrument or the certificate of the share or may execute such other document as may be necessary" have been changed into the words "may execute such document or make such endorsement as may be necessary." The clause "and such execution or endorsement shall have the same effect as an execution or endorsement by the party" is also newly added.

In sub-rule (2), the words "the endorsement or execution shall be in the following form or to the like effect" have been replaced by the clause "such execution or endorsement may be in the following form, namely."

In sub-rule (3), the word "negotiable" is newly inserted after the words "the transfer of such." The words "endorsement made, or document executed, or" are omitted between the words "any" and "receipt," while the words "as aforesaid" are also omitted after the words "receipt so signed." The words "made or executed or" are also omitted after the words "the same had been."

1.—"Transfer such negotiable instrument or share."

Transfer of share.

Although the company's deed of settlement gives to the Board of Directors power of approval or disapproval of intending share-holders, they have no option as to registering a share-holder, who has purchased a share in execution and they must grant a new share certificate to him. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 258. L

81. In the case of any moveable property not hereinbefore provided for, the Court may make an order vesting such property in the purchaser or as he may direct; and such property shall vest accordingly.

Vesting order in case of other property.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 303 of the old Code.

Sale of immoveable property.

82. Sales of immoveable property¹ in execution of decrees may be ordered by any Court other than a Court of Small Causes².

What Courts may order sales.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 304 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the words "a decree," the word "decrees" is substituted.

1.—"Immoveable property."

(a) A decree which charges land is one with an interest in —. 1 A. 348 ; 10 M. 169. M

(b) Huts are —. 17 W.R. 309. N

(c) A debt secured by mortgage-lien on — specially when the mortgagee is not in possession is not —. 12 C. 546. O

2 — "Other than a Court of Small Causes."

In the case of sale by Small Cause Court of immoveable property, the purchaser acquires no title. 17 W.R. 309. P

83. (1) Where an order for the sale of immoveable property has been made, if the judgment-debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reason to believe that the amount of the decree may be raised by the mortgage or lease or private sale¹ of such property, or some part thereof, or of any other immoveable property of the judgment-debtor, the Court may, on his application, postpone the sale of the property comprised in the order for sale on such terms² and for such period³ as it thinks proper, to enable him to raise the amount.

Postponement of sale to enable judgment-debtor to raise amount of decree.

(2) In such case the Court shall grant a certificate to the judgment-debtor⁴ authorising him⁵ within a period to be mentioned therein, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 64, to make the proposed mortgage, lease or sale :

Provided that all monies payable under such mortgage, lease or sale shall be paid, not to the judgment-debtor, but, save in so far as a decree-holder is entitled to set off such money under the provisions of rule 72, into Court :

Provided also that no mortgage, lease or sale under this rule shall become absolute until it has been confirmed by the Court ⁶.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to apply to a sale of property directed to be sold in execution of a decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage of, or charge on, such property ⁷.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 305 of the old Code and also to S. 243 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The word "when" is changed into "where," while the words "on such terms and" are newly added after the words "order for sale" in sub-rule (1).

In sub-rule (2), the words "section 64" replace the words "section 276." The first proviso to sub-rule (2) is new. Sub-rule (3) is also new.

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

The rule does not apply to cases where, under a mortgage-decree, immoveable property mortgaged has been directed to be sold. 6 M.L.J. 187; 3 C. 335; 1 O.L.R. 295. But see 25 B. 104; 3 O.C. 42. Q

(2) Scope of the rule.

(a) The rule contemplates a mortgage or lease or private sale only where "the amount of the decree can be thus provided for." 14 M. 277. R

(b) S. 305 of the old Code, corresponding to this rule is an enabling section and qualifies the prohibition contained in S. 276 of the last Code = S. 64 of the present Code. On compliance with the provisions of this rule, a private alienation, notwithstanding S. 64, becomes absolute even against all claims enforceable under the attachment. 8 Bom.L.R. 16 = 1 M.L.T. 46 = 30 B. 337. S

(3) Appeal.

An order under this rule postponing or refusing to postpone the sale is appealable under S. 244 = S. 47 of the new Code. 3 O.C. 42. T

1.—"That the amount of the decree..by mortgage or lease or private sale"

(1) Cancellation of purchase with sanction of Court—Fraud.

A purchase with the Court's sanction will not be set aside upon slight grounds, but if there has been any misrepresentation or withholding of material information, it will be treated as fraud and the Court will act accordingly. 7 Bom. L.R. 653 = 29 B. 615. U

(2) Private alienation with permission—Quantum of interest passed.

Where a judgment-debtor sells property privately under this rule, only his interest passes, and in authorising a sale under this rule, the Court cannot empower a judgment-debtor to transfer any higher interest than he has and bind the interest of others in the property. 4 Bom. L.R. 61 = 26 B. 379. Y

1.—“That the amount of the decree..by mortgage or lease or private sale ”—(Concluded).

(3) Time to raise money by private alienation.

Where after auction-sale of immoveable property in execution of a money-decree, the judgment-debtor applied to raise the amount by mortgage, it was held that the executing Court had no power to grant the application under this rule. 92 P.R. 1907 ; 24 C. 682 ; 31 C. 1011, R. W

(4) Validity of mortgage under this rule.

To render a mortgage by the judgment-debtor under this rule valid, there must be a preliminary sanction and a subsequent confirmation. 14 M. 277 = 1 M.L.J. 220. X

2.—“ On such terms.”

Postponement.

- (a)—is discretionary. 11 C. 244 ; 15 W.R. 477. Y

- (c) The judgment-debtor must distinctly show that the money can be raised in some way other than by immediate sale and that the creditor will not be put to loss. 17 W.R. 193. A

3.—“ For such period.”

- (a) Twenty years has been held to be an unreasonable time. 15 W.R. 322 ; 5 M.H.C. 272. B
- (b) Even two years and one year are unreasonable. 21 W.R. 146 ; 17 W.R. 193 ; 2 N.W.P.H.C.R. 1. C
- (c) Six months is reasonable. 15 W.R. 322 ; 5 M.H.C.R. 272. D

4.—“ The Court shall grant a certificate to the judgment-debtor.”

- (a) Before granting a certificate, the judgment-debtor must satisfy the Court that there is sufficient cause for believing that the amount of the decree can be raised by mortgage or lease or private sale of the property. 3 O.C. 42. E
- (b) The Court can neither grant a certificate nor confirm a mortgage, unless it appears that by such alienation the decree will be satisfied in full. 14 M. 277. F

5.—“ Authorising him.”

- (a) The authority is only to the judgment-debtor to whom it is granted, and the sale in pursuance thereof does not affect the share of another judgment-debtor. 26 B. 379. G
- (b) In the case of a minor, the authority does not give him power to mortgage or lease except with the sanction of the Court of Wards, 23 B. 287. H

6.—“ Provided also that no mortgage or lease..shall become absolute, until..confirmed by the Court.”

Where, on account of a certificate to sell granted by two Courts, the attached property was sold, and the sale confirmed by the superior of the two Courts, confirmation by the other was unnecessary. 19 B. 539. I

7.—“Nothing in this rule..directed to be sold..decree for mortgage of, or charge on, such property.”

The rule does not apply to mortgage-decrees. 6 M.L.J. 187; 3 C. 335. But see 25 B. 104; 3 O.C. 42. J

84. (1) On every sale of immoveable property the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer or other person conducting the sale¹, and, in default of such deposit², the property shall forthwith be re-sold³.

Deposit by purchaser and re-sale on default.

(2) Where the decree-holder is the purchaser and is entitled to set off the purchase-money under rule 72, the Court may dispense with the requirements of this rule⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 306 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the words “under this chapter” are omitted, and the words “or other person” are newly inserted after the word “officer.” The words “put up again and sold” are replaced by the word “re-sold.”

Sub-rule (2) is new.

1.—“The officer or other person conducting the sale.”

Where it appears that persons without means have been put forward to make sham biddings, and fraudulently frustrate the sale, the officer conducting the sale, can inquire into the trustworthiness of the bidder before he accepts his bid. 9 M.I.A. 324, 328, 341. K

2.—“And in default of such deposit.”

Non-payment of deposit—Irregularity.

(a) The fact that the auction-purchaser did not pay 25 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale was a mere irregularity, which did not affect the validity of the sale, unless it was shown that substantial injury was thereby caused to the judgment-debtor. A.W.N. (1905), 263=28 A. 238; 5 A. 316=3 A.W.N. 38 declared to be no longer law. See, also, 3 L.B.R. 225; 5 A. 316; 16 C. 33; 14 M. 227; 7 C. 337; 5 B. 575 and 12 M. 454, R. L

(b) The commencement of a Court-sale prior to the expiry of the thirtieth day, or any delay in making the deposit required by this rule, or the adjournment of the sale from time to time without sufficient ground, is not more than a mere irregularity and does not vitiate the sale 14 M. 227. M

3.—“The property shall forthwith be re-sold.”

(1) Loss on re-sale.

The first purchaser can be compelled to pay the difference between the first and the second sales. 7 C. 337; 12 M. 454. See, also, A.W.N. (1908), 107= 5 A.L.J. 336=30 A. 273. N

(2) Re-sale.

(a) In the case of a —, the officer of the Court is not bound to commence from the next highest bid below that made by the defaulter, instead of commencing the sale de novo. 1 W.R.Mis. 11. O

(b) There is no substantial difference between the words “re-sold” and “re-sale” which occur in rules 86 and 87, infra, and the words “put up again and sold” in S. 306=r. 84, sub-rule 1. 2 C.W.N. 411. P

(c) As the property shall forthwith be re-sold, a fresh proclamation stating the hour is unnecessary. 12 M. 454, 458. Q

(3) Waiver of deposit.

Where all the interested persons have waived their right to a deposit, the sale should not be set aside. 5 C.L.R. 181. R

4.—“Where the decree-holder is the purchaser..set-off..the purchase-money under r. 72, the Court may dispense with..this rule.”

(a) A decree-holder buying with permission under r. 72, supra, and desiring to set-off the purchase-money against the decree-amount, is not exempt from making the deposit under this rule. 5 C.L.R. 181. But sub-rule (2) has modified this decision. S

(b) Such a set-off cannot be exercised by the purchaser, until confirmation, and payment of expenses, of the sale. (Ibid). See also 5 A. 316. T

85. The full amount of purchase-money payable shall be paid ¹ by the purchaser into Court ² before the Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property ³:

Time for payment in full of purchase-money.

Provided that, in calculating the amount to be so paid into Court, the purchaser shall have the advantage of any set-off to which he may be entitled under rule 72.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 307 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word “payable” is newly inserted after “purchase-money,” while the words “into Court” are newly inserted after “purchaser.” The phrase “after the sale of the property” has been changed into “from the sale of the property.” The words “exclusive of such day, or if the fifteenth day...after the fifteenth day” are omitted.

The proviso is new.

(General).

Application of the rule.

The provisions of this rule do not apply where the decree-holder is the purchaser. 3 O.C. 240. Now from the proviso it may be seen that they are applicable. U, Y

1.—“The full amount of the purchase-money shall be paid.”

Forfeiture to Government.

Where a purchaser makes default in paying the full amount of the purchase-money, the deposit must be forfeited. The fact of the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder consenting to the original sale and not asking for a re-sale, is no reason why the Government should forego the forfeiture. 25 M. 535. W

2.—“Into Court.”

(1) Payment into Post Office.

The Post Office is not the agent of the Court, and the purchaser is bound to see that the money reaches the Court in time to satisfy the requirements of this rule. 22 B. 415. X

(2) Payment into Treasury.

Under the rules of the Madras High Court, payment into the Government Treasury is sufficient payment. 7 M. 211 ; 8 C. 528. Y

3.—“Before the Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property.”

Vacation—Holiday—Office-days.

(a) The time during which a Court is closed but the office is open is not a holiday within the meaning of this rule. Days on which the office is open and on which the purchase-money can be paid are office days. 20 B. 745. Z

(b) A purchaser at an auction-sale, who has paid the 25 per cent. deposit will be justified in paying the balance of the purchase-money on the first day after the vacation, where the fifteen days allowed to him expire during the recess. 13 M.L.J. 271. A

86. In default of payment within the period mentioned in the last preceding rule¹, the deposit may, if the Procedure in default of payment. Court thinks fit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, be forfeited to the Government², and the property shall be re-sold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 308 of the old Code.

Distinction.

Instead of the word “section,” the word “rule” is inserted, while the words “shall be forfeited” have been changed into “may be forfeited,” the clause, “if the Court thinks fit” being newly inserted before the phrase “after defraying the expenses of the sale.”

(General).

(1) Appeal.

(a) No—lies from an order of forfeiture to Government of the deposit of 25 percent. when there is a failure to deposit the full amount of purchase-money within 15 days after sale, as required by r. 85, supra. 120 P. R. 1891. B

(2) For—, see S. 47 of the present Code. C

(2) Execution of mortgage-decrees in Bengal and Assam.

The former section was applied to—, see Calcutta Gazette of 13th April, 1882, Part I, p. 414; Assam Gazette of 16th April, 1892, Part III, p. 272. D

1.—“ In default of payment....preceding rule.”

Failure to deposit.

In the case of—, it is the deposit only that can be forfeited and not any right which a decree-holder might have under his decree. 7 W.R. 110. E

2.—“ The deposit may, if the Court thinks fit, be forfeited to the Government.”

The fact of the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder not asking for a re-sale was held to be no reason for the Government to forego the—. 25 M. 535. But see the modification in the rule which says “The deposit, may, if the Court thinks fit.” The matter of forfeiture is therefore discretionary with the Court. F

Notification on re-sale.

ment of the purchase-money within the period allowed for such payment, shall be made after the issue of a fresh proclamation¹ in the manner and for the period hereinbefore prescribed for the sale.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 309 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word “notification” is replaced by “proclamation.”

(General).

Application of the rule.

(a) The rule does not apply to a case in which the property is put up again and sold forthwith under the provisions of r. 84, sub-rule 1, supra. 2 C.W.N. 411. G

(b) The rule does not apply to a postponed sale. 1 W.R. Mis. 3. H

1.—“ Shall be made after the issue of a fresh proclamation.”

A fresh proclamation is not necessary in the case of every re-sale, but only in the case of a re-sale, taking place in default of payment of the purchase-money within the time allowed for such payment. 12 M. 454, 458. I

88. Where the property sold is a share of undivided immoveable property and two or more persons, of whom one is a co-sharer¹, respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot, the bid shall be deemed to be the bid of the co-sharer².

Bid of co-sharer to have preference.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 310 of the old Code, cf. S. 14 of Act XXIII of 1861.

Distinction.

The word "when" is changed into "where," while the phrase "in execution of a decree" is omitted after "sold." The phrase "respectively advance the same sum at any bidding at such sale" is changed into "respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot." The words "such bidding" are replaced by "the bid," the word "bidding" being also replaced by "bid" after the words "deemed to be."

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

The rule is not applicable in a case where the property sold is not a share of undivided immoveable property, but the right and interest of a mortgagee in such a share. 3 A. 15. J

(2) Appeal.

(a) No—lies from an order refusing to restore an application under this rule, which has been dismissed for default of appearance. A.W.N. (1907), 186=29 A. 596; 31 C. 207; 10 B. 433; 11 M. 319, F. K

(c) An auction-purchaser, not being a party, could not appeal from an order confirming the sale in favour of a co-sharer. 3 A. 674=1 A.W.N. 45. See, also, 5 A. 42; 6 N.W.P. 243; 6 N.W.P. 272; 1 A. 277. M

1.—"Two or more persons of whom one is a co-sharer."

(1) Act XXIII of 1861, S. 14.

(a)—did not apply to land sold in execution of a decree of a Revenue Court. 1 A. 277. N

(b) Under—a co-sharer having preferred his claim to pre-emption, the sale could not be held as void merely by the failure of the person to whom the property was sold. 6 N.W.P.H.C.R. 289. O

(2) Suit by person claiming pre-emption.

A—for possession is premature and unobtainable. He must sue to set aside the order confirming the sale to the auction-purchaser and to have himself declared entitled to pre-emption and to be substituted for the auction-purchaser. 7 N.W.P.H.C.R. 97. P

(3) Who can claim pre-emption.

(a) It is only those who are co-sharers or members of the co-parcenary at the time of the auction, that can claim pre-emption. 7 N.W.P.H.C.R. 281. Q

(b) A co-sharer who had fulfilled the requirements of this rule was entitled to pre-emption. 2 N.W.P.H.C.R. 200. R

2.—“Respectively bid the same sum....the bid....the bid of the co-sharer.”

Necessity for bid by co-sharer—Pre-emption.

- (a) A co-sharer does not acquire the right of pre-emption as against a stranger to whom such share has been knocked down, by merely asserting such right at the time of sale and fulfilling the conditions of sale required by rules 84 and 85, supra. He must bid at the sale and as high as the stranger, before he can acquire a right of pre-emption under this rule. 2 A. 850. S
- (b) The rule contemplates a distinct bid by the co-sharer in the ordinary manner of offering bids. 3 A. 827; 2 A. 850, F; 1 A.W.N. 86; 8 A.W. N. 208. T

89. (1) Where immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree, any person, either owning such property or holding an interest therein by virtue of a title acquired before such sale, may apply to have the sale set aside ¹ on his depositing in Court ²,—

Application to set aside sale on deposit.

- (a) for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to five per cent of the purchase-money ³, and
- (b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree-holder ⁴.

(2) Where a person applies under rule 90 to set aside the sale of his immoveable property, he shall not, unless he withdraws his application, be entitled to make or prosecute an application under this rule ⁵.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall relieve the judgment-debtor from any liability he may be under in respect of costs and interest not covered by the proclamation of sale.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 310-A of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the clause “any person whose immoveable property has been sold under this chapter” has been changed into “where immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree, any person,” while the phrase “either owning such property or holding an interest therein by virtue of a title acquired before such sale” is newly added. The words “at any time within thirty days from the date of sale” are omitted. The clause “if such deposit is made within thirty days, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale” is also omitted but it is incorporated in r. 92, sub-rule (2).

In sub-rule (2), the words "provided that if" have been replaced by "where," while the words "under the next following section" have been replaced by "under rule 90." The words "unless he withdraws his application," and "or prosecute" are newly inserted. The word "rule" replaces the word "section."

In sub-rule (3), the word "section" has been replaced by "rule," while the words "be construed to" are omitted after "shall."

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

(a) The provisions of this rule are applicable to a sale in execution of a decree on a mortgage-bond, which is governed by the Transfer of Property Act. In the absence of any rule by the High Court under S. 104 of the Transfer of Property Act, the provisions of rr. 82. to 87 of this Order = Ss. 304 to 309 of the old Code, apply to all sales of immoveable property. 25 B. 104; 19 A. 205; 21 M. 416; 22 M. 286 = 10 M.L.J. 228; 23 C. 682; 25 C. 708, R; 26 M. 332. (b) S. 104 of the Transfer of Property Act is an enabling section and the rules made by the High Court (Circular Order No. 13, dated 27th April, 1892) under the provision of S. 104, do not limit the applicability of the Civil Procedure Code as regards sales held in execution of mortgage decrees. 4 C.W.N. 474; 2 C.W.N. 353 = 25 C. 705, exp. Contra 23 C. 682; 19 A. 205, dis. Y

(c) The rule as amended by Act V of 1894 does not apply to a sale of mortgaged property under (Transfer of Property Act IV of 1882). The rules made by the High Court under S. 104 of the Transfer of Property Act do not make this rule applicable to such sales. 25 C. 708 = 2 C.W.N. 353. Contra, see supra. W

(d) The rule applies to the sale of a tenure under the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), S. 174, in execution of a decree for its own arrears. 28 C. 393, 396, note; 1 C.W.N. 114. X

(e) Where a moharari tenure is sold in execution of a decree, and a durmo-kararidar deposits the decree amount with compensation and applies to have the sale set aside, he is a "person whose immoveable property has been sold," and as such he is entitled to have the sale set aside on the ground that he has an interest in the holding which he is entitled to protect. 32 C. 107; 29 C. 1; 8 C.W.N. 55; 8 C.W.N. 232; 23 C. 393 and 29 C. 459, R; 5 C.W.N. (3) Object of the rule.

The rule gives to the judgment-debtor one more chance to save his property. 26 C. 449, 452. L

(4) Powers of Collector to set aside sale.

- (a) No power is conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure on the Collector to set aside a sale under this rule. Even though a decree has been transferred for execution to the Collector, the Civil Court still has power to act under this rule and set aside the sale. 9 Bom. L.R. 15=31 B. 207. M

1.—Immoveable property.

The superstructure of a house is—within the meaning of this rule, and a Deputy Collector cannot refuse to accept deposit by the judgment-debtor. 3 O.C. 236. S

2.—Holding an interest therein.

As to whether the rule applies only to persons whose interests are affected by the execution-sale, see Report of the Select Committee, who say “Words have been added so as to make it clear that a purchaser acquiring a title before the sale in execution can claim the benefit of the sale.” Statement of Objects and Reasons. T

3.—Judgment-debtor's interest.

It is the judgment-debtor's interest or the interest of any other person bound by the decree that can be sold in execution. 23 B. 450, 451. U

4.—Persons who can apply.GENERAL PRINCIPLE.

Persons whose interests in the property will be bound by the sale, even though not parties to the suit, are entitled to apply and not otherwise.

- (g) The purchaser of a portion of an occupancy holding whether it is transferable by custom or not, is entitled to make a deposit under this rule and set aside a sale. 7 C.L.J. 282; 8 C.W.N. 55 and 232, F. B
- (h) A beneficial owner can apply to set aside a sale held in execution of a decree for money against the benamidar. He is a person whose property has been sold under the decree. 8 C.L.J. 305; 23 B. 450; 7 C.W.N. 243; 26 M. 365; and 20 C. 418, D; 1 C.W.N. 135, F. C
- (i) (1) A mortgagee, whether by a simple mortgage or a mortgage by conditional sale, of a tenure or holding sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of it, can apply. 5 C.W.N. 821=29 C. 1; 2 C.W.N. 258, apprd; 5 C.W.N. 63, overruled (Per Rampini, J, contra). D
- (2) A mortgagee, being a party to a suit, could apply to have the sale set aside on payment being made by him under this rule. 21 M. 416. E
- (j) (1) A judgment-debtor whose immoveable property has been sold in execution, may apply, even though he has privately sold it to another, pending execution. 3 Bom. L.R. 225=25 B. 631. F
- (2) For case affirming title of purchaser to apply, see 17 M.L.J. 127. G
- (k) A benamidar of a person whose immoveable property is sold has a right to apply to have the sale set aside. 1 C.W.N. 135; 5 C.W.N. 821=29 C. 1; 1 C.W.N. 135, appr. H
- (l) Where an application made to the Munsarim of the Court under r. 90, infra, was withdrawn before the Court passed an order on it, the applicant should not be considered to have applied under r. 90, but he should be held to be entitled to make an application under this rule. 10 O.C. 141; 5 O.C. 137, appr. I

1.—“Where immoveable property has been sold, any person either owning such property or holding an interest therein, by virtue of a title acquired before such sale, may apply to...set aside.”—(Concluded).

5.—Persons who cannot apply.

GENERAL PRINCIPLE.

A person whose interest is not sold and cannot have passed under the sale, cannot apply. 26 M. 332. J

EXAMPLES.

- (a) Where a puisne mortgagee applied under this rule to set aside the sale held in execution of a decree obtained by a prior mortgagee, but to which the former was no party, such a puisne mortgagee could not apply. 26 M. 332. K
- (b) As to the applicability of the rule to mortgage-decrees, see “APPLICATION OF THE RULE,” supra. L
- (c) A private purchaser prior to sale of the property in execution, is not entitled to have the sale set aside. 23 B. 450. M
- (d) A purchaser from the judgment-debtor, after sale in execution, cannot apply. 1 C.W.N. 279. N
- (e) A person contracting to purchase land subject to a mortgage, is not the owner of the land, and is therefore not entitled to apply to set aside the sale under this rule. 23 B. 181. O
- (f) An attaching creditor cannot apply. 6 C.W.N. 57; 4 C.W.N. 542, R; 29 C. 548. P
- (g) A person claiming under the Muhammadan Law a share in immoveable property, which has been sold in execution of a decree against his co-sharers, cannot apply. 30 C. 425; 23 B. 450; 29 C. 1, R; 21 M. 416, D. Q
- (h) A purchaser before attachment cannot apply. 7 C.W.N. 243. R
- (i) Where property belonging to A was sold in execution of a decree against B, A was not bound to apply under this rule to set aside the sale, nor had he any right to do so. 12 C.W.N. 151; 15 C. 656; 7 C. 648, R. S
- (j) Persons declared by the decree to have no title to the property are not persons whose immoveable property has been sold, and therefore they cannot apply. 28 A. 84. T
- (k) Where, in a suit on a mortgage for sale, persons claiming title adversely to the mortgagee are impleaded by him as defendants and the property is decided to be that of the mortgagor, the adverse claimants, cannot apply to set aside the sale, as they are not judgment-debtors, whose immoveable property had been sold. A.W.N. (1905), 198=2 A.L.J. 711 =28 A. 84; 11 I.A. 237, R. U

2.—“On his depositing in Court.”

(1) Court-officer incorrectly calculating amount.

- (a) When the amount payable by the judgment-debtor under this rule has been calculated by an officer of the Court and has been deposited, an order setting aside the sale must be made by the Court as a matter of right. 25 C. 609; 18 C. 255, R; 25 C. 216. Y

- (b) Where there is nothing to show that there was a mistake of the Court by which the judgment-debtor was induced to deposit an insufficient amount, the sale ought not to be set aside. 26 C. 449=3 C.W.N. 283 ; 25 C. 609, D. W

(2) Deposit.

- (a) The requirements in the rule as to—in Court must be construed so as to cover a—with any ministerial officer of the Court apparently authorized to receive it. 7 Bom. L.R. 263. X
- (b) It is wrong for a Judge to hold that it is incumbent on the judgment-debtor to deposit more than that, for which this rule has made provision. 9 Bom. L.R. 15=31 B. 207. Y
- (c) The essential ground for Court's action under this rule is the deposit within thirty days, and not the fact of the application being made within that period. 7 Bom. L.R. 263 ; 23 B. 531, D. Z
- (d) Under General Clauses Act, 1887, S 7, a judgment-debtor was entitled to make his application and to deposit the money required on the day of the re-opening of the Court, the period of thirty days having expired when the executing Court was closed. 6 O.C. 68. A

(3) Irregular deposits.

- (a) Where property was sold separately in nine lots, and the judgment-debtor prayed to set aside the sale of one of the properties by tendering the balance due under the decree, after deducting the amounts bid by the decree-holder for some of the properties and the amounts deposited by the other purchasers, this rule was held not to apply and there was no deposit within the terms of the rule. 1 C.W.N. 703. B
- (b) Where a sale was not set aside under r. 89 or 90, the Court below had no jurisdiction to set aside the sale upon payment by the applicant of the mortgage money with interest and costs. 24 C. 682 ; 20 C. 8, R. C

(4) Notice.

An auction-purchaser is entitled to a—before an order is made under this rule. 1 C.W.N. 114 ; 5 C.W.N. 63. D

(5) Refund.

Where a sale is set aside, the auction-purchaser who paid the purchase-money and interest can recover under r. 93, infra, the same from a decree-holder of the judgment-debtor, who attached the money in the hands of the Court and received it. 8 M.L.J. 110=21 M. 398. E

(6) Valid deposit—Application under O. IX, r. 13—Effect.

Where a valid deposit was made under this rule, and subsequently an application was made to the Court praying that the money deposited might be retained in Court pending the hearing of an application under S. 108 of the old Code, the subsequent application would not invalidate the deposit, and the sale ought to have been set aside. 8 C.W.N. 355 ; 1 C.W.N. 132, D. F

3.—“For payment to the purchaser, a sum...five per cent of the purchase-money.”

(1) Decree-holder—Purchaser.

Even where the decree-holder happens to be the purchaser, the owner of property is liable to deposit a sum equal to 5 per cent on the purchase-money. 22 M. 286; 15 A.W.N. 140. G

(2) Five per cent—Solatium to purchaser.

The five per cent is given partly as a solatium to the purchaser for the loss of his bargain. 26 C. 449, 451, 452. H

(3) Right of judgment-debtor to deposit amount.

(a) A judgment-debtor, whose land has been sold in execution, is entitled to set aside the sale, if he deposits five per cent of the purchase-money including that deducted for poundage, and fulfils the requirements of clause (b) of this rule. 20 M. 158. I

(b) A person whose property has been sold, is entitled to set aside the sale under this rule by depositing only the amount of the decree, for the satisfaction of which the sale has been proclaimed. 1 C.W.N. 195. J

(c) S. 295=S. 73 of the present Code does not apply to a deposit under this rule by the judgment-debtor. 1 C.W.N. 695 K

4.—“For payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale....less any amount....since the date.. of sale..received....decree-holder.”

(1) For payment to the decree-holder.

The words —mean that the decree-holder is the person solely entitled to the money paid into Court. 30 C. 262. L

(2) Amount specified in the proclamation of sale.

“The proposal that the sale should be set aside on payment of the purchase-money instead of the amount specified in the proclamation, is in their opinion fraught with danger; it would be obviously useless, unless subsequent protection were given to the property, and such protection might lead to collusion, which would be most prejudicial to the decree-holder.” Select Committee’s Report—Statement of Objects and Reasons. M

(3) “Received.”

(a)—must be construed to mean sums of money actually received by the decree-holder or which he was in a position to credit to his account. 1 C.W.N. 703, 705. N

(b) The words “less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree-holder” contemplate an actual receipt of the amount by the decree-holder. A mere payment of the sale proceeds into Court does not satisfy the requirements of this rule. 23 B. 723=1 Bom. L.R. 215. O

(4) “Date of sale.”

The words—mean the actual date of sale when the property is put up for sale and knocked down to the highest bidder. They do not mean the date when the sale is confirmed, or when an order setting it aside is reversed by the appellate Court. 6 C.W.N. 776=29 C. 626. P

4.—“For payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale....less any amount....since the date..of sale..received....decree-holder.”—(Concluded).

(5) Rights of other attaching creditors to contribution of money realised under this rule.

Attaching creditors, other than the decree-holder, in execution of whose decree the property has been sold, are not entitled to rateable distribution of the money deposited for payment to the decree-holder. 30 C. 262. Q

5.—“Where a person applies....r. 90.....he shall not, unless he withdraws his application....or prosecute....under this rule ”

(1) Withdrawal of application under r. 90.

Immediately after an application under r. 90, infra, and within the thirty days allowed by law, a judgment-debtor, whose immoveable property has been sold, deposited the amounts mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of this rule. When the petitions were called on for hearing, he withdrew the former and elected to proceed with the latter. Held, under the circumstances that the matter must be treated as if no application was made under r. 90. 8 M.L.J. 56. R

(2) Shall not be entitled to make an application under this rule.

(a) The words—do not mean merely “he shall not be able to present an application under the rule,” but the word “make” means “carry on” or “prosecute.” 23 C. 958. S

(b) Where, after an application under this rule, another application was made under r. 90, infra, the applicant was not entitled to have the benefit of this rule. (Ibid). T

(c) Where, after the rejection by the lower Court of an application under this rule, judgment-debtors other than the applicant made an application under r. 90, infra, it was held that a second application by the applicant under this rule, was not barred. 23 C. 682. U

(3) Or prosecute.

The words—have been added in accordance with the ruling. 23 C. 958. Y

90. (1) Where any immoveable property ¹ has been sold in execution of a decree, the decree-holder, or any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets, or whose interests are affected by the sale, may apply ² to the court ³ to set aside the sale on the ground of a material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it ⁴ :

Application to set aside sale on ground of irregularity or fraud. Provided that no sale shall be set aside on the ground of irregularity or fraud unless upon the facts proved the Court is satisfied that the applicant has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity or fraud ⁵ .

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 311 of the old Code, and also to S. 256 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The words "the decree-holder, or any person whose immoveable property has been sold under this chapter" have been changed into "where any immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree, the decree-holder," while the clauses "or any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets, or whose interests are affected by the sale" have been newly added. The words "or fraud" are also newly added after "irregularity." In the proviso, the words "provided that," replace the word "but," and the words "or fraud" are newly inserted after "irregularity." The clause "unless the applicant proves to the satisfaction of the Court" has been changed into "unless upon the facts proved the Court is satisfied that the applicant."

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

- (a) The rule applied to sales of mortgaged property in execution of mortgage-decrees. 25 M. 244. W
- (b) The provisions of this rule apply to sales by a receiver appointed by the Court. 6 Bom. L.R. 1140. X
- (c) Rules 90 and 92 did not apply to a suit in which fraud was implied vitiating the sale in lots. 8 W.R. 506; 7 B.H.C.A.C. 974; 2 M. 264; 32 C. 1130, 1140; 11 W.R. 244; see, also, 19 W.R. 414, where it was held that the failure of an application under this rule, did not bar a person from suing on the allegation of fraud, such fraud forming a distinct cause of action. Y

(2) Appeal.

General—(Continued).

(4) Burden of proof.

The onus of proving irregularity and consequential damage lies on the person who assails the sale. 7 A.W.N. 117. F

(5) Cases not falling within the rule.

(a) An objection that the property attached and sold was not by law saleable, was not an objection contemplated by this rule, but was one which the judgment-debtor might have taken at the time of attachment prior to sale. 7 A. 641. G

(b) An application seeking to set aside a sale on the ground of non-issue of notice to the applicant, owing to which the property was sold at an under-value, does not fall within this rule, and an order dismissing the same is not covered by r. 92, infra. 10 Bom. L.R. 752. H

(c) An objection by the representative of a judgment-debtor, that he inherited nothing from him, must be raised before the sale in execution. 6 W.R. Misc. 116. I

(d) An objection that execution is barred must be taken before the sale. 6 M.237. J

(e) A Collector had no power under this rule to set aside the sale and receive payment from the judgment-debtor. 19 B. 216; 23 B. 531. K

(f) A debt secured by a mortgage of immoveable property, is to be regarded as moveable property, for the purposes of execution of decree, and it is not immoveable property within this rule, and a sale thereof cannot be set aside. 4 Bom. L.R. 18=26 B. 305; see, also, 6 C.W.N. 5. L

(6) Essential grounds under the rule.

(a) The—are (1) that there must be material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale and (2) there must be consequent loss to the applicant. 21 A. 140; 21 C. 66=20 I.A. 176; and 18 A. 141, R; 18 A.W.N. 212. M

(b) The plaintiff must prove substantial injury. 19 M. 219. (Per Subramania Iyer, J). N

(7) Jurisdiction.

(a) In an application under this rule, it is not competent to the applicant to raise, nor to the Court to entertain, any plea to the jurisdiction of the Court executing the decree: as, for example, a plea that the property sold, or part of it, was ancestral and ought to have been sold in accordance with the provisions of S. 320 of the old Code=Ss. 68, 70 and 71 of the present Code. 18 A. 141=16 A.W.N. 9. O

(b) An order for sale and a sale under such order are ultra vires, when there was no—in the Court to make the order. 15 A. 324=13 A.W.N. 140; 12 C. 311, R. P

(8) Limitation Act, Art. 166.

(a) In a case where no fraud is perpetrated, an application to set aside the sale under this rule, and under—must be made within thirty days of the date of sale. In a case of fraud perpetrated by the judgment-creditor or other parties to the sale, the judgment-debtor can apply, whether the sale has been confirmed or not, the time being computed from the date when he first became aware of the fraud. 17 C. 769, 776; 1 C.W. N. 67. Q

(b) But if the application is under S. 47=S. 244 of the old Code, then the rule of three years applies. 3 C.W.N. 333, 336. R

General—(Concluded).

(9) Order ultra vires.

An order for sale and a sale under such order are ultra vires, if the decree has been satisfied by payment into Court before the order is made. 16 A. 5=18 A.W.N. 141. S

(10) Powers of Court.

A Court cannot set aside a sale under this rule unless the judgment-debtor or the decree-holder has moved by an application. 2 A.W.N. 1. T

1.—“Where any immoveable property”

Immoveable property, meaning of.

Having regard to the definition of “immoveable property” as given in the General Clauses Act, a decree upon a mortgage is incapable of being described or regarded as immoveable property, and when a mortgage of immoveable property is sold in execution of a decree, an application under this rule to set aside the sale is incompetent. 6 C.W.N. 5; 4 Bom. L.R. 18=26 B. 305. U

2.—“The decree-holder or any person..to share in a rateable distribution of assets....interests are affected..sale may apply.”

1.—General.

(1) Decree-holder.

- (e) An undivided brother of a deceased judgment-debtor, who applies to set aside the sale alleging that the property is joint family property. 16 M. 476. See, also, 2 A.W.N. 146. Q
- (f) (i) An auction-purchaser who wants to set aside a sale on the ground of his having been deceived as to the extent of estate sold. Such an auction-purchaser cannot come under this rule or under rr. 91 and 92, infra. 20 C. 8=19 I.A. 154. R
 (ii) A purchaser at a private sale cannot apply. 3 A.W.N. 7. S

3.—“To the Court.”

(1) Court to receive application.

The—under this rule is the Court executing the decree. But a Collector to whom the decree has been transferred has no power to set aside the sale. 23 B. 531. T

(2) Duty of Court.

- (a) The Court must give reasonable notice to all parties so that each party may have a fair opportunity of bringing the necessary evidence on or before the date of the hearing of the petition. 20 W.R. 424; 2 A.H. C.R. 143, 144; 4 W.R. Mis. 9; 12 W.R. 511; 2 A.H.C.R. 142. U
- (b) A proper application made within time must not be rejected summarily on the ground that it might have been made earlier. 15 W.R. 95; 24 W.R. 216. V
- (c) Each objection must be heard separately and distinct findings must be arrived at on each point and the reasons therefor duly recorded. 2 A.H.C.R. 142. W

4.—“On the ground of material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it.”

(1) Irregularity includes illegality.

- (a) Though the word “illegality” does not include irregularity, the latter includes the former. 11 A. 333, 337 and 342=9 A.W.N. 115; 19 M. 219, at p. 207. X
- (b) But a sale is a sale and is not null and void for mere irregularities in procedure. 21 C. 70; 31 C. 385, 391; 25 B. 397, 346. Y
- (c) For cases, where irregularities amount to illegalities and render the sale null and void, see 5 A. 86 (F.B.); 7 A. 38; 10 A. 506; 6 C. 103; 7 A. 676; 7 A. 289=5 A.W.N. 42; 11 A. 333=9 A.W.N. 115; 12 M. 325. Contra 18 C. 188; 21 C. 639; 21 A. 311; 14 M. 227; 20 I.A. 176; 21 C. 70; 31 C. 385, 391. Z

4.—“On the ground of material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it.”—(Continued).

(2) Material irregularities—Examples.

- (a) Where the proclamation is not issued in the prescribed form, and does not state the extent of the property and the revenue assessed on it and the amount of income derived from it. 21 M. 51; 10 M. 57; see, also, 9 C. 656=11 C.L.R. 494=L.R. 10 I.A. 25, reversing 9 C.L.R. 184; 26 W. R. 44=3 I.A. 230; 23 M. 628; 7 A.W.N. 50. A
- (b) Where there is such an error in the proclamation of sale regarding the incumbrance to which the property is liable, that it amounts to an irregularity which must have marred the fairness of the auction and affected the price. 8 A. 116=6 A.W.N. 33. B
- (c) Where there was a doubt as to whether the judgment-debtor was apprized of the sale of his dwelling house, and substantial injury was consequently held to have been caused to him. 25 W.R. 183. C
- (d) Where the provisions of r. 68, supra, are infringed. 7 A. 289=5 A.W.N. 42. D
- (e) Where a change in the specified order of sale or other sudden alteration of programme is made without notice to the intending bidders. 12 W.R. 281. E
- (f) Where the sale is held after postponement by Court, but the order for postponement has not reached the conducting officer. 12 A. 96=9 A. W.N. 201; 4 N.W.P. 135; 2 A. 686. See, also, 1 A.W.N. 19. F
- (g) The waiver by the judgment-debtor of a fresh proclamation after the adjournment of the sale, does not prevent the judgment-creditor from objecting to the sale, and the Court's refusal to issue a fresh proclamation on his application is a ground for impeaching the sale. 24 M. 311. G
- (h) A sale without fresh proclamation in the case of a postponement. 6 W.R. Mis. 54; 17 W.R. 339; 3 C. 542; 7 C. 34; 6 C.W.N. 44; 2 A.H.C.R. 143; 6 A.W.N. 127; 7 A.W.N. 50; 2 N.W.P. 143. H
- (i) Where there has been a failure to serve notice on the legal representative of the judgment-debtor. 5 C.W.N. 10; 25 B. 337; 27 I.A. 216 (P.C.). I
- (j) Where the description of the property given in the sale-proclamation is so vague as to mislead. 22 A. 168, 170. J
- (k) The publication of the sale-proclamation upon the decree-holder's property at a distance of half a mile from the judgment-debtor's property. 6 C.W.N. 48; 2 A.W.N. 53. K
- (l) Where the property sold is undervalued, so that intending bidders are misled. 6 C.W.N. 48 at p. 56; 25 I.A. 146, F; 2 C.W.N. 550=20 A. 412=25 I.A. 146. L
- (m) An omission to affix a copy of the proclamation in the Collector's Office. 18 C. 422; 7 C. 466. M
- (n) An adjournment of the sale from time to time without sufficient cause. 14 M. 227. N
- (o) A sale held subsequent to the judgment-debtor's insanity. 19 M. 219. O
- (p) A sale before thirty days have expired after notice of proclamation. 21 C. 66; 11 C.L.R. 303; 4 C.L.R. 23; 14 M. 227. See, also, 7 C. 34; 11 A. 338=9 A.W.N. 115; 9 A. 511=7 A.W.N. 145. But see 4 A. 300=2 A.W.N. 43. P

- (g) The omission to specify the incumbrances and the value of the property in a sale-proclamation. 6 C.W.N. 386. Q
- (r) A sale, after portion of the property has been released to a third person. 3 C. 544. R
- (s) The omission to state in the notification of sale that the property would be sold on a day named or as soon after as it might come in the list. 24 W.R. 240. S
- (t) Where property belonging to two persons was advertised for sale, but subsequently without fresh proclamation, the right and interest of one only was sold. 6 C.L.R. 237. T
- (u) The omission to beat a drum at the time of sale. 10 B. 504; 1 A.W.N. 16. U
- (v) The omission to notify the hour of sale or the adjourned hour of sale 8 C.W.N. 686, 687=81 C. 815, 818; 6 C.W.N. 48. See also 24 C. 291. V
- (w) The holding of a sale prior to the day fixed in the order of postponement. 25 W.R. 928. W
- (x) (i) A sale at an hour not mentioned in the proclamation. 14 W.R. 320. X
 (ii) A sale at an earlier hour than that fixed. 7 A. 676=5 A.W.N. 178. Y
 (iii) A sale after the hour fixed in the proclamation. 7 A.W.N. 129; 11 A.W.N. 156. Z
- (y) A sale of properties in one lump, where they have been advertised to be sold in lots. 18 W.R. 342; 12 W.R. 492. A
- (z) (i) A sale without previous attachment. 21 A. 311=19 A.W.N. 84. See, also, 5 A. 862; 10 A. 506=8 A.W.N. 195. B
 (ii) The sale of a debt secured by a mortgage of immoveable property under the provisions of the Code applicable to moveable property. C. 511; 10 M. 169. C

(3) Irregularities not material—Examples.

- (a) Where the notice of sale is issued after the death of the original decree-holder, but before any person has applied to be registered as the substituted decree-holder. 22 W.R. 481. D
- (b) Where the value of the property sold has not been deteriorated by it. 4 B.H.C. (A.C.), 164. E
- (c) Where property is advertised to be sold in separate lots, but is afterwards sold in a lump and no substantial damage has been proved. 4 B.L.R. (A.C.), 181=13 W.R. 209, reversing 12 W.R. 492. See also 21 M. 417. F
- (d) (i) Where disparaging remarks are made by bystanders or purchasers other than the decree-holder. 17 C. 152; 12 C.L.R. 404, F; 7 C. 346=9 C. L.R. 263 and 5 C. 308, D. G
 (ii) An intimidation, by which persons are prevented from bidding at an auction-sale, proceeding from a person other than the decree-holder or judgment-debtor. 2 A.W.N. 138. H
 (iii) But if the decree-holder himself dissuades persons from bidding, the sale is void. 1 A.W.N. 106; 2 A.W.N. 39. I

4.—“On the ground of material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it.”—(Continued).

- (e) Where the legal representative of a judgment-debtor is not brought on the record, after his death and before the sale takes place, since no substantial injury has resulted. 19 B. 276; 12 A. 440=10 A.W.N. 103.

1.—Material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale.

(1) Principle.

All that the Court can decide under this rule is whether a sale can be set aside on the ground of irregularity in publishing or conducting it, and not whether execution was granted after the judgment had been satisfied. B.L.R. (F.B.), 938, 945. (I. re Digumburee Dabees). X

(2) Construction.

- (a) (i) The phrase—must be liberally construed and absence of attachment at the time of sale is a—. 10 A. 506; 21 A. 311=19 A.W.N. 84. But see the “Report of the Select Committee,” which says :—

“The Committee have struck out the provision as to irregularity in attaching the property, as such irregularity obviously cannot affect the price.” See also 7 A. 641. Y

- (ii) The words “publishing or conducting” in this rule refer respectively to the proclamation of sale under r. 66, supra, and to the action of the officer by whom the sale was held. 10 Bom. L.R. 752. Z

I.—Material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale.—(Continued).

- (iii) The words “conducting the sale” embrace all acts which a Court must perform down to the close of the sale, which closes when the lot is knocked down to the highest bidder. The irregularity, therefore, must not be anything which takes place after sale, such as the receipt of payment by the Court after the fifteenth day from the date of sale. 6 W.R. Mis. 82. A

- (c) An objection by a judgment-debtor that the property, which is the subject of sale, is not legally saleable, is not such a one as to afford ground for —. 7 A. 641. C
- (d) The expression “conducting the sale” does not include any proceedings unconnected with the actual carrying out of the sale, but refers to the action of the officer who makes the sale and not to anything done, previous to the order of sale. 7 A. 641; L.R. 10 I.A. 25, R. D
- (e) A default under r. 86, supra, is not an irregularity in conducting the sale. 6 W.R. Mis. 82. E
- (f) Failure to pay the deposit as required by r. 84, supra, is a material irregularity in conducting the sale, on the part of the officer of the Court and on the purchaser, and an application to set aside the sale on this ground must be brought under this rule and a separate suit cannot lie. 16 C. 38; 5 A. 316, diss. F

1.—Material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale.—(Concluded).

- (n) The effect of an order postponing the sale is to deprive the officer of all legal authority to hold it on the date previously fixed; and his not being aware of the order is not material, so that the defect in the sale amounts to more than an irregularity in the conduct of the sale, and there is no necessity to prove substantial injury for setting aside the sale as void. 12 A. 96; 4 A. 332; 3 A. 701; 11 A. 338=9 A.W.N. 115, R. O

2.—Fraud.

(1) General.

- (a) The word—has been newly added in this rule. The Select Committee say—“We think that the existing law as contained in S. 311 of the Code is defective, the omission in the section to refer to fraud as a ground for setting aside a sale having led some Courts to hold, that an order on an application setting up fraud as a ground for relief is, unlike an order made on an application under S. 311, a decree and open to second appeal. This result which often involves a considerable prolongation of these proceedings, is in our opinion undesirable. We think that applications for the setting aside of sales should, so far as the procedure applicable to them is concerned, stand on the same footing, whether they are based on the ground of irregularity or on the ground of fraud.” See “Report of the Select Committee.” Z

- (b) As to the applicability of the rule to fraud, see 8 W.R. 506; 7 B.H.C.A.C. 974; 2 M. 264; 32 C. 1180, 1140; 11 W.R. 244. A

(2) What is fraud ?

- (a) A charge against a bidder that he and others have acted in such a manner as to prevent the best price from being obtained, does not of itself amount to—; nor will proof of this invalidate the sale to him. 28 M. 227=27 I.A. 17, 4 C.W.N. 227. B
- (b) The mere fact of an agreement between the decree-holder, who has obtained leave to bid and another person, or the dissuasion of bidders, cannot be a ground for setting aside the sale. (Ibid). C
- (c) But the withholding of information about the agreement from the Court by the decree-holder, when he obtained leave to bid, will lead to the setting aside of the sale. (Ibid). D
- (d) Where the above facts were not established by evidence, it was held that the—was not proved. (Ibid). E

5.—“That the applicant has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity or fraud.”

(1) Material irregularity—Substantial injury.

Application by purchaser to set aside sale on ground of judgment-debtor having no saleable interest.

91. The purchaser¹ at any such sale in execution of a decree may apply to the Court² to set aside the sale, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest³ in the property sold.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 313 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words "in execution of a decree" have been newly added, while the words "the person whose property purported to be sold" have been condensed into "the judgment-debtor;" and the word "therein" has been changed into the words "in the property sold." The clause "and the Court may make.....order.....fit," and the proviso found in the old section are omitted, but they are incorporated as a proviso to sub-rule (2), r. 92.

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

- (a) The rule does not apply to the case of a purchaser who wants to set aside a sale on the ground of deficiency in the area of the land sold. 27 C. 264=4 C.W.N. 13. S
- (b) (i) The purchaser cannot apply where there has been a misrepresentation or concealment in the notification of sale on account of which he has been induced to pay more price than the property is really worth. It is only when the property turns out to have no existence or to be of no saleable value that the Court can set aside the sale. 10 C. 368. T
- (ii) His only remedy is by suit. 10 C. 368 at p. 372. U
- (c) The rule has no application where the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in a portion only of the property. 9 C. 626; 27 A. 537. Y
- (d) The fact that the property is subject to a mortgage is not sufficient to sustain the plea that the person whose property has been sold has no saleable interest. 9 C. 506=12 C.L.R. 488; 9 A. 167=7 A.W.N. 6; 9 C. 506, R. But see 8 C.L.R. 468. W
- (e) The rule does not apply where, of two judgment-debtors, one has the entire interest, while the other has no interest. 22 C. 565, 578. X
- (f) It is only persons who innocently and ignorantly purchase property which turns out to be of no saleable value that can apply under this rule. Persons who know that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest and yet purchase the property cannot apply. 3 A. 527=1 A.W.N. 19; see also 4 A.W.N. 318. Y

(2) Limitation Act XV of 1877, Arts. 166 and 172.

- (a) "The Code contemplates the confirmation of a sale of immoveable property immediately on the expiry of the thirty days allowed by Art. 166 of the Limitation Schedule. But the period allowed for an application to set aside a sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest therein is sixty days (Art. 172). The result is that in some provinces, the confirmation of sale is delayed for sixty days, whilst, in other provinces, sales which have been already confirmed are liable to be set aside. The Committee think that in the matter of limitation an application under S. 313, corresponding to this rule, should be brought into line with an application under S. 311=r. 90, supra, and they, therefore, propose to repeal article 172 and to amend article 166 so as to include applications under S. 313."

1.—"The purchaser."

- (a) An auction-purchaser may himself apply to set aside the sale on the ground of the judgment-debtor having no saleable interest. 1 N.L.R. 167; 26 C. 727 (732), R. B
- (b) The purchaser of an estate, which has been sold for arrears of revenue, cannot seek to set aside the sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property at the date of sale. 2 C.L.J. 506; 31 I.A. 176, R. C
- (c) A judgment-debtor, who might have objected to a sale in execution of a decree against him, and who might have appealed against the order for sale, has no right, after the sale, to raise the objection that the property sold was not legally saleable. A.W.N. (1907), 193=4 A.L.J. 519=29 A. 612; 7 A. 641; 26 C. 727, F. D

2.—"May apply to the Court."(1) Jurisdiction of the Collector.

A purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree, which had been transferred to the Collector for execution, could apply to the Civil Court under this rule, and the Collector had no jurisdiction to entertain his application. 9 A. 43=6 A.W.N. 289; 11 A. 94. E

(2) Representative—Notice.

Before a sale can be set aside, notice must issue to the judgment-debtor's representative, although the rule makes no express provision for his appearance. 7 B. 424. F

3.—"Saleable interest."(1) Saleable interest—meaning.

- (a) The term—refers to cases in which the purchaser buys property which turns out to have no existence at all or to be of no saleable value. 10 C. 368; 8 M. 101. G
- (b) The term—means "nothing to sell" and is not merely confined to cases where the judgment-debtor's interest is unsaleable by prohibition of law or otherwise. 5 A. 577. H

EXAMPLES.

- (i) A purchaser can apply to set aside the sale, where, in execution of a decree against a person previously adjudicated as an insolvent, portions of his property which have vested in the Official Assignee are attached and sold. 9 C. 217=12 C.L.R. 60=11 C.L.R. 389. I
- (ii) Where, in pursuance of an attachment in execution of a decree, the sale of certain property was fixed for a certain date, and in the meantime the same property was attached and sold in execution of another decree, the auction-purchasers, who purchased the property at the sale held subsequently under the first attachment, were entitled to apply to set aside the sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest. 6 C.L.R. 85. J

92. (1) Where no application is made under rule 89, rule 90 or rule 91 or where such application is made and disallowed¹, the Court shall make an order confirming the sale², and thereupon the sale shall become absolute³.

(2) Where such application is made and allowed, and where, in the case of an application under rule 89, the deposit required by that rule is made within thirty days⁴ from the date of sale, the Court shall make an order setting aside the sale⁵:

Provided that no order shall be made unless notice of the application has been given to all persons affected thereby.

(3) No suit to set aside an order made under this rule shall be brought by any person against whom such order is made⁶.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 312 and 314 of the old Code and also to S. 257 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the clause "if no such application as is mentioned in the last preceding section be made" is changed into "Where no application is made under r. 89, r. 90 or r. 91," while the words "if such application be" are replaced by "where such application is." The words "the objection be" are omitted after "where such application is made." The word "pass" is changed into "make," and the words "as regards the parties to the suit and the purchaser" are also omitted after the words "confirming the sale." The words "and thereupon the sale shall become absolute" correspond with S. 314 of the old Code.

In sub-rule (2), the clause "If such application be made" is changed into "Where such application is made," and the words "if the objection be" are again omitted before the word "allowed." The clause "and where, in the case of an application under r. 89, the deposit required by that rule is made within thirty days from the date of sale" is newly inserted here and it corresponds to the 4th para of S. 310-A of the last Code. The proviso to sub-rule (2) is also new and it corresponds to the proviso to S. 313 of the old Code.

In sub-rule (3), the phrase "on the ground of such irregularity" is omitted after "set aside," while the words "an order passed under this section" are changed into "an order made under this rule." The words "by any person against whom such order is made" are again substituted for the words "by the party against whom such order has been made."

Note.—Both paras 9 and 10 have now been deleted from the Form.

1.—“ Disallowed.”

The word—in this rule has no reference to an order passed on an appeal, but refers to the disallowance of the objection by the Court before which the proceedings under rule 90 are taken. 11 C. 287. C

Necessity for formal decree.

No decree need be drawn up in respect of an order passed under this rule, dismissing an application to set aside a sale. 32 C. 175; 6 C.W.N. 283, D; see, also, 9 C.W.N. 283. D

2.—“ Shall make an order confirming the sale.”(1) Application to confirm sale not a step in aid of execution.

As the Court is bound to confirm a sale after thirty days, even in the event of no application under r. 90, an application to confirm the sale cannot be regarded as one in aid of execution, even though it is made by the decree-holder as purchaser. 9 C.W.N. 193=31 C. 1011, 1013. E

(2) Alienation by purchaser before confirmation.

An auction-purchaser of immoveable property who has paid the amount bid, is not prohibited by any law or ruling, from alienating his rights in the property purchased, notwithstanding that the sale may need confirmation after the lapse of a month. 1872, Select Case, Part X, No. 49. F

(4) Confirmation before objection.

- (a) Where the precipitate action of the Court has led to the confirmation of sale before the time allowed for filing objection has expired, whether or not that Court could entertain such objections after confirming the sale, the High Court must interfere and see that such objections are heard and determined, before the sale is confirmed or becomes absolute. 9 A. 411; 1 C. 226, R. J

- (b) Where a first application on behalf of a minor to set aside a sale under r. 90 was rejected, and the sale was confirmed, and a second application was again made, which was also rejected on the ground that the Court could not entertain any objection after confirmation, it was held that, having regard to S. 7 of the Limitation Act, the second application was not barred and the judgment-debtor had every right to make it, and the Court should have dealt with it before proceeding to confirm the sale. The order disallowing the objection and the order confirming the sale having been set aside, the case was remanded for disposal of the objections. 9 A. 411. K

(5) Confirmation after reversal of decree—Power of Court.

Where a sale in execution of a decree has taken place pending an appeal, and the decree has been reversed, the Court executing the decree cannot, after such reversal, grant confirmation of sale. 10 A. 83; 2 B. 540, R. See, also, 7 A.W.N. 287. L

(6) Confirmation before thirty days.

No order confirming a sale made in execution of a decree should be made under this rule, until thirty days has elapsed within which an application under r. 90, supra, can be made. (P.R. No. 19 of 1884, Civil (Barkley and Burney, JJ.)). M

(7) Duty of Court.

The executing Court is bound under this rule, to pass an order confirming the sale, if the sale is not set aside before the expiry of the period of limitation prescribed for application under rr. 89 and 90 of this Order. 92 P.R. 1907; 24 C. 682; 31 C. 1011, R. - (b) Although an auction-purchaser does not acquire a full title till the confirmation of sale, upon general principles he may have equitable rights, arising out of the purchase, till the date of the confirmation of sale. 7 C.L.J. 1. See, also, Select Case, Part X, No. 49. S
- (c) Where a sale was set aside, and the same property was sold in execution of another decree, and the first sale was subsequently confirmed, it was held that the purchasers at the second sale acquired their title when the first was set aside, and therefore their title was not affected by the confirmation of the first. 22 A. 168=20 A.W.N. 31. T

4.—“Deposit required by that rule is made within thirty days.”

Deposit within thirty days.

- (a) An application to set aside a sale can be received even after thirty days, but before the confirmation of sale, but the discretion lies with the Judge. 18 W.R. 11; note contra, 18 W.R. 333. U
- (b) Where a deposit was made by a mortgagee more than thirty days after sale on the first day after the opening of Court after vacation, it was held that, having regard to the provisions of S. 10 of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897), the money was tendered in time. 9 O.C. 214 (B); 19 A. 140, R. Y

5.—“An order setting aside the sale.”(1) Bona fide purchaser—Sale, setting aside of.

- (a) It cannot be laid down as a general rule that under no circumstance can a sale be set aside as against a bona fide purchaser. The Court must determine in each case whether it will be in accordance with justice, equity and good conscience, to set aside the sale. 20 W.R. 120; 20 W.R. 123; B.L.R. (F.B.) 911. But see 11 C. 136; 16 A. 5. Y

93. Where a sale of immoveable property is set aside under rule 92, the purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money¹ with or without interest² as the Court may direct, against any person to whom it has been paid.

Return of purchase money in certain cases.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 315 of the old Code and also to S. 258 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The word "when" is changed into "where," while the phrase "under Ss. 310-A, 312, or 313" is changed into "under r. 92." The 2nd clause "or when it is found....judgment-debtor...saleable interest....to be sold....deprived of it" is omitted.

The phrase "to receive back his purchase-money" is substituted by "to an order for repayment of his purchase-money," while the phrase "from any person" is substituted by "against any person." The word "purchase-money" is also substituted by "it." The last clause of the old section, viz., "The repayment of the said purchase-money....may be enforced....against such person....for the execution of a decree for money" is also omitted.

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

- (a) Neither this rule nor its principle applies to a purchase in execution of a decree, where a judgment-debtor has a saleable interest in the property sold and the only error is regarding the extent of such interest. P.R. No. 131 of 1879 (Civil). W
- (b) The maxim of caveat emptor applies as between the auction-purchaser and the decree-holder in a suit by the former against the latter for compensation regarding loss resulting upon such error. (Ibid). X
- (c) The rule does not apply when the title of the judgment-debtor to part only of the property sold is defective. 27 A. 537; 42 P.R. 1896; 23 A. 355, F. Y

(2) Act VIII of 1859, S. 258.

- (a)—applied only to cases where a sale had been set aside under circumstances which would under that Act authorize such a proceeding. The fact that the person, whose right and interest were sold, had no interest at all or less than was supposed, was no ground for setting aside the sale or refunding the purchase-money. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 82=10 W.R. 365. Z
- (b) But if there was an express assertion that the property sold was the property of the execution-debtor, the sheriff and the execution-debtor were bound by such warranty that one of them at least who had the purchase-money, was bound to restore it to the purchaser. The sheriff's liability to the purchaser ceased as soon as the proceeds of sale were paid by him to the execution-creditor and the purchaser's remedy was against the execution-creditor alone. 2 B. 258; 5 Bom. O.C. commented upon. A

General—(Concluded).

(c) A purchaser could recover the purchase-money, only when the sale had been set aside under S. 257 for irregularity. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 11 = 12 W.R. (F.B.), 8; 2 B.L.R.A.C. 82. B

(d) The suit was dismissed, where it was brought under—for refund of the purchase-money, while the sale remained uncanceled, as—applied only to cases where the auction-sale was cancelled. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 301 = 12 W.R. 176. C

(3) Appeal.

No—lies from an order refusing a refund of price to the purchaser. 12 A. 397 = 10 A.W.N. 135. D

(4) Expenses of sale.

The purchaser cannot be charged with the expenses of the sale. 6 A.H.C.R. 309; Agra Misc. 1. E

(5) Limitation Act XV of 1877, Sch. II, Art. 120.

A suit by a purchaser for refund of the purchase-money against the decree-holder, who has received the same, is governed by—, and limitation begins to run against him, when it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold. 16 M. 361 = 3 M.L.J. 364. F

(6) Right to recover money expended for benefit of indigo factory.

Where, before a sale has been confirmed, the purchaser takes possession, lays out money, and receives rents or profits, and he is turned out afterwards by reason of the reversal of such sale, he must get back the money laid out by him for the benefit of the estate in addition to his purchase-money and interest thereon and must account to the judgment-debtor for the profits received by him. 23 W.R. 393; 23 W.R. 1. G

(7) Sale by receiver.

A—is not a judicial sale so as to come within S. 315 of the old Code, corresponding to this rule. 1 C.P.L.R. 26; 3 C. 813, cited with approval. H

(8) Small Cause Court.

A suit by a purchaser for recovery of purchase-money is one cognizable by a ——. 8 Bom. L.R. 369. See, also, 114 P.R. 1908; contra 11 M. 269. I

1.—“The purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money.”

(1) Conditions for refund.

(a) The mere fact that, in some other proceeding between other parties, the Court decided that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest, would not be a ground for refund. 16 M. 361. J

(b) Where it is found that the judgment-debtor has any saleable interest in the property, there is no jurisdiction for the Court to refund, and the Court's order for refund can be set aside on revision. 9 M. 437. See also P.R. No. 131 of 1879, Civil. K

(2) Madras City Civil Court—Application of purchaser for refund.

Where, in execution of a decree of the Madras Small Cause Court, the property was sold and the purchase-money paid into the Madras City Civil Court, and the sale was set aside under r. 89, supra, and part of the purchase-money was remitted to the Small Cause Court in consequence of an attachment under a subsequent decree, the Madras City Civil Court had jurisdiction to entertain the application of the purchaser for return of the purchase-money. 21 M. 398. L

1.—“The purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money.”—(Continued).

(3) When is purchaser entitled to recover.

- (a) The mere fact that the auction-purchaser knew that he was purchasing the property of a minor or the fact that he did not ascertain whether or not the sale was justified by the terms of the decree, could not disentitle him to recover the purchase-money from the decree-holder. 1 A. 568 (F.B.), 2 A. 780; 1 A. 568 (F.B.), D. M
- (b) Being innocent of fraud and having purchased the property in the bona fide belief that the minor's property was saleable, he was entitled to recover the purchase-money. (Ibid). (Per Pearson, Turner, Spankie and Oldfield, JJ.). N
- (c) The auction-purchaser could not recover the costs incurred by him in defending the suit brought by the minor, the suit being one he ought not to have defended. (Ibid). O
- (d) The auction-purchaser being guilty of fraud, was not entitled to recover the purchase-money. Assuming that he was innocent of fraud, since he purchased with the knowledge that the property was the property of a minor, without ascertaining whether the sale was justified by the terms of the decree, he could not recover the purchase-money. (Per Stuart, C.J.) (Ibid). P

(4) Necessity for demand of purchase-money—Limitation.

- (a) There is no duty imposed on the decree-holder to repay the purchase-money to the purchaser, as soon as a sale is set aside. The decree-holder has no right to call upon the judgment-debtor to pay his debt a second time, until he is compelled to refund the purchase-money to the purchaser. 17 M.L.J. 194=30 M. 209; 4 C. 415; 5 B. 29; 13 C. 155, R. Q
- (b) Art. 178 of the Limitation Act governs the decree-holder's application for a fresh sale, and time does not run until he is compelled to refund the purchase-money to the purchaser. (Ibid). R

(5) Purchase-money, return of.

- (a) The purchaser is entitled to a—where a sale has been set aside on the ground of the judgment-debtor having no saleable interest in the property. 5 Bom. O.C. 83; 2 A. 299, P.R. No. 157 of 1884; P.R. No. 45 of 1886, Civil; P.R. No. 45 of 1886 (Civil note); 7 P.R. 1897; contra 6 Bom. A.C. 258; 9 B.H.C. 92; 4 B.L.R. - (c) When a sale of immoveable property is set aside, the purchaser is entitled to a—. 1 W.R. 55; 2 Agra 50. U

1.—“The purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money.”—(Continued).

The purchaser has a right of suit against the person who has received the money, if the Court omits to make an order. (Ibid). See, also, 21 M. 398=8 M.L.J. 110; P.R. No. 183 of 1883 (Civil); P.R. No. 68 of 1885 (Civil). Y

(d) The right of the purchaser to a— is absolute, unless he has been guilty of any fraud or misrepresentation or unless he has guaranteed the validity of the sale under the decree. 6 W.R. 147. W

(e) The purchaser cannot recover from the execution-debtor, in the case of the reversal of the decree on appeal. Marsh 183=1 Hay 438. X

(6) Procedure—Party.

(a) The rule does not proscribe the procedure for finding whether the judgment-debtor has saleable interest; but the conclusion from r. 91, supra, as well as from general principles is that there must be a finding on proceedings to which the judgment-creditor was a party or at any rate of which he had notice. 18 B. 594. Y

(b) The judgment-debtor was not a necessary party. 10 C.W.N. 274. Z

(7) Suit by purchaser for refund.

(a) A purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree can maintain a suit for return of purchase-money when it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold, and he is not limited to the special procedure in the execution department mentioned in this rule, i.e., he has a double remedy. 5 A. 577=3 A.W.N. 180; 13 A. 383=11 A.W.N. 138; 5 A. 577, F; 11 M. 269; 5 I.A. 116=2 C.L.R. 529=3 C. 806=1 C. 55=24 W.R. 372; 114 P.R. (c) (i) Before a— can lie, two things must occur, viz., (1) it must have been found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest and (2) the purchaser must be deprived of the property. 8 A.L.J. 819=A.W.N. (1906), 310. C

(ii) A suit would not lie where the title of the judgment-debtor to part only of the property sold is defective. 27 A. 537. D

(d) In a — against the decree-holder for misstatement of the property sold, it was held that the decree-holder was not liable where no loss had been proved by reason of the misdescription. 29 C. 370. E

(e) Where joint family property was sold in execution of a decree obtained on a mortgage executed by the father alone and subsequently the son's interests were exempted, in a — against the decree-holder and the sons, it was held (1) that his remedy was not excluded by this rule, (2) that he could not recover anything from the decree-holders, (3) but that he had acquired a lien on the interests of the sons to the extent of four-fifths of the purchase-money. 1904 A.W.N. 101=23 A. 355=21 A.W.N. 101. F

1.—“The purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money.”—(Concluded).

(g) Rights of a purchaser or his assignee for return of purchase-money are enforceable by suit as well as by the special manner indicated in this rule. 7 P.R. 1897. H

(8) Warranty of title.

The effect of Ss. 313, 315 and 316 of the old Code=rr. 91, 93 and 94 of this Order is that the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor passes to the purchaser at a Court-sale, subject to the condition that the purchaser may recover back his purchase-money when the judgment-debtor is found to have no saleable interest at all. The implied warranty of title in respect of sales by private contract cannot be extended to Court-sales except so far as such extension is justified by the processual law in India, viz., by S. 315 of the Civil Procedure Code. 17 M. 228; 5 I.A. 116, F; see, also, 3 A.L.J. 819=A.W.N. 94. Where a sale of immoveable property has become absolute,

Certificate to purchaser. the Court shall grant a certificate specifying the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser¹. Such certificate shall bear date the day on which the sale became absolute.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule and S. 65 of the new Code correspond to S. 316 of the old Code and also to S. 259 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The word “when” is changed into “where,” while the phrase “in manner aforesaid” is omitted. The word “stating” is substituted by “specifying.” The words “the date of the confirmation of sale” are replaced by “date the day on which the sale became absolute.” The phrase “and, so far as regards the parties to the suit.....and persons claiming through or under them” is omitted. The clause “the title to the property sold, shall vest in the purchaser from the date of such certificate, and not before” is incorporated in S. 65 of the present Code, with the difference, that the title vests, “from the time the property is sold”, and not “from the time when the sale becomes absolute.”

(General).

(1) Appeal.

There is no—from an order amending a sale-certificate on review, because the decree has been executed and the matter does not fall under S. 244 of the old Code=S. 47 of the present Code. 3 C.W.N. 374. M

(2) Limitation.

The Law of—is not applicable to applications for the grant of a sale-certificate under S. 316 of the old Code corresponding to this rule. 2 A.W.N. 362.N

(3) Previous Codes.

The Code of Civil Procedure before 1882 provided that confirmation was necessary before a sale could become absolute, and certificate had to be granted to the purchaser when the sale became absolute. O

(4) Registration Act, 1877, S. 17 (b).

(a) A sale-certificate granted under this rule is not compulsorily registrable. 5 A. 568; 5 A. 84; see, also, 11 B.H.O.R. 218; 9 C. 82=12 C.L.R. 1. But see 10 B.H.C.R. 435; 12 B.H.C.R. 247; 4 B. 155; 3 M. 37; 2 A. 392; see, also, 8 B. 377. P

(b) The question whether sale-certificates were compulsorily registrable under S. 17 of the Registration Act, was open to doubt. See 7 B. 254, 255; 9 B. 472; 9 C. 82; 5 C. 226; 7 C.L.R. 115; 21 W.R. 949. Q

(c) Sale-certificates are now exempted by S. 17 of the Registration Act, and S. 89 of the same Act also deals with such certificates. See, also, 9 P.R. 1903. R

(5) Stamp on sale-certificate.

(a) The stamp is required for the certificate itself and an application for a certificate need not be stamped. 13 B. 670. S

(b) The stamp-duty for a sale-certificate is payable, not by depositing the amount required to purchase stamps, but by the stamps themselves. 9 B. 47. T

1.—“Where a sale....has become absolute, the Court....a certificate....the purchaser.”

(1) Certificate, construction of.

(a) Where the order confirming the sale and the sale-certificate spoke of the “right, title and interest” of the debtor as having passed, it was held that the whole tenure passed and not simply the darpatni interest thereon. 29 C. 813. U

(b) The certificate is only evidence of what has been sold but it is not conclusive. 27 B. 394, 399=5 Bom. L.R. 217; 16 M. 207; see, also, 25 W.R. 401; 12 W.R. 488; 17 W.R. 511; 17 W.R. 459; 15 W.R. 490; see, also, 16 A.W.N. 36. Y

(d) The Court refused to go behind the sale-certificate. 19 W.R. 276; 14 W.R. 435; 22 W.R. 181. X

(2) Certificate, conclusiveness of.

(a) The certificate of sale is not conclusive as to the property sold. So far as regards the parties to the suit and those claiming through or under them, the certificate determines the date from which the property sold actually vests in the purchaser. 27 B. 394=5 Bom. L.R. 217. Y

1.—“Where a sale...has become absolute, the Court....a certificate.... the purchaser.”—(Continued).

- (b) Where a decree under which a sale takes place remains unreversed, and the sale under it has been confirmed, a sale-certificate will operate as a valid transfer of the property sold, notwithstanding that the sale has actually taken place at a time when the execution of the decree is barred by limitation. 11 C. 376; see, also, 7 C. 91=9 C.L.R. 53. Z

(3) Cases where certificate was unnecessary.

- (a) Where the sale was admitted, a certificate was unnecessary for upholding it. 10 B. 444; 7 C. 199, 207; 5 M. 54, 60. 5 A. 297; 9 C. 842, 843=12 C.L.R. 448. But see 11 M. 296, at p. 300. See, also, 6 B. 139, 142. A

(4) Representative of deceased purchaser.

- (a) Where a sale had become absolute, the Court should grant a certificate to the representative of the deceased purchaser. 24 B. 120. C
- (b) Where, before the sale in pursuance of a decree was confirmed, the decree was attached by a judgment-creditor of the decree-holder, it was held that the effect of the attachment was to place the attaching creditor in the position of the decree-holder so as to entitle him to have the sale confirmed under this rule and to take out a certificate of sale. 11 C.W.N. 158. D

(5) Omission to obtain certificate.

The mere fact that a person has neglected to obtain a sale-certificate, although the sale has been confirmed does not prevent the purchaser from bringing a suit to recover the property. 15 A.W.N. 54; 5 A. 305 and 17 B. 375, H.; 3 A.W.N. 48=5 A. 305; contra 2 A.W.N. 106. E

- (f) Although, in ordinary cases, the right, title and interest of the debtor passes, in rent-cases, the tenure itself passes and not the mere right and interest of the tenant. 6 I.A. 47. N
- (g) The purchaser gets what the judgment-debtor has, whether in his personal capacity or in his representative capacity. 4 C. 814; 22 W.R. 209; 22 W.R. 522; 4 A. 381; 2 B. 670; 13 M. 15; 2 A.H.C.R. 251. O
- (h) But what the purchaser gets is subject to the same restrictions, to which the property is subject such as mortgages, leases, revenue and limitation. 10 W.R. 384; 7 B.H.C.R. 24, 26; 6 B. 490; 6 B. 193; 21 W.R. 270; 3 C.W.N. 323; 3 A. 433; 13 A. 28; 6 C. 389; 6 B.H.C.R. 220; 12 M.I.A. 366; 16 B. 197; see, also, 3 Agra Rep. 7; 3 A. 797. P
- (i) Any increase in the judgment-debtor's property between the date of attachment and the date of sale, will pass to the purchaser. 18 C. 164; 17 I.A. 201. Q
- (j) The purchaser gets subject to equities. 1 C.L.R. 296; 10 B. 453, 455. R
- (k) Where property which has been mortgaged is sold and the vendor obtains the value of the property unencumbered, suppressing the fact of the mortgage, he is stopped from saying that the purchaser took the property subject to the mortgage. 5 M.I.A. 271; 9 A. 413; 3 B.L.R. 407; 9 A. 690; 2 A.H.C.R. 315. S
- (l) In an execution-sale, only the interest of the judgment-debtor passes, and no more. If the property had been transferred by the mortgagor to the mortgagee absolutely before the attachment, then nothing passes at the sale. On the other hand, if there was a valid mortgage, the title of the mortgagor only passes to the auction-purchaser, vis., the right to redeem the property; and the mortgagee is not entitled to possession but for a declaration that the transfer to the auction-purchaser is subject to the mortgage. L.B.R. (1872-1892), Vol. I, 415. T
- (m) What interest of the defendant passes is a mixed question of law and fact and it depends upon what can be sold and what is in fact sold. (4) Implied warranty of title—Caveat Emptor.

There is no implied warranty by the execution-creditor of the title of the judgment-debtor, in the case of a sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree and the rule of “Caveat Emptor” applies. 4 Bom. A.C. 114; 6 Bom. A.C. 258; 12 W.R. 41; 9 W.R. 556; 6 N.W.P. 168; 2 A. 828. Y

(5) Judicial sale.—Private sale.

A judicial sale transfers to the purchaser the judgment-debtor's property against his will and places the purchaser in a higher position than that which the judgment-debtor by any private alienation could confer on him. 2 N.W.P. 88. W

(6) Limitation Act XY of 1877, Sch. II, Art. 138.

A purchaser at a Court-auction, while Act X of 1877 was in force, was bound under—to bring a suit for possession of the property purchased by him within twelve years from the actual date of sale and not from the date of confirmation. 3 M.L.J. 267=17 M. 89. X

(7) Pre-emption.

An auction-purchaser had no right to pre-empt property sold to another person prior to the confirmation of his sale. 8 O.C. 202; see, also, 9 P.R. 1903. Y

(8) Reversal of decree before confirmation—Effect.

Where property is sold in execution of a decree, but, before the sale is confirmed, the decree under which the sale took place is reversed, the title to the property does not vest in the purchaser. A Court must refuse to grant the certificate, if, before it is granted, the decree is reversed. The person whose immoveable property is sold can get only his property and not the purchase-money. 4 A.L.J. 486=A.W.N. (1907), 198=29 A. 591; see, also, 3 W.R. Act X, 145; 10 A. 83; 25 C. 175; 2 B. 540. Z

(9) Title, vesting of.

Principle.

It will be seen on a reference to the rule that the title vests in the purchaser from “the time when the property is sold and not from the time when the sale becomes absolute.” A

(a) The title does not pass to the purchaser until the sale is confirmed, and until confirmation, the judgment-debtor can transfer his interest so as to entitle the transferee to apply under r. 89, supra. 17 M.L.J. 127=90 M. 214; 26 M. 365, F.; 1 C.W.N. 279, diss.; see, also, 92 P.R. 1898; 9 P.R. 1903; see, also, 7 A.W.N. 217. B

(b) (i) The title of the auction-purchaser to mesne-profits or possession does not accrue until the sale-certificate has been obtained. 1902 A.W.N. 145=24 A. 475=22 A.W.N. 145; 1887 A.W.N. 217 and 15 C. 546, F. C of the judgment-debtor or of some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under a title created by the judgment-debtor subsequently to the attachment of such property and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 94, the Court shall, on the application of the purchaser, order delivery to be made¹ by putting such purchaser, or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf in possession of the property, and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 318 of the old Code and also to S. 263 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The phrase "when the property sold" is changed into "where the immoveable property sold," while the phrase "under S. 316" is replaced by "under r. 94." The words "by the purchaser" are also replaced by "of the purchaser," while the words "by putting the purchaser" are replaced by the words "by putting such purchaser."

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 328 and 334 of the old Code and to S. 226 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to the first para of S. 328 and also to S. 334 of the old Code. The clause “If, in the execution of a decree....of property, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant is resisted or obstructed...., the decree-holder may complain....at any time within one month....of such resistance or obstruction” of the old section is replaced by sub-rule (1) of this rule.

In sub-rule (2), the words “the complaint” are substituted by “the matter” after “investigating,” while the words “the application” are substituted for “the complaint” after the words “against whom.” The words “to appear” are newly introduced after “is made.”

(General).

(1) Scope and application of the rule.

(a) This rule and r. 98, infra, deal with resistance or obstruction by the judgment-debtor or claimants at his instigation, while r. 99 deals with resistance by third parties. 3 M. 81, 84; 8 W.R. 398; 16 B. 711. L

(b) Ss. 328-330 of the old Code applied to applications by decree-holders only, while S. 334 applied to obstruction to purchasers. Rules 97 and 98 deal with decree-holders and purchasers as against the judgment-debtor. The provisions of S. 334 of the old Code are thus incorporated in these rules. See, also, 19 W.R. 62; 15 C.P.L.R. 49. M

General.—(Concluded).

(c) The remedy provided by this rule is not compulsory. The decree-holder can bring a regular suit without coming under this rule. 8 B. 602 ; 3 Agra 162 ; 2 N.W.P. 450. N

(b) The rule was not rendered inapplicable by the mere fact that the obstructor claimed to be a mulgeni tenant. 16 M. 127. O

(2) Object of the rule.

This rule and r. 98 are designed to protect decree-holders, and also purchasers of property in execution of decrees. 13 W.R. 463. P

(8) Limitation.

The period of—provided for in S. 323 of the old Code corresponding to this rule, is a limitation governing a cause of action arising out of a particular resistance or obstruction, and as regards such obstruction, the decree-holder must proceed under this rule within one year from the date of such obstruction. But this restriction regarding limitation cannot bar fresh complaint against obstruction preferred by the decree-holder. 18 A. 283=16 A.W.N. 84 ; 5 M. 113, F. ; 8 B. 102 ; 11 B. 473, D. Q

(4) Mamlatdar's Act, proceedings under.

This rule and the rules following have been held not to apply to—. 13 B. 552. R

1.—“He may make an application to the Court complaining of such resistance or obstruction.”

(1) Necessity for application.

A Court could not take action without an application from the decree-holder. 19 W.R. 62. S

(2) Regular suit.

(a) If an execution-purchaser fails within the period allowed by law to apply to the Court to inquire summarily into the matter of resistance by a third party to his getting into possession, his remedy is by a civil suit against the third party and no fresh application for delivery of possession can lie. 1903 A.W.N. 46=26 A. 365 ; 18 A. 233, D. ; 11 B. 47, F.T

(b) But a fresh application can lie if the resistance is by the judgment-debtor and not by a third party. 13 M. 504, 506. U

(3) Proof of obstruction.

—must be offered to the effect that lands not included in the decree had been taken. 8 W.R. 398 ; 12 W.R. 98. V

2.—“The Court shall fix a day for investigating the matter.”

The Judge should fix a day and make an inquiry on taking evidence, and if he decides that the property should be delivered in whole or in part, he should make order directing delivery of possession in one or other of the ways mentioned in the Code. 8 W.R. 79 ; 12 W.R. 98. W

98. Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance of obstruction

Resistance or obstruction by judgment-debtor, was occasioned without any just cause by the judgment-debtor or by some other person at his instigation, it shall direct that the applicant be put into possession of the property¹, and where the applicant is still resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession, the Court may also, at the instance of the applicant, order the judgment-debtor, or any person acting at his instigation, to be detained in the civil prison for a term which may extend to thirty days.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 329, 330 and 334 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The clause "where the Court is satisfied....at his instigation...possession of the property," corresponds to S. 329, while the clause "and where the applicant.....thirty days," corresponds to S. 330.

The clause "it shall direct that the applicant be put into possession of the property" is substituted for "the Court shall inquire into the matter of the complaint, and pass...as it thinks fit." In the clause corresponding to S. 330, the words "and that the complainant" are substituted by the words "and where the applicant," while the words "of the property, by the judgment-debtor or some other person at his instigation" are omitted after the words "obtaining possession." The words "the Court may also.....civil prison..thirty days" are substituted for the words of the old section, viz., "the Court may, at the instance of the decree-holder, and without prejudice....penalty.. Indian Penal Code...obstruction, commit....jail....thirty days," while the words "and direct that the decree-holder be put into the possession of the property" are omitted.

(General).

(1) Court-fee on appeal from decree under this rule.

The Court-fee payable on an appeal from a decree directing surrender of possession was the ad valorem fees in respect of the properties of which the decree directed surrender. 29 M. 172; 8 C. 720; 10 B. 288, F, 4 M. 420, D. X.

(2) Ground for order under this rule—Powers of Court.

(a) An order under this rule must be the result of the fact that the defendant unjustly instigated a third party who had no real interest in the property, to prevent the plaintiff from getting the benefit of his execution. 3 M. 81. Y

(b) A Court had no power to determine, as between the judgment-creditor and a third party, important questions on the merits. (Ibid). Z

(3) Limitation.

(a) An application must be brought within thirty days of the obstruction, but if the application is converted into a suit as under S. 331 of the old Code corresponding to r. 99, infra, the matter is one as if an ordinary suit for possession has been instituted by the decree-holder against the defendant. 18 B. 37; see, also, 18 A. 233; 21 W.R. 147. A

(b)—is not to be computed from the date of the first obstruction. 5 M. 113
See, also, 20 B. 175. B.

General—(Concluded).

(4) Suit not barred.

(a) A failure to take advantage of the summary remedy provided by this rule did not bar a suit. 8 B. 481, 3 Agra 162; 8 B. 602; 2 C.W.N. 311; 2 N.W.P. 450. C

(b) An order rejecting an application as being barred, did not bar a regular suit. 4 A. 131=1 A.W.N. 145. D

1.—“That the resistance or obstruction....direct....possession of the property.”

(1) Obstruction, nature of.

There must be some overt act of opposition to the Court's officers on the part of some one who is actually present. 25 B. 478, 485, 486; 14 A. 417. E

(2) Possession.

—includes constructive and symbolical—as well as actual physical—. Possession is none the less actual because it is enjoyed through tenants, servants, or members of one's family. 3 Bom. L.R. 58. (Per Whitworth, J., dissenting). See, also, 33 C. 487. F

99. Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction

Resistance or obstruction by bona-fide claimant.

¹ was occasioned by any person (other than the judgment-debtor) claiming in good faith to be in possession ² of the property on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the Court shall make an order dismissing the application ³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the first para of S. 331 of the old Code and also to S. 229 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

The words “where the Court is satisfied” are newly inserted at the beginning of this rule, while the words “the Court shall make an order dismissing the application” are inserted at the end. Paras 2, 3 and 4 of the old section are omitted. The clause “the claim shall be numbered and....as a suit....decree-holder as plaintiff....claimant as defendant,” in para 1 of the old section is also omitted.

(General).

(1) Scope and application of the rule.

(a) This rule deals with resistance by third persons and it applies in favour of decree-holders and purchasers as against persons other than the judgment-debtor. G

(b) This rule was limited to an application by the decree-holder. 1 B.L.R. 206; 14 A. 417. H

(c) The rule includes now orders made on the application of a purchaser against a person other than the judgment-debtor. 30 M. 72. I

General—(Continued).

(d) The rule has no application to the case of a mortgagee under a mortgage from the judgment-debtor after attachment, since he is a representative of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of S. 244=S. 47 of the present Code. 17 M.L.J. 321; 20 M. 378; 28 M. 119, 28 C. 492; 31 C. 737, R. J

(e) The provisions of this rule were held to be inapplicable to the case of a person put in possession of land under a decree in the manner prescribed by r. 96, supra. 1 N.W.P. 134=Ed. 1873, 218. K

(2) Act I of 1886, S. 26—S. 40, Act II of 1864.

A purchaser of immovable property sold for arrears of Abkari revenue is entitled to be put in possession by the Civil Court by removal of the obstruction. 1 M.L.J. 594. M

(3) Appeal.

(a) The investigation of a claim under this rule was not to be regarded as a fresh suit, but was a continuation of the original suit, and no appeal lay against the order of the Court under this rule. 4 B. 123, contra 4 M. 220. N

(b) Proceedings taken after a decree for possession under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act wore in the nature of a fresh suit and an appeal lay. 22 C. 830. O

(c) No appeal lay in the case of a claim which was registered out of time. 21 B. 392. P

(d) The Court to which the appeal lay depended on the value of the claim and not on the value of the original suit. 14 B. 627; 13 M. 520. Q

(e) A refusal to register a claim was held to amount to the rejection of a plaint and was appealable. 14 C. 234; 16 M. 127; 2 A.W.N. 125. But see 9 Bom. L.R. 936. R

(4) Codes of 1877, 1879 and 1882—Amendments by this rule.

(a) Under the Code of 1877, the claim had to be investigated as if a suit had been instituted under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. The powers of the Court were confined to an inquiry into the question of possession. 14 B. 627, 632; 3 M. 104. S

(b) The Code was amended by S. 52 of Act XII of 1879. T

(c) The Code of 1882 enlarged the scope of the investigation, and any question of title arising between the parties regarding their right of possession might be finally determined. The order for execution or stay of execution had the force of a decree, and the plaintiff had no right to bring a fresh suit if the decree was against him. 27 A. 453; 22 B. 967, 25 B. 478, 481. U

(d) (i) The first para. of S. 331 of the old Code corresponding to this rule has the provision, viz., "the claim shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the decree-holder as plaintiff, and the claimant as defendant." V

(ii) The second para. of the old section provides that "the Court shall proceed to investigate with the like powers, as if a suit for the property had been instituted by the decree-holder against the claimant." W

General—(Continued).

- (iii) The third and the fourth paras were—"the Court passed an order executing or staying execution which had the force of a decree, and was subject to the same conditions as to appeal." All these paras are omitted in the present rule, and it is not stated what the scope of the inquiry is to be. The inquiry seems to be of a summary character. X

(5) Court—Jurisdiction.

- (a) A superior Court might, for a sufficient reason, transfer a claim registered under the old section to a Subordinate Court for trial. 8 M. 548. Y
- (b) A special jurisdiction is conferred upon the Court by virtue of this rule to try a claim of which the value of the subject-matter falls below the pecuniary limits of its ordinary jurisdiction. (Ibid). Z

(6) Limitation Act XV of 1887, Sch. II, Art. 11.

- (a) No enquiry having been held within the meaning of this rule, the applicant was not precluded from bringing a regular suit to establish his claim more than a year after the date of the order. 11 O.W.N. 487=34 C. 491; 1 C.L.J. 296; 1 O.W.N. 24; 32 C. 537, D. A
- (b) Where a decree-holder sought to execute his decree against an under-tenure which had been sold for arrears of rent, a purchaser of such tenure, who was no party to the suit, could not contend that execution was barred. 9 W.R. 486. B
- (c) For other cases relating to—, see 7 Bom. L.R. 687=30 B. 115. C

(7) Lis pendens, doctrine of.

The—applies to purchasers at execution-sales. 27 B. 262. The—is applicable only to immoveable property and will not therefore vitiate the sale of a decree. 9 C.P.L.R. 22. D

(8) Omission to adduce evidence.

The mere—or the absence on the part of the claimant does not necessarily lead to the conclusion that there are no materials before the Court to enable it to enquire into the matter. If the Court dismisses the application after enquiry, the order is made upon investigation. 6 C.L.J. 302; 32 C. 537, doubted. E

(9) Proceedings—Jurisdiction.

The proceedings under this rule would go on where they were initiated, whether the Court has otherwise jurisdiction to try the suit or not. 6 Bom. L.R. 301. F

(10) Question of title.

- (a) No—can be decided under this rule. 5 Bom. L.R. 211=27 B. 302; 20 W.R. 57; 2 A. 94. But see 1905 A.W.N. 50=2 A.L.J. 132=27 A. 453, infra; see, also, 1 N.W.P. 252. G
- (b) It was held that, in a suit under this rule, the Court had to try it as a suit for the property and determine the—also. A.W.N. (1905), 50=2 A.L.J. 132; 1 N.W.P. 252. H
- (c) The—must be tried and not the mere question of bona fide possession. 1 N.W.P. 252; 2 N.W.P. 252; 14 W.R. 140; 14 B. 627; 7 B.L.R. Ap. 26=15 W.R. 327; 5 B.L.R. 708=13 W.R. (F.B.), 80; 3 W.R. 213; 6 B.L.R. Ap. 55=14 W.R. 358; 8 W.R. 477. See also 5 C. 273. I

General—(Concluded).

(11) Revision.

Where a decree-holder made a complaint under r. 97, supra, to the Judge, who holding that the matter came under this rule, without registering the claim as a suit and without enquiry, rejected the complaint, it was held that the order was not appealable but that the High Court could interfere in revision. 9 Bom. L.R. 936; 14 C. 235; 16 M. 127, diss. J

(12) Test.

The— to be applied in each case is whether the order which is relied upon as a bar has been made after enquiry or without investigation. 6 C.L.J. 362; 15 I.A. 123=15 C. 521, R. and Exp. K

1.—“Resistance or obstruction.”

Resistance or obstruction to Commissioner.

Where a Commissioner is appointed to partition property and put the person entitled in possession of his share, resistance to such Commissioner is “resistance or obstruction” to a decree for possession. 7 C.L.J. 98. L

2.—“To be in possession.”

Possession, meaning of.

The word (possession) is used in the wider sense so as to include not only actual possession but also the constructive possession of a landlord, whose tenants are in actual possession. Such a landlord may obstruct the property in execution. 3 Bom. L.R. 58=25 B. 470. (Per Whitworth, J., dissenting). See, also, 33 C. 487. M

3.—“The Court shall make an order dismissing the application.”

(1) Claimant questioning legality of decree.

There was nothing to prevent a claimant from questioning the legality of the decree obtained by the decree-holder against a judgment-debtor. 4 N.W.P. 81. N

(2) Improper order by Judge.

Where a Judge made an order as follows :—“Let the plaintiff take steps under S. 381, C.P.C.,” it was held that such an order was not a proper disposal of the petition for execution. Where such an order was passed without notice to the plaintiff, it was held that it ought to be set aside. 3 M.L.T. 295. O

(3) Powers of Court.

(a) A petitioner's objection, having been preferred in good faith, should have been made the subject of proper inquiry under this rule. His temporary absence could not affect his claim. 118 P.R. 1907. P

(b) In a suit under S. 381 of the old Code corresponding to this rule, the proper issue to be determined is whether the person obstructing is in possession on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor. No question of title can be decided in such a proceeding. 5 Bom. L.R. 211=27 B. 302. But see 1905 A.W.N. 50=2 A.L.J. 132=27 A. 453. Q

(c) Where the matter of the obstruction was not investigated, and there was no judicial determination regarding its existence, and the Court without any enquiry dismissed the application for default, the order is not of the description contemplated by this rule, and Art. 11 of the Limitation Act has no application. 6 C.L.J. 362; 34 C. 491, appr; 1 C.W.N. 24, commented on. See, also, 11 C.W.N. 487=34 C. 491. R

3.—“The Court shall make an order dismissing the application.”—(Concl'd).

(d) Where the decree-holder did not complain that the officer of the Court was resisted by a claimant, the matter did not fall under this rule, and the Court had no jurisdiction to take summary cognizance of the case.
1 B.L.R.A.C. 206=10 W.R. 318. S

(4) When application should be treated as a plaint.

(a) An application in furtherance of execution of a decree for possession against one, who resists execution and claims the property as his own, is an application under this rule and must be treated as a plaint.
14 C. 284. T

(b) Where a decree was obtained against the widow of a certain person and, after the widow's death, a reversioner objected to the execution of the decree, it was held that the Court ought to have registered the objection as a suit under this rule and not having done so, it acted without jurisdiction. 4 A.L.J. 117=A.W.N. (1907), 64. U

(c) When obstruction by person other than judgment-debtor is caused, the decree-holder's application to remove the obstruction must be registered as a suit under this rule. S. 244=S. 47 of the present Code, does not apply to such a case. 16 M.L.J. 433=2 M.L.T. 34=30 M. 72; 22 M. 161, not F and 23 M. 391, D. V

100. (1) Where any person other than the judgment-debtor¹ is dispossessed² of immoveable property by the holder of a decree for the possession of such property or, where such property has been sold in execution of a decree, by the purchaser thereof, he may make an application to the Court³ complaining of such dispossession.

(2) The Court shall fix a day for investigating the matter and shall summon the party against whom the application is made to appear and answer the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 332 and 335 of the old Code and also to S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to the first para of S. 332, while sub-rule (2) to the second para.

In sub-rule (1), the word “where” is substituted for “if,” and the words “of immoveable property” are substituted for the words “of any property in execution of a decree.” The words “by the holder of a decree..property or, where such..decree, by the purchaser thereof, he may make an application..dispossession” are new.

In sub-rule (2), the words “and shall summon the party against whom..is made to appear and answer the same” are new.

Paras 3 and 4 of the old section are omitted.

(General).

(1) Scope and application of the rule.

- (a) This rule and r. 101, infra, deal with persons who are dispossessed by the decree-holder or purchaser of property sold in execution of decree. W
- (b) Where a person obtained a decree against another in a suit under S. 15, Act XIV of 1859, and the person who was dispossessed by such a decree-holder applied under S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859 to recover his land, it was held that the decree obtained was a proper decree under S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859 and that the claimant had rightly applied. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 94=12 W.R. (F.B.), 25, contra 7 W.R. 171. X

(2) Object of the rule.

This rule and r. 101, infra, protect the interests of third parties who are dispossessed. 18 B. 522. Z

(3) Appeal.

- (a) No appeal lies from an order under S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859 corresponding to this rule, rejecting an application by a person not a party to the suit, alleging that he has been dispossessed by the Court-Ameen in execution of a decree. W.R. 1864 Mis. 24; 1 W.R. 140; see, also, 2 B.L.R.A.C. 303 note=11 W.R. 186; 5 M.H.C. 133. A
- (b) No—lies against an order refusing an application. 21 W.R. 39. B
- (c) But if the application is admitted and filed, and the opposite side is called upon to meet it and the claim is rejected, the order of rejection is a decision between the parties on the merits of the application and an appeal therefore lies. (Ibid). C
- (d) Where a person brought a suit and obtained possession in execution of his decree, and a third person applied alleging dispossession, and the Munsiff decreed in favour of such third party, it was held that the latter was not a proceeding under the former suit, and therefore the decision on it was appealable. 13 W.R. 264. D

(4) Burden of proof.

- (a) The applicant must prove that he was in possession and was dispossessed by another party, who alleged that the land formed part of the land decreed to him. 3 W.R. 205. E
- (b) Although a claimant has the right under this rule to contest the decree-holder's right to dispossess him, the—lies upon him to prove his case. 8 W.R. 8. F
- (c) In a proceeding under this rule, where possession is shown to have been with the plaintiff, the defendants cannot, without showing title in themselves, impeach the plaintiff's title or set up a jus tertii. General—(Concluded).(5) Court Fees Act XXVI of 1867.

Where a person had been dispossessed of a certain land in execution of a decree obtained in a suit against another under S. 15, Act XIV of 1859, and he applied under S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859 corresponding to this rule, it was held that no stamp was necessary on his application. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 94. I

(6) Limitation Act XV of 1877, Sch. II, Arts. 13 and 14.

(a) An order passed under this rule restoring possession, which has been given in execution of a decree, is an order made by the Court in execution-proceedings, and is not an order of a Civil Court in a proceeding other than a suit. Art. 13 of the Act does not apply to such a case. 10 Bom. L.R. 749. J

(b) An order passed by a Judge under this rule is not such an Act or order as is referred to in Art. 14. (Ibid). K

(c) Neither Art. 11 nor Art. 13 of the 2nd schedule of Act XV of 1877 applied to suits brought by a person against whom an order had been passed under this rule, to establish his right, no special period of limitation being prescribed for such suits. 125 P.R. 1894. L

(7) Question of title.

As to whether a — can be gone into, see r. 99, supra, notes. “Question of title.” M

1.—“Person other than the judgment-debtor.”

(a) Where a person obtained a decree against a tenant, who made default in paying the Government assessment owing to which the lands were forfeited to Government, and the tenant subsequently got the lands under a kabuliyat, and the decree-holder then recovered possession of the lands from him, it was held that the tenant could not apply under this rule to get back the lands, as it was erroneous to speak of him as a —. He was none the less a judgment-debtor because he might have acquired an interest subsequent to the date of the decree passed against him. 9 Bom. L.R. 1018. N

(b) A third party resisting the delivery of possession of property to a decree-holder, cannot apply under r. 99, supra, for the investigation of his claim, but he can apply under this rule after he has been dispossessed. 12 C.W.N. 115. O

(c) Where an assignment of a decree was held to confer no right whatever on the assignee, his possession must be held to have been that of a trespasser and his remedy for dispossession was under this rule, and not an application for restitution. 3 M.L.J. 258. P

2.—“Is dispossessed.”

Planting a bamboo and making proclamation to the occupants of an estate, is sufficient dispossession to entitle the landlord to apply. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 301=11 W.R. 191. Q

3.—“He may make an application to the Court.”

(1) Jurisdiction.

Where, during the pendency of an execution-case, the land in dispute is passed by transfer from one district to another and thereby the Court is deprived of jurisdiction, it is the Court's duty to transfer the record to the Court to which the land has been transferred. 3 W.R. 4. R

(2) Separate adverse claims.

Each application must be tried by itself as between the applicant and the decree-holder. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 333 = 11 W.R. 255. S

(3) Suit by dispossessed person.

(a) In a—under S. 322 of the old Code corresponding to this rule, the plaintiff must prove that he was entitled to retain possession when he was dispossessed, and not merely that he was bona fide in possession and was not a party to the decree. 6 O.C. 110. T

(b) Where a party complains that he has been dispossessed in execution of a decree to which he was not a party, and there are grounds showing his claim to be bona fide, the Court must treat the case as a regular suit between the claimant as plaintiff and the decree-holder and judgment-debtor as defendants. 15 W.R. 209; 22 W.R. 123; 7 B.L.R. Ap. 29 = 5 W.R. 327; 8 W.R. 477; 1 N.W.P. 176 = Ed. 1873, 255. U

(4) Claim of dispossessed person allowed—Suit to set aside order—Execution for costs by claimant

Where the claim of a dispossessed person is allowed with costs and the decree-holder subsequently files a suit to set aside the summary order and obtains a decree declaring that order to be inoperative, the claimant cannot take out execution for costs granted by the order, even though the subsequent decree might not have referred specifically to costs. 5 M.L.J. 252. Y

101. Where the Court is satisfied that the applicant was in possession¹ of the property on his own account² or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor it shall direct that the applicant be put into possession of the property.

Bona fide claimant to be restored to possession.

(Notes).
Old Act.

This rule also corresponds to the first and second paras of S. 332 and also to S. 335 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words “where the Court is satisfied” are new, while the words “that the applicant was in possession...on his own account...other than the judgment-debtor,” and the clause “it shall direct that the applicant be put into possession of the property,” corresponds respectively to the sentences in the first and second paras of the old section.

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

(a) The rule does not apply where S. 244 of the old Code = S. 47 of the present Code applies. 17 A. 478, 481. W

(b) The rule applies also to possessory actions. 13 W.R. 264. X

(General)—(Concluded).

(2) Burden of proof.

The—is on the applicant. 8 W.R. 8 ; 12 W.R. 16 ; 14 W.R. 358 ; 20 W.R. 114. Y

1.—“Where the Court is satisfied that the applicant was in possession.”

(1) Claim can be allowed.

(a) Where the applicant is found to be in possession by receipt of rent. 15 W.R. 70 ; 22 W.R. 123. Z

(b) Where the applicant is in possession as mortgagee, or as mortgagor through a mortgagee in possession. 20 W.R. 373 ; 2 A. 94 ; 2 B.H.C.R. 209 ; 10 M.I.A. 476, 485. A

(c) Where a party is dispossessed under the colour of a decree to which he was no party. 11 W.R. 146. See, also, 11 W.R. 255. B

(2) Claim cannot be allowed.

Where the objector does not claim to be in possession “on his own account or on account of some person other than the defendant,” but objects on the ground that he holds a bona fide title derived from the defendant. W.R. (1864), 384. C

(3) Claim rejected—Remedy of third party.

Where, in the execution of a decree, a claim made by a third party is rejected, such third party must either bring a regular suit or wait until he is dispossessed and then apply under this rule, or he may bring a regular suit and also apply under this rule. 23 W.R. 270 ; 1864 W.R. 61 ; 13 B 213. D

(4) Order, effect of.

The order decides the question of possession and depends on the result of the suit to establish the right under r. 103, infra. 8 M. 82, 83. E

(5) Procedure under this rule.

(a) The applicant must be examined in order to determine whether proceedings under this rule will lie or not. 16 W.R. 288. See, also, 8 W.R. 79. F

(b) The application must be rejected :—

(i) if the Court finds that the applicant was a party to the decree. 12 W.R. 475 ; 8 W.R. 114. G

(ii) or if it is found that the applicant is still in possession. 12 W.R. 281 ; 22 W.R. 103. H

(c) The application cannot be rejected on the ground that the applicant had not originally obtained possession in a legal manner. 22 W.R. 406. I

2.—“On his own account.”

(a) A member of a joint Hindu family cannot say that he is in possession on his own account of a particular portion, his possession being that of the family. 17 B. 718. J

(b) A mortgagee who is in possession of the mortgaged property under the mortgage is in possession “on his own account” within the meaning of this rule. 2 A. 94. K

102. Nothing in rules 99 and 101 shall apply to resistance or obstruction in execution of a decree for the possession of immoveable property by a person to whom the judgment-debtor has transferred the property after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed or to the dispossession of any such person.

Rules not applicable to transferees lite pendente.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 333 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the words "in S. 331 or 332," the words "rr. 99 and 101" are inserted, while the words "applies to" are replaced by "shall apply to." The words "resistance or obstruction in execution of a decree for the possession of immoveable property by" are newly inserted. The words "was passed" are substituted for "is made," while the phrase "or to the dispossession of any such person" is also newly added.

103. Any party not being a judgment-debtor¹ against whom an order is made under rule 98, rule 99 or rule 101 may institute a suit² to establish the right which he claims to the present possession of the property; but, subject to the result of such suit, if any, the order shall be conclusive³.

Orders conclusive subject to regular suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the second para of S. 335 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The clause "any party not being a judgment-debtor against whom an order.. under r. 98, r. 99, or r. 101" is substituted for the old clause "the party against whom such order is passed," while the word "final" is changed into "conclusive."

(General).

(1) Appeal.

An—does not lie from an order under S. 335 of the old Code=rr. 97, 98, 99, 101, and 103 of this Order. 31 C. 737, 741; 2 A.W.N. 16. L

(2) Codes of 1877, 1879 and 1882.

Under the Code of 1877, the Court could not enquire into a complaint made by a person other than the defendant on the ground of dispossession, and the only remedy of the dispossessed person was by a regular suit. This omission was rectified by Act XII of 1879 and by the Act of 1882, according to which a person other than the defendant could make an application for an inquiry. See 3 C. 729=1 C.L.R. 517. M

In a suit under this rule, the judgment and the decree in the original suit are not admissible in evidence. 1 C.W.N. 185 (1897). O

(5) Limitation Act, Art. 11.

(a) The limitation of one year prescribed by—is applicable only to a suit to establish the right to present possession, which the unsuccessful claimant may have in the properties claimed by him. 29 C. 25. P

(b) A suit by such claimant to enforce his remedies as a mortgagee is not governed by—. (Ibid). Q

(c) A mortgagee's claim to possession having been dismissed, he brought a suit for sale more than a year after the date of such dismissal. Held that the suit was not barred. (Ibid). R

(d) (i) A suit under this rule to get rid of the effect of the order must be brought within one year, and the limitation of one year cannot be escaped by merely designating the suit as one for partition. 3 Bom. 1.—“ Any party not being a judgment-debtor. ”—(Concluded).

- (b) A purchaser at a Court-sale of the interest of one member of an undivided Hindu family ought not to be put in exclusive possession in pursuance of a decree obtained against that member. 2 B. 676. He can be put in joint possession with the others. 5 B. 498; 5 B. 499; 10 B. 363. A
- (c) Where a purchaser at an execution-sale obtains delivery from Court and is subsequently dispossessed, he cannot claim the benefit of S. 835 of the old Code as such purchaser. 1 C.W.N. 192. B

2.—“ May institute a suit. ”

Suit, nature of—Jurisdiction.

A suit instituted by a party against whom an order is passed after inquiry under the 1st para of S. 835 of the old Code, is not a continuation of the previous summary proceedings, but an independent proceeding governed by the relevant provisions of the Code, and it would be only in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property in dispute is situate. 6 Bom. L.R. 301. C

3.—“ The order shall be conclusive. ”

(1) Order, construction of.

Where a Court in investigating a claim under S. 835 of the old Code, did not take any evi-lence, and also did not say that it formed a definite opinion on the strength of certain documents it referred, but simply wound up the order with the words “under these circumstances, I think it is useless to hold a summary enquiry as to the present possession of the land,” it was held that the reasonable construction of the order was that the Court for some reason or other declined to deliver a decision on the claim submitted for its consideration. 9 M.L.J. 173. D

(2) Order, conclusiveness of.

- (a) The order is not conclusive, if no enquiry, as is contemplated by S. 835 of the old Code=rr. 97, 98, 99, 101 and 103 of this Order, has been made. 6 C.L.J. 362. E
- (b) The order is conclusive unless the party affected thereby institutes a suit and obtains a decree in his favour. 27 M. 23. F

(3) Order, nature of.

- (a) An order must be passed against one party or the other, and if an application is withdrawn, the order allowing the withdrawal is not an order under this rule. 5 B. 440. G
- (b) A Court need not pass a particular order, and it can pass any such order as the circumstances of the case might require. 18 W.R. 87. H
- (c) An order, which has not been appealed against within one year, acquires the force of a decree. 10 M. 357; 8 M. 506, F. I

ORDER XXII.

DEATH, MARRIAGE AND INSOLVENCY OF PARTIES.

1. The death of a plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate if the right to sue survives¹.

No abatement by party's death, if right to sue survives.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 361 of Act XIV of 1882. But the illustrations are omitted.

"The Select Committee struck out two of the four illustrations to S. 361 and the Committee think the remaining illustrations may also be deleted as they are too obvious to serve any useful purpose." Statement of Objects and Reasons.

(General).

(a) This order cannot be held to apply to proceedings in a Mamlatdar's Court. 17 B. 645. J

(b) Chapter XXI of the old Code relates to changes during suit and speak only of plaintiffs and defendants—terms which seem to show that they were only intended to apply to proceedings up to final determination by the appellate decree, and not to proceedings in execution between the judgment-creditor and judgment-debtor. 18 B. 224. Where the original plaintiff dies, the suit may be continued by his legal representative, although the latter has not taken out administration to the original plaintiff's estate. 16 B. 519. M

(2-a) Act XII of 1855.

Act XII of 1855 applies to suits for wrong which did not survive to legal representatives. 2 N.W.P. 103. N

(3) Compromise.

Though the suit would have abated on the plaintiff's death, yet, if the compromise gave her some rights, her heirs were entitled to prosecute the suit. 5 C.W.N. 242=28 C. 155. O

(4) Dekkhan Agriculturists Act.

When a Subordinate Judge is seized of a conciliation agreement, there is a proceeding before him under the Act. He should follow the provisions of Act V of 1908 in regard to placing on record the heirs of the deceased parties. 19 B. 202. P

(5) Hindu mother.

Where, in a suit by a Hindu minor to set aside father's alienation of ancestral property, no right to sue survived in favour of his mother on his death and the suit abated. 4 A. 235=2 A.W.N. 29. Q

(6) Interest in property.

(a) In a suit for possession of timber, the first defendant had ceased to have any interest and he died after the settlement of issues. The cause of action against other defendants survived, and it was unnecessary that the suit should be revived against the first defendant's representatives. 6 W.R. 2. R

(7) Mesne profits.

A suit for possession with mesne profits does not abate by reason of the lands having since been wasted away. 5 W.R. 227. T

(8) Revival of suit—Cause of action.

Where it is sought to revive a suit on the death of the plaintiff, the cause of action of the original and revived suit must be the same; and no fresh cause of action can be imported into the revived suit. 22 C. 92. U

(9) Rights of Principal.

Where a suit is one properly brought by a person as agent of an undisclosed principal, it should, after the death of the agent, be continued, if at all, by his representatives, and not by the principal. 17 M.L.J. 116 (22 B. 672, D.). Y

(10) Suit by Hindu widow.

If, in a suit by a Hindu widow to recover possession of her husband's estate, the widow died and since the cause of action was one which from its very nature survived on her death, the suit did not abate. 17 W.R. 475; 8 B.L.R. 98. W

(11) Tort.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 362 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “if” is changed into “where.”

(General).

Scope of the rule.

The rule is not limited in its application to cases in which the right of suit survives against the surviving defendants by reason of some circumstance antecedent to the suit. 4 C.L.J. 568=11 C.W.N. 186. S

1.—“ Any of them dies.”

(1) Surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone.

A and B as joint owners of certain land, brought an action for damages on account of trespass. B died after action was brought. Held that the cause of action survived to A. 1 B.L.R. 42. T

1.—“ Any of them dies.”—(Concluded).

(2) All heirs not brought upon the record.

When it was the duty of the sons of a deceased appellant to bring their sisters upon the record along with themselves, and they not having done so, the appeal abated. 5 A.L.J. 62 (16 A. 611, F.). U

(3) Power of Court to reverse the whole decree.

Where a decree is passed against several defendants and two of them appeal, but pending the appeal one of the appellants dies and no legal representative of the deceased appellant is brought on the record, it is competent to the Court to reverse the whole decree on the appeal of the other defendant-appellant, where the grounds of appeal are common to all the defendants. 5 Bom. L.R. 90=27 B. 284. Y

(4) Partition suit.

In a suit for partition brought by one member of an undivided family against another, the widows of deceased brothers and cousins are not necessary parties, though in many cases it may be convenient that they should be made parties in order to ascertain what provision should be made for their claims against the estate. The right to sue was held to survive against the surviving respondents against whom the appeal was directed to proceed under the rule. 86 P.R. 1886 (44 P.R. 1884, R.) W

3. (1) Where one of two or more plaintiffs dies and the right to sue does not survive¹ to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone, or a sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff dies and the right to sue survives, the Court, on an application made in that behalf², shall cause the legal representative³ of the deceased plaintiff to be made a party⁴ and shall proceed with the suit⁵.

Procedure in case of death of one of several plaintiffs or of sole plaintiff.

(2) Where within the time limited by law⁶ no application is made under sub-rule (1), the suit shall abate⁷ so far as the deceased plaintiff⁸ is concerned, and, on the application of the defendant⁹, the Court may award to him the costs¹⁰ which he may have incurred in defending the suit, to be recovered from the estate of the deceased plaintiff.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 363, 365, and the first para of S. 366 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

- (i) The sub-rule (1) comprises in itself the provisions contained in Ss. 363 and 365 of Act XIV of 1882.
- (ii) Procedure in case of one of several plaintiffs dealt with in S. 363, and procedure in case of death of sole or sole surviving plaintiff dealt with in S. 365 are embodied in sub-rule (1).

Sub-rule (2).

- (i) The sub-rule (2) embodies the provisions contained in S. 366.
- (ii) The word "if" is changed into "where."
- (iii) The word "such" after the word "no" is omitted.
- (iv) The word "be" after "application" is changed into "is."
- (v) The words "to the Court...an order that" are omitted, and the word "under sub-rule (1)" are substituted.
- (vi) The words "so far as the deceased plaintiff is concerned" are new.

These verbal alterations and additions are due to the grouping, under one rule with greater clearness and all possible brevity, the provisions contained in the three sections of Act XIV of 1882.

- (vii) The second and third paragraphs are omitted.

"The Committee have introduced words in order to conform to the language of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, as amended."

"Though 'or' is the word used in the Code of 1882 and the Code of 1877, in the bill of 1877 the word 'and' is used, and it appears to the Committee clear that 'and' is required by the context. If 'and' is not used, then the contrast with the preceding section is lost."

"The explanation can be omitted having regard to the definition of 'legal representative' inserted by the Committee." (Statement of Objects and Reasons).

- (c) The rule relates only to proceedings prior to decree, 2 C. 327; 4 I.A. 66; 20 W.R. 305, and not to applications after decree. 9 C.W.N. 171. Z
- (d) An application for substitution of heir to allow execution to proceed is not an application under the rule. 3 C.L.R. 440. A
- (e) The rule does not bar the right of heirs to proceed with an appeal as against joint heirs. 8 W.R. 84. B

(2) Jurisdiction.

A Court to which a case has been remanded under O. XII, r. 25, has jurisdiction to act under the rule, and to do any act which may be necessary to carry out the order of remand. 7 O.C. 17. C

(3) Appeal.

- (a) An order directing suit to abate under sub-rule (2) is not appealable. 3 A. 844; 17 A. 172. D
- (b) An order that a suit do abate, being virtually a decree, is appealable. 10 B. 220; 18 M. 496. A second appeal will also lie. 26 M. 224=12 M.L.J. 380. E
- (c) No appeal lies against an order rejecting an application that a suit might be declared to have abated, or refusing to place on record the name of the applicant. 17 A. 286; but see 18 M. 496. F
- (d) If the order, purporting to have been made under sub-rule 2, is really an order under r. 5, it is appealable. 9 O.C. 354; 10 O.C. 121 (10 B. 220; 27 B. 162; 18 M. 496; 2 N.L.R. 7; 17 A. 172; 17 M. 209; 27 M. 112, R.). G

1.—“The right to sue does not survive.”

- (a) A purchaser cannot be rendered liable for a purely personal debt of the deceased vendor and he cannot apply as a legal representative to prosecute the appeal. 9 W.R. 271. H
- (b) A suit is brought against the sons and legal representatives of a deceased Hindu for debts contracted by the latter. The deceased may have left no assets. In any case the Court ought to pass a decree. 13 B. 653; 8 Bom. H.C. 245. I

2.—“On an application made in that behalf.”

- (a) Rival claimants can make separate applications under the rule to be placed on record. 15 B. 145. J
- (b) An application for execution of a decree by the heirs of a deceased decree-holder must be in accordance with law. 20 C. 755.
- (c) If the legal representative of a deceased appellant applies within the prescribed period to have his name entered on the record, the Court is bound to enter his name. 4 Bom. L.R. 23=26 B. 317. L
- (d) An objection that a person is not the legal representative must be taken at the earliest opportunity. No order for abatement can be passed after the legal representative's name is entered on the record. 12 M.L.J. 380=26 M. 224; 4 Bom. L.R. 980=27 B. 162 at pp. 186 and 187. M
- (e) The sole appellant before the Divisional Court died while the appeal was still pending. The application made by his sons to be made parties was rejected for default. No objection was raised by either party when the appeal was heard. Held that the proper order to pass was to set aside the decree of the Divisional Judge as a nullity, leaving either party to make any application with a view to re-opening the case. 78 P.R. 1891. N

3.—“Legal representative.”(1) General.

- (a) The rule pre-supposes that the party claiming to represent a deceased plaintiff is his legal representative. 17 M. 209. O
- (b) The cause of action survives to the applicant if he proves that he is the legal representative of the deceased. 5 A.W.N. 7. P
- (c) The words “legal representative” must be read in connection with the “right to sue” which is involved in the case before the Court; and that unless the person applying to be considered the “legal representative” can show that he is the person to whom the “right to sue” involved in the case descends or survives by law, he is not, qua that right, the “legal representative” within the meaning of the rule. 23 P.R. 1889. Q

(2) Administrator.

An administrator appointed under S. 10 of Regulation VIII of 1827 does not by such appointment become the legal representative of the deceased. 21 B. 102. R

(3) Certificate of heirship.

- (a) A Hindu widow, as holder of the succession certificate, was considered to be the only person who could represent the deceased and recover the debt. 26 M. 224. S

3.—“Legal representative.”—(Continued).

- (b) When the original plaintiff dies, the suit may be continued by his legal representative, although the latter has not taken out administration to the original plaintiff's estate. 16 B. 519; 15 B. 580. T
- (c) S. 4 of Act VII of 1889 distinctly and peremptorily forbids any Court from passing a decree against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of his debt, except on production, by the person claiming, of probate or letters of administration. 15 B. 105. U
- (d) A decree was obtained by one of two undivided brothers. He died. If the debt was in its nature a family debt, the right to execute the decree would have devolved on him by survivorship and no certificate of heirship would be necessary. 16 B. 349. Y

(4) Executor.

An executor under Act V of 1881 is the legal representative of the deceased before probate. But, where there are several executors, one of them could not carry on a suit without first taking out probate of the testator's will. 8 B. 241; 14 M. 454. W

(5) Hindu Law.

- (a) The reversionary heirs of the husband are the legal representatives of a deceased widow, and they can proceed with the suit instituted by the widow. 23 C. 636 (6 C. 479; 9 I.A. 539; 21 C. 8, R.). X
- (b) The widow's right to sue devolves on the heir of her husband entitled to the estate. Such heir, and not her personal heirs, should be held to be her legal representative for the purposes of the rule. 20 A. 341=18 A.W.N. 65 (9 I.A. 539; 21 C. 8; 21 C. 636, R.). Y
- (c) A Hindu wife dies after obtaining decree for maintenance. Her daughters should represent her in the appeal. 17 B. 758. Z
- (d) An uncle and his nephew, members of a joint Hindu family, entered into an agreement in writing to submit their disputes relating to the partition of their joint property to the decision of some arbitrators. But, pending the arbitration proceedings, the uncle died. His daughter's son, alleging to be the adopted son of the deceased, applied to continue the suit. Held that the suit did not abate. 13 M.L.J. 311; 27 M. 112. A
- (e) None of the sons of the deceased could claim to carry on the suit as Karta, inasmuch as no member of a joint family could arrogate to himself the portion of Karta against the wishes of the other adult members. But they were entitled to carry it on themselves for the benefit of the whole family, by making other members of the family parties to the suit. 10 O.C. 121. B

(6) Karnayan—His representative.

A tarwad in Malabar, subject to Marumakkatayam law, was reduced in number to two persons. In a suit by the younger brother of the Karnayan for possession of the tarwad property, and for a declaration that the adoptions by the Karnayan are invalid, he obtained a decree for possession alone. He appealed, and, pending the appeal, he died leaving a will. His executor was admitted as his legal representative. 20 M. 51. C

3.—“Legal representative.”—(Concluded).(6-a) Lunatic.

The defendant in a suit was sane when he contracted the debt, but became insane before the suit was instituted. Held that his wife could not be summoned as his legal representative, until she had been appointed as manager of her husband's estate. D

(7) Right to sue as pauper.

The right to obtain permission to sue as a pauper is only a personal right and cannot survive in the legal representative. 4 O.L.J. 234=33 C. 1163. E

4.—“Made a party.”(1) Appeal.

Having regard to the words “so far as may be” in r. 11, rr. 3 and 5 might be applied at all events analogically to the case, so as to enable the real legal representative of the deceased plaintiff-respondent to be ascertained and brought on record. 7 A. 693; 9 A. 447; 4 B. 654; 8 B. 440; 2 A. 738; 8 M. 300; 10 A. 223. F

(2) Power of Court.

If a sole appellant dies, the appellate Court cannot proceed to judgment in the appeal without the representatives of the deceased appellant being made a party on the record. 16 A.W.N. 91; 6 A.W.N. 90. G

5.—“Proceed with the suit.”

The defendant cannot change his defence in a revived suit. 19 M. 345. H

6.—“Within the time limited by law.”

(a) The representative of a deceased judgment-creditor claiming admission to continue execution proceedings may come in at any time. 3 B. 221. I

(b) If a plaintiff dies after decree, his representatives are not bound to apply within sixty days to be made parties to suit. 3 M. 236. J

(c) No question of limitation can arise with respect to the Court's power to make an order adding a party defendant to the suit. 12 C. 642. K

(d) A sole plaintiff in a suit died, and, for more than six months after the death, no step was taken for revival of the suit. Two petitions were presented, one for the abatement of the suit and the other for the revival thereof. It was found that the legal representative was prevented by sufficient cause from continuing the suit. The Court could order the abatement of the suit and at once set it aside under r. 9. 9 C.W.N. 369. L

(e) If no application is made within six months by the legal representative of the deceased, the suit will abate; 11 W.R. 543; but the Court may revive the suit. 5 C. 139; 9 B. 275; 9 C.W.N. 369. M

(f) One of the four respondents died and no application was made within six months to bring his representatives on the record. In the application that was eventually made the name of a wrong person was inserted. Held that the suit must abate. 22 A. 430=20 A.W.N. 136 (18 A. 19; 20 A.W.N. 109; 19 A.W.N. 136; 14 A. 221; 22 B. 718, R.). N

(g) The onus is on the applicants to prove that the application was made within the period of limitation. 7 A.W.N. 60. O

(h) When the application is made within the period prescribed by law, the Court shall place him in exactly the same position as the plaintiff or appellant held at the time of his death. 4 C.P.L.R. 133. P

7.—“The suit shall abate.”

- (a) Non-prosecution by the representative of a deceased plaintiff causes the suit to abate. 3 M. 31. Q
- (b) The words “legal representative” must, when there are more than one legal representative, be read in the plural. All the legal representatives of the deceased must be brought upon the record as appellants and, if any had refused, they should have been brought as respondents. If not, the appeal must abate. 16 A. 211=14 A.W.N. 22; but see 23 M. 125=9 M.L.J. 313. R
- (c) In a suit to cancel gift of hereditary land against donor and donee, one of the appellants had died between the date of the filing of the appeal and the date of the hearing, and no application had been made within the period prescribed by law. Held that the appeal did not abate. 109 P.R. 1881. S
- (d) In a suit against sovereign as ruler of state, the appellant died during the pendency of the appeal. It appeared that the suit was not to enforce any liability contracted by the defendant personally. Held that the appeal did not abate, as the state, which he represented for the purposes of the suit, was still existing. 51 P.R. 1886. T
- (e) During the pendency of an appeal by the plaintiffs in a suit for cancellation of a mortgage of immoveable property, one of the defendant-respondents died and no application was made till after the lapse of 60 days from the date of respondent's death. Held that the appeal abated. 76 P.R. 1884. U
- (f) If the representatives of the deceased appellant are not brought in the record within the prescribed period, the appeal abates. 22 A. 222=20 A.W.N. 24 (14 A.W.N. 22, R.). Overruled in 25 A. 27=22 A.W.N. 171; see, however, 23 A. 22=20 A.W.N. 163. V

8.—“Plaintiff.”

This includes appellant. 8 C. 440. W

9.—“On the application of the defendant.”

Where the special appellant died after the High Court had referred for trial to the Court below an issue based upon objections taken by the respondent, the appeal must abate and the respondent can't require it should proceed. 3 Bom. H.C. 81. X

10.—“Costs.”

- (a) The power, conferred by the rule on the Court of original jurisdiction to award costs against the estate of a deceased plaintiff, may, by analogy, be taken to be conferred on the appellate Court. 4 B. 654; 8 C. 440; 10 C.L.R. 437. Y
- (b) The representative of a deceased plaintiff in an abated suit is liable for costs of interlocutory orders in the suit. Bourke O.C. 154. Z

4. (1) Where one of two or more defendants¹ dies and the right to sue does not survive² against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, or a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant dies³ and the right to sue survives⁴, the Court, on an application

Procedure in case of death of one of several defendants or of sole defendant.

made in that behalf⁵, shall cause the legal representative⁶ of the deceased defendant to be made a party⁷ and shall proceed with the suit⁸.

(2) Any person so made a party may make any defence appropriate to his character as legal representative of the deceased defendant.

(3) Where within the time limited by law no application is made⁹ under sub-rule (1), the suit shall abate¹⁰ as against the deceased defendant.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 368 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

- (i) The provisions of the first five paragraphs are embodied in sub-rule (1) with the necessary amendments, consequent upon the re-arrangement of chapter XXI for the sake of greater clearness.
- (ii) The substance of the proviso is contained in sub-rule (2).
- (iii) The 7th and 8th paragraphs are omitted and sub-rule (3) is new.
- (iv) The amendments in the rule set at rest the rulings in 4 B. 654; 12 C.L.R. 45; 9 B. 151; 8 M. 300; 12 C. 643; 7 A. 681; 10 A. 223; 26 M. 230.

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule only applies to the case of death of a party to a suit, presupposing therefore the institution of a suit; and in the case of an application to sue in forma pauperis, no suit is instituted until the application is granted. 7 B. 373. A
- (b) The rule does not apply to execution proceedings. 6 A. 255; 12 A. 440; but see 12 M. 211; 15 M. 399. B
- (c) The rule does not apply to investigations under O. XXXIII, r. 5. 7 B. 373. C
- (d) The rule can only be applied where the applicant is the legal representative, and not when he is merely a person alleging himself to be such representative. 4 M.L.T. 227 (8 M. 306, cons). D
- (e) The rule is applicable to the suit though founded on contract, and no act on the part of the plaintiff could take the case out of the operation of the rule. He cannot defeat the provisions of the rule by resorting to his right under S. 43 of the Contract Act. 53 P.R. 1896 E

(2) Appeal.

- (a) No appeal lay against the rejection of the application to set aside the order directing the suit to abate. 8 C. 837; 10 C.L.R. 449; 12 C.L.R. 421. F
- (b) An order is necessary declaring that the suit has abated, and an appeal lies from such order. 1908 A.W.N. 15=25 A. 206 G
- (c) Dismissal of a suit, without giving time for joining the representatives of the deceased defendant, amounted to a decree and hence was appealable. It was not an order under this rule, or any other rules or sections of the Code. 3 M.L.T. 327 (18 M. 496, F.). H

I.—“Defendants.”

- (a) The word “defendant” in r. 4 when read with r. 11 must be held to include “respondent.” 11 C. 694; 7 A. 738; 30 P.R. 1880; 165 P.R. 1882; 133 P.R. 1884, for procedure to be adopted in case of death of respondent, see 4 B. 654. I

1.—“Defendants.”—(Concluded).

- (b) The word “defendant” in Art. 171-B of Act XV of 1877 does not include respondent. 10 B. 663; 9 M. 1. J

2.—“Right to sue does not survive.”

- (a) In a suit for dissolution of partnership, the legal representatives of a deceased partner defendant ought to be made a co-defendant. 16 B. 27. K
- (b) Where, in a suit for redemption by the original mortgagor against the mortgagee and his sub-mortgagee, the mortgagee dies pending suit and no steps are taken to make his representatives parties; no cause of action survives to the plaintiff against the sub-mortgagee who is not the assignee of the deceased. 20 B. 549. K 1
- (c) A Court has no power to adjourn a suit for trial when it is shown that one of the defendants died leaving legal representatives and the cause of action did not survive solely to the surviving defendants. The Court cannot proceed further with the suit until the course prescribed in the rule is taken. 12 M.L.J. 188. L
- (d) Four out of six persons who held a decree sued for a declaration that certain property belonged to the judgment-debtor, making the claimants and the remaining decree-holders, who refused to become plaintiffs-defendants. During appeal, the respondent decree-holders died. Held that the appeal did not abate. 23 A. 22 (22 A. 222, D.). M
- (e) A mortgagee's suit against the mortgagor and his surety is not liable to abatement by the death of the surety when his heirs are not impleaded as defendants within the prescribed period, if the mortgagee gives up his claim to proceed against the estate of the surety. 25 A. 200 = A.W.N. (1903), 15. N
- (f) If the suit was one for possession of land, which was in the joint possession of the two defendants in the case, there was no right of suit against one of them alone, and the appeal, therefore, abated altogether. 3 L.B.R. 168 (22 A. 430; 22 B. 718 and 26 B. 208, R.). O
- (g) When there was no application for substitution of the heirs of the deceased respondents, the right to sue not surviving against the other respondents, the appeal should abate, inasmuch as the decree could not be reversed without the representatives of the deceased being placed on the record. 11 C.W.N. 504 = 5 C.L.J. 398. P

3.—“Dies.”(1) Dies before decree.

- (a) In cases in which the debtor dies before or pending the suit, and the suit is brought or continued against his representative, the representative, and not the deceased person, is the defendant. 8 Bom. H.C. 37. Q
- (b) Where the sole defendant in a suit died, a decree, passed against him on the belief that he was alive, could not be executed. 3 C.L.R. 192. R
- (c) A decree is passed by mistake against a deceased defendant. But, at the time, the plaintiff had no knowledge of the death of the sole defendant. The plaintiff had the remedy to have the case re-opened after bringing upon the record the legal representative of the deceased defendant. 1904 A.W.N. 44. S

3.—“Dies.”—(Concluded).

(2) Decree against a dead person.

A decree passed in favour of or against a dead person is not ipso facto a nullity, and all that can be said in such a case is, that there has been a disregard of the provisions of the Code. The decree should be set aside or maintained, as if the death occurred after decree, according as the disregard of procedure has or has not materially prejudiced the parties. 20 P.R. 1898 (21 B. 314; 6 M. 180; 15 M. 399; 17 A. 478; 31 P.R. 1886; 7 P.R. 1889; 78 P.R. 1891, R). T

4.—“Right to sue survives.”

If the liability of the respondents was joint and several, the death of one of them, without his legal representatives being substituted in his place, could not exonerate the others from liability, and the appeal would abate only so far as the deceased respondent was concerned. 38 C. 580; 22 A. 230, D; see, also, 25 A. 206; 26 B. 203; 28 A. 22. U

5.—“On an application made in that behalf.”

(a) As regards applications to make a legal representative defendant, article 171-B of the Limitation Act should not have retrospective effect. 6 B. 26. Y

(b) Art. 171-B of the Limitation Act applies to applications made under the rule. 7 B. 373; 133 P.R. 1884; 133 P.R. 1886; 42 P.R. 1887. W

(c) Where a respondent dies during the pendency of an appeal, it is for the appellant to take the initiative, and he is at liberty to select one or more persons to defend the appeal. No person, other than the person so selected, has a right to force himself into the proceedings against the appellant's consent. 4 B. 654; see, however, 8 C. 440; 10 C.L.R. 437. (N.B. The rule has greatly modified the law). X

(d) Under S. 368 of Act XIV of 1882, a plaintiff may have the representatives of a sole defendant placed on the record, so that he may continue his suit against them. But there was no section which allowed the representatives of a sole defendant, who had died, to be placed on the record at their own request. 9 B. 56. (N.B. The law has been changed in the rule). Y

(e) The Court is bound to entertain applications of rival claimants to represent the deceased. 8 M. 300; 10 A. 223. Z

(f) The analogy of S. 368 is to be extended generally to appeals, and the party appealing may choose his own respondent as representative of the deceased. 9 B. 151. A

N.B.—Under the rule, the representatives of the respondent can apply.

(g) Art. 171-B of the Limitation Act does not apply to the death of a respondent. Art. 178 applies to an application made by a plaintiff-appellant to bring upon the record the representative of a deceased defendant-respondent. 10 A. 264; (7 A. 693; 10 B. 663; 9 A. 118; 7 A. 734, overruled). B

(h) Art. 178 applies to applications made by defendant-appellants to have the representative of a deceased plaintiff-respondent made a respondent. 10 A. 270=8 A.W.N. 114. C

5.—“On an application made in that behalf.”—(Concluded).

- (i) The application made more than six months after death, for the substitution of executors in the place of heirs, is not barred, when the applicant has, throughout, had a bona fide desire to effect substitution of the proper legal representatives and had shown sufficient cause for delay. 7 C.W.N. 529. E
- (j) After the decree is passed, the section relating to the bringing of legal representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor is cl. 50 and not this rule, and the person entitled to apply is the judgment-creditor and not the representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor. 28 M. 361. F
- (k) Art. 175 C. of the Limitation Act applies to the case of an application to bring in the legal representative of deceased respondent in second appeal, and is not confined to cases coming within this rule. 15 M.L.J. 404=28 M. 498; but see 16 M.L.J. 475=29 M. 529. G
- (l) An application made to bring the representatives of a deceased respondent on the record, whether that appeal is an appeal from an original or an appellate decree, is an application made under the rule. 4 A.L.J. 397=A.W.N. (1907), 155=29 A. 535 (28 M. 498, F; 29 M. 529, not F.) H
- (m) Where an appellant pre-deceases a respondent, the period of limitation prescribed for making an application under this rule is computed from the time when the names of the legal representatives of the deceased appellant are entered in the record. 16 C.P.L.R. 78. I
- (n) The plea that the appellant is not aware of the necessity to file an application under the rule is not a sufficient cause for the delay. 3 O.C. 13; 39 P.R. 1885; 39 P.R. 1885 note; 81 P.R. 1886; 81 P.R. 1886 note; see, however, 43 P.R. 1889; 43 P.R. 1889 note. J

6.—“Legal representative.”

The term “legal representative” clearly does not necessarily mean “legal heirs.” It is not the intention of the rule that an elaborate inquiry and decision should be given, in case of nice questions arising as to exactly who, under particular rules of law, is the legal representative. 29 F.R. 1888. K

7.—“To be made a party.”

- (a) On the dismissal of a suit, the plaintiff appealed. The defendant's death was notified to the Court. The trial of the appeal and the decision thereon, without adding the representatives, are incorrect in law. 14 W.R. 337; see, however, 3 C.L.R. 192. L
- (b) The judgment-debtor died after attachment and before sale. The representatives should have been substituted as parties on the record, and this not having been done, the sale should be set aside. 6 M. 180; 15 M. 399. M
- (c) The application, filed by the contributories of a company wound up against certain officers of the company, under S. 214 of the Companies Act, was dismissed. Pending appeal, one of the opposite parties died. Held the legal representatives of the deceased respondent could not be brought upon the record. 18 A. 156. N

7.—“To be made a party.”—(Concluded).

- (d) The plaintiffs sued two defendants alleging them to be members of a joint Hindu family. The suit ended unsuccessfully to the plaintiffs and they appealed and one of the respondents, during the pendency of the appeal, died. The widow of the deceased respondent, after the lapse of more than six months, applied to the Court to have it declared that the appeal had abated. The plaintiffs contested the application, but, at the same time, asked that the widow might be brought on the record. The Court rightly ordered that the widow should be made a respondent. 1902 A.W.N. 152. O
- (e) A person, whom the plaintiff alleges to be the legal representative of the deceased defendant and whose name the Court enters on the record in the place of such defendant, sufficiently represents the estate of the deceased for the purposes of the suit. A decree passed in such suit will, in the absence of fraud or collusion, bind the estate, though the person entered on the record is not the true representative, or is only one of several representatives. 12 M.L.J. 368=26 M. 230. P
- (f) When a plaint is presented by a plaintiff for the purpose of instituting a suit against a defendant, and it afterwards turns out that the defendant had died before the presentation of the plaint, the Court has no jurisdiction to substitute the representatives of the deceased as defendants and allow the suit to proceed against them. 3 M.L.T. 12=17 M.L.J. 551; (12 W.R. 45, F: 16 M. 319, Expl.; 18 Q.B.D. 250, R.). Q
- (g) A defendant has a right to the dismissal of a suit brought against him by an unauthorised person and the defect cannot be cured by the addition or substitution of the name of the person who might have brought the suit. 7 O.C. 78. R
- (h) The jurisdiction of the Revenue Court is not ousted by the death pendente lite of the defendant. His legal representatives should be brought on the record. R. A. R. No. 75. S
- (i) The rule leaves it to the appellant to apply that a certain person whom he alleges to be the legal representative be brought on the record. If he wilfully omits to bring the right person on the record, he will bear the consequence, as the proceedings will not bind the true heir. 5 P.R. 1890. T

8.—“Shall proceed with the suit.”

- a) Suit includes an appeal. 4 B. 654. U
- (b) Suit includes all proceedings in a suit including the proceedings in execution; and the executors were bound to make and capable of making the application at the time of the death of the testator. 39 P.R. 1903 (8 B. 241; 9 P.R. 1901; 6 A. 269; 63 P.R. 1900, R.) Y

9.—“Where within the time limited by law no application is made.”

- (a) If no one had been brought on the record to represent the deceased respondent within the period prescribed, the appeal must abate. 7 A. 734; (7 A. 693, D). W
- (b) The application for substitution of the heirs of the deceased defendants ought to be made within six months. 11 A. 408, (10 A. 587, R); 16 B. 27. X

9.—“Where within the time limited by law no application is made.”
—(Concluded).

- (c) The application for substitution of legal representatives made within six months of obtaining probate of deceased respondent's will, but more than six months after his death, is not within time, in the absence of sufficient cause shown for the delay and the appeal consequently abates. 14 M.L.J. 147; 1 A.L.J. 145; 31 C. 487=8 C.W.N. 442; 31 I. A. 71; 14 M.L.J. 145. Y
- (d) Where, of several respondents, some die, and their representatives are not made parties within six months, the appeal abates in so far as they are concerned. The whole appeal did not abate. 22 B. 718; 3 Bom. L.R. 736=26 B. 203. Z
- (e) As the appeal in the Court below was decided before the expiry of six months from the date of the sole respondent's death, it could not be held to have abated, and the appeal was remanded to the lower appellate Court. 1901 A.W.N. 187. A
- (f) Ignorance of a defendant's death is often a sufficient cause to prevent a suit from abating, by reason of the plaintiff not applying for the substitution of legal representatives within the period prescribed therefor. 42 P.R. 1887; 43 P.R. 1889; 113 P.R. 1907. B

- (a) The abatement provided for in the rule is absolute and cannot subsequently be set aside. A minor cannot seek to set aside the order of abatement after the appeal has been ordered once to abate, through the negligence of the former guardian to apply to bring the legal representative of the deceased respondent on record. 23 M. 359, (25 M. 431, F.). C
- (b) Where one of the defendants in a mortgage suit has died pending the appeal, and no application has been made to bring on his representatives as a party to the appeal, the appeal does not necessarily abate. The applicability of the ruling in 31 I.A. 71, is explained. 2 M.L.T. 36=30 M. 67. D
- (c) One of the appellants died during the pendency of the appeal, and no application was made by the representative of the appellant, who was a party to the appeal in another right, to be placed on record as a representative of the appellant. Held that the appeal did not abate. 3 P.L.R. 65. E

Determination of question as to legal representative.

5. Where a question arises¹ as to whether any person is or is not the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or a deceased defendant, such question shall be determined by the Court².

• (Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 367 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

- (i) The wording of the old section is entirely changed. S. 367 deals with the procedure in case of dispute as to the representative of a deceased plaintiff. The rule deals generally with the determination by the Court as to who is the representative of deceased plaintiff or defendant. Such a change was due to the re-arrangement in the order and the placing of r. 4, corresponding to S. 368 before r. 5, corresponding to S. 367 of Act XIV of 1882. Moreover clearness and brevity are ensured by the rule.

- (ii) The addition of the words "or a deceased defendant" appears to be due to the observations of their Lordships in 18 M. 496.

(General).

(1) Scope.

- (a) This rule does not relate to proceedings in execution. 2 C. 327; 4 L.A. 66; 20 W.R. 305. F
- (b) There is no provision in the Code that, if a person claiming as legal representative of a deceased plaintiff fails to prove that he holds that position, the suit must be dismissed. 27 B. 162. G

(2) Right of appeal.

Where an order under the group of rules in O. XXII relating to representatives has been made excluding a person from the record, that person must seek his remedy by an appeal against the order, and is not entitled to appeal against the decree so long as the order stands. 12 A. 200 (9 A. 447, D). H

(3) Appeal.

Where a Court dismisses the application of a person claiming to be brought on the record as a deceased plaintiff's legal representative, the decision is to be regarded as an order under the rule and as such appealable. 18 M. 496; 2 N.L.R. 7; but it is not a decree, nor appealable as such, 17 A. 172 27 M. 112; 27 A. 162; 2 N.L.R. 7. I

(4) Appeal—Revision.

When the right to sue does not survive to the applicant, the suit was ordered to be dismissed as having abated. The proper remedy for the claimant was to appeal against the order and not to apply for revision of the same. 9 O.C. 354 (18 M. 496; 27 B. 162 and 10 B. 220 R); 10 O.C. 121. J

1.—"Where a question arises."

(1) A person not on the record.

A person, who was not on the record when the decree was made, does not constitute himself a party to the suit by applying for execution, and a question as to his legitimacy is consequently not one which the Court executing the decree is competent to entertain. 2 C. 327. K

(2) Purchaser.

The dena-pauna clause in the deed of purchase from the deceased did not make the purchaser liable to pay so purely personal a debt of deceased as that which the decree created and consequently the purchaser's only title to be the appellant's legal representative failed. 9 W.R. 271. L

(3) When the procedure in the rule to be followed.

If the representative character is denied, or when two or more persons claim to be legal representatives, the procedure prescribed in the rule should be followed. 17 M. 209. M

1.—“Where a question arises.”—(Concluded).

(4) Deceased defendant.

A dispute within the meaning of S. 367 of Act XIV of 1882 need not be between persons claiming to represent the deceased plaintiff. 18 M. 496. N

(5) Question not limited to rival applicants alone.

A dispute as to who is the legal representative of a deceased appellant is not confined to the case of rival claimants to represent the deceased. A.W.N. (1908) 189=5 A.L.J. 363=80 A. 348. O

2.—“Such question shall be determined by the Court.”

(1) Applications by several persons.

When several persons apply to the Court as legal representatives of the deceased, the Court could and should, either before or at the hearing of the suit or appeal, ascertain and determine the preliminary question as to who is the legal representative of the deceased. 9 A. 447; 10 A. 423. P

(2) Rival claimants.

The rule does not empower the Court to admit on the record both the rival claimants as representatives of the deceased and adjudicate between their rival claims. 15 B. 145; but see 17 W.R. 475. Q

(8) Determination as to who is representative; how far binding.

The decree-holders could not go behind the decree and execute it for costs against the person whose claim had been disallowed, on the ground that she was in fact the rightful representative of the appellant. 11 A.W.N. 158. R

(4) Points for determination.

The question should be decided before issues can be settled or the trial begins. The Court has not to consider as to who only is the nearest heir of the deceased, but should decide who shall be admitted as the legal representative of the deceased for the purpose of prosecuting the suit. 4 Bom. L.R. 980=27 B. 162. S

(5) Duty of Court.

- (a) There must be a complete judicial enquiry and determination as to whether the claimant is the proper representative. 3 M.L.J. 287. T
- (b) The appeal should be stayed until the fact as to who was the legal representative had been tried and determined in such suit. 97 P.R. 1898. U
- (c) When a dispute does arise as to who is the legal representative, the Court should have the power of deciding it by an interlocutory order, for the purpose of proceeding with the case or appeal. 66 P.R. 1894. V

(6) Nature of the order.

Any order under the rule is not an order affecting the decision of the case and cannot be made a ground of attack in the appeal against the final decree. 27 B. 162 at p. 187. W

(7) Effect of the order.

The rule empowers the Court to appoint a legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit, but the appointment of such legal representative is not a determination of any issue which is properly raised in the suit. 1905 A.W.N. 206=28 A. 109. X

2.—“Such question shall be determined by the Court.”—(Concluded).

(8) The Court.

When a suit is transferred from one Court to another, the transferring Court has no jurisdiction to substitute the name of another party for that of the original plaintiff as his legal representative on his death pendente lite. W.R. (1864), 121. Y

6. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules, whether the cause of action survives or not, there shall be no abatement by reason of the death of either party between the conclusion of the hearing and the pronouncing of the judgment, but judgment may in such case be pronounced notwithstanding the death and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced before the death took place.

No abatement by reason of death after hearing.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

7. (1) The marriage of a female plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate, but the suit may notwithstanding be proceeded with to judgment, and, where the decree is against a female defendant, it may be executed against her alone.

Suit not abated by marriage of female party.

(2) Where the husband is by law liable for the debts of his wife, the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband¹ also; and, in case of judgment for the wife, execution of the decree may, with such permission, be issued upon the application of the husband, where the husband is by law entitled to the subject-matter of the decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 369 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words “if the case is one in which,” the word “where” is substituted in sub-rule 2.

1.—“The decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband.”

A party having died while a suit against him was pending, his widow was brought upon the record as defendant, and judgment was given against her, which was subsequently affirmed on appeal. The original decree embraced an award of certain wasilat (accruing after the husband's death) for which the widow was personally liable. Between the original and final judgments she married again, and execution of the decree was accordingly sought against her second husband. Held that he was not liable to summary proceedings in execution, and that the term “judgment” did not include the judgment in appeal. 9 W. R. 442. Z

1.—“The decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband.”—(Concluded).

8. (1) The insolvency of a plaintiff in any suit which the assignee or receiver might maintain for the benefit of his creditors, shall not cause the suit to abate ¹, unless such assignee or receiver declines to continue the suit or (unless for any special reason the Court otherwise directs) to give security for the costs thereof within such time as the Court may direct.

When plaintiff's insolvency bars suit.

(2) Where the assignee or receiver neglects or refuses to continue the suit and to give such security within the time so ordered ², the defendant may apply for the dismissal of the suit ³ on the ground of the plaintiff's insolvency and the Court may make an order ⁴ dismissing the suit and awarding to the defendant the costs which he has incurred in defending the same to be proved as a debt against the plaintiff's estate.

Procedure where assignee fails to continue suit or give security.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 370 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1).

- (i) The word “bankruptcy” is omitted.
- (ii) The words “appointed under S. 351” are omitted.
- (iii) For the words “shall not bar the suit,” the words “shall not cause the suit to abate” are substituted.
- (iv) The words “unless... directs” in brackets are new.
- (v) The word “order” is changed into “direct.”

Sub-rule (2).

The word “if” is changed into “where.”

The words “bankruptcy or” are omitted.

For the words “may dismiss the suit and award,” the words “may make an order dismissing the suit and awarding” are substituted.

(General).

Scope of the rule.

The rule does not apply to a case where there has been only an application to declare the plaintiff to a suit, an insolvent and a vesting order made, but the proceedings are subsequently annulled, and the party is not declared either a bankrupt or an insolvent; therefore, in such a case where a suit has been dismissed for the non-appearance of plaintiff or the official assignee on the date fixed for hearing, O. IX, r. 9, applies. 27 C. 217. A

1.—“Shall not cause the suit to abate.”

The rule means that a suit abates by the insolvency of the plaintiff, but that the defendant shall not plead the abatement without giving the official assignee an opportunity of prosecuting the suit. 12 Bom. H.C. 257. B

2.—“To give such security within the time so ordered.”

If an assignee, who has been substituted for the plaintiff under the rule, declines to furnish security for costs within such reasonable time as the Court may order, the defendant may, within eight days after such neglect or refusal, plead the bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff as a reason for abating the suit. 13 W.R. 481. C

3.—“May apply for the dismissal of the suit.”

Where the plaintiff, after the institution of a suit, became insolvent, and the defendant thereupon obtained an order that the official assignee should give security for the costs of the defendant within fourteen days, and should be made a party to the suit within one month, and that in default of such security, the suit should be set down for dismissal within eight days after the expiration of the time so limited—held that such order was irregular, and that the giving of such security was a condition precedent to the official assignee's being made a party to the suit. 12 Bom. H.C. 257. D

4.—“May make an order.”

The rule gives the Court no power to order the dismissal of the suit. If there is any error in the wording of the order, the Court can rectify it by cancelling that portion of the order. 16 B. 404. E

Effect of abatement or dismissal.

9. (1) Where a suit abates¹ or is dismissed under this Order, no fresh suit shall be brought on the same cause of action².

(2) The plaintiff or the person claiming to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or the assignee or the receiver in the case of an insolvent plaintiff may apply for an order to set aside the abatement³ or dismissal; and if it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from continuing the suit, the Court shall set aside the abatement or dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

(3) The provisions of section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, (XV of 1877), shall apply to applications under sub-rule (2).

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 371 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word "when" is changed into "where."

For the words "But the person...or insolvent plaintiff," the words "the plaintiff ...of an insolvent plaintiff" are substituted.

The sub-rule (3) is new.

(General).(1) Scope of the rule.

This rule does not apply to the case in which a defendant or respondent dies.
7 M. 195. F

(2) Judgment pronounced after death.

A judgment reserved when the plaintiff was alive but pronounced after his death and a decree thereon were held to be valid. 21 A. 314=19 A.W.N. 86
(21 B. 314; 19 C. 513). G

1.—"Where a suit abates."

Where the plaintiffs applied to the Court for an order under r. 4, and an order was made directing the issue of summons on the defendants, proposed by the plaintiffs, to appear and defend the suit, but the plaintiff failing to pay the costs of service of the summons, the suit was dismissed. Held a fresh suit would lie. 9 C. 163. H

2.—"No fresh suit shall be brought on the same cause of action."

- (a) Where a suit was declared abated in 1868, for non-prosecution by the representative of deceased plaintiff, this rule was held to be no bar to a fresh suit instituted in 1880 on the same cause of action. 8 M. 31; 8 C. 357. I
- (b) No fresh cause of action can be imported into the revived suit. 23 C. 92. J
- (c) Where one reversioner is barred by the rule to institute a suit in respect of the estate in the hands of a Hindu widow, other reversioners are equally barred from instituting suits of the same character. 4 Bom. L.R. 893. K
- (d) The abatement of a suit under this rule has no other effect than that of preventing the plaintiff or those claiming under him from suing again on the cause of action. The abatement of a suit under this rule has not the same effect as res judicata under cl. 11. 6 Bom. L.R. 638. L

3.—"To set aside the abatement."

- (a) The Court may, under the rule, revive the suit, on the application of the legal representative of the plaintiff, within three years from the time when the right to apply accrues, if he can show that he was prevented by sufficient cause from continuing the suit. 5 C. 139; 4 C.L.R. 374. M
- (b) It was competent for a Judge in chambers to revive the suit by making an order of abatement under r. 3, coupled with an order under this rule setting aside the order for abatement. 9 B. 275. N
- (c) The proper order to pass for revival is first to pass an order for abatement, and then to follow it by the order of revival. 9 C.W.N. 369. O

3.—“To set aside the abatement.”—(Concluded).

- (d) The rule does not allow an application by an appellant to set aside an order of abatement, where the appeal has abated by reason of the death of the respondent in the case. 22 P.R. 1885; 22 P.R. 1885, note. P
- (e) It is an error in law to make an order setting aside the abatement when that order was clearly time-barred, and when no sufficient cause was shown within the meaning of this rule. 9 A.W.N. 70; see, however, 11 A. 408; 8 A.W.N. 11. Q

10. (1) In other cases¹ of an assignment, creation or devolution of any interest² during the pendency of a suit³, the suit may, by leave of the Court, be continued⁴ by or against the person to or upon whom such interest has come or devolved

Procedure in case of assignment before final order in suit.

(2) The attachment of a decree⁵ pending an appeal therefrom shall be deemed to be an interest entitling the person who procured such attachment to the benefit of sub-rule (1).

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 372 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words “pending the suit,” the words “during the pendency of a suit” are substituted.

The words “given either....as the case may require” are omitted.

The words “be continued by...or devolved” are new.

The sub-rule (2) is new.

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule cannot be applied to the assignment, creation, or devolution, of an interest subsequent to a decree in the suit. 10 A. 97 (5 C. 726, R.). R
- (b) The rule applies to appeals in cases of assignment, creation, or devolution, of any interest pending the appeal, otherwise than by death, marriage, or insolvency. 18 A. 285; 22 A. 281 (9 B. 151; 20 B. 167, R; 18 A. 86, D.). S
- (c) The rule applies to the case where one of the defendants died after decree in a suit for partition. 5 C.L.R. 109. T
- (d) The rule has no application to proceedings in execution of decree. W.R. (1864), 313; 10 W.R. 32; 13 W.R. 207; 19 W.R. 85; 17 W.R. 20; 7 A. 681; 10 A. 97; 2 M.L.T. 197=17 M.L.J. 391. U
- (e) The rule applies to the devolution of interest by operation of law or in invitum. 25 M. 406; but see 18 C. 43. Y
- (f) The rule is applicable to a case in which, pending a suit instituted by the manager of an encumbered estate, his estate is released from management and restored to the owners. 28 C. 171. W

- (g) The rule does not apply to a case where the devolution of interest occurs between the time of the passing of a decree and the time of the filing of an appeal from that decree. 18 A. 86. X
- (h) The rule applies as well to the case of a devolution of interest pending an appeal, as to the case of a devolution of interest pending a suit. 18 A. 285. Y
- (i) This rule is only an enabling one and ought not to be construed as implying that, in no case of an assignment, creation, or devolution, of interest pending a suit otherwise than by marriage, death, or insolvency, can the Court insist on the representative being brought before the Court before the proceedings are further prosecuted. 28 M. 157 at p. 160. Z

(2) Appeal.

- (a) An appeal will lie from an order dismissing an application under this rule. 19 A. 142. A
- (b) A defendant, pending the suit, made an assignment of his interest therein. The assignees were not brought on the record and the suit was decided ex parte to the detriment of the assignees. The assignees filed a memorandum of appeal. The Court, apparently treating this as an application under the rule, dismissed it. Held that an appeal would lie from this order. 22 A. 380. (19 A. 142), F. B
- (c) An order allowing objections to an application under the rule to be brought on the record in the place of the plaintiff is not appealable. 1902 A. W.N. 84=24 A. 342 (22 A. 380; 19 A. 142, D; 4 C.W.N. 403, R.). C
- (d) No appeal would lie from an order rejecting the application of a person, who claimed to be brought on the record of an appeal as being the assignee of the deceased sole appellant. 1902 A.W.N. 112=24 A. 532 (4 C.W.N. 403, F; 22 A. 384, overruled; 19 A. 142, expl. and dist.); 57 P.R. 1903. D
- (e) An appeal lies against an order directing substitution of parties under this rule; such an order amounts to an order disallowing objections to substitution. 5 C.W.N. 307=28 C. 171. E
- (f) An order dismissing, on its merits, an application by the assignee of a plaintiff in a suit to be brought on the record, either in addition to or in substitution for the plaintiff, is a judgment and an appeal lies therefrom. 24 M. 252; but see 4 C.W.N. cviii. F
- (g) An order passed under the rule, disallowing an application of the appellant to be substituted in place of the original plaintiff, is not appealable. 4 P.L.R. 126 (19 A. 142; 22 A. 380; 24 M. 252, R.). G
- (h) An unsuccessful party has a right to appeal even though he had since parted with his interest in the suit. 7 C.P.L.R. 98. H

(3) Limitation.

- (a) The right to apply in a pending suit is a right which accrues from day to day, and, therefore, articles 171, 171-A and 178 of the Limitation Act do not apply in an application to revive such a suit. 8 C. 420; 5 C. 781; 3 C.W.N. 757; 7 C.W.N. 517=30 C. 609; see, also, 8 C. 837; 5 C. 726; 10 C.L.R. 449; 12 C.L.R. 421. I
- (b) The provisions of section 5 of the Limitation Act applicable to appeals are deemed to apply to applications under the rule. 22 A. 231. J

General.—(Concluded).

- (c) There is nothing in the rule to exclude the operation of S. 32 of the Limitation Act. 11 C.W.N. 521=5 C.L.J. 486=34 C. 612=2 M.L.T. 312 (25 C. 409, appr; 5 C. 720, dist.). K
- (d) A suit for pre-emption, therefore, is not barred by limitation, by reason of a person deriving title from the vendee-defendant, after the institution of plaintiff's suit, having been joined as a co-defendant, after the expiry of the stipulated period. 3 P.R. 1907=42 P.W.R. 1907. (5 C. 720; 23 A. 331; 68 P.R. 1879; 7 P.R. 1906, R; 25 P.R. 1908; 25 C. 409, D.). L

1.—“Other cases.”

- (a) These comprise cases of assignment, creation, or devolution, of any interest before a final order has been made in a suit, whether in the first instance or appeal. 8 C. 837; 9 B. 451; 16 B. 37. M
- (b) The words “other cases” mean cases of death, &c., other than those specifically provided for in the preceding rules of this Order, and do not mean cases other than death, marriage, and insolvency. 9 C.W.N. 171. N

2.—“Assignment, creation, or devolution, of any interest.”(1) Compromise—Not an assignment.

The “cases of assignment, creation, or devolution,” of any interest pending a suit contemplated by this rule are those in which “the person to whom such interest has come is arrayed on the same side in the suit as” the person from whom it has passed. So a consent decree consequent upon compromise in a suit for land was not a fit case for assignment. 5 A. 209. O

(2) Company's assignment.

Where one company, being the judgment-debtor, assigns its liabilities to another company, the transaction is no assignment, creation, or devolution, of interest, within the meaning of the rule. The interest referred to in the rule is interest in the property constituting the subject-matter of the suit. 30 C. 961. P

(3) Auction purchaser pending appeal.

Where a question arose in the execution department as to the nature of the property sought to be sold by the decree-holder, and, after the institution of an appeal in the High Court, the property was sold by the execution Court, held that the auction purchaser should be allowed to be made a respondent. 2 A.L.J. 516; S.C. 302; 5 O.C. 91. Q

(4) Devolution of interest—meaning of.

- (a) The phrase ‘devolution of interest’ is not confined in its meaning to devolution by death. The rule provides for all cases not falling within the foregoing rules as to devolution by assignment, marriage, or death. 6 Bom. L.R. 996. R
- (b) The rule comprises in it all cases of transfer from one to another. 5 C.W. N. 307=28 C. 171. S

2.—“Assignment, creation, or devolution, of any interest.”—(Concluded).

(5) Right of person beneficially interested to continue the suit.

Where a suit in ejectment is instituted by the receiver appointed by the Court, and the person beneficially interested in the suit is also a co-plaintiff, and the receiver is at a subsequent stage of the proceedings discharged, the beneficially interested co-plaintiff, can continue the proceedings.

(6) Mortgage decree—Assignee, party before order absolute.

An assignee of a mortgage decree before order absolute can be made a party under this rule to an appeal against his assignor; but he cannot raise any defence of a plea of limitation to the appeal which could not be raised by the assignors. 23 A. 331. U

(7) Official assignee.

(a) An insolvent died before his final discharge, and his heirs filed a suit for their shares in his properties. The official assignee was not a necessary party. 18 C. 43; 16 B. 452; but see 25 M. 406=12 M.L.J. 282. Y

(b) The decree, directing the sale of the chattels, including the debt in question, was void and inoperative against the official assignee, as the interest of the defendant devolved on him pending the suit, and as he was not made a party under the rule. 25 M. 46=12 M.L.J. 282, (18 C. 43, R.). W

(8) Execution—Transfer pendente lite.

The transferee pendente lite could not be brought on record as a legal representative in execution. 30 C. 961; 4 M.L.T. 190, (23 U. 374; 16 C. 40, D.). X

(9) Applications under the rule.

(a) A mortgage suit is a pending suit until the sale actually takes place, and an application made before sale, even though after a decree and an order absolute for sale, would fall within the rule. 9 C.W.N. 171 (23 A. 331, R.). Y

(b) The admissibility of applications depends not upon the question whether a decree directs a partition or a taking of accounts, but upon whether there is a pending suit. 30 C. 609=7 C.W.N. 517. Z

(10) Joinder of parties.

Inasmuch as the plaintiff's suit involved a claim for possession of the property sold as against the vendor, and pending this suit the vendor's interest devolved, under the decree in the suit, upon three persons, held they were properly made parties to the suit. 29 P.R. 1887. A

3.—“During the pendency of a suit.”

The words “pending the suit” relate to a suit in which no final order has been made. 5 C. 726; 5 C.L.R. 589; 6 C. 60. B:

4.—“The suit may, by leave of the Court, be continued.”

The suit may be continued by or against the person to whom such interest has come, either in addition to, or in substitution for, the person from whom it has passed. 8 B. 323. C:

5.—“The attachment of a decree.”

A creditor of a decree-holder who had attached the decree pending an appeal against it was not entitled to be made a party respondent to the appeal, under Ss. 372 and 582 of Act XIV of 1882. (N.B. It seems the law on the point is now changed). D

11. In the application of this Order to appeals, so far as may be, the word “plaintiff” shall be held to include an appellant, the word “defendant” a respondent, and the word “suit” an appeal.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the last part of S. 582 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).

. Scope of the rule.

S. 582 of Act XIV of 1882 does not make the provisions of ch. XXI, relating to the death of a defendant in a suit, applicable to the death of a plaintiff-respondent in an appeal, so as to render it obligatory on the defendant-appellant to make an application to the Court praying that the legal representatives of the deceased be made parties to the appeal. Where there has been no such application, the appeal does not abate. 7 A. 698 = 5 A.W.N. 169. E

12. Nothing in rules 3, 4 and 8 shall apply to proceedings in execution of a decree or order.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

ORDER XXIII.

WITHDRAWAL AND ADJUSTMENT OF SUITS.

1. (1) At any time after the institution of a suit¹ the plaintiff² may, as against all or any of the defendants, withdraw his suit or abandon part of his claim³.

(2) Where the Court⁴ is satisfied—

- (a) that a suit must fail by reason of some formal defect⁵, or
- (b) that there are other sufficient grounds for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit for the subject-matter of a suit or part of a claim⁶, it may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant⁷ the plaintiff permission to withdraw from such suit or abandon such part of a claim⁸ with liberty to institute a fresh suit in respect of the subject-matter of such suit or such part of a claim.

(3) Where the plaintiff withdraws from a suit, or abandons part of a claim, without the permission referred to in sub-rule (2), he shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award⁹ and shall be precluded from instituting any fresh suit in respect of such subject-matter or such part of the claim¹⁰.

(4) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to authorize the Court to permit one of several plaintiffs to withdraw without the consent of the others¹¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 373 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).

(1) Scope.

- (a) The procedure provided for in Chapter XXII of the old Code is not the only manner in which a plaintiff can come into Court for a second time to ask for adjudication upon the merits of his rights, which were not adjudicated upon on the former occasion owing to some technical defects. 5 A. 595=3 A.W.N. 140; 8 A. 282=6 A.W.N. 119; 7 A.W.N. 246=9 A. 155=7 A.W.N. 5. F
- (b) The Civil Courts had no power to sanction the bringing of a fresh suit except under S. 97 of Act VIII of 1859. 14 W.R. 473; 2 W.R. 297. G

(2) Applicability of the rule to other suits.

- (a) The procedure laid down in this rule will apply to rent suits also. 2 B.L.R. S.N. 11=10 W.R. 373; 15 W.R. 260; S.D. 4 of 1894. H
- (b) This rule applies to S. 52, Oudh Land Revenue Act (XVII of 1876). 2 O.C. 67. I
- (c) This rule will apply to an application to file an award made without the intervention of the Court, and the plaintiff can withdraw his application before final judgment and the preparation of the decree. 81 C. 516. J
- (d) A claimant under S. 230 of Act VIII of 1859 was allowed to withdraw his claim with liberty to bring a fresh suit on his claim. 5 M.H.C. 298. K
- (e) Where the plaintiff first put in a petition for removal of attachment, and then withdrew it without permission, held that Ss. 373 and 647 of the old Act were no bar to a subsequent suit. 4 L.B.R. 75. L
- (f) The provisions of S. 373 of the old Act were held not to apply to suits instituted under Act X of 1859. 12 C.W.N. 893; 21 C. 428, 514. M

(3) Applicability of the rule to appeals.

- (a) Ss. 373 and 582 of the old Act do not support the conclusion that rights actually vested and created by the decree of the lower Court can be afterwards annulled, by a plaintiff withdrawing, of his own free will and without the permission of the Court. An appeal lies from an order allowing the plaintiff to withdraw under these circumstances. 6 Bom. L.R. 533=29 B. 13; 15 M.L.J. 130. N

(General)—(Concluded).

- (b) An appeal cannot be withdrawn without the permission of the Court. 3 M.H.C. 368; 9 W.R. 328. O
- (c) One of the appellants can withdraw from the appeal so far as his own interest in the appeal is concerned. 119 P.W.R. 1908. P
- (d) When an appeal in a suit for redemption which was bad for want of parties was withdrawn unconditionally on the respondent agreeing to forego his costs, held a second suit for redemption was barred. 4 A.L.J. 201 = A.W.N. (1907), 91. Q
- (e) If, in an appeal, cross objections have been filed, the appeal cannot be withdrawn so as to prevent the respondent from urging his cross objections. 9 B. 28; contra 17 A. 518. R
- (f) Where the respondent has not filed a memo of objections, the appellant has an absolute right to withdraw his appeal at any time before judgment. If the respondent has filed a memo of objections, then the appellant can withdraw his appeal only before the hearing of the appeal has commenced. 1904 A.W.N. 26 = 23 A. 130. S
- (g) A second appeal was allowed to be withdrawn so as to enable the party to apply to the original Court for review, on the ground of discovery of new evidence. 7 B. 287. T

(4) Application not to be made on motion.

An application, that a suit should be allowed to be withdrawn, should not be made on motion. Cor. 7. U

(5) Revocation of withdrawal.

A plaintiff who has withdrawn from his suit is at liberty to rescind the act of withdrawal at any time before final judgment. 6 N.W.P. 66; 2 Agra 158. Y

(6) Effect of leave to withdraw on subsequent suit.

- (a) When a suit is withdrawn, it is not necessary in a subsequent suit on the same cause of action to allege the same title. 9 B. 346. Y 1
- (b) When a suit is withdrawn and a subsequent suit is brought on the same cause of action, the plaintiff is not precluded by S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882 from including fresh reliefs. 17 A. 53. W

(7) Notice to withdraw.

- (a) Though notice of the application for withdrawal should be given to the defendant, the defendant has power to waive his right of notice. The want of notice does not make an order of withdrawal invalid. 1 O.C. 97. X
- (b) When a plaintiff applies for leave to withdraw, notice of the application must be given to the defendant. 6 A. 211. Y

I.—“At any time...suit.”

(1) Arbitration.

When a suit is referred to arbitration, the Court has no power to grant leave to withdraw. 9 A. 168; 7 C.W.N. 186. Z

(2) Withdrawal after issue.

A plaintiff cannot be permitted to withdraw after issue has been joined and he has failed to produce evidence to support his claim. 21 W.R. 291; 3 B.L.R. (P.C.), 48 = 12 W.R. (P.C.), 48 = 13 M.I.A. 160; 16 W.R. 276. A

*1.—“At any time....suit.”—(Concluded).(3) After judgment.

- (a) Permission to withdraw should not be given after final judgment has been passed. 24 W.R. 23; 2 W.R. 297. B
- (b) S. 373 of the old Act does not apply except to cases where the suit is properly pending in a Court in which the leave was granted. 12 C.W.N. 921. C

*2.—“The plaintiff.”(1) Assignee of plaintiff.

Where the Court allowed the purchaser of the plaintiff's rights to be substituted for him and then permitted him to withdraw the suit, held it was not an order under the corresponding S. 97 of Act VIII of 1859 which the Court had power to make. 9 W.R. 309. D

(2) Next friend.

An unconditional withdrawal of a suit without leave to bring a fresh suit by the next friend of a minor should not be allowed. If allowed, the High Court will interfere in revision. 14 M.L.J. 159=27 M. 377. E

(3) Defendant.

It is doubtful whether a defendant who has claimed a set-off can be allowed to withdraw his claim, when he discovers that he has failed to make out his claim and is bound to lose. 32 C. 654 (663). F

3.—“Abandon part of his claim.”

This rule will empower a Court to permit a plaintiff to withdraw a portion of his claim. 29 A. 471=4 A.L.J. 375=A.W.N. (1907), 133. G

4.—“The Court.”

- (a) A Presidency Small Cause Court which, after dismissing a suit has granted a new trial, is reised of the case not as a Court of Revision but as an original Court and has jurisdiction to allow the suit to be withdrawn. 29 C. 239. H
- (b) A special Judge appointed under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act is not competent, in the exercise of his revisional powers, to allow a plaintiff to withdraw his suit with liberty to bring a new suit. 12 B. 684. I
- (c) An appellate Court, being of opinion that the plaint was informally drawn and its allegations regarding the cause of action not specific, gave the plaintiff permission to withdraw his suit. 8 A. 82. J
- (d) The High Court permitted a suit to be withdrawn when the appeal was pending before it. 14 W.R.O.C. 17; Bourke A.O.C. 99; 17 W.R. 164; 8 A. 82. K

*5.—“That a suit....defect.”(1) Suit bad for want of consent.

Where a Ruling Chief files a suit without obtaining the consent of the Governor-General, he should be allowed to withdraw his suit. 21 B. 851. L

(2) Misjoinder.

Where the plaintiff brought a suit as a reversioner for the recovery of property sold to three different sets of alienees by the widow, held the suit was bad for misjoinder of causes of action, and the plaintiff was allowed to withdraw his suit against two sets of defendants. 16 A. 279. M

6.—“That there are other sufficient grounds...claim.”

A.—The following were held to be sufficient cause.

(1) Absence of the defendant.

When the plaintiff finds that the defendant is absent and that even if a decree be passed it cannot be executed, he can be allowed to withdraw under this rule. 15 B. 160. N

(2) Absence of a witness.

When a suit was filed on the belief that a material witness was in Bombay while he was actually in England, the suit should be allowed to be withdrawn if the party so desires. 8 Bom. O.C. 55. O

(3) Certainty of failure of the suit.

(a) It is doubtful if the Court ought to permit the plaintiff to withdraw from the suit on the ground that the defence to the suit was such that the suit must fail if proceeded with. 3 A. 528. But see 21 M. 35. P

(b) When in a suit for possession it is found that the defendant is in possession as mortgagee, the plaintiff can be allowed to withdraw his suit under this rule. 24 P.R. 1872 (Civil). Q

(4) Consent of the defendant.

Under the corresponding S. 97 of Act VIII of 1859, it was held that, if the plaintiff withdrew his suit with the consent of the defendant but without the permission of the Court, he could bring a fresh suit for the same claim. Bourke A.O.C. 162; 4 C.W.N. 110. R

(5) Suit document, inadmissibility of.

Where a document on which the suit was based was inadmissible in evidence for want of registration, the plaintiff was allowed to withdraw the suit. 6 N.W.P. 116. S

(6) Want of evidence.

(a) The plaintiff's inability to adduce his evidence within the time limited for the hearing of the suit is a sufficient ground for allowing the plaintiff to withdraw his suit. 16 W.R. 100. T

(b) Where the appellate Court thought that the plaintiff could have adduced better evidence and that his claim was a good one, it allowed the plaintiff to withdraw his suit. 20 W.R. 163. U

(7) Suit for only a portion of the claim.

At the time of hearing the plaintiff was absent and the defendant confessed judgment. Just before the judgment was passed, the plaintiff appeared and applied for leave to withdraw as he had, through mistake, only sued for a portion of his claim. Held the plaintiff could be allowed to withdraw. 65 P.R. 1879 (Civil). Y

B.—The following were held to be no sufficient cause.

(1) Plaintiff's ignorance of the defendant's whereabouts.

The Court should not ask the plaintiff to withdraw his suit if he does not know the address of the defendant. U.B.R. (1892-1896), p. 261. W

(2) Payment by one of the defendants.

A Small Cause Court is not bound to allow the plaintiff to withdraw his suit on the ground that he has received payment from one of the defendants. 8 M.H.C. 27. X

6.—“That there are other sufficient grounds....claim.”—(Concluded).

B.—The following were held to be no sufficient cause.—(Concluded).

(3) Suit, not cognizable by either a Revenue or Civil Court.

When a suit as filed could not be received either in a Civil or a Revenue Court, the plaintiff was not allowed to withdraw the suit. 50 C. 367. Y

(4) Alteration of law.

The Court should not permit a withdrawal of the suit on the ground that the substantive law was altered during the pendency of the suit and that the alteration of the law would give the plaintiff the better relief if he instituted a second suit on the same cause of action. 10 Bom. L.R. 625. Z

7.—“It may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant.”

A.—The Court may grant.

(1) Principle.

When after issues have been framed the plaintiff wants to withdraw from the suit, the Court must exercise its discretion with caution in permitting him to withdraw. If the Court permits him to withdraw, the appellate Court should not interfere with the order. 23 W.R. 345; 17 W.R. 229. A

(2) Nature of the order to be passed.

(a) S. 373 of the old Act contemplates a withdrawal from a suit and not withdrawal of a suit. Where a party applies to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit and the Court is not minded to grant the prayer, the proper order to be passed is to dismiss the petition for withdrawal. Where no liberty to bring a fresh suit is asked for no order of the Court is necessary to allow him to withdraw the suit. 32 B. 345=10 Bom. L.R. 293. B

(b) The proper order to be passed is not one of dismissal but one of leave being granted to the plaintiff to withdraw. 1 W.R. 222. C

(c) When an application prays (1) for the dismissal of the appeal and (2) for leave to bring a fresh suit, it is not competent for the Court to disallow the second prayer and grant the first prayer. 2 A.W.N. 69. D

(d) Where an appellate Court directed a new plaint to be filed, its order was held to be ultra vires. It should have dismissed the suit with leave to plaintiff to bring a fresh suit. 9 A. 191 (P.C.). E

(e) An order permitting the withdrawal of the whole suit with liberty to bring a suit for a portion of the claim, is bad in law. 5 Bom. L.R. 228. F

(f) When a Court permits a withdrawal of a suit, the condition of the liberty to bring a fresh suit is necessarily implied even if it is not expressly stated. 9 C.P.L.R. 8. G

(g) A former suit by the plaintiff was allowed to be withdrawn without leave to bring a fresh suit, because the plaintiff stated that he hoped the suit would be settled out of Court. Held that the order allowing the plaintiff to withdraw was illegal. 147 P.R. 1888. H

(h) A permission in the judgment, granting to the plaintiff leave to bring a fresh suit, is null and void. 11 A. 187 (F.B.). I

(i) An order giving leave to withdraw a suit and file a fresh suit on the ground that leave under clause 12 of the Charter was granted by the Registrar, was held to be ultra vires. 12 C.W.N. 921. J

7.—“It may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant.”—(Concluded).

A.—The Court may grant.—(Concluded).

(3) Appeal.

An order allowing an application under this rule is not appealable. 16 A. 19= 13 A.W.N. 189; 13 A.W.N. 204; 17 A. 97=15 A.W.N. 17; 16 A.W.N. 21; 18 C. 322; 15 A. 169; 21 M. 421; 27 C. 362; 4 C.W.N. 41. For contra cases see 5 A.W.N. 151; 8 A. 82. K

(4) Revision.

An order allowing the plaintiff to withdraw his suit is open to revision. Where a Munsiff dismissed the suit, and the District Court on appeal allowed the plaintiff to withdraw without assigning any reasons, the Judge was held to have acted with material irregularity. 11 M. 322; 15 A. 169. L

(5) Second appeal.

A plea that the suit was improperly allowed to be withdrawn could not be taken in second appeal for the first time. 3 A. 523. M

(6) Effect of non-compliance with the order.

(a) When a certain suit is allowed to be withdrawn on certain conditions and the conditions are not fulfilled before withdrawing, the suit should be taken to have been withdrawn without permission. 2 C.L.J. 480=10 C.W.N. 8. N

(b) When the payment of costs is not made a condition precedent to the bringing of a fresh suit, the second suit should not be stayed on the ground that the costs of the first suit has not been paid. 2 Hyde. 212. O

(c) When the suit is allowed to be withdrawn on condition that the plaintiff should pay the costs of the defendant, and the plaintiff brings a second suit without paying the costs, the second suit is not bad ab initio. 81 C. 965. P

(d) Where the plaintiff is allowed to withdraw his suit on payment of costs within certain time and the time has expired, the Court has power to extend the time for the payment of costs. 29 M. 370. Q

(7) Effect of refusal of leave to withdraw.

The rejection of a prayer to be allowed to bring a fresh suit can result only in the suit proceeding in the usual course. 8 A.W.N. 182. R

B.—On such terms as the Court thinks fit.

(a) In a suit for dissolution of marriage by the wife against her husband on the ground of cruelty, the wife withdrew her case and the husband was ordered to pay the costs of the wife incurred by her personally. The attorney for the wife was directed to a suit against the husband for the recovery of his costs. 25 C. 222=2 C.W.N. 37. S

(b) Though the summons in the suit to the defendant has not been served upon him, yet he can object to the withdrawing of the suit and claim costs also, if he is compelled by the plaintiff by other processes such as arrest before judgment, to appear before the Court. 15 B. 160. T

(c) When a pauper withdraws his suit, he must be made to pay the Court-fees to the Government. 29 B. 102; 15 M.L.J. 316. U

8.—“Claim.”

The word “claim” means such as a claim as, if the allegation on which it is based is true, gives the plaintiff a cause of action quoad that particular claim and not a claim which is not a cause of action and which the Court may, in any event in the exercise of its discretion, either grant or refuse. 15 M.L.J. 462. Y

9.—“He shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award.”

When the plaintiff withdraws without leave to bring a fresh suit, the High Court has no power to award costs to the defendants. 1 M.H.C. 247; contra 1 B.L.R.O.C. 45. W

10.—“And shall be precluded....of the claim.”

A.—The effect of withdrawing a suit without the Court’s leave.

(a) When a suit is brought in a defective form and the suit is dismissed, a fresh suit cannot be brought on the same cause of action. 5 A. 595; 8 A. 282; 9 A. 155, 690. X

(b) When a suit is withdrawn without leave, it operates as a dismissal, and S. 43 of the old Act will be a bar to the inclusion of any portion of the claim omitted in the withdrawn suit. 2 C.L.J. 480=10 C.W.N. 8; 2 A.L.J. 878. Y

(c) When an appeal is withdrawn, the suit having been compromised, the lower Court’s decision is res judicata on the points raised in it. 6 M. 48. Z

(d) A plaintiff has an absolute right to withdraw from the suit. When the parties entered into a compromise but the terms of it were not communicated to the Court, the claim should have been taken to have been withdrawn, and any further suit on the same cause of action is barred. 23 A. 219=21 A.W.N. 66; 12 A.W.N. 53. A

(e) If a compromise is effected and a party is allowed to withdraw from the suit, if the compromise is not acted upon, the party is restored to his original right of action. On the other hand, if a decree has been passed on the compromise, then the decree must be first set aside before the party can bring a second suit. Agra F.B. 1. B

(f) When a suit was dismissed because the parties entered into a compromise and the compromise was not acted upon, a second suit for the same relief was barred. 23 A. 219. C

(g) When a pauper plaintiff withdraws his suit as the result of a compromise, he will be deemed to have failed in the suit. 8 Bom. L.R. 689 (F.B.) =31 B. 10. D

(h) Where an application for probate of the will was withdrawn before the petition became contentious, held that the genuineness of the will can be set up in opposition to an application by another for letters of administration. 19 M. 458. E

(i) A withdrawal of a suit and mutual reference to arbitration, which proved infructuous because the arbitrators declined to give a decision, is not a bar to the institution of a fresh suit on the same cause of action. U.B.R. (1897-1901), pp. 284, 286. F

10.—“And shall be precluded....of the claim.”—(Concluded).

A.—The effect of withdrawing a suit without the Court's leave.—(Concluded).

- (g) The plaintiff sued to eject the defendants basing his title on an instrument executed to him by the late Zamorin. On objection being taken that the instrument was binding only during the life-time of the grantor, the plaintiff withdrew his suit without leave, and brought a second suit for the same purpose basing his title on an instrument granted by the present Zamorin. Held the second suit was barred. 21 M. 35. G

B.—Cases in which the withdrawing of the suit without the Court's leave did not bar a fresh suit.

- (a) Where a reversioner withdraws his suit for declaration without leave, his subsequent suit for possession will not be barred. 9 O.C. 164. H
- (b) The plaintiff's suit for possession of a land was dismissed as not being maintainable in a Civil Court. The plaintiff in second appeal applied for leave to withdraw, but no leave was granted. A second suit was brought for declaration of his title to the same land. Held S. 373 of the old Act was no bar. 8 O.C. 389. I
- (c) When a suit is withdrawn and a compromise effected, the rule does not bar a subsequent suit on the compromise. 3 Agra 135; 2 Agra 158. J
- (d) When the next friend fraudulently and with a view to cause loss to the minor has withdrawn his suit, the minor can bring a fresh suit on the same cause of action. 10 C. 357. K
- (e) When a plaintiff brings a suit for possession and withdraws it, he can bring a subsequent suit for rent. W.R. 1864, Act X, 67. L
- (f) When a suit is not allowed to be withdrawn, the plaintiff is not barred from bringing a fresh suit on the same facts but claiming a different relief. 8 O.C. 389. M
- (g) The mere fact of the suits being in respect of the same property would not be sufficient to make the latter suit one for the same subject-matter as the former, when the state of facts leading to the two suits and the reliefs claimed under them are different. 4 C.W.N. 110. N
- (h) When the plaintiff, in a suit for a declaration that certain property was liable to be attached under a certain decree, withdrew the suit without leave of the Court, he was not debarred from bringing a fresh suit for a declaration that the property is liable to be attached under another decree. 21 C. 265; 8 C. 871. O
- (i) When a suit is filed by a claimant to an attached property and the suit is withdrawn owing to the raising of the attachment, a subsequent suit to raise another attachment of the same property in execution of the same decree is not barred. 8 C. 871. P
- (j) The plaintiff brought a suit to remove an attachment. Pending the suit the attachment was removed by the executing Court. The plaintiff withdrew her present suit. The appellate Court cancelled the order of the executing Court raising the attachment and the plaintiff brought a second suit. Held the second suit was not barred. 119 P.R. 1881, civil. Q
- (k) The termination of a suit by the plaintiff being allowed to withdraw it, without leave to bring a fresh one, is not a bar to a subsequent suit. 21 C. 265. R

11.—“ Nothing in this rule...others.”

Nothing in this rule deprives the Court of the power to permit one of several co-plaintiffs to withdraw from the suit unconditionally even though his co-plaintiffs do not consent. 9 C.L.R. 332. S

2. In any fresh suit instituted on permission granted under the last preceding rule, the plaintiff shall be bound by the law of limitation¹ in the same manner as if the first suit had not been instituted.

Limitation law not affected by first suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 374 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The word “brought” in the old section is substituted by the word “instituted” in this rule.

1.—“ Shall be bound by the law of limitation.”

(a) Where a suit is bad for misjoinder of causes of action and is allowed to be withdrawn, the time taken up in prosecuting the first suit will not be deducted under S. 14 of the Limitation Act of 1877. 7 Bom. L.R. 90 = 29 B. 219; 12 B. 625. T

(b) Where an appeal is filed but is withdrawn, the limitation for execution of the original decree commences from the date of the decree and not from the date of the withdrawal of the appeal. 16 B. 243. U

(c) Where an appeal is filed as also the cross objections and the appeal is withdrawn, the time for filing the cross objections as an appeal, cannot be extended under S. 5 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). 16 B. 249. Y

3. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court¹ that a compromise of suit has been adjusted wholly or in part² by any lawful agreement³ or compromise, or where the defendant satisfies the plaintiff in respect of the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the suit⁴, the Court shall order such agreement, compromise or satisfaction to be recorded⁵, and shall pass a decree in accordance therewith⁶ so far as it relates to the suit⁷.

Compromise of suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 375 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

(1) The words, “where it..to the satisfaction of the Court,” are newly added.

(2) The words, “and such..satisfaction” in the old section, are omitted in this rule.

(General).

(1) Principle.

For principles of compromise under the Indian Divorce Act, see 10 A. 350. W

(2) Scope.

(a) S. 375 of Act XIV of 1882 was intended to meet cases where the parties having agreed to compromise subsequently fall out. The Court has power to frame an additional issue, whether a lawful compromise was entered into or not, subsequent to the institution of the suit. 19 M. 419. X

(b) S. 375 of Act XIV of 1882 corresponding to this rule covers only those cases where all the parties join together and ask for a decree in terms of the compromise. 11 C. 250; contra 16 B. 202. Y

(3) Applicability of the rule.

It is doubtful if the rule will apply to suits under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885). 4 C.L.J. 564. Z

1.—“Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court.”

(a) It is not essential that the parties should assent to the compromise before the Court, and it is open to it, if any party refuses to assent to it, to enquire whether an assent had been given elsewhere, and if it finds this proved, to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise. 8 P.R. 1896 (F.B.). A

(b) Where the petition, containing the terms of a compromise, was presented to the High Court, and the High Court sent it to the lower Court to be verified by the other party and the party could not be found, held that a decree in terms of the unverified compromise could not be passed. 14 A. 350. B

(c) The Court should ascertain the terms of the agreement between the parties, before it passes a decree. U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 256. C

(d) When the factum of a compromise of the suit is denied, then an appeal lies against the order filing the compromise. Where a party impugns a compromise, the Court must satisfy itself by evidence, that the agreement is a lawful one and that the parties have consented to its terms. 23 M. 101. D

2.—“That a suit has been adjusted....part.”

A.—Adjustments falling within the rule.

(1) Arbitration.

This rule applies to a reference to an arbitration and an award passed thereon. 20 B. 304; 24 M. 326; 3 Bom. L.R. 431=26 B. 76; contra 7 C.W.N. 180=30 C. 218; 10 Bom. L.R. 366; 130 P.R. 1882 (Civil); 1 P.R. 1904. E

(2) Agreement to withdraw the suit.

An agreement to withdraw the suit, on the passing of certain consideration by the defendant, could be enforced under this rule. 8 M. 482. F

(3) Mere agreement to file a petition that the suit is satisfied.

Where the plaintiff executed an agreement, in consideration for some money received, to file a petition that his claim was satisfied, held it was a valid agreement. 3 Agra A.C. 108. G

2.—“That a suit has been adjusted . . . part.”—(Continued).

A.—Adjustments falling within the rule.—(Concluded).

- (4) Agreement that the suit should be dismissed in default of plaintiffs executing a sale-deed.

A compromise, that the plaintiff and his younger brother should execute a sale-deed to the defendant within a week and that the suit should be dismissed, if the deed is not so executed, is a perfectly valid compromise. The refusal by the younger brother to join in the execution cannot make the performance of the agreement by the plaintiff impossible. 17 M.L.J. 37. H

B.—Adjustments not falling within the rule.

- (1) Agreement to abide by oath.

(a) An agreement, that the parties will abide by the oath of a witness is no adjustment within this rule, even if the parties agree that, in case the witness refuses to take the oath, the plaintiff should get a decree. 31 P.R. 1888. I

(b) An agreement to take an oath does not amount to a compromise. 4 M.H.C. 222; 2 M. 856; 12 M. 483; 14 A. 141; 22 M. 234.

- (2) Abandonment of an issue.

The abandonment of an issue does not amount to a compromise. 22 M. 538. K

- (3) Miscellaneous agreements.

(a) An agreement between the parties that, if a certain witness produced a document and if certain words were found in it, the plaintiff should get a decree, is not one falling within this rule. Though such an agreement may be binding between the parties, it is not obligatory for the Court to follow such a course. 14 A. 141=12 A.W.N. 8. L

(b) An agreement that, if the plaintiff should be successful in the suit, he should buy the suit land, from the defendant, for a certain sum, is not an agreement falling within this rule. 2 Bom. L.R. 118. M

(c) A Court ought not to sanction a compromise which ignores the claims of some of the defendants, in an administration suit after the preliminary decree. 32 C. 561. N

C.—Who can compromise.

- (1) Right of guardian to compromise.

(a) A guardian can compromise on behalf of the minor provided the sanction of the Court is obtained and the compromise is found to be beneficial to the minor. 17 A. 531; W.R. 1864, p. 83; 6 C. 687; 13 B. 137; 9 C. 810=12 C.L.R. 455; 3 M. 103; 12 B. 686; 20 A. 98. O

(b) A guardian appointed under S. 3, Act XL of 1858, can compromise, even though no certificate is issued to him. 105 P.R. 1889. P

- (2) Sanction of Court necessary.

(a) When minors are parties to a compromise, it must be shown, that the attention of the Court was drawn to that fact and that leave was granted by the Court. 4 C.L.J. 8 (P.C.)=8 Bom. L.R. 489=10 C.W.N. 899=

2.—“That a suit has been adjusted . . . part.”—(Continued).

C.—Who can compromise.—(Concluded).

- (b) Where minors are parties, the compromise should be carried out by proper deeds and filed in Court so as to have the consent of the Court at the time of the filing instead of its being totally concealed. 16 W.R. 22 (P.C.). R
- (c) Where there is no order that the compromise was beneficial to the minors, the presumption is that the Court has found it to be beneficial for the minor. 8 C.L.J. 31. S
- (d) Where minors are parties, a submission to arbitration cannot be made without the sanction of the Court. 24 M. 326. T
- (e) An agreement, to abide by the oath of a party, can be entered into by the guardian without the sanction of the Court. 12 M. 483. U

(3) Trustee, right of to compromise.

A trustee can compromise on behalf of the beneficiary. 10 M.L.J. 110=23 M. 239. V

(4) Vakil, right of to compromise.

A vakil has no authority to compromise, unless he is specially authorized to do so. 8 M.L.J. 40; 6 C.W.N. 82; 21 M. 274. W

(5) Counsel, right of to compromise.

- (a) A counsel cannot compromise a suit against the express wishes of his client. 13 C. 115. X
- (b) The counsel can compromise on behalf of the client. 4 C.W.N. 169=27 C. 428; 13 A. 272=11 A.W.N. 61. Y

(6) Pleader, right of to compromise.

A pleader cannot compromise without the express authority of the client. 50 P.R. 1898; 2 N.W.P. 149. Z

D.—Binding character of compromise.

(1) General.

A decree passed on a compromise will bind the parties and their privies unless there is fraud. 18 M. 1 (P.C); 24 C. 216. A

(2) Compromise by a father.

A bona fide compromise of a disputed claim entered into by a father is prima facie binding on the sons. 11 M.L.J. 70; 1 C.L.J. 388; 2 A.L.J. 230. B

(3) Compromise by adult members.

- (a) A compromise settling a bona fide dispute between the members of a family, to which all the adult members are parties, is binding on the family, 11 M.L.J. 10. C
- (b) A compromise entered into by the adult members of a tarwad, if beneficial, will bind the minor members. 18 M. 38. D

(4) Compromise by a reversioner.

A compromise entered into by a reversioner cannot be questioned by a more remote reversioner. 37 P.R. 1907. E

2.—“That a suit has been adjusted....part.”—(Continued).

D.—Binding character of compromise.—(Concluded).

(5) Compromise by a widow.

A compromise made by a limited owner, such as a Hindu widow or daughter, is not binding on the reversioners, even though it has been followed by a decree of Court. 29 A. 487=4 A.L.J. 365=A.W.N. (1907), 151; 5 A.L.J. 43. F

(6) Compromise by a vakil.

A compromise by a vakil on the instruction of a person who was conducting the case on behalf of the party is binding if it has been subsequently ratified. 6 C.W.N. 82; 8 C.W.N. 197=31 C. 357. G

(7) Miscellaneous cases.

(a) A suit for rent was compromised by the tenant agreeing to pay rent at a certain rate. In execution of the compromise decree, the land was sold and was purchased by a third party. The third party was held to be liable for the rent at the same rate as the former tenant. 21 C. 388. H

(b) A bona fide purchaser for value pendente lite is not bound by a consent decree. 18 C. 188. I

(c) Where an attachment was removed on the application of a representative of the deceased judgment-debtor, and during an appeal on the order, the representative mortgaged the property to a third party, a compromise of the matter in appeal could not affect the mortgagee's rights. 5 M. L.J. 101. J

(d) A compromise entered into by the guardian of a minor, without the leave of the Court is voidable against all parties other than the minor; it is not voidable at the option of other parties against the minor. 2 O.C. 67. K

E.—Miscellaneous cases.

(1) Right of party to withdraw from the compromise.

(a) A party is not at liberty to withdraw his consent to a decree being passed in terms of the compromise, after he has given his consent to the compromise. 8 M. 482; 7 B. 304; 16 B. 202; 9 M. 103; 1 C.W.N. 597=24 C. 908; 182 P.R. 1888; (1879) S. C. Part X, No. 17. L

(b) A compromise of conflicting claims, entered into in the presence of witnesses, and solemnly acknowledged in Court, by parties who were mutually ignorant of their respective legal rights, cannot be impeached, when the party had the means of ascertaining those facts within his reach. 2 M.I.A. 181. M

(c) Where a party had absolutely renounced all his interest in the property for valuable consideration, and such renunciation was evidenced by a deed of compromise, filed in a pending litigation, the party filing such compromise was estopped from subsequently challenging it. 8 O.C. 143 (P.C.). N

(2) Estoppel of the party denying the compromise.

When a compromise is denied by one of the parties and is disallowed, the other party cannot again set it up in execution proceedings. 3 N.W.P. 31. O

2.—“That a suit has been adjusted....part.”—(Concluded).

E.—Miscellaneous cases.—(Concluded).

(3) Right of the beneficiary to sue on the compromise.

A person beneficially entitled under a deed of compromise of doubtful rights, may sue to enforce it even though he was no party to such compromise.
5 C.W.N. 386. P

(4) Petition to be agreed on affidavits.

If one of the parties objects to the compromise the matter can be decided on affidavits. 2 O.C. 67 ; 5 O.C. 49 ; 7 B. 304. Q

(5) Nature of right created by compromise.

Where, by a compromise, the relation of landlord and tenant is created and there is also a clause giving the plaintiff a right of forfeiture, in a subsequent suit to enforce the right of forfeiture, the Court can give the defendant relief against forfeiture in the same way as if the tenancy had arisen from a contract. 21 B. 15=8 B.L.R. 813 (F.B.)=1 M.L.T. 370. R

(6) A compromise, need not be in writing.

It is not necessary that a compromise should be in writing. What the rule requires is that the terms of the compromise shall be recorded in the suit. 3 L.B.R. 243. S

(7) A compromise deed need not be registered.

(a) A deed of compromise pending a suit need not be registered. 92 P.R. 1884, Civil ; 2 C.W.N. 663 ; 3 C.W.N. 485=22 M. 508=26 I.A. 101 ; 20 A. 171 (P.C.). T

(b) Where a petition of compromise merely contained a recital of a previous oral agreement for lease, held, that it did not require registration or stamp. It was evidence of an oral agreement, but not an agreement in itself. 12 C.W.N. 59. U

(8) Plaintiff entitled to refund of Stamp duty.

When a suit is compromised before the day fixed for the appearance of the defendant, the plaintiff is entitled to a return of the Stamp duty, under S. 98 of Act VIII of 1859. 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 57=1 Hyde 149 ; Marsh 274=2 Hay 213 ; 12 W.R. 376. Y

3.—“Lawful agreement.”(1) General.

(a) The word, “lawful,” in the rule, has reference to the subject-matter of the compromise and not the binding character of the parties. 48 P.R. 1895 ; 114 P.R. 1892 ; 81 P.R. 1890. W

(b) A compromise, entered into by the parties, with the object of escaping from liability to be prosecuted for forgery and perjury, is not a lawful one. 3 N.W.P. 145. X

(2) Sale of a temple office.

If a compromise contains unlawful terms, a decree should not be passed in terms of it. Even if such a decree be passed, the unlawful terms cannot be enforced in execution of the decree. The sale of an office attached to temple is against public policy. 26 M. 31. Y

3.—“Lawful agreement.”—(Concluded).

(3) Probate proceedings.

(a) An agreement or compromise, as regards the issue of genuineness of the will in Probate proceedings regarding that will, if its effect is to exclude evidence in proof thereof, is not lawful within the meaning of this rule. 8 C.W.N. 197=31 C. 357. Z

(b) A Court cannot grant a probate of a will merely on the consent of the parties. 8 C.W.N. 197. A

(4) Suit to remove a Mahant.

In a suit under S. 11 of the Religious Endowment Act to remove a Mahant, the parties compromised, when the appeal was pending. The Court refused to record it as it was not a lawful agreement. 8 C.W.N. 404. B

(5) Trustees, suit by.

(a) Where a compromise is entered into by the plaintiff, who sues as a trustee of a temple and the compromise allowed certain castes to worship in a temple, against the settled custom, the compromise is not a lawful one. Sankaralinga Nadar v. Raja Rajeswara Dorai. 12 C.W.N. 946 (P.C.) C

(b) A razinamah by which a trustee of a temple relinquishes his trusteeship is not a lawful one. 2 M.L.J. 166=16 M. 389. D

(c) A trustee, who gets a decree in his favour, will be committing a breach of trust, if he gives up his rights under the decree, owing to a compromise entered into by him, when an appeal against the decree is pending. 12 M.L.J. 360. E

4.—“Where the defendant....suits.”

A Court cannot dispose of a suit according to a compromise, if the plaintiff professes himself merely satisfied aliunde; it must be that the defendant has satisfied the plaintiff. 12 P.R. 1867, Civil. F

5.—“The Court shall order....to be recorded.”

(a) A compromise, though oral, must be recorded by the Court in detail. If not, there will be no valid compromise. 5 A.W.N. 42. G

(b) A Court cannot refuse to record a lawful agreement because the terms of it are too favourable to a certain party. 22 B. 288. H

6.—“And shall pass a decree in accordance therewith.”

(1) Time for filing compromise.

A compromise can be filed, even after the judgment is dated and signed, but before it is delivered. 67 P.W.R. 1908. I

(2) Decree to be passed soon after the filing of compromise.

(a) A compromise was entered into, but no decree was passed in terms of it. Subsequently, the suit was posted for trial. After some time, the Court passed a decree in terms of the compromise. Held the Court had no jurisdiction to pass a decree. 29 M. 104. J

(b) When a compromise was filed a dispute arose as to the interpretation of one of the clauses of the compromise and it fell through. After some time the plaintiff put in a petition that he agreed to the interpretation put on the clause by the defendant and prayed for a decree in terms of the compromise. Held that there was no valid compromise on which the Court could pass a decree. 30 C. 265. K

6.—“ And shall pass a decree in accordance therewith.”—(Continued).

(3) Decree to be passed in spite of the objections of one of the parties.

Where the parties to a suit have compromised it, the Court has power to record such a settlement and pass a decree, even though one of the parties may object. 12 C.P.L.R. 56. L

(4) Duty of the party to get a decree passed.

In a suit for partition, the parties, having come to a compromise, the suit was struck off. When the compromise was not acted upon by one party the other party brought another suit for partition. The second suit was barred by S. 373 of Act XIV of 1882. It was the duty of the party to have got the compromise embodied in a decree. 1901 A.W.N. 66=23 A. 219. M

(5) Construction.

As to the construction of a compromise decree, see 8 C.W.N. 521 (P.C.) =31 I.A. 116=26 A. 299=14 M.L.J. 190=6 Bom. L.R. 505. N

(6) Setting aside compromise decrees.

(a) For principles upon which the Court acts in setting aside a compromise, see 8 C. 138=10 C.L.R. 66. O

(b) For the purpose of setting aside a decree passed in pursuance of a compromise, there are two available modes of procedure, (1) by suit, (2) by a review of judgment, sought to be set aside. 1 O.C. 612; 5 C.W.N. 877; 25 C. 649; 15 B. 594; 23 B. 620; 6 C. 687=8 C.L.R. 169; 81 P.R. 1890; 114 P.R. 1892; 48 P.R. 1895. P

(c) When a decree is arrived at by consent, it can only be set aside upon the same grounds, as an agreement can be set aside, e.g., fraud, or mistake, or misrepresentation. 7 Bom. L.R. 659. Q

(d) A compromise, entered into by a guardian, cannot be set aside by the minor except on the ground of fraud and collusion between the plaintiff and the guardian. 29 M. 58=16 M.L.J. 14. R

(e) When a suit, in which a minor plaintiff sues by his guardian, is compromised by his guardian and the other adult members of the family are parties to it, the compromise cannot be set aside. 11 C.W.N. 178 (P.C.)=34 C. 70=5 C.L.J. 175=17 M.L.J. 59=2 M.L.T. 165. S

(f) Where the guardian enters on behalf of a minor into a compromise of a doubtful right, such compromise cannot be set aside by the minor. 14 M.L.J. 442; 15 M.L.J. 498, 494; 1904 A.W.N. 244=27 A. 203=2 A.L.J. 720. T

(g) The proper course, for setting aside a compromise decree against a minor, is by a suit or review and not by way of appeal. An appellate Court can determine the appeal only upon the materials on record. 7 C.W.N. 419=30 C. 613. U

(7) Effect of compromise decrees on subsequent suits.

(a) A suit by the plaintiff for rent due to her for certain years was compromised, the plaintiff giving up her right to her share of the rent. A subsequent suit for rent for some other years was held to be barred by the first suit. 2 O.C. 112. Y

6.—“And shall pass a decree in accordance therewith.”—(Concluded).

- (b) Where a suit under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act is compromised and a decree is passed, the rule will not be a bar to a suit by the parties, to establish their title and recover possession. 3 L.B.R. 243. W
- (c) A plaintiff sued several defendants jointly to recover damages in respect of an alleged assault committed on him. A compromise entered into by the plaintiff with one of the defendants did not preclude the plaintiff from recovering damages against the others. A.W.N. (1908), 195. X
- (d) When the plaintiff sued for possession and, finding that he was not entitled to it, withdrew the suit, a second suit for easement by the plaintiff was not barred. 2 A.L.J. 59. Y
- (e) The plaintiff sued the defendant for accounts. The suit was referred to an arbitrator, who after some time sent a petition to the Court, that the parties had come to a compromise, and that each looked into the other's accounts and came to an agreement, and that the suit might be dismissed. After the suit was dismissed, the plaintiff brought a suit for the same claim alleging that the defendant had promised to explain the accounts to him and that he would pay the sum found to be due and that he had done neither. Held, the second suit was not barred. 41 P.L.R. 1904. Z

(8) Mode of enforcing compromises.

- (a) This rule will not prevent a fresh suit being instituted for the performance of the compromise. It is not necessary that the compromise should be registered. 2 C.W.N. 663; 3 C.W.N. 485=22 M. 508=26 I.A. 101; 20 A. 171 (P.C.). A
- (b) A suit does not lie upon a compromise, with respect to matters other than those which were involved in the suit, in which the compromise was affected. 10 C.P.L.R. 56. B
- (c) If a decree is passed in terms of a compromise which deals with matters other than those included in the suit, a separate suit will lie to enforce the terms, which are not dealt with by the suit. A.W.N. (1905), 128—2 A.L.J. 680. C
- (d) If a compromise is not acted upon, the party is restored to his original right of action. Agra (F.B.) 2. D

(9) Appeal.

- (a) An—lies against an order passing a decree in terms of a compromise which includes matters beyond the suit. 18 M. 410. E
- (b) A decree based on a compromise is final and no appeal lies. 105 P.R. 1889; 81 P.R. 1890; 5 C.W.N. 877. F
- (c) An order, dismissing an appeal on the ground that it is compromised, is appealable. 9 M.L.J. 350. G

(10) Appellate Court.

An appellate Court can pass a decree in terms of the compromise, if the appeal

7.—“ So far as it relates to the suit.”

(1) General.

- (a) Where a compromise relates to matters also beyond the suit, the decree should be passed, only with reference to such portion of the compromise, as relates to the suit. 18 M. 410; 1 C.W.N. 597=24 C. 908; 20 B. 304.; 2 O.C. 330; 7 B. 304. I

EXAMPLE.

In a suit for damages for crops misappropriated, a compromise was entered into, by which the amount of damages was settled and the defendants also agreed to be a tenant of the plaintiff at a specified rent; held that the agreement as to the tenancy was outside the scope of the suit, and although incorporated in the decree, did not operate as res judicata. 5 C.L.J. 15. J

- (b) Matters going beyond the suit, if included in the compromise, cannot be enforced by the Court. A Court cannot give a decree modifying the terms of the proposed compromise, but must leave the parties to proceed with the suit. 13 C. 170. K

(2) Suit to be proceeded with if the compromise is conditional on its being incorporated in the decree.

When a compromise contains matters other than those in the suit, the Court should inform the parties that a decree cannot be passed with respect to such matters, and if it appeared that the compromise was arrived at conditionally upon its being incorporated in the decree, it should proceed with the suit. 77 P.R. 1908; 22 M. 214; 8 M.L.J. 301. L

(3) Decree embodying extraneous matter not bad.

- (a) A decree passed on a compromise which contains terms other than those in the suit is not ultra vires. 35 C. 837=7 C.L.J. 492=12 C.W.N. 849; 26 I.A. 101=28 A. 78; 34 C. 455; 2 C.W.N. 663; 5 C.W.N. 485. M

- (b) The parties are at liberty by consent or compromise to enlarge their claim, and a decree passed for a larger sum of money than originally asked for. 9 A. 229. N

- (c) There is nothing to prevent the Court from granting a relief, which the plaint does not contain, but which the parties have agreed upon in their compromise. Such a decree cannot be questioned in execution. 16 M.L.J. 354; 17 M.L.J. 255=2 M.L.J. 349=30 M. 421. O

- (d) When a person sues for money due on a mortgage-bond, as also money due on an account, there is nothing illegal if a Court gives a decree in terms of the compromise, which gives a mortgage decree for the whole amount. 17 M.L.J. 200; 30 M. 478. P

- (e) A compromise which gives a widow a full estate and not an estate for life is a perfectly valid compromise. 17 M.L.J. 243=2 M.L.T. 316=30 M. 356. Q

Proceedings in execution of decrees not affected.

4. Nothing in this Order shall apply to any proceedings in execution of a decree or order.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 375-A of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "any application....decree" are substituted by the words "proceedings..order" in this rule.
- (2) The explanation in the old section are omitted in this rule.

ORDER XXIV.

PAYMENT INTO COURT.

1. The defendant in any suit to recover a debt or damages ¹ may, at any stage of the suit, deposit in Court such sum of money as he considers a satisfaction in full of the claim ².
- Deposit by defendant of amount in satisfaction of claim.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 376 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—"In any suit....damages."

A suit for injunction and damages is not a suit for a debt or damages, and so the Court has discretion to award costs in any way it likes. 21 B. 502. R

2.—"Deposit in Court....claim."

(1) Principle.

The general rule is that a deposit should be unconditional in order to enable the plaintiff to draw the money. 2 C.L.R. 188; 14 M. 49; 17 M. 267; 3 C. 468=1 C.L.R. 470. S

(2) Payment into Government treasury.

Under the rules of the High Court, a payment into the Government treasury, is equivalent to a payment into Court. 7 M. 211. T

(3) Money order to the Nazir.

A money order sent to the Nazir was not a proper payment into the Court. 22 B. 415. U

(4) Conditional deposit.

If a deposit is made with a request that the money should not be paid to the plaintiff until certain objections of the defendant were heard, the defendant is not absolved from the costs, etc. W.R. (F.B.), 14=Marsh 45=1 Hay 76. Y

(5) Deposit to the credit of the plaintiff and another.

If a defendant deposits money to the credit of persons who are entitled to it and also to the credit of persons who are not entitled to it, the defendant is not relieved from paying interest on his deposit. 23 M. 510. W

(6) Deposit accompanied by a denial of plaintiff's right to the money.

If a deposit is made at the same time that the defendant pleads that the plaintiff is not entitled to the moneys, it is not a proper deposit. 6 A. 399; 7 M.T.A. 328. X

2.—“Deposit in Court....claim ”—(Concluded).

(7) When the deposit takes effect.

The payment into Court takes effect from the date when money is actually brought into Court and steps are taken for its actual payment into the treasury. 8 C. 528. Y

(8) Form of application.

A petition, for the payment of money, need not be made in the suit in which the money was deposited. 11 C. 219. Z

2. Notice of the deposit shall be given through the Court by the defendant to the plaintiff, and the amount of the deposit shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be paid to the plaintiff on his application¹.
Notice of deposit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 377 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“The amount of the deposit....application.”

(1) Money to be paid to the plaintiff in spite of defendant's objections.

When a suit on a pro-note was pending against a defendant, and the defendant denied liability, as he was a minor at the date of the execution of the pro-notes, he deposited a portion of the money sued on. The plaintiff was allowed to draw the money deposited in spite of the defendant's objection, that the money should not be paid, as he denied all liability. C.W.N.S.N. 262=26 C. 766. A

(2) Right of third parties to attach the money.

The money deposited to the credit of a certain plaintiff should not be paid over to another man who might have attached the money in execution of his decree against the defendant. 15 B. 681. B

3. No interest shall be allowed¹ to the plaintiff on any sum deposited by the defendant from the date of the receipt of such notice, whether the sum deposited is in full of the claim or falls short thereof.
Interest on deposit not allowed to plaintiff after notice.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 378 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“No interest shall be allowed.”

When the defendant admitted that money was due on the bonds sued on and refused to deposit the money, though ordered by the Court, the defendant was bound to pay interest from the date of the order. 16 W.R. 297. C

4. (1) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in part only of his claim, he may prosecute his suit for the balance ; and, if the Court decides that the deposit by the defendant was a full satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, the plaintiff shall pay the costs of the suit incurred after the deposit and the costs incurred previous thereto¹, so far as they were caused by excess in the plaintiff's claim.

(2) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in full of his claim, he shall present to the Court a statement to that effect, and such statement shall be filed and the Court shall pronounce judgment accordingly ; and, in directing by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, the Court shall consider which of the parties is most to blame for the litigation.

Illustrations.

(a) A owes B Rs. 100. B sues A for the amount, having made no demand for payment and having no reason to believe that the delay caused by making a demand would place him at a disadvantage. On the plaint being filed, A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim, but the Court should not allow him any costs, the litigation being presumably groundless on his part.

(b) B sues A under the circumstances mentioned in illustration (a). On the plaint being filed, A disputes the claim. Afterwards A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(c) A owes B Rs. 100, and is willing to pay him that sum without suit. B claims Rs. 150 and sues A for that amount. On the plaint being filed A pays Rs. 100 into Court and disputes only his liability to pay the remaining Rs. 50. B accepts the Rs. 100 in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should order him to pay A's costs.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 379 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words 'if' and "pass" in the old section are substituted by the words "where" and "pronounce" in this rule.

1.—"And the costs incurred previous thereto."

(a) The defendant deposited a portion of the sum claimed at the settlement of the issues. The plaintiff accepted it as part satisfaction of the claim. The plaintiff subsequently withdrew the suit. Held, the plaintiff was entitled to his costs up to the settlement of issues. 1 B.H.C. 70. D

(b) The amount of a tender before suit, if not accepted, should be deposited into the Court in order to entitle the defendant to costs. 4 C. 572 ; 16 B. 141. E

ORDER XXV.

SECURITY FOR COSTS.

1. (1) Where, at any stage of a suit, it appears to the Court that a sole plaintiff is, or (when there are more plaintiffs than one) that all the plaintiffs are, residing out of British India¹, and that such plaintiff² does not, or that no one of such plaintiffs does, possess any sufficient immoveable property³ within British India other than the property in suit, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any defendant⁴, order the plaintiff or plaintiffs, within a time fixed by it, to give security for the payment of all costs incurred and likely to be incurred by any defendant⁵.

(2) Whoever leaves British India under such circumstances as to afford reasonable probability that he will not be forthcoming whenever he may be called upon to pay costs, shall be deemed to be residing out of British India within the meaning of sub-rule (1).

(3) On the application of any defendant in a suit for the payment of money⁶, in which the plaintiff is a woman⁷, the Court may at any stage of the suit make a like order if it is satisfied that such plaintiff does not possess any sufficient immoveable property within British India.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 380 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "at the institution...of a suit" in the old Act are substituted by the words "at any stage" in this rule.
- (2) The words "independent of" in the old section are substituted by the words "other than" in this rule.
- (3) The sub-cl. (2) of this rule corresponds to S. 382 of the old Act.
- (4) The word "payment" in sub-cl. (3) is new.
- (5) The words "independent.....suit" in the old section are omitted in this rule.

(General).Applicability of the rule to pauper suits.

S. 380 of the old Act cannot be applied in the case of pauper suits. 7 C.L.J. 312=12 C.W.N. 163.

1.—“Residing out of British India.”

- (a) The word ‘residence’ intended in S. 380 of the old Act is residence under such circumstances as will afford a reasonable probability, that the plaintiff will be forthcoming when the suit is decided. 3 B. 227. G
- (b) The British Cantonment of Secunderabad is a place out of British India. 21 C. 177. H
- (c) Wadhwan in Kathiawar was held to be situated within the limits of British India. 9 B. 244. I
- (d) A plaintiff residing in another Presidency could not be ordered to give security. Cor. 11. J
- (e) When the plaintiff is a resident of a foreign country, it is imperative for the Court to ask for security, even though the defendant also is a resident of a foreign territory. 12 W.R. 465. K

2.—“Such plaintiff.”

The words “such plaintiff” in the rule cannot be construed as applying to the infant plaintiff’s next friend. 18 M.L.J. 155. L

3.—“Immoveable property.”

Leasehold property is “immoveable property” within the meaning of S. 84 of Act VIII of 1859. 7 B.L.R. Ap. 60. M

4.—“On the application of any defendant.”

- (a) When the plaintiff leaves British India after the institution of the suit, the defendant must apply to the Court to put the provisions of this rule into operation, before passing judgment. If security is not furnished, the proper course is to dismiss the suit for default. 8 W.R. 217. N
- (b) There should be no delay in making the application. 4 A.W.N. 99; 7 Bom. L.R. 495. O

5.—“Order the plaintiff....by any defendant.”

(1) Principle.

- (a) The principle, the Court should act upon is to see whether, at first sight, the suit appears bona fide and whether the defence is such as is likely to succeed. The rule is not intended to drive away all poor plaintiffs. 6 Bom. L.R. 1072. P

EXAMPLE.

In a suit by a Parsi and his minor daughter for breach of promise of marriage, the Court, being satisfied that the father sought to make money out of the daughter’s engagement, ordered him to give security. 2 C. 288 (F.C.); 5 Bom. L.R. 118=27 B. 100. Q

- (b) The Court must pass an order under this rule after very careful consideration. 6 A. 583=4 A.W.N. 103; 6 A.W.N. 64; 9 A.W.N. 147. R

(2) Poverty of the plaintiff.

The mere fact of the poverty of the appellant or plaintiff is not enough to require him to give security. 14 C. 533; 8 A. 208=6 A.W.N. 310 (F.B.); 4 A.W.N. 99; 8 A.W.N. 46; 7 A. 548=5 A.W.N. 127; 6 A.W.N. 286; S.C. 269. S

(3) Appeal filed through the instigation of another.

The fact, that the appeal has been brought at the instigation of a third party and that one of the appellants was hiding, will not justify an order under this rule. 6 A.W.N. 286. T

5.—“Order the plaintiff...by any defendant.”—(Concluded).(4) Administration suits.

In administration and other suits, where the costs are generally ordered to be paid out of the estate and in suits where the plaintiff admittedly gets at least a portion of what she asks for, an order under this rule should not be made. 7 Bom. L.R. 495; 10 B.L.R. Ap. 25; 21 C. 832. U

(5) Infant plaintiffs.

In the case of infant plaintiffs, unless the circumstances are exceptional, the English practice, under which they could not be required to give security, should be followed. 18 M.L.J. 155. Y

(6) Plaintiffs not personally interest in the subject-matter of suit.

In a suit, by the representatives of a testator, to enforce due performance of charitable trusts in which they are not personally interested, the plaintiffs ought not to be ordered to give security. 5 C. 700=6 C.L.R. 58. W

(7) Defendant's case, truth of.

The Court should not order the plaintiff to give security, unless grounds are shown, tending to show that the defence is true. 3 C.W.N. 753. X

(8) Notice to the defendant.

No order under this section should be made without giving the party notice. 5 A. 380=3 A.W.N. 60, 5 M. 265. Y

(9) Order, nature of.

No specific sum need be mentioned in an order for which security should be granted. 18 A. 101=15 A.W.N. 238. Z

(10) Order to be in the Judge's own hand.

The order under this rule should be in the Judge's own handwriting. 8 A.W.N. 241. A

(11) Appeal.

(a) An order under this rule is not appealable either as a decree or as an order. 18 A. 101=15 A.W.N. 238, contra 5 A. 380=3 A.W.N. 60; 8 A. 108 (F.B.). B

(b) An order, passed under this rule by a single Judge on the original side, is a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. 10 Bom. L.R. 387. C

6.—“Suit for the payment of money.”

(a) Suits which are not exclusively for money, but which will result in a decree for money on the relief sought, come under this rule. 10 Bom. L.R. 387. D

(b) A suit, to recover certain specified articles, and money wrongfully taken away by the defendant, is a suit for money. 17 C. 610. E

7.—“The plaintiff is a woman.”Applicability of the rule to minor plaintiff.

Unless in exceptional cases, neither an infant female plaintiff nor her next friend ought to be required to give security for costs. 23 B. 100; 17 C. 610. F

2. (1) In the event of such security not being furnished within the time fixed¹, the Court shall make an order dismissing the suit² unless the plaintiff or plaintiffs are permitted to withdraw therefrom.

Effect of failure to furnish security.

(2) Where a suit is dismissed under this rule, the plaintiff may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from furnishing the security within the time allowed, the Court shall set aside the dismissal upon such terms as to security, costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit³.

(3) The dismissal shall not be set aside unless notice of such application has been served on the defendant.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 381 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The word "dismiss" in the old section is substituted by the words "order dismissing" in this rule.
- (2) The words "under....extend it" in the old section are omitted.
- (3) The last para in the old section is omitted in this rule.

1.—"Within the time fixed."

The Court may extend the time for furnishing security on the application of the party. If no application is made, the Court is bound to dismiss the suit. 1 A. 637; 1 O.C. 557 (P.C.); 8 A.W.N. 254; 6 A. 250; 2 C. 272; 17 C. 512 (P.C.); 2 C. 128; 23 W.R. 220. G

2. — "The Court shall....sult."

- (a) The order, rejecting the appeal, should be obtained at any time before the suit comes on for hearing. 9 A. 164=7 A.W.N. 7. H
- (b) The proper mode of proceeding, to put a bond to secure the costs of an appeal in suit, is to move upon affidavits, showing a breach of the conditions of the bond, for a rule nisi, calling upon the obligor and securities, to show cause why the Court should not order that the bond be assigned to some person named in the rule. 5 C. 437=5 C.L.R. 524.
- (c) When a Judge ordered that the appellant should furnish securities, who will undertake to pay the respondent's costs within 10 days of the decision of the appeal, and the appellant failed to furnish security in the manner provided by the Judge, held the Judge was right in dismissing the appeal. 1 A.W.N. 35. J
- (d) Where a suit is dismissed under this rule, a fresh suit can be brought. 4 Bom. L.R. 262=26 B. 637; 6 B. 482. K

3.—"The Court shall set aside....sult."

When a suit is dismissed under this rule, the Court has discretion to restore it. 8 A. 315 (P.C.). L

ORDER XXVI.

COMMISSIONS.

Commissions to examine witnesses.

1. Any Court may in any suit issue a commission¹ for the examination on interrogatories or otherwise of any person resident within the local limits of its jurisdiction who is exempted under this Code from attending the Court or who is from sickness or infirmity unable to attend it.

Cases in which Court may issue commission to examine witness.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 383 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words "of persons," the words "of any person" are substituted, consequently the word "are" is changed into "is."

*I.—"Issue a commission."(1) Power of granting commission.

(a) A commission for the examination of witnesses will be issued, even though the cause is entered upon the pre-emptory board of the day, if the issuing of such commission, is not calculated to prejudice the defendants, or to subject them to loss or inconvenience. 1 Hyde. 269. M

(b) A commission will be granted to examine a material witness, if the witness cannot be brought into Court by its ordinary process. But, it will not be granted, at the instance of either party, to enable him to give evidence himself under a commission, except under very strong circumstances indeed, such as where he is seriously ill. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 857. N

(2) Duty of Court.

As to the obligation on the Court to issue a commission, see observations in 8 B.L.R. 16; 15 W.R. 447; 23 B. 626. O

(3) Examination of witnesses—Principle.

There is nothing in the law to render the issue of a commission, to make a local examination made to elucidate any matter in dispute, illegal, but there are strong reasons why the power of issuing commissions, merely for the purpose of taking evidence which the parties themselves should have brought forward should be discouraged. (1880) Select Case, Part X, No. 12; cf. 6 C. 757. P

(4) Arbitration.

When a case is referred to arbitration, it is competent to the Court to issue under this rule, a commission for the examination of witnesses. 7 Bom. L.R. 560. Q

(5) Infant.

The Court will not issue a commission for the examination of an infant of tender years. 2 Hyde. 152; Cor. 78. R

1.—“ Issue a commission.”—(Concluded).

(6) Pardanashin woman.

- (a) The examination by commission of a——is not necessary, where she can be examined in Court in a palki or otherwise on a proper identification. 18 W.R. 230; 1 B.L.R.S.N.V. (1868); 2 Hyde. 88. As to examination at the witness's residence, see 15 W.R. 129. S
- (b) Offending against the rules of her class does not deprive her of her right to be examined under commission. 3 C.W.N. 750; 3 C.W.N. 751; 3 C.W.N. 753. T

(7) Unauthorised issue of commission.

- (a) A Magistrate is not bound to execute a commission of a Small Cause Court, directing him to take the evidence of prisoners in jail, in a case, in which none of the circumstances existed authorising that Court to issue the commission. 7 W.R. 349. U
- (b) The Judge of Agra was not bound to execute a commission issuing from the Insolvent Court, without making a charge for so doing. 12 B.L.R. 4. Y

(8) Power and discretion of Court in the issue of commission.

A Court has no power to issue a commission except in cases enumerated in the rule, and no power is given by the Code to a Court to exempt any person from appearance in Court. The Courts have not the absolute discretion or inherent power to issue a commission except when authorised by the Code. Nor is the Court bound to issue a commission when all the conditions laid down in this rule exist. Every Court has an undoubted right to prevent the abuse of its process. 28 M. 28 (7 W.R. 349, R.). W

(9) Notice.

The issue of a commission for the examination of an absent witness, without notice to the opposite party, even if not illegal, is objectionable. 3 W.R. 147. X

(10) Letters Patent.

The High Court has the power, under the Charter Act, to set aside the order of the Subordinate Judge, as one made without the proper exercise of his judicial discretion. 28 M. 28. Y

(11) Appeal.

An order of the High Court, setting aside an order refusing to issue a commission, is open to appeal. 28 M. 28. Z

- 2. An order for the issue of a commission for the examination of a witness may be made by the Court either of its own motion or on the application¹, supported by affidavit or otherwise², of any party to the suit or of the witness to be examined.

Order for commission.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 384 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words “ such order ” the words “ an order for the issue of a commission for the examination of a witness ” are substituted.

1.—“On the application.”

The Court is invested with discretionary power to grant or to refuse applications for the examination by commission of witnesses resident more than 100 miles distant from Calcutta. 1 Hyde. 68. A

2.—“By affidavit or otherwise.”

(a) An application, for the issue of a commission, should be supported by some reason other than the mere distance of place of residence of the witness. 20 W.R. 253. B

(b) As to grounds for granting commission, which were declared as not to justify the issue of a commission, see 14 B. 584. C

3. A commission for the examination of a person who resides within the local limits¹ of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same may be issued to any person whom the Court thinks fit to execute.

Where witness resides within Court's jurisdiction.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 385 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The definite article “The” of the old Code is changed into “A” in the new rule.

1.—“Within the local limits.”

A Deputy Collector is competent to depute an Officer of his Court to take evidence on commission, if the place where the witness is examined is within his jurisdiction. 10 W.R. 236. D

Persons for whose examination commission may issue.

4. (1) Any Court may in any suit issue a commission¹ for the examination of—

- (a) any person resident beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction ;
- (b) any person who is about to leave such limits before the date on which he is required to be examined in Court ; and
- (c) any civil or military officer of the Government who cannot, in the opinion of the Court, attend without detriment to the public service.

(2) Such commission may be issued to any Court, not being a High Court, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such person resides, or to any pleader or other person whom the Court issuing the commission may appoint.

(3) The Court on issuing any commission under this rule shall direct whether the commission shall be returned to itself or to any subordinate Court.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 386 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.Sub-rule (1).

- (i) In (b) the word "persons" is changed into "any person." This change has necessitated consequent verbal changes.
- (ii) So also in (c) the plural is changed into the singular.

Sub-rule (2).

- (i) The words "or the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon" are omitted.
- (ii) The words "subject to any rules of the High Court in this behalf" are omitted.
- (iii) For the words "may think fit to appoint," the words "may appoint" are substituted.

Sub-rule (3).

The words "under this section" are changed into "under this rule."

(General).Interpretation of the rule.

The rule is exhaustive of the cases in which a Court can direct the issue of a commission to examine a witness. 7 W.R. 349; 14 M.L.J. 329=28 M. 28. E

1.—"Any Court may in any suit issue a commission."(1) Persons for whose examination commission may issue.

- (a) See notes under r. 1, supra, under the heading "issue a commission."
- (b) If the witness is a stranger, a commission will be right and reasonable; but not if he is a servant of the party applying. 20 W.R. 253. F

(2) Discretion of Court.

Order of Court directing issue of a commission to examine a female witness is purely discretionary and the appellate Courts have no jurisdiction to interfere with that discretion. 5 O.C. 151. G

(3) Discretion—how to exercise.

In considering whether the examination of a witness should be taken by commission, the Courts should have regard to the possibility of his not being a credible witness. 23 B. 626; Barden v. Greenwood, 2 Ch. D. 764. H

5. Where any Court to which application is made for the issue of a commission for the examination of a person residing at any place not within British India¹ is satisfied that the evidence of such person is necessary, the Court may issue such commission or a

Commission or Request to examine witness not within British India.

letter of request.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 387 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

- (i) The words "or request" in the marginal note are new.
- (ii) The words "his evidence" are changed into "the evidence of such person."
- (iii) The words "or a letter of request" are new.

(General).

(1) Jurisdiction.

A commission for the examination of a witness at Mandalay can only issue from the High Court. 2 B.L.R. 73; 10 W.R. 385. I

(2) Practice.

A commission, issued by the High Court, for examination of a witness in French territory and executed in accordance with rr. 5 and 17, is properly issued and executed. 7 C.W.N. 806=3 O.C. 934. J

(3) Revision.

Interlocutory orders, passed under the rule refusing applications for the issue of a commission to examine witnesses, cannot be revised. 9 M. 256. K

1.—“Not within British India.”

The kingdom of Ava was not the territory of a Native Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, within the meaning of S. 177 of Act VIII of 1859. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 73; 10 W.R. 385. L

Court to examine witness pursuant to commission.

6. Every Court receiving a commission for the examination of any person shall examine him or cause him to be examined¹ pursuant thereto.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 388 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The words “or cause him to be examined” are new.

1.—“Shall examine him or cause him to be examined.”

(a) It is the duty of the party, obtaining a commission for the examination of witnesses, to take such steps as may be necessary to secure the attendance before the commissioner of the witnesses he desires to examine. 2 N.W.P. 210. M

(b) The examination of a witness under a commission is of the same nature as an examination in open Court and should be conducted by counsel. 8 B.L.R. 101; Cor. 7. N

(c) A de bene esse examination of a witness about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court must be taken by the Court, unless the parties consent to the evidence being taken under a commission. 5 B.L.R. 252; see, however, 3 C.W.N. 67. O.

(d) A party who has not joined in a commission is entitled to cross-examine the witnesses who are examined under the commission. 14 W.R. 17. P

(e) Where the Court is satisfied that the cross-examination of any witness on commission is being unnecessarily prolonged, it will order such cross-examination to be concluded within a certain time. 3 O.C. 625. Q

(f) The examination of the witness may be either vivo voce or by interrogatories. 23 B. 626 (627); 3 W.R. 147 (150). R

7. Where a commission has been duly executed, it shall be returned¹, together with the evidence taken under it, to the Court from which it was issued, unless the order for issuing the commission has otherwise directed, in which case the commission shall be returned in terms of such order; and the commission and the return thereto and the evidence taken under it shall (subject to the provisions of the next following rule) form part of the record² of the suit.

Return of commission with depositions of witnesses.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 389 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The words "after" and "out of" are changed into "where" and "from" respectively.

The word "section" within brackets is changed into "rule."

1.—"It shall be returned."

- (a) The return should show on the face of it that the oath was administered to the commissioner as well as to the interpreter. 8 B.L.R. 101. S
- (b) The return should show that the evidence was recorded as the law requires it. 14 W.R. 269. T
- (c) The commissioner should return the commission duly executed within the period allowed. 14 W.R. 17. U
- (d) A commission should not be returned before a witness is fully cross-examined. 5 C.W.N. cccxx. V

2.—"Form part of the record."

- (a) For the meaning of "forming part of the record" in r. 7, see 9 C.W.N. 794. W
- (b) Under the provisions of r. 7, evidence taken on commission shall, subject to r. 8, form part of the record in the suit. 35 C. 28. X

When depositions may be read in evidence.

8. Evidence taken under a commission shall not be read as evidence in the suit without the consent of the party against whom the same is offered, unless—

- (a) the person who gave the evidence is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, or dead or unable from sickness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or exempted from personal appearance in Court, or is a civil or military officer of the Government who cannot, in the opinion of the Court, attend without detriment to the public service, or

- (b) the Court in its discretion dispenses with the proof of any of the circumstances mentioned in clause (a), and authorizes the evidence of any person being read as evidence in the suit, notwithstanding proof that the cause for taking such evidence by commission has ceased at the time of reading the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 390 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

Clause (a).

The words "or is a civil . . . to the public service" are new.

Clause (b).

The words "in the last preceding clause" are changed into "clause (a)."

(General).

Scope.

As to the applicability of the rule to High Courts and Provincial Small Cause Courts, see 22 W.R. 381; 11 B. 129. Y

1.—"Evidence taken under a commission."

- (a) The evidence of the defendant taken under a commission was allowed to be read on the plaintiff's behalf, without the deposition being put in as part of the plaintiff's case, as being part of the record. 8 B.L.R. 102; 26 C. 591. Z
- (b) That the evidence was given in the absence of the other side is not enough to make the deposition of a witness, taken on commission, inadmissible. 10 W.R. 236. A
- (c) A Court may legally refuse to hear read, in evidence, the deposition of a defendant taken by commission, where there is no evidence to prove that the defendant was from sickness unable to attend personally at the time of the trial. 22 W.R. 381. B
- (d) Documents, attached to the return of a commission, may be read at the hearing of the suit unless they have been objected to on being tendered in evidence before the commissioner. Objections, as to their admissibility, cannot be taken at the hearing of the suit. 6 C.L.R. 109. C
- (e) The consent of parties is not requisite to the admissibility of evidence taken under such commission, if the examinations have been upon oath or affirmation. 2 B.L.R. 73; 10 W.R. 385. D
- (f) The evidence, taken under a commission at the instance of one party, may be used by the opposite party. 26 C. 591=3 C.W.N. cccxxix. E
- (g) Evidence taken on commission does not become evidence in the suit, until the same has been tendered and read as evidence in the suit by the party in whose behalf it has been taken. 7 C.W.N. 786; 9 C.W.N. 794; (3 B.L.R. 102; 3 C.W.N. cccxxix, diss.). F
- (h) Where the defendant examined a purdanashin lady on commission, and the deposition was filed in the record, but the defendants refused to tender it, it was held that the plaintiffs were entitled to read it as a part of their case. 35 C. 28. G

Commissions for local investigations.

9. In any suit in which the Court deems a local investigation¹ to be requisite or proper for the purpose of elucidating any matter in dispute², or of ascertaining the market-value of any property³, or the amount of any mesne profits or damages or annual net profits⁴, the Court may issue a commission⁵ to such person⁶ as it thinks fit directing him to make such investigation and to report thereon to the Court:

Provided that, where the Local Government has made rules as to the persons to whom such commission shall be issued, the Court shall be bound by such rules.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 392 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The words "or proceeding" are omitted.

The word "when" is changed into "where" in the proviso.

(General.)(1) Scope of the rule.

The rule applies to a proceeding under S. 158 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 17 C. 277 where the evidence taken by the Ameen as to the standard measure of the district was held to be rightly received. H

(2) Interpretation of the rule.

(a) The local investigation, referred to in the rule, presupposes the existence on the record of independent evidence which requires to be elucidated, and the rule does not authorise the Court to delegate to a commissioner the trial of any material issue which it is bound to try. 16 M. 350; 23 W.R. 286; 3 M.L.J. 137; 21 M. 288. I

(b) The rule clearly shows that, where a Judge can conveniently conduct a local investigation in person, he should do so. 1 C.W.N. 682. J

I.—"Local investigation."(1) Object.

The object of local investigations is to obtain evidence which, from its peculiar nature, can only be obtained on the spot. 2 N.W.P. 196. K

(2) Application for.

An application for local investigation should be made at the hearing of the suit and not previously. Bourke O.C. 243. L

(3) Stay of investigation.

In a suit for possession of land, the boundaries of which are disputed, the Subordinate Judge ordered a local investigation. The District Judge was entitled to express his opinion as to the propriety or otherwise of the order of the lower Court, but not to stay the investigation. 4 C. 718; 3 C.L.R. 284. M

*I —“ Local investigation.”—(Concluded).(4) Notice.

- (a) It is necessary to give notice to parties of the time when a local investigation was to be held. 12 W.R. 189; 17 W.R. 230. N
- (b) A party, refusing to appear before an Amcen at the time he held his local inquiry, could not take objections to the report of that officer. 6 W.R. 180. O
- (c) Notice to the parties of the local investigation and inspection by the Judge is not essential. 9 C. 363; 1 C.W.N. 682, 33 C. 133. P

(5) Return.

- (a) The intention of the Code is that, when a Court deems it necessary, a commission for local investigation should be issued; the return to that commission should be before the Court before it proceeds to hear and determine the case. 16 A. 342=14 A.W.N. 112. Q
- (b) Whether, after the commissioner appointed for local investigation has returned his report to the Court, any further evidence should be allowed to be adduced, is a question which should be decided upon the facts of each case. 27 I.A. 110; 10 M.L.J. 356. R

(6) Remand.

- (a) When neither of the parties desired to have a local investigation, the Court is not entitled to remand the case, but it is bound to decide the case upon the evidence before it. 12 C. 45. S
- (b) As to the authority of the Judge to remand a case for fresh local investigation, see 6 W.R. 62. T

(7) Appeal.

- (a) No appeal lies from the order of a Judge directing a local investigation by an Amcen. 7 W.R. 425. U
- (b) An appeal lies from an order remanding a case for retrial, after local investigation. W.R. (1864), 363; but there is no appeal for remanding an appeal case for further investigation. Marsh 469; 2 Hay, 591. V

(8) Special appeal.

- (a) Directing a local investigation or not, is a mere matter of discretion in which no special appeal will lie of right. 1 W.R. 141; 1 W.R. 196; 1 W.R. 249; 5 W.R. 243; 22 W.R. 133; W.R. (F.B.) 19; 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 8; 1 Hay 229; Marsh 60; but when very strong grounds exist, the order can be interfered with. 12 W.R. 76. W
- (b) Non-compliance with the requirement of law, that the regular officer should be employed to hold a local inquiry, is not per se a ground of special appeal. 8 W.R. 6. X
- (c) The disregard of the report on local investigation is not such an error or defect as entitles a second appeal. 21 C. 504. Y

(9) Powers of appellate Court.

An appellate Court should not interfere with the result of a local investigation or enquiry, nor can it reverse the decision of the Court of first instance, except upon very clearly defined and sufficient grounds. 6 B.L.R. 677; 15 W.R. 20; 15 W.R. 423; 18 W.R. 452; 13 I.A. 607.

2.—“ For the purpose of elucidating any matter in dispute.”

- (a) An Ameen should be appointed to hold a local investigation, only when it is necessary to inspect the land, which is the subject of dispute, to take maps of localities, to obtain information with regard to the physical features of the place, to identify the land in maps with parcels which are the subject of the suit, to identify the maps with one another with the aid of objects to be found in the land, i.e., such of the information as could be obtained on the spot. 17 W.R. 282; 21 W.R. 280. A
- (b) The functions of an Ameen appointed to hold a local investigation, are discussed. 4 B.L.R. 33; 17 W.R. 473 note; 21 W.R. 281 note. B
- (c) When the fact of marriage is to be ascertained, a Judge is not justified in making a local investigation on a holiday or in making local inquiries himself. 17 W.R. 230. C
- (d) As to when a Court could grant a commission for fixing or adjusting the boundaries, see 29 B. 73. D

3.—“ Ascertaining the market-value of any property.”

When the Court considers it necessary to order an enquiry into the existence and value of moveable property, such inquiry cannot be left to be made after decree, but must be made before the final decree is drawn up. 23 W.R. 422. E

4.—“ The amount of any mesne profits or damages or annual net profits.”

- (a) The Court, executing a decree for mesne profits, commissioned an Ameen to make a local investigation. He inquired as to the prevailing rates of rent for the land which he measured and included, in his estimate of the mesne profits, rents which, with ordinary diligence, might have been obtained. The assessment of the commissioner was objected to. Held, the question must be decided on general principles in each case, and the Court was held to have exercised proper discretion in refusing to receive further evidence. 27 O. 951=27 I.A. 110=4 C.W.N. 631. F
- (b) An Ameen can be rightly appointed to make a local investigation in order to enquire as to the description of the land and as to the rates paid in the neighbourhood for similar land. 1 B.L.R. 1; 10 W.R. 43. G

5.—“ May issue a commission.”

(1) General.

- (a) It is within the discretion of the Judge to order or refuse a local inquiry. 12 W.R. 76; 1 W.R. 141.
- (b) A Judge is not bound to issue a commission of his own motion. 3 W.R. 153; 12 C. 45.
- (c) Omission to direct local investigation is not an error in law when the parties do not ask for it. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 358; 3 W.R. 153; 5 W.R. 248; 4 C. 721. J
- (d) The rule does not contemplate the issue of a commission for local investigation to more than one person. If more than one commissioner were to be appointed, the Court would have provided for difference in the opinion of the commissioner. 1 C.P.L.R. 160. K

5.—“May issue a commission.”—(Concluded).

(2) When commission ought to be issued

- (a) When the matter can be conveniently disposed of by the Court, the Court must refuse a local investigation, 9 W.R. 83, 14 W.R. 190, as matters, which cannot be conveniently disposed of by the Court, should be subject to a local investigation. 6 W.R. 324. L
- (b) The deputation of an Ameen to ascertain the respective liability of several judgment-creditors is not an improper course for a Court to pursue. 22 W.R. 183. M
- (c) The Court had made an illegitimate use of the rule in issuing a commission for local inquiry into the fact of possession. S.C. 247. N
- (d) The appointment of a commissioner to make a local investigation as to whether defendant abused plaintiff was irregular. S.C. 66. O
- (e) When issues are fixed, they ought not to be referred generally for the determination of a commission. 11 P.R. 1868. P

(3) Fresh investigation.

- (a) When an enquiry has been made by a commissioner, the Court to which it is reported ought not, unless it annuls the proceedings of the first enquiry, to order another on the same matter. 23 W.R. 93. Q
- (b) A Judge's order for a fresh investigation ought not to be interfered with by his successor. 1 W.R. 102. R

(4) Disputed boundary.

A local inquiry cannot be ordered in a case when the question to be decided was one of disputed boundary, which turned chiefly on possession before the date of suit. 17 W.R. 472; see, however, 4 B.L.R. 33; 17 W.R. 473 note. S

(5) Enhancement of rent.

In a suit brought to contest a notice of enhancement, a Judge is not bound to order a local inquiry. W.R. (F.B.) 19; 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 8; 1 Hay 229; Marsh 60. T

(6) Collector's power to depute.

- (a) A Collector may, at any stage of the case, depute an Ameen to make a local investigation. 6 W.R. 11. U
- (b) The Collector cannot delegate his powers to an Ameen or accept absolutely, without reservation, the whole report of that officer. 24 W.R. 184. V

6.—“To such person.”

- (a) S. 180 of Act VIII of 1859 made it imperative on a Court to employ in the first instance the regular officer of the Court to hold a local inquiry. 8 W.R. 6; 8 W.R. 331; 7 W.R. 27. W
- (b) As to the particular instances of improper appointments, vide 6 W.R. 81; 13 W.R. 235. X
- (c) A District Judge can appoint a Munsiff to be a Commissioner. 11 C.L.R. 533. Y
- (d) A Judge, from whose decision an appeal is pending, is the most unsuitable person to go and inspect the locality and make a report. 17 W.R. 300. Z

10. (1) The Commissioner, after such local inspection¹ as he deems necessary, and after reducing to writing the evidence taken by him², shall return such evidence³, together with his report in writing signed by him, to the Court.

(2) The report of the Commissioner and the evidence taken by him (but not the evidence without the report) shall be evidence in the suit⁴ and shall form part of the record⁵, but the Court or, with the permission of the Court, any of the parties to the suit, may examine the Commissioner⁶ personally in open Court touching any of the matters referred to him or mentioned in his report, or as to his report, or as to the manner in which he has made the investigation.

(3) Where the Court is for any reason dissatisfied with the proceedings of the Commissioner, it may direct such further inquiry to be made as it shall think fit.

(Notes).

Old Ac.

This rule corresponds to S. 393 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words "signed with his name," the words "signed by him" are substituted in sub-rule (1).

The words "or as to his report" are new in sub-rule (2).

Sub-rule (3) is new.

I.—"After such local inspection."

- (a) An Ameen is not bound to go beyond the points referred to him for inquiry. 21 W.R. 280; 4 B.L.R. 33; 17 W.R. 473 note; 21 W.R. 481 note; see, however, 23 W.R. 236. A
- (b) An Ameen may examine witnesses when the evidence which they have to give is of such a nature that it ought to be taken by him on the spot. 17 W.R. 282. B
- (c) The law does not permit the Ameen to examine witnesses out of Court. 9 W.R. 83. C
- (d) Examination of witnesses on the spot in a matter, in which personal inspection by Ameen is impossible, cannot render the report irregular. 11 W.R. 423. D
- (e) An incomplete inquiry of an Ameen owing to laches of the plaintiff was held to be no local investigation at all. 13 W.R. 412. E
- (f) A commission can only report on some matter in dispute or in evidence. 11 P.R. 1868. F

2.—“The evidence taken by him.”

- (a) The evidence taken by an Ameen is legal evidence, even though the order of deputation is improper. 9 W.R. 494; even though the Court exercises its discretion unwisely and wrongly in giving him too extensive powers. 9 W.R. 596; 12 W.R. 136; but see 21 W.R. 280. G
- (b) The evidence taken by Ameen is inadmissible. 19 W.R. 14. H
- (c) There is no legal objection to the parties to the suit agreeing that the evidence should be taken before the Ameen, and that the matters in dispute should be referred to him for inquiry. 2 B.L.R. 3. I
- (d) The Judge is bound to take notice of, and pronounce an opinion upon, evidence taken by an Ameen. 8 W.R. 287. J

3.—“Shall return such evidence.”

- (a) As to duty of the Ameen to return his report to the Court ordering investigation, see 14 W.R. 418. K
- (b) As to the power of the Court to extend the time regarding the return of the report, see 9 B. 250. L
- (c) The omission to file record of evidence with the report, is not an irregularity affecting the merits of the case, when the objector does not take any exception to it in the earlier stages. 161 P.R. 1882. M

4.—“Shall be evidence in the suit”

1.—Report of Ameen.

(i) ITS ADMISSIBILITY.

- (a) The report of a civil Ameen and the depositions taken by him are admissible as evidence. 8 W.R. 267; 22 W.R. 350; 9 W.R. 601; 2 B.L.R. 3; 1 C.P.L.R. 160. N
- (b) It is evidence even though there is no corroboration by any specific documents. 2 W.R. 278; 2 W.R. 1. O
- (c) It is, if believed, sufficient evidence to support a decree. 6 W.R. 51. P
- (d) The report is evidence upon whatever materials it is based. 19 W.R. 213; 13 W.R. 412; 11 W.R. 424; 8 W.R. 287. Q
- (e) The report of the Ameen under S. 73, Act X of 1859, is receivable as evidence, and a decision can be legally based upon it. 1 N.W.P. 165; Id. 1873, p. 244. R

(ii) CONDITION REQUISITE FOR ADMISSIBILITY.

An Ameen's report must have depositions attached to it to make it legal evidence. 7 W.R. 43. S

(iii) DEPOSITION WITHOUT REPORT.

The depositions of the witnesses without the Ameen's report were not admissible in evidence. 6 B.L.R. 70; 14 W.R. 397; 13 W.R. 412. T

(iv) HOW FAR ADMISSIBLE.

- (a) The report is only evidence on the point to which the commission refers; any report which the Ameen chooses to make on any other point, is no legal evidence in the case. 14 W.R. 493; see, however, 24 W.R. 208. U
- (b) The report of the Ameen can be partially adopted. 1 W.R. 93. Y

4.—“Shall be evidence in the suit.”—(Continued).

1.—Report of Ameen.—(Concluded).

- (c) Where an Ameen, deputed to make a local inquiry, took the depositions on oath of several witnesses on both sides, and afterwards, for further satisfaction, recorded the statements of certain persons whose religious prejudices stood in the way of their giving evidence on oath, held that his reports and the original depositions on oath were receivable in evidence. 10 W.R. 312; 22 W.R. 350. W

(v) EFFECT OF REPORT.

- (a) The report of an Ameen is not necessarily conclusive. 17 W.R. 270. X
 (b) The Ameen's report and map cannot be the sole basis and foundation of a judicial decision to the total disregard of the other evidence on record. 24 W.R. 338 Y
 (c) When an Ameen's map is admitted by both parties to be topographically correct, his report can be looked at as explanatory of the map. 17 W.R. 522. Z

(vi) THE REPORT IN A PREVIOUS SUIT.

The report of an Ameen, made in a previous suit, was inadmissible in evidence in a subsequent suit, to prove measurement of lands, when the accuracy of which report was not proved. 12 C.L.R. 50. A

(vii) REPORT BASED ON LOCAL RUMOUR.

Instead of examining the witness, himself, the Ameen sent a report, giving credit to local rumour; held that the Judge had no right to take such a report. 12 W.R. 138. B

(viii) PROOF OF POSSESSION.

An Ameen's report was held not sufficient of itself to prove possession. 8 W. R. 464; though it is highly valuable in clearing up difficulties as to the identity and position of lands. W.R. (F.B.), 39; S.C. 247. C

(ix) NON-PAYMENT OF FEES.

The report cannot be rejected because the Ameen's fees have not been paid. 17 C. 281. D

(x) JURISDICTION.

The proceeding of a Court Ameen in a sub-division, where he has no jurisdiction, cannot be a legal proceeding or legal evidence. 10 W.R. 153. E

(xi) VALUE OF THE REPORT.

The value of the report depends upon the evidence on which it is founded. 21 W.R. 281. F

(xii) SUIT AS TO RIGHT OF WAY.

A Commissioner was appointed to prepare a map of the locality in question. The statements of the village officers made to him with regard to right of way, were admissible in evidence. 24 B. 43. G & H

2.—Reports of officers appointed under Regulation I of 1814.

These may, under certain circumstances, be accepted quantum valeat. 9 W.R. 86. I

(General).

(1) Interpretation of the rule.

There is nothing in the Code making it necessary that a Commissioner appointed to take accounts should be sworn or affirmed. 3 N.W.P. 217. D

(2) Adding parties.

The Court has power to add fresh parties after reference to a Commissioner to take accounts. 8 Bom. H.C. 96. E

(3) Commissioner's fee to examine accounts.

It should, as a rule, be a definite amount and not at a monthly allowance. 3 M. 259. F

(4) Failure to pay fee.

There is nothing in the Code which authorises the dismissal of a suit for refusal or failure to deposit the amount ordered by Court as remuneration to the Commissioner. 3 M. 259. G

(5) Mode of taking accounts.

The nature of a general and separate certificate or report, and the power of the Court to deal with motions made with reference to the grant of certificates by Commissioners, are considered in 3 B. 161. H

(4) Disobedience to order of Commissioner.

An attachment will issue to compel a party to a suit to obey an order of the Commissioner on his certificate that such order has been made and disobeyed. 10 Bom. H.C. 4. Q

(5) Limitation.

The order contemplated by the rule is one which will become final and conclusive; unless the party against whom it is passed institutes a suit within a year and obtains an adjudication in his favour. 27 M. 25. R

1.—“The Instructions shall distinctly specify.”

In a suit for an account, it was ordered by consent of parties that the case should be referred to a Commissioner to take accounts, who, in taking them, was to decide on all questions of fact and to submit the questions of law to the Court; held that this reference was different from the ordinary reference to a Commissioner to examine accounts, and it is doubtful whether a Court could re-open a question of fact. 1 I.A. 346. S

2.—“Shall be evidence in the suit.”

Commissions to make partitions.

13. Where a preliminary decree for partition has been passed¹ the Court may, in any case not provided for by section 54, issue a commission² to such person³ as it thinks fit to make the partition or separation according to the rights as declared in such decree.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the first paragraph of S. 396 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).(1) The meaning of the rule.

- (a) Upon the first hearing of a suit, the Court shall determine whether the plaintiff is entitled to a partition, and shall ascertain who the several persons entitled in the property are, and shall direct by a preliminary decree or order that Commissioners be appointed to make the partition. 7 C. 318; 8 C.L.R. 415. E
- (b) The rule contemplates an order ascertaining the property to be divided, the parties interested and their several rights therein; and provides for the issue, thereafter, of a commission to make partition, a report under the commission and a decree based thereupon. 124 P.R. 1893. F

If the parties have acquiesced in the irregular proceedings, they are estopped by their own conduct from excepting to such proceedings after their conclusion merely on the ground of their irregularity. 124 P.R. 1893. J

(5) Jurisdiction.

(a) Partition of an estate paying revenue to Government cannot be effected in a Civil Court. 8 C. 649; 11 C.L.R. 186, 22 W.R. 11; 22 W.R. 333; 8 C. 537; 10 C.L.R. 401; 2 C.L.R. 134. K

(b) The jurisdiction of the Civil Court in matters of partition of a revenue-paying estate is restricted, only in questions affecting the right of Government to assess and collect, in its own way, the public revenue. 15 C. 198; 16 C. 203; 7 C. 153. L

(c) The value of the share determines the jurisdiction of the Court. 12 A. 506; 8 B. 31; but see 8 M. 235; 17 C. 680; 13 M. 25. M

(d) A Civil Court has jurisdiction to decree partition in a suit for partition of a revenue-paying estate, when no separate allotment of revenue is asked for. 24 C. 725=1 C.W.N. 374 (23 C. 679, overruled). N

(e) A Civil Court cannot take cognizance of claims as to partition, by persons who do not contest the correctness of the settlement record. 14 P.R. 1876. O

(6) Execution for process of enforcing judgment.

The action of an Ameen appointed under the rule in a partition suit to demarcate the shares assigned to the respective parties to the suit is not the executing of a process in enforcing the judgment. 18 A.W.N. 45=20 A. 311. P

1.—“Where a preliminary decree for partition has been passed.”Partition Act IV of 1893.

(a) The fact that a preliminary decree has been passed and that a report has been sent by the Commissioner, is no bar to a proceeding under S. 2 of the Act. 5 C.W.N. 128; 24 M. 639. Q

(b) S. 10 of Act IV of 1893 would apply to a suit for partition, in the stage where an interlocutory decree had been made, but that decree had not become final by the Court's acceptance of the lots prepared by the officer appointed for that purpose. 21 A. 409=19 A.W.N. 150 (20 A. 311; 1898 A.W.N. 99, R.). R

2.—“Issue a commission.”(1) Erection of partition wall.

The Court has no power, under the rule, to order its Ameen to cause a wall to be built separating portions of property of which partition has been decreed. 19 A. 194=17 A.W.N. 16. S

(2) Immoveable property—Partition of.

A Court cannot legally issue a commission to make partition of immoveable property, not paying revenue to Government, to one Commissioner

2.—“Issue a commission.”—(Concluded).(3) Notice.

The issue of commission without notice to the opposite party is open to objection.
3 W.R. 147. U

(4) Appeal.

- (a) An order, under the rule, declaring the rights of the parties in a partition suit is a decree and hence appealable. 12 C. 209; 12 C. 273; 19 C. 463, 23 C. 279; but see 124 P.R. 1898; 37 P.R. 1896. Y
- (b) An order in the course of partition proceedings containing no declaration as to the exact rights of each of the parties is not appealable. 12 C. 275 (12 C. 273, D; 7 C. 818, B.). See, also, 24 C. 725=1 C.W.N. 374. W
- (c) No appeal lies from an order made on the application for the appointment of a commission under the rule. 17 M.L.J. 114; (28 M. 127, D; C.M.A. 14 of 1906, F.). X
- (d) An appeal against a final decree passed in a suit for partition is not barred by reason of no appeal having been filed against the preliminary order passed in a suit adjudicating the rights of parties. 56 P.L.R. 1902=49 P.R. 1902; (23 C. 279; 19 C. 468; 33 C. 406; 62 P.R. 1897, R.). Y

(5) Limitation.

An application for the appointment of a Commissioner in a partition suit is not governed by any rules of limitation. 14 M.L.J. 436=28 M. 127 (6 A. 586; 9 A. 364; 22 C. 425, R.); 79 P.R. 1899. Z

3.—“To such person.”

- (a) It is not necessary for the purposes of partition that there should be more than one Commissioner. 7 C. 818; 8 C.L.R. 415. A
- (b) It is not competent to a Court to appoint only one Commissioner to effect a partition. But the parties may waive their right to have more than one Commissioner. 6 Bom. L.R. 586; 124 P.R. 1893. B
- (c) There is nothing to prevent the parties to partition proceedings, agreeing that one Commissioner only should be appointed; nor does it follow that the appointment of only one Commissioner can invalidate all the partitions made. A.W.N. (1907), 32=2 M.L.T. 68=4 A.L.J. 76=29 A. 285. C

14. (1) The Commissioner shall, after such inquiry as may be necessary, divide the property¹ into as many shares as may be directed by the order under which the commission was issued, and shall allot such shares to the parties, and may, if authorized thereto by the said order, award sums to be paid for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares.

(2) The Commissioner shall then prepare and sign a report or the Commissioners (where the commission was issued to more than one person and they cannot agree) shall prepare and sign separate reports² appointing the share of each party and distinguishing each share (if so directed by the said order) by metes and bounds. Such report or reports shall be annexed to the commission and transmitted to the Court ; and the Court, after hearing any objections³ which the parties may make to the report or reports, shall confirm, vary or set aside the same⁴.

(3) Where the Court confirms or varies the report or reports it shall pass a decree⁵ in accordance with the same as confirmed or varied ; but where the Court sets aside the report or reports it shall either issue a new commission or make such other order as it shall think fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the second and third paragraphs of S. 396 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The provisions of the rule are re-arranged for the sake of greater clearness. The rule is to a certain extent also modified.

1.—“ Divide the property. ”

Principle underlying the mode of effecting partition.

If a property can be partitioned without destroying the intrinsic value of the whole property or of the shares, partition ought to be made ; but where it cannot be made without destroying the intrinsic value of the property, then a money compensation should be given. 10 C. 675. D

2.—“ Shall prepare and sign separate reports. ”

Commissioners were not, like arbitrators, bound to make a joint award. They had power to make a valid return of the commission notwithstanding the dissent of the third. 3 B.L.R. 8. E

3.—“ After hearing any objections. ”

As to the time for moving to vary a report of the Commissioner, see 13 B. 368. F

4.—“ Shall confirm, vary, or set aside the same. ”

The Court when passing its final decree must either accept or reject the report of the Commissioner in toto but is not to modify it. 1905 A.W.N. 188 = 2 A.L.J. 709 = 28 A. 75 (1898 A.W.N. 45, R.). G

N.B. The present law seems to be otherwise.

5.—“ It shall pass a decree. ”

(1) General.

The final decree in a partition suit is made only when the Court passes a decree after perusing the report of the Ameen in cases where such a report is necessary. 18 A.W.N. 99. H

(2) Final decree.

(a) The proceedings for the purpose of effecting the partition were proceedings in the suit itself. No formal application was necessary ; the Court is bound to proceed with the suit and make a final decree. 22 C. 425. I

5.—“It shall pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

- (b) A decree passed under the rule in accordance with a Commissioner's report is a final order for effecting partition passed by a Civil Court, and must be stamped as an instrument of partition. 7 Bom. L.R. 308=29 B. 366; 8 Bom. L.R. 869. J
- (c) Decree in a partition suit, which omits to specify the share by metes and bounds, or to indicate the exact position of the plaintiff's share, is no decree and applications towards effecting a partition before such final indication would constitute proceedings in the suit. 47 P.R. 1906=86 P.L.R. 1907 (22 C. 425, F; 28 M. 127, F.). K
- (d) Where there is no partition by metes and bounds, then there is no final decree. The Court is competent to pass the final decree for partition even without the application of the parties. 18 M.L.J. 23. (25 M. 277; 28 M. 129 and 22 C. 425, R.). L
- (e) A decree omits to specify the particular properties to be assigned to each sharer. Considering the facilities afforded by the rule, it was held that such questions ought not to be relegated to the executing Court. 31 P.R. 1887. M
- (f) A decree in a partition suit is a joint declaration of the rights of persons interested in the property of which partition is sought, and such a decree, when properly drawn up, is in favour of each share-holder having a distinct share. 18 P.L.R. 1905 (3 C. 551; 23 B. 184; 23 B. 188; 12 A. 506; 20 A. 81, R.). N

General provisions.

15. Before issuing any commission under this Order, the Court may order such sum (if any) as it thinks reasonable for the expenses of the commission¹ to be, within a time to be fixed, paid into Court by the party at whose instance or for whose benefit the commission is issued².

Expenses of Commission to be paid into Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 397 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “chapter” is changed into “order.”

The words “by the Court” are omitted.

1.—“Expenses of the commission.”

(1) When to be paid.

- (a) The costs of the Commissioner should be prepaid under the rule. The Commissioner can bring a suit against the plaintiff for his costs. 4 M. 399. O
- (b) The Commissioner's fees should have been ordered to be paid into Court before the commission was proceeded with, or a Commissioner should bring a suit to recover his remuneration. It is not open to him to proceed by way of execution. 10 M.L.J. 241; (1873) Select Case, Part X, No. 12. P

1.—“Expenses of the commission.”—(Concluded).

(2) Additional costs.

It is found that the work is in excess of the amount paid in for the costs of the commission. The only way in which the additional costs can be realised is by making the amount costs of the suit and entering the same in the decree. 10 C.W.N. 284. Q

(3) Mode of taxation.

(a) Where, in a suit in India, a commission to take evidence has been issued to England, the bill of costs with respect to such commission is to be taxed by the taxing master in India, and on the same scale and on the same principle as would be adopted in England. 15 B. 209. R

(b) The charge of a commission is in the discretion of the taxing officer. 12 B.L.R. 4. S

(4) Costs of commission out of jurisdiction.

Fees paid to a pleader to examine witnesses on commission out of the jurisdiction of the Court are not costs in the suit. 6 M.L.J. 124. T

(5) “Res judicata.”

In a suit for land, the order directing payment of the Commissioner’s fee prescribed no time within which it was to be made. The suit was dismissed for default of payment. Held that the claim was not res judicata. 13 M. 510. U

2.—“For whose benefit the commission is issued.”

The Court will not order the costs of a commission to examine a defendant who is a pardanashin lady to be paid by her, or order the estimated costs of the commission to be paid into Court, although the application was made by the lady herself. 5 C. 866. V

Powers of Commissioners.

16. Any Commissioner appointed under this Order may, unless otherwise directed by the order of appointment,—

- (a) examine the parties¹ themselves and any witness whom they or any of them may produce, and any other person whom the Commissioner thinks proper to call upon to give evidence in the matter referred to him²;
- (b) call for and examine documents³ and other things relevant to the subject of inquiry;
- (c) at any reasonable time enter upon or into any land or building mentioned in the order.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 398 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “chapter” is changed into “order.”

(1) Powers of an Ameen.

- (a) There are no limits to the powers conferred by Act VIII of 1859 on a Civil Ameen for the purpose of making an investigation. 9 W.R. 566. W
- (b) He cannot delegate his authority. 1 Shome 15. X

(2) Act VI of 1870.

The Commissioner has no power to set aside an order of the Collector passed under S. 48 of Bengal Act VI of 1870. 21 C. 626. Y

(3) Obedience how enforced.

Obedience to the order of a Commissioner can be enforced by attachment. 10 Bom. H.C. 4. Z

1.—“Examine the parties.”

- (a) As to when an Ameen can examine witnesses out of Court, see 9 W.R. 83. A
- (b) An Ameen may examine witness on the spot. Any fact which can be proved by evidence, taken otherwise than on the spot, ought to be taken by the Court and not by an Ameen. 17 W.R. 282. B

2.—“In the matter referred to him.”

- (a) An Ameen is not bound to go beyond the order. 21 W.R. 280; 24 W.R. 338; 24 W.R. 208; 17 W.R. 469. C
- (b) An Ameen has power to examine witnesses relative to the matter he has to inquire into. He can't be directed to try the whole case. 1 B.L.R. 2. D
- (c) An Ameen, when directed to make an inquiry as to mesne profits, ought not, in the execution stage, enter into inquiries as to dates of dis-possession. 16 W.R. 294. E
- (d) The business of the Commissioner was practically to place himself in the position of an assistant to the Court. The Commissioner is entitled to take evidence in the matter referred to. The Commissioner cannot deal with the case, as if he is the Judge or an arbitrator appointed by the parties. 6 C.L.J. 105. F
- (e) A mufti sudder Ameen may set aside an attachment in a suit issued from his Court, but he cannot also make a declaration as to the right to the property attached. 1 M.H.C. 135. G

3.—“Examine documents.”

As to the divergence of the practice of the non-production of wills in the custody of ecclesiastical Courts before the Commissioner, see Fultor 88. H

17. (1) The provisions of this Code relating to the summoning,

Attendance and examination of witnesses before Commissioner.

attendance and examination of witnesses¹, and to the remuneration of, and penalties to be imposed upon, witnesses, shall apply to persons required to give evidence or to produce documents under this Order whether the commission in execution of which they are so required has been issued by a Court situate within or by a Court situate beyond the limits of British India, and for the purposes of this rule the Commissioner shall be deemed to be a Civil Court.

(2) A Commissioner may apply to any Court (not being a High Court) within the local limits of whose jurisdiction a witness resides for the issue of any process which he may find it necessary to issue to or against such witness, and such Court may, in its discretion issue such process as it considers reasonable and proper.

(N o t e s).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 399 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The two paragraphs of the old Code are embodied in sub-rule (1). The words "chapter" and "section" are changed into "order" and "rule."

Sub-rule (2) is new.

1.—"Summoning, attendance and examination of witnesses."

(1) Issue of process.

On an application to the High Court to authorise a Commissioner to issue process for the purpose of compelling the attendance of witnesses before him; held that the Commissioner should return the commission to the High Court. The High Court may then send the commission to a Civil Court within whose jurisdiction the witnesses to be examined reside. 23 C. 404. I (N.B. Sub-rule (2) now provides for issue of process).

(2) Arrest.

A person, attending before an arbitrator appointed by the High Court to take a reference in the suit, is protected from arrest. 1 C. 78; 5 C.L.R. 170. J

(3) Foreign witness.

Evidence of a foreign witness by commission rightly issued and executed in accordance with the provisions of the rule, is admissible in evidence. 7 C.W.N. 806=3 O.O. 984. K

18. (1) Where a commission is issued under this Order, the Parties to appear before Commissioner Court shall direct that the parties to the suit shall appear before the Commissioner in person or by their agents or pleaders.

(2) Where all or any of the parties do not so appear, the Commissioner may proceed in their absence¹.

(N o t e s).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 400 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1).

The words "whenever" and "chapter" are changed into "where" and "order."

Sub-rule (2).

For the words "if the parties," the words "where all or any of the parties" are substituted.

The word "ex parte" is changed into "in their absence"

1.—"The Commissioner may proceed in their absence."

(1) Ex parte inquiry.

In the case of the non-attendance of a defendant, the local investigation is to be proceeded with ex parte. There must be distinct direction to the Commissioner to proceed ex parte in the event of the non-attendance of the plaintiff. 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 3; W.R. (F.B.), 1; Marsh 139. L

(2) Dismissal of suit.

In the case of the non-attendance of the plaintiff, the suit is to be dismissed with costs. 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 3; W.R. (F.B.), 1; Marsh 139; 16 W.R. 28.M

ORDER XXVII.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT OR PUBLIC OFFICERS IN THEIR OFFICIAL CAPACITY.

1. In any suit by or against the Secretary of State for India in Council, the plaint¹ or written statement shall be signed by such person as the Government may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, and shall be verified by any person whom the Government may so appoint and who is acquainted with the facts of the case.

Suits by or against Government.

3.—Suit against Government.

- (a) In suits brought against the Government eo nomine under the Code of Civil Procedure, the Local Government must be considered as the party sued. 1 M.H.C. 286. Y
- (b) When the defendant was the Agent to the Governor-General and the suit was defended by the Government pleader, it was held to be a suit against Government. 10 W.R. 142; 1 A. 269. Z

4.—When Government is a necessary party.

In a suit for possession of lands taken over by the Government as forming part of an island newly formed and settled with the defendants, the Government are necessary parties. 5 C.L.R. 154; 13 B.L.R. (F.B.) 118=21 W.R. 327; 22 W.R. 52; contra, see 2 C.L.R. 457; 8 B.L.R. 524; 17 W.R. 145. A

5.—When Government is not a necessary party.

- (a) When a limited owner sues for possession of land, the Government is not a necessary party unless the nature of the tenure is disputed. 6 Bom. A.C. 265. B
- (b) In a suit for declaration that the plaintiff was a Kadim Naik, the Government was held to be not a necessary party. 16 B. 649. C

6.—When Government is liable.

- (a) The Government will be liable in damages if it has, by constructing a dam, flooded the plaintiff's lands. 15 M.L.J. 32=28 M. 72. D
- (b) For other cases, see 'LIABILITY OF GOVERNMENT FOR ACTS OF ITS OFFICERS,' at p. 806, Vol. I.

GENERAL—(Continued).

7.—When Government is not liable.

- (a) No action lies against the Government for wrongfully dismissing the plaintiff from its service. 33 C. 669. E
- (b) Where the act of tort was done by a Government official occupying such a position that, for all practical purposes, the Government had no control over him, and did not cause or authorize or adopt such act, and gained no profit from it, the Government cannot be made liable. 1 C.L.J. 355=9 C.W.N. 495. F
- (c) In a kabuliat with a Zemindar, there was a stipulation by Government that it would repair the canals, etc., of the Zemindary, and the Zemindar brought a suit against Government for specific performance of the stipulation. It was held that the case was not one in which the Court would decree specific performance. 3 C. 464=1 C.L.R. 384. G
- (d) Where revenue arising from land is granted to the plaintiff for services rendered to Government, the Civil Courts are barred from entertaining suits against Government, regarding that land, under S. 4 of Bom. Act III of 1874. 6 Bom. L.R. 438=28 B. 435. H
- (e) The Local Government may contract by heads of Departments or through subordinate Agents; but it will not be liable unless the Act complained of is within the scope of the Agent's authority. Government will not be bound by the agent's mistake or unauthorized acts, unless Government, in fact or in law, directly or by implication, ratifies the excess. 60 P.R. 1871 (Civil); 64 P.R. 1875 (Civil); 26 C. 792=3 C.W.N. 695. I
- (f) For further cases, see "AUTHORITY TO PLEDGE CREDIT OF GOVERNMENT OFFICERS EXCEEDING AUTHORITY," at p. 807, Vol. I.

8.—Cases where Government is bound by certain facts.

- (a) In a suit by the Crown claiming lands as an escheat, which are admittedly in the possession of the parties claiming as heirs, the onus is on the Crown to show that the last proprietor died without heirs. 1 B.L.R. (P.C.) 44=10 W.R. (P.C.), 31; 4 W.R. 13. J
- (b) When the Government sues for alluvial land as an ordinary Riparian Zemindar, it is bound to prove, under the latter part of cl. 3, S. 3, Regulation XI of 1825, that the stream between the chur and main land is fordable at some time of the year, and that it was fordable when the alluvium formed. 7 W.R. 513. K
- (c) When the acquiescence of the Government to female heirs succeeding to the polliam Erasca Naikoor in Madras was proved, a suit by the Government to recover the polliam on the death of the last male holder was dismissed. 9 M.I.A. 446. L
- (d) Where by a sanad a grant is made of certain mouzahs, specified as containing an estimated number of bigahs, and when it is afterwards found that the actual area is more, still the original grant is binding on the Government. 4 B.L.R. (P.C.), 36=13 W.R. (P.C.), 31. M
- (e) Where by a decree of a special Commissioner, certain property was directed to be given over to the plaintiff by some Government Officers, and the plaintiff brought a suit against the Government for the recovery of a portion of those properties, held the Government was bound by the decree of the Commissioner. 5 B.L.R. (P.C.), 312. N

GENERAL—(Continued).

8.—Cases where Government is bound by certain facts.—(Concluded).

- (f) Under cl. 3, S. 4, Regulation XI of 1825, Government has no right to land thrown up as an island in the bed of a navigable river, when such land is formed on the site of land which had been washed away. 6 B. L.R. Ap. 93=14 W.R. 424; 14 B.L.R. 219=22 W.R. 324. O

- (e) A suit brought against the Secretary of State in a Mofussil Small Cause Court for compensation for damages done to an oil mill by the officers of a State Railway was held not to fall within Art. 3, Sch. II of Act IX of 1887, and to be cognizable by the Small Cause Court. 17 C. 290. U

10.—Acts of State—No suit lies.

- (a) The Acts of State of which the Municipal Courts are debarred from taking cognizance are acts done in the exercise of sovereign power which do not profess to be justified by the Municipal law. Where an act complained of is professedly done under the sanction of the Municipal law, and in the exercise of the powers conferred by that law, the fact that it is done by the sovereign power, and is not an act which could possibly be done by a private individual, does not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts. 4 M. 344; 5 M. 273. Y
- (b) The act of removing a Maharaja from his throne is an act of State, and no appeal lies against it to the Privy Council. 8 C.W.N. 841=6 Bom. L.R. 763=1 A.L.J. 691=32 C. 1=31 I.A. 239. W
- (c) The orders of a Political Agent passed, either in his judicial or executive capacity, cannot be questioned in a Civil Court. 7 B.L.R. 452 note. X
- (d) The plaintiff was the highest bidder at an auction sale of liquor shops; but was not allowed to vend liquor by the Government. The refusal of the Government to allow the plaintiff was an act of State, and could not be questioned by a Civil Court. 1 C. 11=24 W.R. 309. Y

GENERAL—(Concluded)

10.—Acts of State—No suit lies.—(Concluded).

- (e) A sequestration by the officers of the British Government of the property of an independent native Sovereign, though made contrary to the orders of the Board of Directors, was held to be an act of State. 9 B.H.C. 314 Z
- (f) The refusal of Government to grant proprietary powers in accordance with a contract to do so is an act of State. Per Spankie, J. in 3 A. 829=1 A. W.N. 87; contra, per Stuart, C.J. in 3 A. 829=1 A.W.N. 87. A
- (g) For further cases, see pp. 804 and 805 of Vol. I.

11.—Act of foreign States—Suit lies.

- (a) Branch Courts have jurisdiction to re-open the executive orders of foreign States for the purpose of enquiring and deciding the question whether or not there had been a breach of contract, the executive order of the foreign State not being conclusive. 36 P.R. 1877 (Civil.) B
- (b) The character of the act of a foreign Government might be enquired into in a suit in a Civil Court in British India. The Court was not bound to accept an act of such a Government as an act of State. 10 B.L.R. 345=19 W.R. 123. C
- (c) The act of State of a foreign power cannot be questioned even incidentally in a suit by the British Courts. 21 P.R. 1894. D

12.—Seizure of property in war.

- (a) The seizure of the property of a person belonging to a rebel place, whether that person is attached to the rebel cause or not, is an act of State, and the Municipal Courts have no jurisdiction to question the propriety or validity of it. 6 P.R. 1867; 7 P.R. 1867; 2 P.R. 1872; 13 P.R. 1867; 1 P.R. 1872 (Civil.) E
- (b) A declaration by Government of its intention to restore property taken in war gives no legal title or right of suit to the former owner of the property, nor does it confer any jurisdiction upon the Municipal Court. 6 P.R. 1867; 13 P.R. 1867. F
- (c) But if property seized in war is restored partly or absolutely, and subsequently the restoration is cancelled or otherwise interfered with, then a cause of action arises which the Municipal Courts can take cognizance of. 14 P.R. 1872; 12 P.R. 1874. G

13.—How to question an act of State.

To question an act of State, directly or indirectly, the contention must be raised in a suit duly constituted, to which the Government must be made a party. 10 W.R. (P.C.), 25=11 M.I.A. 517. H

14.—What are not acts of State.

- (a) The resumption of a jaghir and a subsequent re-grant of it were held to be not acts of State. 11 B. 235. I
- (b) When a mamlatdar, for an alleged debt due to him, wrongfully seized the inam lands of the plaintiff granted by the Peshwas, and the British Government subsequently came into possession of the lands by a treaty, the Judicial Committee refused to hold the seizure as an act of State and ordered the restoration of the lands. 2 M.I.A. 37. J
- (c) An arrest under the Bengal Regulation III of 1818 was held to be not an act of State, and was held to be cognizable by the Municipal Court. 6 B.L.R. 392. K

1.—“The plaint.”

(1) Cause of action.

If the plaint does not contain a statement of the act done by or done on behalf of the Secretary of State as such for which the Secretary of State must be held responsible, the plaint would not disclose a proper cause of action against the Secretary of State and the suit would not be maintainable.
4 O.C. 29. L

(2) Place of suing.

- (a) A suit by or against the Government must be instituted in the place where the cause of action arose, and not in the place where the defendant may reside. 1 Hyde 37; 14 C. 256; 1 M.H.C. 286. M
- (b) A suit for specific performance of a contract against Government must be instituted in the place where the land is situated. 1 Hyde 37. N

(3) Costs.

When a suit against the Government is dismissed with costs, the costs should be taxed in the usual way. The taxing officer has no business to take into consideration any arrangement entered into by the Government with its law officers. 17 M. 162; 15 M. 405. O

(4) Decree.

When the assignees from Government bring a suit joining the Secretary of State as co-plaintiff, a decree can be given only in favour of the assignees. No alternative decree can be passed in favour of the Secretary of State, especially when the right of the assignees are admitted by the Secretary of State. 28 M. 505=15 M.L.J. 416. P

2. Persons being ex-officio or otherwise authorized¹ to act for the Government in respect of any judicial proceeding shall be deemed to be the recognized agents by whom appearances, acts and applications under this Code may be made or done on behalf of the Government.

Persons authorized to act for Government.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds exactly to S. 417 of the old Code.

1.—“Persons being ex-officio or otherwise authorized.”

In a suit on behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, no power of attorney is required from the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, in favour of the Collector, authorizing him to institute and conduct the suit. 160 P.L.R. 1905=84 P.R. 1905. Q

3. In suits by or against the Secretary of State for India in Council, instead of inserting in the plaint the name and description and place of the plaintiff or defendant, it shall be sufficient to insert the words “The Secretary of State for India in Council¹.”

Plaints in suit by or against Government.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 418 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "or against" and "or defendant" are newly inserted in this rule.
- (2) The words "of abode" are deleted from this rule.

1.—"The Secretary of State for India in Council."

(1) He is a nominal plaintiff or defendant.

S. 65 of 21 and 22 Vict., C. 106, does not constitute the Secretary of State a body corporate, but simply lays down that the office and department are to be sued as a body corporate. The suit against the Secretary of State is not one against any person but against a nominal defendant.
14 C. 256. R

(2) Complaint may be amended.

(a) In a suit against Government on account of the acts of a Revenue Officer, the Court allowed the plaint to be amended by substituting, for the present defendant, the title "The Secretary of State for India in Council." 28 B. 332. S

(b) Where a suit is wrongly brought against a Magistrate instead of the Secretary of State, the plaint can be amended by substituting the Secretary of State. 6 B. 670 (673); 15 C. 460. T

4. The Government pleader in any Court, or such other persons

Agent for Government to receive process.

as the Local Government may for any Court appoint in this behalf, shall be the agent of the Government for the purpose of receiving processes against the Secretary of State for India in Council issued by such Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 419 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words "person" and "issuing out of," the words "persons" and "issued by" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "for India" are newly inserted in this rule.
- (3) The word "said" is deleted from this rule.

5. The Court, in fixing the day for the Secretary of State for Fixing of day for appearance on behalf of Government.

India in Council to answer to the plaint, shall allow a reasonable time for necessary communication with the Government through the proper channel, and for the issue of instructions to the Government pleader to appear and answer on behalf of the said Secretary of State for India in Council or the Government, and may extend the time at its discretion.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 420 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) The words "for India" are inserted newly twice in this rule.
- (2) The word "said" is deleted from this rule.

6. The Court may also, in any case in which the Government pleader is not accompanied by any person on the part of the Secretary of State for India in Council, who may be able to answer any material questions relating to the suit, direct the attendance of such a person.

Attendance of person able to answer questions relating to suit against Government.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 421 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) The words "for India" are newly inserted in this rule.
- (2) The word "said" is deleted from this rule.

7. (1) Where the defendant is a public officer¹ and, on receiving the summons, considers it proper to make a reference to the Government before answering the plaint he may apply to the Court to grant such extension of the time fixed in the summons

Extension of time to enable public officer to make reference to Government.

as may be necessary to enable him to make such reference and to receive orders thereon through the proper channel.

(2) Upon such application the Court shall extend the time for so long as appears to it to be necessary.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 423 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words "if the public officer," "consider," "and the Court upon such application may extend," and "to be requisite," the words "where the defendant is a public officer and," "considers," "upon such application the Court shall extend" and "to it to be necessary" are respectively substituted in this rule.
- (2) The word "to" has been deleted from this rule.

(General).

(1) Collector.

- (a) To a suit against a vendor to compel him to procure the transfer by the revenue authorities to the name of the vendee of the registration of the property sold, the Collector (the registering officer) must be a party. 3 M.H.C. 184; 15 M. 350.

(General).—(Continued).

- (b) In a suit by a share-holder of a joint estate to establish a right to partition, the Collector need not be made a party, unless the public revenue is jeopardized by the contemplated partition. 22 W.R. 245. Y
- (c) In a suit to recover money illegally collected by the farmer of Abkari revenue, the Collector is not a necessary party. 11 B. 519. W

(2) Judicial officers.

- (a) A Municipal Commissioner sitting as a Magistrate is protected by Act XVIII of 1850 for any act done by him bona fide within the limits of his jurisdiction. 13 W.R. 340. X
- (b) Act XVIII of 1850 protects only judicial officers doing judicial acts and persons acting under their orders, and not any other officers. 9 C. 341=13 O.L.R. 185=9 I.A. 152; 21 W.R. 126; 14 B.L.R. 254=21 W.R. 391. Y
- (c) Neither Ss. 68 and 212 of the Criminal Procedure Code of 1861, nor Act XVIII of 1850, protected a Magistrate who had failed to act reasonably, carefully, and circumspectly, in the discharge of his duties. 3 Bom. - (d) When a judicial officer is acting within his jurisdiction, he is not liable for any act done. In such a case the question of bona fides does not arise. He might even do it illegally. But if he acts without jurisdiction, the question of his bona fides becomes very important. 1 A. 280; 1 M. 89; 12 A. 115; 7 B.L.R. 449=16 W.R. 63. A
- (e) A judicial officer is exempted from any liability when acting bona fide in cases in which they have mistakenly acted without jurisdiction, and it lies on the plaintiff in every such case to prove the contrary fact. 2 M.I.A. 293. B
- (f) The refusal or acceptance of bail is a judicial, and not merely a ministerial duty, and a mistake in the performance of that duty by a Magistrate without malice will not be sufficient to sustain an action. 2 M.H.C. 396. C
- (g) A Deputy Magistrate, who without reason causes delay in proceeding with the trial of persons whom he keeps in jail, is liable, notwithstanding Act XVIII of 1850, to an action for damages, if the prisoner is eventually acquitted. 11 W.R.Cr. 19. D
- (h) Wilful abuse of his authority by a Judge—that is, wilfully acting beyond his jurisdiction—is a good cause of action by the party who is injured. 2 M.H.C. 443. E
- (i) If a party bona fide, and not absurdly, believes that he is acting in pursuance of a statute, he is entitled to the special protection which the Legislature intended for him, although he has done an illegal Act. 4 M.I.A. 353. F
- (j) A Magistrate who makes an illegal order, which purports to be made under S. 308 of Act XXV of 1861, but is not made in accordance with the provisions of that section, is liable to be sued for damages. 4 Bom. A.C. 150. G

General—(Concluded).

(3) Other public officers.

Where the plaintiff was arrested on a suspicion of fraud and detained in custody by a commanding officer who had no such power, and the defendant (commanding officer) failed to prove the fraud imputed to the plaintiff, he was held to be liable for damages. 3 Agra 409. H

1.—“ A public officer.”

(1) Who are public officers.

See cases on p. 810, Vol. I, under the heading “ WHO ARE PUBLIC OFFICERS.”

(2) Plaintiff against a judicial officer.

When a plaintiff is filed against a judicial officer, the Court is bound to receive it and leave it to the defendant to plead exemption from liability. 3 Bom. A.C. 47. I

(3) Jurisdiction.

A suit will not lie in the High Court against the Collector of Madras residing at Saidapet in respect of matters arising in Chingleput. 1 M.H.C. 286. J

8. (1) Where the Government undertakes the defence of a suit against a public officer, the Government pleader, upon being furnished with authority to appear and answer the plaintiff, shall apply to the Court,

Procedure in suits
against public officer.

and upon such application the Court shall cause a note of his authority to be entered in the register of civil suits.

(2) Where no application under sub-rule (1) is made by the Government pleader on or before the day fixed in the notice for the defendant to appear and answer, the case shall proceed as in a suit between private parties :

Provided that the defendant shall not be liable to arrest, nor his property to attachment, otherwise than in execution of a decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to S. 426, and sub-rule (2) corresponds to S. 427 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words “ if,” “ if such application is not made ” and “ except,” the words “ where,” “ where no application under sub-rule (1) is made,” and “ provided ” are respectively substituted in this rule.
- (2) The words “ of civil suits ” are newly inserted.
- (3) The words “ to ” and “ to the plaintiff ” are deleted from this rule.

ORDER XXVIII.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST MILITARY MEN.

1. (1) Where any officer or soldier ¹ actually serving the Govern-

Officers or soldiers who cannot obtain leave may authorize any person to sue or defend for them.

ment in a military capacity is a party to a suit, and cannot obtain leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person, he may authorize any person to sue or defend in his stead.

(2) The authority shall be in writing and shall be signed by the officer or soldier in the presence of (a) his commanding officer, or the next subordinate officer, if the party is himself the commanding officer, or (b) where the officer or soldier is serving in military staff employment, the head or other superior officer of the office in which he is employed. Such commanding or other officer shall countersign the authority, which shall be filed² in Court.

(3) When so filed the countersignature shall be sufficient proof that the authority was duly executed, and that the officer or soldier by whom it was granted could not obtain leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting the suit in person³.

Explanation.—In this Order the expression “commanding officer” means the officer in actual command for the time being of any regiment, corps, detachment or depot to which the officer or soldier belongs.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 465 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words “when,” “purposes,” “be” and “chapter,” the words “where,” “purpose,” “is” and “order” are respectively substituted in this rule.
- (2) The words “or defending” are deleted from this rule.

GENERAL.

1.—Jurisdiction of Military Court of Requests.

Sec. 6 of Act XLII of 1860 did not alter or interfere with the jurisdiction of Military Courts of Requests under St. 20 and 21, Vic. ch. 66, S. 67. 1 M.H.C. 443. K

2.—Jurisdiction of ordinary Civil Courts.

- (c) No Civil Court (except a Court of Small Causes where there is one) has jurisdiction to entertain a suit for an amount less than Rs. 400 against a military officer residing in a Cantonment. 58 P.R. 1872 (Civil); 1 P.R. 1871 (Civil); 94 P.R. 1868 (Civil). N
- (d) A European soldier acting as an army schoolmaster is not exempted from the jurisdiction of Civil Courts. 6 M.H.C. 88. O
- (e) A suit not being one exclusively cognisable by a Court of Requests, other Civil Courts have jurisdiction to try it against a military officer, under S. 103 of the Mutiny Act. 2 M.H.C. 389. P
- (f) The test of jurisdiction of Civil Courts against military officers is now, like any other case, that furnished by S. 17, C.P.C. of 1882. The (F.B.) ruling in 1 P.R. 1893 has become obsolete owing to the repeal of S. 151 of the Army Act by S. 5 of the Army Act of 1895. 93 P.R. 1900. Q

3.—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Courts.

- (a) Reference was made to the High Court regarding the liability of European soldiers and their native wives to Small Cause Court's jurisdiction in actions for debt. 5 W.R.S.C.C. Ref 21. R
- (b) A Court of Small Causes has no jurisdiction to try an action brought against a military officer in a military cantonment where a Court of Requests is established. 2 M.H.C. 439. S
- (c) The Small Cause Court at Lucknow Cantonment has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit against a military officer serving at Shajahanpur. S.C. 68; 33 P.R. 1879; S.C. 68 was overruled by S.C. 113. T
- (d) If a cause of action against a military officer (other than a soldier of the Regular Forces) arises within the jurisdiction of one Small Cause Court, and such officer afterwards resides in the jurisdiction of another Small Cause Court, he may be sued in the Small Cause Court in whose jurisdiction the cause of action arose. S.C. 113; 1 P.R. 1893; 37 P.L.R. 1901. U
- (e) A non-commissioned officer or soldier not serving in the army but employed in the Civil department and residing beyond military cantonments is amenable to the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Courts. 14 W.R. 231. Y

1.—“Soldier.”

- (a) A sub-conductor of the Ordnance Department is a ‘soldier’ within the meaning of S. 144 of the Army Act, 1881. 11 M. 475. W
- (b) A sub-conductor in the Commissariat Department is not a ‘soldier,’ within the meaning of Cantonments Act (III of 1-80). 3 A. 214. X
- (c) A sergeant of the Regular Forces employed in the Barrack Department is not of a class of “persons subject to Military Law, other than soldiers of the Regular Forces,” within the provisions of S. 151 of the Army Act of 1881. 48 P.R. 1893. Y

2.—“Which shall be filed.”

A mother of a military man sued on behalf of his son. Held, the suit was bad for want of written authority, and the defect could not be cured by the production of the authority in special appeal. 6 Bom. A.C. 20. Z

3.—“Prosecuting the suit in person.”

The Army Discipline and Regulation Acts of 1879 do not oust the Civil Courts of their jurisdiction over a soldier in active military employ, because the claim is under £30. Only he cannot be taken out of the service or compelled to appear in person. 125 P.R. 1881. A

2. Any person authorized by an officer or a soldier to prosecute or defend a suit in his stead may prosecute or defend in person in the same manner as the officer or soldier could do if present; or he may appoint a pleader to prosecute or defend the suit on behalf of such officer or soldier.

Person so authorized may act personally or appoint pleader.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 466 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The word " if " has been deleted from this rule.

3. Processes served upon any person authorized by an officer or a soldier under rule 1 or upon any pleader appointed as aforesaid by such person shall be as effectual as if they had been served on the party in person.

Service on person so authorized, or on his pleader, to be good service.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 467 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) For the words " as in S. 465," the words " under rule " are substituted in this rule.
- (2) The words " to act for or on behalf of such officer or soldier " and " or on his pleader " are deleted from this rule.

ORDER XXIX.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST CORPORATIONS.

1. In suits by or against a corporation¹, any pleading may be signed and verified² on behalf of the corporation by the secretary or by any director or other principal officer³ of the corporation who is able to depose to the facts of the case⁴.

Subscription and verification of pleading.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 435 of the old Code.

Difference between the new and the old Code.

- (1) For the words " the plaint " and " subscribed," the words " any pleading " and " signed " are respectively substituted in this rule.
- (2) The words " or against " are newly inserted.
- (3) The words " or by a company authorised to sue or be sued in the name of an officer or of a trustee," " or company " are deleted from this rule.

GENERAL.

A.—Suit against unincorporated companies.

(1) Club.

The secretary of a club could not, unless he specially accepted personal liability, be sued personally on a contract entered into on behalf of the members of the club by his predecessor in office; nor could the members of a club collectively be sued through their secretary as their representative. 20 A. 497=18 W.N. 138; 15 P.R. 1891. B

GENERAL—(Concluded).

A—Suit against unincorporated companies.—(Concluded).

(2) Firm.

- (a) In a suit where a firm is the defendant, all the members of the firm must be arrayed as defendants. 1 Bom. H.C. 85. C
- (b) In a suit brought upon a contract made by a firm, the plaintiff may select as defendants those members of the firm against whom he wishes to proceed. 15 C.P.L.R. 51. D

(3) Unregistered Company.

- (a) The members of an unincorporated or unregistered company must be the plaintiffs and defendants in suits by the company or against it. If the names are not known, then the company can be sued by the name under which the company carries on business; but the inability of the plaintiff must be stated. 8 W.R. 45; 6 A. 284. E
- (b) In a suit by or against an unregistered company, every individual member of it must be made a plaintiff or defendant, and the plaintiff cannot get rid of his obligation by stating his inability to discover who the individual members are. 20 A. 167=18 A.W.N. 7; 19 A.W.N. 123=21 A. 346. F
- (c) An unregistered corporation cannot be sued through its manager. All the members must be named as defendants. 29 P.R. 1896. G

(4) Amendment of plaint.

In a suit for pre-emption, the defendant's designation "the Madrasa Tibbia through its manager P" showed that plaintiffs intended to sue the whole body of the unincorporated society of Madrasa Tibbia, and therefore the amendment of the plaint by the addition of the names of the individual members after the period of limitation will relate back to the original date of the plaint which will consequently be not barred. 29 P.R. 1896. H

B.—Suit against corporations for particular purposes or under particular circumstances.

- (a) A suit against a bank by a share-holder to get a declaration of his right to inspect the bank's books lies only in cases where he has got a special interest and a definite object, and in such cases to such of those books and documents which would tend to illustrate such right or object. 12 C.W.N. 825=10 Bom.L.R. 686=8 C.L.R. 108=4 M.L.T. 16=5 A.L.J. 468. I
- (b) A person guaranteed the honesty of a servant of an incorporated company and paid money for it. It was held that he could sue one member of the association for the return of a portion of his deposit. 11 P.R. 1892. J
- (c) Though a contract by a corporation should ordinarily be made under seal, still where there is executed consideration an action will lie. 28 B. 66. K
- (d) A gift was made to the members of an unincorporated society by a deed and afterwards the society was registered. The registered society now sued to enforce the gift. It was held that no formal transfer was required from the incorporated to the registered society, and that the suit would lie as it was not one to enforce a contract with the previous society, but one to recover property said to have been granted to it. 41 P.R. 1897. L

1.—“A corporation.”(1) What is a corporation?

For the meaning of the term “corporation” in this rule, see 20 A. 167=18 A.W.N. 7; 21 A. 346=19 A.W.N. 123; 14 B. 286 (289). M

(2) Can a foreign corporation sue?

A foreign corporation is entitled to sue in its corporate character in this country. It is not necessary that it should be registered under the Indian Company's Act. A plaint in such a case can be verified by its principal officer. 30 C. 103. N

(3) Who can sue on behalf of a corporation?

(a) The manager and secretary of an aided school can maintain a suit on behalf of the school. 6 W.R. Civ. Ref. 21. O

(b) In suits by or against a corporation or company authorised to sue and be sued in the name of an officer, it is enough if the name of the officer is inserted in the pleadings. Otherwise the company should be sued in its corporate name. 10 W.R. 366; 2 B.L.R.S.N. 6; 15 W.R. 534. P

(c) An agent or manager cannot represent a company in a suit by or against it, especially when the company is not authorised to sue or be sued in the name of its agent or manager. 12 C. 41. Q

(d) The Official Liquidator cannot sue on behalf of a firm in liquidation, unless the title “the Official Liquidator Himalaya Bk. (Ld.), in liquidation-plaintiff.” 17 A. 292=15 A.W.N. 81. R

(e) Subsequently, the plaint was amended and the new title was “The Himalaya Bk. (Ld.) in liquidation-plaintiff”; and a Full Bench held that the suit was good even under the original title also inasmuch as the amendment did not introduce a new plaintiff. 18 A. 198=16 A.W.N. 28. S

(f) A plaint signed by a person ‘for and as superintendent and principal officer of the estate of a Mission,’ which was not a company authorised to sue in the name of its principal officer, was rejected as invalid. 16 A. 420=14 A.W.N. 154. T

2.—“Signed and verified.”

(a) An association registered under the Companies Act being a corporation within the meaning of S. 435, C.P.C., a plaint on behalf of the corporation may be signed and verified by its secretary. 43 P.R. 1885 (Civil). U

(b) Defective verification on behalf of a corporation, if it does not prejudice anybody, is no ground on appeal for returning the plaint for amendment or for refusing relief. 5 C.W.N. 91. V

(c) S. 435, C.P.C., does not empower the secretary of a registered association to conduct a suit and appoint pleaders, etc., unless the articles of the association authorises him to do so, or unless he is appointed as the authorised agent of the association. He can merely sign and verify the plaint. 58 P.R. 1886 (Civil). W

3.—“Or other principal officer.”

(a) An acting manager is a principal officer within the meaning of this rule. 21 C. 60=20 I.A. 139. X

(b) If an unauthorized person verifies the written statement, the plaintiff can waive his objection and make the verification valid. 22 C. 268. Y

3.—“Or other principal officer.”—(Concluded).

- (c) When a depositor applies for the winding up of a Company and other creditors and contributories are allowed by Court to join with him in prosecuting the case, the petition of the depositor shall be considered as a joint petition, and even the withdrawal of the depositor from prosecuting the case, does not operate as a withdrawal of the whole case. If this petition be duly signed and verified, the failure to verify the petitions of others will not debar the co-petitioners from proceeding with the case. 81 C. 106. Z

4.—“Depose to the facts of the case.”

- (a) A petition by the Bank of Bengal was verified by the officiating Inspector of Branches, Bank of Bengal, and there was nothing to show that he was not authorised to sue or verify on behalf of the Bank at Chittagong or that he was not able to depose to the facts of the case. It was held that the petition was properly verified under S. 435. 5 C.W.N. 91. A
- (b) The rule does not require a principal officer of a corporation to verify a plaint from actual personal knowledge. The verifier may depose upon his information and belief. 9 C.W.N. 608. B

2. Subject to any statutory provision regulating service of process,

Service on corporation. process, where the suit is against a corporation, the summons may be served—

- (a) on the secretary, or on any director, or other principal officer of the corporation, or
- (b) by leaving it or sending it by post addressed to the corporation at the registered office, or if there is no registered office then at the place where the corporation carries on business.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the whole of S. 436 except the last para of the old Code.

When the suit is against a corporation or against a company authorised to sue and be sued in the name of an officer or of a trustee, the summons may be served—

- (a) by leaving it at the registered office (if any) of the corporation or company, or
- (b) by sending it by post in a letter addressed to such officer or trustee at the office (or, if there be more offices than one, at the principal office in British India) of the corporation or company, or
- (c) by giving it to any director, secretary, or other principal officer of the corporation or company.—(S. 436 of the old Code).

Difference between the old and the new Code.

The differences in transpositions, etc., are many.

1.—“Summons may be served.”

For the purposes of summons, a Railway Company must be deemed to dwell at its principal office. It is not enough if the service is made on the Engineer of the Company. 1 Hyde 197. C

- 3. The Court may, at any stage of the suit, require the personal appearance of the secretary or of any director, or other principal officer of the corporation who may be able to answer material questions relating to the suit.
- Lower Court to require personal attendance of officer of corporation.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the last para of S. 436 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Code.

- (1) The words “at any stage of the suit” are newly inserted in this rule.
- (2) The words “or company” are deleted from this rule.

ORDER XXX.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST FIRMS AND PERSONS CARRYING ON BUSINESS IN NAMES OTHER THAN THEIR OWN.

- 1. (1) Any two or more persons¹ claiming or being liable as partners² and carrying on business in British India³ may sue or be sued in the name of the firm (if any)⁴ of which such persons were partners at the time of the accruing of the cause of action⁵, and any party to a suit may in such case apply to the Court for a statement of the names and addresses of the persons who were, at the time of the accruing of the cause of action, partners in such firm⁶, to be furnished and verified in such manner as the Court may direct.
- Suing of partners in name of firm.

(2) Where persons sue or are sued as partners in the name of their firm under sub-rule (1), it shall, in the case of any pleading or other document required by or under this Code to be signed, verified or certified by the plaintiff or the defendant, suffice if such pleading or other document is signed, verified, or certified by any one of such persons.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

- (a) This order is entirely new and it corresponds to O. XLVIII-A of the English rules. Rule 1 of this Order corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 1 of the English rules.

- (b) "The Committee have adopted with the necessary alterations the English procedure in relation to suits against firms. This new procedure has been in force for some time in the Presidency towns of Calcutta and Bombay and has worked satisfactorily.

It is hoped that its general application will be found useful by the mercantile community, for the rules remove technical obstacles which, under the present procedure, may seriously impede this class of litigation, as where a partner has died." (See "Statement of Objects and Reasons." Select Committee's Report)

Distinction between the English rule and this rule.

The word "co-partners" in the English rule is replaced in this rule by the word "partners."

The phrase "and carrying on business within the jurisdiction" is replaced by "and carrying on business in British India."

The word "respective" appearing before the words "firm, if any," is omitted in this rule, while the word "firms" is replaced by "firm."

The phrase "any party to an action" is replaced by "any party to a suit," while the words "by summons" are omitted after the word "apply."

The word "Judge" replaces the word "Court," and the word "any" is omitted before "such firm."

The phrase "in such manner" is also omitted after "furnished," while the words "and verified on oath or otherwise as the Judge may direct" are substituted by "and verified in such manner as the Court may direct."

Sub-rule 2 is new.

(General).

Application of the rule.

The rule does not apply to the proprietors of a newspaper sued under the name of the newspaper. (De Bernales v. New York Herald, (1893) 2 Q.B. 97. D

I.—“Any two or more persons.”

Infant partner.

- (a) An infant can be a partner in a firm. Lovell v. Beauchamp, (1894) A.C. 607. F
- (b) Though he can be a partner, he cannot contract debts by trading and is therefore not liable for the debts of the firm. (Ibid). G
- (c) An adult partner can insist that all the assets of the partnership shall be applied in payment of the liabilities of the partnership, and until this is done the—can have no claim on them. (Ibid). H
- (d) A judgment against a firm containing an infant partner, and bankruptcy proceedings based on such judgment must specifically exclude the—. (Ibid). I
- (e) Such a judgment must be in the following form:—“Adjudged that the plaintiff recover against the defendant firm, other than A.B. an infant partner.” Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 8, Notes, “Infant partner.” J
- (f) Execution issues against the property of the firm, irrespective of the infancy of the partner and even if the sole member of the firm were an infant, the plaintiff’s right to issue execution against the goods of the firm would not be affected. (Ibid). No execution can issue against the private property of an infant partner. (Ibid). K
- (g) If one of the partners is an infant, his minority cannot be used by the other partner as a means of deferring payment of the firm’s debts. Harris v. Beauchamp Brothers, (1893) 2 Q.B. 534. L

2.—“Claiming or being liable as partners.”

(1) Action between partners.

For—, see r. 9, infra, of this Order.

(2) Death of partner.

- (a) Where a partner dies before action, and the action is brought against the firm alone in the firm’s name, the deceased partner is not a party to the action so far as his private estate is concerned. Ellis v. Wadeson, (1899) 1 Q.B. 714. M
- (b) In an action against a firm in the firm’s name, if a partner dies between service of the writ and judgment, the estate of the deceased partner is not bound. (Ibid). N
- (c) Unless the personal representative of a deceased is a defendant, judgment is against the surviving partners and can only be enforced against them and the partnership assets. (Ibid). O
- (d) A deceased partner’s estate is not liable for goods ordered before, but not delivered till after, his death. Bagel v. Miller, (1908) 2 K.B. 212. P
- (e) For “Right of suit on—”, see r. 4, infra, of this Order.

(3) Partnership, suit by or against—Necessity to join all partners.

- (a) The general rule is that a suit by or against an ordinary partnership would have been defective for want of parties, unless all the partners were before the Court. (Lindley, 516). Q
- (b) But now the firm may be sued without first ascertaining who all the partners are. (Pollock Part, p. 109). See also Annual Practice, O. XLVIII-A, r. 1, Notes, “As co-partners.” R

2.—“Claiming or being liable as partners.”—(Concluded).

(4) Partners, liability of.

The—for debts is joint. (Pollock, Part p. 26; Kendall v. Hamilton, 4 App. Cas. 504; Pilley v. Robinson, 20 Q.B.D. 155; and cf. The Partnership Act, 1890, ss. 9, 10, 12 and Weall v. James, 68 L.T. 515). S

3.—“And carrying on business in British India.”

(1) Carrying on business.

(a) The expression—means the possession within the jurisdiction of a place of business held in the name of the firm, where business is carried on on behalf of the firm by a partner or by a person or persons in the pay of the firm. Worcester City Banking Company v. Firbank and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 784; C. A. Shephard v. Hirsch Prichard and Co., 45 C.D. 281; Lysaght v. Clark, (1891) 1 Q.B. 552. T

(b) It does not matter whether the partners are, or are not, out of the jurisdiction, or whether or not they have another place of business out of the jurisdiction. If they carry on business within the jurisdiction in the firm's name, they can be sued as an English firm, and service at their English place of business on the person having the management or control, as prescribed by r. 3, infra, is good service, so far as regards any partnership property within the jurisdiction. (Ibid). U

(c) If the firm have no place of business in this country held in the name of the firm, they do not carry on business within the jurisdiction, even though the partners come to this country regularly and employ an agent here to purchase goods to be sent to the firm abroad. Singleton v. Roberts and Company, 70 L.T. 687; see, also, Reinemann v. Hale and Co., (1891) 2 Q.B.D. 83, C.A. Y

(d) The mere employment of an agent in England who collects orders for the firm on commission, but has no power to accept or reject such orders, is not—in England, even though the firm's name is painted on the door of the agent's office. (Grant v. Anderson, (1892) 1 Q.B. 108; C.A. Baillie v. Goodwin, 88 C.D. 604). W

(2) Carrying on business within the jurisdiction.

The words —were introduced into the English rule with the object of bringing within the scope of this order any foreign firm, which had a place of business in England. Such firms may, therefore, be now sued and served in the same way as English firms are sued and served. (Worcester City Banking Company v. Firbank and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 784 C.A.). X

4.—“May sue or be sued in the name of the firm (if any).”

(1) Action against club.

Where K and C were carrying on business under the name of International Club, and a writ was issued against the club and served on K who did not appear, and judgment was signed in default against the club, the Court of Appeal refused to set it aside. Firmin v. International Club, 5 Times Rep. 612, 604. Y

(2) Assumed or trading name.

(a) A person trading by himself as a firm, or in an—must sue in his own name and not in his trading name, though he may be sued in his trading name. (Mason v. Magridge, 8 Times Rep. 805). Z

4.—“May sue or be sued in the name of the firm (if any).”—(Continued).

(b) Under the old Admiralty practice, the “owners of the cargo,” may, in an action in rem, sue as such in lieu of their trading name, even where the “owners” consist of a person trading as a firm. [The Assunta, (1902), p. 150]. A

(c) But a person sued by his trading name may be ordered to disclose his real name and private address under this rule. B

(3) Concealed partner—Counterclaim.

In a firm of “L. and Co.,” which apparently consisted only of L. trading as “L. and Co.,” there was a concealed partner. An action was brought by “L. and Co.” against “G.,” who counterclaimed for jewellery supplied to “L.” for personal use. It was held that the counterclaim was bad against the firm. (Baker v. Gent, 9 Times Rep. 159). C

(4) Cost-book Mining Company.

For a case in which a—was sued in its partnership name, see Escott v. Gray, 89 L.T. 121. D

(5) Death of partner—Liability of private estate.

If one of several partners dies before action is brought and the plaintiff seeks, in suing the firm, to make the deceased partner's private estate liable, he must add as a defendant the personal representative of such deceased partner. Ellis v. Wadeson, (1899) 1 Q.B. 714; Phillips v. Homfray, 24 C.D. 439; Re Shephard, 43 C.D. 136. E

(6) Firm of “two or more persons”—Disability of one.

A firm of “two or more persons” may sue or be sued, even though one of them is under a disability. [Harris v. Beauchamp Bros., (1893) 2 Q.B. 534]. F

(7) Foreign firms.

Principle. The ruling in the following cases applies to a plaintiff foreign firm suing as well as to a defendant foreign firm being sued. See Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 1, Notes, “Carrying on business within the jurisdiction.”

(a)—which had places of business in England may be sued and served in the same manner as English firms are sued and served. Worcester City Banking Company v. Firbank and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 784, C.A. G

(b) (1) Subject to the above qualification,—cannot be sued as firms. Dobson v. Festi and Co., (1891) 2 Q.B. 92. H

(2) A purely foreign firm, all the partners of which reside abroad, cannot be served as a firm. The partners must be sued and served individually. Western National Bank of New York v. Perez Triana and Co., 1 Q.B. 304 (1891), overruling Pollexfen v. Sibson, 16 Q.B.D. 792, (where a foreign firm was sued in the firm's name, and service on a partner happening to be temporarily in England was held good service on the firm). I

(c) A British Colonial Firm is in the same position as a—. [Indigo Company v. Ogilvy], (1891) 2 Ch. 31], as also a Scotch or Irish firm, Worcester City Bank v. Firbank and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 784, C.A. J

4.—“May sue or be sued in the name of the firm (if any).”—(Concluded).

(d) Where partners in a foreign firm are sued individually, they are subject to the general rules as to service. Service on any one of them while temporarily in England is good service so far as the individual is concerned. Otherwise, they can only be served by order for service out of the jurisdiction. See as to the converse of this, Carriek v. Hancock, 12 Times Rep. 59. K

(e) A defendant firm may contract itself out of the rules and rulings as to—by agreeing to receive service at some place within the jurisdiction. [Montgomery v. Liebenthal and Co., (1898) 1 Q.B. 487]. L

(f) The jurisdiction of the Court as to ordering service out of the jurisdiction cannot be extended by agreement. [British Wagon Company v. Gray, (1896) 1 Q.B. 35.] M

(g) A foreign firm suing in the English Court is liable to have a counterclaim pleaded against it, even though the nature of the counterclaim is such as to preclude the possibility of bringing an action upon it under O. XI of the English rules. (Griendtveen v. Hamlyn and Co., 8 Times Rep. 231.) N

(8) Foreign subject residing abroad.

A—and carrying on business in this country must be sued individually in his own name. [St. Gobain v. Hoyer mann's Agency, (1898) 2 Q.B. 96 C.A.]. O

(9) Foreign corporation.

(a) A—is different from a firm and may be used as an individual. See Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 1, Notes—“Foreign corporation.” Independently of treaty, the right of foreign corporations to carry on business in England is now fully established by custom. See Encyclopaedia of the Laws of England tit. “corporations, Foreign.” Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. IX, r. 8, Notes—“Foreign corporation.” P

(b) For other cases relating to—, see Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. IX, r. 8. (Ibid).

(10) Joint creditor's remedy against estate of deceased partner.

For a—, see Re Hodgson, 31 C.D. 177.

(11) Judgment against firm, effect of.

A judgment against a firm has the same effect that a judgment against all the partners had formerly. (Pollock) Partnership, p. 109; 9 Q.B.D. 355 (Clark v. Cullen). Q

(12) Married woman suing as member of firm.

A—has thereby sufficient separate estate to justify her in maintaining an action. (Eddowes v. The Argentine, etc., Co., 62 L.T. 602; 63 L.T. 364). R

(13) Separate defences for partner and firm.

A firm cannot appear as a firm; but if a partner, together with the firm, are made co-defendants, he may put in separate defences one for himself and one for the firm. [Taylor v. Collier, 30 W.R. (Eng.) 701]. S

(14) Trade union.

A—registered under the Trade Union Acts may sue or be sued in its registered name. [Taff Vale Ry. v. Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, (1901) A.C. 426 H.L.]. T

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 2 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

In sub-rule (1), the words "where a suit is instituted" are substituted for the words of the English rule, viz., "where a writ is sued out."

The words "their pleader" replace the words "their solicitors" after the words "the plaintiffs or."

The words "the suit is instituted" stand for the words "the action is brought" after the words "on whose behalf."

In sub-rule (2), the word "where" is substituted for the words "and if," while the word "pleader" replaces the word "solicitors" after the words "or their."

The words "such demand" are replaced by the words "any demand made under sub-rule (1)," while the words "proceedings in the suit" replace the words "proceedings in the action."

The words "or a Judge" are omitted after "the Court."

In sub-rule (3), the word "where" stands for "and when," while the words "so declared" are replaced by the words "declared in the manner referred to in sub-rule (1)." The word "suit" replaces the word "action," while the word "plaint" replaces "writ." In the proviso the words "provided that" replace the word "but."

1.—"Forthwith declare in writing."

(1) Partners' names, disclosure of.

By rule (1), supra, in an action by or against a firm, any party to the action may apply by summons to a Judge for the names and addresses of the persons who were partners at the time the cause of action accrued. See r. 1, supra, "Any party...may apply..for a statement of the names and addresses." Y

(2) Proceedings in the name of firm, continuation of.

as the Court may direct; and such service shall be deemed good service upon the firm so sued⁵, whether all or any of the partners are within or without British India :

Provided that, in the case of a partnership which has been dissolved to the knowledge of the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, the summons shall be served upon every person within British India whom it is sought to make liable⁷.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 3 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

The words "under sub-rule (1)" appearing after the words "in the name of their firm" are omitted, and the word "summons" is substituted for "writ." The words "or at the principal place, within the jurisdiction of the business of the partnership" are replaced by "or at the principal place at which the partnership business is carried on within British India."

The words "as the Court may direct" are new, while the words "and subject to these rules" are omitted.

The words "whether any of the members thereof are out of the jurisdiction or not" are replaced by the words "whether all or any of the partners are within or without British India," while the words "and no leave to issue a writ against them shall be necessary" are omitted.

In the proviso, the word "co-plaintiff" is substituted by "partnership," while the phrase "before the commencement of the action" is replaced by "before the institution of the suit."

The words "writ off" are omitted before "summons," while the words "upon every person within the jurisdiction sought to be made liable" are replaced by "upon every person within British India whom it is sought to make liable."

1.—"Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm."

(1) Application of the rule.

The whole rule applies only to actions against partners "in the name of their firm" carrying on business within the jurisdiction. Z

(2) Firms trading within jurisdiction—Mode of service.

(a) This rule provides a mode of service within the jurisdiction under the terms of the English rule, on firms trading within the jurisdiction, whether the partners reside within or without the jurisdiction. See notes to r. 1, supra, under the heading "Carrying on business," and also Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 3 notes. A

(b) The rule provides the mode of service on the firm. Worcester City Banking Company v. Firbank and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 784. B

(3) Foreign firm.

A—not carrying on business within the jurisdiction cannot sue or be sued as a firm. See notes to r. 1, supra, under the heading "Foreign firms." C

(4) Sued as partners in the name of their firm.

(a) The words—authorise service in accordance with the provisions of this rule on any person sued, who is carrying on business within the jurisdiction in a name or style other than his own name. See r. 10, infra, and Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 3, Notes—"Sued as partners under rule (1)." D

1.—“Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm.”—(Concluded).

- (b) The words—also authorise service upon any two or more persons sued, who are liable as co-partners and carry on business within the jurisdiction. See r. 1, supra. (Ibid). E

(5) Substituted service.

—cannot be ordered against a partner out of the jurisdiction, where the action is against a foreign firm carrying on business within the jurisdiction, merely because he cannot be served personally within the jurisdiction. See Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 3, Notes—“Sued as partners.. under r. (1).” F

2.—“Shall be served.”

(1) Service.

- (a) The mode of—prescribed by this rule applies solely to service within the jurisdiction. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 3, Notes—“Shall be served.” G
- (b) If a partner is served,—must be personal, and may be effected anywhere subject to the rules as to service out of the jurisdiction and to the decisions with regard to foreign firms. (Ibid). H
- (c) If the person in control of the business is served, service must be effected at the principal place of business within the jurisdiction and must include service of the notice prescribed by r. 5, infra, of this Order. (Ibid). I
- (d) If no such notice is served, the person served is deemed to be served as a partner. (Ibid). See also r. 5, infra. J
- (e) Where a firm is duly served and no appearance is entered and judgment in default is signed, subsequent service of the writ on a partner not previously served is wrong, and will entitle such partner to apply to set aside the judgment.

The plaintiff's proper course in such a case, in order to bind the personal goods of a partner not originally served, is to apply under O. XXI, r. 50, for an order giving leave to issue execution against the person sought to be made liable as a partner. (Ibid). See under the heading “Several services.” K

- (f) In every case where several services are made in effecting service on a defendant firm, the time of the last of such services counts as the commencement of the time for appearance of the defendant firm. Thus, where a writ was first served on the person in control of the business, and five days afterwards a partner was served, it was held that judgment entered on the ninth day after the first service was bad, as the partner had still four days left for entering his appearance as a partner. Alden v. Beckley, 25 Q.B.D. 543. L

3.—“At the principal place at which.”

(1) At the principal place at which.

The phrase —means a place where the business of the firm is carried on in the firm's name by a partner or some person who is in the pay of the firm and not merely an agent. Worcester City Banking Company v. Firbank and Co., 70 L.T. 102 (1894), 1 Q.B. 784; Grant v. Anderson, 1 Q.B.D. 108 (1892); and cf. Heinemann and Co. v. S. B. Hale and Co., 2 Q.B. 83 (1891); see, also, Baillie v. Goodwin, 33 Ch. D. 604; De Bernales v. New York Herald, 2 Q.B. 97 (n) (1899); see, also, notes to r. 1, supra, under the heading, “Carrying on business” and “Foreign firms.” M, N

4.—“ Upon any person having, at the time of service, the control or management...there.”

(1) Agent, service on.

—of a firm was held to be no service on the firm. Baillie v. Goodwin, 33 Ch. D. 604. O

(2) Control or management.

(a) The words—of the partnership business denote that the person having such control must be servant of the partners, and a Receiver and Manager appointed by the Court is only a servant of the Court, and therefore service on him was held to be bad. Re Flowers and Co., 65 L.J.Q.B. 679. P

(b) So held on the same words in r. 260 of the English Bankruptcy Rules, 1886. (Ibid.). Q

(c) Where there was no one in control, substituted service was ordered. Shillito v. Child, W.N. 88 (208). R

(3) Receiver and Manager.

Service on a—appointed by the Court was held to be bad. Re Flowers and Co., 65 L.J.Q.B. 679. S

5.—“ And such service shall be deemed good service upon the firm so sued.”

(1) Affidavit of service.

The—must closely follow the terms of this rule. Annual Practice (1908) Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A. r. 3, Notes—“ Deemed good service upon the firm.” T

(2) Whether service on person in control is service on each member within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 50.

(a) Service on the firm by serving the person in control hereunder is not service upon each member of the firm so as to make such member “a person who has been served as a partner,” etc., within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 50 of the present Code. Re lde, 17 Q.B.D. 755. U

(b) But if the partners appear individually under r. 6 infra, they will each be personally liable. Cf. Alden v. Bechley, 25 Q.B.D. 543. Y

6.—“ Whether all or any of the partners are within or without British India.”

Whether any of the members are out of the jurisdiction or not.

The words—mean, according to the English rule, that the service shall be good service on the firm so far as concerns any property of the firm within the jurisdiction, but not so as to otherwise “render liable, release, or otherwise affect” any partner out of the jurisdiction at the time the writ was issued, unless he has appeared or been made a party under O. XI of the English rules. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 3 notes. W

7.—“ Provided that, in the case of a partnership...whom it is sought to make liable.”

(1) Proviso.

(a) The above proviso was formerly contained in O. XVI, r. 14 (now r. 1) of the English rules, and its effect is defined in. Wigram v. Cox and Co., (1894) 1 Q.B. 792. X

7—“ Provided that, in the case of a partnership..whom it is sought to make liable.”—(Concluded).

(b) If there has been a dissolution, to the knowledge of the plaintiff, he cannot make an outgoing partner liable, unless he serves the writ of summons upon him. If he omits to do this, and on proof of service on the firm takes judgment in default against the firm, and then applies under O. XXI, r. 50, for leave to issue execution against the partner who has left the firm, on the ground that he was a partner when the debt was contracted, the Court will refuse to order execution against such partner, because he was not made liable by being served with the writ. Annual Practice notes to r. 3, O. XLVIII-A. See Davis v. Morris, 10 Q.B.D. 486. Y

(c) But where the firm was dissolved voluntarily by consent order of the C.D., and the partnership assets were in the hands of a receiver, it was held that a judgment in K.B. against the firm obtained without knowledge of the chancery proceedings could be enforced by charging order against those assets, though some partners had not been served with the writ (Brand v. Sandground, 85 L.T. 517). Z

(2) Outgoing partners, non-liability of—Dissolution of partnership.

As to the non-liability of outgoing partners for debts contracted subsequent to dissolution, see Re Fraser, (1892) 2 Q.B. 638. A

4. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 45 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, (IX of 1872), where two or more persons may sue or be sued in the name of a firm under the foregoing provisions and any of such persons dies, whether before the institution or during the pendency of any suit, it shall not be necessary to join the legal representative of the deceased as a party to the suit.

Right of suit on death of partner.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall limit or otherwise affect any right which the legal representative of the deceased may have—

(a) to apply to be made a party to the suit, or

(b) to enforce any claim against the survivor or survivors.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

Indian Contract Act, 1872, S. 45.

—provides thus :—When a person has made a promise to two or more others jointly, then, unless a contrary intention appears from the contract, the right to claim performance rests, as between him and them, with them during their joint lives, and after the death of any of them, with the representatives of such deceased person jointly with the survivor or survivors, and after the death of the last survivor, with the representatives all jointly.

O.XLVIII-A
r. 4.

5. Where a summons is issued to a firm and is served in the manner provided by rule 3, every person upon whom it is served shall be informed by notice in writing given at the time of such service¹, whether he is served as a partner or as a person having the control or management of the partnership business, or in both characters, and, in default of such notice, the person served shall be deemed to be served as a partner².

Notice in what capacity served.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 4 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

The clause "where a writ is issued against a firm" has been changed into "where a summons is issued to a firm," while the phrase "as directed by r. 3" is changed into "in the manner provided by r. 3."

1.—"Shall be informed by notice in writing given at the time of such service."

(1) Effect of service or non-service of notice on person in control or partner.

If service is effected on the person in control of the business and no notice is served as herein provided, the service is not effective, and cannot be made so. If service is effected on a partner, he may be served with the writ with or without a notice, for if served without, he is deemed to be served as a partner. But if the person in control is served without a notice, that cannot be treated as service on a partner, unless the deponent to the affidavit of service, if he subsequently discovers that the person served was a partner, can swear that he served A.B, a partner in the defendant firm. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 4, Note—"Shall be informed."

(2) Notice—How served.

(a) The notice, when served, must be served with the writ in accordance with the rule. The usual practice is for the person effecting service to take a written notice with him headed in the name of the action and being to the following effect:—"Take notice that the writ served herewith is served on you, as the person having the management or control of the partnership business of (A.B. & Co.)." Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 4, Notes—"Shall be informed."

C

(b) Where a partner is served, such notice is not delivered with the copy writ; but where the person in control of the business is served on behalf of the firm, it is delivered to him with the copy writ. (Ibid.)

D

(c) The notice need not, and indeed, under the circumstances cannot, be addressed to any one by name. Where any difficulty is anticipated in identifying the person served either as a partner or as the person in control of the business, the best course is, in any case, to serve with the writ the following notice:—"Take notice that the writ served herewith is served on you as a partner in the defendant firm of (A.B. & Co.), and also as the person in control of the business." This practice is authorized by the words of the rule "or in both characters." (Ibid.)

E

2.—“And, in default of such notice, the person served shall be deemed to be served as a partner.”

(1) Deemed to be served as a partner.

(a) The words—obviate the necessity of serving any notice on a person who is served as a partner, but they render such notice and proof of service thereof absolutely necessary, wherever the firm is served by service on the person in control of the business. If, in such a case, the notice is not served with the writ, or if the person served is served as a partner by notice, such person will be able to protect himself from liability as a partner by entering appearance under protest, denying that he is a partner. See r. 8, infra. F

(b) The effect of such an appearance is merely to nullify the service altogether as regards the defendant firm. See r. 8, infra. G

(c) If a person served as a partner appears under protest under r. 6, and the plaintiff desires to contest his denial of partnership, he, according to the English Practice, can apply by summons to strike out the appearance entered, on the ground that the party appearing is a partner in the firm sued, or was a partner at the time the cause of action accrued, or in the alternative to strike out of such appearance the denial of partnership. If necessary, an issue may be directed to determine the question of partnership. Annual Practice, Notes to O. XLVIII-A, r. 4—“Deemed to be served as a partner.” See, also, O. XXXVI, r. 4; O. XXXIII, r. 1 of the English rules. Davis v. Morris, 10 Q.B.D. 436; Worcester Banking Company v. Trotter, 8 Times Rep. 709, or the plaintiff may disregard the appearance under protest, and serve the writ again as provided by r. 3, and having obtained judgment against the firm, he may apply under O. XXI, r. 50, for leave to issue execution against the person appearing under protest, if he alleges him to be a partner. (Ibid). H

(2) Person served both as partner and manager.

Where a person is served both as a partner and as the person in control of the business by delivery with the writ of a notice to that effect, and such person appears with denial of partnership, and no one appears as a partner, the plaintiff is entitled, notwithstanding such appearance, to take judgment in default against the firm on proof that the person served was also served in the capacity of manager. Such judgment, however, only entitles the plaintiff to issue execution against the firm, unless otherwise ordered under O. XXI, r. 50. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I. O. XLVIII-A, r. 4, Notes—“Person served both as partner and manager.” I

6. Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm¹, they shall appear individually in their own names², but all subsequent proceedings shall, nevertheless, continue in the name of the firm³.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 5 of the English rules.

1.—“Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm.”

(1) Persons sued as partners in the name of their firm.

The term—means, according to the English rules, persons carrying on business within the jurisdiction. See notes to r. 1, supra, “Carrying on business.” J

(2) Person claiming to be partner—Firm sued in firm's name.

Where a firm is sued in the firm name, a person claiming to be a partner may appear under r. 6 if he describes himself as a partner, irrespective of the fact that his claim to be a partner is disputed. Annual Practice, Notes to O. XLVIII-A, r. 5. (Robinson v. Ward and Son, 36 Sol. Jo. 415.) K

2.—“They shall appear individually in their own names.”

(1) Appearance taken as admission of partnership.

An appearance hereunder protest is taken as an admission of partnership. See O. XXI, r. 50. L

(2) Appearance, partner's right to.

A firm cannot appear in the firm name, but the partners must appear in their own names, and must describe themselves as partners. Any partner has a right to appear as such, either with or without his co-partners. Annual Practice, O. XLVIII-A, r. 5, Notes—“They shall appear individually.” M

(3) Appearance in individual names.

Where an action is brought in King's Bench Division against the owners of a ship as such, i.e., are sued as “owners of S. S.—,” they should appear in their individual names in the same manner as partners in a firm under this rule. Where, in such a case, the appearance was entered for “owners of” etc, Walton, J., in Chambers, (12th July 1907) ordered the appearance to be amended by stating the names of the owners. See Annual Practice, O. XLVIII-A, r. 5, Notes—“Owners of a ship.” N

(4) Appearance—What it must state.

No appearance will be received which does not clearly state that the person either (a) is a partner, (b) or was a partner at the time the alleged cause of action accrued, (c) or has been served as a partner but denies that he is a partner in the firm sued, or (d) has been served as a partner but denies that he was a partner in the firm at the time the alleged cause of action accrued. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 5, Notes—“They shall appear individually.” O

(5) Compromise by partner.

As to the power of one partner to make a compromise on behalf of the firm, cf. Niemann v. N., 43 C.D. 198. P

(6) Defence, form of—Separate defences.

(a) Each partner is entitled to put in a defence if there is disagreement, but the form must be “Defence of the defendant firm by A.B. a partner.” [Ellis v. Wadson, (1899) 1 Q.B. 714, Taylor v. Collier, 51 L.J. Ch. 853; see, also, Jackson v. Litchfield, 8 Q.B.D. 474 C.A.; Adam v. Townsend, 14 Q.B.D. 103; Weall v. James, 68 L.T. 54]. Q

(b) An appearance by one out of several partners sued in the name of the firm is an appearance on behalf of the firm, and is sufficient to ground proceedings under O. XIV of the English rules. [Lysaght v. Clark, (1891) 1 Q.B.D. p. 556]. R

2.—“They shall appear individually in their own names.”—(Concluded).

(7) Defence of one of several partners—Effect.

Any one out of several partners sued as a firm may appear and defend, and his appearance is a bar to judgment against the firm or any of its members. Annual Practice, Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 5, Notes—“Defence of one of several partners.” S

(8) Who has the right to appear.

No one but a partner, and a person served as a partner who denies that he is a partner, or that he was a partner at the time the cause of action accrued, has any right to appear. See r. 7 of this Order. T

(9) Managing partner's authority to solicit or to defend action against firm.

A—is a good authority to enter appearance for all the partners in the firm. [Tomlinson v. Broadsmith, (1896) 1 Q.B. 386]. See, also, Ellis v. Wadson, (1899) 1 Q.B. 714. U

(10) No personal judgment or personal defence against individual partner.

(a) No personal judgment can be entered against any individual partner, nor can any one partner out of several put in a personal defence, unless he is sued personally along with the firm. Taylor v. Collier, 30 W.R. (Eng.), 701. Y

(b) The only judgment which can be entered in such an action must necessarily be against the firm in the firm's name. (Ibid). W

3.—“All subsequent proceedings shall continue in the name of the firm.”

Subsequent proceedings.

(a) In every action against the partners sued in the firm name, every subsequent proceeding must be headed with the firm name as defendants. The judgment must be against the firm, in the firm name. The only exception is where the defendant firm contains an infant partner, when judgment should be against the firm “other than A. B. an infant.” See notes to r. 1, supra, “Infant partner.” X

(b) Where an action against a firm was wrongly continued against an individual who appeared as a partner and a consent judgment taken against him, it was held that the Court could not by amendment or otherwise allow the judgment to be converted into one against the firm. (Munster v. Cox, 10 App. Cas. 680. Y

(c) “The rule at Common Law is that the judgment must follow or accord with the writ. Under the Judicature Act and its orders, the writ may be against the firm. . . . The writ being against the firm, the judgment must be against the firm.” (per Brett, L.J., Jackson v. Litchfield), 8 Q.B.D. 478. Z

(d) The Partnership Act, 1890, S. 23, provides that “a writ of execution shall not issue against partnership property except on a judgment against the firm.” Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XLVIII-A, r. 5, Notes—“All subsequent proceedings shall continue in the name of the firm.” A

7. Where a summons is served in the manner provided by O. XLVIII rule 3 upon a person having the control or management of the partnership business, no appearance by him shall be necessary unless he is a partner r. 6.

No appearance except by partners.

of the firm sued¹.

(Notes).(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 6 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

For the words "a writ," the words "a summons" are substituted, while for the words "a member," the words "a partner" are substituted.

1.—"No appearance by him shall be necessary unless he is a partner of the firm sued."

Unless he is a member of the firm.

An appearance tendered by a person describing himself as the person in control of the business is refused at the central office. If such person is served as a partner, he can appear and deny partnership. See next rule. B

O. XLVIII-A
r. 7.

8. Any person served with summons as a partner under rule 3 may appear under protest¹, denying that he is a partner, but such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff from otherwise serving a summons on the firm and obtaining a decree against the firm in default of appearance where no partner has appeared².

Appearance under protest.

(Notes).(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 7 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

The words "with summons" are newly added after "any person served," while the words "a summons on" are also newly added after "serving." The words "a decree" are substituted for "judgment," while the clause "where no partner has appeared" is substituted for "if no partner has entered an appearance in the ordinary form."

1.—"Any person served as a partner under r. 3 may enter an appearance under protest."

(1) Appearance under protest, form of.

The appearance is entered without leave in the following form:—For A.B. having been served as a partner, but who denies that he is a partner in the defendant firm of, etc., or "who denies that he was a partner in the defendant firm at the time the cause of action accrued." Annual Practice, Notes to O. XLVIII-A, r. 7. C

(2) Person denying partnership—Appearance.

Before the English rules (O. XLVIII-A) were passed, it was held that a person denying partnership had no right to appear. Davis v. Andre, 24 Q.B.D. 598. This decision is now overruled by this rule. D

2.—"Such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff from otherwisesummons on the firm.....in default of appearance..... where no partner has appeared."

Such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff.

The words—entitle the plaintiff to disregard the appearance under protest altogether, and proceed as if the writ had not been served, i.e., by "otherwise serving the firm." If the person served was served both as partner and as the person in control of the business, the appearance with denial of partnership is no bar to judgment in default against the firm based upon the service on the person in control. After judgment, if the person appearing under protest with denial of partnership is in fact a partner, the plaintiff may apply for leave to issue execution against his private goods under O. Suits between co- firms having one or more partners in common ; partners. but no execution shall be issued in such suits except by leave of the Court, and, on an application for leave to issue such execution¹, all such accounts and inquiries may be directed to be taken and made and directions given as may be just.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 10 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

The words “the above rules” are replaced herein by the words “this order,” while the word “action” is replaced by “suit” throughout this rule. The word “member” is also replaced by “partner.” The provisional clause, viz., “provided such firm or firms carry on business within the jurisdiction,” are omitted. The words “a Judge” appearing after “the Court” are also omitted.

1.—“On an application for leave to issue such execution.”

(1) Application.

—for leave to issue execution under this rule is made in England by summons. Annual Practice, Notes to O. XLVIII-A, r. 10. F

(2) Execution.

For—, see notes to O. XXI, r. 50, supra.

(8) Partners, actions between.

For—, see notes to r. 1, supra.

10. Any person carrying on business in a name or style other O. XLVI than his own name¹ may be sued in such name r. 1 or style as if it were a firm name²; and, so far as the nature of the case will permit, all rules under this Order shall apply.
Suit against person carrying on business in name other than his own.

(Notes).

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to O. XLVIII-A, r. 11 of the English rules.

Distinction between this rule and the English rule.

The words "within the jurisdiction" are omitted, while the words "relating to proceedings against firms" are replaced by "under this Order."

(General).

Application of the rule.

(a) The English Rule does not apply :—

(1) To a foreigner trading as a firm, who resides out of the jurisdiction and has a branch office in England. St. Gobain v. Hoyerermann's Agency, (1893) 2 Q.B. 96. G

(2) Or to a domiciled Scotsman, who has a place of business in England, who must be sued under O. XI of the English rules and served personally. MacIver v. Burns, (1895) 2 Ch. 680.

(3) Or to a newspaper, sued in the name of the paper as if it were a trading name. (De Bernales v. New York Herald, 68 L.T. 658) in which it was held that the name "New York Herald" was the name of the thing sold and not the proprietor's trading name. I

(b) By the concluding words of this rule, all the foregoing rules of this Order are to apply to an individual sued, who trades within the jurisdiction as a firm, or who carries on business under an assumed or trading name. But the rule applies to a single individual residing and trading within the jurisdiction in a name other than his own name, whether it purports to be the name of a firm or not. J

(c) If the trading name is apparently the name of an individual (e.g., if William Smith is carrying on a business under the name of Richard Smith), the plaintiff, if he is aware of it, should add to the defendant's name in the title to the writ, the words "(a trading name)." Annual Practice, O. XLVIII-A, r. 11, Notes—"Any person." K

1.—"Any person carrying on business...name or style...his own name."(1) Appearance.

For—and its effect, see r. 6, supra, and O. XXI, r. 50. L

(2) Carrying on business.

The ruling as laid down in the case of foreign firms, viz., that they cannot be sued in the firm name, applies also to a single foreigner trading in a name or style other than his own name. He cannot be sued in his trading name even though he has a branch office in this country. [St. Gobain v. Hoyerermann's Agency, (1893) 2 Q.B. 96.] See also notes to r. 1, supra—"Carrying on business" and "Foreign firms." M

(3) Service.

(a) The writ may be served as provided by r. 3, supra, q.v., but not in England if the defendant is resident out of the jurisdiction. St. Gobain v. Hoyerermann's Agency, (1893) 2 Q.B. 96. N

(b) For a case where substituted—was ordered, when a single individual trading as a firm could not be served and there was no responsible person in charge of the business, see Shillito v. Child, W.N. 83, 208; Croydon and Co. v. Jackson, 3 Times Rep. 650.

2.—“ May be sued in such name or style as if it were a firm name.”

May be sued.

For cases under——, see notes to r. 1, supra, under the heading, “ May sue or be sued in the name of the firm, if any.” P

ORDER XXXI.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST TRUSTEES, EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS..

1. In all suits concerning property vested in a trustee, executor or administrator, where the contention is between the persons beneficially interested in such property and a third person¹, the trustee, executor or administrator shall represent the persons so interested², and it shall not ordinarily be necessary to make them parties to the suit³. But the Court may, if it thinks fit, order them or any of them to be made parties⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 487 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word “ where ” stands for “ when ” before the words “ the contention.”
The word “ such ” is omitted before “ parties ” at the end of this rule.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds also to O. XVI, r. 8 of the English rules, which runs as follows :—

“ Trustees, executors, and administrators may sue and be sued on behalf of or as representing the property or estate of which they are trustees or representatives, without joining any of the persons beneficially interested in the trust or estate and shall be considered as representing such persons ; but the Court or a Judge may, at any stage of the proceedings, order any of such persons to be made parties either in addition to or in lieu of the previously existing parties.” Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, O. XVI, r. 8.

(General).

(1) Application of the rule.

(a) The rule apparently has no application where the contention is between beneficiaries and trustees, or between the beneficiaries themselves, although, where the rule applies, the beneficiaries need not ordinarily be made parties. But the Court may, if it thinks fit, make such beneficiaries parties. See the rule. Q

(b) The rule governs all suits concerning property without distinction. Annual Practice, Notes to O. XVI, r. 8. R:

General—(Concluded).(2) Duty of trustee.

It is the duty of the trustee to maintain the customary usage of the institution, and if he fails to do so, he is guilty of a breach of trust, and still more so, if he deliberately attempts to effect a vital change of usage and to make it binding on the worshippers of a temple by obtaining a decree of the Court to establish it. 12 C.W.N. 946; 3 Meridale 353= 17 Revised Reports 101, F. S

(3) Limitation Act, S. 22—Suit by executor—Beneficiaries' names subsequently added.

(a) Where a suit for recovery of possession was brought by an executor, and the names of the beneficiaries, who took possession during the pendency of the suit, were subsequently substituted as plaintiffs, it was held that no new plaintiffs were substituted within S. 22 of the Limitation Act. 7 C.W.N. 817. T

(b) The substitution of the names of the plaintiffs did not make the suit a new suit. (Ibid.) U

(4) Trustee surrendering decree on appeal—Power of Court to join beneficiaries as co-plaintiffs.

(a) Where the hereditary trustee of a temple, after a decree had been made in his favour as representing the worshippers at the temple, and pending an appeal by the shanars, sought to enter into a compromise with them by admitting their right to worship in the temple contrary to the decision of the Court, and this was proved to have been done by the trustee out of a corrupt motive, it was held that the appellate Court very properly reinforced the cause of the worshippers of the temple by joining certain new plaintiffs. 12 C.W.N. 946. Y

(b) The principles applicable to the case of a trustee who betrays his trust by surrendering a decree were well stated and applied by the High Court. 12 C.W.N. 946; L.R. 3 Eq. 368, F. W

1.—“Where the contention is between persons beneficially interested and a third person.”Beneficially interested.

Persons acting as trustees in succession under a will were held to adequately represent all persons beneficially interested in the estate in all suits relating to it. Ardesir v. Hirabai, 8 B. 474 (1884). X

2.—“The trustee....shall represent the persons so interested.”Representation by trustees.

(a) A beneficiary is generally taken to be sufficiently represented by his trustees; but this does not hold good where the contest is between beneficiaries themselves. 4 Bom. L.R. 857 at p. 863. Y

(b) Trustees sufficiently represent an unascertained or unascertainable class or persons. Fussell v. Dowding, 27 Ch. D. 240; Re Sheldon, 39 Ch. D. 52. See, also, Cardigan v. Curson Howe, (1901) 2 Ch. 435. Z

(c) Trustees sufficiently represent the estate. Goodrich v. Marsh, W. N. 78, 186; Simpson v. Denny, 10 C.D. 28; Stace v. Gage, 8 C.D. 451; Annual Practice, Notes to O. XVI, r. 8. A

2.—“The trustee....shall represent the persons so interested.”—(Concluded).

- (d) Trustees of an equity of redemption sufficiently represent the cestui qui trust in a redemption suit, no direction to the contrary having been given by the Court. (Jennings v. Jordan, 6 App. Cas. 698). B
- (e) Trustees and executors of a mortgagor sufficiently represent his estate. Re Booth, 67 L.T. 550; Re Mitchell, 65 L.T. 851. C
- (f) Under the Settled Land Act, trustees represent the children of the tenant for life. Re Brown, 27 C.D. 186. D

3.—“And it shall not ordinarily be necessary to make them parties to the suit.”

Parties to the suit.

- (a) The beneficiaries may be proper parties, but they are not now “necessary” parties. Re Bowden, 45 C.D. 444. E
 - (b) The plaintiff will be safe in not joining them, even if the trustees themselves suggest it. Merry v. Pownall. (1898) 1 Ch. p. 312. F
 - (c) The beneficiaries under a trust can come in a suit, only where there is a trust admitted or proved to exist. But where the factum of the trust itself is in dispute, the beneficiary is not a necessary party. 4 Bom. L.R. 358. G
 - (d) Where a suit was brought against two persons, in the capacity of mutwallis, but one of them who was a minor was not properly served, and no guardian was appointed in his behalf, it was held that mutwallis were trustees, and that the presence of all of them was necessary. 12 C.W. N. 160=35 C. 182. H
 - (e) A beneficial owner is not a necessary party to a proceeding for setting aside an execution-sale. The Court can set aside the sale conclusively against the beneficial owner, although his benamidar only is a party to the proceeding. 29 C. 682=6 C.W.N. 706. I
 - (f) Where, in a suit on a mortgage executed by a deceased person, only the executor of the will of the deceased was made a party, and a preliminary order for foreclosure was passed, and after such order the son of the deceased applied to be made a party, the Court refused to make him a party. 6 C.W.N. 488. J
 - (g) Where an action is brought by a stranger or a person interested in respect of the estate represented by the trustees, the trustees represent the estate, and as a general rule all the acting trustees should be joined. cf. D. C. P. pp. 212, 218, O. LV, r. 5, “B.” Trustee Act, 1893, S. 43. Annual Practice, 1908, notes to O. XVI, r. 8. K
 - (h) But the cestui qui trust are not to be joined, unless the Court thinks they ought to be so. See O. LV, rr. 5 (n), 6. Cooper v. Vessey, 20 C. D. 635. (Ibid). L
 - (i) One cestui qui trust may, without joining the others, sue the trustees for production of title-deeds. Re Cowin, 33 C.D. 179. M
 - (j) Where a cestui qui trust brought an action against strangers and the trustees of a debt due to the trust estate, it was ordered that the plaintiff should amend by making all the cestui qui trust parties. Meldrum v. Scorer, 56 L.T. 471; Luke v. South Kensington Hotel Company, 11 C.D. 121; Gandy v. G., 30 C.D. 57. N

4.—“But the Court may, if it thinks fit, order them or any of them to be made parties.”

(1) Court's powers.

- (a) This clause is taken from 15 and 16 Vict. C. 86, S. 42, r. 9, and beneficiaries are made parties in England, when the trustee is either wholly uninterested, or has an interest adverse to their interest. 13 M. 197, 202; L.R. 3 Eq. 368; L.R. 1 Ch. App. 327, R. See, also, 12 M.L.J. 355. P
- (b) Where the Court sees that the trustees are wholly interested in the matter, and there are parties materially interested in the question, the Court never makes a decree in the absence of those parties, who are alone interested in the contest. 12 C.W.N. 946; L.R. 3 Eq. 368, F. Q

(2) Court can add beneficiaries as parties.

- (a) Where there is a question to argue. Wilkins v. Reeves, 3 W.R. (Eng.) 305; Gas Light, etc., Company v. Towse, 35 C.D. p. 526; May v. Newton, 34 C.D. 347. R
- (b) Where the cestui qui trust were accounting parties, and the question was one of accounts, cf. also D.C.P. 173, 188, 190, 207, Annual Practice, (1908), notes to O. XVI, r. 8. S

2. Where there are several trustees, executors or administrators, they shall all be made parties to a suit against one or more of them ¹.
 Joinder of trustees, executors and administrators.

Provided that the executors who have not proved their testator's will, and trustees, executors and administrators outside British India, need not be made parties².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 438 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word “where” stands for “when,” while the word “trustees” is newly inserted. In the proviso, the word “the” is placed before “executors,” while the word “trustees” is newly inserted.

The words “beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court” are replaced by “outside British India.”

(General).

Onus of proof.

If a defendant insists that an executor is a necessary party, it is for him to show that the executor lives within the jurisdiction of the Court, in which the suit is brought. 2 C.L.J. 484. T

1.—“Where....several trustees,....they shall all be made parties to a suit....or more of them.”

All to be parties.

Under S. 438 of the old Code corresponding to this rule, all the several executors must be made parties, subject to the proviso that an executor, living beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, need not be made a party. 2 C.L.J. 484. U

2.—“Provided that the executors not proved their testator's will, and trustees,.....outside British India, need not be made parties.”

Principle of the proviso to this rule.

- (a) The general rule in actions for administration is that all executors who have proved, or all administrators, must be parties, either plaintiff or defendant, though one be an infant. (Latch v. L., L.R. 10 Ch. 464); Re Dracup, W.N. (92) 43, D.C.P. 203, Annual Practice, (1908), O. XVI, r. 8 notes. Y
- (b) Where an executor has not proved, he should not be made a party. Dyson v. Morris, 1 Ha. 413. W
- (c) An executor should not be made a party, unless he has intermeddled with the assets, Re Lovett, 3 C.D. 198; or has acted as an executor. Vickers v. Bell, 4 De.G.J. and S. 274. X
- (d) An executor out of the jurisdiction of the Court, or a renouncing executor, is not a necessary party nor, semble, an absconding executor. (Drage v. Hartopp, 28 C.D. 414). Y, Z

3. Unless the Court directs otherwise, the husband of a married trustee, administratrix or executrix shall not as such be a party to a suit by or against her.

Husband of married executrix not to join.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 439 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word “trustee” is newly inserted after “married,” while the words “as such” also are newly inserted after “shall not.”

ORDER XXXII.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST MINORS AND PERSONS OF UNSOUND MIND.

1. Every suit by a minor shall be instituted¹ in his name by a person who, in such suit, shall be called the next friend of the minor.

Minor to sue by next friend.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 440 of Act XIV of 1882 which is as follows :—

Every suit by a minor shall be instituted in his name by an adult person, who, in such suit, shall be called the next friend of the minor, and may be ordered to pay any costs in the suit as if he were the plaintiff.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) The word “adult” before the word “person” is omitted. The word is unnecessary as, under rule 4 of this Order, nobody except an adult can act as next friend.
- (2) The last portion of the old Act, viz., “and may be ordered...plaintiff” is also omitted.

(General).Cost by next friend.

S. 440 of the old Code did not enjoin every next friend to pay, in every case, the costs of an unsuccessful litigation. There must be a special order under that section enjoining the next friend to pay costs, and, without that, the decree could not be executed against him, so far as costs were concerned. 7 A.W.N. 129. N.B.—The provision relating to costs is omitted in this rule. A, B.

1.—“Shall be instituted.”(1) General.

A minor may, during his minority, institute a suit through a duly qualified guardian. 4 N.W.P. 125. C

(2) Duty of Court.

Absence of any objection by the defendant's pleader does not relieve the Judge from the duty imposed upon him of seeing that the minors are properly represented. 3 Agra Rep. 167. D

(3) Permission to sue.

Although the proper and regular manner of giving permission to sue on behalf of a minor is by a formal order recorded in the order sheet, nevertheless, such sanction may be proved by express words or by implication. 14 C. 159 E

EXAMPLES.

In the following cases absence of a formal order, when the intention of the Court to grant permission was clear, was held to be not a fatal defect:—

(1) A minor, who had a certificated guardian, instituted a suit through a next friend other than the guardian. On the application of the next friend, notice was sent to the certificated guardian, but he showed no cause and the suit continued. 31 A. 7. F

(2) In a suit by a minor through a next friend to set aside a sale by a certificated guardian, notice was issued to the latter but he showed no cause. Without recording a formal order, the Court allowed the next friend to proceed. 5 A.L.J. 633. G

(3) Where an uncle instituted a suit on behalf of a minor without obtaining formal permission of the Court, and the defendant denied the uncle's right to sue, and the Court, after framing an issue on the point, decided that he had such right. 4 A. 1. H

(4) Suit in Mamlatdar's Court.

A minor may sue and be sued in the Mamlatdar's Court by his next friend or guardian ad litem, though no provision is made in the Mamlatdar's Courts Act (III of 1876). 21 B. 88; 24 B. 238. I

(5) Suit through next friend by person not really a minor.

Where a suit is instituted by a person, alleging himself to be a minor, through a next friend, when, in fact, on the date of the institution of the suit, he was not a minor, the suit should not be dismissed as the defendant can be fully indemnified by the payment of his costs. The proper course is for the defendant to apply to have the plaint taken off the file or amended, and if it be not amended, the next friend's name may be treated as mere surplusage, and the suit allowed to proceed. 21 C. 866. See, also, 23 C. 686; see contra 20 A. 90. J

2. (1) Where a suit is instituted by, or on behalf of, a minor without a next friend¹, the defendant may apply to have the plaint taken off the file, with costs to be paid by the pleader or other person by whom it was presented.

Where suit is instituted without next friend, plaint to be taken off the file.

(2) Notice of such application shall be given to such person, and the Court, after hearing his objections (if any), may make such order in the matter as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 442 of the old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

Instead of the clause "if a plaint be filed," the clause "where a suit is instituted" is used, and the words "by the defendant" after the word "person" in sub-rule (2) are omitted.

(General).

(1) Rule, when applicable.

This rule refers to a case where the plaint, on the face of it, appears to have been filed by a person who was a minor. 13 C. 189. K

(2) Incompetency to sue may be pleaded orally.

Incompetency to sue is a defect not admitting of cure or palliation; but that plea, being of a material preliminary nature, and involving the plaintiff's locus standi, is admissible though pleaded orally for the first time. 1 Agra Rep. A.C. 1. L

1.—"Where a suit...by next friend."

(1) Procedure in original Court.

(a) Where a minor sues without a next friend, the Courts, as a rule, strike the plaint off the file, only where it appears, on the face of the plaint, that it was filed by a person under age, or when it is proved that it was filed with the knowledge that the plaintiff was a minor, and with the intention of deceiving the Court and evading the payment of costs in case the plaintiff fails. When the fact of minority is a bona fide question of evidence, and the defendant's allegation is found correct, then the usual course is to suspend all proceedings, and to allow sufficient time to enable the minor to have himself properly represented in the suit by a next friend. 13 B. 7. M

(b) An infant cannot sue except by next friend; and, where an objection is made on the ground of the disability of plaintiff, the suit might be dismissed. 5 M.H.C.R. 485. N

(c) Where a plaintiff was found to be a minor, his suit was not dismissed, but he was directed to appoint a next friend to sue for him. 1 B.L.R. C. 10. O

I.—“ Where a suit.... by next friend.”—(Concluded).

- (d) A suit should not be dismissed by reason of the fact, that the plaint was presented by a person who was a minor at the time. The proper course is to give an opportunity for steps being taken to have a next friend brought upon the record. 11 O.C. 159. See also, 7 O.C. 234; 13 C. 189, 21 C. 866; 23 C. 686; 19 M. 127; 30 C. 1021; 20 A. 162; 20 A. 90. P

(2) Procedure in appellate Court.

- (a) Where, on appeal, the Court was of opinion that certain minors were not properly represented in a suit brought by them, it declared all the proceedings in the suit to be null and void, as far as the minors were concerned, and, allowing the party acting as next friend to withdraw the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, returned the plaint. 11 C. 738. Q
- (b) The mere fact, that one of the plaintiffs was a minor on whose behalf the suit had not been instituted by a next friend, was no ground for reversing the decree of the Court of first instance in favour of all the plaintiffs. The decree of the lower Court must be set aside, and the suit must be restored to the file of that Court for retrial, after appointment of a next friend for the minor. 1 A.W.N. 150. R

Guardian for the suit to be appointed by Court for minor defendant.

3. (1) Where the defendant is a minor¹, the Court, on being satisfied of the fact of his minority, shall appoint a proper person to be guardian² for the suit for such minor.

(2) An order for the appointment of a guardian for the suit may be obtained upon application in the name and on behalf of the minor or by the plaintiff³.

(3) Such application shall be supported by an affidavit⁴ verifying the fact that the proposed guardian has no interest in the matters in controversy in the suit adverse to that of the minor and that he is a fit person to be so appointed.

(4) No order shall be made on any application under this rule except upon notice to the minor and to any guardian of the minor appointed or declared by an authority competent in that behalf, or, where there is no such guardian, upon notice to the father or other natural guardian of the minor, or, where there is no father or other natural guardian, to the person in whose care the minor is, and after hearing any objection which may be urged on behalf of any person served with notice under this sub-rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to the 1st para of S. 443 of Act XIV of 1882, which was as follows :—

Where the defendant to a suit is a minor, the Court, on being satisfied of the fact of his minority, shall appoint a proper person to be guardian for the suit for such minor, to put in the defence for such minor, and generally to act on his behalf in the conduct of the case.

Sub-rules 2 and 3 correspond to the 1st para of S. 456 of Act XIV of 1882. The language of the new Act is the same as that of the old, with the exception that instead of the words "shall" and "controversy" in sub-rule (3) in the new Act, the old Act had "must" and "question" respectively.

Sub-rule 4 is new, and based on S. 443 of the old Act. The object of this new sub-rule is to ensure that notice should reach one interested in the minor's welfare.

GENERAL.

I.—Decree against minor not properly represented.

(1) Effect of such decree.

- (a) The provisions of rules 3 and 4 as to the appointment of a guardian ad litem are imperative, and where those provisions are not substantially complied with, the minor is not properly represented and any decree which may be passed against him is a nullity. A.W.N. (1905), 229. S
- (b) A decree obtained against a minor, and his property represented by an unauthorised guardian, may be set aside by a lawful guardian without imputation of fraud or collusion; and such decree will have no effect as against the minor and his property. 1 Agra Rep.A.C. 175. T
- (c) A minor can bring a suit to set aside a decree passed against him in a suit where he was represented by his guardian, only in cases where fraud or negligence is proved on the part of the guardian. 24 B. 547. See, also, 22 C. 8; 19 B. 571. U
- (d) (i) The omission by the guardian ad litem to appeal on behalf of the minor from a decree passed against him, notwithstanding that there were excellent grounds, both in law and on the facts, for an appeal amounted to gross negligence on the part of the guardian, and it would be contrary to law and equity to hold the minor bound by the decree. 35 P.R. 1808. V
- (ii) If the omission by a guardian to plead a defence is fraudulent or amounts to gross misconduct, the decree may be avoided. 6 C.L.J. 448. See, also, 8 C.L.R. 17. W
- (iii) If there has been gross negligence on the part of a next friend in the conduct of a suit, the decree may be successfully impeached by the infant. 6 C.L.J. 448. See 22 C. 8. X
- (iv) The test is, whether the inaction of the guardian amounted to neglect of duty, or was in the best interests of the infant. It is not every kind of negligence nor any amount of negligence which would render proceedings, otherwise regular and proper, liable to be opened up. It must be such negligence as leads to the loss of a right, which, if the suit had been conducted or resisted with due care, must have been successfully asserted. 6 C.L.J. 448. See 5 C.W.N. 58. Y
- (v) It is not sufficient for the minor to allege that the suit was not defended by the guardian ad litem; it ought to be alleged and proved that an available good ground of defence was not put forward at the hearing, by the omission of the guardian to appear at the trial. 6 C.L.J. 448. See, also, 12 C. 69; 2 C. 288; 25 W.R. 449. Z

GENERAL—(Continued).

I.—“Decree against minor not properly represented—(Concluded).”

- (e) Where certain minor defendants were represented by their mother and guardian, in the original suit as also in the review petition, and the petition for review was discharged with the express direction that the applicant's proper remedy was by way of suit and not by way of review, a suit by minors through a new next friend, their mother and former guardian ad litem being impleaded as a defendant, lies to set aside the decree on grounds other than that of fraud. 8 C.L.J. 266. But see 2 C.L.J. 508. A

(2) Evidence.

Where a minor challenges the validity of a decree passed against him, he must establish, either that he was not properly represented in the suit, or that the guardian ad litem appointed by the Court was guilty of gross negligence in the conduct of that suit. 10 O.C. 321. B

(3) Effect of decree where properly represented.

As a general rule, if a minor is properly represented in a suit or proceeding by a next friend or guardian ad litem and there is no fraud, collusion, or gross negligence, on the part of the next friend or guardian, the minor is as much bound by the decree or order passed in such suit or proceeding, whether it was for his benefit or not, as if he were of full age. 11 O.C. 319. C

(4) How decree against minor can be set aside.

- (a) Where a decree is passed by the Court, upon an adjudication of the merits of the case, no separate suit will lie to set aside such decree except when the decree is impugned on the ground of fraud, the only remedy of the minor being by an application for review. 34 C. 88. See, also, 8 C.L.J. 266. D
- (b) Where the Court comes to no decision on merits, but a decree is passed simply upon compromise, a suit will lie to set aside the decree upon grounds other than fraud. 34 C. 83. See, also, 8 C.L.J. 266. E

(5) Duty of Court.

- (a) For the purpose of finding out whether a guardian was guilty of laches or fraud in previous proceedings, the Court has power to go into them and to form its own conclusions regarding them. 35 P.R. 1398. F
- (b) In a suit by certain minors to set aside a decree passed against them impugning the bona fides of the guardian ad litem in the suit in which the decree was passed, the Court was not justified in refusing to go into the question, whether the transaction impeached by the minors could be upheld against them, subject to any defence by the defendants not based upon the mere form of the suit. 72 P.R. 1887 G

II.—Appointment of guardian after limitation.

- (a) Where the appeal was filed within time, but the guardian ad litem of the defendant-respondent was not made a party to the appeal, until after the period of limitation for filing such appeal had expired, the appeal was not for this reason time barred. A.W.N. (1907), 290=3 M.L.T. 58. See, also, 4 A. 37. H

GENERAL—(Concluded).

II.—Appointment of guardian after limitation—(Concluded).

- (b) When an application for the appointment of a guardian ad litem is made within reasonable time after filing the plaint, the suit is not to be held barred by limitation, owing to the application having been made at the time when the suit was barred, provided the plaint was filed within the limitation period. 31 P.L.R. 1901. See, also, 18 P.R. 1901.I
- (c) The Code does not lay down a rule that the application, for appointment of a guardian ad litem to a minor defendant, shall be filed with the plaint and form part thereof. A suit against a minor must, therefore, be deemed to be instituted when the plaint was filed, and not when the application for the appointment of guardian ad litem was made. 31 P. L.R. 1901. See 4 A. 37 ; 18 P.R. 1901. J

III.—Duration of guardian's authority.

- (a) A guardian ad litem duly appointed in a suit against a minor is not functus officio on a decree being passed in the suit in which he was appointed. He holds office until removed by death or the act of the Court. 115 P.R. 1885. K
- (b) As the authority of a guardian ad litem does not cease with the passing of the decree, all applications on behalf of the minor, arising out of, or connected with, the suit, e.g., an application for review of judgment, must be made by the constituted guardian. 115 P.R. 1885. L

IV.—Service of summons on minor defendants.

Rules 11 and 13 of Order V are controlled by these rules and do not apply to a case where some of the defendants are minors ; but, even assuming that those rules would apply, it was held that there was no proper service of summons, either personal or substituted, upon the minors under either of those rules, where no guardian ad litem was appointed, and there was no personal service on the minors or upon any guardian ad litem, but summons was affixed to the place of business of the firm of which the minors were partners. 26 C. 267. M

V. -Position of guardian ad litem.

The position of a guardian ad litem of a minor being that of a trustee, he is bound strictly to act in the interests of the minor, and he has not the liberty, as long as he retains his position, of abandoning the case as he would have were it his own, unless such abandonment is clearly in the interests of the minor. 35 P.R. 1898. N

1—"Where defendant is a minor."

Minority pleaded as defence—Procedure.

- (a) When minority is pleaded as defence to an action, a guardian should be appointed for the defendant for an enquiry under r. 3 and a preliminary issue should be framed and tried as to whether defendant is or is not a minor. 16 M. 344. O
- (b) If the defendant is found to be a minor, a guardian for the suit should be appointed for him ; but if he is found not to be a minor, the guardian appointed for enquiry under r. 3 should cease to act, the defendant conducting his own case. 2 M. L.J. 215. P

2.—“Shall appoint a proper person to be guardian.”

(1) Appeal.

An order appointing a guardian ad litem to a minor, where the litigation affects the property of the minor and there exists a duly constituted guardian of the property, is an appealable order. 11 A.W.N. 42. Q

(2) Notice is not appointment.

(a) Mere notice to a person of the proposal to appoint him as guardian ad litem, when he does not appear, is not sufficient appointment. 24 A. 253=22 A.W.N. 76. R

(b) Where there has been no appointment of a guardian ad litem to certain minor defendants in the manner prescribed (mere notice of the proposal to appoint being quite insufficient), the minors were entitled to have the decree set aside as against them. 24 A. 388=1902 A.W.N. 76; see, also, 14 C. 204 and 6 C.L.R. 69. S

(3) Effect of not appointing proper guardian.

(a) This rule is imperative; where a proper guardian ad litem is not appointed, the decree will not be binding on the minor, e.g., where the certificated guardian of a minor mortgaged the minor's house as his own, and in a suit by the mortgagee had the minor brought on record with himself as guardian, and allowed a decree to be passed by default, the decree was a mere nullity as regards the minor. 28 A. 137=1905 A.W.N. 237=2 A.L.J. 615; see, also, 9 C.W.N. 201 (P.C.)=2 A.L.J. 71=32 I.A. 23=7 Bom. L.R. 1. But see 30 C. 1021. T

(b) Where no guardian ad litem had been appointed by the Court for a minor defendant, but the uncle of the minor, who was also a defendant, confessed judgment for the minor defendant also, a decree passed upon such confession will not bind the minor. 17 P.R. 1899. U

(4) Proper guardian.

A minor is properly represented in a suit by a guardian, who is appointed by a Court, after satisfying itself that the latter has no interest in the matter in question, adverse to that of the minor, and that he is fit to be appointed. 1 A.L.J. 130. Y

(5) Proper appointment—though no formal order.

(a) A defect in following the procedure prescribed by this rule is not necessarily fatal to the proceedings. Where in a suit against the minors, the minors are represented by their mother, though no formal order appointing her guardian is drawn up, and no attempt is made to serve the summons upon the minors personally or upon their mother, a purdanashin lady, before serving it upon the only adult male member and the karta of the family, these defects in procedure, if they have not prejudiced the minors in any way, are mere irregularities, and would not have furnished grounds for reversing the proceedings in the former suit, if they had been raised in appeal in that suit, and much less by a fresh suit. 5 Bom. L.R. 822; see, also, 7 C.W.N. 774; 30 C. 1021; 30 I.A. 182. W

(b) The want of a formal order appointing a guardian ad litem was not fatal to the suit, when it appeared on the face of the proceedings that the Court had sanctioned the appointment. 14 C. 204. See, also, 26 C. 267. W 1

2.—“Shall appoint a proper person to be guardian.”—(Concluded).

- (c) Where the mother of a minor is allowed by the Court to act for her son, it is a fair inference that she was appointed guardian by the Court, even though there is no formal order in the record so appointing her. 8 C.L.J. 31. X

(6) No proper appointment—no formal order.

- (a) It cannot be presumed, from the mere fact that the Court referred the case to arbitration on the representation of one of the defendants, that the Court gave permission to that defendant to represent the remaining minor defendants, as such permission must be formally recorded by the Judge, it being an act of judicial discretion which is necessarily open to appeal. 100 P.R. 1882. But see 166 P.R. 1889 and 67 P.R. 1897. Y
- (b) Where no order constituting the mother of a minor defendant guardian ad litem was passed by the Court, but the mother after filing a written statement on behalf of the minor, did not enter appearance afterwards and the case was decreed ex parte, and an appeal on the minor's behalf by a person said to be a relation of the defendant was also rejected, held, the minor was not properly represented, and he was not bound by the decree. 4 P.L.R. 1901. Z
- (c) Where one of three defendants agreed to refer a case to arbitration in the name of all, the remaining defendants being his minor nephews, and the Court, without passing an order appointing him guardian ad litem, or expressly recognising him as such guardian, referred the case to the arbitrators named in the agreement, the minors were not bound by the reference to arbitration, as it was the duty of the Court to appoint a guardian ad litem on behalf of the minor defendants, when the fact that they were minors was brought to its notice. 100 P.R. 1882. A

3.—“An order for the appointment..by the plaintiff.”

Duty of Court—Notice to appoint.

- (a) The fact that an order appointing a guardian ad litem, at the instance of the plaintiff was made ex parte, was not necessarily fatal to the suit, unless it could be shown that the minor had in any manner been prejudiced thereby. 14 C. 204. B
- (b) Although the appointment of a guardian ad litem is left to the discretion of the Court, it is always desirable that the appointment at the instance of the plaintiff should not be made, unless the minor or his friends and relatives in whose care he may be, failed to move the Court for that purpose, within a reasonable time after receiving notice of the institution of the suit. 14 C. 204. C

4.—“Shall be supported by an affidavit.”

Before appointing a guardian ad litem to a minor, it is the duty of the Court to see that the provisions of the Code relating to the appointment of the guardian are duly complied with. There must, in such cases, be an affidavit verifying the fact, that the proposed guardian has no interest adverse to the minor, and is a fit person to be appointed. Where there has been no such enquiry at all as to the fitness of the guardian, his appointment is not good in law, and the minor cannot be said to be properly represented, and the decree, if any, passed against the minor in such a suit is not binding on him. 10 O.C. 321; see, also, 9 A. 340; 25 A. 59; 9 O.C. 97; 12 B. 18; A.W.N. (1894), 141; 16 I.A. 195; 28 A. 137; 23 A. 459; 18 A. 373; 23 B. 287; 11 B. 130; 24 A. 388; 22 C. 8; 30 C. 1021; 5 O.C. 197; 33 I.A. 128. D

4.—“ Shall be supported by an affidavit.”—(Concluded).

4. (1) Any person who is of sound mind and has attained majority ¹ may act as next friend of a minor or as his guardian for the suit :

Who may act as next friend or be appointed guardian for the suit.

Provided that the interest of such person is not adverse to that of the minor ² and that he is not, in the case of a next friend, a defendant, or, in the case of a guardian for the suit, a plaintiff.

(2) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority ³, no person other than such guardian shall act as the next friend of the minor or be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the Court considers, for reasons to be recorded, that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be permitted to act or be appointed, as the case may be.

(3) No person shall without his consent be appointed guardian for the suit ⁴.

(4) Where there is no other person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers to be such guardian ⁵, and may direct that the costs to be incurred by such officer in the performance of his duties as such guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit, or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested, and may give directions for the repayment or allowance of such costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

(N o t e s).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to Ss. 445 and 457 of Act XIV of 1882.

Any person being of sound mind and full age may act as next friend of a minor, provided his interest is not adverse to that of such minor and he is not a defendant in the suit.—(S. 445 of the old Code).

A co-defendant of sound mind and of full age may be appointed guardian for the suit, if he has no interest adverse to that of the minor; but neither a plaintiff nor a married woman can be so appointed.—(S. 457 of the old Code).

Sub-rules 2 and 3 are new.

Sub-rule 4 corresponds to the 2nd para of S. 456 of the old Act.—

“Where there is no other person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers to be such guardian. Provided that he has no interest adverse to that of the minor.”—(S. 456 of the old Code).

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) A married woman could not be guardian ad litem for the defendant under the old Act; but that disability is removed by the present Act.
- (2) The provision in sub-rule 4 as to costs is new.
- (3) The proviso in the 2nd para of S. 456 of the old Act, that the Court officer appointed as guardian should have no interest adverse to that of the minor, is omitted in sub-rule 4; but that provision is unnecessary, as there is a general provision in sub-rule 1 that the interest of the person appointed as guardian, whoever he be, should not be adverse to that of the minor.

(General).

Effect of incorrect description of parties.

- (a) Where, in a suit by a mother on behalf of certain minors, the description of the plaintiff in the plaint and in appeal was given as “S.B., widow of the late C.B., mother and guardian on behalf of the minors, S. and K., plaintiff,” and “S.B., widow of the late C.B., mother and guardian of S. and K., minors, appellant,” held, that the proceedings were bad in law, the plaint not having been framed in accordance with the provisions of r. 1. 11 C.L.R. 15. E
- (b) Where, on a construction of the plaint and the pleadings, it is found that the minor is the real plaintiff, the mere fact that he is not properly described is no ground for setting aside a decree passed in the suit. 14 C. 159. F
- (c) Where, in a suit against certain minors, an issue was raised and it was found that one, G, represented them as guardian for the suit and the decree expressly named them as sued by G, their guardian, held, the minors were expressly made parties and were properly represented by G. 20 B. 534. G
- (d) Where, in a suit against certain minors, the defendants were described in the plaint as “S, widow of C, deceased, mother and guardian of the minors” and, at the time of filing plaint, the plaintiff applied for and obtained an order making S guardian ad litem for the minors, held, the minors were not parties to the suit; the order making S guardian ad litem was not made in a suit in which the minors were defendants; and the suit must be dismissed as against the minors. 11 C. 402. H
- (e) In a suit for declaration that an adoption was invalid, the defendant was described in the plaint as “M, the mother of S, a minor,” S being the alleged adopted boy; held, the suit could not be treated as one against the minor. The minor ought himself to have been made and been described as defendant, some other person being named as guardian. 12 B.L.R. Ap. 2. See, also, 20 W.R. 48. I
- (f) The fact that a suit is brought by A for self and as guardian of a minor is not conclusive evidence that the minor is not so far a party to the suit as to be bound by the decree. 3 C.L.R. 17. See, also, 11 C. 509. J

General—(Concluded).

- (g) Where a minor widow, sued as the heir of the deceased husband, was described in the plaint decree as "the deceased debtor R.A.'s heir and minor widow B.D., mother and guardian A.D.," and the plaintiff obtained no order for the appointment of a guardian ad litem, held, minor was neither a party to the original suit nor to the decree, and no property of the minor passed upon a sale in execution of such decree. 14 C. 754. K
- (h) One of the defendants was described in the plaint as "N.C., guardian on behalf of her own minor son, S.C.," and the Court, upon presentation of plaint, directed the plaintiff to produce an affidavit that the minor defendant was under the guardianship of the mother. An affidavit was produced accordingly. The suit was thereupon registered and, on summons to defendants, N.C. filed a written statement alleging that she held the land in suit on behalf of the minor; held, having regard to the order of the Court and the allegations in the plaint and written statement, the suit was substantially brought against the minor, and the error of description in the plaint, being one of mere form, could not, without proof of prejudice, invalidate a decree against him in the suit. 14 C. 204. L
- (i) A sale-certificate expressed a rent decree to have been made against R, the widow and heiress of K and the mother of a minor son, name unknown. This description, though irregular, showed that in substance the suit was against the infant. 20 C. 11. M

1.—"Any person...majority."

A.—Married woman.

(1) Married woman may be appointed.

A married woman may act as the next friend of an infant plaintiff. 17 C. 488; overruling 11 C. 738. N

(2) Married woman should not be appointed.

- (a) Where, on the father's refusal to act, the mother of certain minors was appointed guardian ad litem for them, the minors will not be affected by a decree in the suit, as the mother, being a married woman, was incapable in law of acting as their guardian, irrespective of any question of fraud. 23 A. 459=21 A.W.N. 147. O
- (b) A woman whose husband is alive but non compos mentis cannot be appointed guardian ad litem of her minor son. 4 A.L.J. 698=A.W.N. (1907), 243; see, also, 23 A. 459. P
- (c) The appointment of a married lady as guardian ad litem of a lunatic is illegal and a decree passed against a lunatic thus represented is inoperative and must be set aside. 3 A.W.N. 90. Q
- (d) A decree against a Hindu minor under the guardianship of his mother—the father being alive—is not binding on the minor. 23 A. 459=21 A.W.N. 147. See, also, 18 C. 656; 16 I.A. 195; 11 B. 130; 12 B. 18; 6 N.W.P. 98; 14 A.W.N. 141; 12 C. 69. R
- (e) The appointment as guardian ad litem of the mother of certain minor defendants who was a married woman, was illegal being contrary to the provisions of S. 4 of the old Code, and the suit must, therefore, be decided afresh after the appointment of a new guardian. 6 C.L.J. 36. S

A.—Married woman—(Concluded).

- (f) In no case can a married woman be appointed as guardian ad litem, and any apparent appointment of her as guardian is not a mere irregularity. 4 A.L.J. 698=A.W.N. (1907), 243. But see 29 M. 58=16 M. L.J. 14. T

Note.—But the prohibition of married woman is removed by the present Act and the above rulings are therefore no longer law.

(3) Appointment of married woman—mere irregularity.

- (a) The appointment of a married woman as a guardian ad litem for a minor defendant is, though a departure from the Code, a mere irregularity. 29 M. 58=16 M.L.J. 14; see, also, 80 I.A. 182. U
- (b) Where a married woman who was appointed guardian ad litem for a minor defendant entered into a compromise with leave of the Court, and no collusion or fraud between such guardian and the plaintiff was proved, the compromise will not be set aside on the sole ground of the guardian ad litem having been a married woman. 29 M. 58=16 M.L.J. 14. Y

(4) Minor respondent—Whether married woman can be guardian.

The question was raised whether the mother, a married woman, could be guardian for a minor respondent in appeal, though she was the next friend of the minor plaintiff in the original Court. The Chief Court, however, did not take up the matter of its own motion, as the appellant elected to proceed with the appeal with her as guardian. 144 P.L.R. 1906. W

B.—Minors under Court of Wards.

- (a) Representation by a Collector of all minor sons of a deceased Zemindar as their guardian ad litem under order of Court is adequate, even though the Collector can treat, under Regulation V of 1804, only the particular minor, on whose behalf the Court of Wards was then managing the Zemindari, as their proper Ward. 17 M. 316. X
- (b) Where a minor Zemindar was represented in a survey enquiry by a Manager of his estate appointed by the Court of Wards under S. 6 of Regulation V of 1804, the Zemindar was bound by the decision of the Survey Officer. 11 M. 309. Y
- (c) A suit by one of the minor sons of a deceased Zemindar, on his attaining majority, to set aside the sale of a portion of the Zemindari property attached in execution of a decree passed in a suit in which he was adequately represented by the Collector, (who was appointed guardian ad litem under order of Court) is barred by S. 47, r. 92 of O. XXI of the Code. 17 M. 316. Z
- (d) Where a Manager, appointed by the Court of Wards, sued on behalf of an infant, a technical objection to the Manager's authority was overruled. 10 C. 627=11 I.A. 26. A
- (e) A Collector can be the next friend of a minor plaintiff (Zemindar) when the Court of Wards authorises him, there being nothing in the Madras Regulation (V of 1804) to restrict the duty of conducting a suit as next friend to the Manager appointed under S. 8 of that Regulation. 13 M. 197. B

1.—“ Any person...majority.”—(Concluded).

C.—Others as guardians.

(1) Any person.

- (a) An application for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council might be made by any person as the next friend of the minors, even though some other person was the guardian ad litem. 4 O.C. 98. C
- (b) A volunteer guardian has no right to sue on behalf of a minor; the accord or refusal of permission to sue is a matter in the discretion of the Court. 10 C. 102=12 C.L.R. 405. D

(2) Foreign guardian.

- (a) Where a suit was brought by the agent of a minor's guardian appointed by H.H. the Gaikwad of Baroda, it was ordered that the proceedings should be amended by describing such agent as the next friend of the minor, in which capacity he was then permitted to sue. 7 Bom. H. C.R. 7. E
- (b) A foreign guardian will not be recognised in the Courts in Bombay in a suit brought by such guardians to recover, on account of a minor, profits arising from immoveables. 7 Bom. H.C.R. 7. F

(3) Muhammadan uncle.

The rule of Muhammadan law that an uncle cannot be guardian of the property of a minor is no bar to his representing his minor nephew as next friend in a suit. 6 C.L.R. 418. G

(4) Persons whose acts are called in question.

- (a) A Court should not appoint as guardian ad litem a person whose act is called in question in the suit, even though it is a case to which r. 4 applies. 11 O.C. 319. H
- (b) But a minor cannot be held to have been not properly represented merely because the Court appointed, as his guardian ad litem, a person whose act was called in question in the suit. 11 O.C. 319. I

(5) Surbarakar.

A surbarakar cannot sue on behalf of a minor without permission of the Court or a certificate under Act XL of 1858. 3 Agra Rep. 220. J

2.—“ Interest of such person is not adverse to that of the minor.”

- (a) A suit was filed against a certain person in her own capacity and as guardian of some minors and a decree obtained against all. On appeal, it appeared that her interest was adverse to that of the minor, that she had not been appointed guardian with her consent and that she did not in fact defend the suit on behalf of the minors. The appellate Court struck off her name as guardian of the minors and upheld the decree against her personally. The plaintiff preferred a second appeal making her a respondent in her own capacity and as guardian of the minors. Subsequently another person was appointed guardian after notice to all the parties. Held, under these circumstances, the Court should act on the analogy of rule 5 (2) and remand the suit, so far as the minors were concerned, for retrial ab initio. 13 A.W.N. 104. K
- (b) A suit to set aside a decree cannot be brought on behalf of a minor on the ground that his guardian ad litem had some interest adverse to the minor's. 1 A.L.J. 130. L

3.—“Where a minor....by competent authority.”

A.—Cases under Act XL of 1858 (Bengal).

- (a) Rule 1, read with S. 3 of Act XL of 1858, does not make the receipt from the Court of a written permission to sue, compulsory upon the next friend of an infant plaintiff. 12 C. 131. M
- (b) Where a suit is brought in violation of r. 1 or of the provisions of Act XL of 1858, the proper course for the Court is to return the plaint in order that the error may be rectified. 10 C. 102=12 C.L.R. 405. N
- (c) For a decree to be binding on a minor subject to the provisions of Act XL of 1858, he must be represented in the suit by some person who has either taken out a certificate, or has obtained the permission of the Court formally recorded, to sue or defend on his behalf without a certificate. 5 C. 450=5 C.L.R. 361. O
- (d) The effect of S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 read with r. 1 that a minor plaintiff must not only always sue by his next friend, but, when the suit relates to the minor's estate, the person representing the minor must either hold a certificate under the Act, or must obtain the sanction of the Court for the suit to proceed. The mere admission of a plaint, by the Court, does not sufficiently indicate that sanction is accorded. 10 C. 134=13 C.L.R. 369. See contra 22 W.R. 525. P
- (e) Where the mother of a minor, not holding a certificate under Act XL of 1858, was sued on the minor's behalf and was allowed by the Court to answer for the minor, though she did not obtain permission to defend, it must be inferred that the Court had given her permission to defend the suit, as required by S. 3 of Act XL of 1858, and therefore the decree was binding on the minor. 4 A. 177=1 A.W.N. 175. Q
- (f) Where a Court, to which application is made under S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 for a certificate, has passed orders that the applicant is entitled to a certificate, he then substantially obtains it. Where, therefore, a minor is represented in a suit by one who has been so adjudged, but to whom a certificate has not been issued, the absence of the certificate was not such an irregularity as entitled the minor, on attaining majority, to have the proceedings set aside on the ground that he had not been properly represented. 17 C. 947=16 I.A. 195. R
- (g) A suit can be prosecuted or defended by a relative on behalf of a minor without a certificate under Act XL of 1858, when the subject-matter of the suit is of small value. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 180. S
- (h) Where a suit was instituted by a mother, as next friend of a minor, the defendant could not properly be allowed to object for the first time in second appeal, that no formal sanction had been given under S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 to the mother suing without a certificate under the Act, though it would be a ground of second appeal, had it been raised below and overruled. 62 P.R. 1888. T
- (i) The mere omission to pass a formal order, granting the permission contemplated by S. 3 of Act XL of 1858, is not a fatal defect justifying the dismissal by the appellate Court of a suit which has proceeded to judgment in the first Court without objection by the defendant. It is only a mere irregularity. 166 P.R. 1889. See, also, 1 C. 159; 9 A. 508; 67 P.R. 1897. U

3.—“Where a minor . . . by competent authority.”—(Continued).

A.—Cases under Act XL of 1858 (Bengal)—(Concluded).

- (j) S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 contains no express provision as to the mode in which the necessary permission should be recorded. It may be implied from the action of the Court in tacitly accepting the plaint and allowing the case to proceed. 166 P.R. 1889. Y
- (k) Under S. 3 of the Bengal Minors Act (XL of 1858), the Civil Court has no power to refuse to admit a person, who has obtained a certificate under the Act, to defend a suit on the minor's behalf as guardian of such minor. 7 A. 914=5 A.W.N. 294. W
- (l) A stranger cannot bring an action on behalf of a minor without a certificate under Act XL of 1858. 3 Agra Rep. 92. X
- (m) Where, on the date of the institution of the suit, the defendant was over 18 years of age and he did not enter any appearance in the suit, a person who, subsequently, got a certificate under Act XL of 1858 for the defendant ought not to be made a defendant. 9 C.L.R. 213. Y
- (n) Neither the Civil Procedure Code, nor the proviso to S. 3 of Act XL of 1858, gives a plaintiff any power to institute a suit against a person named by himself as guardian ad litem on behalf of a minor, nor do they give to the Court the power of transferring, by a mere order made ex parte, an irregular proceeding into a suit against the minor. 11 C. 402. Z

B.—Cases under Bombay Minors Act (XX of 1864).

- (a) Bombay Minors Act (XX of 1864) does not apply to minors, who are not resident within the Presidency of Bombay. 7 Bom. H.C.R. 7. A
- (b) A widow without a certificate of administration, under Act XX of 1864, is precluded from bringing a suit in her own name in respect of her minor son's property. 12 Bom. H.C.R. 17. B
- (c) The Political Agent, Southern Mahratta country, who was appointed by the Government to manage the estate of the chief of Mudhol has no authority to sue on behalf of the minor with regard to property in British India, without obtaining a certificate of administration under the Bombay Minors Act. 11 B. 53. C
- (d) Where, in a suit against a minor, whose estate was administered by the Collector, he was represented by his mother and guardian, held, he was not properly represented as required by S. 2 of Act XX of 1864, and that he was not bound by the proceedings in the suit. 11 B. 180. D
- (e) There is nothing in the Minors Act (XX of 1864) to prevent the institution of a suit by the next friend of a minor, who has not obtained a certificate of administration to the minor's estate, but who claims no right to have charge of the minor's property, asking for a declaration of the minor's rights, and for an order directing the defendant to pay money he owes to the minor into the principal Civil Court of the District. 9 Bom. H.C.R. 310. E
- (f) S. 2 of Act XX of 1864 does not prohibit a person from bringing a suit against a minor, until a certificate of administration has been granted. He may properly bring his suit, but immediately after doing so, he should apply to the District Judge for the appointment of an administrator, and it is competent to the District Judge under S. 8 of the Act to make that appointment. 11 Bom. H.C.R. 21. F

3.—“Where a minor.... by competent authority.”—(Continued).

B.—Cases under Bombay Minors Act (XX of 1864).—(Concluded).

- (g) A father suing on behalf of his minor son entitled to property in his own right must obtain a certificate of administration under Act XX of 1864. 6 Bom. H.C.R. 250. G
- (h) Proceedings to file and enforce an award are of the nature of a suit, within the meaning of S. 2 of Act XX of 1864; and a minor must be represented in such proceedings by a person holding a certificate of administration. 9 Bom. H.C.R. 289. H
- (i) No certificate is necessary, where three brothers of a joint Hindu family sue in their own names and on behalf of a minor brother to set aside an alienation of family property by their deceased father. The manager of the family should be allowed to proceed with the suit as next friend of the minor with permission, if necessary, to amend the plaint accordingly. 8 B. 395. I
- (j) Where there is a next friend of a minor willing and competent to act for him, such next friend may file a suit on his behalf, or continue one already filed without a certificate of administration. In the event of a decree being passed in the minor's favour, the Court can, in the absence of an administrator under Act XX of 1864, make suitable arrangements for the security of the minor's estate, such as, by appointing an administrator under the Act. 8 B. 399. J
- (k) Act XX of 1864 is not superseded by Act X of 1877. A certificate is necessary, where a widow claims to have charge of property in trust for minors exceeding Rs. 250 in value. If there was any pressing necessity (owing to the operation of the law of limitation), it was competent to the Court to accept the plaint and stay proceedings until she had obtained a certificate. 3 B. 149. K
- (l) The minor cannot be said to be properly represented in a suit, where the guardian purporting to represent him had not obtained a certificate under Act XX of 1864. 12 B. 18. L
- (m) A suit against a minor, whose estate exceeds Rs. 250 in value, cannot be proceeded with, unless he be represented by a person holding a certificate under Act XX of 1864. The plaintiff may apply to the District Judge to appoint an administrator, if none has been so appointed. 6 Bom. H. C.R. 219. M
- (n) As the right of a friend to institute a suit on behalf of a minor is under the control of the Court, and as the Minors Act, by sections 3—7, enables a friend of the minor to protect his interests by applying for the appointment of a fit person to have charge of the property of the minor and to protect his estate, the proper course for a Court, to which a plaint on behalf of a minor is presented by a friend, is either to refuse to accept the plaint, when there is no pressing necessity for its acceptance, or in case such pressing necessity exists, to accept the plaint and stay proceedings until the plaintiff has duly obtained a certificate under the Act. 9 Bom. H.C.R. 810. N

C.—Applicability of rule in case of other guardians.

- (a) This rule does not apply to all guardians, as e.g., it cannot apply to natural guardians. 31 B. 418—9 Bom. L.R. 553. O

3.—“Where a minor....by competent authority.”—(Concluded).

C.—Applicability of rule in case of other guardians.—(Concluded).

- (b) That the persons, who sue on behalf of minors, are their natural guardians is not a sufficient reason for neglecting the directions of law, which require that the minors shall be represented by persons who have obtained certificates, or by persons who, when the property is of small value, are specially permitted by the Court to sue or defend the suit on behalf of minors. 3 Agra Rep. 167. P
- (c) The violation of the provisions of this rule, e.g., the appointment of the mother as guardian ad litem, when there was a certificated guardian, is merely an irregularity and does not, of itself, vitiate either a decree passed in a suit, or a sale consequent upon such a decree. 29 A. 290 = 4 A.L.J. 155 = A.W.N. (1907) ; see also 8 C.L.J. 31. Q
- (d) A guardian ad litem, where the litigation concerns the property of the minor, cannot be appointed so long as there exists a certificated guardian in respect of the property, who is capable of acting in that behalf. 11 A.W.N. 42. R
- (e) A suit on behalf of minors by one, who was not a certificated guardian, though the karta of the joint Hindu family of which the minors were members, there being another certificated guardian, is wrongly brought, and the plaint should be returned for amendment. 20 A. 162. See, also, 13 C. 189. S
- (f) Where a suit was filed on behalf of two minors by a person, who was not a certificated guardian, and there was a guardian duly appointed by a Court at the time, the suit was wrongly brought, and the plaint should therefore be returned for amendment. The defect in the form of the suit is not cured by the fact, that the person appearing as guardian therein is the karta of a joint Hindu family of which all the plaintiffs were members. 20 A. 162 = 18 A.W.N. 9; see, also, 13 C. 189. T
- (g) A Hindu father has the power to appoint by his will a guardian of the person of his minor son. The words “a guardian appointed or declared by an authority competent in this behalf” apply also to guardians appointed, or declared by the will of a Hindu father. 8 Bom. L.R. 522. See contra 9 Bom. L.R. 558 = 31 B. 413. U
- (h) A Hindu father has no statutory authority to appoint a guardian to his son after his death; and the words “authority competent in this behalf” in this rule do not include the case of a Hindu father, purporting to appoint a guardian under general Hindu Law. 9 Bom. L.R. 558 = 31 B. 413. Y

4.—“No person shall....for the suit.”

Effect of guardian appointed without consent.

Where a decree is executed against the minor sons of the judgment-debtor (already parties to the suit) as legal representatives, after a guardian ad litem for the latter is appointed by the Court, but without obtaining the previous consent of the person so appointed; and properties are sold in execution, the action of the Court is merely irregular and does not vitiate the sale, especially where no objection is taken on that score, and the same guardian applies on the minor's behalf to set aside the sale. 14 M.L.J. 342; see, also, 7 C.W.N. 774. W

5.—“The Court may appoint any of its officers to be such guardian.”

(a) Nothing compels the Court to retain as guardian one of its officers, where the circumstances make it clear, that the interests of the minor will be thereby imperilled. The Court has power to relieve a Nazir who has no funds to conduct the defence properly. 28 B. 626=6 Bom. L.R. 544. X

(b) The mere circumstance that the Nazir, who was appointed a guardian ad litem, did not defend the suit, because he had no instructions, cannot affect the validity of the decree. 9 Bom. L.R. 1099. Y

5. (1) Every application to the Court on behalf of a minor, other than an application under rule 10, sub-rule (2), shall be made by his next friend or by his guardian for the suit¹.

Representation of minor by next friend or guardian for the suit.

(2) Every order made in a suit or on any application, before the Court in or by which a minor is in any way concerned or affected, without such minor being represented by a next friend or guardian for the suit, as the case may be, may be discharged², and, where the pleader of the party at whose instance such order was obtained knew, or might reasonably have known, the fact of such minority, with costs to be paid by such pleader³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 441 and sub-rule 2 to S. 444 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“Every application . . . by his guardian for the suit.”

(a) Where a guardian ad litem named in the plaint was accepted by the Court, and he did not defend the suit, though notice was served on him, and an ex parte decree was passed against the minor, an appeal by another person, purporting to act as guardian ad litem, is not maintainable without an order of the Court removing the former guardian. 19 A. W.N. 203. See, also, 22 M. 137. Z

(b) Where an application for execution of a decree made on behalf of a minor by the sub-manager of the Court of Wards was decided against the minor and he appealed, but meanwhile the Court of Wards released the decree-holder's estate, and, pending appeal, a next friend was put on the record to represent the minor, an objection, that the application was untenable having been made by the sub-manager, was disallowed, as it was not raised in the Court below, and the minor was properly represented in appeal by a next friend. 28 C. 374, distinguishing 18 C. 500. A

2.—“May be discharged.”

(a) The proper course for an appellate Court to take, if either of the parties appears to be a minor, and this point has not been taken in the Court below, is to remand the case, and if the question is determined in the affirmative, to set aside all the proceedings which are the subject of the appeal as void ab initio, but to make no order as to costs. 1 L.B.R. 38. B

2.—‘ May be discharged.’—(Concluded).

- (b) Where the mother of a defendant applied for the appointment of a guardian ad litem to him, alleging that he was a minor, but the first Court finding that he was not a minor decided the suit on the merits, and on appeal thereon, the appellate Court finding that he was a minor remanded the suit under r. 28 of O. XLI for re-trial after appointment of guardian ad litem, held, on second appeal, that r. 28 of O. XLI was no bar to the exercise by an appellate Court of the jurisdiction conferred by r. 3 of this Order and S. 107 (2) of the Code, under which the proper course to be adopted was to set aside all the proceedings subsequent to the filing of the plaint. 23 P.R. 1899. See, also, 1 L.B.R. 38. C
- (c) S. 53 of Act VIII of 1890 (Guardians and Wards Act) expressly requires the appointment of a guardian ad litem, whether or not a guardian is appointed under Act VIII of 1890. Where, therefore, a decree was passed ex parte against a minor, after attempting to serve the summons on a guardian appointed under Act VIII of 1890 but without appointing any guardian ad litem, the decree was set aside, and the case sent back that the minor might be properly represented, and the case retried. 24 C. 25. D
- (d) An order of execution against a minor without a guardian ad litem is invalid; and when it is brought to the notice of the Court that an order passed by it is invalid for want of a guardian, the Court should immediately discharge the order. 9 M.L.J. 14. E
- (e) Where a minor's application, for leave to file a suit in forma pauperis without a next friend, was rejected as he was not properly represented, the Court's order that all costs to the defendant and the Collector should be paid out of the minor's estate was illegal and ultra vires, as under this rule no order affecting a minor can legally be made without such minor being represented by a next friend or guardian ad litem. 13 B. 234. F

3.—‘ With costs to be paid by such pleader.’

Where, in a suit by a mother on behalf of her minor sons, the plaintiff's description in the plaint was given as “S.B., widow of the late C.B., mother and guardian on behalf of the minors, S and K., plaintiff,” and on appeal “S.B., widow of the late C.B., mother and guardian of S. and K., minors, appellant,” the pleaders in the original Court and in appeal were called upon to show cause, why they should not be ordered to pay the costs of the suit and the appeal. 11 C.L.R. 15. G

Receipt by next friend or guardian for the suit of property under decree for minor.

6. (1) A next friend or guardian for the suit shall not, without the leave of the Court, receive any money or other moveable property on behalf of a minor either—

- (a) by way of compromise before decree or order, or
 (b) under a decree or order in favour of the minor.

(2) Where the next friend or guardian for the suit has not been appointed or declared by competent authority to be guardian of the property of the minor, or, having been so appointed or declared, is under any disability known to the Court to receive the money or other moveable property, the Court shall, if it grants him leave to receive the property, require such security¹ and give such directions as will, in its opinion, sufficiently protect the property from waste and ensure its proper application.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 461 of the old Act.

S. 461 of Act XIV of 1882 :—

No sum of money or other thing shall be received or taken by a next friend or guardian for the suit on behalf of a minor, at any time before decree or order, unless he has first obtained the leave of the Court, and given security to its satisfaction that such money or other thing shall be duly accounted for to, and held for the benefit of, such minor.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) Instead of the word thing in the old Act, the expression "moveable property" is used in the new Act.
- (2) Instead of "at any time before decree or order" in the old Act we have "(a) by way of compromise before decree or order, or (b) under a decree or order in favour of the minor;" thus making the rule applicable also to cases where the next friend or guardian receives money after decree or order.
- (3) While the old Act required security from the next friend or guardian in every case, under the new rule security will not be required from a next friend or guardian, who has been declared or appointed by competent authority to be guardian of the property of the minor and is not under any disability.

1.—"Require such security."

Manager of a Hindu family.

- (a) This rule does not apply to a case, where the managing member of a family sues on behalf of himself and as next friend of certain minor coparceners for recovery of a debt due to the family. The managing member could not be required to take the Court's leave, and to give security under this rule before being allowed to withdraw the money. 12 C W.N. 598=35 C. 561=8 C.L.J. 256. H
- (b) Where a person acting for himself and as guardian of the minor members of the family obtained a decree, in satisfaction of which he obtained bonds in favour of himself alone and applied to have the adjustment certified, no security could be demanded from him as he was avowedly acting as managing member of a joint Hindu family. 11 O.C. 246. I

7. (1) No next friend or guardian for the suit shall, without the leave of the Court ¹, expressly recorded in the proceedings ², enter into any agreement or compromise ³ on behalf of a minor with reference to the suit in which he acts as next friend or guardian.

Agreement or compromise by next friend or guardian for the suit.

(2) Any such agreement or compromise entered into without the leave of the Court so recorded shall be voidable against all parties other than the minor ⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 462 of the old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "expressly recorded in the proceedings" in sub-rule (1), and "so recorded" in sub-rule (2), are newly added in the present Act.

GENERAL.

A.—Applicability of the rule

(1) General.

(a) This rule applies only to an agreement or compromise entered into by a next friend or guardian for a suit. It does not apply to an agreement to refer to arbitration, when no suit is pending. 1 Sind. L.R. 160. J

(b) This rule is applicable only where there is a guardian for a suit and a pending suit. 26 B. 298=3 Bom.L.R. 887; see, also, 28 A. 35. K

(2) Abandonment of issue.

The abandonment of an issue does not amount to a compromise; hence, leave of the Court is not necessary for such abandonment. 22 M. 588. L

(3) Agreements out of Court.

The policy of law being to protect minors from being taken at a disadvantage by their guardians, the leave of the Court is required, not only in the case of such agreements as are entered into out of Court, but also in the case of agreements given effect to by a decree of Court. 7 C.W. N. 90. M

(4) Arbitration.

(a) This rule does not apply to proceedings under the second schedule of this Code in arbitration. A minor party will, therefore, be bound by the consent of his guardian to refer the matters in dispute to arbitration, if there is no fraud or gross negligence, though the Court has not sanctioned the agreement to refer. 28 A. 35=1905 A.W.N. 171=2 A L.J. 493; see, also, 27 C. 229; 12 M. 483; 26 B. 298=3 Bom. L.R. 887. N

(b) Leave of the Court is not necessary to an application by all the parties to refer a matter in dispute to arbitration. 8 C.L.J. 294. See, also, 28 A. 35; see contra 24 M. 326. O

(c) If an award is filed under the second schedule, and a guardian ad litem duly appointed shows no cause why the award should not be filed, but allows judgment to be given in terms of the award, this rule does not apply, as there is no agreement or compromise. 1 Sind. L.R. 160, P

GENERAL—(Continued).

- (d) A decree upon an award out of Court assented to by the minor's guardian appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act is not bad for want of sanction, because this rule has no application to such a case; though the decree may be shown to be not binding on the minor for other reasons. 26 B. 298=3 Bom. L.R. 887; see, also, 28 A. 35. Q
- (e) An agreement to refer to arbitration a partition suit, in which there are minor parties, cannot be lawfully entered into without the leave of the Court obtained, either before the reference, or after the award. 24 M. 326. R
- (f) If a reference to arbitration is made on an agreement without the sanction of the Court being obtained thereto, neither the submission to arbitration, nor the award based thereon, will be binding on the minor. 17 C. P.L.R. 147; see, also, 24 M. 326; 26 B. 109; 26 M. 47; 17 A. 581; 9 C. 810; 21 M. 91; 8 M. 103; 15 B. 594; 22 M. 588; 12 M. 488. S
- (g) Where a guardian ad litem is actually a party to an application to have the award filed, that is, a party to an agreement that no objection shall be filed on either side, then sanction of the Court under this rule becomes necessary; and if such sanction is not obtained, the Court has power to set aside the decree so far as the minor is concerned. 1 Sind. L.R. 160. T
- (h) In a suit by a minor through his next friend for the custody of his minor wife represented by her mother as guardian ad litem, the Court allowed the matter in dispute to be referred by the respective guardians to two arbitrators without recording an order under this rule. Held, this was a material irregularity. 37 P.R. 1895. U
- (i) An agreement by a guardian on behalf of a minor, to refer to arbitration the whole or any part of a dispute already in litigation, is an agreement covered by this rule and requires the sanction of the Court. Such sanction will not be implied from the mere fact that the Court makes an order of reference in accordance with the agreement. 17 C.P.L.R. 147. V
- (j) Where a decree is passed in the terms of an award filed by arbitrators, and objections thereto were not raised in the lower Court, nor filed against the award within 10 days prescribed by Art. 158, Limitation Act, it cannot, for the first time, be contended in revision, that some of the defendants being minors, reference could not be made by their guardians ad litem without obtaining express sanction of the Court under rule 7, and that there was no written application for reference by these guardians ad litem. 4 P.R. 1907=20 P.W.R. 1907; see, also, 24 M. 326; 28 A. 35; 37 P.R. 1895; 18 P.R. 1891. W
- (k) Where the elder brother of a family, acting as next friend of his minor brothers, agreed to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration and the application was signed by him alone, held there is no provision of the Code which prevents a next friend suing under r. 1 of this Order from referring the minor's interests to arbitration. 92 P.R. 1885. X
- (l) A Judge (not being a Judge of the High Court), other than a Judge who delivered the judgment, has no jurisdiction to grant an application for review, on the ground that no leave or consent of the Court had been given under rule 7 to the guardian ad litem to refer the matter in dispute between the parties to the suit to arbitration. 8 C.L.J. 492. Y

GENERAL—(Continued).

A.—Applicability of the rule.—(Concluded).

- (m) An application for reference to arbitration by a guardian ad litem need not be in writing. 4 P.R. 1907 = 20 P.W.R. 1907. See, also, 27 C. 61. Z
- (n) Where the mother of a Mahomedan minor, who is duly appointed as the guardian ad litem of the minor, makes an application to file an award, and a decree is passed in terms of the award, the minor is bound by it, unless good cause be shown to set aside the decree. Such a decree is not a nullity for want of previous sanction of the Court under this rule. 1 Sind. L.R. 160. A

(5) Execution and other subsequent proceedings.

- (a) This rule applies to a compromise of execution proceedings. 3 Bom. L.R. 565; see, also, 26 B. 109. B
- (b) The provisions of this rule are applicable to agreements entered into in proceedings in a suit subsequent to decree. 2 O.C. 45. See, also, 6 O.C. 175. C

(6) Oath.

- (a) Where the guardian of a minor defendant agreed, that one of the issues in a suit should be determined under S. 9 of the Oaths Act by the oath of plaintiff, and the oath was taken and a decree passed accordingly, held that the minor defendant was bound by the consent of his guardian, since there was no evidence of fraud or gross negligence on the part of the latter, although the Court had not sanctioned the agreement under this rule, this rule having no application to the case. 12 M. 433. D
- (b) An agreement by the next friend of a minor plaintiff to relinquish a claim, should the opposite party take oath, is an agreement with reference to the suit contemplated by r. 7; and the next friend is not competent to enter into it without the leave of the Court. 186 P.R. 1889. E
- (c) An agreement to be bound by oath on behalf of a minor by a next friend, if not made with the express sanction of the Court accorded after inquiry, as to whether it would be for the minor's benefit, was not binding on the minor. 186 P.R. 1889. F
- (d) The next friend of a minor plaintiff is competent to bind the minor by an offer, under the provisions of the Indian Oaths Act, 1873, that the oath or solemn affirmation by the other party to, or by any witness in, such proceeding shall, as against the minor, be conclusive proof of the matter stated. The leave of the Court under this rule is not required. 18 P.R. 1891. G

(7) Waiver of infant's claim.

Whether there had been, in effect, a waiver of the infant's claim under an agreement of withdrawal between the parties, the Court's sanction, on behalf of the infants, was necessary for such waiver and withdrawal. 18 B. 137. H

GENERAL—(Continued).

B.—Miscellaneous.

- (a) Where a decree is regular in itself and, on the face of it, correct, it can only be set aside by a fresh suit, and not by an application for review, e.g., where the plaintiff seeks to set aside a decree based on a compromise entered into by his guardian when he was a minor, merely on the ground that the compromise was fraudulent. 3 C.L.J. 119; see, also, 13 B. 187; 25 C. 649; 22 C. 8. But see contra 6 C. 687; 10 C. 357; 13 B. L.R. Ap. 11. I
- (b) But, where it is clear upon the face of the judgment or the decree that it is irregular or incorrect and not in compliance with the provisions of law, the decree can be impugned by way of review, e.g., where a decree is passed in terms of a compromise against a minor, without any enquiry into the circumstances that led to the filing of the petition of compromise, or without any previous sanction to compromise. 3 C.L.J. 119. But see 20 A. 98; see, also, 9 C. 810; 3 M. 108; 17 A. 531. J
- (c) The proper course to set aside a compromise decree against a minor, on the ground that the sanction of Court was not given after due enquiry, is by way of review or by a separate suit, and not by appeal. 30 C. 613=7 C.W.N. 419; see, also, 5 C.W.N. 877. K
- (d) In a substantive suit by a minor to set aside a compromise sanctioned by the Court through fraud or mistake, it is not the province of the Court to enquire, whether it would or would not be for the benefit of the minor to set aside the compromise; though it might be otherwise on an application for review to the Court which granted the sanction. 6 C. 687=8 C.L.R. 169. L
- (e) Although the minors set up a case of fraud qua the decree, and failed to prove it, they may still be permitted to show by evidence that the compromise itself was filed without the consent of their guardian and is not, therefore, binding on them. 34 C. 88. M
- (f) To maintain the validity of a compromise entered into on behalf of a minor and subsequently challenged, it must be proved (1) that the attention of the Court was directly called to the fact that a minor was a party to the compromise, and (2) by an order on petition, or in some way not open to doubt, that the leave of the Court was obtained. 4 C.L.J. 8=8 Bom. - (g) To bind the minors by a decree, it is not enough to show that the sanction of the Court was obtained to the compromise. 34 C. 88. O
- (h) This rule requires every person, acting as a next friend or guardian ad litem to a minor, to take the leave of the Court before entering into an agreement or compromise on his behalf, and no exception is made in the case of a certificated guardian. 7 C.W.N. 90. P
- (i) A suit relating to the estate or person of an infant and for his benefit has the effect of making him a Ward of Court, and, therefore, no act can be done affecting the property of the minor unless under the express or the implied direction of the Court itself. 27 M. 377=14 M.L.J. 159; see, also, 13 B. 197. Q

GENERAL—(Continued).

B.—Miscellaneous.—(Continued).

- (j) A withdrawal of a suit by the next friend of a minor may be set aside, and the suit re-opened on the application of the minor by a new next friend, on the ground of gross negligence not amounting to fraud, e.g., a next friend withdrew a suit alleging that the other party had promised to adjust accounts privately. The other party denied the promise, but consented to the withdrawal; under the circumstances, the withdrawal evinced gross neglect, and the minor might re-open the suit. 29 C. 735. R
- (k) Where a compromise of a suit is made, it ought to be carried out by proper deeds and filed in Court, where infants are concerned, so as to have the assent of the Court at the time. 16 W.R. (P.C.), 22. S
- (l) Where the sanction of the Court is required for a compromise, each party is bound to see that the materials, on which the sanction of the Court is asked for, are unimpeachable. 6 C. 687=8 C.L.R. 169. T
- (m) A Court which finds that it has wrongly sanctioned a compromise, may revoke the sanction in a proceeding under S. 47 of this Code. 3 Bom. L.R. 565. U
- (n) An unconditional withdrawal of a suit by the next friend, of a minor (without liberty to bring a fresh suit) is an act prejudicial to the minor and ought not to be allowed by a Court, and if so allowed, the High Court will interfere in revision, under S. 115 of this Code and set it aside. 27 M. 877=14 M.L.J. 159. V
- (o) Before accepting a compromise on behalf of a minor in special appeal, the law requires the consent of the Court which granted the certificate to the guardian. 6 N.W.P. 179. W
- (p) Where the Deputy Commissioner, the representative of the Court of Wards, sanctioned the admission of a claim in the Settlement Court by the Manager of a minor's estate appointed by him, the Manager having suppressed many facts from the Deputy Commissioner, and sanction having been given in ignorance of those facts, the decree passed upon such admission was held to be not binding on the minor. 24 C. 853=24 I.A. 107=1 C.W.N. 417. X
- (q) A consent decree, passed by a Settlement Court upon the representation of the Mukhtear of the Court of Wards that the Manager of the minor's estate appointed by the Court of Wards consented to a decree, was set aside as it was not shown that the Manager was authorised by the Court of Wards to give to the Mukhtear authority to make the admission, and as the consent was, therefore, given by one having no authority to bind the minor thereby. 23 C. 934=23 I.A. 75. Y
- (r) Where a person appointed guardian ad litem of a minor compromised a case, on the day when an order was made appointing him guardian under Act XL of 1858, but before a certificate was issued, held, he acted as guardian ad litem in entering into the compromise. 105 P.R. 1889. Z

GENERAL—(Concluded).B.—Miscellaneous.—(Concluded).

- (s) Where a compromise entered into in the appellate Court by a mother on behalf of a minor daughter (plaintiff) was set aside, at the suit of the daughter, and a review of the original decision, in so far as it was adverse to the plaintiff's interest, was allowed, the effect of setting aside the compromise was to remit both parties to their original rights, and the defendant must also be heard in appeal against so much of the same judgment as was unfavourable to him. 2 C. 184=26 W.R. 36=8 I.A. 291. A
- (t) A guardian agreed to compromise a suit, and signed a petition embodying the terms arrived at, but did not obtain leave of the Court therefor. Subsequently, he declined to present the petition and opposed a decree being passed in its terms. The Court had no power, under the circumstances, to enforce the compromise, even though the terms of it might appear to be beneficial to the minors. 22 M. 378. B
- (u) Where a certificated guardian, acting as next friend to a minor in a suit, entered into a compromise with the defendant, without the Court's leave, whereby it was agreed that the defendant should obtain a mokurari lease in respect of certain lands belonging to the minor, and the Court gave a decree in the terms of such compromise; held, that, although the guardian had been authorised by a previous order of the District Judge to grant leases on behalf of the minor, the lease in question, not having been granted by a registered instrument, was invalid, and the compromise decree could not be invoked as a substitute for a duly registered lease. 7 C.W.N. 90. C
- (v) Where application for leave to enter into a compromise on behalf of a minor plaintiff was made and granted, but no decree was passed in accordance with the compromise, and the Court subsequently posted the suit for trial on merits with reference to the issues raised before presentation of compromise, the Court ought not to have thereafter directed a decree to be drawn up in accordance with the compromise, as the effect of the Court's proceedings subsequent to the compromise amounted to a rejection of the same as the basis of a decree and it must, therefore, be deemed to have been put an end to. 29 M. 104. D

1.—“Without the leave of the Court.”

(1) Leave to compromise—When to be given.

The Court can grant leave to the guardian of a minor to enter into a compromise, at any time before finally accepting the compromise. 2 O.C. 67. E

(2) Circumstances justifying sanction.

- (a) The Court will refuse to sanction a compromise, if it is not based on considerations of actual necessity and advantage to the minor. 6 W.R. 16. See, also, W.R. (1864), 88. F
- (b) The transactions into which guardians enter on behalf of their wards must secure to the latter some demonstrable advantage, or avert some obvious mischief, in order to obtain recognition in the Courts. 10 Bom. H.C.R. 311. G

1.—“Without the leave of the Court.”—(Concluded).

- (c) Where a compromise was entered into by a mother on behalf of two minor sons on the one hand, and an adult member of the family on the other, agreeing to give the latter more than had been awarded by a judicial decision, the compromise was not binding on the minors; though it might be otherwise if minors were not concerned. 10 Bom. H.C.R. 811. H

(3) Onus of proof of such circumstances.

- (a) Where a deed of compromise is alleged to be beneficial to the minor, the onus of proving that it is so is on the party making the allegation. 5 W.R. 5. I
- (b) A decree-holder, who obtains a decree against a minor by consent, should prove that the consent was given by some one having authority to bind the minor thereby. 23 C. 984=23 I.A. 75. See, also, 6 M.L.J. 131.J

(4) Leave given in ignorance of facts.

- (a) Where the terms of a compromise were not before the Court, and there was no evidence of its propriety or reasonableness, the Court had not before it the materials necessary to enable it to arrive at a judicial conclusion with respect to the compromise, and there was not, therefore, sufficient compliance with this rule. 26 B. 109. K
- (b) A decree passed on a compromise affecting the interests of a minor can be set aside, though the compromise was made with the leave of the Court, if it can be shown that the Court when it granted leave, was not fully aware of the facts, even though there was no fraudulent withholding of knowledge or concealment of facts. 24 P.R. 1893. L
- (c) Where the compromise had been entered into by the parties and sanctioned by the Court under a misapprehension of material facts, the compromise ought to be set aside, and the parties restored to the position they were in at the time it was effected. 6 C. 687=8 C.L.R. 169. M

(5) Leave to compromise given without enquiry.

- (a) Where a decree in terms of a compromise was passed without any judicial enquiry or finding, as to whether the compromise was for the benefit of the minor, although a formal order of sanction to file the compromise petition was given to the minor's guardian ad litem, the decree was inoperative. 8 C.L.J. 274. N
- (b) Where there was nothing to show that the Court satisfied itself after due enquiry, that the compromise was beneficial to the minor, and the compromise had not been expressly sanctioned by the Court, as required by this rule, a decree according to the compromise will not bind the minor. 17 P.R. 1899. See, also, 105 P.R. 1889. O

2.—“Expressly recorded in the proceedings.”(1) Not form but intention to grant leave, essential.

- (a) The form of expression used for the purpose of indicating that the Court grants leave to compromise is of slight importance. The question is whether the Court, after a consideration of the circumstances, really intends to grant leave. 26 B. 109. P

(b) The word “granted” or other similar word on the application to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise does not satisfy the section. It has in every case to be considered, whether the Court applied its mind to the question, and granted the permission. Whether permission was given is a question of fact, and the existence before the Court of materials necessary for the exercise of its judicial discretion will have a bearing on the determination of that fact. 3 Bom. L.R. 565; see, also, 21 A. 585; 31 I.A. 128; 29 M. 104; 26 B. 109. Q

(c) To make an agreement or compromise a lawful one under this rule, the next friend or guardian should ask the Court to consider the proposed terms of the agreement or compromise, and, before making the agreement or entering into the compromise, should obtain permission from the Court so to do. The Court should record the fact that such application was made to it; that the terms of the proposed agreement or compromise were considered by the Court; and that, having regard to the interests of the minor, the Court granted leave to the making of the agreement or compromise. 17 A. 581=15 A.W.N. 126. R

(d) In sanctioning a compromise on behalf of a minor, the order granting the sanction should, in terms, state that the question whether the compromise was for the benefit of the minor was considered. The Court should also ascertain and record that, in the opinion of the pleaders, if any, representing the minor, the compromise was one entered into in the interests of the minor and fit and proper to be sanctioned. 29 M. 104. S

(2) Absence of order.

Even though there be no order which states in so many terms, that the Court has considered the compromise, and that it is for the benefit of the minors, it must be assumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that the Court did its duty in the matter. 8 C.L.J. 81. See, also, 8 C.L.J. 274. T

(3) Reasons for accepting compromise.

(a) Where a compromise is sought to be effected in a suit in which one of the parties is a minor, the Court should consider carefully the nature and terms of the compromise, and whether it is for the benefit of the minor, and if the proposed compromise be accepted by the Court and judgment passed in the terms thereof, such judgment should show clearly the reasons which led the Court to accept and act upon the compromise. 16 A.W.N. 127. U

(b) The Court in sanctioning a compromise on behalf of an infant should record the fact, (1) that the application was made to it by the next friend or guardian, (2) that the terms of the compromise were considered by it, and (3) that the question whether the compromise was for the benefit of the infant was also considered. 8 C.L.J. 266. See, also, 16 W.R. 232; 17 A. 581; 26 B. 109; 7 C.W.N. 90; 29 M. 104. V

2.—“Expressly recorded in the proceedings.”—(Concluded).(4) Leave must be express.

- (a) For a compromise to be binding upon the minor, the leave of the Court must be express and arrived at upon the exercise of a judicial discretion as to the propriety of the compromise in the interests of the minor. 7 C.W.N. 90; see, also, 17 A. 531=15 A.W.N. 126; 9 C. 810; 8 C.L.J. 274. W
- (b) The mere fact that the Court has passed a decree in the terms of a compromise presented by the guardian ad litem is not sufficient compliance with the conditions of this rule. There must be an express approval of the compromise, in the absence of which, a decree in its terms should be set aside. 8 M. 103; see, also, 9 C. 810=12 C.L.R. 455; 21 M. 91; 17 A. 531=15 A.W.N. 126; 8 C.L.J. 266. X
- (c) The plaintiffs who were minors sued by their mother as next friend for partition and obtained a decree. They subsequently applied for execution; but one of the minors, alleging himself to be of age, and the mother, as guardian of the other minor, got the execution application struck off on the ground that they had compromised with the defendants and the decree was satisfied. The minors again sued to set aside the compromise as being prejudicial to them, and as not sanctioned by the Court under this rule. Held, under the circumstances, that the sanction required by this rule had not been given. 26 B. 109. Y

3.—“Any agreement or compromise.”Any agreement..suit, meaning of.

The words “any agreement or compromise with reference to the suit,” include a compromise finally determining the suit. 7 C.W.N. 90; see, also, 3 M. 103 and 13 B. 137. Z

4.—“Any such agreement..than the minor.”(1) Effect of compromise without leave.

- (a) Where the guardian ad litem assented to a compromise, which was accepted by the Court and a decree passed thereon, and the compromise was found not to be prejudicial to the interests of the minors, it was held that the minors could not, after the decree based upon the compromise had become final, succeed in a suit to set it aside, on the sole ground that the Court had not previously given leave to the guardian to enter into the compromise. 20 A. 98=17 A.W.N. 205. A
- (b) Although, in appeal, a decree made upon a compromise, would be held to be invalid as against a minor party, it could not, after it had become final and been acted upon, be set aside, unless it were shown to be prejudicial to the minor. 8 C.L.J. 274. See, also, 20 A. 98. B
- (c) A compromise entered into by the next friend or guardian for the suit of a minor, without the leave of the Court, is voidable at the instance of the minor on that ground alone, notwithstanding that the decree made upon such compromise may have become final, and that no attempt is made to show that it was disadvantageous to him. 2 O.C. 45. C

4.—“Any such agreement..than the minor.”—(Continued).

- (d) A withdrawal of a suit by the next friend of the minor in pursuance of an agreement or compromise, entered into with the defendant without the leave of the Court, is voidable at the instance of the minor. 27 M. 377=14 M.L.J. 159; see, also, 29 C. 735. D
- (e) A compromise, by a guardian ad litem on behalf of a minor defendant, without leave of Court is not void ab initio, but only voidable, at the option of the minor, on his attaining majority, if the equities of the case require that it should be set aside. Where the terms of the compromise are not only fair but positively advantageous to the minor, and the same has been acted upon by the parties, and when restoration of the parties to their original position is impossible, the Court will not set it aside on the simple ground that the sanction of the Court, that heard the suit, was not obtained. 3 P.R. 1905=87 P.L.R. 1905. But see 8 O.C. 191. E
- (f) A compromise entered into by a guardian of a minor without the leave of the Court is voidable against all parties other than the minor; it is not voidable at the option of other parties against the minor. 2 O.C. 67. F
- (g) Where the leave of the Court had not been obtained by the guardian of a minor to an adjustment by compromise after decree, the Court refused to certify the adjustment under rule 2 of O. XXI. 29 M. 309. G
- (h) Where, without the sanction of the Court, there was a waiver of an infant's claim by an agreement of withdrawal between the parties, the minor, on attaining majority, would be entitled to impeach the decree and re-open the accounts by an application for review or by an original suit, and not by obtaining a rule calling on the defendants to show cause why the proceedings in the suit should not be set aside. 13 B. 187; see, also, 15 B. 594, on appeal. H
- (i) A certificated guardian has no power to bind his minor ward by a compromise, which involves an assignment of immoveable property belonging to the minor without having first obtained the sanction of the Court; nor does the fact that the guardian has subsequently joined the minor as a party in suits in which the compromise was practically adopted estop the minor from questioning the validity of the compromise. 11 A.W.N. 46. I
- (j) A compromise entered into by a guardian without the leave of the Court is void as against the minors, and a suit for recovery of possession of property of which they had been deprived by the illegal compromise is governed by Art. 144 of the Limitation Act. 8 O.C. 191. J
- (k) Where a guardian appointed, after the Court had satisfied itself as per rule 3, compromises a suit with the leave of the Court and a decree is passed according to the compromise, the decree can be set aside only upon the minor proving that there was fraud or collusion on the part of the guardian, and that the compromise entered into by him was prejudicial to the minor. 1 A.L.J. 180. K
- (2) Compromise without leave in proceedings under S. 89, T.P.A.

Where a decree was passed for sale of certain property, under S. 86 of the Transfer of Property Act, in accordance with a compromise entered into by the minor defendant's guardian without the leave of the Court, the propriety of the decree for want of such leave cannot be questioned in proceedings held under S. 89 of that Act for an order absolute, such proceedings being proceedings in execution of decree. 1 O.C. 49. F

4.—“Any such agreement..than the minor.”—(Concluded).

(3) Right to avoid compromise before majority.

A minor can avoid an improper compromise of suit on his behalf even before attaining majority. 3 Bom. L.R. 565; see, also, 26 B. 109 and 6 C. 687. M

(4) Compromise with leave of Court—When can be set aside.

(a) A compromise on behalf of an infant sanctioned by Court cannot be set aside on any ground, which would be insufficient to set aside a compromise between persons sui juris. 29 M. 58=16 M.L.J. 14. N

(b) When a suit by a minor represented by his next friend, was compromised, and it appeared that the minor had no separate interest from the adult members of the family, who took part in the compromise and assented to it, and the Court, having had its attention drawn to it, approved of it, expressly finding that the compromise was for the benefit of the minor, the compromise cannot be set aside. 34 C. 70=11 C.W.N. 178 =5 C.L.J. 175=17 M.L.J. 59=2 M.L.T. 165 (P.C.). O

(c) Where there has been a compromise with leave of the Court and a decree in accordance therewith, the compromise cannot be subsequently reopened by the Court proprio motu, on the ground that it gave the minor less property than he was entitled to under the decree. The modes in which such a decree can be impeached are by review or by suit. 23 B. 620. P

(d) Where a married woman who was appointed guardian ad litem for a minor defendant entered into a compromise with leave of the Court, and no collusion or fraud between such guardian and the plaintiff was proved, the compromise will not be set aside on the sole ground of the guardian ad litem having been a married woman. 29 M. 58=16 M.L.J. 14 Q

N.B.—A married woman could be a guardian ad litem under the present Act, and no objection on that score could, therefore, be raised.

8. (1) Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, a next friend shall not retire without first procuring a fit person Retirement of next friend. to be put in his place and giving security for the costs already incurred.

(2) The application for the appointment of a new next friend shall be supported by an affidavit showing the fitness of the person proposed, and also that he has no interest adverse to that of the minor.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 447 of the old Code.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words “at his own request” in the old Act, after the word “retire,” are omitted in the present Act.

9. (1) Where the interest of the next friend of a minor is adverse to that of the minor or where he is so connected with a defendant whose interest is adverse to that of the minor as to make it unlikely that the minor's interest will be properly protected by him, or where he does not do his duty¹, or, during the pendency of the suit, ceases to reside within British India, or for any other sufficient cause, application may be made on behalf of the minor or by a defendant for his removal; and the Court, if satisfied of the sufficiency of the cause assigned, may order the next friend to be removed accordingly, and make such other order as to costs as it thinks fit.

(2) Where the next friend is not a guardian appointed or declared by an authority competent in this behalf², and an application is made by a guardian so appointed or declared, who desires to be himself appointed in the place of the next friend, the Court shall remove the next friend unless it considers, for reasons to be recorded by it, that the guardian ought not to be appointed the next friend of the minor, and shall thereupon appoint the applicant to be next friend in his place upon such terms as to the costs already incurred in the suit as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 446 of Act XIV of 1882; only the provision "and make such other order as to costs as it thinks fit" at the end of the sub-rule is a new addition.

Sub-rule 2 is new.

The provision regarding costs is made in sub-rule (2) as it is thought expedient that where a guardian insists on his right to be appointed next friend in the place of another, there should be power to require him to become liable, or give security for costs in the suit previously incurred.

(General).

Applicability of the rule.

The provisions of S. 446 of the old Code are only applicable when a suit is pending. 4 O.C. 98. R

1.—"Or where he does not do his duty."

Where the Court finds that the next friend does not do his duty, it should not permit him to prejudice the interests of the minor, but adjourn the suit that some one interested in the minor may apply for the removal of the next friend and appointment of a new one, or that the minor himself may, on attaining majority, elect to proceed with the suit.

2.—“Where the next friend....in this behalf.”

A Hindu father has the power to appoint by his will a guardian of the person of his minor son. The words “a guardian appointed or declared by an authority competent in this behalf” apply also to guardians appointed or declared by the will of a Hindu father. 8 Bom. L.R. 522. See contra 9 Bom. L.R. 553=31 B. 413. T

10. (1) On the retirement, removal or death of the next friend of a minor, further proceedings shall be stayed until the appointment of a next friend in his place¹.
 Stay of proceedings on removal, etc., of next friend.

(2) Where the pleader of such minor omits, within a reasonable time, to take steps to get a new next friend appointed, any person interested in the minor or in the matter in issue may apply to the Court for the appointment of one, and the Court may appoint such person as it thinks fit.

(Notes).Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 448 of Act XIV of 1882; only the word “retirement” is newly added.

Sub-rule 2 corresponds to S. 449 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“On the retirement....in his place.”

(a) Where the Court allowed a suit to be instituted on behalf of two minors by a next friend, but subsequently suspecting that next friend as colluding with the opposite side revoked such permission and allowed the suit to be prosecuted by the elder of the two minors, a boy of 15 years, held, it was clearly the duty of the Court, when it saw reason to revoke the permission first granted to the next friend to proceed in the manner prescribed by r. 10. The appointment of one of the minors to conduct the suit is quite contrary to the provisions of this Order, and must, for the purposes of the suit, be treated as a nullity, and the minors were not therefore properly represented from the time the next friend was removed. 125 P.R. 1882. U

(b) Where a next friend was removed by Court, and one of the minor plaintiffs was allowed by the Court to prosecute the suit, though the defendants might have immediately applied for the plaint to be taken off the file, or for the Court to proceed as directed in r. 10, their omission to do so at the time would not prevent them from pressing the objection in second appeal, nor could it have the effect of giving validity to proceedings which the law did not permit. 125 P.R. 1882. Y

(c) Where the next friend of a minor appellant died during the pendency of an appeal, and the appeal was decreed in his favour without any person being appointed to act as his next friend, the omission was a mere irregularity, and the decree should not be disturbed on that account.

11. (1) Where the guardian for the suit desires to retire or does not do his duty, or where other sufficient ground is made to appear, the Court may permit such guardian to retire or may remove him¹, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit.

(2) Where the guardian for the suit retires, dies or is removed by the Court during the pendency of the suit, the Court shall appoint a new guardian in his place.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 458 of Act XIV of 1882 which was as follows :—

“ If the guardian for the suit of a minor defendant does not do his duty, or if other sufficient ground be made to appear, the Court may remove him, and may order him to pay such costs as may have been occasioned to any party by his breach of duty.”

Sub-rule 2 corresponds to S. 459 of Act XIV of 1882 which was as follows .—

“ If the guardian for the suit dies pending such suit or is removed by the Court, the Court shall appoint a new guardian in his place.”

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) The word “ retire ” in sub-rule (1) is a new addition. The old S. 458 did not contain any provision regarding the retirement of a guardian.
- (2) Instead of “ and may order . . . breach of duty,” the clause “ and may make . . . thinks fit ” is substituted.
- (3) The word “ retires ” in sub-rule 2 is also a new addition.

1.—“ The Court may . . . remove him.”

- (a) When a guardian ad litem has once been appointed, his appointment enures for the whole of the lis in the course of which it has been made, unless and until it is revoked by the Court ; but if the minor to whom such guardian is appointed prays for his removal, and for the substitution of a guardian named by the minor, the Court will appoint the guardian so named, in the absence of any special and valid objection to such person. 14 A. 85=11 A.W.N. 192. See, also, 1 N.L.R. 128.X
- (b) If the guardian for the suit of a minor defendant does not do his duty, or if other sufficient ground be made to appear, the Court will remove him. The application in such cases should be made on behalf of the infant by some person named as guardian pro hac vice, such person usually being the person whom it is desired to substitute as next friend or guardian. In case of emergency, the pleader acting for the minor may make the application. 1 N.L.R. 128. Y

Course to be followed by minor plaintiff or applicant on attaining majority.

12. (1) A minor plaintiff or a minor not a party to a suit on whose behalf an application is pending shall, on attaining majority, elect whether he will proceed with the suit or application.

(2) Where he elects to proceed with the suit or application, he shall apply for an order discharging the next friend and for leave to proceed in his own name.

(3) The title of the suit or application shall in such case be corrected so as to read thenceforth thus :—

“ A. B., late a minor, by C. D., his next friend, but now having attained majority.”

(4) Where he elects to abandon the suit or application, he shall, if a sole plaintiff or sole applicant, apply for an order to dismiss the suit or application on repayment of the costs incurred by the defendant or opposite party or which may have been paid by his next friend.

(5) Any application under this rule may be made ex parte : but no order discharging a next friend and permitting a minor plaintiff to proceed in his own name shall be made without notice to the next friend.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 450 ; sub-rules 2 and 3 to S. 451 ; sub-rule 4 to S. 452 ; and sub-rule 5 to S. 453 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) In sub-rule 1 instead of “ on coming of age,” the expression “ on attaining majority ” is used in the present Act.
- (2) In sub-rule (3) instead of “ of full age,” the expression “ having attained majority ” is substituted in the new Act.
- (3) In sub-rule (4) the expression “ opposite party ” is used in the present Act for “ respondent ” in the old section.
- (4) Instead of “ but no order . . . next friend ” in the new Act, S. 453 of the old Act had “ and it must be proved by affidavit that the late minor has attained his full age.” Thus what is required in the new Act is a notice to the next friend on record who may contest the application or not as he chooses, while the old Act wanted proof of the fact of the minor attaining majority by means of an affidavit. Under the old Act, no notice to the existing next friend was necessary.

- 13. (1) Where a minor co-plaintiff on attaining majority desires to repudiate the suit, he shall apply to have his name struck out as co-plaintiff ; and the Court, if it finds that he is not a necessary party, shall dismiss him from the suit on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

Where minor co-plaintiff attaining majority desires to repudiate suit.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on the next friend, on any co-plaintiff and on the defendant.

(3) The costs of all parties of such application, and of all or any proceedings theretofore had in the suit, shall be paid by such persons as the Court directs.

(4) Where the applicant is a necessary party to the suit, the Court may direct him to be made a defendant.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 454 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) Instead of "where a minor..the suit" in sub-rule 1, the old section had "A minor co-plaintiff on coming of age, and desiring to repudiate the suit."
- (2) "On any co-plaintiff" in sub-rule (2) is a new addition.
- (3) The clause "and it must be proved by affidavit that the late minor has attained his full age," occurring in the old Act after the provision regarding notice, is omitted in the new Act.
- (4) The word "applicant" is used in sub-rule 4 of the new Act instead of "the late minor" in the old Act.

14. (1) A minor on attaining majority may, if a sole plaintiff, Unreasonable or apply that a suit instituted in his name by a next improper suit. friend be dismissed on the ground that it was unreasonable or improper.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on all the parties concerned; and the Court, upon being satisfied of such unreasonableness or impropriety, may grant the application and order the next friend to pay the costs of all parties in respect of the application and of anything done in the suit, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 455 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) Sub-rule 1 has been recast. The first para of the old section to which it corresponds ran thus:—If any minor, on attaining majority, can prove, to the satisfaction of the Court, that a suit instituted in his name, by a next friend was unreasonable or improper, he may, if a sole plaintiff, apply to have the suit dismissed.
- (2) The provision "or make such other order as it thinks fit" in the concluding portion of sub-rule (2) is a new addition.

15. The provisions contained in rules 1 to 14, so far as they are applicable, shall extend to persons adjudged to be of unsound mind and to persons who though not so adjudged are found by the Court on inquiry, by reason of unsoundness of mind or mental infirmity, to be incapable of protecting their interests when suing or being sued¹.

Application of rules to persons of unsound mind.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 463 of Act XIV of 1882, which was as follows.—

“The provisions contained in Ss. 440 to 462 (both inclusive) shall, mutatis mutandis, apply in the case of persons of unsound mind, adjudged to be so under Act No. XXXV of 1858, or under any other law for the time being in force.”

Difference between the old Act and the new.

While the provisions of the old Act applied only to persons adjudged to be of unsound mind, the present Act applies also to persons, not so adjudged, but found to be, in fact, of unsound mind.

(General).

Application of this rule.

This rule is extended so as to cover the case of a person incapacitated from protecting his interests by reason of his mental weakness or of his being a deaf mute. (Select Committee's Report).

1.—“Persons who though not so adjudged....being sued.”

- (a) Civil Courts have power, in suits brought by, or against, unadjudged lunatics, to enquire into the fact of the unsoundness of mind of the party and order the appointment of a next friend or guardian, as the case may be. 31 P.R. 1905=54 P.L.R. 1905; see, also, 20 A. 2; 23 B. 653; 24 M. 504; 7 C. 242; U.B.R. (1905), Civil Procedure, 80; see contra 13 P.R. 1896. Z
- (b) As the right of suit against a lunatic is unquestionable, in the absence of any provision in the Code for suing persons of unsound mind, not adjudged lunatics, the Court should appoint a fit and proper person to be guardian ad litem, on proof that the defendant was a lunatic. 24 M. 504. See, also, 20 A. 2=17 A.W.N. 155. A
- (c) Where a person is admitted or has been proved, to be of unsound mind, whether adjudged a lunatic under Act XXXV of 1858 or not, he has the right to sue through his next friend, provided that what is done is clearly for his benefit. 3 L.B.R. 169; see, also, 20 A. 2; 23 B. 653; see, also, 13 B. 656. B
- (d) It is not open to a Court to permit a suit to be brought in the name of an alleged lunatic through a next friend, unless and until the said plaintiff has been formally adjudged to be of unsound mind, under Act XXXV of 1858 or some other law for the time being in force. 13 P.R. 1896. See, also, 91 P.R. 1887. C

N.B.—Under the new Act, provision is made for the appointment of guardian or next friend to an unadjudged lunatic also.

16. Nothing in this Order shall apply to a Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief suing or being sued in the name of his State, or being sued by direction of the Governor-General in Council or a Local Government in the name of an agent or in any other name, or shall be construed to affect or in any way derogate from the provisions of any local law for the time being in force relating to suits by or against minors or by or against lunatics or other persons of unsound mind.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 464 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

The clause " or shall be construed....unsound mind " is newly added in the present Act.

The second para of S. 464 of the old Act, viz., " nothing in Ss. 442 to 462 applies to any minor or person of unsound mind for whose person or property a guardian or manager has been appointed by the Court of Wards, or by the Civil Court under any local law " is omitted in the new Act. But see sub-rule 2 of rule 4 of this Order.

ORDER XXXIII.

SUITS BY PAUPERS.

1. Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted¹ by a pauper².

Suits may be instituted in forma pauperis.

³ Explanation—A person is a " pauper " when he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fee prescribed by law for the plaint in such suit, or, where no such fee is prescribed, when he is not entitled to property worth one hundred rupees other than his necessary wearing-apparel and the subject-matter of the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

O. XXXIII, r. 1, corresponds almost wholly with S. 401 of the old Act of 1882. But the words " provisions " and " instituted " have been now substituted in the first para of r. 1 for the words " rules " and " brought " respectively in the first para of S. 401 of the old Act. The marginal note too has been changed by substituting " instituted " for " brought."

1.—" Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted."

1.—General.

(1) General principle of chapter.

- (a) The general intention of the chapter relating to pauper suits apparently is that no person should be declared a pauper, who has at his disposal sufficient means to proceed. 10 B. 207 (209). D
- b) The conditions of pauperism being different, (1) when the plaint requires a Court-fee, and (2) when none is required, the intention in both the cases is the same, viz., to fix a certain sum as the measure of the pauperism—in one case the institution fee and in the other case Rs. 100—and to provide that, if the petitioner has not this sum at his disposal, he will be exempt from Court-fees; if he has it, he is held to have the means of proceeding, and is not allowed the privilege of pauperism. Ibid, (p. 210). E

1.—“Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted.”—(Continued)

1.—General—(Concluded).

(2) Provisions to be strictly construed.

It is a privilege to sue as a pauper, so that the provisions, under which this privilege is claimed, must be somewhat strictly construed. 10 B 207 (210). F

(3) Conditions to be observed by person seeking to sue as pauper.

A person, who applies for leave to sue as a pauper, must make out that he has a good subsisting prima facie cause of action, capable of enforcement in Court and calling for an answer. 11 O.C. 67. See, also, 4 M L.T. 302 (303). G

(4) When petitioner will not be divested of the privilege.

General and vague statements as to the petitioner, who comes into Court to sue in forma pauperis, cannot be regarded as adequate to divest him of a remedy that, on proof of pauperism, the law would award him. 10 A. 467 (471). H

(5) Duty of Court dealing with question of pauperism.

- (i) The exact definition of the word “pauper,” as contained in the explanation, should be consulted.
- (ii) In dealing with the weight of evidence in the case, the Court should be clear as to the exact person on whom the onus probandi as to pauperism lies.
- (iii) The Court should also be clear as to the requisites of legal proof, before an alleged pauperism, supported, as it necessarily must be, by a duly verified statement, can be held not to have been made out.
- (iv) The Court should not mix up considerations as to the likelihood or the chance of the plaintiff's success in the suit, as an element in guiding its decision as to whether or not the petitioner is a pauper.
- (v) The Court should also find clearly whether such additional property, as might be proved to belong to the plaintiff, was sufficient to pay the fee prescribed by law within the meaning of the explanation, before disallowing him the privilege of suing in forma pauperis. 10 A. 467 (470).
- (vi) It ought to ascertain the exact property, its market value and the title thereto, and then to deal with the case under S. 407 (=O. XXXIII, r. 5, infra), irrespective of any surmises as to the reason why the plaintiff has valued his claim at a high figure. Ibid., p. 472.
- (vii) A Court can also decide whether, if the petitioner's pauperism is established, his case falls under any of the other clauses of the enactment. (Ibid.). I

2.—Institution of suit.

(1) Continuation in forma pauperis of suit not so instituted originally.

The power, which is undoubtedly in the Court, of allowing a suit to be instituted in forma pauperis, includes also the power to allow one not so instituted to be continued in that form. 2 C. 130 (131); followed in 20 C. 319 (321) and 8 B. 615. J

1.—“Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted.”—(Concluded).

2.—Institution of suit—(Concluded).

(2) Defence in forma pauperis.

- (a) A defendant may be allowed to defend a suit in forma pauperis, despite the absence of any provision in the C.P. Code to that effect. 5 C. 819 (820)=6 C.L.R. 120, referred to in 20 C. 319. But see infra. K
- (b) There being no provision in the Code for such a course, defendants could not defend suits in forma pauperis. 54 P.R. 1905=121 P.L.R. 1905, 5 C. 819=5 C.L.R. 120, D). L

2.—“By a pauper.”

(1) Pauper, definition of.

- (a) S. 401 (=O. XXXIII, r. 1) shows that a person is a pauper, when he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fees prescribed by law for the plaint. 8 Bom.L.R. 642 (644). M
- (b) Hence, where a woman had jewels worth Rs. 1,600, while the Court-fee prescribed was Rs. 1,775, she was held to be a pauper, even if what she possessed could properly be taken into account. (Ibid). N

(2) Persons entitled to bring suits in forma pauperis.

- (a) The generality of the provisions contained in S. 401 (=r. 1), embraces minors as well as persons of full age. 3 M. 3 (4). O
- (b) A suit can be brought in forma pauperis by a minor's next friend, who is also a pauper. 11 B.L.R. 373. P
- (c) The English rule of practice of not allowing a minor to institute a suit through his next friend in forma pauperis, unless he gives proof not only that he is himself a pauper, but that the next friend is also a pauper, and that he cannot get any substantial person to act as next friend, is not to be found in the C.P. Code, and the circumstance that such next friend is possessed of means will not disentitle a minor to sue as a pauper. 3 M. 8 (4), referring to Lindsey v. Tyrrell, 24 Beav. 124 and 11 B.L.R. 373. Q
- (d) A Court need not inquire whether an alleged representative of an acknowledged pauper is, or is not also, a pauper and, if satisfied that he is the legal representative, ought to admit him to carry on the suit. 3 W.R. (Mis.), 20. R
- (e) Persons holding a fiduciary character, as, the administrator of the estate of a deceased person, may sue in forma pauperis under the Civ. Pro. Code, though not under the English rule. 7 M. 390 (391). S
- (f) Where an executor is not in, and could not get, possession of the property of his testator, so as to be able to pay the necessary fees, and where he himself has no money wherewith he could take the necessary steps, a proper case is made out for granting leave to prosecute a petition for, and to obtain, probate of a will in forma pauperis. 18 B. 237 (239). T
- (g) A person, who has obtained leave, under S. 18, Religious Endowments Act, 1863, to institute a suit against the trustees of certain religious institutions, is not precluded, by Chap. XXVI of the Civ. Pro. Code (=O. XXXIII), from suing as a pauper. 24 M. 419 (421). U

2.—“By a pauper.”—(Concluded).

- (h) As to whether a Hindu father's wealth will preclude a son from bringing a suit to prove his adoption, and whether a husband's wealth will prevent his wife from suing in forma pauperis when she cannot claim from him the means of prosecuting the suit, see A.A. and W., C.P.C., pp. 113-4. Y

(3) Failure of guardian's suit—Costs.

A guardian suing in forma pauperis for a minor ought not, on rejection of the suit, to be saddled with costs. 25 W.R. 316. W

4) Objection to right of pauper's representative to sue in forma pauperis.

Where, on the death of a plaintiff in a pauper suit, during its pendency, the Court decreed it in ignorance of his death, and in an appeal by the defendant, to which a lady, alleged to be the legal representative of the deceased, was made a respondent, an order by consent was passed, in pursuance of which the suit was retried and decreed for the plaintiff, the defendant was held incompetent to object that no enquiry had been held as to the representative's right to sue in forma pauperis. 25 A. 137 (138)=A.W.N. (1902), 206 (207). X

3.—“Explanation.”

(1) Test of “sufficient means.”

- (a) Money that may be borrowed on the strength of his claim in a suit, which a person is seeking permission to institute in forma pauperis, cannot be regarded as property in the possession of such person, so as to disentitle him to sue in forma pauperis. 13 A.W.N. 11. Y
- (b) A man cannot be expected to raise money on a claim in litigation (as by mortgaging it), and, if that is his only asset, he cannot be described as a person possessed of “sufficient means” to enable him to pay the fee prescribed by law. 3 M. 249, referred to in 8 Bom.L.R. 671 (675). Z

(2) Construction of expression, “other than, etc.,” in Explanation.

- (a) The words “other than his necessary wearing apparel and the subject-matter of the suit,” in the explanation, do not qualify that part of the explanation which requires, that the person should not be possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fee prescribed by law, but only the condition that the applicant is not worth one hundred rupees. 8 Bom.L.R. 671 (674)=30 B. 598. A
- (b) Still, the words of the earlier condition may in many cases operate to exclude the subject-matter of the suit from consideration. 8 Bom. L.R. 671 (674-5), referring to 3 M. 249. B
- (c) In an application for permission to sue as paupers, the opponents produced some of the articles claimed, valued at Rs. 100, and deposited them in Court, admitting them to be the property of the applicants, who, while they acknowledged the property to be theirs, declined to take possession of them. Held that the articles in Court were property other than the subject-matter of the suit, and that the applicants were no paupers. 10 B. 207 (210). C

(3) Subject-matter of suit, when determined.

The “subject-matter of the suit” is not determined, until after the inquiry, under Ss. 408 and 409 (= rr. 6 and 7), into the petitioner's pauperism is completed, and during that stage there is no plaint and consequently no suit. 10 B. 207 (209). C 1

3.—“Explanation.”—(Concluded).(4) Facts to be excluded or considered in deciding question of pauperism.

(a) Any facts brought out in the previous inquiry, under Ss. 408 and 409 (= rr. 6 and 7), must be taken into account, and any property proved not to be in litigation cannot reasonably be held to be part of the claim. 10 B. 207 (209). D

(b) In deciding whether a plaintiff is a pauper or not, only such property in his possession as did not form part of the subject-matter of the suit should be taken into consideration, and such property in his possession as formed part of the ancestral property, for the division of which the suit is instituted, should be excluded from the calculation. 99 P.R. 1882. E

(5) Ground of excluding the subject-matter of suit from calculation.

(a) The real—is because it is presumably out of the petitioner's reach, and cannot be made use of by him to carry on his litigation. 10 B. 207 (210). F

(b) But where a portion of the property is freely at his disposal, there is no reason for excluding it from the reckoning. (Ibid). G

(6) Proof of property claimed being in plaintiff's possession, nature of.

Where it is sought to make out that what the plaintiff claims in the suit, as being in the possession of the defendant, is really in the plaintiff's possession, the clearest evidence should be adduced, and ordinarily it would not be sufficient to rely on presumptions of a vague character. 8 Bom. L.R. 671 (675). H

(7) Procedure where property claimed is in applicant's possession.

If it be found that a part of the subject-matter of the suit is in the applicant's possession, then, it should be distinctly determined how far the possession of that part of the subject-matter can be regarded as possession of sufficient means to enable the applicant to pay the Court-fee on the plaint. 8 Bom. L.R. 671 (675). I

(8) Merits of the case not to be gone into.

In adjudicating on the issue as to pauperism, the Courts should avoid encroaching on the merits of the case. 17 P.R. 1900; cf. 4 M. 323. J

(9) Order giving leave to sue for portion of claim only—Validity.

Under the belief that an applicant would probably succeed only as to a part of his claim, a Court permitted him to sue as pauper for such amount only and refused leave for the remainder, though it found that, as a matter of fact, he was unable to pay the Court-fees on the claim as stated in the plaint. Held, that the Court was bound to allow the applicant to sue for the whole amount in forma pauperis. 81 P.R. 1881. K

(10) Cross-appeal against decree denying portion of pauper's claim.

An in forma pauperis plaintiff, succeeding as to a portion of his claim, cannot, on the defendant's appeal, file a cross appeal in forma pauperis, regarding that portion of his claim denied in the Court below. 11 C. 735 (737), followed in 1 N.L.R. 33 (35). See, also, 1 B. 75 and 8 M. 214.L

(11) S. 402 of the Code of 1882 omitted from new Code.

“The Committee have not preserved S. 402. In the light of the Case-law it is misleading, so far as it suggests that a suit will lie for loss of caste or abusive language, and they can see no sufficient reason for withholding from a pauper a right to sue as such in respect of defamation or assault.” See Statement of Objects and Reasons, Special Committee's Report, dated 8-9-1907. M

2. Every application for permission to sue as a pauper shall contain the particulars required in regard to Contents of application. complaints in suits : a schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the applicant, with the estimated value thereof, shall be annexed thereto ; and it shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed for the signing and verification of pleadings.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 408 of the old Act, and differs from that section only in its terser language. Instead of the term "the application" in the old Code, the new rule opens with the expression "every application." "Sue by" is changed into "sue as," the expression "shall be in writing" in the old Code has been omitted ; and for the last word "complaints" in the old, "pleadings" has been substituted in the new.

Verification of application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis.

An application for permission to appeal as a pauper, under S. 592 of the old Code (=O. XLIV, r. 1), without a schedule of any moveable and immoveable property belonging to the applicant, with the estimated value thereof, and not verified in the manner prescribed by law for the verification of complaints, was rejected. 11 O.C. 19 (20), following A.W. N. (1895), 84. M 1

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, the Presentation of application. application shall be presented to the Court by the applicant in person, unless he is exempted from appearing in Court¹, in which case the application may be presented by an authorized agent who can answer all material questions relating to the application, and who may be examined in the same manner as the party represented by him might have been examined had such party attended in person².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is similar in language to S. 404 of the old Code, with a few changes that are noted below :

- (i) The expression "these rules" has been substituted for "S. 36", appearing in the old. (ii) The expression "under S. 640 or S. 641" has been omitted in this rule.

1.—"Notwithstanding anything..exempted from appearing in Court."

(1) Personal appearance imperative.

The provisions of the rule regarding personal appearance are imperative.
 4 B.H.C. (A.C.), 91. N

(2) Scope of rule.

An application to sue as a pauper must be made to the Court by the applicant in person, unless he is exempted under S. 640 or 641 (=S. 132 or 133 of the new Code) from appearing; only in the case of persons so exempted can the application be presented by a duly authorised agent. 10 M. 193 (194). O

(3) Appeal in forma pauperis also to be presented in person, except in the exempted cases.

An appeal in forma pauperis must be presented by the appellant in person, save in the cases exempted by S. 404 of the old Code (=r. 3, O. XXXIII), and the provisions of S. 404 (=r. 3) do apply to the provisions of S. 592, old Code (=O. XLIV, r. 1)—Per Brandt, J. 8 M. 504 (505-6). P

N.B.—(The words in O. XLIV, r. 1, have been added to avoid the conclusion arrived at by the Madras High Court in 26 M. 369 (370), per Bhashyam Ayyangar and Moore, J.J. in dissent from the view of Brandt, J. above cited). Q

(4) Application by several paupers—Personal appearance.

The mere fact that several paupers jointly present an application cannot authorise a Court to entertain it on behalf of applicants, who do not appear in person. 10 M. 193 (194). R

(5) Exemption from appearance in Court.

This rule (=old S. 404) was held to be inapplicable to a plaintiff, a Khatiri woman of Nadaon, who was exempted (under S. 640 of the old Code = S. 132, new Code) from personal appearance in Court. 19 P.R. 1899. S

Limitation.

(1) Evidence for deciding question of limitation.

A Court has jurisdiction to determine the question of limitation and, for that purpose, it may take evidence. 4 M.L.T. 302 (303). T

(2) Limitation for application to substitute heirs of deceased opponent.

Neither Art. 171-B of the Limitation Act, nor any other provision of law, applying to an enquiry into a claim to sue in forma pauperis, a plaintiff was held not bound to apply within any particular time for the substitution of the name of the heir of a deceased opponent in place of such deceased. 7 B. 373 (376). U

(3) Application for leave to sue for dower in forma pauperis—Cause of action.

When a Mahomedan lady applied for leave to sue her husband in forma pauperis for her dower, and the application was rejected, it did not constitute a demand for prompt dower sufficient to set the period of limitation running. 24 W.R. 163 (167) (P.C.)=2 I.A. 235=15 B.L.R. 306. V

(4) When pauper suit commences for purposes of limitation.

(a) A pauper suit commences, for the purpose of limitation, when the plaint is presented to the Court, and not merely at the date of its allowance. 4 B.H.C.R. (A.C.), 39 (40); see, also, 4 A. 37 and 9 M.I.A. 94. W

Limitation—(Continued).

- (b) A suit is instituted in the case of a pauper, who, before the inquiry into the pauperism is finished, pays the Court-fees required on his plaint, when his application to sue as a pauper is filed, if he is found to be a pauper at the time he filed the application. 4 O.C. 250 (251), distinguishing 2 A. 241 and 24 C. 889 and referring to 18 A. 206. See, also, 78 P.R. 1906=150 P.L.R. 1906. X
- (c) A pauper must be held to have instituted his suit, not when he paid in full the Court-fee, but on the date when he filed his application for leave to sue as a pauper. 59 P.R. 1908. Y

(Notes).

Old Act.

Changes in this rule of the new Code corresponding with S. 406 of the old Code, are :—

In para 1, the words “be,” “Judge,” “he,” and “petitioner” appearing in the old Code have been replaced in this rule by the words “is,” “Court,” “it” and “applicant,” respectively.

- (1) Object of rule.

The Code directs the examination of an applicant for leave to sue in forma pauperis regarding the merits of his claim, that it may be ascertained whether his allegations show a right to sue or not. 4 M. 323 (324). R

- (2) Judge to inquire personally.

An inquiry under this provision should be made by the Judge himself, and not by the Shastri of the Court. 1 B.H.C.R. 102 (108). (N.B.—Case decided under Ss. 305 and 306 of Act VIII of 1859). S

- (3) Not witnesses but applicant should be examined.

In deciding on the issue of pauperism, a Subordinate Judge examined upon a question of limitation, not the petitioner, but other witnesses summoned for an entirely different purpose; held, he had exceeded his jurisdiction. 25 W.R. 74. T

- (3-a) Court has discretion to allow evidence on any point justifying it in rejecting petition.

Where a defendant, on the day fixed for hearing evidence as to pauperism, brings to the notice of the Court any ground on which it would be bound to refuse to admit a petition to sue as a pauper, held, that it was discretionary with the Court to admit or refuse evidence of such ground 11 B.L.R. Ap. 23, note. U

- (3-b) Defendant allowed on plaintiff's examination to show that plaintiff had no cause of action.

At the hearing of an application to sue as a pauper, under S. 306 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court allowed the defendant to show, by the examination of the plaintiff, that, on the facts stated in the petition, there was no cause of action, but the Court refused to allow other witnesses to be called for the purpose. 11 B.L.R. Ap. 23. Y

- (4) No refusal for want of merits.

The law does not direct the refusal of an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis by reason that the Court is not satisfied of the existence of merits, especially where the applicant is found to be a pauper whose allegations show a right to sue. 4 M. 323 (324), cf. 4 M.L.T. 302. W

- (5) Bare allegations of applicant not to be made the basis of a decision on merits of claim.

(a) The mere statements in the plaint, which accompanies an application for leave to sue as a pauper, cannot be accepted as the sole materials, on which a decision, as to whether the applicant's allegations do or do not show a right to sue, can depend. 20 A. 299 (301). X

(b) If the allegations in the plaint were the sole matters to be looked to and the applicant was admittedly a pauper, the granting of an application to sue as a pauper would depend, not on whether he had any merits to go upon, but on the skill of the person who drafted his petition and plaint, and the examination as to the merits under S. 406 (=r. 4) would be superfluous. (Ibid). Y

Rejection of application.

5. The Court shall reject an application for permission to sue as a pauper ¹—

² (a) where it is not framed and presented in the manner prescribed by rules 2 and 3, or

³ (b) where the applicant is not a pauper, or

(c) where he has, within two months next before the presentation of the application, disposed of any property fraudulently or in order to be able to apply for permission to sue as a pauper, or

⁴ (d) where his allegations do not show a cause of action, or

⁵ (e) where he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the proposed suit under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule embodies in substance the provisions of Ss. 405 and 407 of the old Code, with a few verbal alterations.—

- (a) The article "an" and the phrase "for permission to sue as a pauper" in the first para of the rule are new.
- (b) The clauses all commence with the word "where."
- (c) For the expression "If the application be not" in S. 405 of the old Code, cl. (a) substitutes the expression "where it is not."
- (d) The disjunctive "or" in S. 405 of the old Code, between "framed" and "presented," has given place to "and" in cl. (a) of the rule.
- (e) Clause (c) of the rule substitutes the phrase "in order to be able to apply for permission to sue as a pauper" for the phrase "with a view to obtain the benefit of this chapter" in S. 407 (b) of the old Code.
- (f) The words "shew a right to sue in such Court" in S. 407 (c) of the old Code have been replaced in cl. (d) of the rule by the words "cause of action."

1.—"The Court shall reject..pauper."

(1) Scope of rule.

- (a) S. 407 (=r. 5) declares in what cases the application to sue in forma pauperis shall be rejected. 4 M. 323 (324). Z
- (b) S. 407 (=r. 5) declares the grounds on which, after examination of the applicant, the Court shall reject the application. If none of these grounds appear, i.e., should the applicant make out satisfactory prima facie grounds for calling on the proposed defendant to show cause against his application, then notices are to issue and the way is paved for the formal hearing mentioned later on, where the question of the applicant's pauperism is determined. 7 A. 661 (663) (F.B.). A
- (c) Under S. 407 (=r. 5), an applicant must make out that he has a good subsisting cause of action, capable of enforcement in Court, and calling for an answer and not barred by the law of limitation or any other law. 7 A. 661 (664) (F.B.). See, also, 4 M.L.T. 302 (303). B
- (d) If res judicata or limitation should bar the cause of action, an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis must fail. 19 M. 197 (198). C
- (e) The power conferred on the Court by S. 407, of rejecting an application after having ascertained the merits of the claim, is limited to the conditions prescribed by the various clauses of the section. 7 A. 661 (666) (F.B.). D
- (f) So, an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis to recover the assets of a deceased person should not be dismissed on the ground that the applicant had obtained no succession certificate, and a revision will lie against such a dismissal. 16 M. 454 (455). E
- (g) The proceedings of Ss. 405 and 407 (=r. 5) are of a preliminary character. 7 A. 661 (664) (F.B.). F

(2) Provision must be construed strictly.

The provisions of S. 407 (=r. 5) must be interpreted strictly, because they operate in derogation of the right which every litigant has to seek the aid of the Court. 7 A. 661 (668) (F.B.). G

1.—“The Court shall reject..pauper.’—(Continued).(3) Analogy between application to sue in forma pauperis and a suit.

The strongest possible analogy exists between an application to sue in forma pauperis and an ordinary plaint, consequently making the rejection of such applications fall under the same category of adjudications as the rejection of an ordinary plaint. 7 A. 661 (667) (F.B.). H

(4) Pauperism—Nature.

The question of pauperism is not a point in the cause; it is a mere matter of procedure. Per Sir M.E. Smith. 2 A. 241 (245) (P.C.) I

(5) Court not bound by allegations in application.

4 M. 323 does not lay down that the Court is bound by the allegations in the application and can hold no inquiry whatsoever as to whether there is any foundation for those allegations or not. 19 M. 197 (198). J

(6) Even if allegations in application are true, Court is not bound to give leave.

A Judge is not bound to give leave to sue in forma pauperis, if the allegations made by the petitioners were such that, if true, they would show a good cause of action. 27 M. 120 (121), (20 A. 399 and 27 M. 37, F.). K

(7) Court may refuse leave at any stage.

Where the grounds stated in S. 904 (C.P. Code of 1859 corresponding to the present rule) appear, the Court is bound to refuse an application to sue as a pauper; but if the Court see no reason to refuse, and fix a day for hearing evidence on the question of pauperism, and, upon such further hearing, if the opponent should bring to notice any ground upon which the Court would have been bound to refuse the application, it would be at the discretion of the Court, upon being informed, to refuse leave. 14 W.R. 281 (282). L

(8) When order of rejection should be made.

An order of rejection under S. 407 (=r. 5) has to be made on preliminary grounds, before notice is issued and before any enquiry is held into the applicant's pauperism. 20 B. 86 (94). M

(9) Court issuing notice to defendant without preliminary enquiry.

A Court, without holding any enquiry under S. 405 or S. 407 (=rr. 4 and 5) into an application to sue as pauper, issued notice to the defendant fixing a date for the parties to give evidence, but, on that date, it dismissed the application on the ground of limitation. The omission to proceed under Ss. 406 and 407 was held to be a material irregularity. 130 P.R. 1894. N

(10) Estoppel on question of jurisdiction.

(a) A pauper application to sue in a Subordinate Judge's Court having been opposed on the ground of over-valuation, it was renewed successfully in the Munsiff's Court, which gave a decree for the plaintiff. The defendant was held to be estopped from raising the question of jurisdiction on appeal, as it was at his objection that the original application to the Subordinate Judge was rejected. 22 W.R. 120 (121). O

(b) Where, after consideration of an application for leave to sue as a pauper, the Court of the first instance has allowed the suit to be instituted in forma pauperis and has passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff, it is not open to the defendant in appeal to question the propriety of the first Court's order permitting the plaintiff to sue as a pauper. (1901) A.W.N. 104 (105)=23 A. 364 (365). P

1.—“The Court shall reject..pauper.”—(Concluded).(11) Right of Court admitting pauper application to make order as to costs.

A Court admitted a plaint in forma pauperis, but, holding it had no jurisdiction to try the suit, returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court and ordered each party to bear his own costs. Held, that it had no jurisdiction to order the plaintiff to pay the Court-fees. 6 B. 590 (591-592). Q

(12) Final disposal of case under rule.

In hearing pauper petitions, where the facts are clear and the law evident, no injustice is likely to occur from finally disposing of the case in the inquiry under Chap. 26 of the old Code (= O. XXXIII of the new Code). 13 B. 126 (128). R

(13) Court should exercise some caution.

The Court is bound to exercise a measure of caution, because the pauper is often without the advantage of the aid of counsel, and it is evident that the summary mode may, in cases of any complexity, lead to important facts not being elicited or explained. 13 B. 126 (128). S

(14) Benefit of doubt.

In a case where there is ground for reasonable doubt, leave should be granted and not refused. 19 M. 197 (198) and 4 M.L.T. 302 (303). T

2.—“Clause (a).”Omission to fill up schedule—Effect.

An omission to enter all the applicant's property in the schedule filed by him is no ground for rejecting an application to sue as pauper. 27 P.R. 1887. U

3.—“Clause (b).”Merits of case and probability of success not to be considered.

(a) In an application for permission to sue in forma pauperis for damages for malicious prosecution, the Court below refused it, as the suit was not maintainable. The question as to the maintainability of the suit relating to the merits of the case was held to be one that ought not to have been gone into, under S. 409, in the Court below, which was directed to hold a fresh enquiry and make a fresh order under the section. 3 L.B.R. 243 (249-250), referring to 26 M. 506, 8 C.W.N. 70 and 9 Bur. L.R. 130. Y

(b) An application for leave to sue as a pauper should not be rejected on the ground that the plaintiff may not prove his claim to the Court's satisfaction, the true point being whether he has a prima facie right to sue. 25 P.R. 1885. W

(c) A Court cannot decide what prospect an applicant has of success on the merits. If the plaint disclosed a claim cognizable by the Court, it should not go farther. 122 P.R. 1886. See, also, 155 P.R. 1888. X

(d) A Court is not competent, in an enquiry into the pauperism of an applicant for leave to sue as pauper, to go into the question of the probable result of the applicant's suit, if leave be granted, that suit not being prima facie barred by any rule of law; and a revision will lie against a rejection based merely on this ground. 13 A.W.N. 218. Y

(e) Where the lower Court found the applicant to be a pauper, but rejected his application on the ground that he had not made out a prima facie case entitling him to sue as a pauper, held, that this was a proper case for revision. 8 A.W.N. 150. Z

4.—“Clause (d).”

Scope of clause.

- (a) Cl. (c) of S. 407 (=r. 5) was held not to refer solely to a question of jurisdiction, but to make it obligatory on the applicant to show that he has a good subsisting cause of action capable of enforcement. 27 M. 37 (40), following 20 A. 299. See, also, 19 M. 197 (198). A

N.B.—(Note the modification of the language of cl. (d) of r. 5, probably as the result of 7 A. 661 and 27 M. 37). See, also, 4 M.L.T. 307. B

- (b) Under S. 409, para (2), a Court is bound to hear any argument that the parties might desire to offer on the question whether the plaintiff's allegations do not show a right to sue in the Court, but that question should not be treated as a wider one than it really is. 8 L.B.R. (249). C

5.—“Clause (e).”

Agreement within cl. (e) of rule.

- (a) A plaintiff, intending to sue for redemption of a village, agreed to give his vakil a lump sum of Rs. 1,500, and, as a security against any default, he authorised the vakil to realise it out of the revenues of the village. The agreement was held to fall within the language of cl. (d) of S. 407 [=cl. (e) of r. 5]. 9 B. 371 (372). D

- (b) Where, at the date of the institution of a suit, there was a subsisting agreement falling within the terms of S. 407 (d) [=cl. (e), r. 5], leave to appeal in forma pauperis will not be granted to a plaintiff who, by such agreement, had allowed other parties to acquire an interest in the subject-matter of the suit at the time of the presentation of the appeal. 30 M. 547 (548)=17 M.L.J. 447. E

6. Where the Court sees no reason to reject the application on any of the grounds stated in rule 5, it shall fix a day (of which at least ten days' clear notice shall be given to the opposite party and the Government pleader) for receiving such evidence as the applicant may adduce in proof of his pauperism, and for hearing any evidence which may be adduced in disproof thereof.

Notice of day for receiving evidence of applicant's pauperism.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 408 of the old Code.

The only alteration of importance in rule 6 is the substitution of “clear” for “previous” in the provision as to notice; the rest being purely verbal, “where” being substituted for “if” at the opening of the section, and “reject” being inserted for “refuse.”

7. (1) On the day so fixed or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Court shall examine the witnesses (if any) produced by either party, and may examine the applicant or his agent, and shall make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence.

(2) The Court shall also hear any argument which the parties may desire to offer on the question whether, on the face of the application and of the evidence (if any) taken by the Court as herein provided, the applicant is or is not subject to any of the prohibitions specified in rule 5¹.

(3) The Court shall then either allow or refuse to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper².

(Notes).

Old Act.

Same as S. 409. For "cross-examine the applicant or his agent" in the old Code, the new Code rule 7 merely says "examine the applicant etc." There is no other change than the reference to "rule 5" for the reference to "S. 407."

1.—"Clauses 1 and 2."

(1) Scope.

(a) Paragraph 2 of the rule (=S. 409) enables the parties to argue the question whether the applicant is or is not subject to the prohibitions of rule 5, if they so desire, and requires the Court, if any argument is offered, to consider the argument, but does not preclude it, if no argument is offered, when the matter comes on for hearing, from considering whether the applicant is subject to any of the prohibitions specified in S. 407 (=r. 5) and, if the Court is of opinion that he is, from dismissing the application. It is also its duty to consider whether or not the applicant is subject to any of the prohibitions specified. 27 M. 37 (89). F

(b) It does not follow, because, at the time when the Court acting under S. 408 fixes a day for the hearing of the application, it then sees no reason to refuse the application on any of the grounds stated, that, at a later stage, when exercising the powers conferred by S. 409, it is not open to the Court to consider whether the applicant is subject to any of these prohibitions. (Ibid). G

(c) All that the rule (r. 6=S. 408) means is that the Court, at that stage of the proceedings, must be of opinion that, on the materials then before it, there is no reason to refuse the application on any of the grounds stated in (r. 5=S. 407). (Ibid). H

(2) Scope of enquiry.

(a) When a pauper application comes on for hearing, the Court has no power to inquire into any other circumstances than the applicant's pauperism. 5 B.H.C.R. 59 (62). I

(b) As to whether the enquiry is to be restricted to the question of pauperism or not, see 14 W.R. 281, (where a Court was held to be competent to enquire into the true meaning of a will to ascertain if the plaintiff had a good cause of action). J

1.—“Clauses 1 and 2.”—(Concluded).

(c) The enquiry referred to in S. 409 (=r. 7), where a day is fixed for the hearing under S. 408 (=r. 6), of the pauper application, must be limited to the question of the pauperism of the applicant, and evidence as to the merits of the case should not be gone into, and, if the provision be infringed, a revision will lie under S. 115. 13 M.L.J. 292 (295-6) (F.B.). See, also, 2 C.W.N. 474 and 8 C.W.N. 70. K

(d) Where a petition contains sufficient particulars to show a cause of action, no further particulars can be required under S. 409, though, after leave to sue as a pauper has been given under that section, the sections relative to further particulars in the Code are applicable to a pauper suit as much as to any other. 13 M.L.J. 425 (426). L

(3) Nature of evidence at enquiry.

S. 409 refers to evidence in proof or disproof of pauperism, and not evidence as to the merits of the case. 13 M.L.J. 425, following 13 M.L.J. 292 (F.B.) M

(4) Judge to conduct examination.

The examination should be made by the Judge himself in person and not by the Court shastri. 1 B.H.C. 102. N

(5) Fresh orders to be made after return of plaint.

Where an order allowing a person to sue as a pauper, passed by one Court, becomes useless owing to the plaint being returned by that Court, the Court which subsequently has the petition presented before it ought to pass fresh orders on the point. 6 I.A. 126. O

(6) Dismissal of application for default.

An application for leave to sue as a pauper, dismissed for default in prosecution, will not bar a subsequent application for the same. 64 P.R. 1896. P

2.—“Clause 3.”(1) Comparison between effect of proceedings under r. 5 and r. 7 on subsequent proceedings.

The proceedings under Ss. 405 and 407 (=r. 5) being of a preliminary character, a rejection under those sections is not, as in the case of S. 409 (=r. 7, infra), of a final kind, and a bar to a subsequent application. 7 A. 661 (664) (F.B.) Q

(2) Appeal against rejection of application.

(a) No appeal was held to lie from an order rejecting an application under S. 407 of Act X of 1877. 1 A. 745 (747) (F.B.) See, also, 21 A. 138 (135) (F.B.), referring to 9 A. 129 and 18 A. 101. See, further, 62 P.R. 1870 and 16 B. 207. R

(b) No appeal lies, under S. 15, Letters Patent, against an order of a single Judge refusing to allow an appeal in forma pauperis, under S. 592 (=O. XLIV, r. 1) of the Code, as the exercise of the discretion referred to therein is not a judgment. 26 M. 437 (438); following 22 M. 109, 23 M. 169 (170), and 24 M. 358. S

(c) An order rejecting an application to appeal in forma pauperis being final, and not subject to review, the appellant must be given a reasonable time for preferring an appeal on a full stamp. 73 P.R. 1868. T

2.—“Clause 3.”—(Continued).

- (d) But where an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis was rejected and the case ordered to be struck off the Court's file, as the applicant had previously withdrawn the application and entered into a new contract with the defendants, held, that an appeal lay against the order, which was a “decree.” 9 A. 129 (131). U

(3) Whether these provisions apply to appeals.

In deciding the question whether leave to appeal in forma pauperis ought to be granted in any particular case, it is the duty of the Court to have regard to the rules contained in Ch. XXVI (=O. XXXIII), the right of appeal under S. 592 (=O. XLIV, r. 1), being subject to these provisions. 30 M. 547 (548), distinguishing 26 M. 869. See, also, 8 M. 504, supra, under r. 3. Y

(4) Revision against order rejecting application under this rule.

- (a) An exercise of jurisdiction under S. 407 (=r. 5), when such exercise is open to the objection of illegality or material irregularity, would form a proper subject of revision by the High Court. 7 A. 651 (669 and 672) (F.B.), referring to 4 M. 323. W

- (b) The Judges in 7 A. 661 (F.B.) should not be understood to exclude all orders under S. 407 (=r. 5) from the exercise of the revisional powers of the High Court. 10 A. 467 (470). X

- (c) A Court applied to an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis a course of enquiry not applicable to it—as, addressing itself to the merits of the case, to the rights of the parties, and to matters entirely foreign to the enquiry it had to make under S. 407 (=r. 5). Held, in revision, that it failed to apply to the matter a procedure that was applicable and that the application for revision ought to be granted. 2 C.W.N. 474 (478). Y

- (d) Where a Court, though satisfied that an applicant was a pauper, rejected his application on the merits of his proposed suit itself—which was for the construction of a will—held that, a procedure entirely foreign to the matter having been applied to it, revisional interference was proper and that the permission should be granted. 8 C.W.N. 70 (73), following 2 C.W.N. 474. Z

- (e) An order rejecting an application for permission to sue in forma pauperis is not a decree and, being unappealable, may form the subject of an application for revision. 13 A.W.N. 11. A

- (f) In making an order under S. 380, old Code, against a plaintiff who had been permitted to sue as a pauper, a Court acted, in the exercise of its jurisdiction, illegally and with material irregularity, and revisional interference was held to be necessary. 12 C.W.N. 163; see, also, 6 C.L.R. 228. B

- (g) Where a decision rejecting an application under S. 304, Act VIII of 1859, is declared by law not subject to appeal, the High Court cannot interfere under S. 15, 24 and 25 Vic. Ch. 104. 24 W.R. 62. C

(5) Review.

A Court of original jurisdiction can entertain, under S. 114, supra, an application for review of an order refusing a petition for leave to sue in forma pauperis. 5 B.L.R. 29; see, also, 5 B.L.R. 318 n=11 W.R. 22 and 4 B. 414 (415). D

2.—“ Clause 3.”—(Concluded).

(6) Court fees on review.

When an application for review is presented in the course of the proceedings in a suit in forma pauperis, that application, like the plaint in the suit, is not liable to any Court fee. 20 A. 410 (412) ; see, however, 10 W.R. 358. E

(7) Renewal of application.

There is no appeal open to a pauper, where his application to sue, as such, is rejected for default. But, where there has been no refusal, the applicant may revive his application. 3 Agra Mis. 1 (2). F

8. Where the application is granted, it shall be numbered and registered, and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit shall proceed in all other respects as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner, except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to pay any court-fee (other than fees payable for service of process) in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader or other proceeding connected with the suit.

Procedure if application admitted.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Same as S. 410 with insignificant verbal alterations. For the expression “instituted under Ch. V” in the old Code, the new Code has “instituted in the ordinary manner.” The word “pay” is newly substituted after “liable to.”

(1) Appeal against order granting leave to sue as pauper.

(a) There is no appeal from an order granting permission to sue in forma pauperis, and an appellate Court entertaining a plea attacking this order would be acting ultra vires. 23 A. 364 (366). G

(b) Where a person is allowed by the Court below to sue in forma pauperis, the High Court will not cancel such order on motion or appeal, on the ground that it was improperly obtained ; if the order is improperly obtained, the proper course is to apply to the Court which made the order. 7 W.R. 486 (487). H

(2) Pauper need not pay stamp duty on plaint.

In cases in which the application of a pauper to be permitted to sue in forma pauperis is admitted, such plaintiff is not liable to any further stamp duty in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader, or other proceeding connected with the suit, or with the execution of any decree passed on it. 10 W.R. 257 (258). I

(3) Payment of stamp duty on documents relied on.

But a pauper is liable to pay any further stamp duty or penalty in respect of a document on which he relies, to render it admissible in evidence. 10 W.R. 357 (358). J

(4) Meaning of "suit."

The word "suit" in the expression "or other proceeding connected with the suit" in r. 8, means "the suit instituted on permission to sue as a pauper being given," which is to then proceed like an ordinary suit under the Act. 20 A. 410 (411). K

(5) Application to sue as pauper—Effect of granting it.

(a) An application to sue in forma pauperis is deemed the plaint in the suit, after the Court has granted the application under S. 410. 7 B. 873 (876). See, also, 10 B. 207. L

(b) When an order under S. 409 is made, there is a bar to any further application to sue as a pauper, but the plaintiff, having first paid the costs, if any, incurred by Government in opposing his application for leave to sue as pauper, is allowed, by that section, the liberty of instituting a suit in the ordinary manner in respect of such right as he may have. 17 A. 526 (528). M

(c) Upon an order of refusal under S. 409, the proceedings instituted under S. 408 come to an end, and, if the applicant for leave to sue as a pauper wishes to proceed with the vindication of his rights, he must sue in the ordinary course, and the date of the institution of that suit would not be the date of the presentation of the application for leave to sue as a pauper, but would be the date on which the suit was instituted. 17 A. 526 (528). See, also, 18 A. 206 and 2 C. 889. N

(6) Effect of making order as to costs against applicant.

The provisions of S. 380 of the Code (=O. XXV, r. 1) cannot apply to the case of a person to whom permission has been granted under S. 410 (=r. 8) of the Code to sue as a pauper, as the effect of an order requiring such a person to furnish security for the defendants' costs would be to render nugatory the order under S. 410. 12 C.W.N. 168.O

(7) Whether executor liable to pay stamp duty on probate given him.

A Court can make an order, relieving an executor, to whom leave to apply for probate in forma pauperis is granted, from payment of the ad valorem duty payable to Government. 18 B. 237 (239, 241). P

9. The Court may, on the application of the defendant, or of the Government pleader, of which seven days' Dispaupering. clear notice in writing has been given to the plaintiff, order the plaintiff to be dispaupered—

(a) if he is guilty of vexatious or improper conduct in the course of the suit¹;

(b) if it appears that his means are such that he ought not to continue to sue as a pauper²; or

(c) if he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the suit, under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Same as S. 414 of the old Code. For the term "motion by" the expression "on the application of" and for "one week's" the expression "seven days' clear" have been respectively substituted in the new Code.

1.—"The Court may,...improper conduct in the course of the suit."

(1) Scope of the rule.

S. 414 of the old Code (=r. 9) clearly contemplates the continuance of the suit (or appeal). 18 B. 464 (467). Q

(2) Effect of rule not being applicable to a case.

Where S. 414 (=r. 9) is not applicable to a case, no order can be passed under S. 412 (=r. 11). 18 B. 464 (467). R

(3) Remedy of a dispaupered plaintiff.

(a) A dispaupered plaintiff can pay the proper Court-fees and continue to litigate as an ordinary suitor. 17 A. 526 (528) and see, also, 18 A. 206 S

(b) Where, after an applicant is allowed to sue as a pauper, facts are disclosed to show that he ought not to be so allowed, the remedy is by application under this rule, and not by motion or appeal in the superior Court. 7 W.R. 486. T

(4) Stamp fees where pauper suit decreed.

A decree had been obtained by a party suing in forma pauperis against S, from whom the Government subsequently sought to recover the stamp that would have been paid by the plaintiff, if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper. Held, that the right of Government to recover the stamp-fees under S. 309, Act VIII of 1859, was not affected by the law in S. 20, Limitation Act, 1859. 2 B.L.R. Ap. 22. U

2.—"Clause (b)."

Scope.

Cl. (b) is inapplicable where the party does not wish to continue the suit or appeal. 18 B. 464 (467). V

3.—"Clause (c)."

Scope.

(a) Cl. (c) of the rule answers to cl. (d) of S. 407 [=cl. (e), r. 5] and prevents the prosecution of a suit or appeal, when the plaintiff or appellant has entered into a champerty or maintenance agreement for the prosecution of the litigation. 18 B. 464 (467). W

(b) Cl. (c) does not apply to a case where the parties have settled their differences in order to put an end to litigation. 18 B. 464 (467). X

10. Where the plaintiff succeeds in the suit, the Court shall calculate the amount of court-fees which would Costs where pauper succeeds. have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper ¹; such amount shall be recoverable by the Government from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, and shall be a first charge on the subject-matter of the suit ².

(Notes)

Of Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 411 of the old Code. The clauses providing for the realisation of the Court-fees by the Government are transposed in their order, and the clause "in the same manner as costs of suit are recoverable under this Code" in the Code of 1882 has been omitted from the new Code.

1.—Where the plaintiff succeeds in the suit...pauper."

(1) Scope of rule.

S. 411 of the Code (=r. 10) is an enabling section. 10 C.W.N. 857—30 C. 1040. Y

(2) Construction of rule.

It is not a proper construction of S. 411 to say that a plaintiff succeeds in the suit, where the withdrawal has been in consequence of an advantage gained by him outside the suit. 31 B. 10 (14) (F.B). Z

(2-a) Rule refers to cases of adjudicated success.

S. 411 (=r. 10) refers to cases where there has been a contest, or else an admission of the claim which has avoided a contest. It refers, therefore, to cases of adjudicated success. 15 B. 77 (78). (See infra under r. 11, as to whether analogically it refers to adjudicated failures only). A

(3) Rule applies to pauper suit disposed of on compromise.

A Court can make an order under this rule and the next also, where the pauper suit is disposed of on a compromise. 4 M.L.J. 98. B

(4) Decree for less than the amount claimed—Court-fees.

In a suit where a pauper obtained a decree only for a portion of the property claimed by him, the defendant was held liable to pay Court-fees only on the sum decreed. 14 M. 163 (165). C

2.—"Such amount shall be recoverable..subject-matter of the suit."

(1) Court-fees due to Government are first charge on subject-matter of suit.

(a) The Government have the first right to the proceeds of a pauper suit to the extent of the Court-fees due to them, and they can urge their prerogative notwithstanding anything contained in r. 10. 1 B. 7 (9), distgd. in 29 A. 537. D

(b) Under the provisions of S. 411 (=r. 10) the Court-fee payable in a pauper suit is a first charge on the subject-matter of the suit and can be recovered from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same. 29 A. 537 (540) (F.B.)=A.W.N. (1907), 157. E

(c) A person was allowed to sue as a pauper, but his suit was dismissed with costs. On a sale by the defendant in execution of this decree for costs, the Crown was held to be entitled to be paid first, out of proceeds of such sales, the amount of the Court-fees that the plaintiff would have had to pay had he not been allowed to sue as a pauper. 1 A. 596, following 1 B. 7. F

2.—“ Such amount shall be recoverable..subject-matter of the suit.”—(Continued).

(d) The property covered by the probate, granted to an executor in forma pauperis, will have the Court-fees due to the Crown as a first charge on it. 18 B. 237. G

(2) Procedure where decree omits to provide for payment of Court-fees due to Crown—Review.

In a pauper suit the claim was decreed and dismissed in part, but no provision was made for payment of the Court-fee on the portion dismissed. On the Crown's appeal in respect of the Court-fee thus omitted to be provided for, the appeal was held to lie, though the proper procedure was held to be to apply to the Court of the first instance for a review of its judgment in respect of the omitted Court-fees. 18 A. 326 (329 and 330). H

(3) Government may realise Court-fees in execution proceedings—No separate suit necessary.

In a successful pauper suit, the decree directed the Court-fees to be recovered from the defendant. It was held that a separate suit by the Crown for the recovery of the Court-fee was not necessary, but that the same might be realised in execution proceedings. 18 A. 419 (421). I

(4) But Crown may insist on its right to precedence.

(a) But, though this rule indicates the manner in which the Crown may proceed to realise its dues, it has yet the right to urge its prerogative and to insist on its right to precedence over all other creditors. 33 C. 1040 (1046)=10 C.W.N. 857, referring to 1 B. 7; 1 A. 596; 2 A. 196 and 18 A. 419. J

(b) A successful pauper plaintiff attached and sold, for her costs, certain property, other than the property in suit, belonging to the defendant. The sale proceeds were paid into Court. The plaintiff's solicitor applied to have his costs paid out of the sale-proceeds. The Government solicitor also applied to have his certified Court-fees paid to him out of the fund in Court. Held, that the Government solicitor was entitled to precedence, and that it was not necessary for him to attach the fund before getting payment. (Ibid). K

(5) Purchaser at sale for Court-fees also entitled to precedence.

In a sale in 1896 for the recovery of the Court-fees due to the Government, the plaintiff purchased a portion of the land decreed to the pauper in 1893. It was sold in 1899 in execution of another decree of 1894. In a suit for a declaration that the land was not liable to be sold in satisfaction of the 1894 decree, the plaintiff's purchase was held to prevail over the other, as the amount of the Court-fees due to the Crown was a first charge upon the land. 25 M. 733 (735). L

(6) But such purchaser's claim must yield to a prior mortgagee's rights.

(a) But a purchaser at a sale on account of the Court-fees is not entitled in preference to a previous mortgagee, subject to whose charge the property is sold. A.W.N. (1907), 57=4 A.L.J. 720=29 A. 537 (540) (F.B.), distinguishing 1 B. 7 and overruling 2 A. 196, infra. M

2.—“Such amount shall be recoverable..subject-matter of the suit.”—(Continued).

(b) And such prior mortgagee is not precluded from bringing to sale the same property, in execution of a decree for sale on his mortgage. 29 A. 537 (540) (F.B.). N

(c) The principle, that the Crown takes precedence of all other creditors, is not liable to an exception in the case of lien-holders. 2 A. 196 (197) (following 1 B. 7), overruled in 29 A. 537, supra. O

(7) Court cannot sell entire decree of pauper.

A Court cannot, under S. 411 (=r. 10), sell a pauper plaintiff's whole decree, (i.e.), his entire right in the decree, on a Collector's application, as that section provides that successful paupers shall, so far as the subject-matter of their success is concerned, be liable to satisfy, out of what they recover, the amount of the fees, which had been temporarily remitted to them during the litigation. 20 C. 111 (115). P

(8) Validity of sale to recover Court-fees not really due.

A sale, however, held for Court-fees wrongly believed to be due to the Crown, while it is not actually so due, may be set aside by application. 15 A. 324 (326). Q

(9) When Crown estopped from treating sale as subject to its claim.

The Government, after consenting to a sale of the property decreed to a pauper by his pauper decree (which it attached for value of stamps) in execution of another decree against him, cannot subsequently contend that the sale was subject to its claim for stamps. 15 W.R. 205 (206). R

(10) Order for payment of Court-fees not to be contingent in form.

Owing to the form of the order, that the plaintiff and the defendant should pay the Court-fee proportionately when wasilat should be ascertained, the Crown could not obtain anything from either party till such wasilat was determined. The parties declined to prosecute the proceedings for this purpose; but, on the Crown's motion, the Court altered its order and directed the Court-fees to be recovered from both jointly. Held, that the first order was contingent and hence bad, and that, the Court having no power to change it after the decree had been passed, nothing remained to be done. 13 W.R. 155 (156). S

(11) Pauper succeeding as to portion of subject matter—Extent of Crown's claim.

Where a plaintiff under S. 411 (=r. 10) has succeeded in respect of a part of the subject-matter of a suit, on that part is a first charge reserved by the law and secured to the Government. 9 A. 64 (68). T

(12) Cross claims under same decree.

A plaintiff suing in forma pauperis obtained a decree for a fraction of his claim, out of which the Court ordered a certain sum to be paid as Court-fees on the plaintiff. On the Government taking out execution for the amount of the Court-fees, the defendant claimed to set off the costs due to him under the same decree, and the amount of a decree obtained in a cross-suit against the plaintiff in the same Court, but the Government was held to be entitled in preference against this cross-claim for costs, so that the Court-fees may be realised from the defendant to the extent of the plaintiff's decree against him, without deducting the amount of his decree for costs. 9 A. 64 (67). U

2.—“ Such amount shall be recoverable..subject-matter of the suit.”—(Concluded).

(13) Application in forma pauperis for review of judgment.

After his appeal was dismissed, a plaintiff-appellant applied for permission to apply for review of judgment in forma pauperis, but he had neither asked for, nor obtained permission, to sue or appeal as pauper. Held, that a petitioner for review, not declared to be a pauper in any of the prior stages of the case, ought to file the proper stamp on his application. 91 P.R. 1895. Y

(14) Limitation for execution of order as to Court-fees by Government.

- (a) An application, for execution of an order directing the payment of Court-fees by a pauper plaintiff, was held to be subject to the same period of limitation, as the right of a subject to enforce a decree or order would be. 7 B. 546 (549, 552, 553). See, also, 22 W.R. 512. W
- (b) The Government is not entitled to any exemption from the provisions of the Limitation Act relating to applications, e.g., applications under S. 411 (=r. 10) to realise Court-fees ordered to be paid by a party, which were subject to Art. 178, Limitation Act, 1877. 4 M. 155 (157). X
- (c) For a case, where it was held that the right of the Crown to recover the Court-fees, awarded in a successful pauper suit, from the party liable to pay it, was not affected by the law of limitation laid down in S. 20 of Act XIV of 1859, see 2 B.L.R. Ap. 22=11 W.R. 67. Y

(15) Remedy of pauper disallowed by Prothonotary to sue as such.

Under Rule 80-A (1) of the Bombay High Court Rules, it is the right of a party dissatisfied with a Prothonotary's decision, refusing to allow him to continue the suit in forma pauperis, to apply to the Judge to have the matter adjourned to him: and the Judge in Chambers is bound to take up the matter and decide it for himself. (Permission given). 9 Bom. L.R. 475 (476 and 482), referring to Upton v. Brown, 20 Ch.D. 781 and Smith v. Watts, 22 Ch. D. 5. Z

Procedure where pauper fails.

11. Where the plaintiff fails in the suit¹ or is dispaupered, or where the suit is withdrawn or dismissed²,—

- (a) because the summons for the defendant to appear and answer has not been served upon him in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee or postal charges (if any) chargeable for such service, or
- (b) because the plaintiff does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court shall order the plaintiff³, or any person added as a co-plaintiff to the suit, to pay the court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper.

(Notes).

Old Act

This rule corresponds with S. 412 of the old Act which was as follows :—

If the plaintiff fails in the suit, or if he is dispaupered, or if the suit is dismissed under section 97 or 98, the Court shall order the plaintiff, or any person made, under section 32, co-plaintiff to the suit, to pay the Court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper ; and if it find that the suit was frivolous or vexatious, it may also punish the plaintiff with fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to a month, or with both.

Changes.

This rule is almost similar to S. 412 of the old Code, with a few alterations. The only alteration of importance is the addition of the word "with-drawn" in the first para of the rule, in consequence of the ruling in 29 B. 102. The other changes simply expand the references to the earlier portions of the Code (regarding the dismissal of the suit, etc.), contained in the old S. 412. The last para of the old section, enabling the Court to fine or imprison the plaintiff, if the suit be vexatious, etc., has been omitted from the new Code.

1.—"Where the plaintiff fails in the suit."

(1) Scope of rule.

- (a) Chapter XXVI (=O. XXXIII) of the Code of 1882, in its earlier sections, prescribes rules under which a would-be plaintiff, who can show that he is a pauper, and can also show that he has a prima facie good ground of action, may proceed to trial, without first paying the institution fees and other Court-fees, which a plaintiff, who is not a pauper, must pay before he can file his suit. S B. 577 (582). A
- (b) The institution fees and other Court-fees, which a pauper plaintiff is thus excused from prepaying, are fees payable to Government. (Ibid). B
- (c) Ss. 411 and 412 (=r. 10 and 11) prescribe how those fees payable to Government are to be eventually recovered in any case, whether the pauper succeeds or whether he fails. (Ibid). C
- (d) If the pauper succeeds, those fees are, under S. 411 (=r. 10), recoverable from the defendant. (Ibid). D
- (e) If the pauper fails, they are, under S. 412 (=r. 11), recoverable from the pauper plaintiff. (Ibid). E

(2) Scope of term "fails."

- (a) A pauper plaintiff is liable to pay the Court-fees, if his suit be dismissed without trial, and he may be ordered to do so under S. 622 (=S. 115). 21 M. 198, dissenting from 15 B. 77. F
- (b) Failure by adjudication is not indispensable to attract the operation of S. 412 of the Code. 29 B. 102, referring to 21 M. 118. G

1.—“Where the plaintiff fails in the suit.”—(Concluded).

(c) S. 412 (=r. 11) applies only to cases of adjudicated failure and to the other cases mentioned, as, where the plaintiff has been dispaupered, or where the suit has been dismissed. 15 B. 77. But see infra under “2.—“WHERE THE SUIT IS WITHDRAWN..HEARING.” H

(d) 15 B. 77, so far as it purports to cover cases of failure without formal adjudication, is obiter dictum. 29 B. 102 (105), referring to 18 B. 464 (which was a case of withdrawal by agreement after compromise). I

(3) Rule is mandatory.

The terms of S. 412 (=r. 11) are mandatory, and a Court passing a decree ought to provide in it, for payment by the plaintiff of the Court-fees on that portion of his claim that was dismissed. 13 A. 326 (329). J

(4) Relation between O. XXXII, r. 1 and this rule.

S. 440 (=O. XXXII, r. 1) does not apply to a case of an order passed under S. 412 (=r. 11). 23 M. 73 (81). K

(5) Construction of expression, “if the plaintiff fails in the suit.”

(a) The clause, “if the plaintiff fails in the suit,” does not refer to the ultimate success or failure of the plaintiff in any subsequent suit he may bring. 29 B. 102 (104); 15 B. 77 and 18 B. 464, D. L

(b) And it includes the case of a withdrawal, by the plaintiff, of a suit, with permission to bring a fresh suit, under S. 373 (=O. XXIII, r. 1) of the Code. 6 Bom. L.R. 1122=29 B. 102. M

(c) The words in the rules (10 and 11) are “succeeds” and “fails” in the suit, and they refer to the ultimate decision on the result of the suit, and not to the mode in which the decision is arrived at. It would be doing violence to the language of the sections, if the words “after contest” not found in them, were introduced into them. 8 M.L.J. 4 (5). N

(d) The word “fails” should not be confined in its scope to failure after contest, but should be construed to include dismissal of pauper suits after a compromise. 8 M.L.J. 4 (5). O

(e) The words “in the suit” were properly inserted in Ss. 411 and 412 (=rr. 10 and 11) to limit the success or failure in the suit, as distinct from success or failure outside the suit. 31 B. 10 (14) (F.B.). P

2.—“Or where the suit is withdrawn or dismissed...hearing.”

(1) Word “withdrawn” newly added.

The word “withdrawn” is new, and has been added in consequence of the decisions in 29 B. 102 and 31 B. 10. See infra. Q

(2) Withdrawal of suit is equivalent to failure.

(a) Where a plaintiff withdraws from a suit, without permission under S. 373 (=O. XXIII, r. 1), as the result of a compromise by which he obtained a substantial part of the relief claimed, he fails in the suit, within the meaning of S. 412 (=r. 11), and does not succeed within the meaning of S. 411 (=r. 10). 31 B. 10 (15) (F.B.), overruling 15 B. 77 and 18 B. 464. R

2.—“Or where the suit is withdrawn or dismissed . . . hearing.”—(Concluded).

- (b) If a pauper withdraws the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, he must be considered, for the purposes of S. 412, to have failed in the suit withdrawn. Entire absence of success is failure. In the case of such withdrawal, the plaintiff must be directed to pay Government the Court-fees due. 29 B. 102, distinguishing 15 B. 77 and 18 B. 464. See, also, 104 P.R. 1908. S

(3) Effect of withdrawal.

- (a) A pauper withdrawing a suit, with permission to bring a fresh one, ought to pay the Government the Court-fees due by him, had he not been permitted to sue as a pauper. 29 B. 102. T
- (b) Where a plaintiff withdraws from a suit, then, under S. 373 (=O. XXIII, r. 1), he shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award, and shall be precluded from bringing a suit in respect of the same matter. 31 B. 10 (14) (F.B.). U
- (c) A plaintiff, allowed to sue as a pauper, if he withdraws it under a compromise, by which he gives up his original claim, must be deemed to have failed in the suit, within the meaning of S. 412 (=r. 11), and ought to pay the Court-fees to the Government, as in case of leave refused to sue as a pauper. 104 P.R. 1908=160 P.W.R. 1908. Y
- (d) It is immaterial whether the plaintiff voluntarily gave it up, or lost it by the decision of the Court, so long as the suit did not succeed in attaining its object. 104 P.R. 1908=160 P.W.R. 1908, following 31 B. 10 (F.B.). W

(4) Part of claim only withdrawn.

As to the case where only a part of the claim was abandoned, see 29 B. 102 (105). X

3.—“The Court shall order the plaintiff . . . pauper.”

(1) Effect of order under rule.

An order made under this rule is equivalent to a decree in favour of the Crown against the defeated pauper for the value of the Court-fees, and can be executed by attachment and sale of his property. 26 A. 346 (348). Y

(2) When costs may be awarded to Government.

- (a) Government can be awarded costs, only where an inquiry has been held under chapter 26 of the old Code (=O. XXXIII), and an order passed, as contemplated in S. 409 (=r. 7) or S. 412 (=r. 11). 13 B. 234 (236). Z
- (b) But where the Crown opposes the application, which is consequently dismissed, no costs can be awarded. (Ibid). A

(3) Court not to order payment of Court-fees on strength of agreement between parties.

Pending an appeal against the dismissal of a pauper suit, the parties agreed, by a compromise, to withdraw the appeal, and to throw the Court fees due to the Crown on the respondent; but, when the Government applied for an order throwing the costs on the respondent, both the parties objected, and the Court was moved to dispauper the appellants. Held, that, where an appeal was withdrawn, no order under S. 412 (=r. 11) or S. 414 (=r. 9) could be made, and that the Court could not order the respondent to pay any fees, on the basis of an agreement between the parties. 18 B. 464. B

3.—“The Court shall order the plaintiff..pauper.”—(Concluded).

(4) Costs when guardian's suit rejected.

As to whether costs may be thrown on an unsuccessful guardian, suing on behalf of a minor pauper, see 25 W.R. 316, supra, under r. 1. C

(5) Costs of successful defendant in pauper suit.

This rule does not deal with the defendant's costs where the pauper plaintiff fails. S. 220 (cf. S. 35, supra) deals with the matter, and the Court has ample powers of awarding and apportioning costs as it thinks proper. 8 B. 577 (582). D

(6) Appeal.

The Crown can appeal against a decree, which does not provide in it for payment of the Court-fees upon that portion of the pauper's claim that was dismissed. 13 A. 326 (329). E

(7) Revision.

(a) Where a Court dismisses a pauper suit at the request of the pauper, who compromised it, it ought to pass an order for the payment of Court-fees under S. 412; else, a revision will lie against it. 8 M.L.J. 4 (6). F

(b) On a pauper praying for the dismissal of his suit, owing to an amicable arrangement with the defendant, the Court did so, without making any order as to costs. The Collector's application to the High Court, under S. 622 (=S. 115), to direct the lower Court to make an order for payment of the Court-fees, under S. 412 (=r. 11) was upheld, though the Collector was no party to the suit. 15 B. 77. G

(c) Where a Collector applied, under the High Court's extraordinary jurisdiction, for the rectification of a decree, dismissing a pauper suit, but omitting to order the recovery from the plaintiff of the Court-fees, held, that the Government could not appeal, and that the High Court would rectify the decree by throwing the costs of the Government on the plaintiff. 18 B. 454. H

(d) Where, although a pauper plaint was admitted, it was returned to the plaintiff for presentation to the proper Court, with an order that each party should bear his own costs, and the Collector sought to recover the stamp duty from the plaintiff, held, that the Court below had no jurisdiction to order payment of the Court-fees by the plaintiff. 6 B. 590. I

(8) Whether Crown must be a party to enable it to complain against defective decree.

The Crown cannot be heard in respect of a defective decree, if it is not a party to the suit. 2 C.L.R. 461; dissented from in 15 B. 77. But see now r. 13. J

(9) When Crown may be deemed a party.

In execution proceedings arising out of a pauper suit, the Secretary of State, who has obtained an order under S. 411 (=r. 10), may be regarded as a party to the suit, within the meaning of S. 244 (=S. 47). 13 A. 326 (329). K

Government may apply for payment of court-fees.

12. The Government shall have the right at any time to apply to the Court to make an order for the payment of court-fees under rule 10 or rule 11.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new. It is said that this rule exempts the Crown from the general law of limitation.

Crown may, at any time, apply for order under r. 10 or r. 11.

(a) The provision in r. 12, enabling the Crown to apply at any time for an order in respect of Court-fees, supersedes 6 B. 590 and 18 B. 464, which are noted below. L

(b) No order under S. 412 (=r. 11) could be passed during the pendency of a suit. 6 B. 590 (591-2). M

(c) An order, under r. 11, should not be passed, after the withdrawal of a suit or appeal. 18 B. 464 (467), referring to 15 B. 77. N

13. All matters arising between the Government and any party to the suit under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12 shall be deemed to be questions arising between the parties to the suit within the meaning of section 47.

Government to be deemed a party.

(Notes).

Government now a party.

(a) This rule is new, and has been enacted in consequence of the rulings in 23 M. 73 and 9 A. 64, which see noted infra. O

(b) A decree, dismissing a pauper suit by a minor's next friend and ordering a certain sum to be paid for stamp duty to Government, was held not to be appealable, as the Government was not a party to the suit in which the decree ordering the Court-fee to be paid was passed. 23 M. 73 (81), following 6 B. 590 and 18 B. 454. P

(c) Where a decree rejecting a pauper suit contained no provision for the recovery of Court-fees, no appeal by Government was held to lie in respect of the question regarding the right of Government to recover such fees from the non-suited plaintiff, as the Collector was not a party to the suit. 18 B. 454 (455). See, also, 21 M. 113 (114) and 15 B. 77 (78). Q

(d) But in an application by the Collector for execution of an order for payment of Court-fees, passed under S. 411 (=r. 10) of the Code, the Collector was held to be a party to the suit in which the decree was passed, and the order passed on such application held appealable. 9 A. 64 (66). R

14. Where an order is made under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12, the Court shall forthwith cause a copy of the decree to be forwarded to the Collector.

Copy of decree to be sent to Collector.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

- 15. An order refusing to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper shall be a bar to any subsequent application of the like nature by him in respect of the same right to sue¹; but the applicant shall be at liberty to institute a suit in the ordinary manner in respect of such right, provided that he first pays the costs (if any) incurred by the Government and by the opposite party in opposing his application for leave to sue as a pauper².

Refusal to allow applicant to sue as pauper to bar subsequent application of like nature.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 413 of the old Code, except that provision is also made in the rule, when a suit in the ordinary manner is brought by the unsuccessful pauper, for the payment of costs incurred, not only by the Government, but also "by the opposite party" in opposing his application.

1.—"An order refusing..right to sue."(1) Effect of a refusal under this rule.

Where, owing to an applicant's failure to proceed with the application, it has been rejected, such rejection will operate as a bar against subsequent application for the same cause of action. 20 B. 86 (92); but, see, 5 B.L.R. App. 29, followed in 64 P.R. 1896. S

(2) Pauper application dismissed for default—Order as to Court-fees when may be made.

On a second application, subsequent to the rejection of a prior one for want of prosecution, the Court can, at any stage when the fact is brought to its notice, require the plaintiff to pay the Government the costs due on his former application, and may dismiss the suit on default; for the bar under this rule relates to jurisdiction. 20 B. 86 (92 and 96). T

(3) Provision of rule applies to applications to appeal in forma pauperis.

The provision in S. 413 (=r. 13) of the Code that, on the refusal of a petition to allow a person to sue as a pauper, the applicant shall be at liberty to institute a suit in respect of the same matter, duly stamping the plaint in the ordinary manner, is equally applicable to the case of the dismissal of an application for leave to appeal as a pauper, and, consequently, when such an application happens to be dismissed by the Court, the applicant has the further right of prosecuting, on proper stamps, the appeal sought to be made. 3 L.B.R. 194. U

2.—"But the applicant shall be at liberty..pauper."(1) When pauper application may be revived.

(a) An application in forma pauperis may be revived, if there has been no refusal of it. 3 Agra Mis. 1. Y

(b) An application may also be revived, when it is returned for having the question of pauperism tried by another Court. 2 A. 241 (P.C.). W

2.—“But the applicant shall be at liberty..pauper.”—(Concluded).

(2) Rejection of application—Remedy—Limitation.

(a) Where an application in forma pauperis is refused, the only remedy available to the applicant is that declared in S. 413 (=r. 15), viz., to institute a suit, whose actual date of institution will, for the purposes of limitation, be deemed to be its date of institution. 20 B. 508. X

(b) For the purposes of limitation, the new suit must be deemed to have been instituted only after the payment of the Court-fees. 24 O 889; but see 21 R. 576. See, also, 3 L.B.R. 194. Y

16. The costs of an application for permission to sue as a pauper and of an inquiry into pauperism shall be costs in the suit.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 415 of the Code of 1882. The words “shall be” have been inserted for “are,” in the expression “are costs in the suit.”

ORDER XXXIV.

SUITS RELATING TO MORTGAGES OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Code, all persons having an interest¹ either in the mortgage-security or in the right of redemption² shall be joined³ as parties to any suit relating to the mortgage⁴.

Parties to suits for foreclosure, sale and redemption.

Explanation.—A puisne mortgagee may sue for foreclosure or for sale without making the prior mortgagee a party to the suit; and a prior mortgagee need not be joined in a suit to redeem a subsequent mortgage⁵.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 85 of the Transfer of Property Act.

Difference between S. 85, T.P. Act and the present rule.

(1) For the words “of the Code of Civil Procedure, S. 437,” “in the property comprised in the mortgage,” and “must,” the words “of this Code,” “either in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption,” and “shall” have been respectively substituted; also for the words “such mortgage,” the words “the mortgage” have been substituted.

(2) The words “under this chapter” and “provided that the plaintiff has notice of such interest” have been deleted.

(3) The explanation of this rule is new.

(General).

(1) Principle.

(a) When all the parties necessary to a suit on mortgage are before the Court, the Court should pass a decree which shall finally settle all questions between them, so that there may be no further litigation. 3 M.L.J. 397=18 M.L.J. 298. Z

General—(Concluded).

- (b) The rule that all persons interested in the actual subject of the suit should be before Court for complete adjudication, cannot be taken as authorising a Court to complicate a suit by the mortgagee, by introducing in it a controversy, in which the plaintiff is not really interested. 29 M. 217. A

(2) Provisions imperative in all stages.

- (a) The provisions of S. 85, T.P. Act, as to joinder of parties is imperative. 4 Bom. L.R. 105=26 B. 433. B
- (b) S. 85, T.P. Act, is imperative and the provisions should be strictly conformed to in appeals and second appeals also. 7 M.L.J. 266. C
- (c) S. 85, T.P. Act, is strictly applicable to a mortgage suit in all its stages—whether in the Court below, or in the appellate Court. 2 C.L.J. 202. D

(3) Burma Courts.

- (a) Burma Courts should generally follow the provisions of S. 85, T.P. Act, in mortgage suits, in order to avoid multiplicity of suits, though the Transfer of Property Act is not in force in Burma. 3 L.B.R. 241. E
- (b) All persons entitled to redeem should be joined in a mortgage suit. The provisions of T.P. Act should be applied, as far as may be, in all mortgage suits in Burma Courts. U.B.R. (1892-96), p. 586. F

(4) Punjab Courts.

Though the T.P. Act is not applicable to the Punjab, the principles enunciated therein should be applied in the Punjab Courts, when there is no Statute Law corresponding to it, and when it does not conflict with equity, justice and good conscience. 85 P.R. 1902; 64 P.R. 1908=182 P.W.R. 1908. G

(5) Review.

Having regard to S. 85 of T.P.A., as to necessary parties, the review granted, after dismissal of suit, to bring in the heir of one of the deceased mortgagees as a party-defendant, was not improper. 5 C.W.N. 83. H

(6) Representative under S. 244, C.P.C.

A mortgagee who takes his mortgage pendente lite of a prior mortgage, is a representative of the mortgagor under S. 244 of the C.P.C. 22 A. 248=20 A.W.N. 51. I

I.—“All persons having an interest.”A.—General.

- (a) In a mortgage suit all the mortgagors and the subsequent mortgagees should be joined as parties. 15 M. 487. J
- (b) S. 85, T.P.A., is intended to apply to persons, who admittedly have an interest in the property, and not to persons whose interest in the property is denied. 5 O.O. 94. K

B.—Appeal.

A jenmi sued his kanamdar and his sub-tenants, and obtained a decree for redemption and possession on certain terms. The sub-tenants objecting to certain terms appealed, but they did not join the kanamdar, to whose prejudice, the terms were modified on the appeal. Held that the kanamdar was a necessary party. 25 M. 568. L

C.—Buddhist, Muhammadan and joint Hindu families.

(1) Buddhist family.

Under Buddhist Law, the suit, by daughter without joining the widow as a party to it, for redemption of the mortgage by her father, is not maintainable. 8 L.B.R. 15. M

(2) Joint Hindu family.

(a) Where some members of a joint Hindu family mortgage the property, it is proper to make the other members also parties to a suit on the mortgage. 25 A. 162=22 A.W.N. 228, 24 A. 459=22 A.W.N. 128. N

(b) Where joint family property, though held in certain shares, by the co-parceners was mortgaged as a whole, in a suit for redemption by one of the tenants-in-common, all the others should be made parties. 10 B. 648; 10 B. 656 note; 10 B. 658 note. O

(c) Under T.P.A., S. 85, a minor son of a joint Hindu family need not be made a defendant with the father, in a suit on a mortgage executed by the father alone. Per Ghose, J. in 27 C. 724=4 C.W.N. 701, contra per Harrington, J. in the same case. P

(d) A minor son in a joint Hindu family ought to have been made a party to a suit on mortgage against the father. And for the purposes of the suit, he was not represented by his father, the mortgagor. 28 C. 517=5 C.W.N. 647; 24 A. 211=1902 A.W.N. 24. Q

(e) In a suit for redemption of a mortgage given by plaintiff's father, plaintiff's divided uncle and cousins are not necessary parties, as they were not joint members of the family with the father, at the time when the mortgage was given. 13 B. 51. R

(3) Muhammadan family.

In a suit to redeem a mortgage, or to recover property subject to a charge, all the persons interested in the property, (e.g.) the brothers and sisters, &c., of a Muhammadan should be joined as parties. 11 B. 425. S

D.—Executors and administrators and heirs.

(1) Executors and administrators.

(a) Where a decree for foreclosure was obtained against an executor to the mortgagor's estate, the application, by an heir and a purchaser from the heir, to be made parties and allowed to redeem was disallowed, as they were not entitled to be made parties. 6 C.W.N. 488. T

(b) In a suit against the mortgagee of the administrator, for the property given by the deceased, the representatives of the mortgagor were not necessary parties to the suit. 8 B.H.C.O.C. 1. U

(2) Heirs.

(a) A co-heir of the plaintiff, having an interest in the mortgage at the time of the redemption suit, is a necessary party to the suit but not otherwise. 16 B. 599. Y

(b) In a suit by second mortgagee against the first mortgagee, who was admittedly overpaid, to compel him to convey the properties, the heirs of the original mortgagor were necessary parties. Where it was doubtful who the heirs were, plaintiff got an adjournment to make the Administrator-General get letters of administration to the estate, and then make

- (c) In a suit by the heirs of a Muhammadan Zur-i-peshgi mortgagee, all the heirs should be brought on record, either as plaintiffs or as defendants. 14 W.R. 216. X
- (d) In a suit for foreclosure, the personal representatives of the mortgagor should be made parties. Bourke O.C. 319. Y

E.—Puisne and Prior mortgages.

(1) Puisne mortgagee.

- (a) A puisne mortgagee should be made a party to a suit for sale by a prior mortgagee. 64 P.R. 1908=132 P.W.R. 1908. Z
- (b) A and B were the first mortgagees. A and C were puisne mortgagees. A and B sued for foreclosure, making C a defendant as puisne mortgagee, and got a decree. It was held, that C alone was rightly made a defendant, as A could not be both a plaintiff and a defendant in the same suit. 24 A. 179. A
- (c) A mortgagee suing is not bound to implead a subsequent mortgagee under a deed, executed after the institution, and during the pendency of the suit. 9 A.W.N. 91; 21 A. 149=18 A.W.N. 214; 16 A. 286=14 A.W.N. 84. B
- (d) There was a prior mortgage and a subsequent patni lease. In a suit on the prior mortgage, the patnidar should be made a party. 21 C. 116. C

(2) Prior mortgages.

In a suit by the puisne mortgagee, the addition of prior mortgagees as parties by Court under S. 32, C.P.C., cures all defects of non-joinder. 27 A. 75. D

F.—Purchasers.

- (a) In a suit by the mortgagee, all the persons to whom the property has been sold, and who are in possession, should be added as parties. 16 W.R. 98. E
- (b) All the alienees of the different portions of the equity of redemption are necessary parties to a suit on a mortgage. 25 W.R. 60. F
- (c) A creditor, who purchases under an execution against the general assets of a testator's estate, takes subject to a mortgage created in pursuance of a power contained in the will; and in a suit to foreclosure, the purchaser is rightly made a party. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 7=11 W.R.O.C. 21. G

G.—Redemption suit.

- (a) In a redemption suit, plaintiff may implead all third persons, who claim the right of redemption, in opposition to him. 3 Agra 144. H
- (b) If the mortgage-debt has been re-paid, one of the mortgagors is entitled to sue for redemption, and to be put in possession of his own share of the estate. 1 Agra 36: contra 21 W.R. 428. I

H.—Miscellaneous.

(1) Agent.

When a lambardar made a mortgage for himself and as agent for other sharers, all should be made parties in a suit on the mortgage. 2 Agra Part II, 207. J

(2) Benamidar.

A benamidar-mortgagee can sue upon the mortgage. 21 A. 380=19 A.W.N. 130. K

(3) Charge under S. 65 of the C.P. Land Revenue]Act.

In a suit to enforce a charge created by S. 65 of the Land Revenue Act of 1881 (C.P.), all those having an interest in the land, and of whom plaintiff has notice, should be made parties. 1 N.L.R. 117. L

Note.—Under the present rule notice, or want of notice, is immaterial.

Minor.

In a suit to enforce a mortgage only one of two persons representing the mortgagor was made a party, the other being a minor, not known to the mortgagee and not in possession of the mortgaged property. It was held that the minor also was bound by the decree passed, and his interest in the property also passed by sale. 11 C.W.N. 1078=6 C.L.J. 719.M

(5) Sub-mortgage.

In a sub-mortgagee's suit for recovery of his debt, the original mortgagor is not a necessary party. 1905 A.W.N. 76=2 A.L.J. 484=27 A. 511. N

2.—“Either in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption.”

A.—General.

(1) ‘Property’ in the old S. 85, T.P.A.

(a) Those persons should be joined as parties, who have an “interest in the property comprised in the mortgage,” that is, the interest which the mortgagor is competent to transfer by way of mortgage at the date of the transaction.

‘Property’ in S. 85, T.P.A., does not indicate the actual physical object, but denotes the right in it. 3 C.L.J. 205=33 C. 425. O

(b) The term ‘property’ does not only mean an actual physical object, but includes the equity of redemption. 1 O.C. 105. P

(c) In a subsequent mortgagee's suit, a prior usufructuary mortgage was not made a party, and a decree was passed, subject to the prior mortgagee's rights. Plaintiff appealed. It was held that the prior mortgagee was a necessary party to the appeal, the property mortgaged to the plaintiff being, not merely the equity of redemption, but the actual property itself. 14 M.L.J. 467. B.—Antagonistic interest.

- (a) S. 85, T.P.A., does not require persons, who claim adversely to the mortgagor, to be made parties. 12 C.W.N. 94. S
- (b) In a suit for sale, the suit should not be so framed as to draw into controversy the title of a third party, who sets up title paramount to that of the mortgagor and the mortgagee. A.W.N. (1908), 263=6 A.L.J. 5. T
- (c) Whether or not S. 85, T.P.A., refers solely to persons interested in the equity of redemption, it is not essential to join as a party one, whose interest, if it exists, would be antagonistic to both the mortgagor and the mortgagee. 30 A. 240=A.W.N. (1908), 100=5 A.L.J. 604. U

C.—Portions of mortgages and release of part.

- (a) A mortgagee cannot bring a suit for khas possession of an undefined area of the mortgaged land, without making his co-mortgagees parties to the suit. 25 W.R. 39. Y
- (b) A plaintiff was not entitled in respect of his own share, to maintain the suit for sale against the whole property, when others interested in the mortgagee rights were not added as parties. 9 A. 69. W
- (c) In a redemption suit, part owners of mortgaged property who did not execute mortgage deed, or receive mortgage money, are not necessary parties, as they are not interested in the equity of redemption. 32 C. 746. X
- (d) When a plaintiff sues to recover what is due to him, not exceeding the amount rateably due on the property against which he wishes to proceed, S. 85, T.P.A., is no bar. 5 M.L.J. 258. Y
- (e) Where three properties are subject to one mortgage, and two of them had been redeemed by proportionate payment, parties interested in them need not be joined to a redemption suit as regards the third. A.W.N. (1905), 156=2 A.L.J. 628. Z
- (f) Where mortgagee releases a portion of the mortgaged property, he need not join, those who are interested in the equity of redemption of the released portion, as parties in a suit. 31 M. 338. A
- (g) In a suit for foreclosure, where a portion of the mortgaged property was exempted, persons interested in the exempted properties need not be made parties. 28 A. 174=2 A.L.J. 680=A.W.N. (1905), 244. B

D.—Miscellaneous.

- (a) Where a mortgage is not shown to be on behalf of, or for the benefit of, a Hindu family, the member in whose favour alone the bond stands is competent to sue alone. 15 P.R. 1902. C
- (b) The object of making a second mortgagee a party to a suit is that the property may be sold free of his incumbrance. 1 C.L.J. 31. D

3.—“Shall be joined.”

EFFECT OF NON-JOINDER.

A.—General.

(1) Non-joinder—Suit not to affect those not joined.

- (a) Parties entitled to be made parties to a mortgage suit, but who were not so made, are entitled to be placed in the position in which they would have been, if impleaded. 1908 A.W.N. 150=25 A. 446. E

A.—General—(Concluded).

(b) The rights of a subsequent mortgagee, not impleaded in the suit upon prior mortgage, are those which he would have had, had he been impleaded in the suit. And, in order to redeem the prior mortgage, he must pay the whole mortgage amount, and not the amount of sale of the mortgaged property. 1903 A.W.N. 8=25 A. 894. F

(c) When a party, who should have been made a party to a mortgage suit, was not impleaded, the decree so got would not affect him, and if his position had been changed, he should be again placed in the position that he had previous to the decree. 9 A. 125=6 A.W.N. 318; 8 A.W.N. 184. G

(2) Defect of parties—How cured.

(a) A defect of parties under S. 85, T.P.A., may be cured by an application, which may be allowed by Court, if no party is prejudiced thereby. 20 A.W.N. 20. H

(b) Where there are persons interested in the mortgaged property, and the plaintiff has notice of it, it is a fatal defect not to make them parties; unless it is cured by the Court under S. 32, C.P.C. Where such non-joinder is brought to the notice of the Court, it should dismiss the suit, even though the objection was first raised in appeal. 18 A. 109=16 A.W.N. 7. I

(3) Denial of title.

Where a puisne mortgagee sues denying or ignoring the prior mortgagee's title, the suit should be dismissed. 12 A. 548=10 A.W.N. 89. J

(4) Effect same though not made a party.

An occupancy tenant mortgaged his rights with the consent of the malguzar. The mortgagee brought a suit against the tenant, got a foreclosure decree, and got possession. The tenant then died with heir. The malguzar then sued to oust the mortgagee in possession. It was held that by consenting to the mortgage, the malguzar impliedly consented to the foreclosure. 6 C.P.L.R. 109. K

B.—Heirs and purchasers.

(1) Heirs.

In a suit for sale all the heirs of the mortgagor were not brought on record. The property was sold in execution of the mortgage decree. Subsequently, in a suit by the heirs who were not parties, redemption was allowed, so far as their shares were concerned. 4 C.W.N. 507. L

(2) Purchaser.

(a) A purchaser of the equity of redemption, previous to a mortgage suit, can sue for a declaration, that the mortgage decree obtained by not adding him a party, would not bind him. 8 A.W.N. 187. M

(b) Where the purchaser of a portion of the mortgaged properties was released by the mortgagee, and was not made a party to the suit brought by the mortgagee, the proper course is not to dismiss the suit for non-joinder, but to apportion the mortgage debt between the released mortgaged property and the other property. 30 C. 755=7 C.W.N. 728. N

B.—Heirs and purchasers.—(Concluded).

- (c) In a mortgagee's suit for sale, the purchaser of the equity of redemption was not made a party. The mortgagee bought the property himself in the sale held subsequently. Then he learnt that the equity of redemption had been sold. He now sued the purchaser for possession. It was held that the purchaser was not bound by the original decree, and that in the present suit he should be allowed to redeem. 2 M.L.J. 294. O
- (d) A bought the equity of redemption. There were two mortgages, and he redeemed the prior mortgage. The puisne mortgagee now sued making the mortgagor and A parties, but without mentioning the lien acquired by A. It was held that such an omission was not fatal to the suit. 17 A. 48=14 A.W.N. 199; 21 A. 272=19 A.W.N. 62; 21 A.W.N. 68. P
- (e) A mortgagee sued the mortgagor alone, without adding the vendees of equity of redemption, obtained a decree for sale, and bought it himself in Court auction. Then he sued to eject the vendees. It was held that the suit would not lie. 19 A. 541=17 A.W.N. 154. Q
- (f) Certain lands, mortgaged to A, were sold to B. Without joining B, A sued on the mortgage, obtained a decree, and bought the lands himself in execution. B then sued A to eject him praying for a declaration, that the sale was not binding on him. The suit was dismissed. It was held that S. 43, C.P.C., would not be a bar to his bringing a fresh suit to redeem. 20 M. 82=6 M.L.J. 229. R

C.—Hindu family.

(1) Without allegation of immorality.

- (a) The joint sons of whom plaintiff had notice were not made parties to a suit for foreclosure against the father alone, and the property was foreclosed. It was held, that the sons could institute a suit for redemption. A.W. N. (1908), 106=5 A.L.J. 267=30 A. 256. S

Notice is, under the present rule, not essential.

- (b) The son of a Hindu father, who was not a party to the original mortgage suit, was allowed to bring a suit, contesting the sale of the equity of redemption, though the Court finally refused to set it aside at that stage. 1902 A.W.N. 162=24 A. 549. T
- (c) When a mortgagee sues the father alone on a mortgage, knowing full well that the sons have interest in the property, and obtains a decree, the sons can sue for a declaration, that their interest in the property could not be sold, on the sole ground that they were not made parties. 17 A. 587=15 W.N. 212. U
- (d) But if the sons raise also the further issue, that the debt was for immoral purposes, and if the issue is decided against them, they will be merely allowed the right of redemption. 22 A.W.N. 24. V

(2) Allegation of immorality.

- (a) A joint Hindu son, who was not made a party to a previous mortgage suit, is entitled to bring the suit for a declaration, that his share was not liable, on the allegation that the debt was for immoral purposes. (17

C.—Hindu family.—(Concluded).

(b) In a suit against the father alone, upon a mortgage of joint family property by him, the sons were not made parties. A decree was obtained, and the property was sold. It was held, that the sons could not object on the ground that they were not parties to the suit. But, if the father's debt was immoral or illegal, the sons could have successfully objected. 1908 A.W.N. 2=25 A. 214. X

(c) The joint sons cannot, on the sole ground that they were not made parties to the mortgage suit, without alleging that the debt was immoral, succeed in getting their undivided shares declared not liable for attachment and sale. 1 O.C. 53. Y

(3) Plea of no consideration.

A Hindu father mortgaged certain properties. The mortgagee sued him and two out of his three sons on the mortgage, got a decree, and bought it himself. The third son then brought a suit to recover one fourth of the property, alleging that the mortgage had no consideration. It was held that he was entitled to do so. 21 M. 222=8 M.L.J. 126; 21 A. 356. Z

(4) Mortgagee's rights against son.

The fact, that the mortgagee did not implead the son, would not deprive him of his right of suit against him, for the debts of his father. 21 A. 301=19 A.W.N. 79; 22 A. 394=20 A.W.N. 125. A

D.—Prior and Puisne mortgage.

(1) Prior mortgagee should be made a party.

In a puisne mortgagee's suit, a prior mortgagee was not made a party. The suit should not be dismissed, but the Court should bring him as a party under S. 32, C.P.C. 1 A.L.J. 475. B

(2) If there is no notice decree valid.

(a) A decree obtained by a prior mortgagee, who had no knowledge of puisne mortgagees, is not bad under S. 85, Transfer of Property Act, because the latter were not made parties. 7 C.W.N. 11. C

(b) Plaintiff in a mortgage suit for sale did not know of the existence of the puisne mortgage, and such puisne mortgagee was not made a party. It was held that the decree and the subsequent sale, etc., were valid subject to the rights of the puisne mortgagee. 81 C. 737. D

(3) Rights of puisne mortgagee not made a party.

(a) A prior mortgagee, who sues without making the puisne mortgagee a party, obtains a decree and finally buys the property himself, takes the property subject to the subsequent mortgage. 7 A.W.N. 125; 4 A.W.N. 186. E

(b) A decree for sale obtained, or a sale held under a mortgage decree, would not bind a puisne mortgagee who was not made a party. 1 A.L.J. 288; 1 A.L.J. 207; 13 M.L.J. 72; 13 M.L.J. 131=26 M. 484; 26 M. 537. F

(c) A puisne mortgagee, who was not made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit, must be given a chance of redeeming the prior mortgage. 10 A. 520=8 A.W.N. 210; 13 A. 315=11 A.W.N. 90. G

- (d) If in a prior mortgagee's suit, the puisne mortgagee is not made a party, he does not lose his right of redemption. 3 A.W.N. 193. H
- (e) Where puisne mortgagee was not made a party to a suit by the prior mortgagee, the subsequent suit for redemption by puisne mortgagee is sustainable, and the previous decree, to which the puisne mortgagee was not a party, will not affect either his rights, or his liabilities. 18 M.L.J. 344=31 M. 258=4 M.L.T. 293. I
- (f) A puisne mortgagee has a right of sale, subject to the rights of the prior mortgagee, even if the property had been sold in a suit by the prior mortgagee, to which the puisne mortgagee was not a party. 30 C. 599=7 C.W.N. 766. J
- (g) A prior mortgagee by conditional sale sued for, and obtained a foreclosure decree, without making the puisne mortgagee a party. It was held that the prior mortgagee was entitled to sue the second mortgagee for a declaration that, if the latter failed to redeem, he might be debarred of his right to redeem. 23 A. 1=20 A.W.N. 176. K

(4) Rights of purchasers at Court sales.

- (a) A second mortgagee sued for, and obtained a decree for sale, without making the prior mortgagee a party. The prior mortgagee then sued for sale, without making the second mortgagee a party, and had a portion of the property sold in auction. X bought it. Then the second mortgagee applied for order absolute. It was held, the property purchased by X could not be brought for sale by such second mortgagee. 17 A.W.N. 153=19 A. 543; 22 A. 212=20 A.W.N. 27; 16 A. 478. L
- (b) In a suit by a prior mortgagee, the puisne mortgagee was not made a party. The property was sold and bought by one X. Subsequently, the puisne mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage to which neither the prior mortgagee, nor X was made a party. The property was again sold and bought by one Y. Y can sue X to redeem the prior mortgage. 23 A. 25. M
- (c) Where all the heirs of the purchaser of the equity of redemption were not made parties within time, but after limitation they were added by Court, on an objection taken by one heir, it was held that the suit ought not to be dismissed, but decreed proportionately against the shares of the heirs, who were first made parties. 12 C.W.N. 911. N
- (d) Two mortgagees held mortgages of the same date, on the same property, and both sued on the same date, without making each other parties to their suits, and both obtained decrees. Both the decree-holders bought the property in auction, and one obtained possession sooner. The other sued for possession or, in the alternative, redemption. It was held, that the suit was not barred, neither under S. 43, C.P.C., nor under S. 85, Transfer of Property Act. 19 A. 379=17 A.W.N. 94. O
- (e) A purchaser at sale, held in execution of a mortgage decree, obtained by a prior mortgagee in a suit brought in strict accordance with S. 85, Transfer of Property Act, is entitled to possession; in preference to a purchaser at an earlier sale, held in execution of a decree obtained by a puisne mortgagee in a suit brought in defiance of the rule in S. 85, Transfer of Property Act. 7 O.C. 243. P

3.—“Shall be joined.”—(Concluded).

EFFECT OF NON-JOINDER.—(Concluded).

D.—Prior and Puisne mortgage.—(Concluded).

(f) If a mortgagee by conditional sale, knowing that the property has been attached by a third party, does not choose to make the attaching creditor a party to the suit for foreclosure, and the property is consequently sold in auction, the auction-purchaser can sue the mortgagee for possession by offering to redeem the foreclosed mortgage. 1901 A.W.N. 143=23 A. 467. Q

(g) D and M were consecutive mortgagees of the same house. M sued first without making D a party, obtained a decree, and in Court sale X bought the house. After M's decree, D sued on his mortgage without making M a party, and in the sale the house was bought by Y. Y now sued X for ejectment and damages. It was held that the suit must fail. 21 A. 235=19 A.W.N. 41. R

4.—“To any suit relating to the mortgage.”

(1) Suit for possession.

(a) In a suit for possession as mortgagee, against a third party, where mortgagee's title is denied, the mortgagee should show the extent of his mortgagor's rights. For this purpose it is sufficient, if he makes him also a party-defendant. 2 N.W.P. 72. S

(b) In a suit to obtain possession, the purchaser of the equity of redemption at the Government sale was a necessary party to the suit. 2 Bom. H.C. 202, 2nd Ed., 194. T

(c) In a suit for possession brought by an usufructuary mortgagee, the sons of the mortgagor are not necessary parties, though they and the father are joint, when the property was not the ancestral property of the family. 1 A.L.J. 367. U

(2) Other suits.

(a) Where a mortgage was given by the guardian of a minor without Court's permission, and the mortgagee sued a prior mortgagee for redemption, it was held that the minor was a necessary party, as he was the person who was affected by the validity or invalidity of the plaintiff's mortgage. 23 B. 287. Y

(b) In a suit to determine the rights of the mortgagees inter se, the representatives of the mortgagors were necessary parties. 15 C. 35. W

(c) The heirs of a mortgagor, against whom a decree was obtained by the mortgagee, in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold, a part being purchased by the mortgagee himself, and a person who purchased a part of the mortgaged property with the consent of the mortgagee are not necessary parties in a suit by the mortgagee, for contribution or apportionment of the mortgage debt. 5 C.W.N. 423. X

(3) Notice.

(a) Registration of a subsequent mortgage is notice to prior mortgagee. 14 A. W.N. 151=16 A. 478; 13 A. 492; 22 A. 212. Y

(b) Where the joint sons of a Hindu father come to Court to get rid of the effects of a mortgage decree passed against the father alone—the burden of proving, that the mortgagee had notice of their interest, lies on them. 21 A. 195 note; 19 A.W.N. 34; 21 A. 193. Z

4.—“To any suit relating to the mortgage.”—(Concluded).

- (c) In spite of notice, a subsequent mortgagee was not made a party to a suit for sale on a prior mortgage, and a decree for sale was obtained. It was held, that the plaintiff was not entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale. 1901 A.W.N. 22. A
- (d) A mortgage decree does not fail to be binding upon members of the joint family, because of their not having been made parties to the suit, if they cannot show, that the mortgagee had notice of their interest. 3 O.L.J. 12. B

N.B.—Under the present rule, notice or want of notice is immaterial.

5.—“A puisne mortgagee may sue....to redeem a subsequent mortgage.”

- (a) In a suit for foreclosure, the prior mortgagee should be made a party. If he is not made a party, the Court can order at the hearing that he should be made one. 22 B. 701. C
- (b) Where a zemindar had granted a patni lease and then gave a mortgage, in a suit by the mortgagee against the zemindar, the patnidar also should be made a party, and given a chance to redeem. 8 C. 79=9 C. L.R. 173; 10 C.L.R. 113. D
- (c) In a suit for foreclosure or sale by a puisne mortgagee, the prior mortgagee must be made a defendant. If from the pleadings it is seen, that neither the plaintiff, nor the prior mortgagee, claims any relief against each other, the prior mortgagee should be at once discharged from the list of defendants. S. 85 merely enjoins the joinder of all persons interested in the mortgaged property, but it does not require the retention to the end of the suit, of those who claim no relief, or against whom no relief is claimed. 17 C.P.L.R. 139. E
- (d) If a prior mortgagee is made a party in a suit by a puisne mortgagee upon his mortgage, and if the prior mortgagee does not appear and plead his prior right, then his mortgage right must be deemed to be extinguished. 31 C. 428. F
- (e) In a suit by a puisne mortgagee, a prior mortgagee is not a necessary party, unless the puisne mortgagee offers to redeem the prior mortgage, in which case he is a necessary party. 1 C.W.N. 453. G
- (f) It is doubtful whether a suit framed in contravention of S. 85, Transfer of Property Act, by not adding a prior incumbrancer, as a party, about the existence of which all parties in the suit admit, is liable to be dismissed. 29 M. 84=16 M.L.J. 50. H (N.B.) The above cases are no longer law. The present explanation changes the old law and sets at rest the doubt on the point.

Preliminary decree in foreclosure-suit.

2. In a suit for foreclosure, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree¹—

- (a) ordering that an account be taken of what will be due to the plaintiff for principal and interest on the mortgage², and for his costs³ of the suit (if any) awarded to him

- (b) declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree, and directing—
- (c) that if the defendant pays into Court the amount so due on a day within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount so due to be fixed by the Court, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the defendant free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also, if necessary, put the defendant in possession of the property, but
- (d) that, if such payment is not made on or before the day to be fixed by the Court, the defendant shall be debarred from all right to redeem the property ⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 86, Transfer of Property Act.

Difference between S. 86. Transfer of Property Act and this rule.

- (1) For the words "make," "ordering," "upon," "paying to the plaintiff or," "transfer," "into," "the payment," and "debarred of," the following words "pass," "directing," "if," "pays," "re-transfer," "in," "such payment," and "debarred from" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The word "absolutely" in "absolutely debarred" is deleted.
- (3) The words "if so required," "from the mortgage and," and "also" are newly added.

(General).

(1) Appeal.

Pendency of appeal against decree nisi will not interfere with the passing of order absolute. 1 C.W.N. 197. I

(2) Limitation.

- (a) A suit for reclosure against the mortgagors and the purchasers of the various portions of the property was barred as against the latter under Art. 35 of the Limitation Act. 12 C. 614. J
- (b) In a mortgage by conditional sale, where there was a personal covenant to pay, the mortgagees brought a suit for foreclosure or sale, after 13 years after the amount fell due. It was held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to a decree of foreclosure, and that the suit was not barred. 1035. 617

(General)—(Concluded).

(3) Binding nature of decree.

- (a) The mortgagees of a certain tenure obtained a decree for foreclosure. Before order absolute, the tenure was sold in execution of another decree by the superior holder of the tenure. The mortgagees now applied to set aside the sale, on the ground of irregularity, under S. 311, C.P.C. and it was held that they could apply. 13 C. 346. L
- (b) A plaintiff-mortgagee, alleging mortgage by conditional sale, sued for foreclosure. It was decided that the mortgage was not one by conditional sale. The suit ought not to have been dismissed, but relief under S. 88 (2) of the Transfer of Property Act should have been given. 5 A.W.N. 329. M
- (c) In a suit for redemption against a prior mortgagee alone, a foreclosure order was finally made. The puisne mortgagee afterwards brought a suit for sale, making also the prior mortgagee a party as one in possession. It was held, that the puisne mortgagee should not be allowed to redeem the prior mortgage, but that the prior mortgagee should be allowed to redeem the puisne mortgage, as having a superior right to redeem. 5 Bom. L.R. 892=28 B. 153. N

(4) Conditional decree.

When a conditional decree for foreclosure has been passed, the mortgagor cannot claim to redeem before the expiry of the term allowed. 1 N.L.R. 106. O

1.—“Shall pass a decree.”

- (a) In a foreclosure suit, there ought not to be a decree against the mortgagor personally for the mortgage money and costs, as well as a decree for foreclosure; the proper decree to pass is to decree foreclosure against the property only. 2 O.P.L.R. 94. P
- (b) In a suit upon a mortgage by conditional sale, plaintiff prayed that the defendant should be debarred from redeeming, in case the debt is not paid within a certain date, and the Court passed the following decree:—“that the claim be decreed with costs and interest; that the defendant do pay to the plaintiff the money within two months”; it was held that the decree, though “irregular” in form was in effect a foreclosure decree. 4 C.L.J. 588. Q

2.—“Interest on the mortgage.”

(1) Interest agreed.

- (a) In a mortgage suit, the plaintiffs are entitled to recover the agreed rate of interest without any deduction. 9 C. 390. R
- (b) A Civil Court has no discretion to refuse the contract interest, till the date of the decree in a mortgage suit. 20 B. 744. S
- (c) The terms of S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, excludes the exercise of the discretion conferred on the Courts by S. 209, C.P.C. Courts should give interest at the stipulated rate, till the date fixed in the decree for payment. 20 C. 360; 20 C. 366 note. T

(2) Compound interest.

- (a) A mortgagee is entitled to claim the compound interest mentioned in the bond. 3 A. 610; 21 C. 366=21 I.A. 1. U
- (b) A provision in a mortgage document for the payment of sawai is not illegal. The Courts do not lean towards compound interest, they do not award it in the absence of stipulation; but where there is a clear agreement, V

2.—“Interest on the mortgage.”—(Concluded).(3) Interest post diem.

Even if interest after due date is not mentioned in the bond, it should be granted under Act XXXII of 1899. Such interest, being interest due on the mortgage within the meaning of S. 36, Transfer of Property Act, it becomes a charge on the mortgaged property. 24 C. 699=1 C.W.N. 437. W

(4) Future interest after date fixed for payment—Allowed.

- (a) Ss. 86 and 88 of the Transfer of Property Act do not confer any power on Courts to award future interest on the mortgage money, from the date fixed for payment in the decree msl. But the Court itself has got inherent powers, and can allow such interest. 17 C.P.L.R. 164. X
- (b) In a mortgage suit, Court ordered interest from the date of suit to date of decree. This granting, though in excess of the amount that could be claimed under the law of damduput, was held to be within the powers of the Courts under S. 209, C.P.C. 22 B. 86. Y
- (c) A mortgagee is entitled to the interest stipulated in the mortgage-bond, until the date fixed in the mortgage decree for payment. After that date, and until realisation, he is entitled to reasonable interest. 31 C. 188=16 M.L.J. 160=3 C.L.J. 85; see, also, 29 C. 43; 34 C. 150. Z
- (d) Ss. 86 and 88, Transfer of Property Act, neither excluded, nor authorised the awarding of, interest after the date fixed for payment. Under S. 209, C.P.C., the Court has discretion in awarding interest until realisation, and if in the mortgage instrument interest is payable “till realisation,” then the discretion of Court might be guided by the express contract between the parties. 3 O.C. 129; 2 O.C. 37. A

(5) Future interest after date fixed for payment—Not allowed

- (a) The Court has power under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, to allow interest subsequent to date fixed for payment until realisation. 24 C. 766=1 C.W.N. 550. B
- (b) The Court has no power to allow interest beyond the date fixed in the decree for payment. The discretion allowed to Court, under Ss. 209 and 222 of the C.P.C., cannot override the special provisions as to interest in Transfer of Property Act. 19 A. 174=17 A.W.N. 9; 15 A. W.N. 76; 16 A. 270=14 A.W.N. 80; 18 A.W.N. 57; 20 A. 397. C
- (c) The discretion of the Court is provided for in S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, and the Court can grant interest on the mortgage till the date of realisation at the rate stipulated in the mortgage, provided no valid legal objection could be taken to that rate. 26 C. 39=25 I.A. 179=2 C.W.N. 638. D

(6) Interest—How recovered.

Interest post decree, if awarded, should be recovered separately from the person of the judgment-debtor. 16 A. 269=14 A.W.N. 79. E

(7) Construction of decree as to interest.

A foreclosure decree was passed, ordering the payment of principal and interest up to a certain date. On appeal, it was decreed on the parties' consent, “that the defendants be allowed one month's time to redeem.” It was held that interest ran to the end of that time. 20 C. 279. F

3.—“For his costs.”

- (a) Where a foreclosure decree is passed against defendants and costs are awarded for defendants, S. 247, C.P.C., does not bar the defendant from executing his decree. 16 C.P.L.R. 73. G
- (b) A decree for foreclosure contained a distinct and separate order for costs under S. 220, C.P.C. After foreclosure, the plaintiff might enforce the decree for costs separately. 10 A. 179=8 A.W.N. 68. H
- (c) Where the mortgagor covenanted that the costs of the foreclosure suit shall be “separately paid by him,” it was held that S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, did not shut out Court’s discretion in allowing costs, or prevent the Court from making the mortgagor personally liable. 3 N.L.R. 97. I

4.—“If such payment....to redeem the property.”(1) Extension of time fixed for payment.

- (a) A Court having framed a decree under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, has no power to extend the time given. 13 A. 400=11 A.W.N. 150. J
- (b) Irrespective of the application for order absolute—the period fixed under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, for payment may be extended on good cause shown. 19 A. 180=17 A.W.N. 11. K
- (c) In the absence of express words to that effect, the decree of an appellate Court cannot be held to postpone the day originally fixed for payment. 9 C.P.L.R. 116. L
- (d) Though an appellate Court may pass a decree for foreclosure fixing a day for payment, the Court executing the decree, can, from time to time postpone such date. 5 C.P.L.R. 104. M
- (e) In a foreclosure decree if, before the expiry of the time fixed for payment, an extension of time is asked for, it may be granted on good cause being shown. 5 C.P.L.R. 54. N

(2) Redemption after the date fixed.

- (a) A decree under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, is a decree nisi, and has no final force until completed by an order absolute obtained under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act. Meantime, the mortgage may be redeemed. 1 O.C. 91. O
- (b) Payment was made one day after the date fixed in the decree. It was held that the payment was invalid, and the mortgage should be foreclosed. 4 A.W.N. 178. P

(3) Title acquired without final decree.

In a redemption suit a foreclosure decree was passed in favour of defendants, fixing a date for payment. Before the date fixed, defendants obtained possession of property, and enjoyed it for more than 12 years from the expiry of the time fixed for payment. Then plaintiffs again filed a redemption suit. It was held, that the defendants held possession of the property not as mortgagees, but as absolute owners, and that the possession being adverse, they had acquired a title independently of the right to foreclose. 3 O.C. 33. O

3. (1) Where, on or before the day fixed, the defendant pays
 Final decree in into Court the amount declared due as aforesaid, foreclosure suit. together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in rule 10. the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering the plaintiff to deliver up the documents which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up,
 and, if so required,

(b) ordering him to retransfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and, also, if necessary,

(c) ordering him to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(2) Where such payment is not so made¹, the Court shall, on application made² in that behalf by the plaintiff, pass a decree³ that the defendant and all persons claiming through or under him be debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property and also, if necessary, ordering the defendant to put the plaintiff in possession of the property⁴.

Provided that the Court may, upon good cause shown and upon Power to enlarge such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, from time to time. time, postpone the day fixed for such payment⁵.

(3) On the passing of a decree under sub-rule (2) the debt secured by the mortgage shall be deemed to be dis-
 Discharge of debt. charged⁶.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 87, Transfer of Property Act.

Difference between this rule and S. 87, Transfer of Property Act.

(1) For the words "If payment is made of such amount and of," "in S. 94,"
 "the defendant shall, if necessary, be put in possession of mortgaged property," "if," "the plaintiff may apply to the Court for an order,"
 "of," "and the Court shall then pass such order and may, if necessary, deliver possession of the property to the plaintiff," "appointed" "an order" and "the 2nd paragraph of this section," the following words
 "Where.....together with," "in rule 10," "the Court shall pass in possession of the property," "where," "the Court shall.... pass a decree," "from", "and also, if necessary,....of the property," "fixed," "a decree" and "sub-rule 2" have been respectively substituted.

(2) The word "absolutely" and the last para of S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, have been deleted.

(General).

(1) Limitation for execution of a redemption decree.

A mortgagor, who has made default in payment within the time limited by the redemption decree, is not entitled to apply for execution of the decree after the time limited. 19 M. 40=5 M.L.J. 282; see, also, 25 O. 706.R

(2) Ownership of mortgaged property.

(a) Until a decree for foreclosure is made absolute, the ownership of the mortgaged property continues to be vested in the mortgagor. 9 C.P.L.R. 130. S

(b) Where a right of pre-emption arises on the foreclosure of a mortgage, the right to sue for it accrues not from the date fixed for payment in the decree under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, but from the date on which the mortgagee obtains an order absolute under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act. 20 A. 358; 20 A. 315; 20 A. 375. T

(3) Pending appeal.

Pendency of appeal against the decree nisi will not interfere with the passing of order absolute. 1 C.W.N. 197. U

(4) Purchaser of property after decree nisi but before order absolute.

A decree nisi for foreclosure is not a final decree, and a purchase by private sale of the mortgaged property after decree nisi but before order absolute, is a purchase pendente lite, and the purchaser is bound by the order absolute although he was not made a party to it. 29 A. 76=3 A.L.J. 675=A.W.N. (1906), 283. V

(5) Voluntary transfer under Oudh Rent Act.

A transfer by decree for foreclosure under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, is a voluntary transfer within the meaning of Oudh Rent Act, 1886. S.D. 7 of 1908. W

1.—“Where such payment is not so made.”

(1) Partial payment.

Where a mortgagor pays partially after a decree for foreclosure, and the plaintiff prays for an order absolute in lieu of the unpaid portion, the mortgagor cannot ask the Court that the sums paid by him should be returned before order absolute is made. 10 O.C. 354. X

(2) S. 258, C.P.C., applies.

In an application under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, for an order absolute for foreclosure, S. 258, C.P.C., is no bar to an enquiry into the plea of payment of the mortgage debt. 16 C.P.L.R. 111. Y

2.—“On application made.”

(1) Limitation.

(a) An application for order absolute under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, is subject to Art. 179 of the Limitation Act. 20 A. 357=18 A.W.N. 71.Z

(b) An application for an order absolute under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, is an application in execution of the decree passed under S. 86 (r. 2), and is governed as to limitation by Art. 178 of the Limitation Act. 24 A. 542. A

2.—“On application made.”—(Concluded).(2) Notice necessary.

On an application for order absolute, notice to the opposite party is imperatively necessary, under S. 647, C.P.C. 3 N.L.R. 55. B

(3) Notice not necessary.

(a) No notice is required by the Transfer of Property Act to be given to the judgment-debtor, preliminary to the making of an order absolute under foreclosure decree. 9 C.P.L.R. 5; 29 C. 644. C

(b) The fact that the judgment-debtor was not served with notice, on an application for order absolute for foreclosure, would not give him any right to have the order passed, set aside, by an application under S. 108, C.P.C. 4 O.C. 238. D

(c) Before passing an order absolute under rule 3, no notice to the defendant under S. 248, C.P.C., is necessary, when the foreclosure decree is not one year old. 27 M. 40. E

(4) Setting aside order passed without notice.

(a) A foreclosure decree-holder should apply for, and obtain an order absolute for foreclosure, by giving an opportunity to the mortgagor to pay the amount or obtain an extension of time. And where a mortgagee obtained such an order without notice to the other party, the latter may apply to set aside such an order and recover possession of the property, after payment of the decree-amount, or ask for an extension of time. 8 M.L.J. 205. F

(b) An order absolute was made without notice to the defendant. He petitioned under S. 108, C.P.C., to set aside the ex parte order. On appeal it was held that apart from S. 108, C.P.C., Court had inherent power to set aside its own ex parte order. 32 C. 253. G

(c) An ex parte order absolute may, on grounds analogous to S. 108, C.P.C., be set aside. Such an ex parte order is open to review and revision, and at least one appeal is generally allowed. 3 N.L.R. 55. H

3.—“Pass a decree.”(1) Redemption before order absolute.

(a) In a foreclosure suit, at any time before order absolute is made, the mortgagor may redeem. 16 C. 246; 27 C. 705=4 C.W.N. 699; 22 M. 133. I

(b) Until an order under S. 87, T.P.A., is made against him, a mortgagor who has obtained a decree of redemption, can pay the mortgage amount. 20 A. 146. J

(c) If no order absolute is made after notice to the mortgagor formally, whatever may be the other orders passed by the Court, the mortgagor is entitled to redeem. 22 M. 133. K

(d) Even after order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., is made, the mortgagor may redeem the mortgage. In case of foreclosure decree, until an order in terms of para 2 of S. 87 is made, the mortgage is redeemable. 3 C.L.J. 583. L

(e) Even after the date fixed for payment in the decree, a mortgagor can redeem, though not as of legal right. If the time fixed passes, the mortgagee can apply for order absolute, and the Court is bound to pass it, unless on sufficient cause (equitable grounds) it extends the period. 3 N.L.R. 146. M

3.—“Pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

- (f) In a decree for redemption, mortgagor may pay the decree amount at any time before an order absolute for foreclosure is made under S. 87, T.P. Act. An order under which the mortgagee has been put in possession, not being an order of foreclosure under S. 87 will not prevent the mortgagor from redeeming. 1908 A.W.N. 20=25 A. 231. N

(2) Proceedings under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act.

- (a) Proceedings between decree nisi and order absolute are neither a continuation of the mortgage suit, nor are they proceedings in execution of a decree under C.P.C. 3 N.L.R. 55. O

- (b) Proceedings under S. 87 are in continuation of the suit ending in a conditional decree under S. 86, T.P.A. 4 N.L.R. 158. P

(3) Order absolute—Suit to set aside.

Under S. 244, C.P.C., a suit will lie to set aside an order absolute for foreclosure on the ground of fraud. 12 C.P.L.R. 32. Q

(4) Order absolute—Appeal.

- (a) The order under S. 87, T.P.A., is an order in the execution proceedings under the substantive decree under S. 86, T.P.A., and is appealable as a decree under Ss. 2 and 244, C.P.C. 12 A. 61; 14 A. 281. R

- (b) An application for order absolute is a ‘plaint’, and the proceeding itself is a ‘suit’, within the meaning of those words in the definition of the term ‘decree’ in C.P.C. So an order passed in it is a decree, and is appealable. 3 N.L.R. 146. S

(5) Order extending time—Appeal.

An order under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, extending the time of payment is a decree within the terms of Ss. 2 and 244, C.P.C., and is appealable. No application for revision, under S. 622, C.P.C., will, therefore, lie. 14 A. 520. T

4.—“To put the plaintiff in possession of the property.”(1) Fresh application.

Where a foreclosure decree absolute contains no direction for delivery of possession of mortgaged property, such possession cannot be obtained merely by applying in execution under S. 381, C.P.C. The proper course is to apply again under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, for an order for possession. Then the order may be executed. 17 C.P.L.R. 62. U

(2) Limitation.

An application for possession of foreclosed property, under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, is not a proceeding in execution, and is not governed by any limitation, Art. 178 of the Limitation Act not applying to it. 16 C.P.L.R. 114. Y

(3) Possession obtained without order absolute.

A mortgagee obtained a foreclosure decree under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, and after the period fixed for payment, applied for and obtained possession of the property, without obtaining order absolute. It was held that a suit for redemption would not lie on the ground, that the mortgage debt had been satisfied out of the usufruct of the property. The mortgagor could enforce any right that he may have, only by application in the original proceedings. 7 C.P.L.R. 40. W

4.—“To put the plaintiff in possession of the property”—(Concluded).(4) Separate suit.

A separate suit for possession lies upon a decree absolute for foreclosure, which contains no direction for delivery of possession. 16 C.P.L.R. 114. X

(5) Symbolical possession.

A first cause of action arises when a judgment-debtor remains in khas-possession, in spite of symbolical possession having been delivered to his decree-holder, in execution of a decree absolute for foreclosure 16 C.P.L.R. 107. Y

5.—“Upon good cause shown....for such payment.”(1) Extension of time of payment on good cause shown.

- (a) Under S. 87, T.P.A., Court may, on proper grounds being shown, enlarge the time for payment. For the first enlargement no strong reason is necessary. Where a few days after the fixed time, the mortgagor pays down the whole amount, he should not forfeit his right but be allowed to redeem. 2 C.P.L.R. 29. Z
- (b) In a decree for redemption of a mortgage by conditional sale, application for enlargement of time of payment by the mortgagor, is entertainable even after the date fixed in the decree for payment; but the mortgagor should show proper cause for such enlargement. 2 N.L.R. 187. A
- (c) For an extension of the date fixed for payment, the onus is on the judgment-debtor to show good cause. 8 N.L.R. 55. B
- (d) It is doubtful, whether the mortgagor has an absolute right of redemption, at any time before an order absolute for foreclosure. But the Court has power to enlarge time, so as to allow redemption at a very late stage. 9 C.P.L.R. 75. C
- (e) S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, does not allow the Court to postpone the date of payment on the application of an outsider, and the Court has no jurisdiction to pass an order, declining to make absolute the foreclosure decree on the application of a third party. 6 C.W.N. 654. D

(2) Condition of payment of interest.

Where the time for payment of mortgage debt is enlarged under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act, on condition of payment of interest not provided for by the decree, the mortgagor is personally liable for the payment of such interest. 12 C.P.L.R. 78. E

6.—“On the passing of....deemed to be discharged.”

The decree passed under S. 86, Transfer of Property Act, is not a money decree, nor is one passed under S. 87, Transfer of Property Act. The order absolute has the effect of discharging the mortgage debt. An order under S. 86 also puts the mortgagor under no obligation to pay the debt, but simply declares the consequences of non-payment. The above observations apply also to an order under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act. 2 A.L.J. 180=A.W.N. (1905), 70=27 A. 642. F

- 4. (1) In a suit for sale ¹, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree ² to the effect mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of rule 2 and also directing that, in default of the defendant paying as therein mentioned ³, the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof ⁴
- Preliminary decree in suit for sale.

be sold, and that the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is declared due to the plaintiff as aforesaid, together with subsequent interest⁵ and subsequent costs, and that the balance (if any) be paid to the defendant or other persons entitled to receive the same.

(2) In a suit for foreclosure⁶, if the plaintiff succeeds and the mortgage is not a mortgage by conditional sale, the Court may, at the instance of the plaintiff or of any person interested either in the mortgage-money or in the right of redemption, pass a like decree (in lieu of a decree for foreclosure) on such terms as it thinks fit including the deposit in Court of a reasonable sum, fixed by the Court, to meet the expenses of sale and to secure the performance of the terms.

Power to decree sale in foreclosure-suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 88, Transfer of Property Act.

Difference between this rule and S. 88, Transfer of Property Act.

- (1) For the words "in the 1st and 2nd paragraphs of S. 86," "ordering" and "so found," the words "in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of rule 2," "directing" and "declared" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "if it thinks fit" which occur twice, are deleted from both places.
- (3) The words "as aforesaid, together with subsequent interest and subsequent costs" are newly added.

(General).

- (a) A previous charge for maintenance existing on the mortgaged property would not make the mortgage a second mortgage. The person entitled to maintenance has a charge and is not a mortgagee. 29 A. 205 = A.W.N. (1907), 18 = 3 A.L.J. 848. G
- (b) Where there was a sale of mortgaged property in execution of a simple money decree, and subsequently there was a sale of the same property in execution of the mortgage decree, to which proceedings the original purchaser was not a party, it was held that the second purchaser can bring a suit against the first purchaser for the mortgage money, and in default of payment of which, for a decree for foreclosure of defendant's rights and for possession. 24 A.W.N. 108 = 26 A. 464. H

1.—"In a suit for sale."

(1) Holder of two mortgages.

A holder of two mortgages on the same property from the same person, cannot maintain a suit on his second mortgage, for sale, subject to his first mortgage. 7 Bom. L.R. 811. I

(2) Joint Hindu family.

The sons of a joint Hindu family are liable to be sued with the father, on a mortgage of ancestral property, executed by the father alone. 15 A. 75. J

1.—“In a suit for sale.”—(Concluded).(3) Puisne mortgagee.

(a) A second mortgagee may sue the mortgagor and the prior mortgagee, for sale of the property, without in the plaint offering to redeem the prior mortgage. 1 O.C. 105. K

(b) If a prior mortgagee is not added as a party, though the existence of his rights all parties admit, the decree in a suit for sale by a puisne mortgagee need not in terms, reserve the rights of the prior mortgagee and order sale subject to it. 29 M. 84=16 M.L.J. 50. L

(4) Relief.

A mortgage-deed contained a personal covenant to pay. And in a suit for sale, the plaintiff also prayed that, in the event of the insufficiency of the sale proceeds to satisfy the debt, the personal covenant might be enforced. It was held that plaintiff was entitled to join the two reliefs. 10 A.W.N. 142. M

(5) Sub-mortgagee.

Sub-mortgagee may sue for sale of his mortgagor's interest in the property. 26 A. 611=24 A.W.N. 142=1 A.L.J. 330. N

(6) Succession certificate.

S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act applies to suits for sale under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act. 16 A. 259. O

2.—“Shall pass a decree.”

A.—DECREE FOR SALE.

1.—Construction of a decree.

(a) Where a decree passed under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, is ambiguous, it should be construed as a decree properly framed according to law. If there be no ambiguity, it will be construed literally according to its strict terms, whether the decree is right or wrong. 20 A. 397. P

(b) Where the decree mentioned “that the property hypothecated in the bond is also held liable for the whole amount,” it was held that the decree was a decree for sale. 20 M. 78. Q

(c) A decree, under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, was properly drawn but also contained a clause, that defendant do pay to the plaintiff some amount for costs. It was held, that this addition was merely a formal compliance with the provisions of C.P.C., and was not intended to allow the recovery of it personally. 20 A. 523=18 A.W.N. 157. R

(d) A decree for sale cannot be treated as one for money. It is only when an application for the balance is made under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, it becomes a decree for money. 10 A. 632=8 A.W.N. 254. S

II.—Form of decree.

In a suit for sale both the mortgagor and the puisne mortgagee were made defendants. In the decree, the mortgagor cannot be called upon to redeem both the mortgages, as he does not incur the liability of having his property sold at the instance of the puisne mortgagee. 1 C.L.J. 31. T

2.—“Shall pass a decree.”—(Continued).

A.—DECREE FOR SALE.—(Concluded).

III.—Nature of a decree.

(1) Combined decree.

When a suit is instituted on foot of a prior usufructuary and a subsequent simple mortgage, the plaintiff is entitled to simple money decree for the amount due upon the first mortgage, and a decree for sale upon the second mortgage. 1 A.L.J. 20. U

(2) Decree for sale and personal decree.

(a) A combined decree under rr. 4 and 6 is contrary to the procedure prescribed therein. But when such a decree is passed, and the decree-holder, after selling the mortgaged properties, proceeds against the debtor personally, the 12 years rule under S. 230, C.P.C. of 1882 applies to the case. 31 C. 792. V

(b) A combined decree under Ss. 88 and 90, Transfer of Property Act, cannot be treated as a decree for money to which the provisions of S. 230, C.P.C., are applicable. 25 A. 541. W

(c) No further order, than an order for sale, can be passed against a defendant. But if the sale proceeds become insufficient, then after notice to defendant, an order under S. 90 may be passed. 9 A.W.N. 149. X

(d) A decree under S. 88 should not make the mortgagor personally liable for costs, in any case, before the sale proceeds have proved insufficient. 17 M.L.J. 817=2 M.L.T. 359=30 M. 464. Y

(3) Decree in a sub-mortgage suit.

(a) In a suit by sub-mortgagee for his debt, a decree for sale of the mortgagee's rights cannot be passed, but only a money-decree could be passed. A.W.N. (1905), 76=2 A.L.J. 434=27 A. 511. Z

(b) A sub-mortgagee is entitled to a decree for sale of the original mortgagor's interest, in cases, and in circumstances, which would have entitled the original mortgagee on the date of the sub-mortgage to claim such relief. 20 M. 35=6 M.L.J. 235. A

(4) Simple money decree.

A mortgagee-plaintiff came into Court asking for a decree for sale, or “any other relief to which plaintiff was entitled.” It was held that he could relinquish his claim for sale, and ask subsequently for a simple money decree. 24 A. 456=22 A.W.N. 114. B

B.—EXECUTION OF THE DECREE FOR SALE.

I.—General.

(a) A judgment-creditor having a decree for sale against his insolvent judgment-debtor, will not, by reason of his debt not finding a place in the schedule of the insolvency proceedings, lose his right to execute it. 21 A. 327=19 A.W.N. 45. C

(b) A decree-holder having a simple money decree and a mortgage decree, against the same defendant, may have the mortgaged property sold for the realisation of the amounts of both decrees. 6 A.L.J. 43. D

B.—EXECUTION OF THE DECREE FOR SALE.—(Ctd.).

II.—Limitation.

- (a) Art. 179 of the Limitation Act does not apply to cases of decrees, which on the date thereof are not capable of execution. So it will not apply in the case of a decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act. The article applicable is Art. 178. 1 A.L.J. 15; 24 A. 300; see, also, 26 M. 91. E
- (b) A decree-holder under a mortgage decree must apply for execution, within three years from the expiry of the period fixed in such decree, before sale of the mortgaged property can take place. 8 A. 56, followed. Printed judgments L.B. (1893-1900), 588. F

III.—Proceedings after decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act.

- (a) A decree for sale under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, is a final decree and all subsequent proceedings are proceedings in execution to which C.P.C. applies. 3 M.L.T. 281=18 M.L.J. 259=31 M. 854. G
- (b) A decree for sale passed under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, is the final decree in the suit; all subsequent proceedings are proceedings in execution. A decree for sale under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, may declare the amount due on the mortgage, or direct that an account be taken. In the latter case, all steps taken are proceedings in execution. 18 M.L.J. 212=26 M. 237. H

IV.—Order absolute.

(1) Necessity for order absolute—Imperative.

- (a) A decree nisi under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, cannot be executed, unless and until, it is made absolute under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act. 12 A. 599=10 A.W.N. 97. I
- (b) A decree on a simple mortgage directing the sale of properties on default of payment within a fixed period is a decree nisi under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, and cannot be executed, unless it is made absolute under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act. 22 C. 931. J

(2) Order absolute—Not imperative.

- (a) It is wrong to hold that unless order absolute is passed, the decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, is incapable of execution, and that time would not begin to run till the date of the order absolute. 25 M. 244, approved. 1 M.L.T. 294=16 M.L.J. 503. K
- (b) An application to execute a decree passed under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, was held to be an application under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act. It was not necessary that such application should be made to the Court, which had passed the decree. An application for order absolute under S. 89 is a proceeding in execution. 13 A. 278=11 A. W.N. 83; 11 A.W.N. 106; 23 M. 521. L

(3) Objection for failure to obtain order absolute.

- (a) The objection that no order absolute was obtained, if not raised at the proper time (i.e., in the very beginning), will not be allowed. 5 O.C. 251. M

2.—“Shall pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

B.—EXECUTION OF THE DECREE FOR SALE—(Conclud.).

IV.—Order absolute—(Concluded).

- (b) Where the decree did not strictly conform to S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, the suit being for recovery of money by enforcement of lien, and applications for execution were allowed without objection, it was held that at the late stage defendant was not entitled to raise the objection, that no execution should issue as no order absolute was got. 10 A.W.N. 228. N

V.—Execution.

(1) Execution before time fixed.

An application for execution of a mortgage decree for sale, before the time fixed in the decree, should not be allowed. 7 A. 194=4 A.W.N. 332. O

(2) Certifying satisfaction.

One of two joint mortgage decree-holders cannot certify to the Court the full satisfaction of the decree. If he so certifies, it will operate only to the extent of his interest. And the other would, therefore, be entitled to obtain an order absolute for sale. 1904 A.W.N. 22=26 A. 315. P

(3) Questions in execution.

Questions which should have been determined in execution of a mortgage decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, cannot be made the subject of a separate suit. Ss. 230 and 244, C.P.C., bar such a suit. 24 C. 473 Q

(4) Agreements after decree.

A decree for sale under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, can be executed only for the amount decreed. Agreements for payments by instalments with enhanced interest cannot be executed. 19 A. 186. R

(5) Attachment of mortgaged property.

- (a) In execution of a decree establishing a mortgage and directing a sale, no attachment is necessary. 4 B. 515. S
- (b) It is not necessary for the holder of a mortgage decree to apply for the attachment and sale of the mortgaged property. Even if that is unnecessarily done, a claim to the property cannot be brought under S. 278, C.P.C. 2 L.B.R. 188; 4 L.B.R. 82. T
- (c) Under a decree for sale, the mortgaged property was proclaimed for sale. Then a third party claiming title to part of the property applied under S. 278, C.P.C., and the application was allowed. The mortgagee then appealed under S. 244, and the appeal was allowed. On appeal again to the High Court, it was held that S. 278 would not apply as the property was not attached, and S. 244, C.P.C. would not apply because the objector was not the representative of the judgment-debtor, but claimed adversely to them. A.W.N. (1906), 62. U

(6) Mortgaged property should first be brought to sale.

A mortgagee sued his mortgagors for sale and also attached money decrees which the latter held against a third party. He got a decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, for sale of the mortgaged property and in execution of that decree he filed an application to execute the money decree against the third party. It was held that he could not be allowed to do so. 5 O.C. 108. Y

3.—“In default of the defendant paying as therein mentioned.”

- (a) A Court has no power to enlarge the time fixed in the decree nisi for sale for payment of the mortgage money. 24 B. 300. W
- (b) When a conditional decree for sale has been passed, the mortgagor cannot claim to redeem before expiry of the term allowed. 1 N.L.R. 106. X
- (c) Where in a mortgage suit, the decree of the appellate Court simply dismisses the appeal leaving the decree of the first Court untouched, the time for redemption would run from the date of the first decree. 25 C. 311=1 C.W.N. 671. Y
- (d) A puisne-mortgagee-plaintiff may be allowed to redeem a prior mortgagee, even after the expiry of the time allowed in the decree for such redemption, provided that in the meantime the prior mortgagee had not taken any steps against the plaintiff. 1 A.L.J. 800. Z

4.—“Or a sufficient part thereof.”

A purchaser of one of the lands comprised in a mortgage cannot insist, that the rest of the property should be sold first, before the land that he bought is sold. But under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, Court has power to order sale of portions of mortgaged property, if the plaintiff is not prejudiced by such order. 3 M.L.T. 287=18 M.L.J. 229. A 5.—“Subsequent interest.”(1) General.

- (a) In a suit for redemption or sale by a puisne mortgagee, the plaintiff seeking to redeem the prior mortgage must pay interest at the rate mentioned in the deed. 18 C. 164=17 I.A. 201. B
- (b) In a mortgage suit, the plaintiffs are entitled to recover the agreed rate of interest without any deduction. 9 C. 390. C

(2) Court's powers in awarding interest.

- (a) Ss. 85 and 88 of the Transfer of Property Act do not confer any power on Courts to award future interest on the mortgage money from the date fixed for payment in the decree nisi. But the Court itself has got inherent powers, and can allow such interest. 17 C.P.L.R. 164. D
- (b) In a mortgage suit, Court ordered interest from the date of suit to date of decree. This granting, though in excess of the amount that could be claimed under the law of dampdupt, was held to be within the powers of the Courts under S. 209, C.P.C. 22 B. 86. E
- (c) Ss. 86 and 88, Transfer of Property Act, neither excluded, nor authorised the awarding of, interest after the date fixed for payment. Under S. 209, C.P.C., the Court has discretion in awarding interest until realisation, and if in the mortgage instrument interest is payable “till realisation,” then the discretion of Court might be guided by the express contract between the parties. 3 O.C. 129; 2 O.C. 37. F

(3) Interest post diem.

- (a) Court can grant interest on mortgage money under the Interest Act (XXXII of 1839). Where the mortgage deed does not provide for interest after the due date of the mortgage, the Court can grant it. 21 C. 274. G
- (b) The Court can grant it at a reasonable rate. 4 M.L.J. 265=18 M. 248; 18 M. 338 note. H

- (c) Where the mortgage bond did not provide for interest post diem, the claim for such interest could be allowed as damages only, and was not a charge on the land. 18 M. 257; 18 M. 381; 20 M. 149. I
- (d) Interest post diem assessed as damages on a mortgage-bond for a term certain, and containing no express provision as to the payment of post diem interest, does not form a charge upon the mortgaged property. 13 A. 330=11 A.W.N. 66; 18 A. 316=16 A.W.N. 78. J
- (e) A mortgagee is entitled to interest post diem, if the document does not indicate that the parties intended otherwise. 20 M. 371; 19 A. 39=23 I.A. 138=1 C.W.N. 52; 23 M. 534; 25 C. 246. K
- (f) In a decree for sale, if a Court awards post diem interest, it can be executed as a simple money decree. 17 A. 581=15 A.W.N. 128. L

(4) Interest till date of decree.

A Civil Court has no discretion to refuse the contract interest, till the date of the decree in a mortgage suit. 20 B. 744. M

(5) Interest till time fixed for payment.

- (a) Under a decree as provided by Transfer of Property Act, interest should be calculated from the date of the bond up to the date fixed by the decree for the repayment of the money due. 3 C.L.J. 138. N
- (b) A Court making a decree under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, cannot allow interest beyond the period fixed for payment. 18 A.W.N. 164. This was reversed in appeal. 23 A. 181 (P.G.) O

(6) Interest till realisation.

- (a) Where the allowing of interest is susceptible of construction in both ways, either as allowing up to the date of payment, or until realisation, it should be construed as being allowed until realisation. 19 A.W.N. 91=21 A. 361 (F.B.) P
- (b) A Court has power in a mortgage suit to allow interest until realisation. The object of fixing the date of payment is not for the purpose of staying the payment of interest. The language of S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, is calculated to cause difficulty, for it ignores the difference between a foreclosure and a sale. In foreclosure, interest stops, because mortgagee gets the property for the debt. But in sale, the delay at times is very long, and it would be hard if no interest is allowed. 8 Bom. L.R. 51 (P.G.) Q
- (c) In a mortgage decree, the Court has power to grant interest beyond the date fixed for payment and up to the date of realisation. S. 88 of the T.P.A. should not be construed as limiting the power of the Court to grant interest only up to the date fixed for payment. 5 C.W.N. 137=28 I.A. 35=3 Bom. L.R. 51=23 A. 181; but see 34 C. 150. R
- (d) S. 88, T.P.A. does not limit the interest at the contract rate to the date fixed for payment in the decree, nor does it preclude the interest from extending until the realisation of the entire amount. 3 C.L.J. 85=1 M.L.T. 65=23 A. 223=16 M.L.J. 160 (P.G.) S
- (e) Where a decree for sale gives interest after the date fixed for payment in the decree, it is not necessary that such interest should be at the contract rate. A.W.N. (1907), 60=4 A.L.J. 219=29 A. 322. T

5.—“Subsequent interest.”—(Concluded).

(f) In a decree for sale, contract rate should be allowed till the date fixed in the decree for payment and then 6 p.c. only until the date of realisation. 21 M. 364. U

(g) Where the mortgage-deed provides for interest till the date of payment, interest at the stipulated rate will be allowed for the six months allowed for redemption, and at the Court rate from that date to the date of payment. 6 C.W.N. 769. Y

(7) Estoppel.

A mortgage decree did not allow future interest. Notwithstanding, the decree-holder put in a number of execution petitions claiming interest, and the judgment-debtor in the last of such applications admitted his liability to pay the amount with interest, and got time for payment. It was held that he could not raise the objection subsequently that the decree did not award any future interest. 28 B. 393. W

6.—“In a suit for foreclosure.”

It is necessary to have a foreclosure-decree passed under S. 88, T.P.A., made absolute under S. 89 of the Act before executing it. 8 O.C. 75. X

5. (1) Where on or before the day fixed the defendant pays into Court the amount declared due as aforesaid, together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in rule 10, the Court shall pass a decree—

- (a) ordering the plaintiff to deliver up the documents which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up, and, if so required,
- (b) ordering him to retransfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and also, if necessary,
- (c) ordering him to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(2) Where such payment is not so made ¹, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf ² by the plaintiff, pass a decree ³ that the mortgaged property, or a sufficient part thereof, be sold ⁴, and that the proceeds of the sale be dealt with ⁵ as is mentioned in rule 4.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 89, T.P.A., which was as follows :—

If in any case under section 88 the defendant pays to the plaintiff, or into Court, on the day fixed as aforesaid, the amount due under the mortgage, the costs, if any, awarded to him, and such subsequent costs as are mentioned in section 94, the defendant shall (if necessary) be put in possession of the mortgaged property ; but if such payment is not so made, the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be, may apply to the Court for an order absolute for sale of the mortgaged property, and the Court shall then pass an order that such property, or a sufficient part thereof, be sold, and that the proceeds of the sale be dealt with as is mentioned in section 88 ; and thereupon the defendant's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished. (S. 89, T.P.A.)

(General).

Miscellaneous cases.

- (a) A decree under S. 88, T.P.A., cannot be executed against a person whose name does not occur in the order absolute for sale made under S. 89, T.P.A. 1901 A.W.N. 23. Y
- (b) The right of a third person discharging an anterior encumbrance after the Court sale, by helping the mortgagor in paying under S. 310-A, C.P.C., is the enuring of the encumbrance to the advantage of himself. 29 M. 37. Z
- (c) A mortgagor had the mortgaged property sold for arrears of revenue, and bought it in the name of X benami for himself. The mortgagee at first did not know this ; subsequently, when he came to know of it, he was allowed to bring the mortgaged property to sale. 25 A. 371=23 A.W.N. 75. A
- (d) A sale which took place in England with the consent of the judgment-debtors, cannot be impeached by them as not being one held under S. 89, T.P.A. 8 A.L.J. 445=28 A. 660. B

1.—“ Where such payment is not so made.”

Reason for refusing order absolute.

The pendency of an appeal against a decree under S. 88, T.P.A., is of itself no ground for refusing to make an order absolute. 10 C.W.N. 910. C

2.—“ On application made in that behalf.”

I.—Application of Ss. 235, 244 and 258, C.P.C.

(1) Application of S. 235, C.P.C.

An application for order absolute for sale under S. 89, T.P.A., is not an application for execution of a decree, and need not be in the form prescribed, under S. 235, C.P.C. 21 C. 818. D

(2) Application of S. 244, C.P.C.—Appeal.

- (a) An application made under rule 5 is in effect an application to execute a decree passed under rule 4, and an order thereon is appealable under S. 244 of the C.P.C. of 1882. 12 M.L.J. 279=25 M. 244. E
- (b) But see the decision of the minority in 25 M. 244, which was that proceedings under S. 89, T.P.A., are not proceedings in execution of a decree, but in continuation of the original suit. See, also, 29 C. 651. F

(3) Application of S. 258, C.P.C.

- (a) On an application under S. 89, T.P.A. (r. 5), the Court has power to ascertain what balance of mortgage-debt is really outstanding. S. 258, C.P.C. (=O. XXI, r. 2) has no application to an application under this rule. 8 C.W.N. 102 ; 29 C. 651. G

2.—“On application made in that behalf.”—(Continued).I.—Application of Ss. 235, 244 and 258, C.P.C.—(Concluded).

- (b) The question whether S. 258, C.P.C., applies to proceedings in execution of a mortgage decree was left undecided. 12 C.W.N. 282=3 M.L.T. 202 =7 C.L.J. 581. H
- (c) Application for order absolute is an application in execution of a decree passed under S. 88, T.P.A. To such an application S. 258, C.P.C., is applicable; consequently, payments made out of Court, if uncertified, cannot be recognised. A.W.N. (1908), 108=5 A.L.J. 272=80 A. 248. I

II.—Limitation.(1) General.

Plaintiff applied for order absolute for sale, and the Court made an order “decree made absolute.” More than three years after the date of the application, plaintiff applied for execution. It was held that the order absolute passed was not proper, that as no proper order under S. 89, T.P.A., was passed, the original application was still to be taken as pending, and that the present application should be treated as continuation of the earlier and that there was no bar of limitation. 1 M.L.T. 294=16 M.L.J. 503. J

(2) Allahabad and Madras High Courts.

- (a) An application for order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., is an application for execution, and is governed as regards limitation either by Art. 178 or Art. 179 of the Limitation Act. 2 A.L.J. 371=A.W.N. (1905), 136=27 A. 625; 20 A. 302=18 A.W.N. 40; 28 M. 521; see contra 16 A. 23. K
- (b) An application for order absolute, though defective, by not containing particulars and unverified will be a step in aid of execution, and save limitation if thereby the judgment-debtor is not prejudiced or the Court misled. 31 M. 68=3 M.L.T. 254=17 M.L.J. 596. L

(3) Bombay High Court.

- (a) Applications under S. 89 of the T.P.A. governed by Art. 179 and not Art. 178 of the Limitation Act. 23 B. 644=1 Bom. L.R. 136. M
- (b) An application for execution of a decree passed under S. 88, T.P.A., should be deemed to be an application under S. 89, T.P.A., to which the period of limitation is applicable. 5 Bom. L.R. 540. N

(4) Calcutta High Court.

An application for order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., is not governed by Art. 178 of the Limitation Act, which is limited only to applications under C.P.C. 22 C. 924. O

III.—Notice.(1) No notice necessary.

- (a) No notice need be given to a defendant before an order absolute for sale is made under S. 89, T.P.A. 25 M. 506=12 M.L.J. 62; 4 C.L.J. 317. P
- (b) No notice to the defendant is necessary for obtaining an order absolute for sale or foreclosure, if the application is within one year from the date of the decree. 27 M. 40. Q

2.—“On application made in that behalf.”—(Concluded).

III.—Notice—(Concluded).

(2) Ex parte order may be set aside.

An order absolute was made without notice to the defendant. He petitioned under S. 108, C.P.C., to set aside the ex parte order. On appeal, it was held that apart from S. 108, C.P.C., Court had inherent power to set aside its own ex parte order. 32 C. 253. R

IV.—Miscellaneous cases.

- (a) A puisne mortgagee, who was a party to the suit for sale by a prior mortgagee and who had also satisfied in part the decree of the prior mortgagee cannot apply for an order absolute for sale of property comprised in his own mortgage, in addition to that comprised in the prior mortgage. 26 A. 504=1904 A.W.N. 103. S
- (b) A compromise decree was passed for sale in default of payment within a year. The default was made, and plaintiff in an application stated that the default was made and prayed for sale. It was held that this was an application for order absolute for sale. 25 M. 537. T
- (c) After a decree for sale under S. 88, T.P.A., the decree-holder applied under Ss. 286 and 287 of the C.P.C. of 1882 for an order directing the sale of mortgaged properties, which order was accordingly made. No subsequent steps were taken, and after three years, he applied for order absolute for sale under S. 89, T.P.A., and contended that previously no order absolute for sale was made, and that as the present application was not one for execution, it was not barred by Art. 179 of the Limitation Act. Both these contentions were overruled. 24 M. 695. U
- (d) A decree for sale was passed on condition that a prior mortgagee should be redeemed. The plaintiff applied for an order absolute in regard to one item of property in which the prior mortgagee had no interest, and the petition was rejected. Subsequently, the High Court extended the time for payment of the prior mortgagee. It was held, that the executing Court can now re-admit the application for order absolute. 20 A.W.N. 95. Y
- (e) The propriety of a decree passed under S. 88, T.P.A., could not be questioned in proceedings held under S. 89, T.P.A., which are proceedings in execution of a decree. 1 O.C. 49. W

3.—“Pass a decree.”

(1) Court-fee on appeal.

On appeal from an order refusing an application for order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., ad valorem Court-fee on the value of the appeal should be paid. 12 C.W.N. 1028. X

(2) Extension of time.

A Court has no power, of its own motion, to extend the time provided in S. 89, T.P.A., for making an order absolute. 10 C.W.N. 910. Y

(3) Limitation.

The period of limitation for execution of a decree for sale passed under S. 88, T.P.A., begins to run from the date of the order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., and not from the date of the decree itself. 19 A. 520. Z

(4) Order absolute when can be made.

- (a) A subsequent mortgagee cannot obtain an order absolute for sale, when there are parties as defendants, who have purchased the property and paid off prior mortgages, without offering such parties the full amount due on such mortgages (i.e.) (including interest). 1903 A.W.N. 219=26 A. 185. A
- (b) An order absolute for sale of a portion of the mortgaged properties was obtained, but before sale, defendant had appealed. The appeal was dismissed, but the mortgage amount was increased by the accrual of interest. It was held, that the plaintiff could obtain a further order absolute for sale of the whole of the mortgaged property. 25 A. 264=1903 A.W.N. 30. B
- (c) A decree for sale was passed conditional on plaintiff's redeeming prior mortgages within two months. Plaintiff paid the money in Court four months after. It was held notwithstanding payment after time, plaintiff was entitled to an order absolute under S. 89, as defendant had not taken any steps to redeem plaintiff's mortgage. 24 A. 479=1902 A.W.N. 125. C
- (d) A mortgagee obtained a decree for the recovery of money by attachment and sale of mortgaged property. A portion of it was first sold in execution, and then mortgagee applied for attachment and sale of the remaining portion. Defendant objected on the ground that there was no order absolute. It was held that the decree was clear in its terms, and having once previously executed without any objection, it could not be objected to now. 2 O.C. 337. D
- (e) A decree under S. 88, T.P.A., being only a decree nisi and not a final decree, the suit in which such a decree is passed does not terminate until an order absolute is made under S. 89, T.P.A. 1904 A.W.N. 9=23 A. 381. E

(5) Orders defective, but held to be order absolute.

- (a) An order absolute for sale under S. 89, T.P.A., is not indispensably necessary as a condition precedent for the sale of the mortgaged property. It is enough if an order for sale is passed on the application of the decree-holder. 28 C. 73. F
- (b) An order directing a sale, made in execution of a decree nisi, without formally passing an order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., would still be taken to be of sufficient authority under S. 89, T.P.A. 18 C. 139. G
- (c) An order for sale was passed in execution proceedings taken under a mortgage decree under S. 88, T.P.A., and the mortgagor objected that there was no decree absolute. It was held that, though the word “absolute” was not found in the execution application, the conditions of S. 89, T.P.A., having been complied with the order was right. 5 Bom. L.R. 389. H
- (d) Where a compromise decree was passed in mortgage suit, though the decree was not in accordance with S. 89, T.P.A., the Court should determine the way in which it is to be executed. S. 89, T.P.A., contemplates certain state of things, but where such state of things does not exist, S. 89 does not exclude other ways of enforcing a valid decree. 6 C.L.J. 35=11 C.W.N. 879=34 C. 886. I

3.—“Pass a decree.”—(Continued).

- (e) An order absolute for sale was passed without notice to the minor defendant's guardian. It was held that the order was not defective, that as the minor was properly represented in the suit, an order nisi was rightly passed against him, under S. 88, T.P.A., and that the present order only made that decree absolute. 28 A. 193=2 A.L.J. 640= A.W.N. (1905), 241. J

(6) Provisions of the C.P.C. applicable.

- (a) An order absolute is not a mere formality but an essential procedure, and if not obtained, all subsequent proceedings become null and void. 9 M.L.J. 349. K
- (b) The order absolute under S. 89, T.P.A., does not extinguish the ownership of the judgment-debtor in the property, until the sale actually takes place. S. 291, C.P.C., is not inconsistent with the provisions of S. 89, T.P.A., and the Court has jurisdiction to adjourn the sale of the mortgaged property for other reasons, than giving time to the mortgagor. 31 C. 373. L
- (c) The order for sale under S. 89, T.P.A., has nothing to do with the Civil Procedure Code, and the proceedings under S. 89, T.P.A., are not proceedings in execution of a decree, but in continuation of the original suit. 6 Bom. L.R. 1048. M
- (d) When an order absolute for sale has been made, any question that arises as to that order absolute is not a question relating to the execution of the decree, within the meaning of S. 244, C.P.C. 25 C. 138. N
- (e) S. 310-A, C.P.C., applies to a sale of immoveable property under a mortgage decree. 22 M. 286; 23 C. 682. But 23 C. 682 has been overruled by a F.B. decision in 25 C. 703=2 C.W.N. 353; see, also, 4 C.W.N. 474. O
- (f) The order to be made by the Court upon an application under S. 89, T.P.A., for order absolute, will be an order falling under S. 244 (c) of the C.P.C., and as such is a decree under S. 2, C.P.C., and will be appealable under Ss. 540 and 584, C.P.C. Consequently, no reference on such an order could be made to the High Court under S. 617, C.P.C. S.C. 297. P
- (g) The Court is competent to give effect to an adjustment entered into by the parties even after the order absolute for sale. 12 C.W.N. 282=3 M. L.T. 202=7 C.L.J. 581. Q
- (h) Ss. 291 and 310-A of the C.P.C. apply to a sale held in virtue of an order absolute passed under S. 89, T.P.A. 19 A. 205=17 A.W.N. 47; 20 A. 354=18 A.W.N. 70. R
- (i) The provisions of S. 805, C.P.C., are not inconsistent with those of S. 89, T.P.A., and are applicable to decrees of sale passed under T.P.A. 3 O.C. 42. S

(7) Provisions of other Acts.

- (a) Agreements filed under S. 44 of the Dekkhan Agriculturist's Relief Act, if relating to the sale of mortgaged property, are subject to the provisions of S. 89 of the T.P.A. 23 B. 644=1 Bom. L.R. 136. T
- (b) Under S. 20 of the Oudh Laws Act (XVIII of 1876) a decree or order passed under Ss. 88 and 89, T.P.A., would be subject to the restriction attached to S. 266, C.P.C. 3 O.C. 1. U

3 —“ Pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

(8) Right of redemption.

- (a) The right of redemption exists in the mortgagor, until an order absolute is passed under S. 89 of the T.P.A. 9 C.P.L.R. 78. Y
- (b) An order absolute for sale passed, extinguishes the equity of redemption. After the above order, a sale of the same property was held in execution of a simple money decree. In order to avert a re-sale, the auction-purchaser should pay off the mortgage amount. The mere fact that he was not a party to the execution of the mortgage decree would not avail. 1 A.L.J. 699. W
- (c) Even after order absolute, under S. 89, T.P.A., is made, the mortgagor may redeem the mortgage. 3 C.L.J. 533. X
- (d) Though an order absolute for sale has been passed, before the sale actually takes place, the mortgagor may pay the decree amount and stop the sale. 31 C. 863=8 C.W.N. 684. Y
- (e) Even after the order absolute for sale, the defendant can redeem by payment. He need not wait until the property is actually put up for sale. A.W.N. (1905), 168=28 A. 28. Z

4.—“ That the mortgaged property, or a sufficient part thereof, be sold.”

- (a) A sale in pursuance of an order under S. 89, T.P.A., is a sale in execution of a decree. 3 O.C. 1. A
- (b) Ss. 304 to 319 of the C.P.C. of 1882 apply to all sales of immoveable property including mortgage sales under S. 89, T.P.A. 25 B. 104=2 Bom. L.R. 635; 25 M. 244=12 M.L.J. 279. B
- (c) An order absolute for sale of a portion of the mortgaged property may be obtained, and if the sale proceeds prove insufficient, then a further order absolute for sale of another portion may be applied for, provided the application is within limitation. 1903 A.W.N. 17=25 A. 212. C
- (d) In a suit, a decree was passed against three mortgagors, of whom the decree as against one was ex parte. He applied to set aside the ex parte decree, and succeeded finally in reducing the mortgage amount. Meantime, the decree against the other two became absolute. The plaintiff now applied for order absolute for sale of all the properties. The Court granted it on condition that the exclusive property of the successful defendant should not be sold, until the other property had been sold, and proved insufficient to satisfy the smaller decree. 25 A. 42=22 A.W.N. 189. D
- (e) A decree under S. 88, T.P.A., was passed for sale of some immoveable properties and an elephant which were hypothecated. The decree-holder took out execution by applying for attachment and sale of the elephant. The judgment-debtor objected that the decree had not been made absolute. It was held that the provisions of Ss. 86 to 89 applied only to mortgages of immoveable property. 4 O.C. 301. E

5.—“ The proceeds of sale be dealt with.”

A decree-holder purchasing the mortgaged property in Court-sale is not bound to give credit to the mortgagor to the amount of the market-value of the property, but only to the amount of the actual purchase-money. 18 A. 31=15 A.W.N. 144. F

6. Where the net proceeds of any such sale ¹ are found to be insufficient to pay the amount due to the plaintiff ²,
 Recovery of balance due on mortgage. if the balance is legally recoverable ³ from the defendant otherwise than out of the property sold, the Court may pass a decree ⁴ for such amount.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 90 of the Transfer of Property Act.

Difference between this rule and S. 90, T.P.A.

- (1) For the words "when," "for the time being on the mortgage," and "sum," the words "where," "to the plaintiff" and "amount" are respectively substituted.
- (2) The words "found to be" are newly added.

(General).(1) Decree for sale is not decree for money.

- (a) A decree for sale cannot be treated as one for money. It is only, when an application for the balance is made under S. 90, T.P.A., it becomes a decree for money. 10 A. 632=8 A.W.N. 254. G
- (b) A combined decree under Ss. 88 and 90, T.P.A., cannot be treated as a decree for money, to which the provisions of S. 280, C.P.C., are applicable. 25 A. 541. H
- (c) A combined decree under rr. 4 and 6 is contrary to the procedure prescribed therein. But, when such a decree is passed, and the decree-holder, after selling the mortgage properties, proceeds against the debtor personally, the 12 years rule under S. 280, C.P.C., applies to the case. 31 C. 792. I
- (d) S. 209 of the C.P.C. relates to a decree for money, and a mortgage decree, until it reaches the stage shown by S. 90, T.P.A., cannot be so termed. 2 Bom. L.R. 225. J

(2) Fresh suit.

- (a) No fresh suit is necessary for a decree under S. 90, T.P.A. Such a decree can be passed in a suit in which a decree for sale was passed. 11 A. 186=9 A.W.N. 191; 11 A. 486. K
- (b) A mortgage bond provided that, if the sale of the mortgaged property proves insufficient, the balance may be recovered personally and from mortgagor's other property. This was held not to give the mortgagees fresh cause of action, and that they should have applied under S. 90, T.P.A. in proper time. 18 A.W.N. 133=20 A. 512. The only advantage is, the plaintiff instead of being obliged to claim such relief in the plaint may wait till sale proceeds are proved to be insufficient, and then claim it in an application under S. 90, T.P.A. 19 A.W.N. 72. L

General—(Concluded).(3) Limitation.

- (a) An application under S. 90, T.P.A., is an application for a supplemental decree in the suit, and not an application in aid of execution of the original decree under Art. 179 of the Limitation Act. 4 C.L.J. 141=33 C. 867. M
- (b) Where the sale of the mortgaged properties was set aside, an application for a decree under S. 90, T.P.A., is not an application in accordance with law, within the meaning of Art. 178 of the Limitation Act, so as to save limitation. 4 C.L.J. 141=33 C. 867. N
- (c) Under S. 90, T.P.A., an order for the recovery of the balance was passed, and three days later, a decree for the amount was passed. It was held that limitation counted from the date of the decree. 3 C.L.J. 291. O

(4) Original decree personal—S. 90 does not apply.

- (a) S. 90, T.P.A., does not apply to a case, where the original decree is a personal one against the mortgagor, under which the mortgagee can in execution proceed against any property of the mortgagor, other than that comprised in the mortgage. No supplemental decree under S. 90 is necessary in such a case. 7 C.W.N. 744. P
- (b) Where an order was passed, allowing execution against properties other than those mortgaged, a subsequent objection, that no sales of such properties could be held in the absence of a decree under S. 90, T.P.A., cannot prevail. 14 M.L.J. 108. Q

(5) Personal decree under S. 88.

- (a) A personal payment directed by a decree for sale passed under S. 88, T.P.A., is invalid, and contrary to the provisions of S. 90, T.P.A. 9 Bom. L.R. 199=31 B. 244. R
- (b) In a suit to enforce a mortgage, a personal decree under S. 90, T.P.A., ex parte for a large sum, cannot be passed. 35 C. 767. S

(6) Miscellaneous cases.

- (a) S. 90, T.P.A., applies to the case, where the mortgaged property had been sold, in execution of a decree held by the person applying for a further decree under S. 90, T.P.A. It does not apply, where the mortgaged property has been sold under a decree, held by some other person. 22 A. 404=20 A.W.N. 132. T
- (b) Where compensation was awarded in respect of the mortgaged property, under the Land Acquisition Act, the mortgagee can receive such compensation under his order absolute for sale. It is not necessary for him to obtain a further decree under S. 90, T.P.A. 6 C.L.J. 745. U
- (c) Where a decree on an hypothecated bond, besides granting sale, granted also personal remedy against the person and property of the judgment-debtor, and such decree unchallenged, became final, it was held that the decree-holder can merely execute the decree, without applying under S. 90, T.P.A. 15 A. 334=13 A.W.N. 121; 13 A. 360=11 A.W.N. 127; 13 A. 356=11 A.W.N. 104. V
- (d) An unpaid vendor has not only a charge on the property sold in execution of his decree, but he has also a personal remedy under S. 90, T.P.A., against the vendees. 2 A.L.J. 379=A.W.N. (1905), 144. W

1.—“Any such sale.”

I.—Conditions for application.

(1) Decree-holder entitled to apply.

- (a) When the sale proceeds of the mortgaged properties do not satisfy the decree debt, the decree-holder is entitled to apply under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, for sale against the other properties of the mortgagor. 16 C. 423. X
- (b) Where the decree nisi under S. 88, Transfer of Property Act, does not contain direction to proceed against the person or other property of the judgment-debtor, the decree-holder, when the sale proceeds of the mortgaged properties do not satisfy the decree amount, can apply under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. 21 C. 26. Y
- (c) A mortgagee obtained an order absolute for sale, but before the sale actually took place, a third person established his claim to $\frac{1}{2}$ of the mortgaged property. The other half was duly sold, but the mortgage debt was not fully satisfied. It was held, that under the circumstances, the mortgagee was entitled to a decree under this rule. 1903 A.W.N. 179=26 A. 25. Z

(2) Decree-holder not entitled to apply.

- (a) A mortgagee not having sold the property mortgaged, is not entitled to an order under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. The remedy given by S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, is an extraordinary remedy, and should be applied with great care and jealousy. 4 A.L.J. 157=A.W.N. (1907), 69=29 A. 260. A
- (b) At the instance of the purchasers of a portion of the mortgaged property, a decree-holder released that portion without mortgagor's consent, and brought to sale under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act, the remaining portion. The sale proceeds did not satisfy the decree-debt. He now applied for a personal decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. It was held that, as the release was made without mortgagor's consent, he was not to be taxed with a personal decree. 10 C.W.N. 862=33 C. 890. B
- (c) Unless the mortgaged property was sold, the defendants could successfully object to an application under S. 90. 3 A.L.J. 445=28 A. 660. C

(3) Other cases.

- (a) The decree of a Court was for a certain amount “making the mortgaged property liable for the decretal money.” This was held to be a decree for sale, though the form was irregular and that, unless the properties were sold and the execution of the unsatisfied balance was applied for under S. 90, no other property of the mortgagor could be brought to sale. 26 C. 166=3 C.W.N. 8. D
- (b) A mortgage decree-holder, promising to purchase the property for the full decree amount, purchased it for a lesser price through another, benami for himself—the judgment-debtor not objecting. Though this amounted to an abuse of the process of Court, the decree-holder was granted a personal decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, for the balance—as the judgment-debtor had the remedy of getting the sale set aside in due course of law. 1 A.L.J. 486. E

1.—“Any such sale.”—(Concluded).

II.—Sale.

(1) Private sale.

Under S. 90, the sale proceeds might have accrued by private sale. Sale by public auction was not essential. A.W.N. (1905), 124=2 A.L.J. 353.F

(2) Such sale.

The words ‘such sale’ in S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, mean a sale of property directed to be sold by the decree under S. 88, and the order absolute under S. 89, Transfer of Property Act. 3 A.L.J. 465=A.W.N. (1906), 205=28 A. 674. G

(3) Not a condition precedent.

A sale is not a necessary condition precedent to the passing of a money decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. The direction for a sale might be dispensed with, if the sale becomes inadvisable. But no order can be passed under S. 90, which would have the effect of impeaching the original decree. 1 N.L.R. 39. H

III.—Relinquishment of claim.

(a) A mortgagee at any stage is entitled to abandon his claim against portions of mortgaged property, and then obtain a decree under S. 90, for the balance, after sale of the rest of the property. A.W.N. (1907), 83=29 A. 369. I

(b) There is nothing to prevent a mortgagee relinquishing his claim against a portion of the mortgaged property, and if he obtains a decree against the other portion alone, and if the sale of it proves insufficient, he can obtain a decree under S. 90 against the unhypothecated property of the mortgagor. 25 A. 79=1902 A.W.N. 203. J

(c) A mortgagee obtained a decree for sale of the whole mortgaged property. He then relinquished his claim to a part, and obtained order absolute with regard to the other part. The part was sold, but did not satisfy his decree. He was allowed to obtain a money decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. 28 A. 19=A.W.N. (1905), 165=2 A.L.J. 413. K

2.—“The amount due to the plaintiff.”

Costs.

(a) Costs decreed are recoverable under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. 11 O.C. 377.

(b) The words “the amount due for the time being on the mortgage” include costs also. 17 M.L.J. 317=2 M.L.T. 359=30 M. 464. M

(c) Mortgage decree and costs should first be recovered by sale of the mortgaged property. If the sale proceeds be insufficient, then the balance may be recovered under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act. 12 C.W.N. 364=35 C. 431=8 C.L.J. 152. N

(d) A prior mortgagee is not entitled to a decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, against the puisne mortgagee for costs. 23 A. 439=1901 A.W.N. 131. O

3.—“Legally recoverable.”

I.—General.

In a suit on a mortgage, the Court is competent to decide at the very beginning, the question of the personal liability of the defendant. It is not, that the Court acquires jurisdiction only after the security has been sold and proved insufficient. 5 M.L.T. 246. P

II.—Insufficiency of the sale proceeds.

- (a) A decree-holder had two decrees for sale, and the sale of the mortgaged property satisfied only one decree. The amount of the other decree was held to be “balance legally recoverable,” and a decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, was passed. 15 A. 331=13 A.W.N. 120. Q
- (b) A puisne mortgagee got a decree for sale, on condition of redeeming the prior mortgages. He redeemed them, and brought the property to sale. The proceeds did not even cover the amounts of the prior mortgages redeemed. It was held, that he was entitled to a personal decree under S. 90, Transfer of Property Act, for the whole deficit. 1903 A.W.N. 202=26 A. 93.
- (c) A puisne mortgagee sued the prior mortgagee for redemption. A decree for redemption or sale was passed. Plaintiff failed to redeem, and the property was sold, but it did not satisfy the prior mortgagee's debt and costs. It was held that the prior mortgagee could not arrest the puisne mortgagee for the balance—the decree, so far as it affected the puisne mortgagee, not being a personal one. 1 A.L.J. 250=1904 A.W.N. 73=26 A. 507. B

III.—Limitation.

(1) Period of limitation.

- (a) Where a mortgage bond was payable by instalment, and the right of suit for whole accrued on the failure to pay any one instalment, and where an instalment was not paid, and the suit was brought after six years after the date of default, it was held that the creditor was not entitled to a decree under S. 90, T.P.A., if the proceeds of sale proved insufficient. 3 A.L.J. 463. T
- (b) In considering whether the recovery of the balance remaining due after sale of the mortgaged property was barred by limitation under Art. 116, regard should be had to the date of the suit, and not to the date of the application under S. 90, T.P.A. An application under S. 90, T.P.A., is not a plaint in a suit. 6 O.C. 30. U

(2) Calculation of the period.

- (a) Personal remedy should not have been barred at the date of suit—otherwise no order under S. 90, T.P.A., can be made. 11 C.W.N. 674=6 C.L.J. 119=34 C. 672. Y
- (b) In considering whether the balance is legally recoverable, the date of filing of suit is the date which has to be looked to. A.W.N. (1903), 161=30 A. 388=5 A.L.J. 670. W
- (c) In calculating time for finding out whether the balance was legally recoverable, the date of the institution of the suit should be taken into account, and not the date on which the application under S. 90, T.P.A., was made. 18 A.W.N. 83=20 A. 386. X

3.—“Legally recoverable.”—(Concluded).

III.—Limitation.—(Concluded).

- (d) In a usufructuary mortgage, there was a covenant that the property may be sold for the debt, if no possession were given before a certain date (the mortgage amount, meanwhile, being payable on a certain specified date), and on the covenant a suit was brought, and the property was sold. The sale amount proved insufficient and the mortgagee applied under S. 90, T.P.A. It was held that limitation ran from the date of the breach of covenant to pay, and not from the breach of covenant to put the mortgagee in possession. 18 A. 371. Y

IV.—Personal covenant.

- (a) A personal covenant is implied in every simple mortgage. So a personal decree under S. 90, T.P.A., may be passed under conditions mentioned in the section. A.W.N. (1908), 161=30 A. 388=5 A.L.J. 670. Z
- (b) If it is mere unconditional promise to pay, it implies personal liability, and a decree under S. 90 under proper conditions may be passed. 13 C.W.N. 138. A
- (c) Where a property is pledged for a loan, and where there is no contrary intention in the deed, promise to pay the loan, (i.e.) personal liability, will be presumed. 4 C.L.J. 246. B
- (d) Where there is no contrary intention, every mortgage carries with it personal liability. But the mortgagee should first have his remedy against the property, whether he prays for personal decree in the plaint or not. Then he can apply under S. 90, T.P.A. 14 A. 513=12 A.W.N. 80. C

V.—Succession certificate.

Where the representative of a mortgagee had not obtained a succession certificate, the balance cannot be legally recoverable by him, and so no decree under S. 90, T.P.A., can be passed. 35 C. 767; 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658. D

4.—“May pass a decree.”

I.—General.

- (a) The proceedings following on an application under S. 90, T.P.A., are a continuation of the original suit. If the application is dismissed under S. 102, C.P.C., the mortgagee is precluded from making a fresh application. 1 N.L.R. 143. E
- (b) When the proceeds of a sale are not sufficient to discharge the mortgage debt, the decree-holder, cannot, without obtaining a decree under S. 90, T.P.A., attach and sell the property, as if he had obtained such a decree. 6 O.C. 59. F

II.—Limitation.

(1) Period of limitation.

- (a) Art. 178 of the Limitation Act does not apply to an application under S. 90 of the T.P.A. 11 C.P.L.R. 141. G
- (b) An application under S. 90, T.P.A., is governed by Art. 178 of the Limitation Act as to limitation. 21 A. 453=19 A.W.N. 166. H

4.—“ May pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

II.—Limitation.—(Concluded).

- (c) An application under S. 90, T.P.A., is not an application for ‘ execution of a decree ’ within the meaning of Art. 179, but is an application in execution proceedings to which Art. 178, Limitation Act, applies. 6 O.C. 114.

(2) Calculation of period.

In a suit for sale of a decree was passed by mistake for the sale of the mortgaged, as well as other properties. The mortgaged property was sold, but did not satisfy the decree. Subsequently, judgment debtor got the decree amended by striking out the other properties. Thereupon, the decree-holder applied for a decree under S. 90, T.P.A. It was held that the period of limitation for such an application ran from the date of the amended decree. 1902 A.W.N. 50. J

III.—Who can apply.

The person who can apply under S. 90, T.P.A., is the person in execution of whose decree for sale, the mortgaged property has been sold. 19 A.W.N. 208. K

IV.—Who can oppose.

A junior member of a joint family, who was liable for his share of the debt sued on, but who was not a party, could not successfully plead that, the decree under S. 90, T.P.A., being a personal one in regard to the unsatisfied balance, he was not liable. 22 A. 408=20 A.W.N. 158. L

V.—Decree under S. 90.

- (a) An order under S. 90 must be a money decree. A Court cannot, under S. 90, direct sale of a specific property. 19 A.W.N. 125. M
- (b) When purchasers of the equity of redemption are made parties, no personal decree as against them can be passed. 5 N.W.P. 2. N
- (c) When the son’s share was exempted from sale under the decree in a mortgage by the father alone, on the ground that the son was not a party to the mortgage suit, his share was equally protected from sale in execution of a decree under S. 90, T.P.A., obtained against the father. 23 A.W.N. 42. O

VI.—Setting aside ex parte decree.

An application made under S. 108, C.P.C., to set aside an ex parte decree passed under S. 90, T.P.A., is not maintainable. 9 O.C. 288. P

VII.—Appeal.

If a party is dissatisfied with the order under S. 90, T.P.A., the proper course for him is to appeal against the order under S. 244, C.P.C. 1904 A.W.N. 263. Q

Preliminary decree in redemption-suit.

7. In a suit for redemption¹, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree²—

- (a) ordering that an account be taken³ of what will be due to the defendant for principal and interest on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit⁴ (if any) awarded to him on the day next hereinafter referred to, or

- (b) declaring the amount so due ⁵ at the date of such decree, and directing—
- (c) that, if the plaintiff pays into Court the amount so due on a day within six months ⁶ from the date of declaring in Court the amount so due, to be fixed by the Court ⁷, the defendant shall deliver up to the plaintiff, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession ⁸ or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property ⁹ to the plaintiff free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the defendant or any person claiming under him, or, where the defendant claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall, if necessary, put the plaintiff in possession of the property, but
- (d) that, if such payment is not made ¹⁰ on or before the day to be fixed by the Court, the plaintiff shall (unless the mortgage is simple or usufructuary) be debarred from all right to redeem ¹¹ or (unless the mortgage is by conditional sale) that the mortgaged property be sold ¹².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 92 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between this rule and S. 92, T.P.A.

The rule is split up into four sub-divisions, corresponding to the three paragraphs of the old section, and verbal changes are made, such as the omission, modification and addition of words, to ensure better arrangement and greater clearness.

The word "preliminary" in the marginal note is new.

Clauses (a) and (b).

These correspond to the first paragraph—

- (i) For the words "the mortgage-money," the words "principal and interest on the mortgage" are substituted.
- (ii) The word "this" is changed into "the."
- (iii) The words "if any" are enclosed in brackets.

Clause (c).

This corresponds to the second paragraph—

- (i) The words "and directing" are new.
- (ii) For the words "upon the plaintiff paying to the defendant or into Court," the words "if the plaintiff pays into Court" are substituted.
- (iii) The words "if so required" are new.
- (iv) For the word "it," the words "the property" are substituted.
- (v) "When" is changed into "where."
- (vi) The word "mortgaged" is omitted.

Clause (d).

This corresponds to the last paragraph—

- (i) The conjunction “and” connecting the second and the last paragraph is changed into “but.”
- (ii) For the words “be absolutely debarred of,” the words “be debarred from” are substituted.
- (iii) The word “be” is changed into “is.”

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

Rules 7 and 8 ought to be read together, and the proviso of the latter rule has no application where the mortgagee does not apply for foreclosure, or where the original decree does not contain the last clause mentioned in the rule. 18 M. 267. R

(2) Revision.

When a decree does not specify the result of non-payment, the appellate Court made an order allowing the amount due to be deposited. Held, that the order is one, which the High Court should not interfere in revision. 8 A.W.N. 119. S

(3) Appeal.

In the view that the decree under the rule is the final judgment or decision in the suit, it will be appealable. 25 M. 800. T

(4) Satisfaction of mortgage-amount—Onus.

The burden of proving that the mortgage-money has not been satisfied lay on the mortgagee defendant in the suit. 3 A.W.N. 90. U

1.—“Suit for redemption.”

A redemption-suit is a suit for land. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 319. Y

2.—“Shall pass a decree.”

(1) General.

- (a) A conditional decree fixing a period for payment of money found to be due on mortgage-bonds entitling the mortgagor to redemption, though not claimable as of right by the mortgagor, who ordinarily should be ready at once with his money, is a proper and judicious order passed by an appellate Court, where the original Court determined the amount but failed to fix any time for the payment. 1 A. 344. W
- (b) The Courts which are called upon to pass decrees in suits on mortgages should pay due regard to the provisions of rr. 7 and 8. In case of usufructuary mortgage, decrees for foreclosure should not be made. 26 B. 121; U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, p. 582. X

(2) Contents of decree.

- (a) As to what a judgment should contain when redemption is allowed, and as to the proper form of a decree for redemption, see 1 L.B.R. (1902), 187. Y
- (b) The decree must not contain unnecessary declarations. 9 I.A. 21. Z
- (c) Nor should it contain improper or illegal conditions. 8 A. 502. A

(3) When the Court shall pass a conditional decree.

- (a) The preliminary decree can be passed, if the Court finds that the mortgaged-debt had not been satisfied as alleged in the plaint, even though it was impossible to ascertain the amount before suit. 1 A. 524. B

2.—“Shall pass a decree.”—(Concluded).

(b) A Court might take such account for the purpose of deciding, whether the entire mortgage-debt had been satisfied, and might give the plaintiff a decree for redemption of the property lying within its jurisdiction, even though, in doing so, it had to determine incidentally questions relating to lands lying beyond its local limits. 1 A. 431. C

(c) Whether the Court can pass a decree for redemption, when the plaintiff seeks only a declaration of the right to redeem, see 16 M. 121. D

(4) Nature of the decree.

In redemption suits, the original decree passed under the rule is only in the nature of a decree nisi. 22 B. 771; U.B.R. (1897 to 1901), Vol. II, p. 582. E

(5) Final decree.

A decree under the rule becomes a final decree on the expiry of the time limited thereby, although no order is passed under r. 8. 17 M. 96. F

(6) Foreclosure decree.

A decree for redemption which does not provide for payment of a mortgage debt within a fixed time for foreclosure in case of default, operates, of itself, as a foreclosure decree, if not executed within three years. 13 B. 567. G

(7) Decree for redemption in ejectment suit.

A Court can, in its discretion, pass a decree for redemption in a case in which the plaintiffs have sued in ejectment. 20 B. 196. H

(8) Decree in redemption suits of usufructuary mortgage.

A decree in a suit for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage is not a conditional decree for redemption under the rule. Hence, a second suit for redemption is not barred. 21 A. 251; [8 M. 478; 21 M. 18; 22 W.R. 172; 11 A. 386; N.W.P. (1871), 62, R; 19 A. 202, D.] I

(9) Form of decree—Improper.

(a) An order declaring that the plaintiff's right to redeem shall be extinguished, upon non-payment, within the time limited by a decree for redemption, of the amount found to be due, is not a proper order, when the mortgage sought to be redeemed is a usufructuary mortgage. A.W.N. (1907), 187 = 4 A.L.J. 447 = 29 A. 481 (24 A. 44, R). J

(b) Omission of the Court to draw up the proper decree under the rule did not deprive the mortgagee of the relief provided by r. 8. 25 B. 101. K

(10) Right of puisne mortgagees.

(a) A puisne mortgagee could not be deprived of his right by proceedings, to which he was not a party, and hence was entitled to a decree framed on the basis of such right of redemption, as he is entitled to. 7 B. 11. L

(b) A puisne mortgagee-plaintiff may be allowed to redeem a prior mortgagor by paying the amount due to him, though the time fixed in the decree has passed. 24 A. 479; 1 A.L.J. 300 (21 C. 318 and 22 B. 771, R.). M

(11) Amendment of the decree.

A mortgagor obtained a decree for redemption of his mortgage, “within six months from the date of the decree.” The time fixed for redemption can be applied for amendment under this rule. 15 M. 170. N

3.—“An account be taken.”

- (a) It is necessary for accounts to be taken in a suit for redemption, in order that it may be ascertained, whether or not the mortgage has been paid off. 2 N.W.P. 207. O
- (b) In a suit for redemption of two distinct mortgages, the separate accounts of the two mortgages should be taken. 14 B. 19. P
- (c) In a suit for the redemption of land which has been sub-mortgaged by the mortgagee, in which suit the sub-mortgagees are co-defendants, the judgment should direct an account of what is due to the original mortgagee, and then of what is due to the sub-mortgagee. 15 B. 692. Q
- (d) In a redemption suit, the mortgagor is entitled, as in a question with his mortgagee, to have a general account taken of what is due upon the mortgage. The accounts between the parties should be settled and discharged. 5 O L.J. 192=34 C. 223. R
- (e) There ought to be a complete and final settlement of all accounts between the mortgagor and the mortgagee, right up to the date of the redemption. 4 A.L.J. 763=A.W.N. (1907), 281=30 A. 36. S
- (f) Where a decree is passed in plaintiff's favour, and a date is fixed for payment under the rule, the plaintiff must get an account of the profits of the property taken up to the date fixed for payment. 8 O.C. 302. T

4.—“Costs of the suit.”

- (a) In a redemption suit, a mortgagee is entitled to all costs properly incurred, unless he has been guilty of misconduct. 3 B. 202; 8 B. 190; 15 C. 681; 13 C.F.L.R. 74. U
- (b) The plaintiff was entitled to set off the amount of his taxed costs against the mortgage money, which he was liable to pay under the decree. 4 C. 742; 4 C.L.R. 122; 17 B. 32. Y

5.—“Declaring the amount so due.”

- (a) The first mortgagee obtained a decree for sale, and purchased the property in execution for less than the mortgage amount. The puisne mortgagees sued to redeem. The amount to be paid was not the sum for which the property was sold, but the amount due on the mortgage up to the date, on which he obtained possession after purchase. 1902 A.W.N. 7=24 A. 185. W
- (b) A mortgagee is not entitled to interest between the date of the decree and the date when the mortgagee obtained possession, if it is not expressly provided for in the mortgage-deed. 9 A.W.N. 177. X

6.—“Within six months.”

- (a) The omission to state in the decree the consequence of the plaintiff's default in paying off the mortgage money, could not operate to extend the period available to the plaintiff for payment, beyond the maximum term provided for by the rule. 15 A. 65=13 A.W.N. 222, (14 A. 529, R; 14 A. 350, dis.). Y
- (b) Seven days was far too short a time to allow for payment. The direction for payment within a limited time had no practical effect upon the decree for redemption, if no condition was imposed or penalty attached to non-compliance. U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, p. 514; 4 A.W.N. 329. Z

7.—“To be fixed by the Court.”

- (a) When the decree is affirmed on appeal, the time allowed for payment should be computed from the date not of the original decree, but of the appellate decree. 11 B. 172; see, however, 2 M.L.J. 23. A
- (b) As to the mode of the calculation of time specified in the decree, see 8 A.W.N. 80. B

8.—“All documents in his possession.”

The mortgagee judgment-debtor, directed to deliver the title-deeds to the mortgagor decree-holder on receipt of the decree amount, was unable to return them as he lost them. He could not, in the absence of an express provision in the decree, be compelled to give security for the value of the property. 12 M.L.J. 63. C

9.—“Re-transfer the property.”

When a mortgage is redeemed, a mortgagee is bound to re-transfer the property, free from the mortgage and all other incumbrances created by him. 3 A.L.J. 517 = A.W.N. (1906), 241. D

10.—“If such payment is not made.”

- (a) A mortgagor, who has obtained a decree for redemption, and allows such decree to lapse by reason of his not paying in the decretal amount within the specified time, cannot subsequently bring a second suit for redemption. 19 A. 202, overruled by 24 A. 44 (3 N.W.P. 62; 13 B. 567, F; 10 B. 461, R; 11 A. 386; 6 M. 119; 7 M. 423; 15 M. 366, R.). See, however, 25 M. 300, wherein it was held that, as soon as a decree is passed in a redemption suit, but not executed, a second suit is not maintainable for the same mortgage. E
- (b) On failure of the mortgagor to pay the amount due on the day fixed, a right to apply for an order absolute accrues to the mortgagee, but the accrual of such right does not stand in the way of payment by the mortgagor of the amount due. 5 O.C. 82; L.B.R. (1893-1900), p. 174; 4 A.W.N. 329. F

11.—“Be debarred from all right to redeem.”

- (a) A mortgagor does not lose his right to redeem, notwithstanding default in paying off the mortgage amount within the time fixed by the decree, unless and until the mortgagee obtains an order for sale or for foreclosure under r. 8. 16 M. 214 = 3 M.L.J. 180; 19 M. 40; 19 A. 189; U.B.R. (1897 to 1901), Vol. II, p. 582. G
- (b) The mere fact of an appeal being preferred against it will not suspend the operation of the decree, which gives a right of redemption within a certain specified period, with a certain specified result, to follow in case of non-compliance, unless the appellate Court extends the time for payment. 13 A. 223; 18 A. 455 = 16 A.W.N. 130. H

12.—“That the mortgage property be sold.”

In a suit for redemption of a mortgage with possession, the Court decreed possession by redemption, on payment of the mortgage-money, adding that, if the plaintiff failed to do so, the right of redemption would be barred. Held, that the decree was contrary to the provisions of the rule, and that the Court was bound to decree that the property be sold. 2 O.C. 196. I

8. (1) Where, on or before the day fixed, the plaintiff pays ^{Final decree in} into Court the amount declared due ^{redemption-suit.} ¹ as aforesaid, together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in rule 10, the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering the defendant to deliver up the documents which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up, and, if so required.

(b) ordering him to retransfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and, also, if necessary,

(c) ordering him to put the plaintiff in possession of the property.

(2) Where such payment is not so made, and the mortgage is not simple or usufructuary, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the defendant, pass a decree that the plaintiff and all persons claiming through or under him be debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property ² and also, if necessary, ordering the plaintiff to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(3) On the passing of a decree under sub-rule (2) the debt secured by the mortgage shall be deemed to be discharged.

(4) Where such payment is not so made, and the mortgage is not by conditional sale, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the defendant, pass a decree that the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold ³ and that the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is found due to the defendant, and that the balance (if any) be paid to the plaintiff or other persons entitled to receive the same :

Provided that ⁴ the Court may, upon good cause shown ⁵ and upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, ^{Power to enlarge time.} from time to time postpone the day fixed for payment ⁶.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 93 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between S. 93, T.P.A., and this rule.

Sub-rule (1).

For the words "if payment is made of such amount," the words "where, on or before...as aforesaid" are substituted.

The words "and of" and "section ninety-four" are changed into "together with" and "rule 10."

The sub-divisions (a) and (b) are new.

Verbal changes are made in (c) to suit the arrangement of the rule.

Sub-rule (2).

- (i) The provisions contained in paras 2 and 3 are embodied in the sub-rule.
- (ii) "If" is changed into "where."
- (iii) For the words "the defendant may apply to the Court for an order," the words "the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the defendant" are substituted.
- (iv) Hence the words "if he applies for the former order" become unnecessary.
- (v) The words "an order" are changed into "a decree."
- (vi) For the words "and may...the defendant," the words "and also...the property" are substituted.

Sub-rule (3).

This corresponds in substance to the fifth para of S. 93.

The words in the sub-rule are entirely changed.

Sub-rule (4).

The provisions of the latter part of second para and of fourth para are embodied in the sub-rule. The words beginning with "where" and ending with "pass a decree" are changed and transposed in order to suit the new arrangement in the rule.

The words "if any" in brackets are new.

Proviso.

The words "if any" are enclosed in brackets. The words "under section ninety-two" and "to the defendant" are omitted.

N.B.—The marginal head note is new and the head notes of S. 93 are omitted.

(General).(1) Scope of the rule.

The applicability of the rule is not taken away, merely because the decree is not drawn up in the terms of r. 7. 25 B. 101=2 Bom. L.R. 633. J

(2) Interpretation of the rule.

- (a) Notwithstanding that the rule deals only with a mortgagee's application for an order for sale, it would, on principle, seem that there would be no objection to the mortgagor applying for execution of the decree passed under r. 7, and getting an order for sale of the mortgaged property. 25 M. 800. K

- (b) The rule compels the Court—once the date originally fixed for payment has passed without payment in full—to make an order of foreclosure absolute, but at the same time allows it, on good cause shown and upon such terms, if any, as it thinks fit, from time to time, to postpone the date. 2 N.L.R. 137. L

(3) Limitation.

Applications made under the rule will be governed by Art. 179 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act. 25 M. 300. M

General—(Concluded).

(4) Execution.

An application for redemption or foreclosure under a decree nisi is not an application in execution under the Civil Procedure Code, but must be made in Court under the Transfer of Property Act; and until a decree nisi is made absolute, there is no decree capable of execution. 21 C. 818; 22 B. 77; 10 Bom. L.R. 1057. N

(5) Calculation of time, mode of.

The execution of the decree will be barred on the expiry of the time fixed from the date of the original decree, and the time cannot be calculated from the date of the withdrawal of the appeal. 15 B. 370; 1 M.L.J. 745. O

(6) Defendant.

The word "defendant" in the rule means mortgagor. 26 A. 507=24 A.W.N. 73=1 A.L.J. 250. P

1.—"The plaintiff pays into Court the amount declared due."

Default in payment within the specified time—Rights of mortgagor.

- (a) He is not entitled to apply for execution of the decree after the time limited. 19 M. 40. Q
- (b) The mortgagor is not entitled to apply for execution of the decree, if he has not complied with the conditions imposed by the decree. 13 B. 106; 16 B. 480; 20 B. 279. R
- (c) Payment of the amount, before an order absolute has been made, entitles the mortgagors to be put, if necessary, in possession of the mortgaged property. 5 O.C. 82. S
- (d) The failure to pay money, within the specified time, does not absolutely debar the mortgagor's right to obtain possession of the property. 28 B. 102. T

2.—"Be debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property."

(1) When right to redeem extinguished.

- (a) Unless the time for payment of the redemption money has been postponed under the rule, or the original decree has been modified by an order on appeal, that the amount should be paid within six months of the date of the appellate decree, the mortgagor may lose his right of redemption. 15 M. 170. U
- (b) Mortgagor's right to redeem is not extinguished, till the order absolute is made, under r. 3. 20 A. 446; 27 C. 705; 1908 A.W.N. 20=25 A. 281. V

(2) Usufructuary mortgagee—Effect of decree.

In a suit brought by a usufructuary mortgagor, for possession, on the ground that the mortgage debt has been satisfied from the usufruct, and in which the plaintiff is ordered to pay something, because the debt has not been satisfied as alleged, the decree passed against such a mortgagor for non-payment has not the effect of foreclosing him from all time from redeeming the property. 11 A. 386; (2 N.W.P. 62; 2 Agra 256; 4 A. 481, R). W

3.—“That the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold.”

(1) No necessity for sale—Payment made before order absolute.

In a suit on a Kanom brought by the mortgagor, a decree was passed, whereby it was only directed that, on payment by the plaintiff of a certain sum within six months, the defendant should surrender the mortgaged premises. Held, on appeal, that the appeal should be dismissed, in as much as the mortgagee never obtained an order for sale, and the mortgagor's equity of redemption had never become extinct, and the necessity for a sale was obviated by payment before any order was made under the rule. 16 M. 214. X

(2) Effect of default on position of mortgagor after decree for sale.

The decree for sale does not debar the mortgagor of any right in default of payment; the only penalty affixed to the default is the liability to have the property sold. By his default, he loses the privileges of a decree-holder, but he does not thereby lose his rights as a judgment-debtor. 3 M.L.T. 231=18 M.L.J. 239=31 M. 354 [31 C. 863, R; 19 M. 40, D; 24 M. 244 (282); 25 M. 300, R]; 5 O. C. 582. Y

4.—“Provided that.”

Meaning of Proviso.

The language of the whole proviso does not demand, that a limited meaning should be attached to it, and as the procedure prescribed is borrowed from the practice of the English Courts, it must be construed by the light of that practice. 2 N.L.R. 137; L.B.R. (1893—1900), Vol. II, p. 174. Z

5.—“Upon good cause shown.”

- (a) No extension of the time limited by the decree for payment of the decretal amount can be made, except for good cause shown. 19 A. 180 (16 C. 246, Diss; 16 M. 214, D); see, however, 19 A. 205. A
- (b) The Court may, on good cause shown, enlarge the time to pay money, and impose such terms as it thinks fit. Bom. L.R. 719=28 B. 102. B

6.—“Postpone the day fixed for payment.”

(1) When applications for extension of time to be made.

- (a) An application to extend the time for redemption fixed by the original decree may be made, at any time before the decree absolute is made. 22 B. 771; 5 O.C. 82. C
- (b) An application for extension of time to redeem can be made by the mortgagor, though the mortgagee has not applied for an order absolute. 25 M. 300. D
- (c) An application for enlargement of time for redemption may be entertained, and granted after the expiry of the time originally fixed. 3 Bom. L.R. 554; 13 M.L.J. 266; 22 B. 771; 26 B. 121; 28 B. 103; 2 N.L.R. 137. E

(2) The Court to which applications should be made.

An application for extension of time should be made to the Court of first instance. 25 M. 521=10 M.L.J. 145; 23 A. 88 (13 A. 278, R). See, however, A.W.N. (1906), 203=3 A.L.J. 828. F

6.—“Postpone the day fixed for payment.”—(Concluded).

(8) Powers of the appellate Court.

The appellate Court nevertheless has jurisdiction to allow the enlargement of time, in cases where there has been an appeal. A.W.N. (1906), 203=3 A.L.J. 828. G

(4) Enlargement of time prohibited.

The decree, in a redemption suit, directed that, on default of payment within six months, the mortgagor's right of redemption should be foreclosed, and the mortgagee should be at liberty to sell the property. Held, the Court had no power to enlarge the time, but was bound to pass an order absolute. 24 B. 300. H

(5) Kanom—Redemption decree.

The decree provided that the amount should be paid in three months. The decree-holder made default, but applied to execute the decree at a later date. Held, that the application did not fall under the proviso. 13 M. 267. I

9. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, if it appears, upon taking the account referred to in rule 7, that nothing is due to the defendant or that he has been overpaid ¹, the Court shall pass a decree directing the defendant, if so required, to retransfer the property and to pay to the plaintiff the amount which may be found due to him; and the plaintiff shall, if necessary, be put in possession of the mortgaged property.

Decree where nothing is found due or where mortgagee has been overpaid.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

“This rule is new. It is a recognition of existing practice, and remedies an obvious omission in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.” (Statement of Objects and Reasons.)

(General).

The method of taking accounts between mortgagor and mortgagee should be in accordance with the principles laid down at page 550 (7th edition) of Macpherson on “Mortgages.” 8 P.R. 1900. J

1.—“That he has been overpaid.”

(1) Balance on the settlement of accounts—Principle.

To avoid a multiplicity of suits, it is necessary under decrees for foreclosure or redemption, that the accounts between the parties should be settled and discharged; if the balance is against any party, he must pay it. 9 C. 377; 16 I.A. 107; 16 C. 682; 5 C.L.J. 192=34 C. 223. K

1.—“That he has been overpaid.”—(Concluded).

(2) Usufructuary mortgage.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee has realised a sum of money, in excess of the amount due to him, it is an equitable practice to allow to the mortgagor interest on such sum, at the same rate at which interest has been allowed to the mortgagee on his mortgage debt. 1 N.W.P. 56, Ed. 1873, 111. L

(3) Practice in case of over-payment.

The general practice is to order payment, by the mortgagee, of the balance due to the mortgagor, with interest from the date of the institution of the suit. 7 B. 185 ; 6 Bom. H.C. 97. M

10. In finally adjusting the amount to be paid to a mortgagee in case of a foreclosure or sale or redemption, the Court shall, unless the conduct of the mortgagee has been such as to disentitle him to costs¹, add to the mortgage-money such costs of suit² as have been properly incurred by him since the decree for foreclosure or sale or redemption up to the time of actual payment.

Costs of mortgagee subsequent to decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 94 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between this rule and S. 94, T.P.A.

For the words “in case of a redemption or sale,” the words “in case of a foreclosure, or sale or redemption” are substituted.

The words “by the Court under this chapter” are omitted.

“Redemption or sale” are arranged as “sale or redemption.”

1.—“To disentitle him to costs.”

The mortgagee may, by his conduct, disentitle himself to his costs if he incurs cost after a proper tender is made to him. 8 B. at p. 193. N

2.—“Such costs of suit.”

(1) Limitation as to the liability of the mortgagor.

The order for sale cannot, except with regard to any additional costs which may be provided for by an order under the rule, extend in any way the liability of the judgment-debtor or his property under the decree. 19 A. 186 = 17 A.W.N. 12 (5 A. 492, D.). O

(2) Costs not part of the mortgage amount.

The costs awarded could not be considered as part of the money due on the mortgage, and as such superseded by the order absolute for possession of the property. 10 A. 179 ; 14 C. 185. P

11. Where property is mortgaged for successive debts to successive mortgagees, any mesne mortgagee may institute a suit to redeem the interests of the prior mortgagees and to foreclose the rights of those that are posterior to himself and of the mortgagor.

Right of mesne mortgagee to redeem and foreclose.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

"The Committee have inserted this rule in compliance with the suggestion of the Privy Council in Gupi Narain Khanna v. Bansidhar (L.R. 32 I.A. 123). This was in the Transfer of Property Act Bill, but was omitted by the Select Committee on that bill on the ground that it ought to find a place in the Civil Procedure Code." (Statement of Objects and Reasons).

(General).

There is nothing in the Transfer of Property Act, or in the Code, which will prevent a puisne mortgagee from combining in one suit a prayer to redeem and to foreclose his own mortgage. 13 A. 432; 22 C. 33; 22 B. 701; 12 C.P.L.R. 86; 22 C. 100; 14 C.P.L.R. 177. See, however, 17 C.P.L.R. 189. Q

12. Where any property the sale of which is directed under this Order is subject to a prior mortgage, the Court may, with the consent of the prior mortgagee, direct that the property be sold free from the same¹, giving to such prior mortgagee the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold.

Sale of property subject to prior mortgage.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 96 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between this rule and S. 96, T.P.A.

The word "if" is changed into "where."

"Under this chapter" is altered into "under this order." For the word "order," the word "direct" is substituted.

(General).

Construction of the rule.

(a) The rule cannot be construed as implying that, whenever property is not to be sold free from a prior mortgage, the decree should reserve the prior mortgagee's rights in express terms, even when such rights have to be admitted and undisputed, and his rights, therefore, will be left unaffected by the omission to make a special reservation of them in the decree itself. Further, where the plaintiff has claimed for relief only subject to such admitted rights, the decree might have clearly provided that the mortgaged property should be sold, subject to the prior mortgage. 29 M. 84=16 M.L.J. 50 (18 A. 344, R.). R

(b) The rule does not support the view, that the puisne mortgagee is not required to redeem the prior mortgagee, when the latter is a party to the suit. 3 M.L.T. 397=18 M.L.J. 298 (30 C. 599 and 27 A. 385, D.). S

1.—“ Direct that the property be sold free from the same.”

(1) Obligation to redeem prior mortgages.

(a) In a suit on a mortgage, the plaintiff, the subsequent mortgagee, who made prior mortgagees parties thereto, prayed that the amount due to him might be realised by sale of the mortgaged property. He got a decree, but was required to redeem certain prior mortgages. Held that, although on the authority of the case in 22 C. 33, the plaintiff would be entitled to a decree giving him leave to sell the property subject to the prior incumbrances, yet having regard to the difficulty and complication that would arise under such decree, the decree passed by the lower Court was equitable and proper. 23 C. 795 ; 5 C. 101. T

(b) An order for sale cannot be obtained by a second mortgagee, except on his redeeming the prior mortgage. 13 A. 432 ; 16 M. 212 ; 22 A. 212 ; see, however, 22 C. 33 ; 17 M. 64. U

(2) Suit for sale of entire property—Mortgagee holding two mortgages on same property.

The mortgagee was not entitled to bring to sale the property covered by his simple mortgages, subject to the usufructuary mortgage held by him, nor could he bring to sale the whole property for the aggregate amount of the mortgages, simple and usufructuary. 1903 A.W.N. 177 = 26 A. 14 ; 24 A. 429 ; 25 M. 108 ; see, however, 16 A. 195 ; 20 A. 322. Y

Application of 13. (1) Such proceeds shall be brought into proceeds. Court and applied ¹ as follows :—

first, in payment of all expenses incident to the sale or properly incurred in any attempted sale ;

secondly, in payment of whatever is due to the prior mortgagee on account of the prior mortgage, and of costs, properly incurred in connection therewith ;

thirdly, in payment of all interest due ² on account of the mortgage in consequence whereof the sale was directed, and of the costs of the suit in which the decree directing the sale was made ;

fourthly, in payment of the principal money due on account of that mortgage ; and lastly, the residue (if any) shall be paid to the person proving himself to be interested in the property sold ³, or if there are more such persons than one, then to such persons according to their respective interests therein or upon their joint receipt.

(2) Nothing in this rule or in rule 12 shall be deemed to affect the powers conferred by section 57 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, (IV of 1882).

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 97 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between this rule and S. 97, T.P.A.Sub-rule (1).

The provisions contained in paras 1 to 5, both inclusive, are embodied in this sub-rule.

The words "secondly, if the property....such mortgage" are omitted and the words "secondly in payment....therewith" are substituted.

The words "in this section or in section ninety-six" are changed into "in this rule or in rule 12."

The words "of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, (IV of 1882)" are new.

1.—"Such proceeds....and applied."

The claim of the plaintiff, the holder of unregistered mortgage, was prior to that of the holder of the money-decree. The plaintiff's earlier mortgage must be postponed to the mortgage registered. The proceeds of the sale, after satisfying the first incumbrancer, became payable first to the other incumbrancers, if any, and then to the mortgagor. The holder of the money-decree could only take any balance that remained, subject to the equitable right of the plaintiff. 18 B. 684. W

2.—"In payment of all interest due."

(a) The Court has power to allow interest subsequent to the date of the decree and the date fixed by the decree for payment, until realisation. 24 C. 766 (19 A. 174, D.). X

(b) It is competent for a Court passing a mortgage decree to give interest beyond the date fixed for payment, and up to the date of realisation. 3 Bom. L.R. 51; 5 C.W.N. 137; 23 A. 181; 28 I.A. 35 (19 A. 164, over-ruled; 1 C.W.N. 550; 24 C. 756; 21 M. 564; 21 A. 361, app.; 2 C.W.N. 688, R.); but see 34 C. 150. Y

3.—"The residue shall be paid....sold."(1) Claims of the mortgagee on the surplus sale proceeds.

When a mortgagee, holding two mortgages over the same property, obtains a decree for sale of the property in satisfaction of the first mortgage, then a subsequent suit on the second mortgage is barred. But it may be open to him to enforce his claim on the second mortgage under the rule, by proceeding against any surplus that remains after satisfying the decree. 17 M.L.J. 301=2 M.L.T. 330=30 M. 353 (24 A. 429, appl.; 25 M. 108, R.; 20 A. 322, dis.). Z

(2) Surplus to be applied not to other debts.

A mortgagee receiving the surplus sale proceeds of a portion of the mortgaged properties, sold in execution of a decree on a prior mortgage of that part obtained against some of the mortgagors, is bound to apply the same towards the mortgage debt, and not to other debts, in case he received the money by means of or by virtue of the security, even though the money was paid by the mortgagors towards other debts due by them. 8 O.C. 953 [(1848) 2 Y. and C. Ch. 268 and 277, F.]. A

14. (1) Where a mortgagee has obtained a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage¹, he shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale² otherwise than by instituting a suit³ for sale in enforcement of the mortgage, and he may institute such suit notwithstanding anything contained in Order II, rule 2.⁴

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall apply⁵ to any territories to which the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, (IV of 1882), has not been extended.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule partly corresponds to S. 99 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

(General).

(1) Object of the rule.

- (a) The rule aims at the hardships inflicted on mortgagors by mortgagees, by proceeding to realise their claims by execution of money decrees passed in respect of the mortgagors' personal liability. The primary purpose of the rule is to relieve a mortgagee from the restriction placed on the splitting of his remedies. 2 Bom. L.R. 864=25 B. 161. B
- (b) The object of the rule is that the mortgaged property shall be brought to sale in such a manner as to secure, that all incumbrances shall be brought before the Court, and that what shall be sold shall be not the equity of redemption, but the property itself free from incumbrances, so that the property may fetch a fair value. 26 B. 88; 10 C.P.L.R. 21 (21 C. 34 at p. 37; 17 A. 520, R; 16 A. 415, diss.). C

(2) Scope and applicability of the rule.

- (a) A suit for sale of the equity of redemption of the mortgaged property, reserving the mortgagee's rights and interests under the mortgage, is opposed to the intention of the rule. 17 A. 520 (16 A. 415; 21 C. 314, R.). D
- (b) The rule prohibits a sale of mortgaged property held in contravention of the rule. 21 C. 37; 30 C. 463; 17 A. 522; 22 M. 372; 32 C. 296; 4 A.L.J. 787. E
- (c) The rule applies to the holder of a usufructuary mortgage. 16 M. 436; 16 A. 415. F
- (d) The rule applies to persons having charges. 22 C. 859; 22 C. 908 (19 C. 139, D); 24 M. 689; 17 M.L.J. 217. G
- (e) The rule applies to sur-i-peshgi mortgages. 26 C. 164. H
- (f) The rule applies to a security-bond amounting to a mortgage. 9 C.W.N. 972=1 C.L.J. 118=32 C. 494; (26 C. 246; 27 C. 190, R). I
- (g) The rule applies as much to the transferee of a money decree obtained by the mortgagee as to the mortgagee himself. 31 B. 462; 31 M. 33; 11 O.C. 231; 14 C.P.L.R. 35. J
- (h) The rule was not intended to apply to decrees already obtained declaring a lien and authorising a sale. 12 C. 436 (6 A. 262, D). K

General—(Concluded).

- (i) The rule cannot be applied to sales perfected in execution of money decrees obtained by mortgagees on claims independent of the mortgage. 15 M.L.J. 445=29 M. 421 (22 M. 372; 22 B. 624, R. and D.) L
- (j) The rule will not prevent the assignee of a money-decree, or of a money bond, from the mortgagee from bringing the mortgaged property to sale. 1905 A.W.N. 42=2 A.L.J. 121=27 A. 450, 7 Bom. L.R. 816 (22 C. 813, D; 32 C. 296, R); 2 M.L.J. 188; see, however, 14 C.P.L.R. 35. M
- (k) The rule has no application, where the decree sought to be executed is one obtained in terms of the mortgage-bond, for sale of the mortgaged property, subject to the mortgage itself, and obtained in respect of interest due on the mortgage. 31 C. 922. N
- (l) The rule does not apply to a purchase of mortgagor's rights by mortgagee at the sale, in execution of a decree of a third party. 7 O.C. 307. O
- (m) The rule cannot apply to decree-holders, who have obtained a security bond executed by the judgment-debtors, who mortgaged certain properties as security for the due performance of the decree. 30 C. 1060=7 C.W.N. 914. P
- (n) Whether the recovery of tucavi advances under Acts VII of 1880 and I of 1895 is barred by the rule in cases the property is hypothecated to Government for such advances? 6 C.W.N. 484=29 C. 537. Q

(3) Limitation Act.

An application for sale made in contravention of the rule ought to be dismissed, and cannot be treated as one made in accordance with law, within the meaning of Art. 179, Sch. II, Limitation Act. 12 A. 64. R

(4) Construction of decree.

A decree was passed on a hypothecation bond for the payment of the secured debt, and it contained the following words:—"the property hypothecated in the bond being also held liable for the whole amount thus awarded." Held that the decree was in reality a decree for sale. 20 M. 78. S

1.—"Claim arising under the mortgage."

A mortgagee cannot sell the mortgaged property in execution of an ordinary money decree, in satisfaction of a claim not arising under the mortgage. 21 C. 34. T

2.—"He shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale."(1) Meaning of.

The words "the mortgagee..shall not be entitled to bring the property to sale otherwise than by bringing a suit" must be held to mean that the mortgagee has not the right to bring the property to sale in execution of a mere money decree, but that, if the mortgagor consents, he may do so, and in any case the sale is valid, until set aside in proceedings properly taken for that purpose. 8 O.C. 327; 8 O.C. 409. U

(2) Attachment.

The mortgagee, although he cannot bring the mortgaged property to sale, may attach it. 22 C. 813; 24 C. 478; 25 C. 262; 8 Bom. L.R. 576; 10 Bom. L.R. 274. Y

2.—“He shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale.”—

(3) Sale contrary to the rule—Not valid.

- (a) The mortgagee obtained a decree for arrears of rent. In execution he brought the mortgaged premises to sale and purchased them. Held, that the sale was invalid. 14 M. 74; 30 C. 463 (19 M. 240, R); see, however, 16 M. 436. W
- (b) The sale of the mortgage property, in execution of a decree on a money bond for interest due on the mortgage, did not convey the interest of an undivided brother, who was not a party to the decree. The sale in execution was invalid under the rule. 12 M. 325; 16 M. 437. X

(4) Sale void against persons not parties to the suit.

The conditions, under which a sale of mortgaged property is permissible under the rule, are not satisfied, unless there is a decree for sale. It is absolutely void against all persons, who were not parties to the suit, in which the decree for money was made. 22 M. 372=9 M.L.J. 118; 17 M.L.J. 325=30 M. 362. Y

(5) Effect of sale—Sale not void but voidable.

- (a) A sale effected in contravention of the rule is not, under all circumstances, void and of no effect. 18 A. 325; 24 A. 549; 22 M. 372=9 M.L.J. 118; 2 A.L.J. 123; A.W.N. (1908), 49; A.W.N. (1908), 48. Z
- (b) The sale would not operate to extinguish the mortgage. 14 M. 74; 22 B. 224; 12 C.P.L.R. 26; 14 C.P.L.R. 17; 1 N.L.R. 117; 2 N.L.R. 106; 16 C.P.L.R. 56. A
- (c) The sale was not void, but voidable as the rule was for the benefit only of a particular class of persons, namely, those concerned with a right to redeem mortgaged property. 22 M. 347=9 M.L.J. 189; 18 A. 325; 1905 A.W.N. 80=2 A.L.J. 210=27 A. 517 (2 A.L.J. 71; 1 C. 371; 22 B. 624, R); 33 C. 283; 17 M.L.J. 163=2 M.L.T. 181=80 M. 313. B

(6) Confirmation of sale—Rights of mortgagor.

- (a) The sale in contravention of the rule, when once made and confirmed by the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, cannot be set aside. But that cannot prevent the mortgagor from redeeming. 22 B. 624; 22 M. 347; 17 M.L.J. 163=2 M.L.T. 181=30 M. 313. See, however, 23 B. 119. Such a sale cannot be treated as a nullity, as the irregularity is one of procedure only. 9 C.W.N. 201; 7 Bom. L.R. 1; 2 A.L.J. 71; 32 C. 296; 32 I.A. 23. C
- (b) The principle of the impossibility of a mortgagee freeing himself from his liability to be redeemed, as affirmed in 22 B. 624 and 22 M. 347, was applicable in the case of the purchase by a mortgagee of a portion of the mortgaged property at a Court sale, in execution of the money decree by a third party. 23 M. 377; 24 M. at p. 411; but see 24 M. 96; 5 C. 198; 27 M. 428. D

(7) Effect of the sale under a final decree.

Though the sale of an equity of redemption was not contemplated by the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, yet, when the sale had taken place under a decree which had become final, it could not be upset. 1902 A.W.N. 192=24 A. 549 (13 A. 492; 18 A. 325, R). E

2.—“He shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale.”—
(Concluded).

(8) Effect of not objecting to the sale.

Neither the judgment-debtor, nor the judgment-creditor-mortgagee can dispute the title of the purchaser, when he took no objection to the sale.
1 A.L.J. 360 ; 10 M.L.J. 110 ; 2 A.L.J. 123. F

(9) Landlord and tenant.

The sale of a holding, by a landlord having a mortgage thereon, except by means of a suit, is invalid. 88 C. 118. G

3.—“Otherwise than by instituting a suit.”

- (a) A mortgagee obtained a decree for arrears of interest. He applied for the sale of the mortgaged land. Held, the land could not be sold, otherwise than by a suit instituted for sale. 10 M. 129 ; 22 C. 813. H
- (b) A simple money decree is passed in a suit for sale upon mortgage, and the decretal amount is made a charge on the property. Held, the mortgagee should institute a second suit upon his decree. 22 C. 859 ; 1905 A.W.N. 189 = 2 A.L.J. 479. I
- (c) A mortgagee, who disclaims all interest under the mortgage and obtains a simple money decree upon the personal covenant to pay, cannot sell the mortgaged property, except by a suit for sale. 1905 A.W.N. 152 = 2 A.L.J. 356 (2 A.L.J. 71, R.) ; A.W.N. (1908), 49. J

4.—“Notwithstanding anything contained in Order II, r. 2.”

- (a) A mortgagee sued on a hypothecation bond for the principal and interest against the obligor personally. The Court only decreed for the interest claimed for. Subsequently, the obligee instituted a suit for sale for the recovery of the principal money due. Held, that the latter suit was not barred. 16 M. 481. K
- (b) A mortgagee was not debarred from subsequently bringing a suit for sale on his mortgage, notwithstanding r. 2, O. II. 1904 A.W.N. 2 = 26 A. 228 (16 A. 415 = 25 B. 161, R). L
- (c) A mortgagee who has attached the mortgaged property in execution of a decree for the satisfaction of a claim arising under a mortgage may, notwithstanding r. 2, O. II, include that claim in any suit he may be able to bring under S. 67, Transfer of Property Act. 7 O.C. 314 ; 3 C. P.L.R. 170. M
- (d) But it would be different if, in the former suit, the mortgagee's right to sell the property had been distinctly refused, in which case clause 11 of Act V of 1908 would clearly apply. 3 C.P.L.R. 170. N

5.—“Nothing in this rule shall apply.”

Punjab—Applicability of the rule.

Though the Transfer of Property Act was not in force in the Punjab, the principle of the rule was of general application. 157 P.L.R. 1906 = 2 P.R 1907. O

15. All the provisions contained in this Order as to the sale or redemption of mortgaged property shall, so far as Charges. may be, apply to property subject to a charge ¹ within the meaning of section 100 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, (IV of 1882).

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the latter part of S. 100 of Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act).

Difference between this rule and S. 100, T.P.A.

The words “and all the provisions hereinbefore contained as to a mortgagee instituting a suit for the sale of the mortgaged property” are repealed. (vide the Fifth Schedule, Col. 4.)

1.—“All the provisions.....subject to charge.”

(1) Meaning of.

The words mean all provisions dealing with a sale of the mortgaged property and not all rights of a mortgagee entitled to sue for sale. 1905 A.W.N. 174=2 A.L.J. 379=28 A. 365. P

(2) Position of charge-holder.

The rule confers on the holder of a charge all the rights and remedies available to the holder of a mortgage who is entitled to sue for sale. 1905 A.W.N. 174=2 A.L.J. 379=28 A. 365. Q

(3) Enforcement of charge created by maintenance-decree.

- (a) A charge, such as is created in a decree for maintenance, can be enforced only by a suit. 22 C. 859; 25 C. 262; 22 C. 813. R
- (b) If the decree is incapable of execution, a suit may be brought upon it. 27 I.A. 51; 22 C. 902. S
- (c) To avoid any difficulty in executing a decree for maintenance out of property charged with payment of the allowance and make a fresh suit unnecessary, a Receiver should be appointed with directions to sell the estate and pay the allowance for maintenance. 26 C. 441. T

ORDER XXXV.

INTERPLEADER.

1. In every suit of interpleader the plaintiff shall, in addition to the other statements necessary for plaints, state ¹—

Plaint in interpleader-suit.

- (a) that the plaintiff claims no interest in the subject-matter in dispute other than for charges or ² costs;
- (b) the claims made by the defendants severally; and
- (c) that there is no collusion between the plaintiff and any of the defendants ³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 471 of the Code of 1882; in the first para of the rule "shall" has been substituted for "must"; and cl. (a) of the old section which ran thus, "that the plaintiff has no interest in the thing claimed otherwise than as a mere stakeholder" has been altered in the new rule thus: "that the plaintiff claims no interest in the subject-matter in dispute other than for charges or costs."

1.—"In every suit of interpleader....state."

Defendant not claiming whole subject-matter—Suit irregularly framed.

An interpleader suit is not improperly framed, simply by reason of one of the defendants not claiming the whole of the subject-matter. 1 M.H.C.R. 360. (Hoggart v. Cutts, Cr.L.P. 197, Expl. and D.) U

2.—"Clause (a)."

(1) Plaintiff claiming interest in suit property.

(a) A plaintiff claiming an interest in the subject-matter in dispute has no right of suit. Mitchell v. Hayne, 2 S. & S. 63. See 18 B. 231 (235). Y

(b) An agreement, under which the stakeholders would have to pay a lesser sum in case one of the parties to the dispute succeeded, was held to imply clearly an interest on their part in the subject-matter, and an order for an interpleader issue was set aside. Murietta v. South American Co., 62 L.J.Q.B. 396. W

(2) Plaintiff disputing amount of suit property.

Where the plaintiff disputes the amount, no suit will lie. Diploch v. Hammond, 2 Sm. & G. 141. X

(3) Other than for charges or costs.

These charges include a right to wharfage, freight and demurrage by a carrier, and a lien in regard to such charges is allowable. 18 B. 231 (235). Y

(4) Plaintiff ought to place suit property in Court's custody.

But where the plaintiffs failed to pay into, or place in the custody of, the Court, the subject-matter of the controversy, their claim for wharfage and demurrage was held to be untenable. 18 B. 231 (236). Z

3.—"Clause (c)."

(1) Collusion, meaning of.

"Collusion" does not involve anything morally wrong. Murietta v. South American Co., 62 L.J.Q.B. 396. A

(2) Facts from which collusion will be presumed.

(a) It is collusion to take an indemnity from one of the parties. Tucker v. Morris, 1 Cr. & M. 73. B

3.—“ Clause (c). ”—(Concluded).

(b) Where the plaintiff has delivered the subject-matter in dispute to one claimant on an indemnity, no suit will lie. Burnett v. Anderson, 1 Mer. 405. C

(c) An agreement with the stakeholders, whereby the plaintiffs bound themselves to defeat the right of the other claimants to the fund, was held to be collusive. Murietta v. South American Co., 62 L.J.Q.B. 396. D

(3) Estoppel to objection as to collusion.

Where the contention was that a stakeholder had, by merely taking an indemnity from one of the rival claimants to property in his hands, deprived himself of the right to relief, as he identified himself and must be taken to “ collude ” with the claimant that gave the indemnity, held, that the claimant could not raise the objection. Thompson v. Wright, 13 Q.B.D. 682. E

Note.—For further notes on this rule, see under S. 88, supra.

2. Where the thing claimed is capable of being paid into

Payment of thing Court or placed in the custody of the Court, the claimed into Court. plaintiff may be required to so pay or place it before he can be entitled to any order in the suit.

Old Act. .

This rule corresponds with S. 472 of the Code of 1882. The word “ where,” as usual has been substituted at the commencement for “ when.” For the expression “ the plaintiff must so pay ” in the old Code, the new Code has “ the plaintiff may be required etc.”

3. Where any of the defendants in an interpleader-suit is

Procedure where actually suing the plaintiff in respect of the subjectdefendant is suing matter of such suit, the Court in which the suit plaintiff. against the plaintiff is pending shall, on being informed by the Court in which the interpleader-suit has been instituted, stay the proceedings as against him ; and his costs in the suit so stayed may be provided for in such suit ; but if, and in so far as, they are not provided for in that suit, they may be added to his costs incurred in the interpleader-suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 476 of the old Code, which was as follows :—

If any of the defendants in an interpleader-suit is actually Procedure where suing the stakeholder in respect of the subject of defendant is suing such suit, the Court in which the suit against the stakeholder. stakeholder is pending shall, on being duly informed by the Court which passed the decree in the interpleader-suit in favour of the stakeholder that such decree has been passed, stay the proceedings as against him ; and his costs in the suit so stayed may be provided for in such suit ; but if, and so far as, they are not provided for in that suit, they may be added to his costs incurred in the interpleader-suit.—(S. 476 of the old Code).

Costs.

(Changes).

The word "plaintiff" has been substituted for the word "stakeholder;" for the word "subject," "subject-matter" has been introduced; the word "duly" before "informed" is omitted; for the expression "by the Court which passed the decree in the interpleader suit in favour of the stakeholder, that such decree has been passed," in the old Code, the expression, "by the Court in which the interpleader suit has been instituted" only has been substituted; and for "so far as," the new Code has "in so far as."

(1) Stay of proceedings pending hearing of interpleader suit.

(a) "The Committee think that the institution of the interpleader suit affords a sufficient reason for the stay of other litigation in reference to the same subject-matter, and they have modified S. 476 (=r. 3) so as to give effect to this view." Select Committee's Report. See Statement of Objects and Reasons.

(b) But, in S. 476 of the old Code, stay of proceedings taken against the plaintiff in another Court was provided for, only after the decree in the interpleader suit had been made.

(2) Appeal.

An appeal lies as from an order under O. XLIII, r. 1 (p), see infra.

Procedure at first hearing.

(1) At the first hearing the Court may—

(a) declare that the plaintiff is discharged from all liability to the defendants in respect of the thing claimed, award him his costs, and dismiss him from the suit; or

(b) if it thinks that justice or convenience so require, retain all parties until the final disposal of the suit.

(2) Where the Court finds that the admissions of the parties or other evidence enable it to do so, it may adjudicate the title to the thing claimed.

(3) Where the admissions of the parties do not enable the Court so to adjudicate, it may direct—

(a) that an issue or issues between the parties be framed and tried, and

(b) that any claimant be made a plaintiff in lieu of or in addition to the original plaintiff, and shall proceed to try the suit in the ordinary manner.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 473 of the old Code, which was as follows :—

Procedure at first hearing.

At the first hearing the Court may—

- (a) declare that the plaintiff is discharged from all liability to the defendants in respect of the thing claimed, award him his costs, and dismiss him from the suit ; or, if it thinks that justice or convenience so require,
- (b) retain all parties until the final disposal of the suit ;
and, if it finds that the admissions of the parties or other evidence enable it,
- (c) adjudicate the title to the thing claimed ; or else it may
- (d) direct the defendants to interplead one another by filing statements and entering into evidence for the purpose of bringing their respective claims before the Court, and shall adjudicate on such claims.—(S. 473 of the old Code).

(Changes).

In cl. (2) of the new rule, the expression “ where the Court ” has been substituted for “ and if it ; ” after “ enable it,” the phrase “ to do so ” has been added ; before “ adjudicate the title, etc., ” the expression “ it may ” has been added ; and cl. (3) of the rule is quite new, and is in substitution of cl. (2) of old S. 473.

Appeal.

- (a) An appeal lies as from an order under O. XLIII, r. 1 (p), see infra. F
- (b) Any adjudication of title, under old S. 473 (= r. 4), was held to be a decree, liable to appeal. 80 A. 22 (28). G

- 5. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to enable agents to sue their principals, or tenants to sue their landlords, for the purpose of compelling them to interplead with any persons other than persons making claim through such principals or landlords.

Agents and tenants may not institute interpleader-suits.

Illustrations.

(a) A deposits a box of jewels with B as his agent. C alleges that the jewels were wrongfully obtained from him by A, and claims them from B. B cannot institute an interpleader-suit against A and C.

(b) A deposits a box of jewels with B as his agent. He then writes to C for the purpose of making the jewels a security for a debt due from himself to C. A afterwards alleges that C's debt is satisfied, and C alleges the contrary. Both claim the jewels from B. B may institute an interpleader-suit against A and C.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 474 of the Code of 1882, the changes in the new Code being purely verbal, according to the exigencies of the altered form of the new Code.

(1) Landlord and tenant.

A tenant was held not to be entitled to bring an interpleader suit to determine which of two defendants, both claiming rent from him, was his landlord. 2 C.W.N. 61 (62-3). H

(2) Agent.

But an agent, not certain as to who his principal is, has a right of suit. Stuart v. Welch, 4 My. and Cr. 305. I

6. Where the suit is properly instituted the Court may provide Charge for plaintiff. for the costs of the original plaintiff¹ by giving iff's costs. him a charge on the thing claimed or in some other effectual way.²

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 475 of the Code of 1882; the changes in the new Code being purely verbal.

1.—“Where the suit is properly....costs of the original plaintiff.”

Costs of plaintiff.

The losing defendant must make good the amount of the costs incurred by the plaintiff. Lamy v. Zeden, 9 Ch. App. 738. J

2.—“By giving him....effectual way.”

(1) In some other effectual way.

The Court may provide for the plaintiff's costs out of the fund in Court. Glynn v. Locke, 3 Dr. and War. 114. K

(2) Appeal.

An appeal lies as from an order under O. XLIII, r. 1 (2). See infra. L

ORDER XXXVI.

SPECIAL CASES.

1. (1) Parties claiming to be interested in the decision of any question of fact or law may enter into an agree-
Power to state case for Court's opinion. ment in writing stating such question in the form of a case for the opinion of the Court, and providing that, upon the finding of the Court with respect to such question,—

(a) a sum of money fixed by the parties or to be determined by the Court shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them; or

(b) some property, moveable or immoveable, specified in the agreement, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them ; or

(c) one or more of the parties shall do, or refrain from doing, some other particular act specified in the agreement.

(2) Every case stated under this rule shall be divided into consecutively numbered paragraphs, and shall concisely state such facts and specify such documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to decide the question raised thereby.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 527 of the previous Code. There are only two changes, viz., in cl.(2) of the new rule ; the one being merely verbal —“ rule ” substituted for “ section ”—and the other being the insertion of the word “ specify ” before the word “ documents.”

(1) Agreement to be written on ten-rupee stamp.

Under Act. 19, Sch. II, Court Fees Act, 1870, the agreement in writing must be on a ten-rupee stamp. M

(2) Instances of cases stated.

For instances of cases stated for the opinion of the High Court, under the old section, see G B. 42, (where the validity and revocability of certain trusts were in question) and 10 B. 515, (where the discretion of the directors of a trading corporation on a certain matter was in dispute).N

2. Where the agreement is for the delivery of any property, or for the doing, or the refraining from doing, any particular act, the estimated value of the property to be delivered, or to which the act specified has reference, shall be stated in the agreement.

Where value of subject-matter must be stated.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 528 of the old Code.

3. (1) The agreement, if framed in accordance with the rules

Agreement to be filed and registered as suit.

hereinbefore contained, may be filed in the Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit the amount or value of the subject-matter of which is the same as the amount or value of the subject-matter of the agreement.

(2) The agreement, when so filed, shall be numbered and registered as a suit between one or more of the parties claiming to be interested as plaintiff or plaintiffs, and the other or the others of them as defendant or defendants; and notice shall be given to all the parties to the agreement, other than the party or parties by whom it was presented.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 529 of the old Code; only the paragraphs have been numbered in the new rule.

Parties to be subject to Court's jurisdiction.

4. Where the agreement has been filed, the parties to it shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court and shall be bound by the statements contained therein.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 530 of the old Code.

Effect of filing agreement.

Where the agreement has been filed, neither for the purpose of raising fresh points nor for that of adding to or altering the facts can any amendment be made, save by consent. Mersey Dock Trustees v. Jones, 8 O.B.N.S. 124.

5. (1) The case shall be set down for hearing as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner, and the provisions of this Code shall apply to such suit so far as the same are applicable.

Hearing and disposal of case.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied, after examination of the parties or after taking such evidence as it thinks fit,—

- (a) that the agreement was duly executed by them,
- (b) that they have a bona fide interest in the question stated therein, and
- (c) that the same is fit to be decided, it shall proceed to pronounce judgment thereon, in the same way as in an ordinary suit, and upon the judgment so pronounced, a decree shall follow.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 531 of the old Code; the alterations being merely verbal.

The phrase “instituted in the ordinary manner” has been substituted for “instituted under Chapter V”; for the phrase, “the provisions of which,” the new rule has “and the provisions of this Code”; and for “judgment so given,” the new rule has “judgment so pronounced.”

(1) Proof of conditions specified.

An affidavit may be filed, as evidence of the facts required to be proved by this rule. See 17 C. 786, see also, Burgess v. Morton, Ap. Ca. 1896, p. 144; see 23 B. 752 (755). P

(2) Nothing really in dispute between parties—Result.

Where the Court finds there is no matter actually in dispute between the parties, it may refuse to proceed further. Doed Duntze v. Duntze, C C.B. 100. Q

(3) Appeal.

Where both the parties in dispute agreed to abide by the decision of a Court to whose decision the matters in controversy were submitted, an appeal was held to lie from a decree passed by such Court, the adjudication being in the nature of an arbitrator's award. 23 B. 752 (755-6). R

ORDER XXXVII.

SUMMARY PROCEDURE ON NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

Application of Order.

1. This Order shall apply only to—

- (a) the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay;
- (b) the Chief Court of Lower Burma;
- (c) the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Sind; and
- (d) any other Court to which Section 532 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, (XIV of 1882) have been already applied.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 538 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) In the new rule the words "the Courts of Small Causes in Calcutta, Bombay and Madras and the Court of the Judge at Karachi" are omitted.
- (2) The words "the Court of the Judicial Commissioner in Sind" are newly added.
- (3) The last three paras of the old section are omitted in the new rule.

(General).

Negotiable Instrument Construction.

For the meaning of the word Negotiable Instrument, see 16 B. 689; 17 M. 85. S

2. (1) All suits upon bills of exchange, hundis or promissory

Institution of summary suits upon bills of exchange, etc.

notes¹ may, in case the plaintiff desires to proceed hereunder, be instituted by presenting a plaint in the form prescribed; but the summons shall be in Form No. 4 in Appendix B, or in such other form as may be, from time to time, prescribed.

(2) In any case in which the plaint and summons are in such forms, respectively, the defendant shall not appear or defend the suit unless he obtains leave from a Judge as hereinafter provided so to appear and defend ; and, in default of his obtaining such leave or of his appearance and defence in pursuance thereof, the allegations in the plaint shall be deemed to be admitted, and the plaintiff shall be entitled to a decree for any sum not exceeding the sum mentioned in the summons, together with interest at the rate specified (if any) to the date of the decree, and such sum for costs as may be prescribed, unless the plaintiff claims more than such fixed sum, in which case the costs shall be ascertained in the ordinary way, and such decree may be executed forthwith.²

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 532 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "In any Court.....applies" in the old section are omitted here.
- (2) The words "High Court" in the old section are omitted in this rule.
- (3) The word "mentioned" in the old section is substituted by the word "provided" in the new rule.
- (4) The words "the allegations in the plaint.....to be admitted" are newly added in this rule.
- (5) The words "by a rule of the High Court" are omitted in this rule.
- (6) The word "enforced" in the old section is substituted by the word "executed" in this rule.
- (7) The last para and the explanation to the old section are omitted in this rule.

1.—"All suits upon bills of exchange....promissory notes."

Applicability of the rule.

- (a) Where a pro-note is payable by instalments and there is a condition that the whole amount is to fall due if there is any default in the payment of the instalments, a suit to recover the whole amount on default cannot be made under this order. 1 C. 180. T
- (b) A plaint was presented by the endorsees of a pro-note. The endorsement was struck out but the note had not been paid. Admission of the plaint was refused. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 146. U
- (c) Suits could not be brought under Act V of 1866 corresponding to this order against a defendant who was living outside the jurisdiction of the Court. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 88. Y
- (d) A hundi, which contains a direction on sufficient consideration to the drawee, and accepted by him, comes under this order. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 247. W
- (e) A contemporaneous collateral agreement consistent with the terms of the promissory note, does not take away the right of the payee to bring a suit under this order. 19 M. 368. X

2.—“In default of his obtaining such leave . . .executed forthwith.”

(1) Duty of the plaintiff to obtain a decree.

In a suit under this order the summons should be returned in the usual way ; and after the expiration of the required time, an order of the Court or a decree should be obtained. 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 283. Y

(2) The Court must be satisfied that the defendant had a full opportunity to get leave.

The Court must be satisfied before giving a decree that the defendant has had a full opportunity to obtain leave to defend. 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 395. Z

(3) Plaintiff is entitled to a decree only for the amount legally due.

(a) The plaintiff is entitled to claim by his summons and obtain by his decree whatever sum, principal and interest, is, on the legal construction of the instrument, demandable. 6 M.H.C 257. A

EXAMPLE.

In a suit to recover Rs. 1,200 on a pro-note, the Court gave a decree for Rs. 700 only, that being shown to have been the full consideration received for the note. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 130 = 12 W.R.O.C. 9. B

(b) In a suit under this order the plaintiff is not entitled to any interest unless it is specified in the promissory note itself, or to give evidence regarding any agreement to pay interest. 7 C.W.N. 412 = 30 C. 447. C

(4) The Court cannot exonerate any defendant.

A plaintiff suing on a bill of exchange the drawer, acceptor, and endorser, where the endorsement is made before maturity and without restriction, is entitled to a decree against all the three ; a decree containing a condition exempting the endorser from liability until the plaintiff has exhausted his remedies against the drawer and acceptor is therefore illegal. 16 C. 804. D

(5) Suit to be brought in the Court which has jurisdiction.

In an undefended suit brought under Act V of 1866 on a pro-note for Rs. 342, there was nothing in the petition to show that the suit could not have been brought in the Small Cause Court ; the High Court gave a decree for the amount of note and costs. 8 B.L.R. Ap. 10. E

3. (1) The Court shall, upon application by the defendant, give leave to appear and to defend the suit¹ upon

Defendant showing defence on merits to have leave to appear.

affidavits which disclose such facts as would make it incumbent on the holder to prove consideration, or such other facts as the Court may deem sufficient to support the application.²

(2) Leave to defend may be given unconditionally or subject to such terms as to payment into Court, giving security, framing and recording issues, or otherwise, as the Court thinks fit.³

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 533 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) According to the old section if the defendant deposited the suit amount in Court, the Court was bound to give him leave, whereas according to the new rule the Court need not give leave unless the defendant satisfied that he had a valid defence.
- (2) The words "satisfactory to the Court which disclose a defence" in the old section are omitted in this rule.
- (3) The words "may be given unconditionally" are newly added in this rule.

1.—"The Court shall...suit."

Limitation for applying for leave to defend.

- (a) In a suit under this order the defendant is bound to make his application for leave to defend within ten days from the date of service of summons, that is, from the date of service as shown in the Sheriff's return. He cannot be allowed extension of time on the ground of his absence from the dwelling house when the service is alleged to have been effected. 23 C. 573. F
- (b) If a defendant is arrested before judgment in a suit under this order he can claim compensation and also obtain leave to defend. If a prima facie case is made out, leave to defend should be given. 18 B. 717. G
- (c) Where the defendant is living at a distant place, sufficient time must be given to him to appear. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 83. H
- (d) The High Court has power to extend the time within which the defendant can come in and obtain leave to defend. 3 C. 583, contra 5 C.W.N. 239=28 C. 135. I

2.—"Upon affidavits...application."

(1) Apparently real defence.

The Court will give leave to a defendant to appear and defend in suits under this order, where he shows a defence apparently real. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 64. J

(2) Plaintiff's objections should be heard.

The plaintiff's objections to the leave being granted should always be heard; if it is not heard in the beginning, the plaintiff can be allowed to come in afterwards and show that the leave ought not to have been granted, or, it granted at all, in more stringent terms. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 64. K

3.—"Leave to defend...thinks fit."

- (1) Where there is a doubt as to the bona fides of the defence, payment of money into Court will be ordered or security directed to be given. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 64. L
- (2) The Court has, in giving leave to defend, a discretion to order security for costs, not only where it doubts the bona fides of the defence, but also if it considers the matter of defence raised is unnecessary, though allowable. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 64. M

4. After decree, the Court may, under special circumstances, set aside the decree, and if necessary, stay or set aside execution, and may give leave to the defendant to appear to the summons, and to defend the suit, if it seems reasonable to the Court so to do, and on such terms as the Court thinks fit.¹

Power to set aside decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 534 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "to the defendant" are newly added in this rule.

(General).

Appeal.

An appeal lies from an order under this rule refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. 2 B. 644. N

1.—"After decree....thinks fit."

(1) In an action on a promissory note under this order, the defendant can be allowed to defend even after a decree is passed, the decree being set aside and written statement ordered. 9 B L.R. 441 = 18 W.R. 424. O

(2) Under special circumstances, the defendant can be allowed to defend the suit and the decree set aside and execution stayed if necessary. 5 C.W.N. 259. P

5. In any proceeding under this order the Court may order the bill, hundi or note on which the suit is founded to be forthwith deposited with an officer of the Court, and may further order that all proceedings shall be stayed until the plaintiff gives security for the costs thereof.

Power to order bill, etc., to be deposited with officer of Court.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 535 of Act XIV of 1882.

6. The holder of every dishonoured bill of exchange or promissory note shall have the same remedies for the recovery of the expenses incurred in noting the same for non-acceptance or non-payment, or otherwise, by reason of such dishonour, as he has under this order for the recovery of the amount of such bill or note.

Recovery of cost of noting non-acceptance of dishonoured bill or note.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 536 of Act XIV of 1882.

7. Save as provided by this Order, the procedure in suits hereunder shall be the same as the procedure in suits instituted in the ordinary manner.

Procedure in suits.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 537 of Act XIV of 1882.

ORDER XXXVIII.

ARREST AND ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.

Arrest before Judgment.

Where defendant may be called upon to furnish security for appearance.

1. Where at any stage of a suit, other than a suit of the nature referred to in Section 16, clauses (a) to (d), the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise,—

- (a) that the defendant, with intent to delay the plaintiff, or to avoid any process of the Court or to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him,—
- (i) has absconded or left the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or
- (ii) is about to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or
- (iii) has disposed of or removed from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof,¹ or
- (b) that the defendant is about to leave British India under circumstances affording reasonable probability that the plaintiff will or may thereby be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant in the suit,² the Court may issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not furnish security for his appearance.

Provided that the defendant shall not be arrested if he pays to the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant any sum specified in the warrant as sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's claim; and such sum shall be held in deposit by the Court until the suit is disposed of or until the further order of the Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to Ss. 477 and 478 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "local limits" are newly added in all the sub-rules.
- (2) The proviso of this rule is newly added.

I.—“ That the defendant . . . or any part thereof. ”

(1) Principle.

A creditor is not entitled, merely because he has a just demand against his debtor, to move the Courts to put in force the extraordinary processes of arrest or attachment before judgment ; he must have good reason to believe that his debtor is about to depart from the jurisdiction of the Court, or to deal with his property in such a manner that it will be unavailable for satisfaction of the claim against him. 1 N.W.P., Part 2, 32; Ed. 1873, p. 91. Q

(2) English principles not applicable to India.

There is no authority for saying that the principles applied in England to the granting of writs ne exeat regno should be applied in this country ; but the Court can only look to the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. 14 C. 695. R

(3) What the plaintiff has to prove under this rule.

(a) It is not necessary for the plaintiff to show that the defendant intends to obstruct or delay the plaintiff in execution of his decree, in order to justify an application to the Court for his arrest before judgment ; it is enough if his going away will have that effect. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 265. S

(b) An application under this rule must show at least that defendant is about to leave the jurisdiction, with a view to avoid processes, or to delay the plaintiff in the prosecution of his suit. Evidence sufficient to support this must be adduced in all cases. 2 Hyde. 181. T

(4) Suit against a master of a vessel.

(a) A suit was instituted against the master of a vessel for repairs done to his vessel. The master being about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, the Court on the application of the plaintiff ordered him to give security for his appearance. 14 C. 695. U

(b) In an action for repairs, where the ship had been lost, the Court granted an order for the arrest of the master before judgment. Cor. 123. Y

(5) Suit against a military officer.

Where an officer proceeding from Burma to England on leave, resided for a few days in Madras on the way, held that such residence was sufficient to render him liable to be arrested before judgment. 8 M. 205. W

2.—“ That the defendant . . . the defendant in the suit. ”

When it appears prima facie that the defendant is going to leave India with intent to remain absent so long that the plaintiff will or may be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against him, he will be ordered to give security. 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 294, note. X

2. (1) Where the defendant fails to show such cause¹ the Court shall order him either to deposit in Court money Security. or other property sufficient to answer the claim against him, or to furnish security for his appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending and until satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit, or make such order as it thinks fit in regard to the sum which may have been paid by the defendant under the proviso to the last preceding rule.²

(2) Every surety for the appearance of a defendant shall bind himself, in default of such appearance, to pay any sum of money which the defendant may be ordered to pay in the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 479 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The word "execution" in the old section is omitted in this rule.
- (2) The words "or make such order....preceding rule" are newly added in this rule.
- (3) The word "the" in the old section is substituted by the word "every" in this rule.

1.—"Such cause."

(1) Construction.

'Such cause' must be either (1) that he is not going to leave India, or not for so long a time as will obstruct, or be likely to obstruct, the plaintiff, should he succeed; or (2) that the suit is not a bona fide one; or (3) that, even if it is, the institution of it has been vexatiously delayed till the defendant is about to depart from India, in order to embarrass or coerce him. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 294 note. Y

(2) Bona fides of the plaintiff's claim.

The mere fact, that the plaintiff added on to his real claim another one of a disputable character, did not go to show that the suit was not a bona fide one. 14 C. 695. Z

2.—"The Court shall order....rule."

(1) Defendant's objections.

A defendant was arrested before judgment. He gave security and was released. Afterwards he failed to appear and the security bond was forfeited. The defendant took objection that he was not asked to show cause why he should not be committed to jail and so the whole proceedings were void. Held, the defendant having himself offered to furnish security in the beginning was estopped from taking the objection. 77 P.R. 1868, Civil. A

(2) Appeal.

No appeal lies against an order directing the defendant to furnish security. 7 W.R. 508. B

(3) Extent of liability of the surety.

Sureties under this rule are liable to the extent of the decree of the original Court. The liabilities of the sureties are not extinguished by the decree being appealed against. 12 B. 71. C

3. (1) A surety for the appearance of a defendant may at any time apply to the Court in which he became such surety to be discharged from his obligation.

Procedure on application by surety to be discharged.

(2) On such application being made, the Court shall summon the defendant to appear or, if it thinks fit, may issue a warrant for his arrest in the first instance.

(3) On the appearance of the defendant in pursuance of the summons or warrant, or on his voluntary surrender, the Court shall direct the surety to be discharged from his obligation, and shall call upon the defendant to find fresh security.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 480 of Act XIV of 1882.

4. Where the defendant fails to comply with any order under rule 2 or rule 3, the Court may commit him to the civil prison¹ until the decision of the suit or, where a decree is passed against the defendant, until the decree has been satisfied :

Procedure where defendant fails to furnish security or find fresh security.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule in any case for a longer period than six months, nor for a longer period than six weeks when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit does not exceed fifty rupees :

Provided also that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule after he has complied with such order.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 481 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words " civil prison " and " decree is passed " in the new rule have been substituted for the words " jail " and " judgment be given " in the old section, respectively.

I.—" The Court may commit him to civil prison. "

(1) Imprisonment under this order, becomes after decree, imprisonment in execution of the decree, and the imprisonment undergone after the date of the decree, must be taken into account in calculating the period of imprisonment that could be awarded to the judgment-debtor. 7 B. 481. D

(2) A Judge sitting in a Small Cause Court in the mofussil can direct the jailor to bring up, before the Court, at the hearing of the suit, a defendant sent to jail under this rule, having recourse to the procedure under Act XV of 1869, 5 B.L.R. 215=13 W.R. 278. E

Where defendant may be called upon to furnish security for production of property.

5. (1) Where, at any stage of a suit, the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise, that the defendant, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution¹ of any decree that may be passed against him,—

(a) is about to dispose of the whole or any part of his property²
or

(b) is about to remove³ the whole or any part of his property from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, the Court may direct the defendant, within a time to be fixed by it, either to furnish security, in such sum as may be specified in the order, to produce and place at the disposal of the Court⁴ when required, the said property or the value of the same, or such portion thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree, or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security.⁵

(2) The plaintiff shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, specify the property required to be attached and the estimated value thereof.

(3) The Court may also in the order direct the conditional attachment of the whole or any portion of the property so specified.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 483 and 484 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "local limits" are newly added in this rule.
- (2) Sub-section (b) of the old S. 483 is omitted in the new rule.
- (3) The word "application" in the last para. of S. 483 is substituted by the word "plaintiff" in this rule.

(General).

(1) Object.

The object and effect of attachment before judgment is to safeguard the plaintiff's interests if he should get a decree. Though he has a security he has no charge on the property, which remains that of the defendant and available for other creditors. Nor does a decree following such an attachment constituted him a secured creditor. 10 C.W.N. 634=83 C. 639. F

(2) Appeal.

An appeal lies against an order under this rule. 21 A. 291; 21 B. 273; 18 A. W.N. 18. G

(General)—(Concluded).

(3) Miscellaneous cases.

- (a) Where property ordered to be attached is deposited in the Court which made the order, that order is sufficient notice to itself that the property is to be held subject to the further orders of the Court, and it is not necessary that a separate formal notice should be drawn up. 17 A. 82. H
- (b) Where, in a suit on an hypothecation-bond, the plaintiff sought to attach before judgment immoveable property of the defendant other than that hypothecated, held that it was not necessary, in order that the Court might be satisfied that the proceeds of the sale of the hypothecated property were likely to prove insufficient to meet the decree which the plaintiff might obtain in his suit, that such property should be actually brought to sale. 16 A. 186. I
- (c) Where the Principal Suddar Ameen ordered sequestration of only a portion of the property attached by the decree-holder—held that such interference could only be warranted in cases where the decree-holder wantonly attached more property than was necessary for the discharge of his claim. 1 Agia Rep., Mis. 3. J
- (d) It was competent to the High Court, under Act XXIII of 1840, to order a warrant of attachment before judgment issued by a Mofussil Court to be executed within the limits of the High Court's ordinary original civil jurisdiction. 6 Bom. A. C. 170. K
- (e) When a creditor of a defendant finds that the plaintiff and the defendant are colluding and getting a consent decree, his remedy is to get himself made a party and apply for attachment under this rule. 22 B. 727. L

1.—“With intent to obstruct or delay the execution.”

(1) Principle.

- (a) Before granting an attachment before judgment, the Court must be satisfied that the defendant is really disposing of his property with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him. 13 C.L.R. 356. M
- (b) If the disposition of the property is not made with intent to delay or defeat the plaintiff's claim but in pursuance of a previous contract entered into, before the suit was instituted, then no attachment under this rule shall be made. 21 B. 273. N

(2) Procedure.

For procedure in attachment of property before judgment, see U.B.R. 1892-1896, p. 274. O

(3) Suit against a master of a ship.

The defendant having employed the plaintiffs to do repairs to his ship on the promise that they would be paid for, out of the proceeds of a letter of credit from the owners for that purpose, afterwards drew bills on the credit for other purposes. The defendant being about to leave Calcutta, an attachment order was issued against him and the proceeds of the bills in the hands of his agent. Bourke O.C. 125 = Cor. 151. P

2.—“Property.”

(1) Construction.

(a) The term “property” is wide enough to include property of every description moveable or immovable, whether in the actual possession of the defendant or of some other person on his behalf. 17 A. 82=15 A.W.N. 14; 16 A. 186=14 A.W.N. 20. Q

(2) Partnership property.

This rule does not enable a plaintiff to attach a partnership property of which the defendant is a member. 9 Bom. L.R. 540. S

(3) Ship.

A ship-owner having mortgaged his ship has still an interest in her seizable in attachment. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 241. T

(4) Minor's estate.

In proceedings under the Guardian and Wards Act for the removal of the guardian of a minor, the Court has no power to attach the minor's estate. 10 M.L.J. 305=23 M. 517. U

3.—“Is about to remove.”

Principle.

The Court should be satisfied that a removal of goods is being made, or about to be made, with a view to evade the execution of a decree in a specific suit, though it is not necessary that the suit should be actually commenced at the time of their removal. 2 Hyde. 183. Y

4.—“To produce and place at the disposal of the Court.”

These words only refer to such property as is capable of being produced in Court. 17 A. 82. W

5.—“Or to appear and show cause....security.”

In a suit the defendant was first asked to furnish security and he did it accordingly. Subsequently he showed cause why security should not be furnished. Held that the Judge had the power to cancel the security already furnished, if he was satisfied that no security need be furnished by the defendant. 5 B. 643. X

6. (1) Where the defendant fails to show cause why he should not furnish security, or fails to furnish the security required, within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may order that the property specified, or such portion thereof as appears sufficient to satisfy any decree which may be passed in the suit, be attached.

(2) Where the defendant shows such cause or furnishes the required security, and the property specified or any portion of it has been attached, the Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 485 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "or make such other order as it thinks fit" are newly added in this rule.

7. Save as otherwise expressly provided, the attachment shall be made in the manner provided for the attachment of property in execution of a decree.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 486 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "same as otherwise expressly provided" are newly added in this rule.

8. Where any claim is preferred to property attached before judgment, such claim shall be investigated¹ in the manner hereinbefore provided for the investigation of claims to property attached in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 487 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "for the payment" are newly added in this rule.

1.—"Shall be investigated."

- (1) S. 281 of Act XIV of 1882 has not been applied to claims to property attached under this order, for, this rule which prescribes the manner of investigation is silent as to the result. 20 B. 403; 21 B. 273. Y
- (2) The High Court refused to interfere in revision with an order refusing to release certain property which was attached before judgment, on the ground that the party had another remedy in a suit. 15 A. 405=18 A. W.N. 172. Z

9. Where an order is made for attachment before judgment, the Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn when the defendant furnishes the security required, together with security for the costs of the attachment, or when the suit is dismissed.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 488 of Act XIV of 1882.

10. Attachment before judgment shall not affect the rights¹

Attachment before judgment not to affect rights of strangers, nor bar decree-holder from applying for sale.

existing prior to the attachment, of persons not parties to the suit, nor bar any person holding a decree against the defendant from applying for the sale of the property under attachment in execution of such decree.

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 489 of Act XIV of 1882.

I.—“Attachment....affect the rights.”(1) Construction.

An attachment order prohibiting the creditor of the bond attached from recovering and the debtor from paying the debt was held to be not an order staying the suit within the meaning of S. 15 of the Limitation Act of 1877. 14 A. 162; 17 A. 198 = 22 I.A. 81. A

(2) Priority between rival attachments.

- (a) Of several creditors who have attached a debtor's property before judgment, the one who first obtains judgment is entitled to priority. Bourke O.C. 146; 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 393; Bourke O. C. 92. B
- (b) An attachment before judgment of the property of an insolvent debtor does not give the creditor any priority over the other creditors. 98 P.R. 1882. C
- (c) In considering which of two writs of attachment before judgment is to have priority, the time when the writs reach the Sheriff's office is the criterion by which priority is to be determined, and not the time when such writs reach the hands of that officer. 7 Bom. O.C. 183. D
- (d) Where one of several writs first reaches the Sheriffs, it has priority, and he has no power to deprive it of such priority and transfer it to another by first executing a writ delivered to him later. Bourke O.C. 260. E
- (e) An attachment before judgment cannot stand good against an attachment in execution of a decree, whether the attachment issues from the same or different Courts. S.C. 18. F
- (f) This rule renders an attachment before judgment ineffectual as a bar to process of execution against the property attached in satisfaction of a decree in another suit, whether obtained before or after the attachment 6 M.H.C. 135. G

(3) Effect of an attachment before judgment.

- (a) The effect of attachment before judgment is the same as that of attachment after judgment. 26 C. 531. H
- (b) An attachment before judgment places the property in the custody of law, but does not alter the right to it. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 32 = Bourke O.C. 24. I
- (c) In attachment before judgment, the Court does not interfere with the legal disposal of the property attached, beyond declaring that possession shall not be taken without its previous sanction, undertaking only that, if no subsequent order to the contrary be made, the property shall be forthcoming at the time of the decree to abide by whatever order it shall make about it. 1 B.H.C. 224; 2 B.H.C. Rep., 150, 2nd Ed., 142. J

1.—“Attachment....affect the rights”—(Concluded).

(4) Effect of the attachment on the Official Assignee.

- (a) An attachment before judgment has no effect against the Official Assignee, who holds the property under a vesting order of Court made before the order for attachment was passed. 7 C. 213=8 C.L.R. 213; 12 B.L.R. App. 1; 1 B.H.C. 224; 2 B.H.C. 150. K
- (b) When a vesting order is made after attachment but before decree, the title of the Official Assignee takes effect and prevents the attaching creditor from obtaining satisfaction of his decree by sale. 8 M. 454; 10 C. 150; 13 C.L.R. 438; 20 B. 403. L
- (c) Where the plaintiff obtained before judgment an attachment of a debt due to his debtor by Parry & Co., and subsequently obtained a decree, and after such decree the debtor held his schedule and a vesting order was made in favour of the Official Assignee, held that the Official Assignee was entitled as against the attaching creditor to receive the debt due to the insolvent. 13 M.L.J. 278=26 M. 673; 1 C.L.J. 97. M

(5) Suit against an undivided member of a Hindu family.

Where, in a suit against one member of an undivided Hindu family, not as representing the family, there is an attachment before judgment of family property and the defendant dies before decree is passed, the right of survivorship takes effect before that attachment becomes effectual for the purpose of execution. 17 M. 144. N

11. Where property is under attachment by virtue of the provisions of this order and a decree is subsequently passed in favour of the plaintiff, it shall not be necessary upon an application for execution of such decree to apply for a re-attachment of the property.¹

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 490 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“It shall not be necessary....re-attachment of the property.”

(1) Sale may follow an attachment before judgment.

- (a) If there are no conflicting attachments, a sale of property under a decree may legally follow upon an attachment made before judgment. 7 M. H.C. 347. O
- (b) The effect of this rule is not to restrain the ordinary effect of attachment, but for the purpose of preventing the same view being taken of attachments before judgment as had been taken by the Indian Courts of the writ of sequestration. When attachment of property has preceded decree, no fresh attachment is necessary subsequent to decree. 17 M. L. J. 488; 1 C.L.J. 97; Bourke O.C. 139; 1 N.W. Part 6, p. 81=Ed., 1873 (172); contra 2 N.W.P. 365. P

(2) Attachment before judgment does not dispense with the necessity of applying for execution.

A plaintiff who obtains an attachment before judgment is not relieved from the necessity of applying for execution. 10 C.W.N. 634=33 C. 639. Q

I.—“It shall not be necessary....re-attachment of the property”—(Concl'd).

(3) Duration of attachment.

An attachment before judgment terminates with the termination of the suit.
10 A. 506. R

(4) Rateable distribution.

(a) The party who attaches the property of his debtor before judgment will be entitled to get rateable distribution without any fresh attachment.
31 M. 502 ; 4 M.L.T. 348. S

(b) A decree-holder who has attached before judgment is not entitled to claim rateable distribution of the assets, unless subsequently to the decree he has applied for execution. 12 B. 400. T

(5) Setting ex parte decree.

Where an attachment before judgment is ordered, the time for setting aside an ex parte decree is thirty days from the date of the decree. 8 Bom. L. R. 567. U

12. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to authorize the plaintiff to apply for the attachment of any agricultural produce in the possession of an agriculturist, or to empower the Court to order the attachment or production of such produce.

Agricultural produce not attachable before judgment.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

ORDER XXXIX.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTIONS AND INTERLOCUTORY ORDERS.

Temporary Injunctions.

Cases in which temporary injunction may be granted.

1. Where in any suit it is proved by affidavit or otherwise, ¹

(a) that any property in dispute in a suit is in danger of being wasted, damaged, or alienated by any party to the suit, or wrongfully sold ² in execution of a decree ³ or

(b) that the defendant threatens, or intends to remove or dispose of his property with a view to defraud his creditors, the Court ⁴ may by order grant a temporary injunction to restrain such act, or make such other order for the purpose of staying and preventing the wasting, damaging, alienation, sale, removal or disposition of the property as the Court thinks fit, until the disposal of the suit or until further orders. ⁵

(Notes).

Old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "until the disposal of the suit or until further orders" are newly added in this rule.
- (2) The words "or refuse such injunction or other order" in the old section are omitted.

(General).(1) Object.

The object of the Legislature in passing such a provision was to guard as far as possible against multiplicity of suits, and as many complications probably resulting in further litigation as were likely to arise if the decree-holder were allowed to proceed with the execution sale, in the particular case. 10 A. 80=8 A.W.N. 7. Y

(2) Principle.

- (a) In granting a temporary injunction the following principles are to be observed :--

- (1) on which side is the balance of convenience,
- (2) which party will suffer greater loss,
- (3) the solvency of either party to pay damages in case loss results from the injunction or not granting of the injunction,
- (4) if the party applied for the order at the earliest opportunity. 10 C.W.N. 173. W

- (b) The Court in granting an ad interim injunction, will first see that there is a bona fide contention between the parties, and then on which side, in the event of obtaining a successful result to the suit, will be the balance of inconvenience if the injunction do not issue, bearing in mind the principle of retaining immoveable property in statu quo. 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 411; 10 C.W.N. 173. X

- (c) The plaintiff's right to an interim injunction depends on their making out a strong, if not an overwhelming prima facie, case, that irreparable injury might be done, if the relief sought were not given. 31 C. 151=8 C.W.N. 151. Y

(3) A strong prima facie case to be made out.

- (a) It is the practice on the original side of the Bombay High Court and other Courts before temporary injunction is passed to see that a strong prima facie case is made out by the plaintiff. 7 Bom. L. R. 926; 8 C.W.N. 151; 53 P.L.R. 1907. Z

- (b) If no strong prima facie case is made out, no temporary injunction should be granted but the suit must be ordered to be disposed of expeditiously. 8 C.W.N. 151. A

(4) Distinction between cases where temporary injunction should be granted and where receiver should be appointed.

The distinction between a case in which a temporary injunction may be granted and a case in which a receiver may be appointed is that, while in either case it must be shown that the property should be preserved from waste or alienation, in the former case it would be sufficient if it be shown that the plaintiff in the suit has a fair question to raise as to the existence of the right alleged; while in the latter case a good prima facie title has to be made out. 22 C. 459. B

(General)—(Concluded).

(5) Effect of a temporary injunction.

- (a) The effect of a temporary injunction is not to make, a subsequent alienation of the property in respect of which the injunction was issued, illegal and void, within the meaning of S. 23 of the Contract Act. 25 A. 431; S.C. 295; 144 P.R. 1889, Civil; Contra 12 C P.L.R. 109. C
- (b) The effect of a temporary injunction is not to make a subsequent mortgage of the property in question illegal and void within the meaning of S. 23 of the Contract Act. Such a penalty must not be read into rule (2) which provides otherwise for the breach of an injunction. 9 A. 497. D

1.—“By affidavit or otherwise.”

An order cannot be passed without some evidence.

- (a) A Court has no right to make orders under this rule without some evidence that the property in dispute in the suit was in danger of being wasted, damaged, or alienated by any party to the suit. 2 B.H.C. 103, 2nd Ed., 98; 53 P.L.R. 1907; 4 M.L.T. 91=18 M.L.J. 302. E
- (b) Where the defendant expressed an intention to invest his money in a trade, held that the defendant's admission was sufficient evidence to show that the property was being alienated within the meaning of this rule. 13 W.R. 95. F
- (c) An application for a temporary injunction should be made by a separate petition supported by an affidavit. It should not be made in the plaint. 11 L.B.R. 222. G

2.—“That any property in dispute....wrongfully sold.”

(1) Bad intention essential in such cases.

An injunction under this rule cannot be issued on a mere allegation that the defendant wished to realize debts by bringing actions in Court, without proof of an intention of waste, damage, or alienation. 14 W.R. 409. H

(2) Principle.

In deciding an application for a temporary injunction on the ground that the property is about to be wrongfully sold in execution of a decree, the Court may have regard to probability, convenience and expediency, as indicated by prima facie merits of the applicant's case. II L.B.R. 89. I

(3) What the plaintiff must prove in such cases.

- (a) This rule applies to a case where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the defendant in possession is likely to endamage, or make away with, any property in dispute in the suit and empowers the Court to issue an injunction to the defendant to refrain from the particular act complained of, and if necessary to appoint a receiver. 6 W.R. Mis. 1. J
- (b) The power given by this rule should be exercised only in cases where property, which it was essential should be kept in its existing condition, was in danger of being destroyed, damaged, or put beyond the power of the Court. 13 W.R. 60. K
- (c) To entitle a party to an injunction, he must prove either damage or apprehended damage. The apprehended damage must, to form the ground for an injunction, involve imminent danger of a substantial kind, or injury that will be irreparable. 6 Bom. L.R. 123. L

3.—“Decree.”

The term “decree” in this rule does not include a decree of a Revenue Court. So an application to stay the execution of a decree of a Revenue Court does not lie. 16 A. 496; 14 A.W.N. 180. M

4.—“The Court.”(1) Court which can issue injunction.

- (a) The Court that has to pass an order under this rule is the one before which the suit is pending. 2 B H.C. 103, 2nd Ed., 98; 7 A.W.N. 197. N
- (b) A Court which has decided a suit against the plaintiff cannot grant an injunction pending the appeal against his decree on the mere possibility that the Appellate Court might reverse his decree. 11 C. 146. O
- (c) A Court which is executing a decree is not competent to stay the execution on the application of the third party who is suing to set aside the decree in another Court. 12 C. 515. P
- (d) An Appellate Court can grant a temporary injunction pending the appeal, if no injury would be caused to any one thereby; but security must be taken from the appellant. 10 A. 80=8 A.W.N. 7; 8 A.W.N. 46. Q
- (e) The powers of the High Court to grant a temporary injunction are not confined to this and the next rule. Its powers of control over persons within its jurisdiction by injunctions operating in persons are not restricted by the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. 34 C. 101, 97.R

(2) When an Appellate Court can grant injunction.

An injunction pending the hearing of an appeal should not be granted before the appeal is admitted. 99 P.L.R. 1904. S

5.—“May by order grant a temporary injunction....orders.”(1) To whom injunctions can be issued.

- (a) (i) An injunction may be issued to a person who is not a party. 2 C.W.N. 521; 53 P.L.R. 1907. T
- (ii) A person who is not a party to the suit is not bound by an injunction in the suit. P.J.L.B. 414. U
- (b) An injunction under this rule cannot be issued to a Court but only to a party. 2 A.L.J. 601. V
- (c) An injunction can be granted to restrain proceedings in the Mofussil against the Court Receiver. Cor. 58. W
- (d) The jurisdiction of High Court to restrain proceedings in Courts outside their jurisdiction is governed by the same principles as those that govern Courts of Equity in England, namely, that the party, whom it is sought to restrain, must be within the limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court, so that in the case of a disobedience of the injunction, he would be subject to the process of the Court for contempt. 36 C. 233. X

EXAMPLES.

- (i) The plaintiff filed a suit in the High Court for damages for breach of contract. The defendant filed another suit in the Small Cause Court on the same contract against the plaintiff. An interim injunction restraining the defendant from proceeding with his suit was not granted. 27 B. 357. Y

5.—“May by order grant a temporary injunction...orders”—(Continued).

EXAMPLES—(Concluded).

(ii) The plaintiff instituted a suit for specific performance of an agreement which allowed him to keep his ship in the defendant's dock and get it repaired. The defendant threatened to institute another suit to oust the plaintiffs alleging a quite different agreement. On the application of the plaintiff for a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from instituting his suit, an injunction only restraining the defendant from executing his decree if he obtained one was granted. 14 B.L.R. 352. Z

(iii) For other instances of temporary injunctions restraining suits in another Court, see 5 Bom. L.R. 201=27 B. 357; 34 C. 101, 97. A

(e) The Chief Court is not competent to issue an injunction restraining a Revenue Court from continuing partition proceedings, pending the decision of appeal against the decree of a Civil Court filed in the Chief Court, in which the question of title as to the property under partition is in dispute. 133 P.L.R. 1903; 57 P.R. 1899 for contra case see 36 C. 252. B

(2) Duration of the injunction.

(a) The discharge of a temporary injunction follows the dismissal of a suit as a matter of course. 28 C. 597 (607); S. C. 295; 7 A.W.N. 297. C

(b) The power of a Court to attach property and to appoint a receiver extends only to the better management or custody of any property which is in dispute, and ceases when the suit comes to an end. 14 W.R. 409. D

(c) An injunction cannot be maintained after the disposal of the suit and pending an appeal in the suit. 14 W.R. 384. E

(3) Terms upon which injunctions may be granted.

(a) Where a temporary injunction is granted, it is usual to put the applicant under terms to abide by such order as the Court shall think fit to make by way of damages resulting from the passing of such order. 1 A.L.J. 527; 9 C.W.N. 308. F

(b) When a suit for redemption of a mortgage in English form is pending and the plaintiff wishes to stop the sale of the property by the defendant under his power of sale, he can do so only on the payment of the due into Court, or by giving prima facie evidence that the power of sale is being exercised in a fraudulent or improper manner contrary to the terms of the mortgage. 2 B. 252. G

(3-a) Cases in which a temporary injunction was granted.

(a) The plaintiff brought the suit to set aside the purchase obtained by the defendant from his co-sharers of a moiety of his house. Meantime the defendant sought to take possession of the house in execution of a decree which he obtained against his vendors. On the application of the plaintiff, the defendant was restrained from executing his decree. 6 B.L.R. 571. H

(b) In a suit to set aside a mortgage executed to the defendant and to restrain the sale of the mortgaged-property in execution of a decree obtained by the defendant on the mortgage, a temporary injunction was granted restraining the defendant from selling the property. 5 B.L.R. 254; 5 B.L.R. 254 (note). I

5.—“May by order grant a temporary injunction....orders”—(Continued).

- (c) A suit was brought to declare the mortgage of certain trust property as invalid. During the pendency of the suit, the mortgagee sought to sell the property in execution of a decree obtained on his mortgage. Held that the case was a fit one in which the sale could be restrained. 4 A.W.N. 349. J

(4) Cases in which a temporary injunction was not granted.

- (a) When the judgment-debtor's interest in the property was being sold, it could not be said that the property was being wasted, damaged, or alienated within the meaning of this rule. 7 A. 550. K
- (b) A judgment-debtor applied under S. 492 of the old Act for the postponement of a sale, on the ground, that the suit having been brought by his wife for a declaration of her right to the village under sale, the sale if conducted would not fetch the proper price. Held that the waste or damage referred to is a waste or damage of a totally different kind. 7 A.W.N. 42. L
- (c) The plaintiff brought this suit to establish his claim to certain property that was about to be sold in execution of a decree obtained by the defendant against a third party. An order granting an injunction restraining the defendant from executing his decree could not be made, as there was nothing to show that the property in dispute was being in danger of wasted, damaged, or alienated by the defendant, nor was the property in his possession. The proper course for the plaintiff would have been to get a postponement of the sale till his suit was disposed of. 11 B.L.R. App. 28=20 W.R.11; 24 W.R. 70. For contra cases, see 12 C. 515 and 23 C. 351. M
- (d) The purchaser of a share of a decree, who has failed in the endeavour to get the Court executing it to put him upon the record for the purpose of obtaining the benefit of the decree, has no right to an injunction to prevent the decree-holder from executing the whole of his decree, even if the purchase is made on behalf of the judgment-debtor; he could obtain such an injunction if the sale amounted to a release from the decree-holder to the judgment-debtor from his liability under his decree. 22 W.R. 506. N
- (e) In an application to the High Court for an injunction restraining the respondent from selling a property in execution of his decree against a third party, held that an injunction could not be granted inasmuch as it was impossible to say that the attached property was in danger of “being wrongfully sold in execution” within the meaning of this rule. 1904 A.W.N. 37=26 A. 311. O

(5) Contradiction on the facts.

An interim injunction may issue although there is a contradiction on the facts. 14 B.L.R. 352. P

(6) Appeal.

No second appeal lies from an order under an application under this rule. 4 Bom. L. R. 138. Q

(7) Miscellaneous.

- (a) The fact that a party's vakil is present when the injunction is granted, is good proof of the fact that the party had knowledge of the injunction. 26 M. 260. R

5.—“May by order grant a temporary injunction....orders”—(Concluded).

(b) A telegram from the opposite party that an injunction has been granted is a good proof of that fact, and an officer of a Court is bound to act upon it. 26 M. 260. S

(c) A Court should not merely record an application for a temporary injunction. It should decide the application. 5 O.C. 65. T

2. (1) In any suit for restraining the defendant from committing a breach of contract or other injury¹ of any kind, whether compensation is claimed in the suit or not, the plaintiff may, at any time after the commencement of the suit, and either before or after judgment, apply to the Court for a temporary injunction to restrain the defendant from committing the breach of contract or injury complained of, or any breach of contract or injury of, a like kind arising out of the same contract or relating to the same property or right.

(2) The Court may by order grant such injunction, on such terms as to the duration of the injunction, keeping an account, giving security, or otherwise, as the Court thinks fit.

(3) In case of disobedience, or of breach of any such terms, the Court granting an injunction may order the property of the person guilty of such disobedience or breach to be attached and may also order such person to be detained in the civil prison for a term not exceeding six months, unless in the meantime the Court directs his release.²

(4) No attachment under this rule shall remain in force for more than one year, at the end of which time, if the disobedience or breach continues, the property attached may be sold, and out of the proceeds the Court may award such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance, if any, to the party entitled thereto.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 493 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The wording “or refuse the same” in para. 2 of the old section are omitted in new rule.
- (2) The words of the third para. of the old section is entirely altered and the sub-rule (3) has been substituted for it.
- (3) The words “if the defendant has not obeyed the injunction” in the 4th para. of the old section are substituted by the words “if the disobedience or breach continues” in sub-rule (4).
- (4) The words “to the defendant” at the end of the old section are substituted by the words “to the party entitled” in this rule.

(General).

(1) General principles.

- (a) Temporary injunctions are governed by the rules of the Civil Procedure Code and not by S. 56 of the Specific Relief Act. 23 C. 351. U
- (b) The principles which apply to the granting of a perpetual injunction apply also to the granting of a temporary injunction. 57 P.R. 1899; 26 M. 168. Y
- (c) It was not intended by S. 54 of the Specific Relief Act, that a man should not have an injunction granted to him, unless his property would otherwise be practically destroyed if the injunction were not granted. 19 A. 259. W
- (d) In granting or withholding an injunction, a Court should weigh the amount of substantial mischief done or threatened to the plaintiff, and compare it with that which the injunction, if granted, would inflict upon the defendant. 14 C. 189; contra 2 B. 133. X
- (e) Where an act threatening danger to a person's land is such that injury will inevitably follow, a Court may grant an injunction restraining the continuance of that act, even though no damage has actually occurred before institution of the suit. 24 C. 260. Y
- (f) There is neither principle nor authority for restraining by injunction one who alleges that he has a money claim against another from enforcing that claim in the manner sanctioned by law. 5 Bcm. L. R. 267=27 B. 403. Z

(2) English principle not applicable to India.

The principles of English Law, according to which an injunction is granted wherever there is material injury caused to the plaintiff whether the injury can be compensated by damages or not, do not apply to Indian cases. It is only when the injury cannot be adequately compensated by damages that an injunction will be granted in Indian Courts. 22 M. 251; 23 B. 786. A

(3) The party must apply as early as possible.

Where the plaintiff has not applied for an injunction at the earliest opportunity but has waited till the building was completed, he will not be granted an injunction. Mere notice to the defendant not to build, not followed by legal proceedings, is adequate. 16 C. 252; 20 A. 345. B

(4) Nature of the order.

The injunction or prohibitory order must be such as is capable of being enforced by legal processes, if the occasion arose. 18 C. 448 (P.C.). C

1.—“Other injury.”

(1) Scope.

The words “or other injury” in this rule do not include acts of trespass upon property. 22 A. 449=20 A.W.N. 170; 28 B. 20. D

(2) Alienation by a Hindu widow.

A widow and the next reversioner to her husband's properties entered into a compromise giving the widow full powers to deal with her husband's property. In a suit by the more remote reversioners to set aside the compromise, an interim injunction was granted restraining the widow from dealing with her husband's properties. 10 C. 225, E

(3) Breach of agreement.

- (a) Where more than twenty artisans formed themselves into an association, which was not registered, for the purposes of raising the price of their labour, a breach of the agreement by one of them could not be restrained by a temporary injunction. 1 B. 550. F
- (b) The plaintiff sued for specific performance of an agreement to be appointed by the defendant company as their agents and applied for a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from appointing another man as their agent. An injunction could not be granted as prayed for. 6 B. 662. G
- (c) Where the defendant agreed to serve the plaintiff (company) for a period of four years and left its service after two years on the ground of ill-treatment, a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from taking employment under others was granted. 14 M. 18; 23 B. 108. H
- (d) Where an agreement to serve the plaintiff for ten years was entered into at a time when a criminal charge by the plaintiff against the defendant was pending, and the plaintiff sued for a specific performance of that agreement, an interim injunction restraining the defendant from serving others was refused. 18 B. 702; 19 B. 764. I
- (e) The plaintiff sued for specific performance of an agreement to sell mica to the plaintiffs only and not to any other firm. A temporary injunction restraining the defendant from selling mica to another firm was granted. 26 M. 168. J

(4) Collecting rents.

The plaintiffs filed an affidavit under S. 492 of the old Act, alleging their own possession, and stating that the defendant was sending four Kerindas on to the property in order to collect rents, was suing tenants for rents, and had applied to the Collector for partition. Held, that these facts did not justify an order under the above section. 22 A. 449=20 A.W.N. 159. K

(5) Suit for declaration.

The defendant mortgaged the suit land to a third party as plaintiff's agent. In a suit by the plaintiff for a declaration that he was the real mortgagor, no injunction was granted restraining the defendant from paying the money and the third party from receiving the money. 21 M. 353. L

(6) Staying execution of a decree.

- (a) An injunction restraining a decree-holder from executing a decree against the person applying for it, was granted, on the ground that the proceedings by which the decree was obtained against him were altogether illegal. 23 C. 351; 14 M. 425; 5 C. 86=4 C.L.R. 434; contra 4 C. 380=2 C.L.R. 283; 3 C.L.R. 421. M
- (b) A judgment-debtor applied for leave to sue in forma pauperis the decree holder for maintenance and applied for temporary injunction restraining the decree-holder from executing his decree. Held the case fell within this rule. 10 A.W.N. 167. N
- (c) A suit for injunction to restrain execution of a decree was dismissed on the ground that the injunction sought for was not necessary to prevent a multiplicity of suits, within the meaning of S. 56 of the Specific Relief Act. 18 M. 338. O

1.—“Other injury”—(Concluded).(7) Suit by lessee.

In a suit by rival lessees of a village, each of whom impeached the others' lease, no injunction under this rule should be granted. The proper order to be made is one appointing a receiver. 1 A.L.J. 527. P

(8) Injunction restraining a marriage.

During the pendency of an application for guardianship of a minor girl, it was alleged by the applicant that an improper marriage of the girl was going to be performed, and an injunction was granted restraining the marriage. 2 C.W.N. 521; 1 A. 549; 14 M. 316; 12 B. 110; for contra cases see 1 C. 74; 24 W.R. 207. Q

(9) Staying criminal proceedings.

The High Court has power to direct that criminal proceedings in the Court of a Magistrate be stayed, until the disposal of a civil suit. 23 C. 610; 16 B. 729. But see 18 B. 581. R

2.—“In case of . . . directs his release.”(1) Remedy for disobedience of injunction.

(a) The proper remedy for disobedience of an order for injunction passed by a Civil Court, is committal for contempt. 6 C. 445=7 C.L.R. 350. S

(b) By S. 498 of the old Act, the legislature intended that the imprisonment for contempt should not exceed six months. Where, however, the defendant had been in jail for more than twenty months for contempt of Court, the Court would not be justified in indirectly adding to its duration. 19 B. 152. T

(2) The Court cannot move of its own accord.

(a) The Court cannot, of its motion, commit the party disobeying the injunction order for contempt of Court. The party must move the Court for it. 14 Bur. L.R. 276. U

(b) A District Court can proceed under this rule to commit for contempt only upon the application of a party and not suo moto. 26 M. 494. V

(c) When the party asks the Court only for sanction to prosecute the party for disobedience of the injunction order, the Court has no jurisdiction to commit the party for contempt. 14 Bur. L.R. 276. W

(3) Appeal.

No second appeal lies against an order under this rule dismissing a petition to commit for disobedience of an injunction. 24 M. 447. X

3. The Court shall in all cases, except where it appears that the object of granting the injunction would be defeated by the delay, before granting an injunction, direct notice¹ of the application for the same to be given to the opposite party.

Before granting injunction Court to direct notice to opposite party.

Interlocutory Orders.

6. The Court may, on the application of any party to a suit, order the sale, by any person named in such order, and in such manner and on such terms as it thinks fit, of any moveable property, being the subject-matter of such suit, or attached before judgment in such suit, which is subject to speedy and natural decay, or which for any other just and sufficient cause it may be desirable to have sold at once.

Power to order interim sale.

Where moveable property is sold to prevent waste, etc., the proceeds should be kept in deposit and should be disposed of after the result of the suit. L.B.R. 16. A Detention, preservation, inspection, etc., of subject-matter of suit.

7. (1) The Court may, on the application of any party to a suit, and on such terms as it thinks fit,—

- (a) make an order for the detention, preservation or inspection of any property which is the subject-matter of such suit¹ or as to which any question may arise therein ;
- (b) for all or any of the purposes aforesaid authorize any person to enter upon or into any land or building in the possession of any other party to such suit ; and
- (c) for all or any of the purposes aforesaid authorize any samples to be taken, or any observation to be made or experiment to be tried, which may seem necessary or expedient for the purpose of obtaining full information or evidence.

(2) The provisions as to execution of process shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to persons authorized to enter under this rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 499 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "or as to which any question may arise therein" in sub-rule (a) are newly added.

(2) High Court's powers.

The High Court will refuse to interfere with interlocutory orders in revision, as they can be made a ground of objection in the appeal. 2 Sind L.R. 22. C

(3) Review.

If an interlocutory order is wrongly refused by one Judge, the proper course is to apply for a review or to appeal from it ; not to seek to obtain the order by resorting to another Judge even though argument should then be forthcoming which were not put before the first Judge. 16 B. 511. D

8. (1) An application by the plaintiff for an order under rule 6 or rule 7 may be made after notice to the defendant at any time after institution of the suit.¹

(2) An application by the defendant for a like order may be made after notice to the plaintiff at any time after appearance.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 500 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "the service of summons" in the old section are substituted by the words "institution of suit" in this rule.
- (2) The words "the applicant has appeared" in the old section are substituted by the words "appearance" in the new rule.

1.—"After notice to the defendant at any time after institution of the suit."

An application under this rule by the plaintiff can only be made after summons has been served, and after reasonable notice of the intention to apply for the order has been given in writing to the defendant. 7 M. 241. G

9. Where land paying revenue to Government, or a tenure liable to sale, is the subject-matter of a suit, if the party in possession of such land or tenure neglects to pay the Government revenue, or the rent due to the proprietor of the tenure, as the case may be, and such land or tenure is consequently ordered to be sold, any other party to the suit claiming to have an interest in such land or tenure may, upon payment of the revenue or rent due previously to the sale (and with or without security at the discretion of the Court), be put in immediate possession of the land or tenure; and the Court in its decree may award against the defaulter the amount so paid, with interest thereon at such rate as the Court thinks fit, or may charge the amount so paid, with interest thereon at such rate as the Court orders, in any adjustment of accounts which may be directed in the decree passed in the suit.

ORDER XL.

(Notes).

S. 505 of the Old Code has been omitted in the Present Code. It ran as follows :—

“The powers conferred by this chapter (Chapter XXXVI) shall be exercised only by High Courts and District Courts; provided that whenever the Judge of a Court subordinate to a District Court considers it expedient that a Receiver should be appointed in any suit before him, he shall nominate such person as he considers fit for such appointment, and submit such person's name, with the grounds for the nomination, to the District Court and the District Court shall authorise such Judge to appoint the person so nominated, or pass such other order as it thinks fit.”

Remarks of the Select Committee :—

“Having regard to their standard of efficiency, the committee see no reason to withhold from Subordinate Judges the power to appoint Receivers. They therefore propose that S. 505 of the Code should no longer be retained, for its effect in practice is often to defeat the purpose for which an application is made.”

NOTE.—S. 505 of the Old Code having been omitted, rulings relating to the nature of the orders passed by Subordinate Judges on applications for appointment of Receiver and the appealability of those orders are no longer necessary. Such rulings are 7 C. 719=9 C.L.R. 203; 24 B. 38; 6 C.L.R. 467; 17 C. 680; 1 O.C. 21.

Appointment of Receivers.

Appointment of receivers. 1. Where it appears to the Court to be just and convenient¹ the Court may by order—

- (a) appoint a receiver of any property, whether before or after decree,²
- (b) remove any person from the possession or custody of the property,³
- (c) commit the same to the possession, custody or management of the receiver⁴ and

- (d) confer upon the receiver all such powers as to bringing and defending suits⁵ and for the realization, management, protection, preservation and improvement of the property, the collection of the rents and profits thereof, the application and disposal of such rents and profits, and the execution of documents as the owner himself has⁶ or such of those powers as the Court thinks fit.⁷

(2) Nothing in this rule shall authorize the Court to remove from the possession or custody of property any person whom any party to the suit has not a present right so to remove.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to paras. 1 and 3 of S. 503 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) Instead of the words "just and convenient" in the new Act, the old Act had "necessary for the realization, preservation, or better custody or management of any property, moveable or immovable, the subject of a suit, or under attachment."
- (2) The words "whether before or after decree" in clause (a) are newly added.
- (3) The words "and if need be" in clause (a) of the old Act are omitted.
- (4) Clause (b) of the old Act ran thus:—"remove the person in whose possession or custody the property may be, from the possession or custody thereof"—The words "in whose possession or custody the property may be" are omitted; but the omission of these words will not alter the meaning in any way.
- (5) The word "possession" in clause (c) is a new addition.
- (6) Instead of "documents" in the new Act in clause (d), the old Act had "instruments in writing."
- (7) In sub-rule (2), the words "under attachment" appearing in the old Act after the word "property" are omitted; and instead of the words "the parties to the suit, or some or one of them" in the old Act, the new Act has "any party to the suit."

I.—"Where it appears... convenient."

Principle.

- (a) The powers conferred by this rule are not to be exercised as a matter of course, and it is not a reason for allowing an application for the appointment of a Receiver that it can do no harm to appoint one. The discretion given by this rule should be used with the greatest care. Because a plaintiff in his plaint makes wholesale charges of waste and malversation against a defendant in possession of property as executor under a will or as the tenant for life—such charges being denied by the defendant in a counter-affidavit—and upon this basis applies for a receiver to be appointed, it is not a necessary consequence that such appointment should be made. 5 A. 556=3 A.W.N. 136; see, also, U.B.R. (1908), 2nd Quarter, Civil Procedure, 17.

1.—“Where it appears....convenient”—(Continued).

- (b) The appointment of a receiver is a matter resting in the discretion of the Court. It must be exercised with a sound discretion, upon a view of the whole circumstances of the case, not merely the circumstances which might make the appointment expedient for the protection of the property, but all the circumstances connected with the right which is asserted and has to be established. The Court will not interfere by appointing a receiver where a right is asserted to property in the possession of a defendant claiming to hold it under a legal title, unless a strong case is made out. 15 C 818; see, also, 5 A. 556 (561); 73 P.R. 1902; 107 P.R. 1908=12 P.L.R. 1909; 186 P.R. 1890; see, also, 4 H.L.O. 997, 1032 and Coopers cases in Chancery, Vol. I, p. 97; Kerr on Receivers, 2nd Ed., p. 8. J

Conditions necessary for appointment.

- (a) The power of a Court to appoint a receiver of the property attached by the decree-holder depended upon S. 503 of the Old Code. It must, therefore, be made to appear to the Court that the appointment of a receiver is necessary for the “realisation, preservation, or better custody or management of the property.” 10 O.C. 268. K

N.B.—This is no longer law; for, the words “just and convenient” are used in the present Act instead of “necessary for the realisation, preservation, or better custody or management of the property” in S. 503 of the old Code.

- (b) Where the plaintiff's title is prima facie clear, and the danger to her interest immediate and certain, it would be wrong to refuse the appointment of a receiver. The plaintiff would not be disentitled to have a receiver appointed merely because she had contracted debts on onerous conditions, especially where it was the direct result of the defendant's acts. 59 P.L.R. 1902=73 P.R. 1902. L
- (c) The fact that there exists in respect of any immoveable property an order of a Magistrate passed under S. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, is no bar to the exercise by a Civil Court of the power of appointing a receiver in respect of the same property. 22 A. 214=20 A.W.N. 22. M
- (d) The facts that the acts complained of amount to misappropriation rather than waste makes no difference for the purposes of the application of this rule. 18 M. 23. N
- (e) The question whether the appointment of a receiver is necessary for any of the purposes mentioned in the rule is one to be determined judicially, and if the necessity of the appointment is in dispute between the parties, the question can only be determined after inquiry, with reference to the evidence. 102 P.R. 1885. O

Distinction between temporary injunction and appointment of receiver.

The distinction is that, while in either case it must be shown that the property should be preserved from waste or alienation, in the former case it would be sufficient if it be shown that the plaintiff in the suit has a fair question to raise as to the existence of the right alleged, while in the latter case a good prima facie title has to be made out. 22 C. 459; see, also, U.P.R. (1908), 2nd Quarter, Civil Procedure, 17. P

Grounds for appointment of receivers.

- (a) In an application for the appointment of a receiver in a suit, where the title to certain properties in the possession of the defendant is in dispute, it is not necessary that a strong case should be made out; it is enough if a fair prima facie case is made out. 5 C.W.N. 362 and 365 Q
- (b) The step of appointing a receiver should not be taken without special reasons, particularly in the case of a bona fide possessor with legal title. Parties, who have acquiesced in property being enjoyed against their own alleged rights, cannot come to Court for this form of relief. U.B. R. (1903), 2nd Quarter, Civil Procedure, 17; see, also, 6 C.L.R. 467. R
- (c) A receiver can be appointed under this rule in a suit to enforce a mortgage. 7 C.W.N. 452; see, also, 14 B. 431; L.R. 9 Ch. D. 275 (286); L.R. 17 Q. B.D. 749, 750; But see 3 C. 335, which is, however, a decision under S. 243 of Act X of 1859, the language of which is materially different from that of the present rule. S
- (d) Waste of property by the defendant under suspicious circumstances pending suit in regard to it, may be sufficient to justify an order for appointment of receiver. 5 C.W.N. 362 (365). T
- (e) The removal of a large amount of property by the defendant, under circumstances which might fairly give rise to suspicion, during the pendency of the suit in which the question of title to that property would be determined, is a sufficiently strong ground for the appointment of a receiver. 27 C. 279. U
- (f) In a suit only for a declaration of title when the plaintiff alleges the property in dispute to be in the possession of the plaintiff, a receiver may be appointed on proof of the fact that the plaintiff was in possession at the date of the suit. 59 P.L.R. 1902=73 P.R. 1902. Y
- (g) The Court can appoint a receiver to realize the amounts of decrees in favour of the judgment-debtor attached by the judgment-creditor, where the interests of both would be better protected by such appointment. 30 A. 393=5 A.L.J. 583=A.W.N. (1908), 161. W
- (h) It is not a matter of course, but when special circumstances are made out, the Court will appoint a receiver, pending litigation to set aside probate. Bourke Test, 5. X
- (i) Although, having regard to Ss. 23 and 52 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, this rule would not apply to a suit brought under that Act merely for arrears of rent, there is nothing in that Act which excludes the operation of this rule when a suit is brought for recovery of the tenure itself. Where, therefore, a suit is brought under that Act for arrears of rent and for ejectment of the defendant, a receiver of the rents and profits of the tenure might properly be appointed under this rule. 11 C. 496. Y
- (j) When a debt alleged to be due by a third party to the judgment-debtor has been attached under O. XXI, r. 46, and the garnishee denies the debt, the judgment-creditor must either have the debt sold or have a Receiver appointed under this rule. 11 B. 443. Z

1.—“Where it appears....convenient”—(Concluded).

Receivers appointed as just and convenient.

- (a) The plaintiff as adopted son of defendant sued for possession of the property and applied for the appointment of a receiver. In a previous suit between the parties, the plaintiff was held to be the adopted son of the defendant and the appeal by defendant against that decision was pending at the time of the application for the appointment of receiver. Held, that, though defendant might succeed in the appeal, as, on the date of the application, she had apparently no title, it was a case in which it was “just and convenient” to appoint a receiver. 24 B. 38; see, also (1898), 2 Ch. 578. A
- (b) Where, in a suit by a mortgagee for foreclosure or sale in default of payment, the mortgage-debt was for a very large amount and the property insufficient to cover the debt, it was held to be “just and convenient” to appoint a receiver. 84 B. 431. B

Circumstances under which receivers will not be appointed.

- (a) Unless there is proof of violent and wholesale charges of waste and malversation against a defendant in possession of property as the tenant for life, a receiver will not be appointed. 107 P.R. 1908. C
- (b) The rule of the Court of Chancery, that a Receiver will not be appointed against an executor unless gross misconduct was shown, is not applicable to the case of an executor of the will of a Mahomedan. 19 B. 88. D
- (c) Where the sons of a Hindu widow, in possession of her husband's estate under a will, sued their mother as reversioners under the will for possession of the estate, on the ground of mismanagement and waste, and applied for the appointment of a Receiver, the application was held to be made on insufficient grounds. 5 A. 556=3 A.W.N. 136. E

2.—“Appoint a receiver....after decree.”

Powers of Court.

- (a) The High Court possesses the same powers with regard to the appointment of a receiver as are possessed and exercised by the Courts in England under the Judicature Act. 14 B. 431. F
- (b) A Court which has passed an order appointing a Receiver in any case has power subsequently to hold an inquiry as to whether the order should remain in force or not, and if necessary to cancel the order. 4 L.B.R. 356. G
- (c) There is no authority in the Civil Procedure Code for a District Judge, either upon an application to himself or upon a reference by a subordinate Judge, to cancel an order appointing a receiver in a suit which is not pending in the Court of the District Judge. 74 P.R. 1889. H
- (d) Where a receiver has been validly appointed on the ground that the property was the subject-matter of the suit, and it, afterwards, turns out, an appeal, that the decree only operates against the defendants personally, the Appellate Court has jurisdiction to maintain the receiver as a method of realising the decree amount from the judgment-debtor personally. 30 M. 255=17 M.L.J. 201=2 M.L.T. 167. I
- (e) No order can be made for the discharge of a receiver appointed in an administration suit before the completion of the administration decree. 5 C.W.N. 417. J

- (f) Where a person was appointed receiver by the High Court, pending an appeal, no other Court has power to make an order or give any directions as supplementary to those given by the High Court without authority given by that Court. 4 M.L.T. 268. K
- (g) In a suit for partition, a receiver was appointed. Subsequent to the appointment, the defendants realised certain sums which the receiver might have realised. The District Judge was within his powers in passing an order directing them to pay in, at once, the sums realised by them to the receiver or to the Court; as the property vested in the receiver directly the order appointing him had been passed, and no one had the right to assume his functions without reference to the Court. 61 P.L.R. 1902. L

Court's powers in appointments and removal.

- (a) It is within the discretion of a Court appointing a receiver in a suit to order that the office should continue permanently after the decree, when such continuance is necessary or for so long as it may be so. 19 M. 120 = 23 I.A. 28. M
- (b) The removal of a Receiver is entirely a matter of discretion with the Court and will depend upon the circumstances of each case. 13 M. 390. N

Jurisdiction of Court to appoint.

- (a) A District Judge has no jurisdiction to appoint a receiver of properties which are the subject of a suit or attachment in other Courts, even though such Courts may have been subordinate to his Court. 23 C. 517. O
- (b) Where, in a suit upon a mortgage, the mortgaged-property was directed to be sold and the time of grace had expired and the judgment-debtor applied for the appointment of a receiver both as regards the mortgaged-property as well as other properties belonging to the judgment-debtor, held, the Court had no power to appoint a Receiver of properties other than the subject-matter of the suit, and as regards the mortgaged-property a Receiver could be appointed on the mere ground that the property would not fetch so much by forced sale as it would by sale under a private contract. 23 C. 517. P
- (c) A Court executing a simple money-decree obtained against a sonless separated Hindu, is not competent to appoint a Receiver of the rents accruing from the judgment-debtor's immoveable property since his death, such rents not being assets of the deceased, but the personal moveable property of the widow, and the decree-holder having agreed, for consideration, not to execute his decree against the moveable property of the widow. 19 A. 235 = 17 A.W.N. 38. Q

Application to appoint and notice.

- (a) An application for the appointment of a Receiver should ordinarily be made by a separate petition supported by affidavits, and should not be embodied in a plaint. 2 L.B.R. 222. R
- (b) Save for exceptional reasons, an application for appointment of Receiver should not be granted without notice to the opposite party 2 L.B.R. 222. S

Considerations in the appointment of a Receiver.

- (a) Where a Muhammaḍan testator had by his will appointed three executors, only one of whom had acted and got possession of the estate, a suit by the testator's widow for the administration of the estate was sufficiently well constituted for the purpose of a motion for a Receiver, although only the executor who had acted was made defendant, the other two executors not being parties to the suit. 19 B. 83. T
- (b) Where the appointment of a Receiver is under consideration, a discussion of the documents filed in the suit and on the merits of the case is always regarded as undesirable and as tending to prejudice the case and prejudice the parties. 32 C. 741. U

The words “property the subject of suit” of the old Act.

- (a) The words “property the subject of a suit” in S. 503 of the old Code mean the whole joint estate in a suit for partition. The Court has jurisdiction to place the whole of a joint estate out of which a plaintiff seeks to have his share partitioned in the hands of a Receiver, and to order that a Receiver so appointed shall be at liberty to raise money on the security of the whole of such joint estate. 17 C. 614. Y

N B.—The words “the subject of a suit” are omitted in the new Act, and the words employed in clause (a) of this rule are “any property.” The ruling will, therefore, be good law under the present Act also. W

- (b) In a suit for a declaration that a scheme of management of a temple is binding and, in the alternative, for the settlement by the Court of a scheme and for the appointment in the meanwhile of a Receiver, the property of the temple is the subject of the suit, and the Court has jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver. 4 M.L.T. 88. X

Appointment after decree.

The appointment of a Receiver after decree is valid. 8 M. 229. Y

Appeal against order refusing to appoint Receiver.

- (a) Though an order by a Civil Court appointing a Receiver would be appealable under O. XLIII, r. 1 (s), an order refusing to exercise the power conferred by this rule is not an order under this rule and is therefore not appealable. S.C. 106. Z
- (b) An order by the District Judge refusing to appoint a Receiver as recommended by the Subordinate Judge, is an order under this rule and is appealable under O. XLIII, r. 1 (S). 31 C. 495=8 C.W.N. 608. But see 7 C. 719 and 10 Bom. L.R. 1037=33 B. 104. A

Appeal against order rejecting application to appoint Receiver.

An order rejecting an application to appoint a Receiver is an order passed under r. 1, and is appealable under O. XLIII, r. 1 (s). 10 M. 179 verruling 6 M. 355; see, also, 6 C.L.R. 467; 17 C. 680. But see S.C. 06 B Order appointing Receiver—Appealable.

- (a) An appeal lies against an order of the Subordinate Court appointing a Receiver under this rule. 1 O.C. 168. G
- (b) Where, in proceedings under Act VIII of 1890, the District Judge purported to appoint a Receiver under this rule, an appeal lay against that order, notwithstanding that no appeal was provided for against orders passed under the Act. 23 M. 517=10 M.L.J. 305. D

2.—“Appoint a receiver....after decree”—(Continued).Order refusing to remove Receiver—Appealability.

An order refusing to remove a Receiver appointed by a decree in an administration suit is appealable, being an order made in respect of a question arising between the parties to a suit relating to the execution of the decree. 5 B. 45. E

Duration of authority of a Receiver.

Where a Receiver is appointed pending an appeal, his office does not come to an end as soon as the appeal is decided, but continues till he is finally discharged and his accounts passed. 28 C. 790. F

Position of Receiver.

- (a) A Receiver occupies a position, towards an estate in his hands, different from that of an executor or trustee; the latter not acting under directions of the Court do not and cannot, under ordinary circumstances, create obligations, binding on the estate in favour of creditors. 30 C. 937=7 C.W.N. 799. G
- (b) A Receiver appointed by Court at the instance of the judgment-creditor does not thereby become the judgment-creditor's agent. He is an officer or representative of the Court and subject to its orders. His possession is the possession of the Court by its Receiver, and the tenants in possession when he is appointed to receive rents and profits of immoveable property become virtually tenants pro hac vice of the Court, their landlord. The moneys in his hands are in custodia legis for the person who can make a title to them. His possession is the possession of all the parties to the proceeding according to their titles. If, therefore, a loss arises from the default of the Receiver or otherwise without any default on his part, the loss must be borne by the estate subject to the Receiver's liability, if any, for his default. 17 M. 501; see, also, 20 M. 224. H

Grievances against Receivers.

Where a lease had been granted by a Receiver acting under an order of Court, and possession of the property had been given to the lessee, no summary order could be passed on an application by certain aggrieved parties to set aside the lease. The proper remedy would be by suit against the Receiver and the lessee if the lease was obtained by collusion. 36 C. 52=12 C.W.N. 1023. I

Acts of a Receiver.

- (a) The acts of a Receiver, acting within his authority are the acts of the Court. The estate cannot, therefore, be permitted to enjoy the benefit of those acts without being held responsible for the obligations arising out of them and a creditor will be entitled to recover a debt, incurred by the Receiver, directly from the representative of the estate. 30 C. 937=7 C.W.N. 799. J
- (b) A Receiver, unlike a trustee or an executor, incurs personal obligations and necessarily such obligations are imposed on the estate for the benefit of the creditors with whom he has dealt, 30 C. 937=7 C.W.N. 799. K

2.—“Appoint a receiver after decree”—(Concluded).

- (c) Where a Receiver, appointed at the instance of the judgment-creditor, misappropriates moneys collected by him, the decree is not satisfied pro tanto, but the loss falls on the estate or its owner, subject to the Receiver's liability. 17 M. 501. L

On appeal from the above decision under the Letters Patent, Collins, C.J., and Shepherd, J., held that payment by the tenants to the receiver did not Pro tanto discharge the judgment-debtor from liability under the decree while Davies, J., was of opinion that it did. 20 M. 224. M

3.—“Remove any person . . . property.”

- (a) It does not necessarily follow from the provision that the Court may remove any person from the possession or custody of property or from the provision that the Court may grant to the Receiver all such powers as are therein described, that the Court can authorize a Receiver to enter upon immoveable property in the possession of another person, without his consent, in order to take an inventory of all such property as the plaintiff may indicate as the property in dispute. 69 P.R. 1891. N
- (b) Where any person refuses to hand over property to Receiver, the proper course is for the Court to hold an inquiry as to the possession of the property in question and as to whether it is property that should be handed over to the Receiver, before issuing an injunction under S. 492 of the old Code unless it appears that the object of the injunction would be defeated by the delay. 4 L.B.R. 356. O

4.—“Commit the same . . . receiver.”

Discretion of Court.

The Court, in the exercise of its discretion, was competent to place the whole property left by the deceased in the hands of the Receiver. 59 P.L.R. 1902 = 73 P.R. 1902. P

Attachment without previous sanction.

- (a) An attachment of money in the hands of the Receiver made without previous sanction of the Court is improper, being an interference with the Receiver's possession, and will not be recognized. 21 C. 85; see, also, 26 C. 127. Q
- (b) Where property is in the hands of the Court through its officer, the Receiver, one out of several creditors will not be allowed to gain priority over the others by attaching that property. Such an attachment is an interference with the Court's possession and may not, therefore, be made without the Court's leave first obtained, and leave will be granted only on terms which will ensure equality between the parties. 16 B. 577; see, also, 21 C. 85; 26 C. 127. R

Sale in execution of mortgage-decree.

A judgment-creditor can sell properties in the hands of a Receiver of the Court in execution of a mortgage-decree (no attachment being necessary), although he cannot execute a decree against such properties by way of attachment and sale. 26 C. 127 = 3 C.W.N. 90. S

5.—“All such powers....defending suits.”Vesting of interest in receivers.

Though the Code says nothing about the vesting of any interest in Receivers appointed thereunder, it does not follow that the law necessarily implies absence of all interest in the subject of the litigation, as, apart from any express power to sue conferred by the Court, Receivers have a right of action by virtue of mere possession or by virtue of they being contracting parties themselves. 28 M. 157. T

Receiver of the High Court—Status of.

The Receiver of the High Court does not represent the estate for which he is a Receiver, but is merely an officer of the Court, and as such cannot sue and be sued, except with the permission of the Court. 10 C. 1014. U

Powers of Receiver to sue.

- (a) A Receiver appointed under this rule to manage a Zemindari, attached in execution of certain decrees against the Zemindar, could maintain a suit to recover sums expended by the Zemindar at the defendant's request before the appointment of the Receiver. 9 M. 384. Y
- (b) Where a Receiver, appointed for the management of an estate, ceased his connection with the estate after he had filed an appeal on behalf of the estate, held, that a Receiver, when empowered to sue, is clothed distinctly with an interest in regard to the subject of the litigation; that the interest ceases, when the authority to sue terminates, but that the litigation, commenced by him does not abate; that it cannot proceed, without the officer succeeding being impleaded so properly as to represent the interest concerned. 28 M. 157. W
- (c) Where a suit is commenced by a Receiver but the Receiver's office comes to an end before a decree is passed, the party ascertained to be the true owner has a right to step into the Receiver's place and to continue the proceedings. 6 Bom. L.R. 995. X

Power of Receiver to sue in his own name.

- (a) The Court has authority to confer on a Receiver the power to sue in his own name; and if the order appointing the Receiver gives him liberty, he may do so. 25 C. 642=2 C.W.N. 469. Y
- (b) It is competent to a Court to authorise a Receiver to sue in his own name, and a Receiver who is authorised to sue, though not expressly, in his own name, may do so by virtue of his appointment with full powers under this rule. 34 C. 805=5 C.L.J. 270. Z
- (c) This rule authorises the Court to grant to the Receiver all such powers as to bringing and defending suits as the owner himself has. When an appointment has been made and full powers are granted to the Receiver, powers are conferred upon the Receiver to bring and maintain suits in his own name, always supposing that the ownership of the property is completely represented in the suit in which the Receiver is appointed. 34 C. 305=5 C.L.J. 270. A Leave of Court to sue or be sued.

- (a) A Receiver can neither sue nor be sued without the leave of the Court. 30 C. 598=7 C.W.N. 890; see, also, 10 C. 1014; 6 C.W.N. 829. B
- (b) A Receiver appointed by Court is a public officer holding lands in attachment under the order of a Civil Court, within the meaning of S. 85 of the Act. He is, by virtue of the section, to have all the powers of a landholder and be subject to the same restrictions. The effect of the section is to give a statutory right of suit against him, and leave of Court is not necessary. 30 M. 505=17 M.L.J. 483=3 M.L.T. 7. C

5—"All such powers....defending suits"—(Concluded).

- (c) The party feeling aggrieved by the conduct of a Receiver may seek redress against the Receiver in the very proceeding in which the Receiver was appointed, or file a separate suit with the leave of the Court, without which the suit is liable to be dismissed. 26 M. 492. D
- (d) The consent of the Court to an action to be brought against a Receiver appointed by the Court, is a condition precedent to the right of the party to sue, and that cannot be rectified by an application to the Court to continue an action wrongfully brought without the permission of the Court, and the Court will not entertain an application to grant leave to institute a fresh action against the Receiver in respect of the same cause of action, unless the action so wrongly brought has either been dismissed or withdrawn. 9 C.W.N. 247=32 C. 270. E

Suit against Receiver.

- (a) To order a Receiver to defend a suit with a view to ensuring the plaintiff getting what is justly due to him in the opinion of the District Judge who appointed the Receiver, is not a legitimate use of the powers conferred by this rule. P.J.L.B. 432, 433. F
- (b) In a suit for declaration of title, when the beneficial owner has been made a party, it is not necessary to join the Receiver. 6 C.W.N. 829. G
- (c) A Receiver appointed by Court cannot be made a party to a proceeding under S. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, merely in his capacity of a Receiver, and the Magistrate cannot interfere with his possession without the sanction of Court. 30 C. 593=7 C.W.N. 390. H

6.—"As the owner himself has."

"Owner"—Meaning of.

The word "owner" in clause (d) of this rule means the whole body of owners to whom the joint estate in a suit for partition belongs. 17 C. 614. I Receiver—Powers of.

- (a) A Receiver appointed by the Court in a civil suit with the object of preserving property and keeping it within the reach of the Court until a final decree can be made can but exercise, at the utmost, such powers and rights over the property as the parties to the suit turn out to be possessed of when their rights are finally determined. 19 W.R. 37. J
- (b) A Zemindar granted a lease reserving a certain annual rent. Subsequently, the Zemindari was attached by a creditor and the Zemindar thereupon granted a new lease in perpetuity reserving less rent per annum. A Receiver was subsequently appointed with full powers under this rule and he sued for recovery of rent at the rate first fixed. Held, the Receiver was entitled to recover rent at that rate, the provisions of this rule having been intended to declare that the Receiver, in respect of all property which was or could be attached, had the powers of the owner as they existed at the time the property was brought under the orders of the Court by attachment, provided that they have not ceased by operation of law. 8 M. 413. K

6.—“As the owner himself has”—(Concluded).Receiver—Position of.

- (a) The Receiver in a suit is nothing more than the hand of the Court for the purpose of holding the property of the litigants, whenever it is necessary that it should be kept in the grasp of the Court in order to preserve the subject-matter of the suit pendente lite; and the possession of the Receiver is simply the possession of the Court. He has no personal rights in the property nor can he take any steps with regard to it without the sanction of the Court. If it is necessary for him to take action of any sort, he should be put in motion by the Court on the application of the parties to the suit; and whatever he rightly does with regard to the property, he does simply as the agent of the owners of the property. 6 B.L.R. 486. L
- (b) When a Court appoints a Receiver in a suit and empowers him to sue in ejectment a person who is not a party to the suit, the necessary implication is that the Receiver as an official representative or trustee is to bring the suit for the benefit of the party, who may ultimately appear to be entitled to the property and whose Receiver he will then be considered to be. 6 Bom. L.R. 995. M
- (c) The possession of a Receiver appointed by the Court during the pendency of a suit should be regarded as possession for the party who might ultimately turn out to be the true owner and entitled to possession as such. The effect of such possession by the Receiver is to destroy the adverse possession, if any, of either of the parties. 2 C.L.J. 602; see, also, 17 M. 501. N

7.—“Such of those powers.... fit.”Receiver not entitled to delegate duties.

A Receiver is not justified in delegating or entrusting to another a duty entrusted to him by the Court. 19 B. 660. O

Powers granted to a Receiver.

- (a) A Receiver is a servant of the Court and has only such power and authority as the Court may choose to give him. 22 C. 648. P
- (b) But see 18 C. 477 where it was held, distinguishing 14 C. 323, that a Receiver, appointed by an order couched in similar language, had the power to sue to eject, without obtaining permission of the Court, a monthly tenant whose tenancy was determinable by a notice to quit which had been duly served. Q
- (c) An order appointing a Receiver gave him power to let and set immoveable property or any part thereof as he should think fit, and to take and use all such lawful and equitable means and remedies for recovering, realising, and obtaining payment of the rents, issues, and profits of the said immoveable property and of the outstanding debts and claims by action, suit, or otherwise as should be expedient. Held, that the above order did not give him power to serve a notice to quit on tenants who claimed a permanent lease or to institute a suit to eject them without the special leave of the Court, and that as he was appointed under the provisions of this rule and not vested with the general powers referred to in the rule, but only with the powers referred to in the order appointing him, and as a Receiver is not otherwise authorised to institute such suits without special leave of the Court, the suit must be dismissed. 14 C. 323. R

7.—“Such of those powers...fit”—(Concluded).

- (d) A Receiver appointed by Court can himself apply for taking proceedings against a party for contempt and it is not necessary to move the parties concerned to take action in the matter. 28 C. 790. S
- (e) Although, where a Receiver has been appointed, the Court usually directs, at the instance of the parties or of some of them, that the Receiver should pass his final accounts and then be discharged, the Court has no power, after the suit has been dismissed, to give the Receiver any fresh power, such as liberty to sell. 34 C. 236. T
- (f) A Receiver appointed by the Court entered into two private agreements without bringing them to the notice of the Court, one prior to, and the other subsequent to, the date of his appointment, with one of the defendants restricting and controlling his powers. Held, this was a gross contempt of Court for which the parties were liable to commitment. 22 C. 648. U

Remuneration. 2. The Court may by general or special order fix the amount to be paid as remuneration¹ for the services of the Receiver.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the first portion of (d) clause of the first para. of S. 503 of the old Act. It ran thus:—

“The Court may by order grant to such Receiver such fee or commission on the rents and profits of the property by way of remuneration as the Court thinks fit.”

Promise to pay Receiver without leave of Court—Illegal.

A promise to pay the salary of a Receiver without leave from the Court, is illegal and not binding on the promisor. The Court alone must fix the Receiver's fees or remuneration, and the parties cannot, by any act of theirs, add to, or derogate from, the functions of the Court, without its authority. 30 C. 696; see, also, 22 C. 648. V

Costs and expenses incurred by Receiver.

A Receiver is entitled to his costs, charges and expenses properly incurred in the discharge of his duties. 19 B. 660. W

Duties.

3. Every Receiver so appointed shall—

- (a) furnish such security (if any) as the Court thinks fit, duly to account for what he shall receive in respect of the property;
- (b) submit his accounts at such periods and in such form as the Court directs;¹
- (c) pay the amount due from him as the Court directs²; and
- (d) be responsible for any loss occasioned to the property by his wilful default or gross negligence.³

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the second para. of S. 503 of Act XIV of 1882.

The language of the old Act is the same as that of the new except that instead of the word "submit" in clause (b) of the new Act, the old Act had "pass", and instead of the word "amount" in clause (c), the old Act had "balance."

(General).Duties of Receiver.

A Receiver should, in all important matters, apply for and obtain the direction of the Judge who appoints him. 19 B. 660. X

1.—"Submit his accounts....directs."Order accepting accounts—not appealable.

(a) The order of the Court accepting the amount stated by the Receiver to have been realised by him and referring the decree-holder to a suit for the decision of his claim against the Receiver, is not appealable under O. XLIII, r. 1 (S). 65 P.L.R. 1904. Y

(b) The directions which a Court gives in passing a Receiver's accounts are not appealable under O. XLIII. 35 C. 568=12 C.W.N. 648; see, also, 107 P.R. 1893. Z

Questions in passing accounts.

The only question which properly arises on an application by a Receiver to pass his accounts is as to the items of that particular account, and involves the inquiry whether all his collections, made on behalf of the property of which he is the receiver, are duly entered in the accounts and whether all the disbursements made are in respect of that estate. Liability of Receivers, in respect of matters not appearing on the face of the accounts, for imprudent management for wilful default, or neglect, or for malpractices of their servants or for more than what they have received cannot be determined on an application by the Receiver to pass accounts, but must be established in a separate suit for the purpose. 5 C.W.N. 223; see, also, 36 C. 52=12 C.W.N. 1023. A

2.—"Pay the amount....directs."

In all applications for payment of money by a Receiver, the Receiver ought to appear and give information to the Court, if required, about funds in his hands and whether there are any attachment or claims on them. 1 C.W.N. 303. B

3.—"Be responsible....gross negligence."

A Receiver is responsible for all properties which come into his custody or management, and he is responsible not only for actual sums received by him, but for those which might have been received by him but for his neglect and default. 5 C.W.N. 223. C

Enforcement of Receiver's duties.

4. Where a Receiver—

(a) fails to submit his accounts at such periods and in such form as the Court directs, or

(b) fails to pay the amount due from him as the Court directs,
or

(c) occasions loss to the property by his wilful default or gross negligence, the Court may direct his property to be attached and may sell such property, and may apply the proceeds to make good any amount found to be due from him or any loss occasioned by him, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the receiver.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(General).

Liability of Receiver to make good loss caused by breach of duties.

A Receiver appointed under r. 1 to collect the rents of an estate is bound to make good a loss caused to it by breach of his duties. 19 B. 660. D

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 504 of Act XIV of 1882 as amended by S. 43 of Act VII of 1888 which is the same as above.

ORDER XLI.

APPEALS FROM ORIGINAL DECREES.

1. (1) Every appeal¹ shall be preferred in the form of a memorandum signed by the appellant or his pleader and presented to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf.² The memorandum shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed from³ and (unless the Appellate Court dispenses therewith) of the judgment on which it is founded.

Form of appeal.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 541 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the words, "Every appeal shall be preferred," stand for the words, "The appeal shall be made," while the words, "in writing," are omitted after "memorandum."

The words, "signed by the appellant or his pleader and presented to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf," are substituted for the words, "presented by the appellant".

The words, "The memorandum shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed from," are substituted for the words, "and shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed against".

In sub-rule (2), the word, "the," replaces the word, "such," while the words, "appealed from," replace the words, "appealed against."

1.—"Every appeal."

Party having favourable decree cannot appeal.

No appeal lies at the instance of a party to a suit, when the whole or any part of the decree appealed against does not go against the said party, but is entirely in his favour. 6 M.L.J. 87. F

2.—"And presented to the Court or to such officer. . . in this behalf."

Memorandum of appeal, presentation of.

- (1) The Code of Civil Procedure does not provide for the delegation by a duly appointed pleader of any portion of his duties to others, and the — by the clerk of such pleader is not permissible.

But where the appellant personally accompanied the clerk and authorized him to present such a memorandum, the presentation was valid. No. 6 P.R. 1896. G

- (2) (a) The presentation of an appeal by a person who is not an advocate, vakil or attorney of the Court nor a suitor, is not a valid presentation in law. 22 A. 331. But see 24 A. 172; see, also, 14 A.W.N. 131. H

- (b) An appeal must be presented to the Judge and not to the Moonsarim. 3 N.W.P. 341. I

- (3) The sending of an appeal by post is not a sufficient presentation. The rule implies actual delivery of the appeal to the proper officer of the Court. 8 C.P.L.R. 93; 15 M. 137; 8 M. 411, F. J

- (4) Where a vakalat was given by an appellant to two pleaders, but was accepted by only one of them, the presentation of the appeal by the pleader who accepted was sufficient. 16 M. 285. K

3.—“Shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed from.”

(1) Memorandum, what to accompany.

- (a) A memorandum of appeal is not a good memorandum unless it is accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed against. 9 C.P.L.R. 109; 16 A. 77, R.; see, also, P.R. No. 7 of 1879 (Civil); 22 P.R. 1903; 16 A. 77=13 A.W.N. 223; 17 A. 553. L
- (b) Where no copy of the decree is presented within the period of limitation prescribed for the appeal, the appeal will be barred. 12 A.W.N. 47. M
- (c) Where an appeal was filed without a copy of the decree, and subsequently the decree was filed within the time allowed for the appeal and accepted by the Judge, there was no irregularity, and the appeal should not have been dismissed. 2 Agra Rep. 85. N

(2) Result of memorandum not accompanied by copies.

- (a) The presentation of the memorandum of appeal, unaccompanied by the requisite copies was not such a presentation as would bring the appeal within time. 7 P.R. 1879 (Civil). O
- (b) A memorandum of appeal accompanied only by a translation of the judgment of the first Court, but without a copy of the decree or of the original judgment itself, does not satisfy the requirements of this rule. (Ibid.) P
- (c) An appeal under the Civil Procedure Code is not presented, within the meaning of S. 5 of the Limitation Act, unless it is accompanied by the copies prescribed by the Code. 7 P.R. 1879 Civil. Q
- (d) An order under S. 47 being a decree, a copy of the decree need not be attached to the memorandum, and it will be sufficient if a copy of the order is attached to it. In the case of a suit or proceeding having the character of a suit, it is necessary to file a copy of the decree. 6 C.W. N. 283. R
- (e) Where the Lower Court did not embody its decision in a decree, the Appellate Court should have remanded the case for preparation of the decree. 4 A.W.N. 224. S

4.—“Shall set forth..... the grounds of objection.”

Objection, nature of.

The provisions of S. 541 and S. 542 of the old Code corresponding to rules 1 and 2 of this Order do not contemplate a vague and general ground of objection. A Court must ignore any such general ground inserted in the memorandum of appeal. 8 C.P.L.R. 81. T

2. The appellant shall not, except by leave of the Court, urge

Grounds which may be taken in appeal. or be heard in support of any ground of objection not set forth in the memorandum of appeal;¹ but the Appellate Court, in deciding the appeal, shall not be confined to the grounds of objection set forth in the memorandum of appeal or taken by leave of the Court under this rule

Provided that the Court shall not rest its decision on any other ground unless the party who may be affected thereby has had a sufficient opportunity of contesting² the case on that ground,

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 542 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words, "without the leave of the Court," are replaced by, "except by leave of the Court," while the word, "other," is omitted after the words, "in support of any."

The words, "not set forth in the memorandum of appeal," are newly inserted after the word, "objection," as also the word, "Appellate," before the word, "Court."

The words, "shall not be confined to the grounds set forth by the appellant," of the old section, are replaced in this rule by the words, "shall not be confined to the grounds of objection set forth in the memorandum of appeal or taken by leave of the Court under this rule."

In the proviso, the word, "other," is newly inserted between "any" and "ground," while the words, "not set forth by the appellant," are omitted after "ground."

The words, "unless the party who may be affected thereby," replace the words, "the respondent," of the old section.

(General.)

Object of the rule.

The rule was intended to confer upon the Court a power exercisable by it alone; it was not intended to enable an appellant to take the respondent by surprise by urging matter of which he had no notice. 11 A.W. N. 147. U

Power of Court to modify part of decree not appealed from.

(1) Where the appellants sued for arrears of rent and obtained a decree for Rs. 116-12-8 in the first Court, which was only a portion of the claim, and an appeal was preferred by them from that part of the decree, which dismissed the other portion, the Lower Appellate Court could not interfere with the first Court's decree and reduce the amount decreed to the appellants, as the award of Rs. 116-12-8 was not a subject of appeal in the Lower Appellate Court. 1 A.W.N. 40. X

(2) Nor can the Lower Appellate Court give to a plaintiff a larger sum than that awarded by the first Court, where no objection was urged by him to the decree of the first Court. 2 N.W.P. 44. Y & Z

1.—"Shall not, . . . urge or be heard . . . of any ground . . . not set forth in . . . of appeal."

New case.

An Appellate Court cannot make out an entirely new case for a plaintiff which he never made himself at any period of the trial. 17 B. 772. A 1.—“Shall not, . . . urge or be heard . . . of any ground . . . not set forth in . . . of appeal”—(Concluded).

Plea of limitation.

- (a) It is in the discretion of the Appellate Court to allow or disallow a plea of limitation not set out in the grounds of appeal. 11 C.W.N. 959 (F.B.) = 6 C.L.J. 237 = 84 C. 941 (Per Woodhoffer, J.); see, also, 15 A. 123; 12 A. 461. B
- (b) An appellant is not entitled, without the leave of the Court, to urge or be heard in support of a ground of limitation not set out in the memorandum of appeal. (Per Mookerjee, J.) Ibid.; see, also, 2 L.B.R. 237; 1 A.W.N. 40. C

Second appeal, objection first urged in.

- (1) The point of Res judicata, though not taken in the memorandum of appeal, may be entertained in second appeal, even when such point has not been urged in either of the lower Courts or in the pleas in appeal. 4 A. 69 = 1 A.W.N. 611. D
- But a plea, that the plaintiff had improperly been permitted to withdraw from a former suit, with liberty to bring a present one, which had not been taken in the lower Courts or in the memorandum of second appeal, could not be permitted to be urged at the hearing of the second appeal. 3 A. 528 = 1 A.W.N. 18. E
- (2) The High Court can consider the question whether the plaintiff has any cause of action or not for the first time in second appeal, although the question has not been raised by the defendant-appellant in the Courts below or in the memorandum of second appeal. 2 A. 884; see, also, 11 A.W.N. 105; 11 A.W.N. 187. F

2.—“Shall not rest its decision on any other ground unless the party . . . has had sufficient opportunity of contesting.”

Party to be given opportunity to contest.

Where a point is, for the first time, raised in appeal by either party or taken by the Court, the provisions of this rule must be strictly followed, and the Appellate Court should not rest its decision on that point without giving the opposite party sufficient opportunity of contesting it. S.D. 9 of 1893. I

3. (1) Where the memorandum of appeal is not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, it may be rejected¹ or be returned to the appellant for the purpose of being amended within a time to be fixed by the Court² or be amended then and there,

Rejection of amendment of memorandum.

(2) Where the Court rejects any memorandum, it shall record the reasons for such rejection.³

(3) Where a memorandum of appeal is amended, the Judge, or such officer as he appoints in this behalf, shall sign or initial the amendment.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 543 of the old Code and also to S. 336 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the word, "where," stands for, "if," while the words "is not drawn," stand for "be not drawn."

In sub-rule (2), the word, "where," stands for "when," while the phrase, "under this section," is omitted after, "rejects."

In sub-rule (3) also the word, "where," stands for "when," while the words, "under this section," are again omitted after "amended."

The words, "sign or initial the amendment," replace the words, "attest the amendment by his signature."

4. Where there are more plaintiffs or more defendants than one in a suit, and the decree appealed from, proceeds on any ground common to all the plaintiffs or to all the defendants, any one of the plaintiffs or of the defendants may appeal from the whole decree, and thereupon the Appellate Court may reverse or vary the decree in favour of all¹ the plaintiffs or defendants, as the case may be.

One of several plaintiffs or defendants may obtain reversal of whole decree where it proceeds on ground common to all.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 544 of the old Code and also to S. 337 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

The words, “the decree appealed from,” replace the words, “the decree appealed against,” while the words, “may appeal from,” replace the words, “may appeal against.” The word, “vary,” replaces the word, “modify.”

(General.)

Scope and application of the rule.

- (1) The rule applies to ex parte decrees as well as to other decrees, the only question being whether the Lower Court's decision proceeded on a ground common to all the defendants. 13 W.R. 114; see, also, 14 W.R. 130; 20 A. 8; 14 W.R. 130, R.; 22 A. 386; 20 A. 8, R. S
- (2) (a) Where the decree proceeds on a ground common to all the defendants, the decision may be modified in appeal, even in favour of those defendants not before the Appellate Court. 12 W.R. 376; 3 C. 738=2 C.L. R. 440; see, also, 8 B.L.R. 180=16 W.R. 235; 20 A. 493=18 A.W.N. 121; 11 A. 267, D.; 4 A. 376, R. T
- (b) In order to make this rule applicable, all that is necessary is that the decision appealed against should have proceeded on any ground common to all the defendants. There is nothing in the rule to warrant the importation into it of the qualifications suggested by 17 M. 265. 17 M. L.J. 19 (F.B.)=2 M.L.T. 104; 4 M.H.C.R. 26; 8 M. 192, Appr.; 16 M. 293; 28 M. 122; 21 W.R. 112; 30 C. 429, R.; 17 M. 265, overruled; 2 W.R. 227; 11 W.R. 233, not F.; see, also, cases under the heading: “Common ground—Appellate Court may reverse or modify in favour of all,” infra. U
- (3) The rule has no application to applications for review. It applies only to appeals and cannot be applied to reviews by analogy, for there is in effect no analogy between the two. 47 P.R. 1904. Y

(General)—(Concluded).

- (4) The use of the power given by S. 544 of the old Code, corresponding to this rule, to Appellate Courts, is discretionary with the latter and not imperative, though the discretion must be exercised in a logical and reasonable manner. 8 P.R. 1895; 11 W.R. 227; 11 W.R. 449, cited. W
- (5) It is necessary for the legitimate exercise of the power given by this rule that the "common ground" therein referred to should be the only basis of the decree under the appeal. If there was any special ground which also formed the basis of the decree under appeal, the rule had no application. 8 P.R. 1895; 11 W.R. 227; 11 W.R. 449, cited. X
- (6) The rule relates only to cases where one or more of the parties arrayed on the same side appealed against a decree passed on a ground common to all, and not to cases where either of two opposite parties appealed from a part of the decree upon a Court-fee sufficient for an appeal from the whole. 11 A. 35; 7 M.I.A. 283; 10 M.I.A. 340; 12 M.I.A. 157, R.Y

Death of one of several appellants—Abatement of appeal.

- (1) Where several plaintiffs or defendants jointly appeal against a decree, to which S. 544 of the old Code, which corresponds to this rule, applies, the death of one of such appellants, if no legal representative is brought on the record, can cause the appeal to abate, only so far as that appellant is concerned. It cannot have the effect of causing the whole appeal to abate.* 1902 A.W.N. 171=25 A. 27. Z
- (2) Where one of several plaintiffs appealing against a decree, which proceeded on a ground common to them all, died during the pendency of the appeal and substitution was not made within time, the appellants were not entitled to the benefit of this rule.* 9 C.W.N. 1061. But see infra. A
- (3) Where a decree is passed against several defendants and two of them appeal, but, pending the hearing, one of the appellants dies and no legal representative is brought on the record, the Appellate Court can reverse the whole decree, if the ground of appeal is common. 5 Bom. L.R. 90=27 B. 284. B

Limitation.

Where one of the defendants appeals against the decree in so far as it affects him and not against the whole decree, and the property in respect of the decree was such that there was no common interest or a common defence, the fact of one defendant having appealed will not prevent limitation running in favour of the others. 12 Q.L.R. 471. 1.—"On any ground common to all...any one...may appeal...and thereupon...the Appellate Court may reverse or modify...in favour of all."

Common ground—Appellate Court may reverse or modify in favour of all.

- (1) (a) The general rule is that an Appellate Court can only modify a judgment or decree so far as it affects the appellant, without interfering as to parties who do not appeal. The Code of Civil Procedure provides at least two exceptions to this rule, which are contained in Ss. 544 and 561 of the old Code. 46 P.R. 1892. D

(b) that the application has been made without unreasonable delay; and

(c) that security has been given by the applicant for the due performance of such decree or order as may ultimately be binding upon him.⁶

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (3), the Court may make an ex parte order for stay of execution pending the hearing of the application.⁷

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 545 of the old Code and also to S. 338 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the sentence, "an appeal shall not operate as a stay of proceedings under a decree or order appealed from, except so far as the Appellate Court may order," is new, while the words, "nor shall execution of a decree be stayed," replace the words, "execution of a decree shall not be stayed." The words "from the decree," are substituted for the words, "against the decree," as also the words, "order stay of execution of such decree," for the words, "order the execution to be stayed."

In sub-rule (2), the word, "where," stands for "if", and the words, "is made," stand for "be made." The word, "expiration," stands for "expiry." The words, "on sufficient cause being shown," stand for the words, "for sufficient cause."

In sub-rule (3), the words, "provided that" are omitted, while the words, "for stay of execution" are newly inserted. The words "under this section," are replaced by "under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2)."

Sub-rule (4) is new.

(General.)

Scope and application of the rule.

(1) It will be seen, on a reference to the wording of this rule, that proceedings under a decree as well as execution can be stayed by the Appellate Court. Preliminary decrees, therefore, come within the purview of this rule. See "Statement of Objects and Reasons"; see, also, 8 C.W.N. 572=31 C. 722 (F.B.).

(General) — (Concluded).

Pauper appeal—Stay of execution.

Where there was an application for leave to appeal as a pauper, accompanied by a memorandum of appeal, the Appellate Court could order stay of execution, although the appeal might not have been admitted as a pauper appeal. 70 P.R. 1879 (Civil). H

Power of Court.

Proceedings under a decree.

“The Committee have added words to S. 545 in order to make it clear that proceedings under a decree as well as execution can be stayed by an Appellate Court; the recognition of preliminary decrees makes it the more necessary to have an express power to this effect instead of resting on an inherent power.” (Balkishen Sahu v. Khugnu, 31 C. 722)
—“Statement of Objects and Reasons.” P

2.—“By reason only of an appeal having been preferred from the decree.”

Mere preference of appeal cannot stay execution.

(1) The Court declined to stay execution because the applicant did not show anything more than the mere fact of an appeal having been preferred against the decree, and also because there was great delay on his part. 17 W.R. 160. Q

(2) An Appellate Court cannot stay execution of the decree of a subordinate Court, merely by reason of an appeal having been preferred against an order of refusal by the Court below to set aside a decree under S. 108, C.P.C.=O. “The Committee have introduced express words authorizing an ex parte stay, as the need for such an order constantly arises in practice.” G

6. (1) Where an order is made for the execution of a decree ¹ from which an appeal is pending ² the Court which passed the decree shall, on sufficient cause being shown by the appellant, require security to be taken for the restitution of any property ³ which may be or has been taken in execution of the decree ⁴ or for the payment of the value of such property and for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court, or the Appellate Court may for like cause direct the Court which passed the decree to take such security.⁵

(2) Where an order has been made for the sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree, and an appeal is pending from such decree, the sale shall, on the application of the judgment-debtor to the Court which made the order, be stayed ⁶ on such terms as to giving security or otherwise as the Court thinks fit until the appeal is disposed of.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 546 of the old Code and also to Act XXIII of 1861, S. 36.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the word, "where" stands for "if," while the words, "from which," stand for "against which". The words, "or has been taken," are newly inserted after "may be."

In sub-rule (2), the words, "and when," are replaced by "where," while the words, "for money" are omitted after "in execution of a decree." The words, "from such decree," replace "against such decree," while the words, "to the Court which made the order," are newly inserted after "judgment-debtor." The words, "until the appeal is disposed of," appearing after "be stayed" in the old section, are put at the end of this rule, while the words, "which passed the decree," appearing before "thinks fit" are omitted.

(General).

Application of the rule.

No security to be required from the Government or a public officer in certain cases.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 547 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words, "Sections, 545 and 546," are replaced by "rules 5 and 6," while the word, "where" stands for "when" of the old section.

8. The powers conferred by rules 5 and 6 shall be exercisable where an appeal may be or has been preferred not from the decree but from an order made in execution of such decree.

Exercise of powers in appeal from order made in execution of decree.

This rule corresponds to S. 549 of the old Code and also to S. 342 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1), the words, “in its discretion,” stand for “ad libitum discretion.”

In the proviso to the sub-rule, the words, “other than,” stand for “independent of.”

In sub-rule (2), the word, “where,” stands for “if”.

Para. 4 of the old section, viz, “if such security be furnished, any costs for which a surety may have rendered himself liable may be recovered from him in execution of the decree of the Appellate Court in the same manner as if he were the appellant,” is omitted.

(General).Scope and application of the rule.

Appellate Court.

A single Judge of the High Court has full power to make an order for security for the costs of an appeal. Bourke O.C. 119=Bourke A.O.C. 40; see, also, Bourke O.C. 110. S

2.—“May in its discretion.”

Discretion of Court.

- (1) (a) In exercising discretion, the Appellate Court may well be guided by the provisions of S. 380 of the old Code=O. XXV, r. 1, of the new Code. 5 Bom. L.R. 601. T
- (b) The discretion conferred upon the Appellate Court to demand security for costs must be properly exercised, and such discretion is not so exercised, when the order requiring security is made without notice to the appellant to show cause why such order should not be made. 5 A. 380; see, also, U.B.R. 1892 1896, p. 279. U
- (2) It has been held that even a preliminary notice is not equivalent to a demand, and the order requiring security must be communicated to the appellant, before he can be held to have disobeyed it. 5 M. 265; see, also, 7 B L.R. Ap. 59. Y
- (3) As the High Court had a discretion to enlarge the time allowed for finding security and to accept other security in lieu of that rejected, or to refuse to do either, it had, under these circumstances, judicially exercised that discretion in refusing. 17 O. 1. W
- (4) An Appellate Court may extend the time within which it orders security to be furnished, but if no application is made for extension of time, and such security is not given within the time ordered, it must reject the appeal. 1 A. 687; see, also, 11 C. 716; 17 C. 512=17 I.A. 1; 11 M. 190. X
- (5) Where security was not furnished within the time fixed, and the Court, in the exercise of its discretion, refused to extend the time, the appeal was rightly rejected. 17 C. 516=L.R. 17 I.A. 9. Y
- (6) The High Court had discretion to demand security for costs from an appellant, if it saw fit to do so, at any time before the hearing of the appeal. 18 W.R. 431. Z
- (7) No hard-and-fast rule can be laid down to the effect that an appellant cannot be allowed further time to give security for costs, where the time already allowed to him, has expired. 21 B. 576. A
- (8) Where an appellant applied for extending the time for giving security for the costs of the appeal on the ground that on account of the exceptional state of things in Bombay caused by the prevalence of plague, she could not raise the required money, the application should be granted. (Ibid.) B
- (9) Courts are not bound to reject appeals under this rule merely because the security is not furnished within time, but time should not be extended without good cause shown. P.J.L.B. 556. C

Rejection of appeal—Application to have it restored.

- (1) The restoration of an appeal, which has been once rejected upon failure by the appellant to furnish security for costs, is within the Court's discretion, and such a restoration can be made upon the appellant's giving approved security within such time as the Court might fix. 13 I.A. 57=8 A. 315; 7 A. 542. But see 4 M.L.T. 416, infra. D
- (2) After the rejection of an appeal under this rule, the applicants may apply to have it restored on furnishing the required security. No special period of limitation having been prescribed for such an application, the article of the Limitation Act which applies is 178. U.B.R. 1908, II Quarter, Limitation, p. 5; U.B.R. (1892-1896), II, 272; 8 A. 315; 18 A. 101, R. E

- (3) As there is no provision in S. 549 of the Code corresponding to this rule, similar to that contained in S. 381=O. XXV, r. 2, of the present Code, permitting, an appellant whose appeal has been rejected under this rule, to apply for an order setting the dismissal aside, an application for restoration of the appeal does not lie. 4 M.L.T. 416; 30 A. 143, F.; 8 A. 315 cons. and D. F

3.—“Demand from the appellant security for the costs of the appeal, or of the original suit or of both.”

Cases where security can be demanded are.

- (1) Where the merits of the case appear to be in favour of the respondent. Bourke 119: Waddell v. Blockey (1878), 10 Q.D. 416. G
(2) Where the appellant is the assignee of an insolvent-debtor. 13 W.R. 431. H
(3) Where his conduct, in not paying the costs decreed against him in the first Court, is vexatious. 13 B. 458. I

Practice.

- (1) A Court can act only on the application of the respondent, but once the application has been filed, it may demand security and is bound to do so at any time before the hearing of the appeal, for the costs in either or both Courts. 18 W.R. 102, overruling; 8 W.R. 217. J
(2) Where security has not been given, a respondent must be careful to object when appearing to oppose the appeal, or else it may be urged that he has waived his right to object. 7 M.I.A. 431; 9 A. 164. K
(3) The application must be made promptly. 5 C.W.N. 119. L

Pauper appellant.

Where the appellant was, according to his own statement, a pauper, and there were others interested in the matter who were able to furnish the necessary security, security ought to be given. 18 W.R. 102. N

Security for costs—Liability of surety.

Where A.J. was required to furnish security for costs of the appeal, and a security-bond was tendered by him by which A.S. agreed to be liable as surety; on the dismissal of A.J.’s appeal with costs, the respondent to the appeal could file a suit against A.S., although his right to execute the decree against A.J. was barred by limitation. 136 P.R. 1892. 3.—“Demand from the appellant security for the costs of the appeal, or of the original suit or of both”—(Concluded).

Ground for taking security—Poverty of appellant.

- (1) The mere fact of the poverty of an appellant, without reference to the general facts of the case under appeal, is not a sufficient ground for demanding security for costs. 8 A. 203; 21 C. 526; see, also, S.C. 269; 3 M. 66; 14 C. 533. Q
- (2) An appellant, who has been ordered to pay the costs of the original hearing and has not done so, cannot be required to furnish costs before he is allowed to proceed with the appeal, unless his conduct indicates a wilful determination on his part to disobey the order of the Court. 13 B. 458. R
- (3) His not paying, if it be caused by his inability to pay, is not vexatious. (Ibid.). S

Surety for performance of decree—Surety for security for costs—Enforcement.

- (a) There is no distinction between the case of a surety, who, before the passing of a decree in an original suit, has become liable as such for the performance of the same, as well as, that of a surety who has given security for the costs of an appeal, both of whom might be proceeded against in execution under Ss. 253 and 549 of the old Code=S. 145 and this rule. 109 P.R. 1906 (F.B.)=1 P.L.R. (1907); 77 P.R. 1895, overruled; 22 C. 25, Diss; see, also, 4 L.B.R. 197; 16 C. 823; 8 C. 318. T

4.—“Provided that the Court shall demand such security in all cases in which the appellant is residing out of British India.”

Where A sued B, and was compelled to deposit security for costs, as he resided out of British territory, and got a decree and B appealed, it was held that B could not ask that A's deposit should be retained in Court to meet the costs of the appeal. 4 B.L.R. (O.C.), 92; 12 W.R. (F.B.) 16; 8 B.L.R. (F.B.) 45. Y

11. (1) The Appellate Court, after sending for the record if it thinks fit so to do, and after fixing a day for hearing the appellant or his pleader and hearing him accordingly if he appears on that day, may dismiss the appeal ¹ without sending notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred and without serving notice on the respondent or his pleader.

(2) If on the day fixed or any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned the appellant does not appear when the appeal is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the appeal be dismissed. ²

(3) The dismissal of an appeal under this rule shall be notified to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred.

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 551 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

- (1) The words "after sending for the records" in this rule are new.
- (2) The words "does not attendpleader" in the old section are substituted by the words "does not appear" in this rule.
- (3) The word "may" is substituted for the word "shall."
- (4) The word "preferred" is substituted for the word "made."

(General).(1) Principle.

The powers conferred by this rule should be very sparingly used by the first Appellate Court. 3 A.W.N. 221. W

(2) Application.

- (a) This rule applies to appeals which have been admitted. 13 A.W.N. 115 ; 15 A. 367. X
- (b) This rule does not apply to cases where once notice is issued to the respondent. A.W.N. (1906), 186. Y
- (c) When a point in dispute in a suit was whether a widow was competent to sell an absolute interest in her husband's property, the High Court held that the appeal should not be heard ex parte. 4 B. 462. Z

1.—“May dismiss the appeal.”(1) Notice must be given to the appellant.

When an appeal is heard under this rule, notice of the day of hearing must be given to the appellant, though the appellant may say that he does not intend appearing at the preliminary hearing. 7 P.R. 1888, Rev.; 19 P.R. 1892, Rev. A

(2) Decree must be drawn up.

Even though an appeal is heard under this rule, the Court is not relieved from the necessity of drawing up a decree. 7 P.R. 1888, Rev.; 9 P.R. 1900. B

(3) Judgment should be written.

The dismissal of an appeal under this rule, does not relieve the Court from the necessity of writing a judgment which should show the points raised, and the reasons for deciding them. 25 C. 97; 5 Bom. L.R. 283; 9 O. C. 32; 5 C.L.J. 348; 3 M.H.C. 1. C

(4) Grounds of rejection to be given.

The grounds of rejection under this rule must be recorded. 13 A.W.N. 115 ; 24 P.R. 1881 (Civil); 100 P.R. 1879 (Civil). D

(5) Remedy if grounds are not given.

When an Appellate Court confirms an appeal without sending notice to the respondent and without recording its reasons, the proper course for the second Appellate Court to do is to send back the case to the lower Court to get the reasons recorded. If the Judge is meantime transferred, the proper order to be made is to re-hear the appeal. 100 P.R. 1879 (Civil). E

1.—“May dismiss the appeal”—(Concluded).

(6) Application to set aside a decree, to whom to be made.

An application to set aside a decree passed under S. 551 of the old Act should be made to the Court which passed it. 8 P.R. 1903, Rev. F

(7) Amendment of decree passed under this rule.

The dismissal of an appeal, under this rule, leaves the lower Court's decree untouched, neither confirmed, nor varied, nor reversed, and the lower Court can amend it. 21 B 548; contra 24 C. 759; 22 M. 293; 4 C L.J. 566; 30 A. 319=5 A.L.J. 584=A.W.N. (1908), 109. G

(8) Reference to the High Court.

The proceeding under this rule is the trial of an appeal, and any question arising in the course of such trial can be referred to the High Court. 2 A. 319. H

(9) Decision when the record is lost.

The decision of an appeal in the absence of the record which had been lost is illegal. 1 A.W.N. 26. I

2.—“The Court may make....be dismissed.”

An Appellate Court has no power to dismiss an appeal by reason of appellant's default at a preliminary hearing, under S. 551 of the old Act. 189 P.R. 1879 (Civil); 76 P.R. 1892 (Civil); contra 4 P.R. 1892, Rev. J

12. (1) Unless the Appellate Court dismisses the appeal under rule 11, it shall fix a day for hearing the appeal.

Day for hearing appeal.

(2) Such day shall be fixed with reference to the current business of the Court, the place of residence of the respondent, and the time necessary for the service of the notice of appeal, so as to allow the respondent sufficient time to appear and answer the appeal on such day. ¹

Revenue Court.

A Revenue Court when hearing an appeal ought to give notice of hearing to the opposite party. 10 P.R. 1895, Rev. K

1.—“Such day shall....on such day.”

(1) Party should not be taken by surprise.

Care should be taken not only in fixing the original date for the hearing of a case but also in altering the date of hearing, so that none of the parties should be taken by surprise. 9 A.W.N. 20. L

(2) Remedy for not fixing a date.

When an appeal is heard without fixing a day, the case should be remanded for re-hearing. 9 P.R. 1890, Rev. M

13. (1) Where the appeal is not dismissed under rule 11, the Appellate Court shall send notice of the appeal to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred.

Appellate Court to give notice to Court whose decree appealed from.

(2) Where the appeal is from the decree of a Court, the records of which are not deposited in the Appellate Court, the Court receiving such notice shall send with all practicable despatch all material papers in the suit, or such papers as may be specially called for by the Appellate Court.

Transmission of papers to Appellate Court.

(3) Either party may apply in writing to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, specifying any of the papers in such Court of which he requires copies to be made; and copies of such papers shall be made at the expense of, and given to, the applicant.

Copies of exhibits in Court whose decree appealed from.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 550 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "where the appeal is not dismissed under rule 11" in the new rule are substituted for the words "when the memorandum of appeal is registered" in the old section.

14. (1) Notice of the day fixed under rule 12 shall be affixed in the Appellate Court-house, and a like notice shall be sent by the Appellate Court to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred,¹ and shall be served on the respondent² or on his pleader³ in the Appellate Court in the manner provided for the service on a defendant of a summons to appear and answer; and all the provisions applicable to such summons, and to proceedings with reference to the service thereof, shall apply to the service of such notice.

Publication and service of notice of day for hearing appeal.

(2) Instead of sending the notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, the Appellate Court may itself cause the notice to be served on the respondent or his pleader under the provisions above referred to.

Appellate Court may itself cause notice to be served.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 553 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“Shall be sent....preferred.”

When a notice of appeal is transmitted by the High Court to a Court below, with instructions to make a return within a specified time, the appellant is entitled to the whole of the time allowed. 11 W.R. 138. N

2.—“Shall be served on the respondent.”(1) Affixing of notice not enough.

Where the party serving a notice of appeal finds the respondent absent from home, and is told where he is, and yet affixes the notice to the door of his house, such service is void and of no effect. 20 W.R. 62. O

(2) Respondent residing out of British India.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 556 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (2) the word "appear" is used for "attend," and the words "in his absence" after the word "ex parte" in the old Code are now omitted.

(General).

Applicability of rule.

- (a) The provisions of this rule and rule 19 apply to the hearing of appeals in which a date has been fixed under r. 12 of this order, and notice has been issued to the respondent, and not to cases where the hearing has been fixed under r. 11. 76 P.R. 1882. T
- (b) An adjournment of an appeal under this rule for hearing parties is different from an adjournment to pronounce judgment under rule 30; consequently, where an appeal is adjourned to pronounce judgment under rule 30, it cannot be dismissed for default. 7 C.P.L.R. 1. U
- (c) This rule does not apply to a case in which it is not shown distinctly that the appellant had any notice that his appeal would be heard on the day on which the Judge disposed of it. 5 W.R. Mts. 22. Y

Limitation Act, Sch. II, Art. 168—Applicability of.

The limitation of 30 days prescribed by Art. 168 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act is applicable to appeals dismissed under this rule and not to appeals dismissed under r. 11. 76 P.R. 1882. W

1.—"The appellant does not appear."

A.—Cases where pleader appears.

(1) To request adjournment.

- (a) An application by a counsel or pleader who is instructed only to apply for an adjournment which is refused, is not an appearance within the meaning of O. III, r. 1, of the Code; and if an appeal is dismissed under such circumstances, the dismissal is one for default and the appellant will be entitled to apply for re-admission under rule 19. 34 C. 403 = 11 C.W.N. 329 = 5 C.L.J. 247 = 2 M.L.T. 123; see, also, 8 C.W.N. 621; see contra 27 C. 529 = 4 C.W.N. 237, overruled; 16 B. 23; 26 M. 267; 20 A. 294. X
- (b) Where the pleader of an appellant applies for adjournment of the appeal on the ground of his unpreparedness and the Judge refuses the adjournment, he ought not to have dismissed it for default but ought to have proceeded with the hearing and passed such decree as he deemed just. 16 B. 23; see, also, 26 M. 267; 20 A. 294. Y

1.—“The appellant does not appear”—(Continued).

A.—Cases where pleader appears—(Concluded).

(2) Is not prepared to go on.

(a) Where, when an appeal is called on, the appellant's pleader who is present, is not prepared to go on with the case, the dismissal of the appeal is a dismissal for default. 12 C. 605; see, also, 15 W.R. 143; see contra 16 B. 23; 20 A. 294; 26 M. 267. Z

(b) Where on an appeal being called on for hearing, the appellant's Vakil stated that he was unable to argue as the brief had come to him too late and the appeal was dismissed, the dismissal is not one for default of appearance. 18 A.W.N. 35; see 16 B. 23; see contra 12 C. 605. A

(3) Appearance of pleader without instructions.

If a pleader appears for the appellant but says that he has no instructions, the appeal may, in that case, be dismissed for default. 16 B. 23. B

B.—Cases where pleader does not appear.

(1) Absence of Vakil.

(a) The fact that a Vakil is unable to appear through illness is no reason for postponing the hearing of an appeal, and the Court has power to treat such a case as in default. 7 A.W.N. 282. C

(b) Where, upon the day fixed for the hearing of an appeal, the appellant's pleaders were not present and the appellant who was present declined to support the appeal, the appeal was properly dismissed for default of prosecution. 16 A.W.N. 92. D

(2) Absence of some of the pleaders.

Where the appellant and two pleaders on his behalf were present, but during the argument one of the pleaders was called away to another Court and remained absent, and neither the other pleader nor the appellant was in a position to continue the argument, the dismissal of the appeal for default of prosecution is illegal and materially irregular. 18 A. 119=16 A.W.N. 9. E

C.—Absence of appellant.

(1) In the Appellate Court.

(a) When an Appellate Court in a case in which the appellant made no appearance whatever, instead of dismissing the appeal for default, proceeded to hear it upon the merits and dismissed the appeal, the dismissal must nevertheless be regarded as a dismissal for default under rule 17, and no appeal would lie therefrom. 15 A.W.N. 140; see 14 A. 361; 15 A. 359; 3 A. 519; 8 A. 277; 20 W.R. 425; 4 A.W.N. 167. F

(b) Where the Appellate Court, instead of dismissing an appeal for default of appearance, dismissed the appeal on the merits in spite of the appellant's absence, the only course open to the appellant was to have applied under r. 19 for re-admission of appeal; and under the circumstances a regular second appeal against the appellate decree will not lie. 3 A. 519. G

(c) No revision to the High Court lies from an order dismissing an appeal on merits in the absence of the appellant instead of dismissing for default. 4 A.W.N. 167; see 8 A. 277=6 A.W.N. 95; 9 A.W.N. 125; 1 A.W.N. 17. H

1.—“The appellant does not appear”—(Concluded).

C.—Absence of appellant—(Concluded).

- (d) Where the Court, after hearing the arguments in an appeal on a particular date, appointed an Amin to prepare a plan of the disputed land, and adjourned the case to consider the report, and the appellant did not appear on the adjourned date, the appeal should not have been dismissed for default but decided on the merits. 8 O.C. 261; see also, 18 A. 119. I

(2) In the lower Court after remand.

- (a) When a case is remanded for re-decision, the parties should apply to the Court to which the case is remanded to fix a date for further hearing or to ascertain from the Court what date is fixed. If the parties are not present on the date to which the hearing is postponed, the Court is bound, under this rule, to dismiss the appeal. It cannot decide the appeal in the absence of parties. 2 C.P.L.R. 32. J
- (b) This rule does not apply where the Appellate Court remands the suit to the first Court for trial of certain issues and the appellant fails to appear before the first Court after the remand. The Appellate Court should not dismiss the appeal for such default but should decide it on the merits. 8 C.P.L.R. 69. K

2.—“The appeal be dismissed.”

Appeal.

- (a) Where an appeal is dismissed under this rule for the appellant's default, the order dismissing it is not a “decree” and therefore not appealable. 2 A. 616; see, also, 17 W.R. 180; 3 A. 519; 3 A. 382; 15 A. 359; 10 C.P.L.R. 32; 23 C. 115; 27 P.R. 1833. - (d) No appeal will lie under S. 10 of the Letters Patent from the order of a single Judge of the High Court dismissing an appeal for default. 15 A. 359. O
- (e) When an appeal is dismissed for default and an application for re-admission is also dismissed, no second appeal will lie in the case, the proper procedure being to prefer an appeal from the order refusing to re-admit the appeal. 23 T.L.R. 80; see, also, 30 C. 660; 26 M. 599. P

3.—“The appeal shall be heard ex parte.”Power of Court to raise points in favour of ex-parte respondent.

An Appellate Court, hearing an appeal ex parte in the absence of respondent, cannot, suo motu, raise points in favour of the respondent, but must confine its decision to the questions raised by the appellant. 1 A. 545. Q

18. Where on the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, it is found that the notice to the respondent has not been served in consequence of the failure of the appellant to deposit, within the period fixed, the sum required to defray the cost of serving the notice,¹ the Court may make an order that the appeal be dismissed ;

Dismissal of appeal where notice not served in consequence of appellant's failure to deposit costs.

Provided that no such order shall be made although the notice has not been served upon the respondent, if on any such day the respondent appears when the appeal is called on for hearing.

This rule corresponds to S. 557 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

Instead of "if on any such day..hearing" in the new Act, the old Act had "if, on the day fixed for hearing the appeal, the respondent appears in person or by a pleader or by a duly authorised agent."

1.—"Failure of the appellant....notice."

Failure to deposit fees for process.

It is wrong for a Judge to dismiss an appeal before the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal and before ascertaining whether the notice to the respondents could or could not have been served by the date fixed for the hearing, on the simple ground of the appellants' failure to deposit the necessary fees for issue of notices within the time fixed by the Court. 35 C. 535. R

19. Where an appeal is dismissed under rule 11, sub-rule (2), or rule 17 or rule 18, the appellant may apply¹ to the Appellate Court for the re-admission of the appeal; and, where it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause² from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing or from depositing the sum so required, the Court shall re-admit the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

Re-admission of appeal dismissed for default.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 558 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

Instead of "may re-admit" in the old Act, the new Act has "shall re-admit." Thus while re-admission of an appeal was left to the discretion of the Court by the old Act, under the new Act it is obligatory provided the conditions mentioned in the rule are satisfied.

(General).

Applicability of rule.

The provisions of this rule and rule 19 apply to the hearing of appeals in which a date has been fixed under rule 12 of this order, and notice has been issued to the respondent, and not to cases where the hearing has been fixed under rule 11. 76 P.R. 1882. S

Limitation.

- (a) Where the application for re-admission of appeal dismissed for default by the Judicial Assistant was made after 30 days from the date of the order dismissing the appeal, the defendant was entitled to contend in the Chief Court that all the proceedings of the Judicial Assistant upon the application for re-admission must be set aside as invalid, as the order of dismissal became final at the end of 30 days from the date thereof. 44 P.R. 1882. T
- (b) The limitation of 30 days prescribed by Art. 168 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), which is applicable to appeals dismissed under rule 17, is not applicable to a petition by an appellant whose appeal has been dismissed in consequence of his absence on the date fixed for hearing him under S. 551 of the old Code. 76 P.R. 1882. U

Appeal.

- (a) A special appeal lies from an order passed under S. 347 (Act VIII of 1859) corresponding to this rule rejecting an application for the re-hearing of an appeal dismissed for default. 2 W.R. 254; see, also, 2 W.R. 23; 5 W.R. 27; 3 W.R. 4, 23; 8 W.R. 36; see contra 10 W.R. 39. Y
- (b) An order under this rule re-admitting an appeal is not appealable. 24 A. 464=1902 A.W.N. 136. W
- (c) An order re-admitting an appeal is not an "order affecting the decision of the case," which "may be set forth as a ground of objection in the memorandum of appeal" from the decree in the suit, within the meaning of S. 105 of the Code. 24 A. 464=1902 A.W.N. 136; see, also, 22 C. 981. X
- (d) During the argument of an appeal one of the appellant's pleaders was called away to another Court, and neither the appellant nor his other pleader was able to continue the argument. The Judge thereupon dismissed the appeal for default and an application for re-admission was rejected. In appeal against the order refusing re-admission under O. XLIII, r. 1, held, that no such appeal lay as the order in question could not have been made under r. 17, and the appellant was thereupon allowed to apply in revision, under S. 622 of the old Code (=S. 115 of this Code) against the original order of dismissal for default. 18 A. 119=16 A.W.N. 9. Y

1.—"The appellant may apply."

- (a) Where there were two appellants and the appeal was dismissed owing to the absence of both and only one of the two applied for re-admission of appeal and showed cause for his non-appearance alone, held, the term "appellant" in this rule and rule 17 includes a sole appellant or a group of appellants, or one or more members of a group of appellants. 42 P.R. 1894; see contra 33 P.R. 1888. Z
- (b) Where one of the appellants died pending appeal and the appeal was dismissed for default of appearance, no steps having been taken meanwhile to bring on the record the representatives of the deceased appellant, there could be no objection to the surviving appellants applying for restoration of the appeal. 21 A.W.N. 192. A & B

2.—“Where it is proved . . . sufficient cause.”

Evidence to support application for re-admission.

When an application is made to restore an appeal which has been dismissed for default of appearance, the applicant must produce all his evidence in support of the application before the Court to which it is made. If he does not do so and the application is dismissed, he cannot be allowed to supplement such evidence in a Court of Appeal on appeal from the order dismissing his application. 20 A. 266=18 A.W.N. 34 ; see, also, A.W.N. (1890) 166. C

Court regarding re-admission.

When appearance was prevented by sufficient cause, the Court has no discretion and must restore the case to file whatever may, prima facie, be the merits of the case; but, where there may be other just and reasonable cause for restoring a case to file, the merits of the applicant's case will form a very important element in the exercise by the Court of its discretion. It is competent to, but not obligatory upon, the Court to restore the case to file when no sufficient cause for non-appearance is shown. 26 M. 599. D

Sufficient cause.

- (a) Where an appeal was dismissed for default and the appellant applied for its re-admission on the ground that, of his pleaders, one was present, another was absent on sick leave, and a third and a fourth had, owing to holidays, gone home after obtaining permission, the Appellate Court was wrong in dismissing that application without due consideration and inquiry into the circumstances alleged. 1 A.W.N. 22. E
- (b) Where an appeal was dismissed for default and the appellant applied to have the appeal re-opened on the ground that his advocate wrote to him that the date of hearing was the 15th January instead of 15th December, a fair opportunity must be given to the appellant to prove that he had sufficient cause for his non-appearance, and if sufficient cause is made out, the appellant will be entitled to have the appeal re-opened. U. B.R. (1907), 3rd quarter, Limitation 1. F
- (c) When a Judge dismissed an appeal for default at 11-30 A. M. and himself left the Court at 12-30 P.M., while the appellant was preparing an application for restoration, this was a sufficient cause for re-admitting the appeal. 69 P.W.R. 1907. G
- (d) Where an appeal was transferred from one Court to another but no notice of the transfer was given by the pleaders to the parties, and the party was absent owing to his ignorance of the transfer, the appeal ought to be re-admitted. 8 C.L.R. 350. H
- (e) An order was made before the recess adjourning an appeal to the 22nd June to fix the date of hearing and on that date the appeal was posted to the 1st of July. The appellant was not present in person or by pleader on the latter date and the appeal was dismissed for default. Held, the appellant was not prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing. 31 M. 157=3 M.L.T. 336. I
- (f) Although under S. 551 of the old Code a day and not a particular hour is to be fixed for the hearing, yet when the appeal is dismissed for default, this rule requires the appellant to show cause for non-attendance at the time when the appeal was called on for hearing. Non-attendance of both pleader and client was in this case held to be wilful. 71 P.R. 1890. J

(g) Where an appeal is dismissed for default owing to the absence of all three appellants, and subsequently one of the three applies to have it revived on the ground of his absence being due to illness, this is not a sufficient cause for re-admitting the appeal. 33 P.R. 1888. K

(h) When an appellant, after repeated warnings from his advocate, neglects to pay the fees agreed to be paid to such advocate and his appeal is dismissed for default, the High Court will not entertain an application for restoration of the appeal. 18 A.W.N. 155. L

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 559 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).

Object of the rule.

This rule is intended to protect parties to the suit who had not been made respondents in the appeal from being prejudiced by modification made behind their backs in the decree under appeal. 18 M.L.J. 452=4 M.L.T. 104. M

1.—“Any person . . . is preferred.”

Respondent in second appeal.

(a) No decree can be passed in second appeal against a respondent against whom there was no first appeal. 12 C.W.N. 625. N

(b) A Court cannot, in second appeal, add a party as a respondent unless such party was a party to the appeal below, even though he was a party to the suit in the original Court. 16 A. 5=13 A.W.N. 141; see contra 19 M. 151=5 M.L.J. 279. O

(c) The Court of second appeal is competent to make a person a respondent to the second appeal, if he was a party in the Court of first instance and if the Court of first appeal could have made him a respondent to the first appeal, though he was not in fact so made. 6 O.C. 159. P

Who can be added as a respondent.

An Appellate Court is competent to make a person a respondent who, in the original suit, was arrayed on the same side with the appellant. 13 A. 78=11 A.W.N. 1. Q

Who cannot be added as a respondent.

A creditor of a decree-holder, who had attached the decree pending an appeal against it, was not entitled to be made a party respondent to the appeal 20 A. 38. R

2.—“Interested in the result of appeal.”

Interested parties.

- (a) The party whom it is sought to bring on record, must be shown to be interested in the result of the appeal before he is brought on, for once he is brought, he may be said to acquire an interest as a result of being brought on. 18 M.L.J. 452=4 M.L.T. 104. S
- (b) Where, in a suit for possession, the original Court decreed the plaintiff's suit in part against the defendants and some of the defendants appealed without making the other defendants party-respondents, the non-appealing defendants were held to be persons “interested in the result of the appeal” and rightly made parties. 26 C. 114. T
- (c) Where the first defendant preferred an appeal against a decree in favour of the plaintiff making him sole respondent, it was competent to the Appellate Court to make defendants 2 to 4 also respondents after the expiry of the appeal time as they were strongly interested in the result of the appeal. 15 M. 362=2 M.L.J. 17. U
- (d) When a defendant has been exonerated and there is no appeal against so much of the decree as exonerates him, no decree can be passed against him in an appeal by any other party, and he cannot be said to be interested in the result of the appeal unless the decree in the appeal would have the effect of prejudicing him. 18 M.L.J. 452=4 M.L.T. 104. V
- (e) Where plaintiff claims relief against one or the other of two sets of defendants in the alternative, and a decree is passed against one set of defendants, in an appeal against that decree, the Appellate Court may pass a decree in favour of the plaintiff and shift the obligation to the other set of defendants after joining them as respondents if they are not so already. 3 Bom. L. R. 172. W
- (f) Where a decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff against one of three defendants and the other two were exempted, in an appeal by the defendant against whom the decree was passed, against the plaintiff alone; held, inasmuch as this rule does not empower an Appellate Court virtually to make an appeal for a person who has not chosen to exercise that privilege by adding as respondents persons not so included in the petition of appeal, and it could not be said that the other two defendants, who were exempted by the original Court, were “interested in the result of the appeal,” that they should not have been made respondents and decree passed against them. 5 A. 266; see, also, 3 A.W.N. 24; see contra 25 C. 565=2 C.W.N. 425; 26 C. 109=3 C.W. N. 76. X
- (g) A decree having been made against a wrong party, it is not competent for the Appellate Court, in an appeal by that party against the decree-holder alone, to bring on record those persons against whom the Court of first instance should have made the decree and pass a decree against him. 18 M.L.J. 452=4 M.L.T. 104; see, also, 5 A. 267; see contra 25 C. 565 (568); 26 C. 109; 31 C. 643. Y
- (h) Where four persons sued for recovery of moneys and a decree was passed in favour of only one, in an appeal by the defendant, the other plaintiffs who applied to be made respondents under this rule were held to be “not interested in the result of the appeal,” as their claim had been disallowed and they had not appealed and could not be granted a decree on appeal against a decree in favour of a co-plaintiff, nor could any change be made in the order of dismissal passed against them. 23 P.R. 1901=17 P.L.R. 1901; see, however, 25 C. 565; 26 C. 109; 46 P.R. 1892. Z

Decree against co-respondent—No separate appeal.

A respondent cannot get a decree against a co-respondent when he has submitted to the decree of the Court of first instance and has not filed an appeal separately. 30 A. 48=4 A.L.J. 772=A.W.N. (1908) 4=3 M.L.T. 176; see, also, 27 A. 23; see contra 31 C. 643. A

Appellate Court, power of.

- (a) It is optional with the Appellate Court to take action under this rule. 26 P.R. 1881. B
- (b) Where the plaintiff-appellant impleaded only eleven defendants as respondents in an appeal for possession of a gorah land without impleading the whole proprietary body as respondents, two courses were open to the Appellate Court:—
 - (1) to decide the appeal as between the parties before it, leaving with the plaintiff-appellant the risk of not having brought the other defendants before the Court, or.
 - (2) to have used the power given it by this rule if the Court considered it necessary, and to have directed the addition of the other defendants as respondents. The dismissal of the appeal for not impleading was not justifiable. 5 P.R. 1892. C

Addition of parties—Limitation.

- (a) An Appellate Court has a discretionary power to substitute or add a new appellant or respondent after the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal. 2 A. 107. D
- (b) It is competent to a Court to add a person as respondent, though the time within which an appeal might have been preferred against him has expired. 14 A. 154=12 A.W.N. 13; see, also, 13 A. 78=11 A.W.N. 1; 9 C. 355=11 C.L.R. 480. E
- (c) There is nothing in the Limitation Act to control the powers of the Court under this rule regarding adding as respondents persons not so added when the appeal was presented; and it makes no difference whether the appellant applies to bring them on record or the Court considers it necessary for the ends of justice. 33 C. 329; But see 12 C.W.N. 625. F
- (d) A respondent should not be placed on record after the time for appealing against him has expired. 12 C.W.N. 625. G
- (e) If fresh parties are merely joined for the purpose of safeguarding the right subsisting as between them and others claiming generally in the same interest, the determination, under S. 22 of the Limitation Act, of the date of the institution of the suit as regards such freshly joined parties, does not ordinarily affect the right of the original plaintiff to continue the suit and would not therefore attract the application of the general provisions of the Limitation Act. 26 A. 528=1904 A.W.N. 119=1 A.L.J. 543. H

3.—“The Court may . . . made a respondent”—(Concluded).

- (f) When, during the pendency of a suit, the plaintiff died and his two sons were added as respondents in the first Appellate Court, but on second appeal only one son was first added as respondent, and, after the expiry of the period of limitation, the other son was sought to be brought on record, the order of the Court on that application as prayed for subject to any objection at the hearing on the point of limitation is not an order under this rule, and, the second son being a necessary party, the appeal was dismissed. 13 A.W.N. 35. I

21. Where an appeal is heard ex parte and judgment is pronounced against the respondent, he may apply to the Appellate Court to re-hear the appeal; and, if he satisfies the Court that the notice was not duly served or that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing ¹ when the appeal was called on for hearing the Court shall re-hear the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise ² as it thinks fit to impose upon him.

Re-hearing on application of respondent against whom ex parte decree made.

(Notes).

~ Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 560 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

Instead of “may re-hear” in the old Act, this rule has “shall re-hear”; thus making it obligatory on the Court to re-hear the appeal if the provisions of the rule are complied with.

(General).

Bengal Act X of 1859—Applicability of rule.

Order under O. IX, r. 13—Compared.

The power to pass an order under O. IX, r. 13, is distinct from the power to set aside an ex parte appellate decree under this rule, which only enables the Court to direct the appeal from the original decree to be re-heard, thus temporarily restoring the original decree. 17 M.L.J 436. K

Limitation.

- (a) An application for re-hearing of an appeal presented within the period of limitation but returned for amendment and represented after the period, cannot be rejected as being out of time. 5 C.W.N. 816. L
- (b) The stringent provisions of Art. 164, Sch. II of the Limitation Act, must be strictly construed and before they can be applied to an application to set aside an ex parte appellate decree, it must be clearly found that there was a proper and valid attachment of the applicant's land. 5 P.R. 1897; see, also, 32 P.R. 1878. Where an appeal was heard ex parte in the absence of the respondent and judgment given against him and his application to re-hear the appeal, was also rejected, he was not debarred, by reason that he had not appealed from the order refusing to re-hear the appeal, from appealing from the decree of the Appellate Court. 2 A. 567. 1.—“If he satisfies . . . appearing.”Application to re-hear—Points to be proved by applicant.

An applicant presenting a petition for re-hearing an appeal must prove that the notice of appeal was not duly served on him or that he was prevented by sufficient cause from attending when the appeal was called on for hearing. 6 C. 548. P

Sufficient cause.

- (a) This rule applies to a case in which the respondent has been prevented by sufficient cause from attending when the appeal was called on, whether appearance has been entered for him or not. 11 C.L.R. 164. Q
- (b) Where the respondent's pleaders had filed Vakalatnamahs but were unavoidably prevented from appearing, an order under this rule for re-hearing the appeal was correct, as the respondent could not be said to have appeared in person or by pleader. 11 C.L.R. 537; see, also, 7 W.R. 81. R
- (c) Where a respondent had received no intimation of the date of hearing from his pleader's clerk who, owing to his own illness, had been compelled to go home, the papers of the case being with him, and the appeal was heard ex parte, this was “sufficient cause” under this rule for the re-hearing of the appeal. 2 C.W.N. 414. S
- (d) The fact that the party's pleader refused to receive notice of the appeal and did not give information to the party of the date of hearing is no sufficient cause. (1905) A.W.N. 44. T

2.—“On such terms as to costs or otherwise.”“Otherwise,” meaning of.

The words “or otherwise” would authorise the Court to impose terms other than those relating to costs and would cover an order as to furnishing security for the due performance of the decree. 70 P.R. 1885. U

22. (1) Any respondent¹ though he may not have appealed from any part of the decree, may not only support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him² in the Court below, but take any cross-objection to the decree which he could have taken by way of appeal³ provided he has filed such objection in the Appellate

Court within one month from the date of service on him or his pleader of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal, or within such further time as the Appellate Court may see fit to allow. ⁴

(2) Such cross-objection shall be in the form of a memorandum, and the provisions of rule 1, so far as they relate to the form and contents of the memorandum of appeal, shall apply thereto.

(3) Unless the respondent files with the objection a written acknowledgment from the party who may be affected by such objection or his pleader of having received a copy thereof, the Appellate Court shall cause a copy to be served, as soon as may be after the filing of the objection, on such party or his pleader at the expense of the respondent.

(4) Where, in any case in which any respondent has under this rule filed a memorandum of objection, the original appeal is withdrawn or is dismissed for default, the objection so filed may nevertheless be heard and determined⁵ after such notice to the other parties as the Court thinks fit.

(5) The provisions relating to pauper appeals shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply to an objection under this rule.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 561 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old Act and the new Act.

- (1) The words "upon the hearing" after the word "may" and before the words "not only" in sub-rule (1) are omitted in the new Act.
- (2) The word "cross-objection" is used in the new Act instead of "objection" in the old Act.
- (3) Instead of the word "appellant" in the old Act, the phrase "the party who may be affected by such objection" is used in sub-rule (3) of this rule; thus rendering the scope of the rule a little wider.
- (4) Sub-rule (4) is new.

2.—"Support the decree....against him."

Supporting a decree and objecting to a decree—Distinction between.

This rule draws a clear distinction between a respondent supporting a decree upon grounds decided against him in the Court below, and his taking an objection to the decree, which he might have taken by way of appeal. In the former case, the respondent may support the decree in the manner indicated at the hearing, although he may not have filed any written notice of his intention to do so. But where the respondent means to object to the decree itself, notice of such an objection in the form of a memorandum shall be filed within the prescribed period. 127 P.R. 1888. Q

Supporting a decree—Objection going to root of decree.

The first and second paragraphs of sub-rule (1) are not on the same footing and a decree cannot be supported by an objection going to the root of that decree, e.g., an objection that the plaintiff had no locus standi, in a suit by a reversioner to set aside a sale by a widow where the sale was held to be for necessary purposes and the plaintiff had appealed against the decree. 25 P.R. 1897. R

2.—“Support the decree....against him”—(Concluded).

Objection, when necessary.

If a respondent desires to have a decree in his favour modified still more in his favour, he is bound to file objections, but if he accepts the decree it is open to him, without filing objections, to challenge the finding of the Court below on any point decided against him. 18 A.W.N. 109. S

Objection as to res judicata—Necessity for notice.

Where the defendant's objection that the plaintiff's suit was barred as a res judicata was overruled in the Court below, in an appeal by the plaintiff against the lower Court's decree which went against him on other grounds, held that the defendants respondents could raise the same objection in appeal without giving any notice under this rule as the defendants were not objecting to the decree which was in their favour, but desired to support the decree on a ground decided against them in the Court below. 59 P.R. 1886. T

Support the decree on any of the grounds decided against respondent.

- (a) It is not necessary to entitle a respondent to support a decree upon a particular ground that the ground should have been in express terms decided against him. 9 C.W.N. 14. U
- (b) Where the plaintiff sued defendants for compensation for the wrongful taking of fruit on a tree belonging to him and, on the defendants contending that the fruit was not removed though the tree belonged to them, the suit was dismissed on the ground that the fruit was not removed, but the Court also incidentally found that the tree belonged to the plaintiff, in an appeal by the plaintiff against the decree, held, inasmuch as the Court of first instance did not, in deciding that the tree belonged to the plaintiff, decide a question substantially in issue, it did not decide in this matter “against the defendants,” within the meaning of this rule, and as the decree was limited to dismissing the suit, the defendants as respondents were not qualified to take an objection which they could not have taken by way of appeal. 4 A. 491=2 A.W.N. 124; see contra 1 A.W.N. 88. Y
- (c) This rule in no way prevents an Appellate Court from upholding the decree of the lower Court on any ground which in law warrants such upholding, even though that ground may not have been referred to or disallowed in the lower Court. 28 M. 427 (455). W

3.—“Take any cross-objections....appeal.”

A.—Cross-objection.

Appeal as to costs—Objection as to merits.

Where the Court of first instance found for the defendants on the merits, but did not award them costs and they appealed against that part of the decree which related to costs, the plaintiff was entitled in such appeal to take objections to the decree on the merits. 8 B. 368. X

Objection in second appeal.

- (a) The ground taken in an objection under this rule in second appeal must comply with the provisions of S. 100 of the Code; and where the objection did not allege that the decision was contrary to any specified law or usage having the force of law, it was held that the provisions of that section were not complied with. 7 O.C. 49. Y

3.—“Take any cross-objections...appeal—”(Continued).

A.—Cross-objection—(Continued).

- (b) A respondent to a second appeal should not be allowed to set up a cause involving findings of fact not raised in either of the lower Courts. 18 A.W.N. 107. Z

Cross-objections and independent appeal.

- (a) A respondent can only take such objections as have reference to the party appealing. If he wishes to raise objections against parties who do not appeal, he must do so by independent appeal. 6 Bom. H.C.R. 244. A
- (b) The proper mode of proceeding to raise a question between the plaintiff and a defendant who are co-respondents in an appeal by another defendant, is by a separate appeal by the plaintiff against the non-appealing defendant. 7 P.R. 1887. B
- (c) Where both parties appealed against the decision of the Court of first instance, and the Appellate Court dismissed the appeal of the defendant and partially allowed the appeal of the plaintiff, in an appeal by the defendant against the lower appellate decree dismissing his (defendant's) appeal, the plaintiff was not competent to take objections regarding the portion of the appellate decree in his (plaintiff's) appeal which went against him. The plaintiff could be allowed to object only to the decree against which the appellant was appealing, and if he wanted to appeal against the order of the District Judge passed on his appeal he should have filed a separate appeal. 10 O.C. 214. C

Right to file objections.

- (a) As a general rule, the right of a respondent to urge cross-objections should be limited to his urging them against the appellant, and it is only by way of exception to this general rule that one respondent may urge a cross-objection against another respondent, e.g., where the appeal of some of the parties opens out questions which cannot be disposed of completely without matters being allowed to be opened up as between co-respondents. 26 C. 114; see, also, 30 C. 655; 25 C. 565; 15 W.R. 26; see, also, 5 W.R. 49; 7 W.R. 39; 9 W.E. 78; 11 W.R. 435; contra 78; 11 W.R. (1864), 3; all decisions under S. 348 of Act VIII of 1859 corresponding to this rule. D
- (b) Where, in a suit for specific performance, the Court refused to pass a decree for specific performance but awarded damages for the breach and the defendant appealed against such decree, the plaintiff is entitled to file cross-objections. 31 P.R. 1897. E
- (c) If a decree be passed partly in favour of and partly against plaintiff and one of the defendants alone appeals making the other defendant a co-respondent, there is no reason why the plaintiff should be allowed, at the hearing, to raise objections to his suit having been dismissed against that other defendant. 10 W. R. 326; see, also, 15 W. R. 26. F
- (d) Where both parties appealed from the decree of the Court of first instance and both the appeals were dismissed by the Lower Appellate Court, on second appeal by one party against the decree dismissing his appeal, the other party is not entitled to prefer objections to the decree of the lower Appellate Court dismissing such other party's appeal. 2 A. 651. G

A.—Cross-objection—(Continued).

- (e) A memorandum of objections may be filed against a co-respondent though the question arises as between co-respondents only. 28 M. 229=15 M.L.J. 212. H
- (f) A memorandum of objections will not lie against a person who did not appeal. 23 A. 93. But see 28 A. 95, infra. I

Scope of objections.

- (a) The objections allowed by this rule are limited to the person who has appealed against him, and the respondent's rights are not enlarged by the new addition to the list of persons who should not have been put on the list at all. 23 A. 93 = 20 A. W. N. 212. J
- (b) Where necessary the Appellate Court may take into consideration objections filed by one respondent against co-respondents and modify the decree as against them accordingly. 28 A. 95=1905 A. W. N. 200 = 2 A.L.J. 667; see, also, 26 C. 114. But see 23 A. 93. K
- (c) A brought a suit against B, C and D. The suit was dismissed. On appeal, the Appellate Court gave him a decree against C and D but dismissed the suit as against B. C and D appealed and A preferred objections. As B was no party to the appeal, the objections against him could not be entertained. 6 A.W.N. 88. L
- (d) The memorandum of objection referred to in this rule has no reference to questions decided between co-respondents; it only extends to the contention between the Respondent and the Appellant who has forced him into Court. 9 C.P.L.R. 62; see, also, 14 C.P.L.R. 46. M

Objections how entertainable.

- (a) Where the plaintiff obtained a decree for sale of certain mortgaged property subject to the rights of prior mortgagees who were made co-defendants, in an appeal by the mortgagors regarding costs, cross-objections filed by the plaintiff against the prior mortgagees urging that the property should be sold free of any lien, ought not to be entertained. 14 C.P.L.R. 46. N
- (b) When an objection as between co-respondents is taken within the period of limitation for an appeal by the objector against the co-respondent, and is otherwise not open to exception, the defect is only one of form, and might be overlooked, the objection being treated as an appeal. But when the objection is taken after the period of limitation it cannot be entertained as an appeal until the delay has been satisfactorily accounted for. 7 P.R. 1887. O
- (c) If a decree is, upon the face of it, entirely in favour of a party to the suit, that party has no right of appeal therefrom; and, if, in the judgment of which such decree is the formal expression, findings have been recorded upon some issues against that party and that party wants to file objections thereto under this rule, he must take steps under S. 152 to bring the decree into conformity with the judgment. 7 A. 606. P
- (d) The expression “objection to the decree” refers not only to matters existing upon the face of the decree but also to those which should have existed but do not exist there, e.g., where a distinct issue was raised

between the parties about the validity of a deed in favour of the defendant and the Judge finding the deed to be invalid dismissed the plaintiff's suit on other grounds though the decree did not make any mention of the finding, the defendant was still entitled to file objections. Per Mahmood, J. (dissenting). 7 A. 606. Q

Court's powers when there are no objections.

- (a) There is no rule of procedure which would justify an Appellate Court, on the appeal of one defendant, in decreeing in favour of a plaintiff-respondent against another respondent who was also a defendant in the first Court, in the absence of any appeal or cross-objection by the plaintiff in the Appellate Court. 46 P.R. 1892. R
- (b) When a plaintiff appealed in respect of the portion of the claim which had been disallowed and the defendants did not object to the portion of the claim decreed to plaintiff, the Court had no jurisdiction to consider the propriety of the decree so far as it was in plaintiff's favour. 19 A.W.N. 125. S
- (c) Where no objection was urged by the respondent (plaintiff) it is not competent to the Appellate Court to alter the decree in his favour, e.g., by giving him a larger sum than that awarded by the first Court. 2 N.W.P. 44; see, also, 15 W.R. 227; 34 C. 996; see contra 3 A. 643. T
- (d) In a suit for arrears of rent at Rs. 212-1-0 per annum, the lower Appellate Court gave a decree for plaintiff at Rs. 128-12-0 per annum. The defendant appealed. The plaintiff neither appealed nor filed objections. The High Court remanded the case for a fresh finding as to the rate of rent, and on receipt of a finding from the lower Appellate Court that the plaintiff was entitled to Rs. 212-1-0 per annum, held that such second finding of the lower Appellate Court should be accepted, and the amount awarded by its decree enlarged in spite of the plaintiff's failure to appeal or file objections. 3 A. 643. U
- (e) Judgment was given in favour of the defendant by the first Court, but one of the issues was found against him and, on appeal, that issue was also decided in his favour. In second appeal, it was contended that the defendant having given no notice of objection under this rule the Court could not consider that issue. Held, this rule does not apply to the case of a respondent in whose favour the whole decree is passed. He can support that decree by any contention with which he could have contested the case in the Court of first instance unless he has waived any particular point. 7 A.W.N. 44. Y

Memo. of objections, whether necessary.

- (a) Where plaintiff sued for possession of a house purchased bonam by him in the name of defendants or for the purchase-money paid by him therefor, and the Munsiff gave a decree for possession, it was competent for the Appellate Court to cancel the decree for possession and pass a decree for the purchase-money in favour of the plaintiff, even though plaintiff did not put in any memo. of objections, such a memo. being unnecessary. 4 M.L.T. 266. W

3.—“Take any cross-objections....appeal”—(Concluded).

A.—Cross-objection—(Concluded).

- (b) Where the Court of first instance passed a decree against one only of several defendants and that defendant appealed against the decree and the plaintiff did not appeal or raise any objections against the portion of the decree dismissing his claim against the other defendants, it was not competent to the Appellate Court to pass a decree in favour of the plaintiff as against the other defendants, even though it finds the appealing defendant not liable. 3 N.L.R. 85; see, also, 28 M. 229; 27 A. 23; 28 A. 95; 18 B. 520; 31 C. 648; 9 C.P.L.R. 62 and 14 C.P.L.R. 46. X

B.—Cross-objections should be those which he could have taken by way of appeal.

Scope of the rule.

This rule only applies where a party has a right of appeal but, until forced or invited into Court, does not think fit to exercise it. 28 M. 229 = 15 M.L.J. 212. Y

Who can file objections.

- (a) Objections can only be filed by a party who might have appealed from the decree of the Court below, but has not done. It is not open to a party who has appealed and whose appeal has been dismissed, to prefer objections subsequent to such dismissal. 23 A.W.N. 160. Z
- (b) Quære.—Whether cross-objections can be entertained by an Appellate Court where no appeal lies. 28 P.R. 1908 = 41 P.W.R. 1908 = 141 P.L.R. 1908. A
- (c) This rule gives the respondent the power of taking any objection to the decree which he could have taken by way of appeal, irrespective of the question whether an appeal lies on a mere question of costs. 8 B. 368. B
- (d) Objections can only be filed by a party who might have appealed but has not done so. It is not open to a party who has appealed and whose appeal has been dismissed to prefer objections subsequent to such dismissal. 1908 A.W.N. 160. C

4.—“Provided he has filed....fit to allow.”

Object of the rule.

The purpose of the rule is to give timely intimation of the proposed objections to the appellant. 11 B. 698. D

Posting of appeal—Rule to be observed.

An appeal cannot definitely be posted until the Court has ascertained that notice of the appeal has been served on the respondent, and a date must then be fixed not less than one month from the date of service, as the respondent is entitled to that period within which he may file any objection he may have. 13 M. 492. E

Time for filing objections and their consideration.

- (a) The Court has the discretion to extend the time for filing objections, and the fact that it has knowingly entertained objections after the prescribed time will not be a good objection to the lower appellate decree. 22 A.W.N. 74. F

4.—“Provided he has filed... fit to allow”—(Concluded).

- (b) When objections filed by the respondent were not urged at the hearing of the appeal and the appeal was dismissed, an application three days after to make an order allowing the objections was too late. 2 A.W.N. 29. G
- (c) The Court has no discretion to extend the period of seven days within which a notice of objections must be given. 2 A.W.N. 213; see, also, 7 C. 654; see contra 22 A.W.N. 74. H
- (d) The Appellate Court is not competent to deal with matters raised in a memorandum of objections filed after the time prescribed by this rule has expired. 14 A.W.N. 2. I
- (e) The notice of objections referred to in this rule must be filed not less than seven days before the date fixed for the hearing in the summonses issued to the parties. 4 A. 248=2 A.W.N. 92; see, also, 3 A.W.N. 229; 6 A. 164=3 A.W.N. 287. J
- (f) Where notice of hearing was served on respondent on 26th April, the date fixed for hearing being the 1st of May, and the Judge refused the respondent's request for an adjournment to file objections on the 1st May, held, one month should be allowed to elapse between the service of summons on the respondent and the date of hearing the appeal. 5 O.C. 235. K
- (g) Where a respondent, in order to save the costs of copying the judgment of the Court below and other records, delayed sending instructions to counsel to draft objections until the paper books had been received from the appellant, when the time allowed for filing objections had expired, the Court refused to allow the objections to be filed. 14 B. 111. L

“Day fixed for hearing,” meaning of.

The expression “the day fixed for the hearing” in sub-rule (1) means the day on which the hearing actually commences and includes both that day and the day to which the hearing may be adjourned. 11 B. 698. M

Delay in filing objections.

Delay in filing objections may be excused if the admission of the same is required to do complete justice. 28 M. 229=15 M.L.J. 212. N

5.—“Where, in any case... and determined.”

Effect of memorandum of objections after withdrawal of appeal.

- (a) As sub-rule (4) of the present Act allows the hearing of cross-objections after withdrawal of an appeal or its dismissal for default, rulings on this point, such as 8 A. 551; 17 A. 578; 9 B. 28; 23 W.R. 57, 229; 24 P.L.R. 1906; and the various other rulings referred to therein are no longer necessary. O
- (b) A cross-objection as to costs is not entertainable when the appeal is dismissed for want of proper Court-fee. 2 P.R. 1889. P
- (c) The entertainment of objections under this rule is contingent and dependent upon the hearing of the appeal in which such objections are taken, and when that appeal itself fails, is rejected, or dismissed

N.B.—The principle enunciated above will hold good now only subject to sub-rule (4).

- (d) Where an appeal was dismissed for want of necessary parties, it was held that the appeal had been heard, within the meaning of this rule, and that the memorandum of objections should be heard. 21 M. 352. R

23. Where the Court from whose decree an appeal is preferred

Remand of case has disposed of the suit¹ upon a preliminary by Appellate Court. point² and the decree is reversed in appeal³ the Appellate Court may, if it things fit⁴ by order remand⁵ the case⁶ and may further direct what issue or issues shall be tried⁷ in the case so remanded, and shall send a copy of its judgment and order to the Court⁸ from whose decree the appeal is preferred, with directions to re-admit the suit under its original number in the register of civil suits, and proceed to determine the suit; and the evidence (if any) recorded during the original trial⁹ shall, subject to all just exceptions¹⁰ be evidence during the trial after remand.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 562, C.P.C. of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) There are some minor changes in the wordings of the old section.
- (2) The words “upon such preliminary point” and “on the merits” are deleted from this rule.
- (3) The words “and the evidence if any.....after remand” are newly added.

- (c) If the remand order under S. 562 is not passed in an appeal against a "decree," but in an appeal under S. 588 C.P.C., against an "order" of the lower Court, then no appeal, against such remand order, lies. 24 C. 774=1 C.W.N. 674; 21 A. 291. The High Court has only a power of revision in such a case. 19 M. 167. R
- (d) In an appeal from an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree under S. 108, C.P.C., on the ground that that section did not apply, the Appellate Court can remand it (only if it finds that it is an application under S. 108, C.P.C.) to be tried on its merits by an interlocutory order. There is no appeal from such remand. 5 C.W.N. 153=28 I.A. 28=23 A. 220=28 C. 424=11 M.L.J. 65. S

(2) No appeal under special acts.

- (a) There is no appeal from an order of remand passed under S. 562 in a suit or proceeding under the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901. A.W.N. (1905), 198=28 A. 88; A.W.N. (1906), 5=3 A.L.J. 20=28 A. 288. T
- (b) An appeal does not lie from an order of remand passed by a special Judge under the Bengal Tenancy Act. 7 C.W.N. 440. U

(3) No appeal against remand order after the disposal of suit.

- (a) An appeal from an order of remand passed under S. 562, cannot be entertained if presented after the final disposal of the suit. In an appeal from the final decision, objection to the remand order may be taken. 9 C.W.N. 895=32 C. 1023. Y
- (b) No appeal lies from an order of remand under S. 562, C.P.C., if such appeal is filed after the decision in the remanded case and after the period for the appeal from the decision had expired. A.W.N. (1908), 76=5 A.L.J. 270=30 A. 191; 4 A.L.J. 569=A.W.N. (1907), 234. W

(4) Appeal does not lie to unsettle the finality of a decision.

No appeal lies under S. 588, C.P.C., from an order of remand, where a party seeks to traverse the decision as to a preliminary point in which both the Courts below have concurred and in regard to which no reference has been made under S. 562. C.P.C. 1908 P. R. 28. X

GENERAL—(Continued).

I.—Appeal—(Continued).

C.—OBJECTION AS TO REMAND ORDER IN SECOND APPEAL.

- (a) A party aggrieved by the order of remand may object to its validity in his appeal against the final decree, even if he had not appealed against the order itself. 9 O.C. 80; 32 P.L.R. (1906); 14 B. 232; 12 A. 510; 22 C. 419; 18 M. 421; 23 C. 335; 11 A. 35. Y
- (b) An appellant in a second appeal can be heard against the correctness of an order of remand made under S. 562, C.P.C., by the lower Appellate Court though he does not appeal against the order. S.C. 90. Z
- Contra* see S.C. 5 where it was held that unless an appeal is preferred against the order, the appellant cannot raise it in second appeal. A
- (c) In an appeal from a decree passed after a remand under S. 562, an appellant cannot be allowed to re-open the decision on which the remand is made. 10 O.C. 350. B

D.—WRONG ORDER OF REMAND.

(1) Appeal lies.

An appeal lay against an order of remand made without jurisdiction. And all proceedings taken by the lower Court after the order of remand and before the hearing of the appeal against the remand order were null and void. 12 C. 45. C

(2) Appellate Court's powers.

- (a) Where an appeal is preferred against a remand order under S. 562, the Appellate Court, as soon as it finds that the remand was not warranted by the terms of S. 562 (as not having been disposed of on a preliminary point), should not enter upon the merits of such a remand order. 1892 P.R. 6. D
- (b) On an appeal from an order of remand under S. 562, as soon as the Appellate Court finds that the order under S. 562 is wrong, as the case has not been disposed of upon a preliminary point, it need not proceed to deal with the spurious preliminary point. 38 P.R. 1908=86 P.W.R. 1908=177 P.L.R. 1908. E
- (c) Where the Appellate Court instead of remanding under S. 566 remanded under S. 562 and the order is appealed against, the High Court can only rectify the procedure of the lower Appellate Court and direct that it decide the case itself on merits. 4 A.W.N. 294=7 A. 186. F
- (d) Where, before the hearing of the appeal against an order of remand made wrongly under S. 562, the proceedings under remand order was completed, the appellant all through the proceedings not recognising the jurisdiction of the lower Court and not producing his evidence, it was held that the appellant was entitled to a correct order from the Appellate Court. 1887 P.R. 65. G
- (e) Where an Appellate Judge makes an order of remand under S. 562, when the decision of the lower Court was on the merits of the case, the whole proceedings subsequent to the order becomes null and void. The validity of such an order may be questioned on second appeal, though no appeal was preferred against the order. 28 C. 324=5 C.W.N. 509. H

GENERAL—(Continued).

I.—Appeal—(Concluded).

D.—WRONG ORDER OF REMAND—(Concluded).

Special appeal lies.

It is an error of law to remand a case except in accordance with S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859. A special appeal lies from such an order. 6 B.H.C.A.C. 156. I

Special Court's powers.

In respect to a wrong order of remand passed by a lower Appellate Court, a Court of special appeal has the same powers under Ss. 351, 354 and 355, C.P.C. of 1859, as a Court of regular appeal. 11 W.R. 228; 2 B.L.R.A.C. 315; contra 7 W.R. 326; 24 W.R. 20. J

Special appeal does not lie.

A special appeal does not lie from an order of remand apparently made under S. 351, C.P.C., but which should have been made under S. 355, C.P.C., of 1859 if the decision on merits was not prejudiced thereby. 2 W.R. 181; 20 W.R. 188; 6 W.R. 47; 6 N.W.P. 101; 7 N.W.P. 193; 6 N.W.P. 114; 17 W.R. 465; 13 W.R. 234. K

E.—COSTS IN APPEAL.

Costs should not be specially decreed in the appeal against the order of remand under S. 562, but should be left to abide the final result. 12 A.W.N. 215. L

F.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Appeal lies.

On appeal a remand was made, to try the issue of Limitation. It was held that after the trial of that issue, an appeal on the whole case may be instituted notwithstanding the previous appeal. 10 W.R. 335. M

No appeal lies.

(a) No appeal will lie, where, the appeal being ostensibly against the decree in the suit, the grounds of appeal were solely directed against an order of remand passed in the suit. 22 A. 366; 22 A. 430. N

(b) The lower Court passed an order returning the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. Plaintiff appealed. After "decreeing the appeal," the Court subsequently passed an additional order directing that the case "should be returned for re-trial." It was held that this was not a remand order under S. 562, but an order passed in appeal against the order of the lower Court and that no appeal against that order lay. 3 A. 355; 2 A. 357. O

(c) An order rejecting a plaint as consisting of two inconsistent claims being a "decree" was appealed against and the Appellate Court holding otherwise, remanded it. It was held that this was not a remand under S. 562 and so no appeal lay. 6 C.L.J. 214. P

II.—Effect of setting aside remand order.

(a) Where on appeal the order of remand under S. 562, C.P.C. by the lower Appellate Court is set aside, it sets up the original decree of the lower Court. 5 O.C. 301. Q

(b) The setting aside by the High Court, of an order of remand of a lower Appellate Court cannot have the effect of res judicata upon any point that may be urged in appeal on merits. 8 A. 172=6 A.W.N. 35. R

GENERAL—(Concluded).

III.—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council.

(1) Appeal to Privy Council lies.

An order under S. 562 is ordinarily not capable of being taken in appeal to the Privy Council. But if it has the effect of deciding finally the cardinal point in the suit, then there may be an appeal. 25 A. 629; A.W.N. (1907), 291=5 A.L.J. 57. S

(2) Appeal to Privy Council does not lie.

- (a) From an order remanding a case either for re-trial or under S. 562, C.P.C., leave to appeal to Privy Council cannot be granted by the High Court. 1 A. 726; 17 A. 112=22 I.A. 1. T
- (b) An order of remand by the Chief Court under S. 562 is not a "final decree" under S. 595, C.P.C., and no leave to appeal to the Privy Council can be granted. 52 P.R. 1907; 1888 P.R. 56; 1 O.C. 205. U

IV.—Miscellaneous cases.

- (a) The District Judge on appeal remanded a partition case to the lower Court for dividing by metes and bounds. The order was wrongly described by him as a remand under S. 562. On appeal from the order, it was held that the memorandum of appeal must be stamped as an appeal from a decree. A.W.N. (1908), 40=5 A.L.J. 545. V
- (b) For injuries arising from the misapplication of S. 562, C.P.C., see 1890 P.R. 63. W

1.—"Disposed of the suit."

- (1) Suit means entire suit. 9 A.W.N. 188=11 A. 488; 12 A.W.N. 11. X
- (2) Where a third party's application to be made a party was rejected by the lower Court, the Appellate Court cannot on that party's appeal remand the case for re-trial with directions to make him a party. 9 W.R. 345. Y

2.—"Upon a preliminary point."

I.—Explanation of a "Preliminary point."

- (a) A "preliminary point" is that point, the decision upon which should suffice for the decision of the suit. 2 P.R. 1908=12 P.W.R. 1908=96 P.L.R. 1908. Z
- (b) A preliminary point is a point which is collateral to the merits of the case, the decision upon it in one way puts an end to the case, and in another way leaves a subsisting case on the merits. 4 P.L.R. 157; 49 P.L.R. 1905. A
- (c) The words "preliminary point" refer to some point collateral to the merits which precludes their determination altogether or to some particular question, which, though relating to the merits, precludes their general determination. 12 C.P.L.R. 45. B

EXAMPLES.

(i) Points held to be preliminary.

- (a) S. 562 applies to a case decided on a point of law on such materials as are available, before the parties prove disputed documents or adduce oral evidence. 11 O.C. 169. C

I.—Explanation of a “Preliminary point”—(Concluded).

EXAMPLES—(Concluded).

- (b) Dismissal of suit for want of a cause of action without entering into the merits of the case, is a decision on a preliminary point and the Appellate Court may remand the case. 6 M.L.J. 259=20 M. 25. D
- (c) Where a suit is decided with reference to some only of several issues framed, after recording all the evidence, then it is decided with reference to a “preliminary point.” 27 P.W.R. 1907. E
- (d) Where, by reason of the decision on one or more of the issues recorded in the case, there has been no necessity for the consideration of the other issues, then the suit should be taken as dismissed on a “preliminary point.” 8 C.L.J. 159. F
- (e) A suit by a reversioner was dismissed on the ground that he had no locus standi on account of a valid adoption of a boy by the deceased. It was held that this was decision on a “preliminary point.” 56 P.R. 1908. G
- (f) An award was objected to on the ground that the arbitrator was interested. Overruling the objection a decree was passed. The lower Appellate Court held the objection as valid and remanded the case. It was held that an appeal lay against the order as it was one under S. 562 after setting aside the decision on the “preliminary point.” 22 M. 172. H

(ii) Points held to be not preliminary.

- (a) A suit determined on a main issue of fact is not one determined on a preliminary point, and so S. 562 will not apply. 4 P.L.R. 157. I
- (b) When a suit is decided on the merits on a particular point, that point cannot be regarded as a “preliminary point.” In such a case, the remand order should not be under S. 562, but should be under S. 566, C.P.C. 4 O.C. 23. J
- (c) A tenant sued a trespasser for ejectment and damages. The lower Court held that the tenancy was not proved. On appeal, the decision was reversed. It was held to be not a preliminary point. A.W.N. (1905), 157=27 A. 700. K
- (d) Where lower Court admitted copies as secondary evidence without proof of loss of the originals, and the Appellate Court reversed the judgment and remanded the case on the ground of improper admission of evidence, it was held, that there was no disposal by the lower Court on a “preliminary point,” and so no remand could be made under S. 562, C.P.C. 5 M.L.J. 82. L

II.—Cases where remand was made.

Conditions for remand.

To justify remand under S. 562, C.P.C., the decision should have been on a preliminary point and not on the merits; and the exclusion of evidence of fact would not be enough unless there was a wrong decision on a preliminary point. 1885 P.R. 46 (Civil). M

Cases of remand.

- (a) Where the decision on a preliminary point is reversed in appeal, the case may be remanded under S. 562, 2 P.L.R. 117. N

II.—Cases where remand was made—(Concluded).

- (b) When a case is remanded under S. 562, the only point decided is the preliminary point. The other points in the case are open for the consideration of the lower Court. 17 A.W.N. 108. O
- (c) Where lower Court records evidence on all issues, but decides the suit erroneously on one issue, without expressing any opinion on other issues, a remand order can be made. 16 M. 207. P
- (d) Where a suit was dismissed as having been brought in a wrong Court (Revenue Court), the Appellate Court should remand the case to the competent Court for disposal on its merits. 5 A. 438; 10 A. 31; 6 A. 378; 6 A. 440. Q
- (e) On the dismissal of a case on a point not arising under the section under which it was instituted, the Appellate Court may remand it for trial under the section. 10 W.R. 488. R
- (f) Omission to try the second issue is a good ground for remand, when the decision of the lower Court on the first issue was reversed in appeal. 3 B.H.C.O.C. 79. S
- (g) Where the lower Court frames issues and records evidence but decides the suit on the basis of some of the issues alone, leaving the others undecided, then a remand can be made under S. 562. A.W.N. (1905), 159=2 A.L.J. 685=27 A. 691. T

III.—Cases where remand was not made.

- (a) If the decision of the lower Court is not on a preliminary point, no remand could be made under S. 562, C.P.C. 5 P.L.R. 57; 2 P.L.R. 185. U
- (b) Where the decision was not on a preliminary point, an Appellate Court should not proceed under S. 562 but should proceed under S. 566 or S. 568, C.P.C. 1 A.W.N. 147. Y
- (c) Unless the case is decided in the lower Court on a preliminary point without evidence on other issues, the Appellate Court cannot remand it for a second trial. 20 W.R. 148. W
- (d) Where an issue is an integral and vital part of the plaintiff's suit and not a mere preliminary issue within the meaning of S. 562, C.P.C., an Appellate Court ought not to remand the suit, but should call upon the lower Court to return findings on other issues and should itself decide the case. 30 M. 203. X
- (e) On the ground that the lower Court failed to try one of the issues, a case cannot be remanded for re-trial on fresh evidence. The Appellate Court is bound to decide the case itself under S. 353 of C. P. C. of 1859. 10 W. R. 469; contra see 10 W. R. 236. Y
- (f) A District Munsiff returned a plaint under S. 57, C. P. C., for presentation to the proper Court. On appeal, the Munsiff's order was reversed and the case remanded to him for disposal on merits. It was held that this was not an order under S. 562, C. P. C. R. A. R. No. 74. Z

But in 1 O.O. 172 apparently the Judges held that it was an order under S. 562. A

2.—“Upon a preliminary point”—(Concluded).

IV.—Cases decided on merits.

- (a) Where a case was decided on merits, the Appellate Court cannot remand it under S. 562 for decision on a preliminary point. 1902 P.R. 43. B
- (b) Where a Lower Court found the suit barred by limitation and also heard the suit on the merits and dismissed it, and where the Appellate Court reversed the decision on limitation, it cannot remand the suit for retrial. 1 W. R. 32; 21 W. R. 413. C
- (c) Suit decided on merits and not on a preliminary point, cannot be remanded under S. 562, C.P.C., but fresh issues should be framed and directed to be tried under S. 566, C.P.C. U.B.R. (1897-1901), 807. D
- (d) On an appeal against the refusal to set aside an ex parte decree under S. 108, C.P.C., the case was remanded. It was held that there could be no remand under S. 562 as the lower Court arrived at the decision, on the merits. 7 C.L.J. 879. E
- (e) When on appeal, the Court held that there was misjoinder, it ought not to remand the case under S. 562, when the case was decided by the lower Court on merits. 2 P.L.R. 139. F

V.—Cases of remand on account of the exclusion of evidence.

- (a) S. 562 applies not only to a case where the lower Court has expressly excluded evidence, but also to cases where the parties were or might have been misled into the belief that further evidence was not necessary owing to the Court considering one issue only. 10 A. 289. G
- (b) Where the lower Court considering the documentary evidence sufficient refused the oral evidence tendered, and the lower Appellate Court reversing the decree, refused to allow the production of fresh evidence before it, the High Court set aside the proceedings of both Courts and remanded the case for a fresh trial to the lower Court. 14 A.W.N. 190 17 A. 29. H

3.—“And the decree is reversed in appeal.”

Necessity for express reversal.

- (a) The order of remand, implies a reversal of the lower Court's decision. 7 W.R. 628; 12 W.R. 112. I
- (b) In a suit for declaratory decrees of title to two plots of land, the lower Court dismissed the suit for want of jurisdiction. The Appellate Court upheld the decision with respect to one land and reversed and remanded under S. 562 with respect to the other. On appeal from the order, it was held that S. 562 was inapplicable, as the Judge did not reverse the decrees of the lower Court upon a preliminary point, but upheld it to some extent and reversed it only in part. 149 P.W.R. 1908. J
- (c) Before remanding a case for trial, under S. 562, the Appellate Court should consider whether the finding of the lower Court on a question of limitation was right or not. 11 B. 568. K
- (d) On appeal from a decree based upon an award, the parties agreed to refer again to arbitration. Nothing came out of it. Under such circumstances the remand to the Lower Court under S. 562 for disposal on the merits was correct. A.W.N. (1906), 184. L

3.—“And the decree is reversed in appeal”—(Concluded).

- (e) Where a preliminary issue as to the right to bring a suit was decided against plaintiff by the Lower Court, it was held that the Appellate Court had no right to remand the case for being tried on its merits. 10 W.R. 411. M

4.—“If it thinks fit.”

Court's exercise of discretion.

- (a) Where the Lower Court takes evidence but decides the case on a preliminary point without deciding on merits and where on appeal it is reversed, the Appellate Court is not bound to remand the case, but decide it itself if evidence is sufficient. 2 M. 96; 10 W.R. 378. N
- (b) Where the decision on a preliminary point was reversed, the Appellate Judge rightly remanded the case, as the evidence on record was insufficient for decision on merits. 17 W.R. 466. O

5.—“Remand.”

1.—General.

(1) Application of S. 25, C.P.C.

The question whether S. 25 of the C.P.C., has application to a case remanded under S. 562, C.P.C., was left open. 5 C.L.J. 611. P

(2) Remand can be made.

- (a) The Privy Council may remand a case for taking fresh evidence. 3 C. 645. Q
- (b) Where an appellate Court dismissed an appeal on a preliminary point and the Court of second appeal reversed the decree; it should remand the appeal for hearing on its merits to the lower Appellate Court, under Ss. 562 and 582, C.P.C. 1887 P.R. 98. R
- (c) Where the decision of the lower Court was given on the oath taken by one of the defendants with regard to one particular matter, the case was remanded by the Appellate Court under S. 562 for the decision of a number of issues framed but not decided by the lower Court. 1898 P.R. 45. S
- (d) The Privy Council held that the referring of a certain matter by the High Court to the lower Court for decision was tantamount to a remand under S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859, for the decision of certain issues. 2 B.L.R. (P.C.) 72=11 W.R. (P.C.) 33=12 M.I.A. 495. T

(3) Remand cannot be made.

- (a) Declaratory decrees being a matter of discretion, a suit of such a nature should not be remanded as it will generally entail great delay and expense. 4 C. 190=3 C.L.R. 31. U
- (b) S. 562, C.P.C., has no application to a case when the appeal is against an order returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court. 11 A.W.N. 165. Y
- (c) Where the evidence on record was sufficient, the fact that the lower Appellate Court decided the case on a preliminary point, will not entitle the High Court to remand the case under S. 562, C.P.C. 2 A.W.N. 104; 9 A. 147=6 A.W.N. 325; 5 A. 14=2 A.W.N. 157; 2 A.W.N. 45. W

5.—“Remand”—(Continued).

1.—General—(Concluded).

- (d) In a suit for mesne profits for three years by one brother against another for enjoying certain lands including plaintiff's share in them, the Court instead of deciding the amount of mesne profits decided that enjoyment of the whole property should be given to plaintiff for the next three years. On appeal to the Privy Council, Their Lordships refused to remand the case, as substantial justice was done to the parties though somewhat in a rough sort of way. 3 C.W.N. 698. X

II.—Powers of remand.

(1) General.

- (a) It does not follow that because the lower Appellate Court could have remanded under S. 562, it is precluded from making a remand under S. 566. 19 A.W.N. 2. Y
- (b) An Appellate Court has power to make an order under Ss. 562 and 566, C.P.C., and in order to give full effect, it becomes necessary in certain cases to send them back to the lower Court. 21 A.W.N. 89=23 A. 167. Z

(2) Powers when to be exercised.

- (a) In order to spare the higher Courts the trouble of remanding cases, Courts should always decide all issues in the case. 10 M.I.A. 476=5 W.R. (P.C.) 68. A
- (b) If all issues are not decided, the Privy Council will remand the case for their decision. 11 M.I.A. 25. B
- (c) There is a power to remand a case, when the Appellate Court reverses an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. Hence there is a power of remand when the Appellate Court allows an appeal from an ex parte decree, on the ground that there ought not to have been an ex parte decree. 1 M.L.T. 268=16 M.L.J. 479=90 M. 64. C
- (d) A case may be remanded for trial on its merits, where the lower Court omitted to decide on a point laid down by itself. 2 B.H.C. 188, 2nd Ed., 178. D
- (e) An Appellate Court can remand for taking fuller evidence when the lower Court on insufficient evidence as to the decree being alive, orders execution. 8 W.R. 276. E
- (f) Where a judgment of the lower Appellate Court does not satisfy the requirements of S. 574, C.P.C., a remand order should be made under S. 562 read with S. 587. 9 A.W.N. 178; 2 A.W.N. 158; 9 A. 26=6 A.W.N. 284; 6 A.W.N. 285; 6 A.W.N. 171; 4 A.W.N. 99; and 8 A.W.N. 61. F

(3) Powers not to be exercised.

- (a) An Appellate Court has no power to remand a case except under the provisions of S. 562, C.P.C. 8 C. 928. G
- (b) Except as provided in S. 562, no Appellate Court can remand a case for a second decision. 188 P.B. 1908. H
- (c) The High Court will not in special appeal remand a case where there has been a finding by the District Judge on the only issue framed by him, though he had omitted to find on another issue raised before the District Munsiff but not called for by either party on appeal. 2 B.H.C. 84, 2nd Ed., 82. I

5.—“Remand”—(Continued).

II.—Powers of remand—(Concluded).

- (d) Where a case was duly tried on its merits, it is wrong to remand it under S. 352, C.P.C. of 1859, for a fresh trial. 2 B.L.R.S.N. 13=10 W.R. 388. J
- (e) Where the appeal is as to costs only, the Appellate Court has no jurisdiction to remand the case for trial on its merits. 4 N.W.P. 20. K
- (f) Where no ‘decree’ has been passed by the lower Court and the appeal being under S. 588 (6), C.P.C., the Appellate Court cannot remand under S. 562, C.P.C. 1896 P.R. 59. L

III.—Inherent power to remand.

Principles.

- (a) Apart from Ss. 562 and 566, the Chief Court has power to remand a case for rectifying errors, omissions and defects, which, unless so rectified, would result in serious miscarriage of justice. 1904 P.R. 91. M
- (b) Apart from S. 562, C.P.C., a Court has power to remand a case on good cause shown for justice being done between parties. A case disposed of under S. 158, C.P.C., may be remanded but no new evidence can be taken by the lower Court. 13 W.R. 464; 3 B.L.R. Ap. 91. N

EXAMPLES.

- (a) Apart from Ss. 562 and 566, C.P.C., the High Court has powers to remand an appeal case for hearing on merits when it was disposed of at an advanced date without notice of the advancement to the appellant. 14 A.W.N. 19. O
- (b) For failure of the lower Court to hear the arguments of the pleaders before deciding, the High Court has inherent powers to remand the suit to the lower Court for a fresh decision according to law. 5 P.L.R. 1905. P
- (c) In the lower Court an application was made to examine a certain witness. No order was made on it. It was held that the Appellate Court can remand to the lower Court to entertain the application, though no remand section of the C.P.C. of 1859 applied to the case. 18 B.L.R. 247 (note)=12 W.R. 317. Q
- (d) Apart from rule 23, the Appellate Court has inherent power to remand a case for re-trial where the case was disposed of ex parte on the evidence of the plaintiff alone. 10 M.L.J. 61=23 M. 445. R
- (e) When an Appellate Court omitted to give judgment specifically on a point at issue between the parties, the case was remanded for fresh decision and decree. (1877), Select Case, Part X, No 57. S
- (f) When, at the hearing of an appeal, the Appellate Court considers that a person should have been made a party, it should remand the case and direct the lower Court to add him as a party and decide upon the fresh issues that may be framed. 18 A. 332. T
- (g) A suit was dismissed as barred by limitation, owing to the lower Court having held a particular view, as regards plaintiff's conduct. On appeal, the correct view, being brought to Their Lordship's notice, the case was remanded for a fresh finding on the point. 18 B. 250. U

IV.—Remand to Revenue Courts.

- (a) The adjudication by a Collector on a rent suit is a “decree” and where a District Judge on appeal remanded such a case to the lower Court under S. 562, the order is appealable. 26 M. 518 = 13 M.L.J. 296. Y
- (b) In a rent suit the Revenue Court dismissed it on the ground that it had no jurisdiction. On appeal the District Judge remanded it to the Revenue Court for trial on its merits. It was held that the order of remand was right. 4 O.C. 261. W
- (c) Under S. 190 of the N.W.P. Rent Act, S. 562, C.P.C., becomes applicable to an appeal to the District Court from a Revenue Court. So, an appeal will lie against such a remand order to the High Court. 16 A. 375. X
- (d) Under N.W.P. Tenancy Act in remanding the case under S. 562, C.P.C., the Appellate Court should direct the lower Court to pass the order which it should have passed in the first instance under S. 202, N.W.P. Tenancy Act. A.W.N. (1905) 46—2 A.L.J. 176. Y
- (e) Where however no order under S. 562 could be made, as, when the decision did not turn on a preliminary point, the Appellate Court itself should pass such an order. 27 A. 167. Z

V.—Grounds for remand.

(i) GROUNDS NOT PROPER.

Pleadings.

Where there was a defect in pleadings, the Appellate Court cannot remand the case. 8 B.L.R.A.C. 283; 12 W.R. 140. A Parties.

On the ground of defect of parties, an Appellate Court cannot remand a suit to the lower Court, under S. 562, C.P.C. 1 Bom. L.R. 869. B

Witnesses.

Where a plaintiff had a full opportunity to present his case completely before the lower Court, it is manifestly dangerous for an Appellate Court to remand the case for what may be practically a re-trial; such a remand is certainly a case of material irregularity. 1 L.B.R. 148. C

Undervaluation.

A pre-emption suit was undervalued, and in the special appeal, the High Court refused to remand the case to enable plaintiff to make up the deficient stamp-duty. 14 W. R. 195. D

Local enquiry.

For the purpose of local enquiry, a case ought not to be remanded by an appellate Court. Marsh 121 = 1 Hay 260. E

Part of a case.

An Appellate Court cannot remand under S. 562 part of a case against one defendant and dismiss the appeal as against the other defendant. 1892 P.R. 8. F

Judgment.

- (a) Mere occasional obscurity in the judgment of the lower Court is not a proper ground for remand. 25 W. R. 276. G
- (b) The fact, that the lower Court's decision was given on a day when the Court was closed, does not necessitate a remand. 1 Hay 197. H

5.—“Remand”—(Continued).

V.—Grounds for remand—(Concluded).

(ii) GROUNDS PROPER.

- (a) Omission to decide material issues and deciding suit on point not in issue, are proper grounds for remand for a fresh decision on the merits. 2 B.H.C. 313, 2nd Ed., 267; 2 B.H.C. 323, 2nd Ed., 306; 2 B.H.C. 335, 2nd Ed., 317; 2 B.H.C. 341, 2nd Ed., 323; 2 B.H.C. 385, 2nd Ed., 363; 1 Agra 10; 1 Agra 252; 1 Agra Rev. 1; 2 Agra 61; 2 Agra 106; 2 Agra 110; 3 Agra 99; 3 B.H.C.A.C. 160; 4 B.H.C.A.C. 25; 4 B.H.C.A.C. 43; 25 W.R. 38. I
- (b) Defendant has the right to have his witnesses summoned and examined; where this was refused by the lower Court and the lower Appellate Court did not notice the objection of the defendant on that score, the High Court on special appeal remanded the case for fresh hearing. 22 W.R. 296. J
- (c) Where, on account of the inefficiency of the legal advisor of the plaintiff, his witnesses were not properly examined, the case was remanded by the High Court for re-trial. 24 W.R. 232. K

VI.—Objection as to remand.

Objection when to be taken.

Unless objection to the remand order is taken in the memorandum of the second appeal, its validity cannot be questioned at the time of hearing. 15 A. 119; 18 A. 19. L

Objection in regular appeal.

Order of remand for a second decision is illegal, if the suit is not disposed of on a preliminary point. 5 C.P.L.R. 116; 6 C.P.L.R. 77; an objection to such an order could be taken in regular appeal though the order itself might have been appealable. 5 C.P.L.R. 116. M

Objection in special appeal.

The objection that the case was improperly remanded may be taken in the special appeal from the decree, although a special appeal had been preferred from the order of remand. 13 B.L.R. 198=21 W.R. 326; 13 B.L.R. 200 (note)=13 W.R. 107. N

VII.—Effect of remand.

Where an appeal is remanded in part, the appellant is entitled to a return of a proportionate part of the Stamp duty paid by him. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 511=6 W.R. Mis. 65=1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 401; 11 B.L.R. 372 (note.) O

VIII.—Irregular and illegal remand.

Irregular order.

- (a) A remand, under S. 562 on the ground that the deposition of witnesses before the lower Court did not contain the usual certificate, is irregular. Such an irregularity is cured by S. 578, C.P.C., and does not ipso facto vitiate all proceedings after remand. 2 C.L.J. 496. P
- (b) An order of remand under S. 562 made when the decision was not on a preliminary point is only erroneous—not capable of making the subsequent proceedings void; unless owing to the remand there has been a wrong decision affecting the merits of the case. 5 C.L.J. 71. Q

VIII.—Irregular and illegal remand—(Concluded).

- (c) An order of remand not strictly in accordance with S. 562 would amount to an irregularity covered by S. 578, C.P.C. 11 C.W.N. 380. R
- (d) For an irregularity in recording evidence, the case should not be reversed and should not be remanded to the lower Court under S. 562, C.P.C. 1896 P.R. 45. S
- (e) The lower Court decided a case on merits, but on appeal it was remanded under S. 562. An appeal against the remand order was preferred, and the Chief Court holding that the remand order was wrong, decided also the truth of the fact about which the remand order was made. 1898 P.R. 56. T

Illegal order.

- (a) A remand made under S. 562 without reversing the decision of the lower Court is illegal. 8 P.L.R. 35. U
- (b) Where the Appellate Court raised issues on the whole case and after taking the evidence offered, decided them all, and then remanded the case under S. 562 reversing a finding of fact; it was held that the whole procedure was illegal. 1 Bom. L.R. 72. Y
- (c) Where the lower Court recorded its finding on an issue on the evidence tendered by parties, it is illegal for the Appellate Court to remand for taking fresh evidence on the issue. 8 C.P.L.R. 181. W
- (d) A remand for adding certain persons as parties is illegal. 1 A.W.N. 49. X
- (e) Where, on the ground of the defect of parties, a remand is made under S. 562, the High Court will reverse it and direct the lower Appellate Court to dispose of the appeal. 1 Bom. L.R. 29. Y
- (f) An order dismissing a suit for default of appearance is not a 'decree' and so no first or second appeal lies. In such a case an appeal was taken, and the Appellate Court set aside the order and ordered the lower Court to try the case. It was held that this was not an order under the remand sections of the Code and that, the case not being an appealable one, the Appellate Court had no jurisdiction to pass such an order. 29 C. 60. Z

Effect of an illegal order.

- (a) A remand order under S. 562, C.P.C., when the lower Court had decided the case on its merits, is illegal. It is not a mere irregularity. Even when the plaintiff was not prejudiced, the High Court has power to interfere with such a remand. Even if there be waiver on the part of the plaintiff, the illegality is not cured. 4 M.L.T. 479=22 M. 58. A
 - (b) Where the case is not decided on a preliminary point, no remand under S. 562 could be made. If it is so made, on appeal from that order, the High Court can set aside the order and direct the lower Appellate Court to try the appeal. 1 P.L.R. 814. B
 - (c) Where the remand order is clearly illegal, consent of parties would not make it legal. Per Moors, J. C
- Where the remand order is illegal, its defect can be cured by the consent of parties. Per Subramaniya Iyer, J. 15 M.L.J. 236=28 M. 437. D
- (d) If a suit had not been disposed of on a preliminary point, and a remand is made under S. 562, such a remand order and all subsequent proceedings are ultra vires and illegal. 10 A.W.N. 188=12 A. 510; 11 A.W.N. 187; 2 A.W.N. 5; 19 M. 479; 11 A.W.N. 105; 7 A.W.N. 224. E

5.—“Remand”—(Continued).

IX.—Second remand.

Second remand.

- (a) An Appellate Court can remand a second time on account of defect, error, or irregularity in the decree, which affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court. 5 M.H.C. 313. F
- (b) There should be no second remand where the Lower Court had not fully carried out the orders of the High Court on remand, but had substantially tried the case fully on its merits. 8 W.R. 503. G

Form of the second order for remand.

When making a second remand, the Appellate Court should state the reasons for it, i.e., in what way the lower Court failed to carry out the requirements of the first order. W.R. (1864) Mis. 39. H

X.—Powers of the Courts after the remand order.

(1) Jurisdiction.

Where a remand is made to the Lower Court to record reasons for its judgment, the successor to the Judge of the lower Court, has no jurisdiction to entertain it. In such a case, the parties should apply in the Appellate Court for an order to try the case de novo. 1 Ind. Juris. N.S. 101; 5 W.R. 124; 2 W.R. 275. I

(2) Successor of the Judge who passed the order of remand.

- (a) An order of remand is final so far as the purpose of the remand goes, and cannot be set aside by the successor of the Judge who made it. 14 W.R. 285. J
- (b) Because a remand under S. 562 was irregularly made by Mr. K, Judge of the Appellate Court, it is not open to Mr. P, the successor of Mr. K, on appeal against the revised decree, to decide again the preliminary point which was disposed of by Mr. K. 1 A.W.N. 55=3 A. 755. K

(3) Lower Courts should strictly conform to the order.

- (a) Where the Privy Council made an order of remand, the High Court cannot go behind the order and re-open the whole case. In such a case so much of the decision of the High Court which re-opened its own previous decisions should be set aside. 25 W.R. (P.C.) 157. L
- (b) Where the order of remand is for the trial of a particular issue or point under Ss. 351 or 354, C.P.C. of 1859, the lower Court cannot proceed on other issues or points. 7 C.L.R. 108; 24 W.R. 330; 22 W.R. 207. M
- (c) Where a case is remanded for trial “on its merits,” it shuts out objections regarding limitation or res judicata. 24 W.R. 333. N
- (d) Where the remand is for a “re-trial” the whole case is opened again de novo, and the plaintiff may prove his case in any way he could. 21 W.R. 7. O

CONTRA.

- (a) Where the remand was for the trial of a particular issue, and in the course of that trial the lower Court finds also something else, this additional finding was not opposed to the order of remand. 10 W.R. 389. P
- (b) Where a case was remanded for re-consideration, on the evidence of all points except one, the lower Court cannot allow the finding with respect to that point, to remain unchanged, if it finds that its finding on that point had been erroneous. 24 W.R. 316. Q

5.—“Remand”—(Concluded).

X.—Powers of the Courts after the remand order—(Concluded).

(4) Alteration in law.

If the law is altered by a Full Bench ruling since the case was remanded, the trying Court should take it into consideration. 11 W.R. 227. R

(5) Evidence.

(a) A case having been remanded under S. 562, C.P.C., for decision after the evidence of certain witnesses had been recorded, the Judge correctly refused to receive new documentary evidence. S.C. 59. S

(b) Where a case decided on a preliminary point was remanded on appeal, the lower Court can take again the evidence from the defendant who had appeared in the original trial; a fortiori, from a defendant who had not appeared. 8 W.R. 285. T

XI.—Notice after remand.

Where an order of remand is made, the appellant is not entitled to notice from the lower Court, intimating the date on which the case will be taken up. 4 N.L.R. 166. U

XII.—Lower Court's powers of delegation.

(a) The Court to which remand was made must try it. It has no power to delegate. 19 A.W.N. 137. Y

(b) Where, on appeal from the decision of a District Judge on a preliminary point, the High Court reversed the decision and remanded the case for trial on merits to the District Judge, it is not only ultra vires but illegal on the part of the District Judge to transfer the case to a Subordinate Judge. 10 M.L.J. 238. W

6.—“The case.”

(a) It is illegal to remand only a portion of the suit, under S. 562, C.P.C. 27 A. 168. X

(b) Part of a decree cannot be remanded to the lower Court for fresh trial. 9 Bom. L.R. 966. Y

7.—“May further direct....shall be tried.”

Trial of issues framed.

Where no issues have to be framed, but only such of the issues as the first Court left entirely undecided are to be determined, a remand under S. 562 is proper. 5 A.L.J. 14 = A.W.N. (1908), 10 = 80 A. 68. Z

Trial after local investigation.

An Appellate Court is not competent to remand a case for re-trial after a local investigation. W.R. (1864) 868. A

8.—“To the Court.”

The remand should be made to the Court which first disposed of the suit. 19 B. 808. B

9.—“And the evidence....original trial.”

A successor of a Judge making a remand is justified in respecting the opinion and judgment of the Judge upon the existing evidence. 14 W.R. 880. C

10.—“Subject to all just exceptions.”

Where a Court sets aside its ex parte decree, takes fresh evidence, admits also the evidence taken before the ex parte decree, and finally decides the suit, the Appellate Court should enquire whether, independently of the evidence originally recorded, there was sufficient evidence to justify the decree. 8 W.R. 499. D

24. Where the evidence upon the record is sufficient¹ to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce judgment, the Appellate Court may, after resettling the issues, if necessary, finally determine² the suit, notwithstanding that the judgment of the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has proceeded wholly upon some ground other than that on which the Appellate Court proceeds.³

Where evidence on record sufficient, Appellate Court may determine case finally.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 565, C.P.C. of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the words “when”, “case”, “against” and “made”, the words “where”, “suit”, “from” and “preferred” are respectively substituted in this rule.

(General).Applicability of the rule.

Ss. 565 and 566 are not applicable to second appeals so as to enable the High Court to determine questions of fact. The High Court must merely remit issues for trial to the lower Appellate Court. 9 A. 147=6 A.W.N. 325; 5 A. 14=2 A.W.N. 157; 2 A.W.N. 104. E

1.—“Is sufficient.”Sufficiency of evidence.

Where parties had an opportunity to adduce such evidence as they consider sufficient for the decision of the case, the evidence ought to be held sufficient under S. 353, C.P.C. of 1859 to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce a satisfactory judgment. 16 W.R. 211. F

Unwarranted inference.

Reversing the decision of the lower Court by the lower Appellate Court, without going into fresh evidence but merely presuming collusion, not warranted by the evidence on record, is wrong. 10 W.R. 451. G

2.—“Finally determine.”Appellate Court should finally determine.

- (a) When the lower Court decided a suit against plaintiff on the question of jurisdiction and also decided it against him on merits, and where the Appellate Courts affirmed the lower Court's decision on jurisdiction, it should also decide the suit on its merits, as the evidence was sufficient. 6 A. 440. H

2.—“Finally determine”—(Concluded).

- (b) Where, in a declaratory suit, the lower Court failed to compute the pleader's fees, the High Court on appeal exercised the discretion given to it under S. 565 and fixed a reasonable fee. 4 M.L.J. 181. I

Appellate Court should not remand.

- (a) Where the decision is on sufficient evidence, the Appellate Court should not remand the case. 14 W.R. 60. J
- (b) Where all the evidence has been taken and the case decided on a preliminary point, no remand should be made. 22 W.R. 224; 10 W.R. 374; 9 M. 355. K

3.—“Has proceeded wholly . . . Appellate Court proceeds.”

- (a) The Appellate Court will not remand a case for re-trial on a point not raised in the lower Court, if the evidence already recorded is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court itself to decide the point. 12 B.H.C. 23. L
- (b) Where a Court after taking all evidence disposes of it on a point other than a preliminary point without deciding the others, and where the Appellate Court reverses the decision on the point, it should proceed under S. 565 and not 562, C.P.C. 5 M.L.J. 20. M

25. Where the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred

Where Appellate Court may frame issues and refer them for trial to Court whose decree appealed from.

has omitted to frame or try any issue, or to determine any question of fact¹ which appears to the Appellate Court essential² to the right decision of the suit upon the merits, the Appellate Court may, if necessary, frame issues³ and refer the same for trial⁴ to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, and in such case shall direct such Court to take the additional evidence required,⁵ and such Court shall proceed to try such issues⁷ and shall return the evidence to the Appellate Court together with its findings thereon and the reasons therefor.⁸

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 565 of the old Code.

Distinction.

- (1) For the words “if,” “against” and “made,” the words “where,” “from,” and “preferred,” are respectively substituted.
- (2) There are some other slight verbal changes.
- (3) The words “and the reasons therefor” in the present rule are new.

(General).Applicability of the rule.

- (a) S. 354, C.P.C. of 1859, relating to trial of additional issues is only applicable to regular appeals. 7 W.R. 323; 24 W.R. 20. N

(General)—(Continued).

- (b) Ss. 565 and 566 are not applicable to second appeals so as to enable the High Court to determine questions of fact. The High Court must merely remit issues for trial to the lower Appellate Court. 9 A. 147=6 A.W.N. 325; 5 A. 14=2 A.W.N. 157; 2 A.W.N. 104. O
- (c) It does not follow that, because the lower Appellate Court could have remanded under S. 562, it is precluded from making a remand under S. 566. 19 A.W.N. 2. P
- (d) The power of the High Court to remand for further consideration of the evidence, was limited to and defined by Chapters 41 and 42 of C.P.C. of 1882. 16 M. 299=3 M.L.J. 150. Q
- (e) Where remand was made to a Court which had no jurisdiction (i.e., to wrong Court) all the proceedings were nullified. 24 W.R. 353. R
- (f) Where in the opinion of the Appellate Court evidence is insufficient, it should proceed in the manner stated in Ss. 354 to 357, C.P.C. of 1859. 15 W.R. 314; W.R. (1864) 296. S
- (g) Where a Court referred the matter in dispute to a Commissioner for taking evidence, and acted upon it rejecting further evidence offered by the parties, the Appellate Court should not remand the case under S. 562 but should have acted either under S. 566 or 568, C.P.C. 1 Bom. L.R. 110. T

No remand should be made.

- (a) Where the issue of minority of a defendant was, for the first time, raised in appeal, the case should not be remanded to the lower Court for enquiry. 2 N.W.P. 23. U
- (b) Where a finding alone is to be given by the Appellate Court on the evidence on the record, it is wrong to remand the case for re-trial. 9 W.R. 106. Y
- (c) Where a ground of appeal is not touched by parties in argument, the Court is not at fault if no decision is given upon it. But if the point is argued and the Court fails to decide the point, the remedy is by way of review of judgment. In either case, the omission is a ground for remand on appeal. 15 W.R. 296. W
- (d) Where the case as argued in appeal is inconsistent with the plaint, the suit should be dismissed. But where the plaint can be reconciled with the arguments and the evidence adduced, the Appellate Court should decide it and not remand it under S. 354, C.P.C. of 1859. 24 W. R. 121. X

Remand by the Appellate Court.

- (a) An Appellate Court, as a Court of equity, has power to remand a case for trial on its merits, where the lower Court had tried erroneous issues. 1 C.L.R. 431. Y
- (b) Where no issues have been settled in a suit, the High Court will remand the case for re-trial. 2 N.W.P. 138. Z

Powers of Appellate Court after remand.

- (a) By remanding under S. 566, the Appellate Court is not to be taken as having determined the appeal. After the return of the findings on issues remanded, the Appellate Court should consider the whole. 8 P.L.R. 80. A

(General)—(Concluded).

- (b) When an appeal is sent down to a lower Court on remand and when the records have not been returned to the remanding Court, the latter ought not to dismiss the appeal for default of appearance of parties. 90 P. L.R. 1906. B

Power of Court to disregard findings.

On second appeal a Judge of the High Court made a remand order under S. 565 (rule 25) and when the fresh evidence came up, the second appeal was posted before another Judge. It was held that the second Judge may disregard the new finding, if he considers the remand order unnecessary. 14 A.W.N. 97 16 A. 306. C

Duty of the Appellate Court after the return of the findings.

On the findings on issues on remand to the lower Court, the duty of the Appellate Court is to examine the correctness of the findings, to form its own opinion on the evidence and record reasons for its findings. 19 B. 551; 20 M. 496. D

Power of party to raise new issues.

A party, who has obtained on second appeal a remand for a fresh decision on specific issues affecting the merits of the case, is not at liberty to raise, for the first time, an objection to the jurisdiction of the first Court in a subsequent second appeal to the Chief Court. 1883 P.R. 54 (Civil). E

*1.—“Has omitted to frame...question of fact.”General.

- (a) The object of remand under S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859, is not to try issues on the evidence already taken but for taking fresh evidence on issues. 10 W.R. 244. F
- (b) Where a new issue has to be tried, no remand order should be made under S. 562, C.P.C., but remand may be made under S. 566, C.P.C. 17 M. 187; 1 C.W.N. 340; 3 C.W.N. 325. G
- (c) On special appeal, a case may be remanded for re-trial for omission on the part of the lower Appellate Court to raise a material issue. 22 W.R. 31. H
- (d) Where no issues have been settled in a suit, the High Court will remand the case for re-trial. 2 N.W.P. 183. I
- (e) Where the decision of the lower Appellate Court was inexecutable, the District Court can remand the case for the trial of a fresh issue. 23 W.R. 347. J

Cases in which remand was not made.

- (a) Where the lower Court omitted to frame proper issues, though it took all the evidence adduced, the High Court refused to send back the case, because the parties had not been prejudiced by the decision of the lower Court. 24 W.R. 275. K
- (b) A Court of first appeal cannot remand a case for the addition of necessary parties. It can add the parties, frame fresh issues, and remand for their trial only under rule 25. 10 B. 398. L
- (c) Where the lower Court had raised a certain point in issue, but the parties failed to give any evidence upon it at the trial, though their attention was drawn to it, an Appellate Court cannot remand for its trial again. 9 A. 513. M

1.—“Has omitted to frame . . . question of fact” — (Concluded).

- (d) Where the lower Appellate Court framed a wrong issue for decision, but where there was a finding on the point which would have been raised if the correct issue had been framed, the High Court refused to remand for a new finding on that issue. 21 B. 325. N

Cases where remand was made.

- (a) Where there was a defect in the allegations of a plaint, the Appellate Court can ascertain it, frame fresh issues, and remand for trial. Marsh 198 = 1 Hay 467. O
- (b) An Appellate Court has power to remand a case, upon an issue not satisfactorily tried in the first instance. 11 W.R. 35. P
- (c) Where in both the lower Courts the suit was dismissed on defendant's case and the plaintiff's case and his allegations were never enquired into, the High Court remanded the case to the lower Appellate Court for the trial of those issues. 15 A.W.N. 79. Q
- (d) Where a piece of evidence relating to the main issue was improperly rejected by the lower Court, the High Court held that there was no proper decision of the issue and so remanded for its trial. 17 A.W.N. 90. R
- (e) Where a question of limitation alone was decided without framing any issues, which question was reversed in appeal, the Appellate Court remanded the case under S. 566, C.P.C. 4 O.C. 224. S
- (f) The omission by plaintiff to press the essential issue in the lower Court is generally not a ground for refusal by the Appellate Court to refer that issue for trial if the lower Court has omitted to frame or try it. 4 Bom. L.R. 818. T

Remand for decision of even a trifling point.

Where the lower Courts have come to no decision on a point raised, the plaintiff in special appeal has a right to a remand, even though the point is very trifling. 25 W.R. 140. U

Remand mistakenly made and its effects.

- (a) Where the High Court made a remand order mistakenly for the trial of an issue, other than that which should have been remanded for trial, and the lower Court disregarding the order, tried the proper issue, it was held that the Lower Court's disregard of the High Court's order will not affect the merits of the case. 18 W.R. 91. Y
- (b) An Appellate Court should not remand a case and order the lower Court to call upon the parties to submit to arbitration. If that is done and the parties waive the irregularity and submit to it, they cannot dispute it on special appeal. 22 W.R. 396. W

2.—“Which appears to the Appellate Court essential.”

- (a) Where there is not sufficient evidence before the Appellate Court to dispose of an issue, the Appellate Court should remand the case under S. 354, C.P.C., and not under S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859. 8 Agra 146; 15 W.R. 346. X
- (b) Where the lower Court goes into all the issues fully, the Appellate Court cannot remand under S. 562, but if it wants the determination of any point, it may proceed under S. 566. 10 C.W.N. 432. Y

3.—“May, if necessary, frame issues.”

General.

- (a) The Lower Court decided a case on its merits. The Appellate Court cannot remand the case under rule 23 on the ground that an issue which ought to have been tried, was not tried, but should have proceeded under rule 25 and 26. 12 C.L.R. 136; U.B.R. (1897 to 1901), p. 307. Z
- (b) S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859, was intended where the lower Court disposed of a case on a purely preliminary point. But where the evidence taken is abundant and the Appellate Court thinks that further evidence would be necessary, it should frame issues and refer to the lower Court under S. 354, C.P.C. of 1859. W.R. (1864) 357; W.R. (1864) 361; 1 W.R. 6; 1 W.R. 208; 25 W.R. 35; 25 W.R. 47; 25 W.R. 284. A

The Appellate Court may decide itself.

- (a) An Appellate Court may reverse the order of the lower Court and under S. 354, C.P.C. of 1859, may raise and decide any question of fact essential for the right decision of the suit on its merits. 1870 P.R. 78 (Civil). B
- (b) Where fresh evidence was to be taken, the Appellate Court itself should take it instead of remanding the case under S. 354, C.P.C. of 1859. 11 W.R. 106. C

Appellate Court should frame issues.

- (a) An Appellate Court cannot remand a case for trial with instructions to frame new issues. 1 W.R. 69. D
- (b) The right of framing new issues arises where the issues framed are insufficient to dispose of the matters raised in the plaint. 1 C.L.R. 415. E
- (c) The duty of the Appellate Court is to add the new parties and alter and add new issues and refer them to the lower Court for trial. It cannot remand a case for re-trial without doing these, itself. 19 M. 157. F

Specific issues should be framed by the Appellate Court.

- (a) Where, in a suit for mesne profits, the account taken by the lower Court is set aside and the case is remanded for taking fresh account, the Appellate Court should specifically state the issues for the decision of the lower Court. 27 I.A. 110—10 M.L.J. 856 or 857. G
- (b) Remand could be made where the lower Court failed to frame or try any issue. In such a case, the Appellate Court should, in its order specify the issue to be tried. No order of remand for general inquiry and report should be made. 2 O.P.L.R. 118. H

4.—“Refer the same for trial”

The Appellate Court itself can try.

- (a) In remands involving the taking of evidence, the practice of the District Court is to ask the lower Court to take it and this is in the interests of the parties themselves and their convenience; but still the District Court has power itself to take what evidence it wants to take. 10 Bom. L.R. 586—82 B. 441. I
- (b) Where the suit was not decided on a preliminary point and the issues were tried properly by the lower Court and where nevertheless the Appellate Court considered the issues to have been defective or insufficient, it is the duty of the Court not to remand it, but to re-settle the issues and decide them itself. 14 W.R. 69. J

4.—“Refer the same for trial ”—(Concluded).

The whole case should be remanded.

An Appellate Court split up the subject matter of appeal into two parts and after remanding one part under S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859, dismissed the appeal with respect to the other part. On appeal, it was held that the proper course was to remand the case under S. 354 and upon the return of the records to dispose of the whole appeal. 1877 P.R. 82 (Civil). K

5.—“ To the Court.”

The Court which decided the case originally.

- (a) Where the lower Appellate Court failed to dispose of a certain issue, the High Court can remand for its trial to such Court. 17 A. 117. L
- (b) When issues are remitted for trial under S. 566, such issues are triable only by the Court which was originally seized of the case. A.W.N. (1907), 209=4 A.L.J. 608. M

Remand to the original Court not necessary.

An Appellate Court in remanding a case under S. 566, C.P.C., to a Court other than the Court which tried the case, cannot be said to exercise a jurisdiction not vested in it by law within the meaning of S. 622, C.P.C. 1886 P.R. 111 (Civil). N

6.—“ Shall direct....evidence required.”

- (a) A case may be remanded to the lower Court for the purpose of hearing further evidence upon a point. 10 W.R. 442. O
- (b) A case was decided on its merits but on appeal it was reversed as the suit was not properly valued and the plaintiff was allowed to bring a fresh suit. At the trial of the fresh suit the Munsiff recorded his original decree and some new evidence, which the District Judge on appeal considered to be insufficient. It was held that the case should have been remanded for additional evidence. 1 B.H.C. 166. P

7.—“ Such Court shall proceed to try such issues.”

Lower Court cannot go behind the remand order.

- (a) A Court receiving orders of remand for taking some special evidence, should confine itself to such special evidence alone. 10 W.R. 303. Q
- (b) A lower Court has no power to do more than try the remanded issue and if it had done more, it would be set aside on special appeal. Marsh 603. R

Lower Court has no power to delegate.

- (a) Where a remand is made to a Court under S. 566, C.P.C., that Court has no power to remand it to a Subordinate Court. 11 A.W.N. 205=14 A. 23. S
- (b) The Court to which remand was made must try it. It has no power to delegate. 19 A.W.N. 137. T

Lower Court cannot refer to arbitration.

- (a) A Court to which issues have been remitted under S. 566 cannot make a reference of the case to arbitration which is only within the jurisdiction of the Appellate Court. 7 A. 528=5 A.W.N. 129. U

7.—“ Such Court shall proceed to try such issues ”—(Concluded).

- (b) When the District Judge has remitted issues under S. 566 to the Court of the Assistant Collector, the latter has no authority to allow the dispute to be arbitrated. A.W.N. (1906), 221. Y

Lower Court's powers of adding parties.

After a case is remanded under S. 566, the lower Court is not competent to add parties to the suit. 20 P.L.R. 1907. W Court's powers under remand under S. 365, C.P.C.

A Court to which a case has been remanded under S. 566, C.P.C., has jurisdiction to act under S. 365, C.P.C. (i.e., can bring on record the representatives of a deceased appellant). 7 O.C. 17. X Court's powers under the remand order.

- (a) On a remand, when the High Court merely directed for the return of a finding on an issue framed by the lower Court but not tried, it was proper that the lower Court should take additional evidence though the remand order did not specially direct it. 19 M. 127. Y
- (b) Where the case was remanded for a particular finding, the lower Court need not confine itself to the evidence on record but can take fresh evidence. 20 W.R. 392. Z
- (c) The High Court assuming possession remanded a case “with instructions to pass a declaratory decree, if the act complained of was so recent and of such a nature as to entitle the plaintiff to such a decree” the lower Court has no power to try the issue on possession. 9 W.R. 880. A

On appeal under the Letters Patent, it was held that under the terms of the remand order, the lower Court had power to try the issue of possession. 11 W.R. 77. B

Procedure of the lower Court.

- (a) Where the remand is made for the trial of a new issue raised for the first time in appeal, the parties must be given opportunities in the lower Court to adduce evidence. 10 W.R. 491. C
- (b) Where a case is remanded for trial of fresh issues, the lower Court should fix a day for the reception of fresh evidence. 9 W.R. 294. D

8.—“ And shall return....and the reasons therefor ”Court's powers--General.

- (a) If, under S. 351, C.P.C. of 1859, an Appellate Court remands a case for the trial of an issue, it can keep the existing evidence on record with itself and require the lower Court to send the evidence and finding on the new issue. 14 W.R. 380. E
- (b) When a remand is made for a specific purpose, the lower Court's statement on merits of the whole case is irrelevant. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 51. F

EXAMPLE.

A District Judge on appeal reversed the decree of the lower Court but omitted to pass a decree for plaintiff, which his findings should be intended to do; on special appeal, the High Court remanded to the District Court for passing such a decree, but the successor of the former District Judge, re-opened the whole case and passed a decree against plaintiff. It was held that the decree of the District Court should be reversed and the case remanded for passing a decree in accordance with the view of the previous Judge. 3 B.H.C.A.C. 60. G

8.—“And shall return . . . and the reasons therefor”—(Concluded).Order directing the passing of a decree.

A Sub-Judge on appeal remanded a case for the trial of an issue, but instead directing to return the lower Court's finding to himself he directed the Munsiff to pass a decree. The Munsiff did so, and on appeal to the Assistant Judge it was held that he cannot go behind the order of the Sub-Judge. 19 W.R. 281. H

Finding without taking fresh evidence.

Under a remand under S. 566 the lower Court has to take evidence if the issue is a new one; but if the issue remanded were originally before the lower Court and evidence had been taken already, no fresh evidence need be taken. The lower Court will have merely to record its findings. 7 A.W.N. 192; 8 A.W.N. 81; 14 A.W.N. 158. I record in the suit and either party may, within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court¹ present² a memorandum of objections³ to any finding.

(2) After the expiration of the period so fixed for presenting such memorandum the Appellate Court shall proceed to determine⁴ the appeal.

Determination of appeal.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 567, C.P.C. of 1882.

Distinction.

The old section is practically reproduced with only very slight verbal changes.

(General).Findings to be returned to the remanding Court.

Where an order for remand under S. 566 is made by one Court, the findings should be returned to the same Court. It is not competent to transfer the appeal to another Court. 15 A. 815=18 A.W.N. 108. J

1.—“Within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court.”Time should be sufficient.

Sufficient time must be allowed to parties to file objections to the revised findings. 3 Agra 96. K

Time not fixed.

Where no time for filing objections was fixed, they may be filed at any time before hearing. 4 A.W.N. 158. L

Objections after time.

(a) Parties will not be allowed to take objections, filed after time. 5 N.W.P. 114. M

(b) After the time fixed,⁵ no party, without leave of Court, can take objection to the finding either orally or otherwise. 1 A. 165. N

I.—“Within a time fixed by the Appellate Court”—(Concluded).

Rights of party not filing memorandum in time.

- (a) A party not presenting a memorandum of objections, has no right to raise objections and insist upon being heard, in support of them, at the hearing of the appeal. But the Court can permit him to take such objections and also hear him. 1890 P.R. 27. O
- (b) A Court has discretion to receive or decline to receive any written objection preferred after time. But if the parties appear, it should hear their objections. 1889 P.R. 131. P
- (c) Where no objection was taken to the finding of the lower Court on a remand under S. 566, counsel for the respondent was permitted to question the necessity for the reference. 18 A.W.N. 119. Q
- (d) An appellant who did not file any objections in the lower Appellate Court cannot object to the findings, in the second appeal. 10 A. 28=7 A.W.N. 234. R
- (e) The terms of S. 354, O.P.C. of 1859, was merely permissive and so there was nothing in law to the effect, that an objection, taken after the time fixed, shall not be listened to. 4 N.W.P. 72. S

2.—“Present.”

The Appellate Court refused to allow the objections to be taken, when the appeal came on for final hearing. 9 W.R. 438. T

3.—“Memorandum of objections.”

The findings on issues remanded by the High Court on second appeal cannot be challenged upon the evidence as in first appeals, but objections to these, must be restricted to the limits within which the original pleas in second appeal are confined. 7 A. 765 5 A.W.N. 225. U

4.—“Shall proceed to determine.”

Lower Court's finding need not be accepted—Duty of Appellate Court.

- (a) An Appellate Court is not only not bound to accept the finding of the lower Court on a remanded issue, though no objection had been filed under S. 567, but is not relieved of all responsibility for the correctness and reasonableness of such a finding. P.J.L.B. (1898-1900), p. 508. Y
- (b) Even if there be no memorandum of objections, the Appellate Court has the duty of seeing to the correctness of the finding on issues on remand by the lower Court at the time of the hearing of the appeal. 20 M. 496; 22 M. 844. W
- (c) The duty of the Appellate Court is to examine and test the lower Court's findings on remand. This duty cannot be shirked on the ground that no objections were taken. 2 A. 908; 4 A.W.N. 127=6 A. 883. X
- (d) Though no written objection was filed in time, the Appellate Court should, upon hearing of the remand, allow the party filing them, to be heard with regard to them—because the duty of the Appellate Court is to examine and test the findings of the lower Court. 6 A. 861=4 A.W.N. 129; 6 A. 883=4 A.W.N. 127. Y
- (e) An Appellate Court is not competent to alter such of the finding, in respect of which no objection is preferred within the time fixed. 1 Agra 50. Z
- (f) Where a party fails to file a memorandum of objections, the Appellate Court is not at liberty to decide the case ex parte without considering the evidence. 15 W.R. 235. A 4.—“Shall proceed to determine”—(Concluded).

Whole case should be gone into.

- (a) An Appellate Court, which remanded a suit for decision of the substantial part of the claim, should not have confirmed the decision of the lower Court regarding only one part of the claim. 8 W.R. 303. B
- (b) After the return of findings the Appellate Court should deal with the whole appeal and not, with the returned findings alone. 7 A.W.N. 295 = 10 A. 162. C

27. (1) The parties to an appeal shall not be entitled¹ to produce additional evidence, whether oral or documentary, in the Appellate Court.² But if—
 Production of additional evidence in Appellate Court.

(a) the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has refused to admit evidence³ which ought to have been admitted, or

(b) the Appellate Court requires any document to be produced⁴ or any witness to be examined⁵ to enable it to pronounce judgment, or for any other substantial cause⁶

the Appellate Court may allow⁷ such evidence or document to be produced, or witness to be examined.

(2) Wherever additional evidence is allowed to be produced by an Appellate Court, the Court shall record the reason⁸ for its admission.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 568 of the old Act.

Distinction.

This rule is practically a re-production of the old section with a few mere verbal changes.

(General).

Principle.

- (a) Where by inadvertance, mistake or accident, evidence is not let in by a party in the lower Court, the Appellate Court, if it considers that he is likely to be prejudiced thereby, can allow fresh evidence to be taken. 15 W.R. 507. D
- (b) The occasion for the application of S. 568 is, when, on examining the evidence as it stands, some inherent defect becomes apparent and not where new evidence is discovered. 3 M.L.T. 308 = 31 M. 114; 11 C.W. N. 721 = 6 C.L.J. 5 = 4 A.L.J. 461 = 9 Bom. L. R. 671 = 17 M.L.J. 847 = 31 B. 881 = 2 M.L.T. 436 (P.C.). E
- (c) The power of taking additional evidence on appeal must be sparingly exercised by the Appellate Court. 1 C.L.J. 550. F

(General)—(Concluded).

Application of the section.

- (a) Where, in the opinion of the Appellate Court, evidence is insufficient, it should proceed in the manner stated in S. 354 to 357, C.P.C. of 1859. 15 W.R. 314; W.R. (1864), 296. G
- (b) When a case has been partially decided on the merits, it is ordinarily right for the Appellate Court to keep the case on its own file and record itself the extra evidence required under r. 27; but in cases in which the points decided bear a small proportion to the questions left to be decided, and especially if the decided and the undecided matter could be kept apart, then a remand under S. 562 is not absolutely prohibited. 12 C.P.L.R. 119. H

When evidence should not be admitted.

- (a) The Appellate Court should not admit fresh evidence though it is material and important if it was not produced in the lower Court. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 54. I
- But the High Court will not reverse a decision merely on the ground of improper admission of evidence by the lower Appellate Court. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 54. J
- (b) Where the lower Appellate Court allows additional evidence, though it is not satisfied with the necessity for such, the High Court will interfere. 11 C. 139. K

Refusal of Court to exercise discretion.

The refusal by an Appellate Court to exercise discretion vested in it by S. 568, C.P.C., with respect to the admission of additional evidence would be an error or defect in procedure within the meaning of S. 584, C.P.C. But a refusal to admit additional evidence, in the exercise of discretion, is not such an error. 21 A.W.N. 11—23 A. 121; on appeal from 20 A.W.N. 195. L

Appeal.

No appeal lies from the order of a Judge directing a local investigation by an Ameen. 7 W.R. 425. M

Ex parte decisions—Appellate Court's power.

- (a) Where adjournment was refused and the suit was decided ex parte, the Appellate Court cannot remand under rule 28, as the suit was decided on its merits, but should proceed under rule 27. 17 B. 728. N
- (b) This rule gives discretion to the Appellate Court to receive evidence upon issues of facts which had been tried in the Court of the first instance. It does not apply to an appeal against the order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree—where, in such appeal, the appellant sought to file an affidavit which he failed to file below. 17 W.R. 890. O

1.—“Shall not be entitled.”

Discretion of Court.

The lower Appellate Court has discretion to allow additional evidence, if the interests of justice require that course. 24 W.R. 825. P

1.—“Shall not be entitled”—(Concluded).Time for making application.

An application to give additional evidence should be made when the case first comes before the Appellate Court. It is too late to make it when the case has been remanded and has come back for final disposal. 3 B.H.C.A.C. 116 at p. 123. Q

Evidence not produced in the lower Court.

- (a) Evidence, which the applicant refused to produce in the lower Court, should not be allowed to be produced before the Appellate Court. 12 B. 247. R
- (b) Omission to call evidence in the lower Court will not entitle a party to call it in the appellate Court. 10 W.R. 402; 9 A. 366. S

EXAMPLE.

A certificate of sale was rejected in the lower Court for want of registration. On appeal the party wanted to produce a new registered certificate of sale relating to the same land but issued after the decision of the lower Court. It was held that it should not be received in evidence. 12 B.H.C. 247. T

2.—“In the Appellate Court.”

The Privy Council should not lightly admit fresh evidence. 3 B.L.R. (P.C.) 25. U

3.—“Has refused to admit evidence.”Refusal to admit evidence.

- (a) Where the lower Court's decree is reversed on the ground of exclusion of evidence, the case should not be remanded under S. 562, but should be dealt with under Ss. 568 and 569, C.P.C. 23 M. 447. V
- (b) Where a Court referred the matter in dispute to a Commissioner for taking evidence and acted upon it rejecting further evidence offered by the parties, the Appellate Court should not remand the case under S. 562, but should have acted either under S. 566 or 568, C.P.C. 1 Bom. L.R. 110. W
- (c) Where only a few of the witnesses summoned were not present and the party wanted an adjournment which was refused and the case was decided, it was held that, on appeal, the Court can remand the case for re-trial. 7 A.W.N. 145. X
- (d) Fifteen witnesses were present and the Court refused to summon five more witnesses though it adjourned the case. It was held to be sufficient reason for the Appellate Court to summon those witnesses and take their evidence. 22 W.R. 269. Y

Reason for exclusion.

A lower Court should not exclude evidence because, in its opinion, the evidence on record is sufficient. In such a case the Appellate Court should not refuse to receive the evidence. 23 W.R. 68. Z

An unadmitted document allowed to remain on record.

A document was rejected as inadmissible by the lower Court but was allowed to remain on the record. It was held to be not evidence in the Appellate Court, unless it was tendered as evidence and accepted by it. 14 A. 356. A

4.—“Requires any document to be produced.”

- (a) The Appellate Court should not send for and admit fresh documentary evidence which has not been put in by either party in the lower Court. 10 W.R. 92. B
- (b) A document may be allowed by the Appellate Court to be produced in evidence, but it should take evidence as to its genuineness. 19 W.R. 88. C

5.—“Any witness to be examined.”

- (a) Where a party had an opportunity to call witnesses in the lower Court but omitted to call them, an Appellate Court ought not to allow him to call witnesses on appeal. If it so allows, then, the evidence so taken is not legal evidence and is irrelevant. S.C. 241. D
- (b) Where a defendant was not examined properly by the lower Court, the lower Appellate Court, in order to pronounce a satisfactory judgment, may examine the defendant under S. 355, C.P.C. of 1859. But before doing so, it should record reasons. 18 W.R. 85. E

6.—“For any other substantial cause.”Test for allowing evidence.

- (a) The test to be applied by the Appellate Court in admitting new evidence is whether such Court requires the evidence “to enable it to pronounce judgment or for any other substantial cause”, and as to this the Appellate Court is to be the sole Judge. 21 C. 484. F
- (b) Allowing fresh evidence for the purpose of proper decision of the case is sufficient reason. 8 B.L.R.A.C. 218; 12 W.R. 224 (note). G

Evidence allowed on sufficient cause.

- (a) If plaintiff is present, the lower Appellate Court may examine him if it considers his evidence material. 13 W.R. 328. H
- (b) Where, in the lower Court, evidence has been admitted improperly, and the Appellate Court considers it proper to allow the plaintiff to adduce fresh evidence, it can do so. W.R. (F.B.) 124. I
- (c) Where the lower Appellate Court admitted a review for taking into consideration a material issue, it could allow also the admission of fresh evidence on the point. 12 W.R. 228. J
- (d) At the close of plaintiff's case, the Munsiff said that he would dismiss plaintiff's suit, and that the defendant need not examine any witness. On appeal, the Court decreed plaintiff's claim, upon the evidence and also upon the fact that the defendant had adduced no evidence. Under the circumstances, it was held that the case ought to be remanded for retrial and the defendant allowed to produce his evidence. A.W.N. (1905) 266. K

7.—“The Appellate Court may allow.”When the Court will not allow new evidence.

- (a) Where the plaintiff-appellant had deliberately declined to produce any evidence in the lower Court, he cannot be allowed on appeal to produce evidence. 51 P.R. 1905=119 P.L.R. 1905. L
- (b) An Appellate Court was not bound to receive in evidence, a document which had been withheld in the lower Court. 2 A.W.N. 5. M

7.—“The Appellate Court may allow”—(Concluded).How to exercise Court's discretion.

- (a) Where evidence taken in the lower Court is insufficient, the Appellate Court ought not to reverse the Munsiff's decree without first exercising its powers, under S. 355, C.P.C. of 1859, of taking additional evidence. 6 B.H.C.A.C. 88. N
- (b) Court has discretion to allow fresh evidence; only it should give proper reasons for allowing it. 25 W.R. 246. O
- (c) Circumstances under which an Appellate Court will not allow the production of fresh evidence at the hearing of the appeal are mentioned in. 15 C. 765. P

8.—“The Court shall record the reason.”Reasons must be given.

- (a) The power given by this rule should be exercised by the High Court very sparingly; and when exercised, reasons for doing so should always be recorded. 7 W.R.(P.C.) 10=11 M.I.A. 29; 7 W.R. (P.C.) 21=11 M.I.A. 345; 10 W.R. 228; 10 W.R. 378. Q
- (b) Additional evidence cannot be admitted in appeal without some substantial reason being recorded in the proceedings. 7 W.R. 318. R
- (c) An appellate Judge sending for a map or other document should record reasons and admit it openly in Court before parties. S. 355, C.P.C., of 1859 does not give him discretion to send for a document for his personal inspection. 21 W.R. 416. S
- (d) A document not produced before the lower Court was produced before the Appellate Court, and though not marked as an exhibit, it was relied on by the Appellate Court which also did not comply with the requirements of S. 568, C.P.C., for admitting additional evidence. It was held that the document was inadmissible. 6 C.W.N. 31. T
- (e) Where a case is remanded under S. 354 to the lower Appellate Court, it may under S. 355, C.P.C. of 1859, take evidence provided it records reasons. 24 W.R. 20. U

Recording reason not imperative.

- (a) The provision of recording reasons is merely directory and not imperative. 12 C. 37. Y
- (b) The provision of this rule as to recording, though not a condition precedent to the reception of fresh evidence, is one that ought, at all times, to be strictly complied with. 7 W.R. (P.C.) 21=11 M.I.A. 345; 7 W.R. (P.C.) 10=11 M.I.A. 28; 3 I.A. 259=26 W.R. 55; 11 W.R. 6; 12 W.R. 52; 11 W.R. 47. W
- (c) The lower Appellate Court should state most fully and clearly the reasons for admitting fresh evidence. 12 W.R. 245; but it would be sufficient in law if the Court considered the matter and stated that good reasons existed, without mentioning what they were. 12 W.R. 245; contra see 14 W.R. 19. X
- (d) If the Court records that the examination of a certain person is necessary, it is sufficient recording under the law. 13 W.R. 328. Y

8.—“The Court shall record the reason”—(Concluded).Omission to record reasons.

- (a) Where the Appellate Court merely omits to record the reason for admission of fresh evidence, the High Court will not interfere. 11 O. 189. Z
- (b) Where Appellate Court took evidence before the parties, it should not be rejected on appeal, merely because the Court omitted to record its reasons for admitting it. 13 W.R. 303. A

No proper reason for admission.

Additional evidence should not be admitted if it does not come under the special grounds stated in S. 568, C.P.C. The fact that, if admitted, it will prove a certain issue in one party's favour, is not a valid ground for its admission. 1 O.C. 199. B

Admission of evidence after adjournment.

Where it was objected that the lower Appellate Court had wrongly admitted further evidence in the case after an adjournment: it was held that there was nothing wrong in that, and that the Appellate Court should, as a rule, sparingly admit additional evidence. U.B.R. (1897-1901), 309. C

28. Wherever additional evidence is allowed to be produced, the Appellate Court may either take such evidence or direct the Court¹ from whose decree the appeal is preferred, or any other subordinate Court² to take such evidence and to send it when taken to the Appellate Court.

Mode of taking additional evidence.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 569 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word 'received' the word 'produced' is substituted.

(General).Principle.

In remands involving the taking of evidence, the practice of the District Court is to ask the lower Court to take it, and this is in the interests of the parties themselves and their convenience; but still the District Court has power itself to make what evidence it wants to take. 10 Bom. L.R. 580-82 B. 441. D

Case where Court has no jurisdiction to take fresh evidence.

When an application for sanction to prosecute comes before the District Judge on appeal from the District Munsiff, the District Judge has no jurisdiction to direct the Munsiff to take fresh evidence. 2 M.L.T. 84-17 M.L.J. 128-5 Or. L.J. 288-80 M. 311. E

Appeal.

No appeal lies from an order of a Judge remanding an appeal case under S. 263, C.P.C. of 1859, to the Court below for further investigation as to the facts. Marsh 469-2 Hay 591.

*1.—“Direct the Court.”Lower Court's powers.

A lower Court in taking evidence under S. 355, C.P.C. of 1859 acts in a ministerial capacity. 2 W.R. 80. G

Appellate Court may authorise lower Court to take evidence.

- (a) An Appellate Court may direct the lower Court to take evidence upon a particular point and may admit it as legally taken. 18 M. 94. H
- (b) Where evidence on record is not sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce judgment, it may require the lower Court to take additional evidence. 2 B.H.C. 64, 2nd Ed., 61. I
- (c) Where the Appellate Court thinks that further evidence should be taken upon an issue, it may take itself or ask the lower Court to take it, but it is not competent to remand it for a second decision upon the issue. 11 W.R. 35. J

2.—“Any other subordinate Court.”

On second appeal, the High Court remanded the case to the lower Appellate Court for trial of a certain issue and the lower Court took evidence and came to a finding. It was held that the lower Appellate Court tried the case, not as a original case, but as an appeal and that it took evidence under the powers given to it under S. 568, C.P.C. 24 C. 98. K

29. Where additional evidence is directed or allowed to be taken, the Appellate Court shall specify the points¹ to which the evidence is to be confined, and record on its proceedings the points so specified.

Points to be defined and recorded.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 570 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words ‘in all cases’ have been deleted from this rule.

1.—“Shall specify the points.”

Where an Appellate Court requires additional evidence to be taken by the lower Court, it shall define the points to which such evidence is to be confined. 2 B.H.C. 64, 2nd Ed., 61; 9 W.R. 127. L

Judgment in appeal.

30. The Appellate Court, after hearing the parties or their pleaders¹ and referring to any part of the proceedings² whether on appeal or in the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, to which reference may be considered necessary, shall pronounce judgment³ in open Court,⁴ either at once or on some future day, of which notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders.

Judgment when and where pronounced.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 571 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The words "against" and "made" are altered into "from" and "preferred" respectively. L1

1.—"After hearing the parties or their pleaders."

1.—Hearing.

- (a) The parties or their pleaders must be permitted to submit the evidence on the record and to comment on it. 15 W.R. 54. M
- (b) The appellants are generally restricted to their written grounds of appeal and they are not at liberty to infer separate points from vague generalities. 3 W.R. 123. N
- (c) The Court need not notice a written ground of appeal, not referred to during the hearing of the appeal. 15 W.R. 296. O
- (d) An objection that no appeal would lie could not be entertained after the argument was over. 18 W.R. 218. P
- (e) An Appellate Court, having framed fresh issues and remanded the case for findings after evidence had been taken, was not absolved from hearing the appeal, by reason of the absence of a memorandum of objections. 22 M. 844. Q
- (f) An Appellate Court has jurisdiction to hear the appeal not merely on the points on which the Judges of the Division Bench differed, but also on other points raised in the appeal. 11 M.L.J. 10. R

2.—Senior pleader.

The senior pleader has entire control of the appeal. 12 W.R. 875. S

3.—Objections not taken in the first Court.

- (a) Such objections which might have been cured if taken in the lower Court ought not to be taken in the Court of appeal. 3 I.A. 229 at p. 242; 20 C. 1. See, however, 2 M. 846; 12 M. 358; 15 B. 407; 18 B. 118. T
- (b) It is not proper for an Appellate Court to raise an issue in appeal not raised in the original Court. 17 W.R. 407; 7 W.R. 61; 11 I.A. 109 at p. 120; 4 C.L.R. 52; but see 11 I.A. 186, p. 198. U
- (c) The appellants will not be permitted to argue in appeal on points not raised in the Court below. 12 C. 239. V
- (d) Nor can they be allowed to make a new case for themselves in appeal. 2 B. 685. W

4.—Grounds set up for the first time in appeal.

(i) Principle.

- (a) Care should be taken that injustice is not done by interpreting the pleadings too strictly. 12 I.A. 47 (51). X
- (b) An Appellate Court ought not to decide the case on a new point, ignoring the original question treated as important in the Court below. 2 W.R. 2. Y

1.—“After hearing the parties or their pleaders”—(Concluded).

4.—Grounds set up for the first time in appeal—(Concluded).

(c) The Appellate Court can take cognizance of a defence raised in the grounds of appeal though not raised in the first Court. 11 I.A. 186. Z

(d) Or of a title in support of the claim. 14 C. 592. A

(ii) Practice—New issue in appeal.

As to the procedure to be adopted when a new issue is raised in appeal, see 17 W.R. 361. B

(iii) Not allowed.

(a) An objection as to the misjoinder of causes of action. 16 A. 130. C

(b) or non-joinder of parties. 14. M. 498; 18 A. 109. D

(c) or misjoinder of co-plaintiffs. 16 B. 120. E

(d) or misjoinder as co-defendants. 18 B. 113. F

(e) or as granting of a declaratory decree where the suit was argued on the merits. 15 B. 697. G

(iv) Allowed—Raising a new ground.

(a) Where the plaintiff has failed to prove the basis of his claim, e.g., notice to quit. 2 M. 346; 12 M. 353; 15 B. 407; 19 I.A. 191; 9 C.W.N. 460; 18 B. 113. H

(b) Where the points raised are as to jurisdiction. 1 W.R. 259; 4 C.L.R. 491; 9 M. 112; 11 M. 197; 22 C. 483. I

(c) or as to limitation. 2 W.R. 45. J

(d) or as to res-judicata, 4 A. 69, Marsh 276; 3 W.R. 146; but see 3 M. 116. K

(e) or as to the fact that the cause of action did not accrue to plaintiff. 6 B.L. R. 73; 2 A. 884; but see 1 W.R. 23; 11 W.R. 350; 11 W.R. 248. L

2.—“Referring to any part of the proceedings.”

General.

(a) An Appellate Court should not interfere with findings against which appeal is not made. 16 W.R. 300; 15 W.R. 227; 14 W.R. 196; 6 C.L.R. 267; 9 C. 635; 5 A.H.C. 20; but see 1 B.L.R. 25. M

(b) Evidence admitted in the lower Court should not be rejected. 1 W.R. 12; 2 W.R. 237; 23 W.R. 170; 25 W.R. 80; 25 W.R. 168; 6 C. 666. N

(c) It cannot decide the case upon the allegations contained in the plaint disregarding the evidence recorded. 1 W.R. 199. O

(d) It cannot dismiss the suit merely on account of irregularity in the framing of the suit. 25 W.R. 417; 15 W.R. 465. P

(e) The result of a local investigation or inquiry by the lower Court ought not to be lightly interfered with. 15 W.R. 423; 18 W.R. 452. Q

(f) So also the lower Court's discretion as to costs. W.R. (1864), 146; 8 Bom. H.C. 100; 8 Bom. H.C. 142; 1 M.H.C. 74. R

3.—“Shall pronounce judgment.”

(1) General.

(a) The presumption is generally in favour of the judgment of the lower Court provided it is not shown to be wrong. 15 W.R. 228; 25 W.R. 80; 11 I.A. 181; 129 P.R. 1907. S

3.—“Shall pronounce judgment”—(Concluded).

- (b) Acting on the probabilities of the stories and inferring from the conduct of the parties disregarding in toto the evidence duly recorded in the suit, is not a safe maxim. 11 I. A. 177; see, however, L.B.R., Vol. II (1893-1900), p. 64. T
- (c) It is an error in law to disbelieve witnesses believed by the original Court, in the absence of sufficient grounds for doing so. 25 W.R. 363; 14 W.R. 58; 25 W.R. 50; L.B.R. (1872-1892), Vol. I, p. 314. U
- (d) Nor can the Appellate Court believe a witness whose testimony was declared to be unworthy of credit because of his questionable demeanour in the box. 25 W.R. 26. Y
- (e) But this does not in any way lessen the duty of an Appellate Court, viz., of weighing conflicting evidence and drawing its own inferences and conclusions or of examining the whole evidence and forming for itself an opinion of the case. 10 I.A. 436; 16 I.A. 205; 11 A. 160; 4 I.A. 481; The Giannibanta (1876) 1 P.D. 287; Smith v. Chadwick, 9 A.C. 187; Digbey v. Dickinson (1876) 4 C.D. 28; Annual Practice, Vol. I (1908), p. 848; see, however, 8 I.A. 477; 17 C. 882; 17 I.A. 70; 1 Hyde 105; 8 I.A. 90; 1 Hyde 123; 21 W.R. 436. W
- (f) The Appellate Court ought to state its own views of the case, whether it has been remanded under rule 23 or dealt with under rule 26, 8 C.L.R. 597; 8 B. 28; 8 A. 288; 6 A. 391; see, however, 2 A. 908. X
- (g) Unless an Appellate Court can say that the finding of the lower Court is entirely against the evidence, it should support that Court's finding. 28 P.R. 1873; but see 7 P.R. 1874. Y

(2) Judgment, when pronounced—Death of appellant.

When an appellant dies before the hearing of the appeal and his representative is not placed on the record, the decree passed by the Appellate Court is a nullity. 4 Bom. L.R. 23—26 B. 317; see, however, 19 B. 307. Z

(3) Effect of judgment.

When the Appellate Court reversed the decree of the first Court on appreciation of evidence, the judgment of the Appellate Court must be accepted as superseding entirely the judgment of the first Court. It cannot be looked at simply as a mere collateral opinion. L.B.R. Vol. I (1872-1892), p. 540. A

4.—“In open Court.”

See notes under heading “in open Court,” O.P.O., Vol. II, p. 429, supra.

judgment.

31. The judgment of the Appellate Court shall be in writing and shall state—

- (a) the points for determination;¹
 (b) the decision thereon;²
 (c) the reasons for the decision;³ and
 (d) where the decree appealed from is reversed⁴ or varied the relief to which the appellant is entitled;

and shall at the time that it is pronounced be signed and dated by the Judge or by the Judges concurring therein.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 574 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The words "shall be in writing and" are new. The words "thereupon" is changed into "thereon" in (b). The word "against" is altered as "from" in (d).

(General).(1) Object of the rule.

- (a) The rule was intended to guard against such failure of justice as might arise from the defective or arbitrary exercise of the extensive powers possessed by the Court of first appeal, in cases which, with reference to their nature, would be proper subjects of second appeal. 7 A. 649. B
- (b) The object of the legislature in making it incumbent by the rule on an Appellate Court to raise points for determination, is to clear up the pleadings and focus the attention of the Court and of the parties on the specific and rival contentions of the latter. 7 Bom. L. R. 174. C

(2) Construction of the rule.

- (a) The rule is imperative. The reasons for the decision must be clearly stated. 17 B. 428; 8 O.C. 290; 19 B. 551; 4 M.L.J. 236. D
- (b) The rule makes it incumbent upon an Appellate Court to set down distinctly the point or points on which it has to decide the appeal, and record its reasons for the decision it arrives at in each and all of these points. 15 W.R. 130; 15 W.R. 324. E

(3) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The imperative provisions of the rule apply alike to cases remanded by the first Appellate Court for the trial of issues and to those in which no such remand has taken place. 2 A. 908; 6 A. 383; L.B.R. (1898-1900), Vol. II, p. 503. F
- (b) The rule is not applicable in its entirety to the case of an appeal dismissed under O. XLII, r. 11. A.W.N. (1908), 115=5 A.L.J. 300=30 A. 319; see, however, 25 C. 97. G
- (c) The rule must be complied with, even when the appeal is summarily dismissed without notice to the respondent. 45 P.R. 1875. H

(4) Contents of judgment.

- (a) The judgment must contain the points for determination, the decision thereupon, and the reasons therefor. 11 W.R. 34; 25 C. 97; 8 O.C. 290; (12 C. 199, D.; 9 A. 26; 20 M. 496; 17 B. 428; 8 O.C. 44, R.); S.C. 108; 72 P.R. 1890; 2 P.R. 1898. I
- (b) The judgment should show, on the face of it, that the points in dispute were clearly before the mind of the Judge, and that he exercised his own discrimination in deciding them. 22 M. 12=8 M.L.J. 188; 22 M. 344; U.B.R. (1905), Civil Procedure, 34; 6 A.W.N. 171. J

(5) Duty of Appellate Court.

- (a) The Appellate Court must deal with each ground of appeal and record distinct findings on questions of fact. 4 M.H.C. 56. K

(General)—(Continued).

- (b) An Appellate Court should take notice of all the specific objections argued before it. 8 W.R. 272. L
- (c) It is not enough for the Appellate Court, merely to say that it concurs or disagrees with the lower Court. 8 O.C. 290; 22 M. 12; 16 B. 477. M
- (d) An Appellate Court is not bound to discuss seriatim the arguments adduced by a lower Court in support of its judgment. 1 B.L.R. 2; 16 W.R. 15; 12 W.R. 162; see however, 21 W.R. 260. N
- (e) The Appellate Court is not obliged by law to state in detail the reasons previously recited in the judgment of the first Court in which it concurs. 15 W.R. 54; 28 P.R. 1886. O
- (f) The judgment need not contain a review or setting forth of the whole of the evidence. 11 W.R. 84. P
- (6) Judgment not in conformity with the rule.

(i) DEFECT OF.

- (a) A judgment, not in conformity with the rule, is illegal and defective. 1 Agra 78; 11 W.R. 588; 6 P.R. 1870. Q
- (b) When the appellate judgment took no notice in its decision of a large quantity of evidence of very considerable importance, and gave no reasons for agreeing with the Court of first instance that the evidence in question had very little connection with the case, its judgment was held to be illegal. 11 W.R. 312. R
- (c) The mere concurrence with the first Court's judgment without giving any opinion at all is defective. 5 M.H.C. 174; 40 P.R. 1878. S
- (d) The finding of an Appellate Court unaccompanied by reasons is not conclusive. 8 B. 368; 9 B. 527; see, however, 8 B. 371. T

(ii) EXAMPLES.

- (a) "The appeal is dismissed with costs." 11 C.L.R. 181. U
- (b) In an appeal from a decree in a suit for money due on a mortgage by conditional sale, the following judgment was passed:—"The lower Court's judgment is in accordance with the evidence on the record. Appellant relies on a decree of the High Court which has never been executed. This appeal is dismissed with costs." A.W.N. (1906) 86. Y
- (c) The District Judge on appeal wrote:—"Defendants appeal against this decree on many grounds, including a plea that, if they are turned out from here, they will have nowhere to go and live. The only questionable part of the Township Judge's decision seems to me to be the finding that appellant's possession was adverse. With the rest, I am in complete agreement and I dismiss this appeal with costs." 11 Bur. L.R. 59; 14 Bur. L. R. 156; (16 C. 478, F.). W
- (d) A decision merely stating "the execution of the defendant's deed of sale is proved and the Munsiff is altogether mistaken in alleging that there were any erasures in it." 11 W.R. 588. X
- (e) "The Munsiff's decision is fair and equitable." 4 M.H.C. 56. Y
- (f) "The defence was ridiculous or absurd" without giving any reason. 6 W.R. 21. Z
- (g) "That the claim is absurd" "or there was any proof of first claim." Marsh 392. A

(General)—(Continued).

(ii) EXAMPLES—(Concluded).

- (h) The appellate judgment confirming the judgment of the first Court ran thus "the decision which seems to me an excellent one is confirmed with costs and interest against the appellant." 3 W.R. 198; 2 N.W.P. 109; 2 W.R. 142; 15 W.R. 130; 15 W.R. 324; see, however, 15 W.R. 54; 25 W.R. 12; 10 W.R. 100; 11 W.R. 318. B
- (i) "I concur in the decision which the District Munsiff has given on each point. The judgment of the lower Court is confirmed for the reasons therein set forth and this appeal is dismissed with costs." 22 M. 12=8 M.L.J. 183. C
- (j) "I see no reason to interfere with the judgment of the lower Court based on facts. The legal quibbles raised in the appeal are not worth considering. Appeal dismissed with costs against appellants." L.B.R. (1902), p. 204; (9 A. 26, R.). D
- (k) "There can, I think, be no doubt that the lower Court has rightly decided in favour of the plaintiff-respondent. The pleas put forward in appeal are merely a repetition of the reply to the suit and are satisfactorily disposed of in the lower Court's judgment. Of the two stories, the plaintiff's is by far the most probable and the evidence in his favour is more trustworthy than that adduced by defendant-appellant; I dismiss the appeal with costs." 6 A.W.N. 285. E
- (l) "The suit appears to me to be a bit of wanton litigation. I cannot find anything tangible upon which the claim is grounded; the appeal is dismissed with costs." 2 A.W.N. 158. F
- (m) "The point to be determined is whether or not the decision is consistent with the merits of the case. This Court having considered the evidence on the record and the judgment of the Munsiff, concurs with the lower Court. The witnesses allege the possession of their respective parties. The disputes in the Revenue Courts afford evidence favourable to the plaintiff. The finding arrived at by the Munsiff is consistent with the evidence; hence the appeal fails." 9 A. 26=6 A.W. N. 284. G
- (n) "It appeared from the judgment of the lower Court that plaintiffs had a superior right to the defendants to succeed to the land in dispute, and the lower Court having recorded judgment after conducting inquiry, he saw no reason to interfere with the order of that Court." 91 P.R. 1882. H

(7) Affirmation of the decision of the original Court—Effect of.

The mere affirmation of the decision of the lower Court does not involve the adoption by the Appellate Court of the first Court's view of the oral testimony. 7 W.R. 137. I

(8) Finding on unnecessary issues.

The absence in the rule of a proviso like the one found in O. XX, r. 5, does not make it imperative on an Appellate Court to record its finding or decision on every point where it is really unnecessary to do so. This order contains nothing which may be construed as expressly taking away the power of an Appellate Court to record its findings on all the points argued before it. O. XX, r. 5, may apply to appeals. 9 C.W. N. 60. J

(9) Dismissal of appeal—Effect of.

The dismissal of an appeal under r. 11 by a Court whose decision may be the subject of an appeal does not relieve the Court from the necessity of writing a judgment in accordance with the rule. 25 C. 97; see, however, A.W.N. (1908), 115. K

(10) Second appeal.

(a) The bare fact that a judge has not given the reasons for his judgment is not in itself a ground of special appeal. 12 W.R. 152; 12 W.R. 272; 12 C. 199, unless it can be shown that the judgment has failed to determine any material issue of law. 12 C. 199; but see 9 A. 26. L

(b) A judgment of a Court of first appeal which falls short of due compliance with the various clauses of the rule, is essentially defective and may properly be made the subject of complaint in second appeal. 7 A. 649; (9 C. 809; 10 C. 932; 11 C.L.R. 104; 1882 A.W.N. 104; 1882 A.W.N. 158, R.); 19 B. 323. As to the practice followed in such cases, see 21 W.R. 260; 18 W.R. 473; 20 W.R. 403; 10 C. 932. M

(11) Remand.

(a) The judgment, merely recording a general assent to a first Court's finding, is a fit ground for remand. 4 M.H.C. 56 (note); 8 W.R. 272. N

(b) So, also, a judgment omitting to record decisions on material points. 7 B.L.R. 14; 15 W.R. 181; (1877) Select Case, Part X, No. 57; 153 P. L.R. 1908 = 1 P.W.R., p. 69. O

(c) The omission to give reasons for reversing the decision of the first Court is a good ground for an application to the High Court to require the lower Appellate Court to set forth the reasons for its judgment. 12 W.R. 152. As to when such an omission is a ground for remand, see 20 W.R. 403. P

(d) Where the lower Appellate Court omits to give reasons for its decision, the High Court will retain the case in second appeal, and either require the Judge to state his reasons, or, in the event of his absence, refer the case to his successor for re-trial. 10 C. 932. Q

(e) When the judgment of the Appellate Court does not substantially comply with the requirements of the rule, the proper procedure is to make an order setting aside the decree and remanding the case to be disposed of according to law. 20 M. 496; 22 M. 12; 25 C. 97; 17 B. 428; 19 B. 551; 7 M.L.J. 238; 3 M.L.T. 71; see, however, 4 M.H.C. 174. R

(f) The meagreness of the judgment can only warrant a remand when it does not show that the Court has considered the evidence. 16 W.R. 15; 21 W.R. 200. S

(g) In a case decided on pure questions of fact, endorsing the opinion of the lower Court without giving detailed reasons, is not in itself a ground for remand. 10 W.R. 100; 11 W.R. 318. T

(12) Addition to judgment.

A Judge may append to his judgment additional reasons to show more clearly the correctness of his decision. 7 W.R. 286. U

(General)—(Concluded).

(13) S. 99, Act V of 1908 (C.P.C.).

Non-compliance with the rule regarding the contents of the judgment of an Appellate Court is an irregularity not covered by S. 99. 8 A.W.N. 61; 2 A.W.N. 158; 9 A. 26=6 A.W.N. 284; 6 A.W.N. 285; 6 A.W.N. 171; 9 A.W.N. 178; 4 A.W.N. 99. Y

(14) Mandatory part of the judgment.

The—in the case of a judgment of an Appellate Court is the matter mentioned in cl. (d) of the rule, viz., the relief to which the appellant is entitled. S.C. 262; 3 O.C. 279. W

1.—“The points for determination.”

The Appellate Courts must necessarily raise proper issues, before the appeal is argued, because they narrow the points in controversy and leave little or no room for complaint in second appeals. 10 Bom. L. R. 692. X

2.—“The decision thereon.”

- (a) The judgment should clearly and fully dispose of all the points in issue between the parties by a distinct finding on each of them. 3 W.R. 192; 2 N.W.P. 109; 2 W.R. 142. Y
- (b) A judgment should contain the issues correctly framed according to the pleadings and the examination of the parties and a definite finding upon each issue upon which a decision is required for the disposal of the appeal. L.B.R. (1898-1900), Vol. II, p. 1. Z

3.—“The reasons for the decision.”

- (a) The words mean not the reasons for coming to any conclusion of fact, but the reasons showing upon what points of fact or law the decision runs. 12 W.R. 272. A
- (b) The judgment should state clearly the reasons for the conclusions therein contained. 1 W.R. 214; 1 W.R. 244; 2 W.R. 77; 18 W.R. 478; 3 W.R. 126; 3 W.R. 176; 16 W.R. 280; 4 W.R. 4; 4 W.R. 100; 4 Bom. H.C. 109; 4 Bom. H.C. 105; 1 B.L.R. 2; 17 B. 428; L.B.R., Vol. II (1898-1900), p. 590; L.B.R. (1898-1900), Vol. II, p. 343; 100 P.R. 1879; 91 P.R. 1882. B
- (c) An Appellate Court confirming generally the order of the Court below, is bound to give reasons for deciding a specific point raised before it on appeal. 8 W.R. 340. C
- (d) A Judge, having remanded a case for further evidence to be taken and a fresh finding recorded on a question of fact, is bound to examine the correctness of the finding, and to state in his judgment the reasons for which he either accepts or rejects it. 20 M. 496; 22 M. 344. D
- (e) An Appellate Court, in the absence of any admission by the party against whom the issues have been found, is bound to form its own opinion on the evidence and record its findings with the reasons for them. 19 B. 551; 3 W.R. 126; 3 W.R. 192; 4 W.R. 4; 7 W.R. 187; 8 W. R. 240; but see 15 W.R. 54; 25 W.R. 12. E
- (f) The District Judge must give reasons for the order holding the appeal as barred. 9 B. 452. F
- (g) The judgments of High Courts must contain the reasons for their decisions. 2 B.L.R. 72; 11 W.R. 38; 12 I.A. 495; 12 I. A. 502; 6 A. 388; but see 9 A. 98=6 A.W.N. 302. G

4. "Where the decree--reversed."

Reasons should be assigned for reversing the decision of a lower Court. 2 B.L. R. 20; 17 W.R. 358; 21 W.R. 284; 4 W.R. 100; 2 W.R. 77; 1 C.W. N. 691; 16 B. 510; L.B.R. (1872-1892), Vol. I, p. 663; L.B.R. (1893-1900), Vol. II, p. 503. H

32. The judgment may be for confirming, varying, or reversing the decree¹ from which the appeal is preferred, or, if the parties to the appeal agree² as to the form which the decree in appeal shall take, or as to the order to be made in appeal, the Appellate Court may pass a decree or make an order accordingly.

What judgment may direct.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 577 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

For the words "against....made", the words "from which....preferred" are substituted.

The word "passed" is changed into "made".

(General).

(1) Dismissal of appeal--Effect of.

The dismissal of an appeal leaves the decree of the lower Court untouched, neither confirmed, nor varied, nor reversed. 21 B. 548. I

(2) What judgment may direct.

In a suit for possession or return of purchase-money, the first Court gave a decree for possession. On appeal it is competent for the Appellate Court to decree for the recovery of purchase-money even though it finds that the plaintiff's suit for possession was barred. 4 M.L.T. 266; (38 M. 229, D.). J

1.—"For confirming, varying or reversing the decree."

Having brought defendant 1 on the record under rule 20, it is open to the District Judge to vary the decree of the first Court under this rule by transferring the liability to the plaintiff's claim from the shoulders of defendants 2 and 3 to those of defendant 1. 25 C. 565; 26 C. 109; 8 Bom. L. R. 172. K

2.—"If the parties....agree."

Where an application purporting to contain the terms of a compromise was presented to the High Court by one of the parties to an appeal before it, but on the so-called sulahnamah being sent down to the lower Court for verification, it was found that the attendance of the parties for that purpose could not be procured. Held the decree passed in accordance with the terms of the unverified sulahnamah is improper. 14 A. 860. L

33. The Appellate Court shall have power¹ to pass any decree and make any order which ought to have been passed or made and to pass or make such further or other decree or order as the case may require, and this power may be exercised by the Court notwithstanding that the appeal is as to part only of the decree and may be exercised in favour of all or any of the respondents or parties, although such respondents or parties may not have filed any appeal or objection.

Illustration.

A claims a sum of money as due to him from X or Y, and in a suit against both obtains a decree against X. X appeals, and, A and Y are respondents. The Appellate Court decides in favour of X. It has power to pass a decree against Y.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new. Cf. the corresponding rule of English Practice O. 58, r. 4.

“The Committee consider it most important that an Appellate Court should have the fullest power to do complete justice between the parties. The illustration indicates a type of case for which provision is intended to be made.” Statement of Objects and Reasons.

1.—“The Appellate Court shall have power.”

- (a) It is entitled to take cognizance of events which have happened since the filing of the appeal. 1 Bom.L.R. 218. M
- (b) It is open to the High Court to vary the decree of the subordinate Court in respect of matters, occurring subsequently to the date of such decree, which are admitted. 6 B. 118; (4 C. 484, D.); 25 B. 606. N

34. Where the appeal is heard by more Judges than one, any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court shall state in writing the decision or order which he thinks should be passed on the appeal and he may state his reasons for the same.

Dissent to be recorded.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 576 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “when” is changed into “where.”

Decree in appeal.

Date and contents of decree.

35. (1) The decree of the Appellate Court shall bear date the day on which the judgment was pronounced.¹

(2) The decree shall contain the number of the appeal, the names and descriptions of the appellant and respondent, and a clear specification of the relief granted or other adjudication made.

(3) The decree shall also state the amount of costs ² incurred in the appeal, and by whom, or out of what property, and in what proportions such costs and the costs in the suit are to be paid.³

(4) The decree shall be signed ⁴ and dated by the Judge or Judges who passed it :

Provided that where there are more Judges than one and there is a difference of opinion among them, it shall not be necessary for any Judge dissenting from the judgment of the Court to sign the decree.

Judge dissenting from judgment need not sign decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 579 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

SUB-RULE (1).

This corresponds to the first paragraph.

SUB-RULE (2).

This corresponds to the second paragraph.

The words "and the memorandum of appeal, including" are omitted.

The words "shall specify clearly" are changed into "a clear specification of."

For the words "other determination of the appeal," the words "other adjudication made," are substituted.

SUB-RULE (3).

This corresponds to the third paragraph.

The words "by what parties" are omitted and the words "by whom, or out of what property" are inserted instead.

SUB-RULE (4).

This exactly corresponds to the fourth paragraph.

PROVISO.

This corresponds to the last paragraph.

The words "and if there be" are changed into "and there is."

(General).

(1) Interpretation of the rule.

(a) The rule only requires to declare the proportions in which the costs are to be paid and not to specify the exact amount. 18 W.R. 286; 21 W. R. 74. O

(b) This rule does not require the claim to be stated in the decree, so as to make such statement a part of the decree itself. 11 B. 177. P

(c) There is nothing in the rule which shows that a decree is unnecessary when an Appellate Court confirms the order of an original Court at a preliminary hearing. 7 P.R. 1888. Q

(General)—(Concluded).

(2) Construction of the decree.

- (a) The High Court has power to direct a lower Court in what manner its own decree shall be carried into effect. 14 W.R. 145. R
- (b) Where a decree of the Sudder Court was in general terms, viz., "that the appeal be decreed with costs," though the judgment indicated a different intention. Held the decree was restricted to that which it was the manifest intention of the Court to grant. 15 W.R. 530; see, however; 1880 (Select Case, Part X, No. 34). S
- (c) Though the decree drawn up was informal, yet, if the amount due to the decree-holder was ascertainable from the record, the decree was practically capable of execution. 13 A. 343. T

(3) Effect of decree.

The Appellate Court's decree supersedes the decree of the first Court, even where the appellate decree merely affirms the original decree and does not reverse or modify it. 11 A. 267; 11 A. 314; 13 A. 394; 18 B. 542; 18 B. 203; 19 B. 258; 23 M. 60; 10 P.R. 1895. U

(4) Powers of Appellate Court—Decree of the first Court when to be varied.

A Court of appeal has power to vary the erroneous portion of the original Court's decree. 6 B. 113; 6 C.L.R. 267; 9 C. 635. Y

(5) Priority of decree.

The — is determined by the date on which it was passed and not by the priority of the debt which it enforces. 9 A. 413. W

1.—"Shall bear date of the day...pronounced."

- (a) The date which the decree should bear is the date when the judgment was delivered. 12 A. 79. X
- (b) See notes marked R. and S. in Vol. II, C.P.C., p. 439. Y

2.—"Shall also state the amount of costs."

- (a) It is a convenient practice for a Court to annex to every decree the costs incurred by both parties. 13 W.R. 28. Z
- (b) When an Appellate Court decrees an appeal and gives costs of its own Court, the costs of the first Court should be included in the decree. 16 W.R. 266. A
- (c) When an appeal is affirmed upon wholly different grounds, the appeal should be dismissed without costs. 3 W.R. 33; 8 I.A. 170. B

3.—"By whom...in what proportions....are to be paid."

- (a) The Judge of an Appellate Court must state in his decision by what parties (and in what proportions if necessary), the costs of the original suit are to be paid. He need not go into particulars or append to his judgment a schedule setting forth the different items which make up the costs of the first Court. 18 W.R. 286 (reversing 17 W.R. 445). C
- (b) So the order awarding costs is not illegal, simply because it does not specify the exact amount to be paid as costs of the lower Court. 21 W.R. 71. D
- (c) An Appellate Court is bound to decide by which of the parties before it the costs shall be borne. It is not at liberty to declare that the costs shall be borne by the unsuccessful party in a suit to be hereafter brought. 23 W.R. 39. E

4.—“Shall be signed.”

A Judge is clearly bound to sign decrees himself, after he has satisfied himself that they have been drawn up in accordance with the judgment; he has no authority to delegate the signing of decrees to a subordinate ministerial officer. 7 P.R. 1888. F

Copies of judgment and decrees to be furnished to parties.

36. Certified copies of the judgment and decree in appeal shall be furnished to the parties on application to the Appellate Court and at their expense.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 580 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “Appellate” is new.

37. A copy of the judgment and of the decree, certified by the Appellate Court or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall be sent to the Court which passed the decree appealed from and shall be filed with the original proceedings in the suit, and an entry of the judgment of the Appellate Court shall be made in the register of civil suits.

Certified copy of decrees to be sent to Court whose decree appealed from.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 581 of Act XIV of 1882.

Distinction.

The word “against” in the marginal note and in the section is changed into “from.”

(General).

Construction of the rule.

The rule simply specifies how appellate decrees are to be dealt with, and inter alia it goes on to say that such decrees “shall be filed with the original proceedings in the suit and an entry of the judgment of the Appellate Court shall be made in the register of civil suits.” 10 A. 389 (392). G

ORDER XLII.

Appeals from Appellate Decrees.

Procedure. 1. The rules of order XLI shall apply, so far as may be, to appeals from appellate decrees.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This order corresponds to S. 587 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).

Explanation.

- (a) For commentaries, see notes under S. 100 and S. 108. H
 (b) Just as S. 108 makes the provisions of Part VII of the body of the Code applicable to appeals from appellate decrees, this order makes the provisions of O. XLI applicable to such appeals. I Dismissal for default of second appeal posted for hearing under O. XLI, r. 11, and this rule.

A second appeal set down for hearing under r. 11 of O. XLI and this rule, cannot be dismissed for default on the day fixed for hearing, as the provisions of r. 17 and 19 of O. XLI apply to the hearing of appeal in which a date has been fixed under r. 12 of that order and notice has been issued to the respondent. 76 P.R. 1882. J

Application to bring as representatives of deceased respondent.

An application made to bring the representatives of a deceased respondent on the record, whether that appeal is an appeal from an original or an appellate decree, is an application made under O. XXII, r. 4, the provisions of which are made applicable to second appeals by this rule. 4 A.L.J. 397 = A.W.N. (1907), 155 = 29 A. 335; see, also, 28 M. 498; see contra 29 M. 529. K Limitation Act, Art. 175 (c).

Art. 175 (c), Limitation Act, Sch. II, applies to an application for substitution of names, whether made in an appeal from an original or appellate decree. 4 A.L.J. 397 = A.W.N. (1907), 155 = 29 A. 535. L

Question of sufficiency of evidence in second appeal.

A case which is tried in special appeal is subject to all rules provided for regular appeals so far as the same may be applicable. The question whether evidence on the record is legally or reasonably sufficient to support the findings of the lower Appellate Court, may be dealt with in special appeal without a remand or a re-hearing. 12 W.R. 431. M

Application to add representatives—Second appeal—Limitation Act. Arts. 175 (c), 178.

An application in second appeal to substitute representatives of a deceased respondent is governed not by Art. 175 (c), but by Art. 178, Sch. II, Limitation Act. 29 M. 529, overruling 28 M. 498. N

ORDER XLIII.

Appeals from Orders.

Appeals from orders. 1. An appeal shall lie from the following orders under the provisions of Section 104, namely:—

- (a) an order under, rule 10 of Order VII, returning a plaint to be presented to the proper Court¹;
- (b) an order, under rule 10 of order VIII, pronouncing judgment against a party;

- (c) an order under rule 9 of Order IX rejecting an application (in a case open to appeal) for an order to set aside the dismissal of a suit ² ;
- (d) an order under rule 13 of Order IX rejecting an application (in a case open to appeal) for an order to set aside a decree passed ex parte ³ ;
- (e) an order under rule 4 of Order X pronouncing judgment against a party ⁴ ;
- (f) an order under rule 21 of Order XI ;
- (g) an order under rule 10 of Order XVI for the attachment of property ;
- (h) an order under rule 20 of Order XVI pronouncing judgment against a party ;
- (i) an order under rule 34 of Order XXI on an objection to the draft of a document or of an endorsement ;
- (j) an order under rule 72 or rule 92 of Order XXI setting aside or refusing to set aside a sale ⁵ ;
- (k) an order under rule 9 of Order XXII refusing to set aside the abatement or dismissal of a suit ;
- (l) an order under rule 10 of Order XXII giving or refusing to give leave ⁷ ;
- (m) an order under rule 3 of Order XXIII recording or refusing to record an agreement, compromise or satisfaction ;
- (n) an order under rule 2 of Order XXV rejecting an application (in a case open to appeal) for an order to set aside the dismissal of a suit ;
- (o) an order under rule 3 or rule 8 of Order XXXIV refusing to extend the time for the payment of mortgage-money ⁸ ;
- (p) orders in interpleader-suits under rule 3, rule 4 or rule 6 of Order XXXV ;
- (q) an order under rule 2, rule 3 or rule 6 of Order XXXVIII ⁹ ;
- (r) an order under rule 1, rule 2, rule 4 or rule 10 of Order XXXIX ¹⁰ ;
- (s) an order under rule 1 or rule 4 of Order XL ¹¹ ;

- (t) an order of refusal under rule 19 of Order XLI to re-admit, or under rule 21 of Order XLI to re-hear, an appeal ¹²;
- (u) an order under rule 23 of Order XLI remanding a case, where an appeal would lie from the decree of the Appellate Court ¹³;
- (v) an order made by any Court other than a High Court refusing the grant of a certificate under rule 6 of Order XLV;
- (w) an order under rule 4 of Order XLVII granting an application for review.¹⁴

(d) No appeal lies from an order granting an application for the amendment of a sale certificate. 26 C. 529=3 C.W.N. 374; see, also, 1 C.W.N. 658. D

(e) No appeal will lie from an order passed under O. XXI, r. 89, refusing to accept a deposit tendered under that rule on the ground that it was too late. 19 A. 140. E

(f) An order on further directions varying the commissioner's report on the taking of an account in a partnership suit is not appealable, any error in it being a ground of appeal against the final decree under S. 591 of the old Code. 24 B. 302. F

(g) An order under S. 97 of the old Code dismissing a suit on account of the plaintiff's failure to pay the Court-fee leviable for service of summons on the defendant, is not appealable. 9 C. 627=12 C.L.R. 484. G

(h) A decision of a Judge directing a penalty to be enforced under the Stamp Act is not appealable. 5 C. 811. H

GENERAL.—(Continued).IV.—No appeal lies from the following orders—(Continued).

- (i) Orders passed by the Collector in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by S. 320 of the old Code relating to the execution of a decree of a Civil Court after transfer of the decree to him, are not appealable. 5 A. 314. I
- (j) No appeal lies from an order directing a suit to be re-admitted and registered on the file of the Court. 5 C. 711. J
- (k) No appeal lies from an order permitting the withdrawal of a suit with liberty to bring a fresh one. 6 A. 211. K
- (l) No appeal lies from an order rejecting an application for permission to sue as pauper. 1 A. 746. L
- (m) No appeal lies from the order of a Judge making over to the Official Assignee the proceeds of property sold in execution. 11 W.R. 100, 420. M
- (n) No appeal lies from the order of an Appellate Court returning an appeal memorandum to be presented to the proper Court, though an appeal will lie from such order of the Appellate Court returning a plaint; but it is properly the subject of revision by the High Court under S. 116, C.P.C. 81 C. 344; see contra 14 M. 462; 1 L.B.R. 82. N
- (o) Where a judgment-debtor's application under r. 89, O. XXI, had been allowed, no appeal by the auction-purchaser would lie, as no appeal is given by this order, and the case does not fall within the purview of S. 47 of the Code. 30 A. 379; A.W.N. (1903), 157 = 5 A.L.J. 557. O

Application for appointment of commission, order on.

An application under O. XXVI, r. 18 for the appointment of a commission is not a matter which comes within the scope of S. 47. No appeal lies from the order made on the application, since it is not an order from which a right of appeal is given by this order. 17 M.L.J. 144; but see 28 M. 127. S

Order refusing to release a judgment-debtor.

An order refusing to release a judgment-debtor arrested in execution of a decree is not appealable, as it is not among the orders enumerated in S. 104 or this order, nor is it an order under S. 47; and, if it be regarded as an order for imprisonment, it is expressly excepted in S. 104 (A). 55 P.B. 1886. V.—An appeal lies from the following orders.

Order refusing to confirm a sale.

A second appeal lies to the High Court against an order passed by a Judge refusing to confirm a sale on the ground that there was no subsisting decree at the date when the confirmation of the sale was applied for, the order being not one provided for by this rule and the question raised in the case being a question relating to the execution or satisfaction of the decree under S. 47. 25 C. 175=1 C.W.N. 656. 1.—"An order....the proper Court."

Return of the plaint.

- (a) The order of the Appellate Court directing the plaint to be returned for presentation to the proper Court is an order appealable under this clause and is not a "decree" as defined by S. 2. 1 P.L.R. 197; see, also, 26 C. 275; 21 M. 234; 59 P.R. 1899. G
- (b) Where the Appellate Court (the Judicial Assistant) reversed the order of the first Court on the ground that the value of the suit exceeded the pecuniary jurisdiction of that Court and returned the plaint to be presented to the proper Court, the appeal from the judgment of the Judicial Assistant lay to the Commissioner and not to the chief Court, such judgment not being merely an order as described herein but a decree disposing of the appeal. 185 P.R. 1882. H
- (c) Where an order is made by the lower Court of appeal, returning a plaint under rule 10 of order VII, by virtue of the powers conferred on it by S. 107 (2), an appeal lies to the High Court under this clause and S. 106. This rule does not prohibit such appeal. 26 C. 275—8 C.W. N. 243; see, also, 81 C. 344; 25 A. 174—22 A.W.N. 222. I
- (d) S. 107 (2) gives the Appellate Court power to return a plaint presented in a Court of a grade lower than that of the Court competent to try it for presentation to the proper Court. Dismissal under O. IX, r. 9.

- (a) An application under O. IX, r. 9, must be made within thirty days of the date of the order dismissing the suit, and the Courts have no alternative to dismissing the application if not presented within that period; but this does not affect the appeal from the original order dismissing the suit, such an order having the force of a decree. 83 P.R. 1902. R
- (b) Where, on the day appointed to hear arguments, neither the plaintiff nor his pleader appeared and the Court consequently dismissed the suit, the decree was appealable under S. 96, and O. IX, r. 9, will not be applicable to the circumstances. 3 A. 292. S
- (c) Where a suit has been dismissed under O. IX, r. 12, read with O. IX, r. 9, the remedy of the plaintiff is not by way of appeal, but by an application under O. IX, r. 9, and appeal under this clause. 8 A. 20=5 A.W.N. 321. T

2.—“An order under....dismissal of a suit”—(Concluded).

Dismissal of suit by Appellate Court for plaintiff's absence in the lower Court on the date of hearing.

Where the original Court had passed a decree in plaintiff's favour, the District Judge had no power on appeal to pass an order under O. XVII, r. 3, for the plaintiff's absence in the Court of first instance on the date fixed for producing evidence in the case. The Judge's order dismissing the suit amounted to a decree and an appeal lay from that order. 10 O.C. 245.

Y

S. 141—Effect on this clause.

S. 141 of this Code is so worded as only to render provisions of procedure applicable, and cannot be so read with rule 1 (c) of this order as to confer, by implication, an indirect right of appeal, inasmuch as appellate jurisdiction cannot be created except by express language in an enactment. 10 O.C. 353.

W

Application under O. XXI, r. 90—Dismissal for default.

No appeal lies against an order rejecting an application under r. 9, O. IX, for reviving an application under r. 90, O. XXI, dismissed for default. 10 O.C. 353.

X

Application under O. XXI, r. 88—Dismissal for default.

No appeal lies from an order refusing to restore to the file of pending applications an application under S. 310 of the old Code, O. XXI, r. 88, which had been dismissed for default of appearance. 29 A. 596 = A.W.N. (1907) 188; see, also, 31 C. 207; 10 B. 483; 11 M. 319.

3.—“An order....passed ex parte.”

Order under S. 47—Application under O. IX, r. 13.

An order passed ex parte in execution proceedings directing payment of a certain amount by the judgment-debtors to the decree-holder, is one under S. 47 of the Code and is a decree within the meaning of S. 2; and the judgment-debtors could apply under O. IX, r. 13, to set it aside. An appeal would lie from an order dismissing an application to set aside such ex parte order on the ground that O. IX, r. 13, would not apply to execution proceedings, 3 C.L.J. 276.

Z

Application to set aside ex parte order under O. XXI, r. 80.

This clause applies only to what is expressly mentioned therein, viz., orders rejecting applications under r. 13 of O. IX for an order to set aside a decree ex parte and not an order ex parte. Consequently, no appeal lies against an order passed under r. 80 of O. XXI, which is not a decree, even though S. 141 of this Code makes the procedure prescribed with respect to decrees in r. 13 of O. IX, applicable to orders passed ex parte. 3 L.B.R. 208; see contra 16 C. 81.

A

Order setting aside ex parte decree.

(a) No appeal lies from an order under O. XVII, r. 2, read with O. IX, r. 13, setting aside a decree passed ex parte in default of appearance of the defendant on a day to which the hearing of the suit had been adjourned. 19 A. 355 = 17 A.W.N. 89.

B

(b) No appeal lies from an order setting aside an ex parte decree under r. 13, O. IX, this clause allowing appeals only from orders rejecting applications under that rule. 103 F.R. 1905 = 45 P.L.R. 1906; see, also, 16 C. 426.

C

4.—“An order....against party.”

Scope.

The order under S. 120 of the old Code from which an appeal was allowed by cl. 10 of S. 588 of that Code, is an order under the second paragraph of S. 120 passing a decree against the defaulting party. 3 O.C. 81. D

N.B.—The present Act makes the point free from doubt by definitely stating that the appeal will lie against the order “pronouncing judgment against a party.”

5.—“An order....set aside a sale.”

Setting aside sale for fraud—Applicability of this rule.

This clause does not apply to a case where a sale is set aside on the ground of fraud. S. 47 applies and the order is appealable. 28 C. 116. E

Order setting aside sale.

(a) No appeal lies from an order setting aside a sale under O. XXI, r. 89. 27 A. 263=1904 A.W.N. 237. F

(b) Where, in an appeal from an order under O. XXI, r. 92, rejecting an application to set aside an execution sale, it appeared that the judgment-debtor, the appellant, had not made the auction-purchaser a party to the proceedings, held, the appeal must be dismissed as the auction-purchaser was a necessary party and the appellant by his own laches had omitted to serve him with notice, and as the period for appeal had long since expired, there was no valid reason as against the auction-purchaser for extending the prescribed period and permitting an amendment of the appeal. 188 P.R. 1882. G

(c) Where, after the judgment-debtor has applied under O. XXI, r. 90, to have a sale set aside, the auction-purchaser is made a party to the proceedings and the sale is set aside, the auction-purchaser can appeal against the order setting aside the sale. 2 A. 852, H

Order refusing to set aside sale.

(a) An objection under O. XXI, r. 90, was rejected on the ground that the applicant, a minor, was not represented by a guardian. A second application through a guardian was rejected on the ground that the sale had already been confirmed. An appeal will lie from such order as under r. 92, O. XXI. 9 A. 411=7 A.W.N. 58. I

(b) An application made under r. 90, O. XXI, can be disposed of only under rule 92 of that order and, if the Court rejects the objection to the sale, the order must be regarded as “an order refusing to set aside a sale of immoveable property” under the first paragraph of r. 92, O. XXI, and therefore appealable within this clause. 7 A. 253=5 A.W.N. 17. J

Right of auction-purchaser to appeal against order under O. XXI, r. 90.

Although the auction-purchaser may not apply under r. 90, O. XXI, to have a sale set aside, he yet may be a party to the proceedings after an application has been made under that rule, and, then, if an order is made against him, he can appeal from such order under this clause, 2 A. 896. K

5.—“An order....set aside a sale”—(Concluded).

Order under O. XXI, r. 92—Appeal lies.

- (1) An order passed under the first clause of O. XXI, r. 92, after an objection under r. 90 has been disallowed is appealable under this clause. 7 A. 253 - 5 A.W.N. 17. L
- (2) Where, in execution of a decree, an auction sale was confirmed under r. 92 of O. XXI in the absence of any objection under r. 90, and an application made thereafter to set aside the sale was dismissed for default, and, thereupon, another application was made on behalf of the judgment-debtor asking (a) that the dismissed application be restored, or (b) that this be treated as a fresh application to set aside the sale or, (c) that this be treated as an application for review, but was also rejected, no appeal lies against either of the orders of dismissal under this clause. 25 P.R. 1907 21 P.W.R. 1908 - 104 P.L.R. 1907. M
- (3) An order under r. 92 of O. XXI or one refusing to set aside a sale under r. 89 of that Order, is appealable under this Order, and a revision petition to the High Court does not lie from such order in the first instance. 4 M.L.T. 98. See, also, 30 M. 507. N

Objections to sale disallowed.

An appeal lies from an order disallowing the judgment-debtor's objection to the confirmation of an auction-sale. 2 A.W.N. 45. O

Confirmation of sale.

No appeal lies from an order confirming a sale in favour of a decree-holder who had taken permission to bid and who, claiming a right of pre-emption, bid the same sum which another person had bid before it was knocked down to the latter. 3 A. 674. P

6.—“An order....dismissal of a suit.”

An order directing an appeal to abate in consequence of the death of one of the plaintiff respondents on the ground that no application had been made within the time allowed by law to substitute the legal representative of the deceased, is an appealable order under S. 588 (18) of the old Code. 185 P.R. 1882. Q

7.—“An order....to give leave.”

Scope.

The scope of this clause is wider than that of cl. 21 of S. 588 of the old Code to which it corresponds. While under the old Code an appeal lay only from an order disallowing objections under S. 372 of that Code (O. XXII, r. 10), the present Code allows an appeal from an order giving or refusing to give leave. R

Order under O. XXII, r. 10.

- (a) An order passed under O. XXII, r. 10, disallowing an application of the appellant to be substituted in place of the original plaintiff is not appealable under S. 588 (21) of the old Code which only allows an appeal from an order disallowing objections. 126 P.L.R. 1903; see, also, 19 A. 142; 22 A. 880; 24 M. 252; 2 N.L.R. 178. S

NOTE.—But, under the corresponding clause of the present Act, an appeal will lie.

7.—“An order....to give leave”—(Concluded).

- (b) No appeal would lie from an order rejecting the application of a person who claimed to be brought on to the record of an appeal as being the assignee of the deceased sole appellant. 24 A. 532=1902 A.W.N. 112, overruling 22 A. 380 (314); see also, 4 C.W.N. 408; 57 P.R. 1903. T

NOTE.—An appeal would lie under the present Act.

- (c) An order allowing objections to an application under S. 372 of the old Code (O. XXII, r. 10) to be brought on the record in the place of the plaintiff is not appealable, nor is such an order a “decree” as defined by the Code. 24 A. 342; 1903 A.W.N. 84; see, also, 57 P.R. 1903. U

NOTE.—By allowing objections, the Court ought to have refused the leave contemplated by r. 10 of O. XXII; and under cl. (1) of the present rule, an appeal will lie from the order refusing to give leave. Note also the omission in the present Act, of “given either with the consent of all parties or after service of notice in writing upon them and hearing their objections if any,” after the phrase “leave of the Court” in O. XXII, r. 10.

- (d) An appeal will lie from an order dismissing an application under O. XXII, r. 10, to be brought upon the record as a representative of a deceased party, such order being a decree within the meaning of S. 2 of the old Code. 19 A. 141=17 A.W.N. 7. V

NOTE.—The present Act distinctly allows an appeal against such an order as an order.

Order directing substitution of parties.

An appeal lies against an order directing substitution of parties under S. 372 of the old Code; such an order amounts to an order disallowing objections to substitution. 23 C. 171=5 C.W.N. 807. W

Dismissal of application to bring plaintiff's assignee on record in appeal.

The assignee of a party to a suit during its pendency was not brought upon the record and the suit was dismissed. He filed a memorandum of appeal claiming that under the circumstances he was entitled to appeal. The Court treating the memorandum of appeal as an application under O. XXII, r. 10, dismissed it. An appeal lay from the order of dismissal. 22 A. 380, overruled in 22 A.W.N. 112=24 A. 532. X

8.—“An order....mortgage-money.”

General.

NOTE.—This clause allows an appeal from an order refusing to extend the time for the payment of mortgage money, but not from an order granting extension of time.

The Select Committee observe:—

“The extension of time for the payment of mortgage-money is obviously of much greater moment to the mortgagor than to the mortgagee. Therefore the Committee have provided for an appeal from an order refusing, but not from an order granting, an extension of time.” Y

Order granting extension of time, appeal against.

Where, on failure of the mortgagor to pay the mortgage amount into Court within the time fixed by the decree, the mortgagee applied for and was placed in possession of the property, and subsequently the mortgagor who had no notice of the decree-holder's application applied for and obtained an extension of time for payment, and he made the payment and recovered possession, the mortgagee was held entitled to appeal against the order, 22 M. 133. Z

9. —“An order....of Order XXXVIII.”

No appeal lies from an order refusing an application under O. XXXVIII, r. 6, for an order for the attachment of property to meet any decree which the applicant might obtain under S. 90, Tr. P. Act. 18 A.W.N. 18. A

NOTE.—But see clause (7) of the present Act.

10.—“An order—of Order XXXIX.”Order refusing to set aside injunction.

An appeal lies under this clause from an order refusing to set aside an injunction. 15 A. 8—12 A.W.N. 140; see, also, 6 O. 168. B Order under O. XXXIX. r. 3 directing notice to defendants.

No appeal lies from an order of a Subordinate Judge refusing to pass orders on a petition for temporary injunction without hearing defendants and directing notice to issue to them under O. XXXIX, r. 3. 12 M. 186. C

11.—“An order....of Order XL.”Order accepting receiver's accounts.

The order of the Court accepting the amount stated by the receiver to have been realised by him and referring the decree-holder to a suit for the decision of his claim against the receiver is not appealable under this clause. 65 P.L.R. 1904. D

Directions in passing receiver's account.

The directions which a Court gives in passing a Receiver's accounts are not appealable. 85 O. 568—12 C.W.N. 648. E

Appointment of a Receiver.

(a) Where, upon a report from a subordinate Court recommending the appointment of a Receiver, a District Judge refuses to make the appointment, his order must be taken as an order under O. XL, r. 1, and not under S. 505 of the old Code (omitted in the present Act); and is appealable under r. 1 (a) of O. XLIII. 81 O. 495—8 C.W.N. 808. F

(b) Where a Court after hearing both sides has decided that a Receiver should be appointed, such order is appealable, even though, owing to the refusal of the Court's nominee, no one has actually been appointed to the office. 78 P.R. 1902. G

(c) The appeal allowed by S. 588 (24) of the old Code against an order under S. 508 of that Code only extends to orders specified in paragraphs (a) to (d) of that section. 26 P.R. 1904. H

NOTE.—As paragraphs (a) to (d) are brought in the present Act under rule 1, and this clause gives an appeal from orders under rule 1 or rule 4 (which is new), this ruling is not necessary.

12.—“An order.....an appeal.”Order re-admitting appeal or refusing to re-admit.

(a) An order under r. 19 of O. XLI re-admitting an appeal which had been dismissed for default under r. 17 of that order, is not appealable. 24 A. 484—1203 A.W.N. 193. I

12.—“An order....an appeal”—(Concluded).

(b) An appeal lies to the Chief Court under this clause from an order of an Appellate Court refusing to re-admit an appeal dismissed for default and is not affected by S. 102 of this Code, which excludes a second appeal in suits of the nature cognisable by a Small Cause Court. 100 P.R. 1883. J

(c) A respondent against whom judgment in appeal went ex parte and whose application for a re-hearing has been refused may appeal from the ex parte decree. 2 A. 567; see, also, 8 A. 354. K

13.—“An order....of the Appellate Court.”

For cases under this sub-clause, see O. XLI, r. 23, under the heading “General—Appeal.” L

14.—“An order....for review.”

Order granting review.

No appeal lies from an order granting a review of judgment, except as provided by r. 7 of O. XLVII. 12 B. 171; see, also, 22 C. 8; 1 C.W.N. 838; 22 C. 984; 18 A. 44 = 15 A.W.N. 151; 21 B. 328; 24 C. 878. M

Grant of review on insufficient grounds.

That the Court which has granted the review has done so without sufficient reasons is not a valid ground of appeal under O. XLVII, r. 7. 24 C. 878. N

2. The rules of Order XLI shall apply, so far as may be, to appeals from orders.

Procedure.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 590 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words “under this Code or under any special or local law in which a different procedure is not provided” are deleted.

For notes, see S. 108 (b), Vol. I, p. 982.

ORDER XLIV.

Pauper Appeals.

1. Any person entitled to prefer an appeal, who is unable to pay the fee required for the memorandum of appeal, as pauper, may present an application accompanied by a memorandum of appeals and may be allowed to appeal as a pauper, subject, in all matters including the presentation of such application, to the provisions relating to suits by paupers¹ in so far as those provisions are applicable.

Provided that the Court shall reject the application unless, upon a perusal thereof and of judgment and decree appealed from, it sees reason to think that the decree is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law, or is otherwise erroneous or unjust.²

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 592 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the Old Act and the new Act.

- (1) The phrase "under this Code or any other law" after the word "entitled" is omitted.
- (2) Instead of "subject to the rules contained in Chapters XXVI, XLI, XLII and XLIII," in the old Act, the new Act has "subject in all matters including the presentation of such application to the provisions relating to suits by paupers."

NOTE.—Chapter XXVI of the old Code relates to suits by paupers, while chapters XLI, XLII, and XLIII correspond respectively to the present order of the same number.

Objections by a respondent cannot be filed in forma pauperis. 8 M. 214; see, also, 1 B. 75; 11 C. 785. O

Application without list of property and re-presentation with list after limitation period.

An application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis was presented within time without a list of the pauper's property. The application was returned and re-presented with the requisite list after the time for appealing had expired. Held, the application being accompanied by copies of judgment and decree, was in time. 19 P.R. 1899. the Courts, it was not open to the Court to order the respondent to pay any fees on the strength of any agreement between the parties.
18 B. 464. T

Powers of High Court.

It is open to the Chief Court to exercise its powers under S. 115 of this Code where the lower Court has acted illegally or with material irregularity in rejecting an application to appeal in forma pauperis. 21 P.R. 1885; see contra 4 A. 91. U

Appeal against order refusing leave.

By this rule a discretion is vested in the Judge to allow or disallow an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis, and an order passed in the exercise of such a discretion is not a "judgment," within the meaning of Art. 15 of the Letters Patent. Hence no appeal against an order refusing leave under Art. 15. 26 M. 437. Y

Application as pauper rejected—Subsequent regular appeal after limitation.

- (a) Where an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis was rejected and a regular appeal was subsequently filed, but after the expiry of the period of limitation, the payment of the Court-fee on the regular appeal cannot be held to relate back to the memorandum of appeal which accompanied the application for leave to appeal as a pauper so as to convert that memo. of appeal into an appeal within time. Until the regular appeal was filed, there was nothing before the Court which it could treat, even provisionally, as a memorandum of appeal. 18 A. 305 = 11 A.W.N. 99; see, however, 26 A. 329; 1904 A.W.N. 24. W
- (b) When a District Judge, after refusing an applicant leave to appeal in forma pauperis, granted time beyond the expiry of the period of limitation for the applicant to file a regular appeal on the full Court-fee, the Judge must be taken to have exercised the power conferred on him by S. 5 of the Limitation Act, 1877, although he did not refer to that section. 26 A. 329; see, also, 22 B. 849. X

Dismissal of pauper application—Effect on memo. of appeal.

The application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis and the memorandum of appeal which accompanies it are two separate documents, and the Judge in disposing of the pauper application does not thereby necessarily dispose of the appeal. He may still treat it as an existing appeal if the appellant desires to continue it. The rule in O. XXXIII, r. 15, cannot apply to appeals. The District Judge was under no legal obligation to dismiss the appeal when he refused the appellant leave to appeal as a pauper. Barrao, C.J. But see judgment of Candy, J. 22 B. 849. Y

1.—"Subject—by paupers."Presentation in person of application.

An application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis must be made by the party in person, subject to the exemption, contained in O. XXXIII, r. 2. 8 M. 594; see contra 26 M. 869. Z

1.—“Subject....by paupers”—(Concluded).

Presentation by vakil with ordinary retainer but not duly authorised.

The Court rejected a petition of appeal presented on behalf of a pauper by a vakil who was retained under an ordinary retainer, but was not duly authorised to sign as attorney for the appellant. 21 W.R. 308. A

Whether O. XXXIII, r. 3, applies.

The provision in O. XXXIII, r. 3, which requires an application for permission to sue in forma pauperis to be presented (except in certain circumstances) by the applicant in person, does not apply to an application under this rule to be allowed to appeal as a pauper. 26 M. 369. B

Subject to the provisions....paupers, construction of.

The proper grammatical construction to be placed on this rule is that a person entitled to appeal, having presented an application to be allowed to appeal as a pauper, all action taken subsequent to the presentation of that application is to be subject to the rules in O. XXXIII, but not that the presentation of the application itself is subject to such rules. 26 M. 369. C

NOTE.—This is no longer law as, under the present Act, the phrase “including the presentation of such application” is specifically added.

Appeal in forma pauperis by pardahnashin woman—Presentation by duly authorised agent.

Where an appeal in forma pauperis by a pardahnashin woman was presented, not by an advocate, vakil, or attorney of the Court, nor by the appellant in person, but by her duly authorised agent, this was a good presentation, having regard to the exemption to the appellant given by S. 182 of this Code and the exception made in favour of such a person by O. XXXIII, r. 3, S. 8 of the Letters Patent notwithstanding. 24 A. 172—1901 A.W.N. 218. D

Grant of leave—Rules to be observed.

In deciding whether leave to appeal in forma pauperis is to be given, it is the duty of the Court to have regard to the rules of O. XXXIII, the right of appeal, according to the construction of this rule, being subject to the rules in that order. 30 M. 547—3 M.L.T. 11—17 M.L.J. 447; see, also, 26 M. 369. E

Application without schedule of applicant's property.

Where an application for leave to appeal as a pauper contained no schedule of any moveable and immoveable property belonging to the applicant with the estimated value thereof and was not verified in the manner prescribed for verification of plaints, the Court had no alternative but to reject the application. 11 O.O. 19. F

2.—“Provided....erroneous or unjust”.

Principle.

(a) The proviso to this rule is a very necessary safeguard introduced for the benefit of litigants who find themselves opposed by paupers. The Court should be careful to see that that proviso is satisfied. To provide a safeguard against the proviso being overlooked, the Judge admitting a pauper appeal should not only see but express and record very briefly the reason on which the leave proceeds. 6 Bom. L.R. 442—23 B. 451. G

2.—“Provided...erroneous or unjust”—(Concluded).

- (b) The Court must come to its conclusion upon a perusal only of the application, the judgment and the decree. 6 Bom. L.R. 442=28 B. 451. H

Duty of Court to consider judgment and decree for itself.

A Court to which an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis is presented is, under certain circumstances, empowered to reject that application summarily; but he is not, under similar conditions, empowered to reject the appeal itself. It is the duty of a Court to which an application for leave to appeal as a pauper is presented to consider for itself the judgment and the decree against which it is sought to appeal, and not merely to reiterate the reasons given by the lower Court. 15 A.W.N. 34. I Order by single Judge allowing pauper appeal merely provisional—“Court,” meaning of.

The order by a single Judge of the chief Court allowing appellant to appeal as a pauper is merely provisional and subject to revision by the Bench to which the appeal is admitted; the word “Court” in r. 1, would ordinarily mean the Court competent to hear the appeal. 1 P.L.R. 449 (450). J

2. The inquiry into the pauperism of the applicant may be

Inquiry into pauperism. made either by the Appellate Court or under the orders of the Appellate Court by the Court from whose decision the appeal is preferred¹:

Provided that, if the applicant was allowed to sue or appeal as a pauper in the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, no further inquiry in respect of his pauperism shall be necessary, unless the Appellate Court sees cause to direct such inquiry.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 593 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“The inquiry into...is preferred.”Enquiry into pauperism by Subordinate Judge under orders from High Court—Powers of High Court.

On an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis, the High Court directed the Subordinate Judge to make an inquiry and report, and the Subordinate Judge reported that the applicant was a pauper but that she had rendered herself incapable of appealing as a pauper by entering into an agreement with persons falling within rule 5 (e) of O. XXXIII. Held, that the order of the Court calling upon the Subordinate Judge to report did not operate as a final disposal of the application and that it was open to the High Court upon the receipt of the report to consider whether the case was one in which leave ought to be granted; and that as the applicant had entered into an agreement under rule 5 (e) of O. XXXIII, the application should be dismissed. 30 M. 547=3 M.L. T. 11=17 M.L.J. 447. K

1. "Shall apply....complained of."(1) Application for leave to Appeal—Full particulars of case to be stated.

(a) In a petition for special leave to appeal to the Privy Council, there should be a full statement of the facts and legal grounds to show that there is a substantial case on the merits. 11 M.I.A. 1. M

(b) In the above case, the petition contained a general statement of the proceedings in India, and an averment that they were irregular and contrary to law. Such petition was ordered to be dismissed or stand over for amendment, as being too general and vague. (Ibid.) N

(c) And on an amended petition, stating in detail the facts, and specifically showing legal grounds of objection to the decrees and orders of the lower Court refusing leave to appeal, special leave was granted by the Privy Council. (Ibid.) O

(d) The petition of appeal should also state in distinct terms the substantial question of law involved in the case, and which is proposed to be submitted to the Privy Council. 12 B.H.C. 8. P

(3) No application made to Court below—Grant of leave by Privy Council—Practice.

In one case, special leave to appeal was granted, notwithstanding that no application had been made for such leave to appeal to the Court below, upon the allegation that, though the amount decreed was much under the appealable value, yet the subject-matter in appeal exceeded in value the appealable amount. 10 M.I.A. 818. (b) Although the Courts in India admit a party to appeal to England in forma pauperis, yet the appellant ought to make a special application to the King in Council for leave to prosecute such appeal in forma pauperis. 7 W. R. (P.C.) 29 = 1 M.I.A. 114. S

(4) Death of sole appellant pending appeal to England—Representation.

Pending an appeal to England, the sole appellant died, and the Sudder Court made an order substituting one of the respondents in his stead as appellant. Held, it is not competent to the other respondents to object to such order at the hearing of the appeal, the proper course being to move the Sudder Court to discharge such order. 5 M.I. A. 146. T

(5) Petition of appeal—Security bond.

The High Court cannot receive a petition of appeal to England tendered without the usual security bond duly registered as provided by the rules. 7 W.R. 338. U

(6) Laches of applicant—Effect.

In one case, where the applicant failed to take the necessary steps to prosecute his petition of appeal to the Privy Council, such petition was ordered to be struck off the file for want of prosecution. 12 C. 658. Y

(7) Time for applying for leave—Limitation.

(a) An application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council must be made within six months from the date of the decree. 19 B. 801; 15 M. 189. W

(b) In computing the above period, the time required for obtaining a copy of the decree cannot be excluded. 19 B. 801; see, also, 10 M. 373. X

(8) Disability owing to minority—Limitation.

In an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, the disability by reason of minority is not to be excluded from the period prescribed. 18 M. 484. A

(9) Exclusion of date on which decree was pronounced—Limitation.

The day on which the decree appealed from is pronounced or dated should be excluded in calculating the period of six months allowed for an appeal to the Privy Council. 18 W.R. 17 (P.C.). B

1. —“Shall apply....complained of”—(Concluded).

(10) Exclusion of time when Court is closed—Limitation.

If the Court be closed on the last day prescribed for the application, it may be presented on the next re-opening day. See 12 W.R. 293 ; but see, also, 18 W.R. 255. C

(11) Rejection of petition for review of judgment— Limitation.

(12) Restoration of petition Limitation.

Where a petition was presented and admitted in due time, but was afterwards struck off for default, it may be re-admitted, although the six months' period has expired. 7 W.R. 531 ; see, also, 16 C. 397 = 16 I.A. 71 (P.C.). E

(13) Appeal to Privy Council - Striking off for want of prosecution.

Where the usual draft notice, which was sent by the Registrar to the attorney of the party that filed his petition of appeal to the Privy Council, and intended for being served on the opposite party, was never returned as approved or otherwise to the Registrar, nor were any steps taken to prosecute the appeal, held, the opposite party was entitled to an order striking off the appeal for want of prosecution. 12 C. 558. F

(14) Order of Privy Council - Execution—Certified copy.

(a) Execution of a decree affirmed by the Privy Council could be ordered to proceed only upon production, with the execution application, of a certified copy of the order of the Privy Council. 5 C. 329 = 4 C.L.R. 387. G

(b) When the original order of the Privy Council has not been filed in the High Court, a copy of such order, though not certified, may accompany an application for execution under S. 610 of the old Code (= this rule). 9 C. 482 (P.C.) = 10 I.A. 4 = 12 C.L.R. 511. H

(c) The provisions of this section cannot be construed as restricting the only possible evidence to the certified copy, but as directory words, with the object of ensuring that proper information upon the subject of any order in Council should be supplied to the Courts in India. (Ibid.) I

(d) An execution application, not accompanied by a copy of the decree, as required by the Civil Rules of Practice, is an application in accordance with law, within the meaning of Art. 179, Limitation Act, 1877. 20 M. 557 (559). J

(e) A Court, in executing a decree in a case which has been appealed to the Privy Council, is not warranted in receiving a mere copy of the printed judgment of the Privy Council as if it were a decree. 20 W.R. 444. K

3. (1) Every petition shall state the grounds of appeal and Certificate as to pray for a certificate either that, as regards value or fitness. 1 amount or value and nature, the case fulfils the requirements of Section 110, or that it is otherwise a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council.

(2) Upon receipt of such petition, the Court shall direct notice to be served on the opposite party to show cause why the said certificate should not be granted.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds with S. 600 of Act XIV of 1882, with some slight verbal changes.

1—"Certificate as to value of fitness."

(1) Grant of leave to appeal—Conditions necessary—Procedure.

(a) In order that an appeal may lie to the Privy Council, the appeal, besides involving, directly or indirectly, the value of at least Rs. 10,000 or upwards, must also raise a substantial question of law, in those cases where the decree of the final Appellate Court confirms the decree of the Court below it. 23 A. 227=28 I.A. 11 (P.C.). L

(b) If there should be a substantial question of law involved in a case, where the value is less than Rs. 10,000, it is within the judicial discretion of the Courts to specially certify the case as "otherwise" fit for appeal. (Ibid.) M

(c) Where the case is otherwise unappealable, the rule of the Judicial Committee is not to grant special leave to appeal, unless there is some substantial question of law or of general interest involved. 24 A. 174=29 I.A. 40=6 C.W.N. 362. N

(d) Before a case can be certified as a fit one for appeal, the condition prescribed by S. 596 (C.P.C., 1882) as to the amount of the subject matter of the suit in the Court of the first instance and as to the amount in dispute on the appeal must both be fulfilled. The word "and" in that part of the section cannot be read as "or". (Ibid.) O

(e) The word "otherwise" refers to special cases, where the question involved is not measurable in money, but is of great public and private importance. See 23 A. 227=28 I.A. 11 (P.C.); see, also, 6 C.W.N. 362=29 I.A. 40=24 A. 174 (P.C.). P

- (b) Where the order granting leave to appeal stated “there seems to be a point of law, which, however, does not appear to have been argued here”,—held, by the Privy Council, that the leave was granted contrary to the provisions of the Code. See 6 C.W.N. 241 = 4 Bom. L. R. 248 = 25 M. 215. J

(10) Leave to appeal—Refusal of certificate—Grounds to be stated.

The High Court, in refusing a certificate for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, should state the grounds for refusing it. 10 O.W.N. 545 (P.C.) = 8 Bom. L.R. 374 = 16 M.L.J. 160 = 29 M. 94 4 C.L.J. 305 = 33 I.A. 67. K

(11) Petition for special leave—Reasons omitted in order admitting to review.

With reference to the requirement that reasons should be recorded by the Judge granting an order of admission to review, the mere omission to record them was not held a ground for granting special leave to appeal from the order or from the decree which was subsequently made. 27 C. 333 = 27 I.A. 79 = 4 C.W.N. 203. L

(12) Substantial question of law, what is.

In a suit for malicious prosecution, in which the plaintiff claimed Rs. 30,000 as damages, it was held, that the question of malice and reasonable and probable cause is a question of fact, and not a substantial question of law, and that the grant of the certificate by the High Court in the above case was under a misapprehension. 25 B. 332 (P.C.). M

4. For the purpose of pecuniary valuation, suits involving substantially the same questions for determination and decided by the same judgment may be consolidated: but suits decided by separate judgments shall not be consolidated, notwithstanding that they involve substantially the same questions for determination.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

1.—“Consolidation of suits.”

(1) Consolidation, when disallowed.

(a) Two suits having been brought for sums due on the same account, each of which was under Rs. 50,000, held, that such suits could not be consolidated for the purpose of appeal, though the original severance of them was contrary to the plaintiff's instructions, and the aggregate amount of both exceed that amount. 5 W.R. 34 (P.C.) = 1 M.L.A. 363. N

(b) Each judgment in the above case, when pronounced, was final and conclusive. (Ibid.) O

(c) The plaintiff instituted 19 suits of a cognate character against certain persons. The value of each suit was below Rs. 10,000, but the aggregate value of all was above that amount. One of these suits was decided against the plaintiff on the ground of multifariousness and misjoinder of parties and cause of action. The plaintiff applied for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council. Held, that the decree, in respect of which the certificate was prayed for, did not involve, directly or indirectly, a claim to property of the value of Rs. 10,000, and that the question of misjoinder of parties and causes of action was not of such importance or difficulty as to justify the Court in certifying that the case was a fit one for appeal to Her Majesty in Council. 1 O.C. Sup. 18. P

(2) Appeal to Privy Council.—Value of suit.—Civ. Pro. Code, S. 596—Consolidation.

(a) Where the value of the properties in suit with mesne profits exceeds Rs. 10,000, and the plaintiff has, by reason of the defendant having given the properties in two sets in patni to two different persons, been obliged to bring two suits for their recovery, held, an appeal lay to the Privy Council. 8 C. 210. Q

(b) Where, although, if each case be taken separately, the value is below Rupees 10,000, yet, if taken collectively, the aggregate reaches that amount, and the cases are all dependent upon the same judgment, the case falls within S. 596 of the Code of 1882, and leave to appeal to the Privy Council should be granted in each of the cases. 34 C. 400. R

(3) Leave to appeal to Privy Council, allowed though amount under appealable value.

Leave to appeal to the Privy Council was granted, though the amount involved was under the appealable value, on the ground of an important question of law being involved in the case, and on the ground that five other suits, along with which the case had been tried and decided, were appealable as of right. 11 C. 740. S

5. In the event of any dispute arising between the parties as to the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance, or as to the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council, the Court to which a petition for a certificate is made under rule 2 may, if it thinks fit, refer such dispute for report to the Court of first instance, which last-mentioned

Court shall proceed to determine such amount or value and shall return its report together with the evidence to the Court by which the reference was made.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

I.—“Remission of dispute to Court of first instance.”

Practice under old Code—Same as in the present rule.

(a) Even before the passing of this Code (Act V of 1908), where there was a contest as to the true value of the matter in dispute, it had been the invariable practice—a practice sanctioned by the Judicial Committee—to ascertain, by evidence and inquiry, what the true value was. 9 C.W.N. 370 (371). T

(b) Thus, if, for the purposes of Court-fees, the suit had been valued below Rs. 10,000, it was always open to the parties to show what the true value was. 9 C.W.N. at p. 371. U

Effect of refusal of certificate. 1

6. Where such certificate is refused, the petition shall be dismissed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This Corresponds to S. 601 of Act XIV of 1882.

I.—“Effect of refusal of certificate.”

(1) Order of Judge granting certificate for appeal—Appeal—Letters Patent of 1865, cls. 15 and 39.

(a) No appeal lies from an order of a Judge granting a certificate that a case is a fit and proper one for appeal to the Privy Council; for, such an order is not one deciding finally or otherwise any question at issue in the case on the rights of any of the parties to the suit, but is merely a step taken to enable the parties to go before the Privy Council and obtain from that tribunal a decision on the merits of the case. 17 C. 455. Y

(b) Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, S. 596—Affirming judgment of the Court below—Appeal to Privy Council. Review—See 16 C. 287 and 16 C. 292 (note). W

(2) Dismissal of Appeal for default—Costs—Restoration.

See 12 C. 658; 27 B. 124; 7 W.R. 531 = B.L.R. (Sup. Vol.) 730; 16 C. 897 = 1 I.A. 71 (P.C.); noted under r. 3, supra. X

(3) High Court, in refusing leave to appeal, must give its reasons for so refusing. A

See 10 C.W.N. 545 (P.C.) = 8 Bom. L.R. 374 = 16 M.L.J. 160 = 29 M. 94 = 6 C.L.J. 305 = 33 I.A. 67 noted under r. 3, supra. Y

(4) Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Judgment of one Judge—Appeal.

See 7 C. 339 = 9 C.L.R. 166 noted under r. 2, supra. Z

(5) Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Costs—Execution.

Where a Division Bench of the Court makes an order dismissing an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council with costs, the order as to costs is to be enforced by execution in the lower Court, which passed the order originally. 11 C.W.N. 856 = 34 C. 850. A

7. (1) Where the certificate is granted, the applicant shall, within six months from the date of the decree complained of, or within six weeks from the date of the grant of the certificate, whichever is the later date, -

Security and deposit required on grant of certificate. 1

- (a) furnish security for the costs of the respondent, and
- (b) deposit the amount required to defray the expense of translating, transcribing, indexing and transmitting to His Majesty in Council a correct copy of the whole record of the suit, except -
 - (1) formal documents directed to be excluded by any order of His Majesty in Council in force for the time being ;
 - (2) papers which the parties agree to exclude ;
 - (3) accounts, or portions of accounts, which the officer empowered by the Court for that purpose considers unnecessary, and which the parties have not specifically asked to be included ; and
 - (4) such other documents as the High Court may direct to be excluded.

(2) Where the applicant prefers to print in India the copy of the record, except as aforesaid, he shall also, within the time mentioned in sub-rule (1), deposit the amount required to defray the expense of printing such copy.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 802 of Act XIV of 1882.

N.B.— See, also, notes under rr. 2 and 8, supra.

1.—“Security and deposit required on grant of certificate.”

(1) Limitation for application.

In computing the period of limitation for an application for a certificate of admission of appeal to Privy Council, the time occupied in obtaining copies of the decree and judgment sought to be appealed against cannot be excluded. 15 M. 169 ; see, also, 15 A. 14 ; 19 B. 801 ; 10 M. 878. B

(2) Plea of oversight.

The — is not sufficient to excuse an applicant for non-compliance with the rules or to admit the application beyond time. See 19 W.E. 805. C

1.—“Security and deposit required on grant of certificate”—(Continued).(3) Costs of translating and printing—Omission to deposit in time—Effect.

The application was presented on the last day of the six months' period prescribed, and with it, was deposited the estimated costs of translating except the costs of printing, which was deposited after the six months. Held, the petition ought to be dismissed. 19 W.R. 305. D

(4) Giving security in appeal—Power of Court to extend time.

(a) The words in the Code, relating to the time within which security in appeal is to be given, are directory only. Hence, the Court from which the appeal is preferred, can, at its discretion, extend the time. 10 C. 557 = 11 I.A. 7 (P.C.); 2 C. 272; 1 L.B.R. 329; 11 C.W.N. 1104; 14 M. 391; 6 A. 250; 7 A. 79 = 4 A.W.N. 303 (F.B.); 28 W.R. 220. E

(b) But the Court should not extend the time without sufficient reasons. See 10 C. 557 = 11 I.A. 7 (P.C.); 11 C.W.N. 1104. F

(5) Making deposit of costs—Power to extend time.

(a) The Court has also power, when the time for making deposit of costs expires during the holidays, to allow, in the exercise of its discretion, the deposit to be made on the re-opening day. 2 C. 272. G

(b) The High Court has power to extend the time for depositing the estimated costs of translating, transcribing, indexing and transmitting to the Privy Council the record of a case under appeal, but it ought not to do so without some cogent reason. 11 C.W.N. 1104. H

(c) This indulgence of extending the time is to be granted, in case the party, being diligent, was prevented, by circumstances over which he had no control, or owing to mistakes, from making the deposit in time. 14 M. 391. I

(6) What is to be taken as security.

(9) How much of the record is to be printed.

(a) The practice of including in the transcript record prepared and printed in India, under the orders in Council, voluminous accounts and receipts unnecessary to the question at issue, condemned. See 5 W. R. 68 (P.C.) = 10 M.I.A. 476. L

(b) When the High Court has limited its decisions to one or more issues, only so much of the original record as is material to the question of law decided by the High Court and the subject of appeal should be printed in the copy. 20 M. 395 = 24 I. A. 194. M

(c) Appeal from order of High Court on review—Papers connected with application for review, if it has been rejected, not to be included. See 11 W.R. 145; 7 W.R. 90. N

1. —“Security and deposit required on grant of certificate”—(Concluded).

- (d) Directions were given, in taxing costs, to disallow all expenses occasioned by the insertion in the transcript of unnecessary matters. 5 W.R. 63 (P.C.) = 10 M.L.A. 476. O

(10) Form of certificate.

Admission of appeal and procedure thereon. 1

S. Where such security has been furnished and deposit made to the satisfaction of the Court, the Court shall—

- (a) declare the appeal admitted,
- (b) give notice thereof to the respondent,²
- (c) transmit to His Majesty in Council⁸ under the seal of the Court a correct copy of the said record, except as aforesaid, and
- (d) give to either party one or more authenticated copies of any of the papers in the suit on his applying therefor and paying the reasonable expenses incurred in preparing them.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 608 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“Admission of appeal and procedure thereon.”(1) Objection—When to be taken.

- (a) An objection that an appeal has come before the Judicial Committee without proper authority ought to be taken at the earliest possible opportunity. 15 B.L.R. 221; 2 I.A. 205 (P.C.); 14 B.L.R. 394. U
- (b) But, it is open to the Privy Council, if it sees fit, to entertain such objection at any stage of the appeal. 15 B.L.R. 221. Y
- (c) And such objections have been not infrequently heard when the appeal is called on, and before the arguments on the merits have commenced. (Ibid.) W

(2) Review of order granting leave.

An order granting leave to appeal to the Privy Council is open to review. See 16 C. 292 (note); (5 W.R. Mis. 97, R). X

(3) Petitions, etc., to Privy Council—Language.

All petitions and applications connected with appeals to the Privy Council should be in English; but razeenamas, safecnamas and security bonds, connected with such appeals, need not be in English. 7 W.R. 291. Y

2.—“Give notice thereof to the respondent.”Service of notice.

Where, by the custom in India, the respondent (being a Hindu woman of rank) could not be personally served with an order, the Judicial Committee allowed service to be substituted on her Dewan or chief servant. 2 M.I.A. 263 and 268. Z

3.—“Transmit to His Majesty in Council.”(1) Transmission of record—Practice.

- (a) In 17 W.R. 106, their Lordships observed that many documents which were irrelevant were printed in India at an enormous cost, and that a stricter supervision should be exercised over the department engaged in selecting documents to be printed in connection with appeals to the Privy Council, so that waste of the suitor's money may be avoided. 17 W.R. 106. A
- (b) In cases of appeal made under the Letters Patent, cl. 42, the Court ought not to send along with the proceedings, such proceedings as applications for review of judgment of the High Court or the orders of the Court thereon. 1 B.L.R. (F.B.) 1=10 W.R. (F.B.) 1. B
- (c) Where it was not possible to say whether certain papers were material or not, or even whether they were part of the evidence in the case, the High Court declined to put the appellant to the expense of translating and transcribing them, but gave the respondent the option of translating them at his own expense, with a view to their being sent to England as an appendix to the record. 7 W.R. 90. C
- (d) But, if great delay occurs in transmitting material documents, (as) depositions filed in the case, the Judicial Committee will peremptorily order the Courts in India to transmit such record at once. See 5 M.I.A. 146. D

3.—“Transmit to His Majesty in Council’—(Concluded).

(2) Transmission of original deed—Altered deed.

An original deed, which was impeached on the ground of alterations and interpolations after execution, was ordered to be transmitted for inspection on appeal. 1 W.R. (P.C.) 96=9 M.I.A. 1. E

(3) Transmission of record—Judge's reasons.

The Letters Patent creating the High Court of Judicature at Madras (S. 42) directs that the reasons given by the Judges for their decision should, on appeal to England, be transmitted with the record, for information at the hearing of the Judicial Committee, which direction, it is the bounden duty of the Judges to comply with. 11 W.R. (P.C.) 93=2 B.L.R. 72 (P.C.) 12 M.I.A. 495. F

Revocation of acceptance of security.

may, upon cause shown, revoke the acceptance of any such security, and make further directions thereon.

Old Act.

This is S. 604 of Act XIV of 1882.

10. Where at any time after the admission of an appeal but

Power to order further security or payment.

before the transmission of the copy of the record, except as aforesaid, to His Majesty in Council, such security appears inadequate, or further payment is required for the purpose of translating, transcribing, printing, indexing or transmitting the copy of the record, except as aforesaid, the Court may order the appellant to furnish, within a time to be fixed by the Court, other and sufficient security, or to make, within like time, the required payment.

Old Act.

This is S. 605 of XIV of 1882.

Effect of failure to comply with order. 1

11. Where the appellant fails to comply with such order, the proceedings shall be stayed, and the appeal shall not proceed without an order in this behalf of His Majesty in Council, and in the meantime execution of the decree appealed from shall not be stayed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds with S. 606 of Act XIV of 1882.

I.—“Effect of failure to comply with order.”

(1) Dismissal of appeal for non-prosecution.

- (a) For a case where an appeal to the Privy Council was dismissed for default in deposit of security, and in transcribing the record, and for taking no steps to prosecute the appeal. See 1 C. 142. G
- (b) Draft notice sent by Registrar to appellant's attorney not returned to Registrar as approved or otherwise—appeal struck off. See 12 C. 658, noted supra under this order. H
- (c) Application for leave to appeal presented on the last day, and costs of translating, etc., deposited on the same day—Costs of printing not deposited—Application stayed. See 19 W.R. 305. I

(2) Power of High Court to restore appeal.

See 7 W.R. 531 = B.L.R. (Sup. Vol.) 780 noted under r. 7, supra. J

12. When the copy of the record, except as aforesaid, has been transmitted to His Majesty in Council, the appellant may obtain a refund of the balance (if any) of the amount which he has deposited under rule 7.

Old Act.

This corresponds with S. 607 of Act XIV of 1882.

13. (1) Notwithstanding the grant of a certificate for the admission of any appeal, the decree appealed from shall be unconditionally executed, unless the Court otherwise directs.

Powers of Court pending appeal. 1

(2) The Court may, if it thinks fit, on special cause shown by any party interested in the suit, or otherwise appearing to the Court,—

- (a) impound any moveable property in dispute or any part thereof, or
- (b) allow the decree appealed from to be executed, taking such security from the respondent as the Court thinks fit for the due performance of any order which His Majesty in Council may make on the appeal, or
- (c) stay the execution of the decree appealed from, taking such security from the appellant as the Court thinks fit for the due performance of the decree appealed from, or of any order which His Majesty in Council may make on the appeal, or
- (d) place any party seeking the assistance of the Court under such conditions or give such other direction respecting the subject-matter of the appeal, as it thinks fit, by the appointment of a receiver or otherwise.

(Notes).

Old Act.

The rule corresponds with S. 608 of Act XIV of 1882; but the following changes may be noted:—

- (i) The words "grant of a certificate for the" are added before the words "admission of any appeal" in para (1).
- (ii) The words "admitting the appeal" after the word "Court" in para (1) are omitted.
- (iii) The words "by the appointment of a receiver or otherwise" are newly added at the end of the section.

1.—"Powers of Court pending appeal."

(1) Admission of appeal—Security—Practice.

- (a) No demand for security can be made before the application for leave to appeal, has been considered and the appeal admitted. 16 W.R. 289 [B.L.R. (Sup. Vol.) 605—6 W.R. (Mis.) 111, F.] K
- (b) It is not competent to the High Court to interfere and require security from a party who has been formally put in possession of the property in dispute in execution of a decree, where execution was taken out before an appeal to the Privy Council was preferred and admitted. 5 W.R. (Mis.) 18. L
- (c) An application for stay of execution under S. 608, C.P.C. (1882) (=this rule) cannot be granted, before an appeal to the Privy Council is finally admitted under S. 608 of that Code (=r. 8 of this order). 5 C.W.N. 561. M
- (d) The Zillah Court decreed a suit in favour of the plaintiff; on appeal, the High Court reversed the case and remanded it, without making any order as to the costs of appeal. The Zillah Court, however, proceeded with the case and dismissed the suit. Defendant applied for the execution of his decree for costs. Held, the High Court was not competent, under the circumstances of the case, to suspend execution of the decree or to direct the taking of security. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 45. N
- (e) Where the plaintiff obtained a decree for possession, which was reversed on appeal by the High Court, and the plaintiff then appealed to the Privy Council, it was held, that the High Court had no power to order security to be taken from the defendant-respondent for the due performance of such order as the Privy Council may pass in appeal, or to suspend the decree reversing the decision of the first Court. 2 W.R. (Mis.) 28. O
- (f) Where an appeal to the Privy Council has been admitted, all that the High Court can do is to proceed to stay the execution of the decree, on the appellant giving security for the due performance of the decree of the Privy Council. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 17. P
- (g) The High Court cannot continue an attachment of money made during the pendency of the suit in the District Court, after the decree of that Court has been reversed by the High Court on appeal. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 17. Q

- (h) Presentation of petition for leave to appeal to the Privy Council from decree of High Court—Power of High Court to grant stay of execution of its decree—Admission of appeal. See 19 B. 10; and 5 C.W.N. 562. R
- (i) The Privy Council granted leave to appeal from certain interlocutory orders in execution, in the matter of a decree from which leave to appeal to the Privy Council had been obtained, but refused to order stay of execution, as the decree had not yet been appealed against to the Privy Council, but intimated to the lower Court that the petitioner's prayer was reasonable, and observed that the petitioner might apply to the proper (lower) Court for due security being taken from the opposite party, who, it was not advisable, should be put in possession of large sums of money in dispute in the suit. 14 C. 290 (P.C.)=14 I.A. 1; (10 M.I.A. 322; 10 M.I.A. 196, R.). S
- (j) The principle, which underlies all orders for the preservation of the property pending litigation, is this, that the successful party in the litigation, that is, the ultimately successful party, is to reap the fruits of that litigation and not obtain merely a barren success. 5 C.W.N. 781 (797). T
- (k) A party seeking to obtain security after the decree has been executed must show special circumstances (e.g.), waste or improper dealing with the property, before the Court can grant such an order. 17 W.R. 521; 12 W.R. 296. U

(2) Appeal to Privy Council—Amount of security.

- (a) In the case of an appeal to the Privy Council, security to the extent of the whole sum decreed need not always be taken from the decree-holder. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 62. Y
- (b) When security is taken for less than the full amount decreed the decree-holder should be restrained from issuing process of execution with a view to realizing any sum in excess of the amount for which security is given. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 62. W
- (c) When an appeal is preferred to the Privy Council from a decree of the High Court, the practice is to calculate the security to be taken from the decree-holder for an amount sufficient to meet the mesne profits, which are to go to his hands from the date of his obtaining possession to the probable date of the eventual execution of the decree of the Privy Council—which period is generally taken to be three years. 14 W.R. 361. X

(3) Security from decree-holder pending appeal to Privy Council—Power of High Court—Practice.

- (a) The High Court can, on cause shown, require security from a decree-holder who has been put in possession in execution of a decree, against which an appeal has been preferred to the Privy Council and is still pending. 12 W.R. 296. Y
- (b) It is not imperative on the High Court, under such circumstances, to take security from the decree-holder in possession, unless it be shown that the party in possession is making waste, or is so embarrassed by debt that the estates are likely to be seized by creditors in satisfaction of their claims, or unless some other good cause be shown. 12 W.R. 296. Z

(c) After an appeal had been admitted from a decree of the Sudder Court at Madras, the appellant had applied to that Court, under S. 4 of Reg. VIII of 1818 and the circular order of the 21st September 1826, for an order calling upon the respondents, who had been in possession of the estates in dispute before the institution of the suit, to give security as prescribed by that Regulation. The Sudder Court refused the application as not being within the provisions of the Regulation. Upon petition, the Judicial Committee declined to interfere, as there was no allegation of waste by the respondents in the petition. 6 M.I.A. 309 see, also, 10 M.I.A. 196; 12 W.R. 296; 16 W.R. 289. (e) Respondent put in possession under decree of Sudder Court—Appeal to Privy Council—Security for protection of property pending appeal. See 10 M.I.A. 196. C

(f) Application for decree-holder giving security pending decision of appeal to the Privy Council, refused—Application considered premature, because merely put on the file of the High Court without the appeal being admitted. 16 W.R. 289. D

(g) Order for security to be furnished by the respondent in Privy Council—Order made after decree appealed against—Liability for mesne profits of persons giving security. See 19 M. 140. E

(4) Security from decree-holder—Release of surety—Jurisdiction—Appeal.

(a) A District Judge has no jurisdiction to release a surety from security taken from him by the High Court to enable a decree-holder to take out execution of his decree pending an appeal to the Privy Council. 17 W.R. 468. F

(b) No Appeal will lie from such an order of release by the Judge although it is an improper one. 17 W.R. 468. G

(5) Security—Suspension of writ of restitution—Jurisdiction.

Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession which was reversed by the High Court on appeal, and restitution of the property was ordered. Plaintiff appealed to the Privy Council and applied to be allowed to remain in possession of the property upon the security which he had already given. Held, that the High Court has no power to suspend the restitution and that the defendant was entitled to enforce restitution without giving security. 6 W.R. (Mis.) 111—B.L.R. (Sup. Vol.) 605. H

(6) Stay of execution—Power of Mofussil Court.

A civil Court in the mofussil has no power to stay execution, in cases where an appeal has been preferred to England against a decree of the High Court. 5 M.H.C.B. 98. I

(7) Stay of execution—Power of High Court.

(a) The High Court has power, under Act X of 1877, S. 608, to stay execution of its own decree in a suit subsequently appealed to the Privy Council. 4 C.L.B. 125.

I.—“Powers of Court pending appeal”—(Concluded).

- (b) The High Court, having, under S. 608 (a), C.P.C., 1882, declared the admission of an appeal from their decree, refused an order applied for under this section (=S. 608, C.P.C., 1882), for staying the execution pending the appeal, as the two Judges constituting the High Court differed as to whether or not the case was such that the application should be granted. Their Lordships of the Privy Council, however, held that the execution of the decree should be stayed pending the appeal. 22 C. 1 (P.C). K

- (c) Stay of execution pending appeal by special leave to Privy Council—Jurisdiction of High Court to make interim order pending appeal by special leave to Privy Council—Security for costs—Practice. See 4 C.W.N. 34=26 I.A. 281=27 C. 1 (P.C.). L

(8) Cross decrees—Appeal to Privy Council—Stay of Execution.

Procedure where there is an order to stay the execution of a decree obtained by a party who has appealed to the Privy Council from another decree against himself, if the holder of the decree which is appealed against attempts to execute it. See 14 W.R. 329. M

(9) Order refusing to stay execution—Appeal.

An —, in the exercise of a discretion given to the Court, is not a decision which affects the merits of any question between the parties by determining a right or liability, and no appeal from such an order will lie under cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, 21 C. 473. N

(10) Widow's interest, not competent security.

A judgment-debtor, who had been permitted to retain possession of disputed property, pending an appeal to the Privy Council, on furnishing security for mesne profits and costs, died, and his widow offered her life-interest in his estate as such security; held, that as her interest was only temporary, it could not be accepted as competent security. 12 W.R. 187. O

(11) Power of High Court to order restitution.

As to whether the High Court has power to order restitution of property already taken in execution of its own decree, pending an appeal to the Privy Council. See 4 C.L.R. 125. P

(12) Order of Privy Council—Suspension of execution—Limitation.

Where a judgment-debtor who has appealed to the Privy Council obtains a rule nisi from the High Court, suspending execution until security is given, and this rule is subsequently made absolute, it does not operate against the decree-holder in the matter of time, limitation not running against him until the result of the appeal is known, or the rule otherwise falls to the ground. 19 W.R. 186. Q

14. (1) Where at any time during the pendency of the appeal the security furnished by either party appears inadequate, the Court may, on the application of the other party, require further security.

Increase of security found inadequate.

- (2) In default of such further security being furnished as required by the Court,—

- (a) if the original security was furnished by the appellant, the Court may, on the application of the respondent, execute the decree appealed from as if the appellant had furnished no such security ;
- (b) if the original security was furnished by the respondent, the Court shall, so far as may be practicable, stay the further execution of the decree, and restore the parties to the position in which they respectively were when the security which appears inadequate was furnished, or give such direction respecting the subject-matter of the appeal as it thinks fit.

Old Act.

This corresponds with S. 609 of Act XIV of 1882.

15. (1) Whoever desires to obtain execution of any order of

Procedure to enforce orders of King in Council. 1

His Majesty in Council shall apply by petition, accompanied by a certified copy of the decree passed or order made in appeal and sought to be executed, to the Court from which the appeal to His Majesty was preferred.

(2) Such Court shall transmit the order of His Majesty in Council to the Court which passed the first decree appealed from, or to such other Court as His Majesty in Council by such order may direct, and shall (upon the application of either party) give such directions as may be required for the execution of the same³; and the Court to which the said order is so transmitted shall execute it accordingly, in the manner and according to the provisions applicable to the execution of its original decrees.

(3) When any monies expressed to be payable in British currency are payable in India under such order, the amount so payable shall be estimated according to the rate of exchange for the time being fixed at the date of the making of the order by the Secretary of State⁴ for India in Council with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and the Indian Governments.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 610 Act XIV of 1882 with some slight alterations.

The words "at the date of the making of the order" are newly inserted in the present section before the words "by the Secretary of State" in para (8). This was in order to remove a conflict of decisions under the old Code. See 8 A. 650; 23 C. 357; 25 C. 283; 2 C.W.N. 89, noted infra under heading 4.

1.—"Procedure to enforce orders of King in Council."

(1) Function of Court under this section.

- (a) When a decision of the Privy Council has been reported to His Majesty, and has been sanctioned and embodied in an order of Council, it becomes the decree or order of the Court of Appeal, and it is the duty of every subordinate tribunal, to whom the order is addressed, to carry it into execution. The functions of the latter tribunal are only ministerial. 22 C. 960 (972); Pitts v. La Fontaine, L.R. 6 App. Cas. 482 (483). R
- (b) The duties of the High Court in dealing with the decrees of the Privy Council are purely ministerial; and any order which the Judge of the Privy Council department may make, when acting in a ministerial capacity, cannot be properly considered as a "judgment" and is not therefore appealable under S. 15 of the Charter. Per Garth, C.J., in 7 C. 594=7 C.L.R. 543. S
- (c) Any error made by such Judge can be rectified only by the Privy Council. (Ibid.) T

(2) Order of Privy Council confirming decree of lower Court—Execution.

- (a) Although an order of His Majesty in Council may confirm the decree of the Court below, the order is undoubtedly the paramount decision in the suit, and any application to enforce it is, in point of law, an application to execute the order, and not the decree which is confirmed. 8 C. 218 (F.B.)=10 C.L.R. 425; 11 C.L.R. 277; 21 C. 551 (555). U
- (b) When once an order in Council is made, it becomes the paramount decision in the suit. No distinction is made between cases going up to the Privy Council from the High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, and those from its appellate jurisdiction. 21 C. 551 (8 C. 218, F.). Y
- (c) Where the decree is simply affirmed by the Appellate Court, it is the decree of the Appellate Court which is to be executed. 22 W.R. 102. W
- (d) Such an application for execution is governed by Art. 180 of the Limitation Act (1877). 8 C. 218 (F.B.)=10 C.L.R. 425. X

(3) Execution of orders of Privy Council—Procedure.

- (a) A party in a suit, desirous of executing an order of the Privy Council, ought to apply to the Court from which the appeal was finally brought to the Privy Council, to enforce and execute the decree of Her Majesty in Council; and it is the duty of such Court to give directions for executing the decree to the Court of the first instance by which the suit was originally tried. 18 W.R. 175. Y
- (b) Where an application for execution of an order of Her Majesty in Council has been made elsewhere than in the High Court, the proceedings are invalid. 22 W.R. 102. Z

3.—“Give such directions as may be required for the execution of the same”—(Concluded).

(2) Mesne profits, how ascertained.

(a) In estimating the mesne profits recoverable under a decree, the Court has to ascertain what the person in wrongful possession could have realised by ordinary diligence, and not merely what he actually realized. 4 C.W.N. 681 = 27 C. 951 (P.C.). U

(b) In the absence of evidence, collection charges were allowed at 10 per cent. 4 C.W.N. 681 (P.C.) = 27 C. 951. Y

(3) Interest on mesne profits.

(a) The Court has power to give or refuse interest on mesne profits at its discretion. 4 C.W.N. 681 (P.C.) = 27 C. 951. W

(b) A decree, which merely grants mesne profits and is silent as to interest, must be taken to mean that the mesne profits shall carry interest on them. (Ibid.), but see below. X

(c) When the Court does not expressly grant interest, it should expressly refuse it. (Ibid.) (I.L.R. 11 Ind. App. 88, D.). Y

(d) Where a decree is silent as to interest on mesne profits subsequent to institution of suit, the Court executing the decree cannot assess or give execution for such interest on mesne profits. 15 B.L.R. 888; 24 W.R. 198; 16 W.R. 80; 8 C. 178; 14 W.R. (P.C.) 28; 19 M.I.A. 490; 21 W.R. 155; 14 W.R. 485; 3 C. 720; 13 C. 288; 2 I.A. 219; 15 M. 203; 5 C.L.R. 189; 5 B.L.R. 605. Z

(4) Execution—Costs—Interest.

(a) Where the decree of the Privy Council has not awarded interest on costs, the Courts of this country ought not to allow such interest in execution. See 23 C. 357; 8 C. 161 = 4 I.A. 187 = Suth. P.C. 628 (P.C.); 82 C. 494 = 9 C.W.N. 872 = 1 C.L.J. 118; 22 B. 42. A

(b) A decree cannot be extended in execution beyond its real meaning. 11 B. 537 (539). B

(c) But, interest not provided for in the Privy Council order may be allowed in execution, where the parties have agreed to submit the matter to the discretion of the executing Court. 3 C. 161 = 4 I.A. 187 = Suth. P.C. 628 (P.C.). C

(5) Costs—Practice.

The rule of the proportion observed in India with regard to costs does not prevail before the Judicial Committee. The respondent having failed in all the important points was ordered to pay the costs of the appeal. 4 C.W.N. 681 = 27 C. 951 (P.C.). D

4.—“Rate of exchange by the Secretary of State.”

(1) Rate of exchange—“For the time being”, meaning of—Conflict of decisions under old Code.

(a) Under the last para of the old section, it was held that the amount payable must be estimated at the rate of exchange “for the time being fixed by the Secretary of State for India in Council.” 8 A. 650 (653). E

2.—“Accompanied by a copy of the decree or order”—(Concluded).

- (d) An execution application, not followed by a copy of the decree, is an application in accordance with law, within the meaning of Art. 179, Limitation Act, the defect having reference only to an extraneous circumstance, viz., the failure to produce the copy of the decree. 28 M. 557 (559). M

3.—“Give such directions as may be required for the execution of the same.”

(1) Execution—Mesne profits.

- (a) Where a person, dispossessed under the decree of the lower Court, succeeds in appeal and seeks restitution, he may be awarded mesne profits during the period he was kept out of possession. In a case of this kind, the execution Court adds nothing to the decree of the Appellate Court, but only sets aside that which has resulted from its own action taken under an erroneous decree. 3 C. 720=2 C.L.R. 75; (2 W.R. 275, R.; 10 W.R. 181; B.L.R. 985 (F.B.); 9 W.R. 403 (407), F.; 4 I.A. 137=3 C. 161=Suth. P.C. 628 (P.C.), D. N
- (b) Where a successful appellant seeks restitution, by virtue of the appellate decree, of what he has paid under the lower Court's decree, the Court executing the appellate decree can award interest on the amount the appellant was out of pocket of. 8 A. 262=6 A.W.N. 87. O
- (c) Where the decision in a suit has ordered mesne profits to be determined in execution, the Court executing the decree is not precluded from altering or varying the decree so far as it relates to mesne profits. In such a case, the plaintiff is not necessarily limited to the amount claimed by him in the plaint on account of mesne profits. 9 C. 112.P
- (d) When the Privy Council declared an appellant entitled to real property of which he was out of possession, and directed the High Court to make the necessary inquiry to ascertain what is comprised therein, and to proceed in the suit as upon the result of such inquiry may appear to be just, the High Court, on being applied to for execution, ought, besides giving possession, to ascertain and award mesne profits, up to the date of giving possession. (5 B.L.R. 605) (P.C.)=13 M.I.A. 490. Q
- (e) Where a Subordinate Judge, in giving effect to a decree of the Privy Council ordered the restitution of the property which had been taken under a decree of the High Court, it was held to have done right in giving mesne profits, although these were not expressly awarded by the Privy Council. 21 W.R. 195; see, also, 14 W.R. (P.C.) 23; 13 M.I.A. 490 (P.C.); 28 A. 337=A.W.N. (1906) 43=3 A.L.J. 110. R
- (f) Construction of order giving effect to the judgment of Privy Council—Mesne profits—Cost of management—Interest. See 15 M. 203. S
- (g) When a decision of the Privy Council is sent down to the Court of the first instance by the High Court, and becomes the final decree in the case, the Court of first instance is bound to execute it in the same way precisely as if it were an express decree of the High Court. 20 W.R. 419, T

3.—“Give such directions as may be required for the execution of the same”—(Concluded).

(2) Mesne profits, how ascertained.

(a) In estimating the mesne profits recoverable under a decree, the Court has to ascertain what the person in wrongful possession could have realised by ordinary diligence, and not merely what he actually realized. 4 C.W.N. 631 = 27 C. 951 (P.C.). U

(b) In the absence of evidence, collection charges were allowed at 10 per cent. 4 C.W.N. 631 (P.C.) = 27 C. 951. Y

(3) Interest on mesne profits.

(a) The Court has power to give or refuse interest on mesne profits at its discretion. 4 C.W.N. 631 (P.C.) 27 C. 951. W

(b) A decree, which merely grants mesne profits and is silent as to interest, must be taken to mean that the mesne profits shall carry interest on them. (Ibid.), but see below. X

(c) When the Court does not expressly grant interest, it should expressly refuse it. (Ibid.) (I.R. 11 Ind. App. 88, D.). Y

(d) Where a decree is silent as to interest on mesne profits subsequent to institution of suit, the Court executing the decree cannot assess or give execution for such interest on mesne profits. 15 B.L.R. 888; 24 W.R. 198; 16 W.R. 80; 8 C. 178; 14 W.R. (P.C.) 28; 18 M.I.A. 490; 21 W.R. 155; 14 W.R. 485; 8 C. 720; 18 C. 288; 2 I.A. 219; 15 M. 203; 5 C.L.R. 189; 5 B.L.R. 605. Z

(4) Execution Costs - Interest.

(a) Where the decree of the Privy Council has not awarded interest on costs, the Courts of this country ought not to allow such interest in execution. See 23 C. 357; 3 C. 161 = 4 I.A. 137 = Suth. P.O. 628 (P.C.); 22 C. 494 = 9 C.W.N. 872 = 1 C.L.J. 118; 22 B. 42. A

(b) A decree cannot be extended in execution beyond its real meaning. 11 B. 537 (539). B

(c) But, interest not provided for in the Privy Council order may be allowed in execution, where the parties have agreed to submit the matter to the discretion of the executing Court. 8 C. 161 = 4 I.A. 137 = Suth. P.O. 628 (P.C.). C

(5) Costs—Practice.

The rule of the proportion observed in India with regard to costs does not prevail before the Judicial Committee. The respondent having failed in all the important points was ordered to pay the costs of the appeal. 4 C.W.N. 631 = 27 C. 951 (P.C.). D

4.—“Rate of exchange by the Secretary of State.”

(1) Rate of exchange—“For the time being”, meaning of—Conflict of decisions under old Code.

(a) Under the last para of the old section, it was held that the amount payable must be estimated at the rate of exchange “for the time being fixed by the Secretary of State for India in Council.” 8 A. 650 (652). E

4.—“Rate of exchange by the Secretary of State”—(Concluded).

(b) The words “for the time being” were held to mean the year in which the amount is realised or paid or execution is taken out, and not the year in which the decree was passed. 8 A. 650 (652); but see 23 C. 857; 2 C.W.N. 89. F

(c) The words “for the time being” have reference only to the time at which the order of the Privy Council was passed. They do not refer to the time at which execution is taken out. 23 C. 283 (285)=2 C.W.N. 89. G

(d) In converting into Indian currency the amount of costs expressed in sterling in an order of His Majesty in Council, the rate of exchange is the rate which prevailed at the time when the order was made. 25 C. 283 (285)=2 C.W.N. 89. H

N.B.—The insertion of the words “at the date of the making of the order” in the present section sets at rest the above conflict of decisions.

(General).

(1) Execution—Special directions by Privy Council—Attachment—Procedure.

(a) Where a judgment of the P.C. ordered execution for mesne profits to be taken out, first, against one defendant, and, only on failure to obtain satisfaction from him, against the others, it was held, that, before the assets of the former had been exhausted, attachment could not issue against the assets of the latter, even by way of preliminary and protective step. 22 W.R. 104. I

(b) The inquiry in such a case, as to whether or not the assets of the former have been exhausted, should be made by calling upon the other judgment-debtors to show cause why execution should not proceed against them. 22 W.R. 104. J

(2) Decree of Privy Council—Mistranslation—Execution.

In confirming a decree of the High Court, the Privy Council left it to be determined by that Court in execution whether the respondents were entitled to the full amount claimed. As the doubt was found to be owing to a mistranslation of the word ‘Shohodur’ (uterine brothers), the Court allowed execution for the whole amount. 17 W.R. 840. K

(3) Costs of suit—Payment out of minor's estate.

In a case, where a minor withdrew an appeal on coming of age, the costs of his mother and guardian, who had conducted the case on behalf of the minor, were directed to be paid out of the estate. 18 M.L.A. 602 (606). L

(4) Remand by Privy Council—What ought to be forwarded to lower Court.

When the Privy Council remits a case to this country, with directions that the District Court may arrive at certain results by certain inquiries, the objects and reasons of those inquiries, as set forth in the judgment of the Privy Council, are part of the judicial record; and, as such, may be forwarded to the District Court with the decree of the Privy Council. 5 W.R. 271. M

(5) Security bond—Registration.

A security bond, given on behalf of a respondent in a Privy Council appeal, and purporting to transfer to the Registrar of the High Court an interest, in properties mentioned in the bond, with a view to secure a future judgment-debt incurred in the appeal, is a mortgage deed within the meaning of S. 58, Transfer of Property Act. 3 C.W.N. 84; 26 C. 246; 1 C.L.J. 118. N

(General)—(Concluded).

(6) Order of Privy Council—Execution—Limitation.

Proceedings held in the High Court for the purpose of getting the order of the Privy Council sent down to the lower Court for execution, whether strictly legitimate or not, if bona fide efforts are made by the judgment-creditor to carry into effect that order, must be taken to be proceedings keeping the decree alive. 19 W.R. 301. O

Appeal from order relating to execution. 1

16. The orders made by the Court which executes the order of His Majesty in Council, relating to such execution, shall be appealable in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the orders of such Court relating to the execution of its own decrees.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds with S. 611, C.P.C. (1882), with some slight verbal variations.

1. "Appeal from order relating to execution."

Order of single Judge of High Court Appeal.

An appeal will lie, as of right, from the order of a single Judge of the High Court as to execution of a decree of the Privy Council, where the property is over Rs. 10,000. 5 B.L.R. 605 (P.C.) = 18 M.I.A. 490.

N.B.- Note also 9 C. 482; 7 C. 389; 17 C. 455 noted, supra.

ORDER XLVI.

REFERENCE.

1. Where, before or on the hearing of a suit or an appeal in which the decree is not subject to appeal,² or where, in the execution of any such decree, any question of law or usage having the force of law arises, on which the Court trying the suit or appeal, or executing the decree, entertains reasonable doubt, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer such statement with its own opinion on the point for the decision of the High Court.³

Reference of question to High Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

(OF REFERENCE TO AND REVISION BY THE HIGH COURT.

617. If, before or on the hearing of a suit or an appeal in which the decree is final, or if, in the execution of any such decree, any question of law or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document, which construction may affect the merits, arises, on which the Court trying the suit or appeal, or executing the decree, entertains reasonable doubt, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer such statement with its own opinion on the point for the decision of the High Court.

Changes.

- (i) This rule corresponds to S. 617 of the Code of 1882 given above. The title of this order is also curtailed into "Reference." The only alteration of importance in the new Code is the substitution of the expression "not subject to appeal" in the first clause for the word "final" in the old Code.
- (ii) The words "or the construction of a document which construction may affect the merits" have been omitted, as they appear to be sufficiently covered by the power to refer any question of law. See Special Committee's Report, dated 3rd September 1907.

(General)

Scope of rule.

- (a) This provision is applicable to an application for a fresh hearing. 11 W.R. 525. P
- (b) No reference can be made concerning points that may arise on applications for a review of judgment. 17 W.R. 94; also ibid., 95. Q
- (c) The Chief Court, however, was held to be competent to entertain a reference made on a review. 23 P.R. 1872. R
- (d) On a reference, under S. 617 (= O. 46, r. 1) by a District Judge trying a second appeal, in a suit for arrears of rent, under N.W.P. Act XVIII of 1873, held, that the Court was unable to entertain the reference, as S. 617 did not apply to suits under the Rent Act. 1 A.W.N. 145.S

1.—"Where before or on the....appeal."

Reference to be made before decree.

The defendant in a S.C. suit, after it was decreed for the plaintiff, applied for a reference to the Chief Court on certain points of law, and the S. C. Court made the reference under S. 617 (= r. 1). Held, that no reference could be made, as the questions arose at the hearing of the suit, and had not been referred, nor was the decree made contingent on the result of a reference to the Chief Court. 31 P.R. 1879. T

2.—"In which the decree is not subject to appeal."

(1) Reference can be made only by Court whose decree can be final.

- (a) The High Court has jurisdiction to entertain a reference, only when there is a suit or appeal before the Court making the reference, in which the decree or order by that Court is final. 18 C. 234 (239); see, also, 16 C.P.L.R. 17 (18). U

- (b) Where any decree that might be passed in a suit could not be final, a reference was held to be unauthorised under r. 1. 40 P.R. 1878. Y

2.—“In which the decree is not subject to appeal”—(Concluded).

- (c) It is only when a matter cannot come before the High Court as a Court of Appeal that a reference can be made under S. 617 (=O. 46, r. 1). 7 C.L.R. 144; see, also, 11 B. 57 (58) and 12 B. 30. W
- (d) Unless the decree be final, no reference can be made as to points arising in execution proceedings. 17 B. 735. X
- (e) A Munsiff, being of opinion that he had no jurisdiction to entertain a particular suit, made an order returning the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. An appeal was preferred, under S. 588 (=S. 104, new Code), to the District Judge, who, entertaining doubts upon the question of jurisdiction, referred the matter to the High Court under S. 617 (r. 1). Held, that, inasmuch as the order of the Munsiff was not a final decree in the suit, and any order of the Judge in appeal disposing of the plea of jurisdiction would not amount to a final decree within the meaning of S. 617, the High Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the reference. 7 A. 815—5 A.W.N. 245. Y
- (f) No reference lies in respect of the order of a District Judge on an application for probate, the order not being final. 5 C. 756. Z
- (g) On a reference under r. 1, as to whether the sanction of the Commissioner or of the Chief Court was necessary before a sale in execution of a decree can take place, the reference was held to be not permissible by law, as the decree was not a final one in either of the cases in connection with which the reference was made. 100 P.R. 1880. A
- (h) And, though an order directing the sale of attached property under O. 21, r. 14 (S. 284) may not be open to appeal, yet the finality that allows of a reference under r. 1 (S. 617) pertains to the decree sought to be executed, and not the order passed in execution. (Ibid). B
- (i) In answering a reference, the Chief Court pointed out that, though it was within the terms of S. 617, there was no practical necessity for any reference to be made. The appeal to the Divisional Judge, which brought about the reference, was held to be an appeal, in which the decree was final for the purposes of S. 617, by virtue of S. 44, Punjab Courts Act. 19 P.R. 1882. C
- (j) But on a reference by a Divisional Judge, in an appeal before him in a suit for a declaration in respect of a certain area of land, held, that, though the reference was not entertainable under S. 617, because, the suit being a land suit, the decision of the Divisional Judge was subject to a further appeal to the Chief Court, under S. 40 (1) (b) of the Punjab Courts Act, as amended by Act XXV of 1899, and under S. 70 (1) (b) of the said Act as so amended, still, by reason of S. 44 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, which stands unamended, the reference was entertainable. 16 P.L.R. 1906—89 P.R. 1905; see, also, 40 P.R. 1878. D
- (k) For observations as to the making of references to the Chief Court, under S. 617, in cases where a further appeal will lie from a certificate granted by the Divisional Judge, or, in which an application for revision can be preferred under S. 632 of the Code. See 19 P.R. 1893. E

(3) Litigious matters only authorise reference.

Ss. 617 and 647 (=r. 1 and S. 141) cannot authorize a reference except in a matter of litigation. 12 B. 73 (79, 80), referring to P.J., for 1882, p. 257. F

3.—“Or where, in the execution . . . High Courts.”

(1) Question of law or usage having force of law must arise.

A reference can only be made under S. 69, Act XV of 1882, for the opinion of the High Court, upon some question of law or usage having the force of law, or upon the construction of a document, if any such question arises in a suit or proceeding in which the amount or value of the subject-matter is over Rs. 500 and either party requires such reference. 1 C.W.N. 148. G

(2) Conditions for making a reference under the rule.

- (a) A Small Cause Court should not make a reference on a simple point, merely on the application of the parties, unless it entertains a doubt upon the question. 14 W.R. 248 (249). H
- (b) One of the conditions for making a reference properly under S. 617 is the existence of a reasonable doubt on the questions referred. 25 P.R. 1886; see, also, 35 P.R. 1886. I
- (c) S. 617 (=r. 1) provides for references on questions of law by the Judge of an inferior Court, who feels any doubt on such questions. 15 C. 507 (509). J
- (d) Ss. 617 and 647 apply when doubts arise in the hearing of a suit or appeal or execution or other proceeding. 25 B. 327 (329). K
- (e) And S. 617 was not intended to provide for supposititious cases which do not actually arise in a proper proceeding before the Court. 25 B. 327 (329). L
- (f) E. g., a reference under S. 617 or S. 647 cannot be made merely on an application, by a certain person, who claims to be a trustee or manager of a mosque, made to a District Judge, who took no action in the matter. 25 B. 327 (329). M
- (g) Under S. 617, a Court can only express its opinion upon the matter referred, when these conditions have been complied with :—
 - (1) that the Court referring the matter entertains a reasonable doubt upon some question of law ;
 - (2) states what the point is upon which the doubt is entertained ; and
 - (3) draws up a statement of the facts containing an expression of opinion on the point referred to the decision of the High Court. 30 C. 458 (462). Per Maclean, C.J. N
- (h) A reference under this order can only be made, when the Judge of the lower Court entertains a reasonable doubt, and he cannot ordinarily entertain a reasonable doubt on a point clearly decided by the rulings of the High Court of his Presidency, unless the authority of the decision can be questioned by virtue of any thing said or decided in the Privy Council. 7 Bom. L.R. 995 = 30 B. 226 and 13 B. 54. O
- (i) Case where the attention of the Courts was drawn to the provisions of the law for obtaining a final decision, in cases of doubt, as to whether a suit was cognisable by the Civil or Revenue Courts, viz., to S. 99, Punjab Tenancy Act, S. 44, Punjab Courts Act, and O. 46, r. 1, C.P. Code.. 40 P.R. 1893. P

3.—“Or where, in the execution....High Court”—(Continued).

(3) Doubtful points to be precisely stated.

(a) In a case stated for the opinion of the High Court, the precise question of law or usage must be formulated. 15 B. 376. Q

(b) A reference under S. 617 (r. 1) must distinctly set out the legal point or points in the case, as to the decision of which the Judge entertains a reasonable doubt. 98 P.L.R. 1902. R

(4) Conflict of decisions no ground of reference.

It is not a ground for making a reference to the Chief Court, under S. 617 (r. 1), that a ruling of the Chief Court conflicts with a ruling of another High Court. 3 L.B.R. 255 (256). S

(5) Reference on points of Stamp law invalid.

(a) The High Court will not entertain a reference from the District Court in respect of the Stamp duty payable on a bail bond executed to a District Munsiff. 11 M. 88. T

(b) S. 617 does not contemplate a reference as to the proper court-fee payable on a memorandum of appeal, which point must be decided by the referring Court itself under S. 12 (1), Court Fees Act. A.W.N. (1906) 180. U

(6) Powers of reference of Insolvency Court.

As to whether it is competent to a Judge, acting under the insolvency jurisdiction conferred by the Punjab Laws Act, to refer a question to the Chief Court under S. 167 [read with old S. 647 (now S. 141) of the Code,] see 88 P.R. 1877; see, also, 28 P.L.R. 1902. Y

(7) Reference where Judge cannot hear appeal.

A reference cannot be made by a Judge who is not competent to entertain an appeal. 4 M. 217 (218). W

(8) Dispute between litigants essential to justify reference.

(a) No reference can be made under this rule, unless some matter is in dispute between the parties in a suit or appeal, or in a matter in which the Court is required, in the proper sense, to adjudicate, vis., to decide on the rival claims of contending parties. 12 B. 78 (79). X

(b) N.g., a reference cannot be made by an Appellate Court to which a pleader, fined for declining to appear for his client, appeals. 12 B. 78 (79). Y

(c) Because, an inquiry of this kind is of a disciplinary character, and, as such, it is not litigious. (Ibid., referring to In re Hardurche, 12 Q.B.D. 148. Z

(d) And the fact that an appeal is allowed from a Subordinate Judge to a District Judge does not make such a proceeding litigious. 12 B. 78 (79). A

(e) Held, that a District Court could not refer to the High Court even a point that arose in a contention connected with the Land Acquisition Act, 1870. P.J. 1882, p. 257; cited in 12 B. 78 (79). B

(9) Any Judge may make a reference.

So long as the requirements of the rule are complied with, reference may be made by any Judge. 80 C. 718 and 25 B. 827. C

3.—“Or where, in the execution...High Court”—(Continued).

(10) Exact points, and not general questions, to be referred.

Questions of a general nature must not be submitted on a reference, but the exact question of law, or usage having the force of law, must be stated.
15 B. 376. D

(11) Relation between S. 69, Presy. S. C. C. Act, 1882, and this rule.

As to whether S. 617 (=r. 1) is to be read as incorporated with S. 69 of the Presy. S. C. C. Act. See 1 C.W.N. 143. E

(12) Reference under S. 69, S. C. C. Act, 1882, to be dealt with under this order.

(a) A reference, under S. 69 of the Presy. S.C.C. Act, should be dealt with by the High Court under S. 617 and its dependent Ss. 618, 619, 620 and 621, in so far as the provisions of these sections are applicable to such a reference. 15 B. 376 (386). F

(b) Thus, the costs of such a reference are to be dealt with under S. 620. (See 15 C. 509); 15 B. 376 (386). G

(c) The case may be sent back for amendment under S. 621 (=r. 5). 15 B. 376 (386). H

(13) S. 69, Presy. S. C. C. Act, states manner of making reference.

S. 69 of the Presy. S.C.C. Act directs the manner in which, in certain cases, references are to be made to the High Court, and by that section they are to be referred under S. 617 (=r. 1). 15 C. 507 (509). I

(14) But S. 69 is wider than this rule.

S. 69 of the Presy. S. C. C. Act is somewhat wider, because the reference may be made, whether there is a doubt or not; but yet the reference is to be, in express terms, under that section. 15 C. 507 (509). J

(15) Construction of S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act.

S. 69 of the Presy. S.C.C. Act should be read as meaning and contemplating that the opinion to be expressed by the High Court is an opinion governed by S. 617. 30 C. 458 (462)—Per Sale, J. See now Act IV of 1906. K

(16) Requirements of rule to be observed in references under S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act.

(a) That being so, before the High Court can express an opinion upon a case referred to it under S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act, the conditions contained in S. 617 must be complied with. 30 C. 458 (462)—Per Sale, J. L

(b) S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act, makes it a condition precedent to the drawing up of a statement of the facts of the case by the Small Cause Court and referring it for the opinion of the High Court, that a question of law or usage having the force of law, or as to the construction of a document which may affect the merits, arises in the case. 20 B. 779 (783); see, also, 1 C.W.N. 143. M

(c) If, upon the findings of the Judge, no such question arises, the Small Cause Court has no authority to refer the case for the opinion of the High Court, and the High Court has no jurisdiction to deal with it. 20 B. 779 (783). N

(d) S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act, moreover, imposes on the Small Cause Court the duty of drawing up the case, and, though, in framing it, that Court may well invite the assistance of the parties and give weight to their suggestions, yet it ought not to send up questions which involve the High Court in the dilemma of either entering upon matters of fact, or refusing to answer the questions, or drawn in such a form as to involve an assumption which the facts, as found by the Judge, do not warrant. 20 B. 779 (783). O

- (c) The Small Cause Court is itself responsible for the form of the case, which it submits for the opinion of the High Court. 20 B. 779 (783). P

(17) Reference by Full Bench of Presy. S.C.C. on application for new trial.

(On an application for a new trial, made under S. 37, Act XV of 1882, no case for the High Court's opinion can be stated by the Full Bench of a Presidency Small Causes Court. 15 M. 179 (180). Q

(18) Procedure where S.C. Judges differ in such a case.

If, on an application to the Presy. S.C. Court for a new trial, the Judges differ in their opinion as to any question of law, and the majority reverse the decree of the trial Judge without ordering a fresh trial, it is the duty of the Court to state a case for the High Court's opinion, under S. 69, Presy. S.C. Courts Act. 20 M. 358—7 M.L.J. 140. R

(19) Application for reference to High Court to be made before S.C. Court delivers judgment.

A party requiring the Judge, under S. 69, Presy. S.C.C. Act., XV of 1882, to make a reference to the High Court, must do so before the Judge has delivered his judgment, as it gives the Judge the option, on being so required, either of postponing his judgment or delivering it, contingent on the opinion of the High Court. 16 B. 618 (624). S

(20) Reference on point already considered by Division Bench.

No reference can be made on a matter on which a Division Bench has already declared its opinion. 18 B. 54. T

(21) Conflicting orders as to jurisdiction—Procedure.

Civil and Revenue Courts should not issue conflicting orders on the question of jurisdiction to try a suit. Where a subordinate Court has already made a certain order as to jurisdiction in this connection, no conflicting order should be passed by another subordinate Court. The proper procedure is to submit a reference to a superior authority. 68 P.R. 1904. U

Court may pass decree contingent upon decision of High Court.

2. The Court may either stay the proceedings or proceed in the case notwithstanding such reference, and may pass a decree or make an order contingent upon the decision of the High Court on the point referred;

but no decree or order shall be executed in any case in which such reference is made until the receipt of a copy of the judgment of the High Court upon the reference.

Old Act.Difference between the old and the new Acts.

Corresponds with S. 618 of the Code of 1882. The expression "make an order contingent upon the decision of the High Court" has been substituted in the new Code for the expression "order contingent upon the opinion of the High Court" in the previous Code; and the second para now has "but no decree or order made shall be executed" for "but no execution shall be issued, property sold or person imprisoned" in the old Code.

3. The High Court, after hearing the parties if they appear and desire to be heard, shall decide the point so referred, and shall transmit a copy of its judgment, under the signature of the Registrar, to the Court by which the reference was made; and such Court shall, on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case in conformity with the decision of the High Court.

Judgment of High Court to be transmitted, and case disposed of accordingly.

(Notes).(Old Acts).*Changes.

Corresponds with S. 619 of the previous Code. The expression "shall hear the parties to the case in which the reference is made, in person or by their respective pleaders, and" has been omitted from the new Code and, in its stead, the expression "after hearing the parties if they appear and desire to be heard" has been inserted in consequence of the remarks in 24 C. 129 (131).

(1) Duty of referring Court after receipt of High Court's opinion.

(a) A Small Causes Court passed a decree for the plaintiffs contingent on the opinion of the High Court, which held that they could not succeed. Held, that the S. C. Court had no power to allow the suit to be withdrawn, but ought to enter judgment for the defendants on receipt of the High Court's opinion. 24 C. 129 (182). Y

(b) Had the case been referred in an interlocutory or intermediate stage, the final judgment being withheld until the decision on the point referred to the High Court, the Small Cause Court would then have been in possession of the case, but having pronounced judgment contingent upon the opinion of the High Court, which opinion was against that judgment, there was only one course to take, viz., to carry out that opinion. 24 C. 129 (182, 183). W

(2) Construction of the words "the case."

The words "the case" in the last part of the section refer to the case in the first part, showing clearly that what is intended is the suit, and not the subject of the reference. 24 C. 129 (131). X

(3) High Court cannot review its own judgment on a reference.

The High Court cannot review a judgment passed by it under S. 619 on a reference from a Subordinate Judge with Small Cause Court powers. 10 B. 63 (69). Y

Costs of reference to High Court.

4. The costs (if any) consequent on a reference for the decision of the High Court shall be costs in the case.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 620 of the Code of 1882. In the new Code, the word "decision" is substituted for the word "opinion" used in the old.

(1) Scope of rule.

(a) S. 617 allows a reference in the hearing of a suit or appeal, and under S. 620 the costs are to be costs in the case. 15 C. 507 (509); see, also 15 B. 376 (386). Z

(b) This means costs of the suit or appeal as in S. 617, S. 620 being the section under which the costs are dealt with, and the costs being made the costs in the case. 15 C. 507 (509). A

(2) "Costs," meaning of.

The technical meaning of the words "the costs in the case" is quite unknown in this country generally, costs of every separate application being dealt with according to the discretion of the Judge when dealing with the costs of the case. 15 C. 507 (509). B

(8) When costs to be dealt with.

(a) The costs of an application may be dealt with separately or reserved; but the costs of a suit can only be dealt with once and for all, viz., at the termination of the suit. 15 C. 507 (509). C

(b) But they are in the discretion of the Court, which is not necessarily bound to give them to the party who succeeds in the suit. 15 C. 507 (509). D

(c) The costs of a reference to the High Court should be dealt with when awarding the costs of the suit, and not separately. 15 C. 507 (509). E

5. Where a case is referred to the High Court under rule 1,

Power to alter, etc., decrees of Court making reference.

the High Court may return the case for amendment, and may alter, cancel or set aside any decree or order which the Court making the reference has passed or made in the case out of which the reference arose, and make such order as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 821 of the Code of 1882. After the word "passed," the words "or made" have been inserted in the new Code.

High Court's power to return case referred for amendment.

Where the points required to be mentioned in the reference have not been so mentioned, the High Court has the power to return the case to the referring Court for amendment. 30 C. 458 (463). F

6. (1) Where at any time before judgment a Court in which a suit has been instituted doubts whether the suit is cognizable by a Court of Small Causes or is not so cognizable, it may submit the record to the High Court with a statement of its reasons for the doubt as to the nature of the suit.

Power to refer to High Court question as to jurisdiction in small causes.

(2) On receiving the record and statement, the High Court may order the Court either to proceed with the suit or to return the plaint for presentation to such other Court as it may in its order declare to be competent to take cognizance of the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 646 A of the Code of 1882. The changes are few and trivial.

Scope of rule.

- (a) S. 646-A applies to a case before judgment. 24 B. 310 (314). G
- (b) E.g., A Subordinate Judge with Small Cause powers tried a suit under that jurisdiction and decreed it. On appeal, the District Court, holding the suit not to be of a small cause nature, reversed the decree and remanded the case for trial as an ordinary one. A reference by the Subordinate Judge, under S. 646 A, was held to be unauthorised under that section, which dealt with cases before judgment. (Ibid.) H

7. (1) Where it appears to a District Court that a Court subordinate thereto has, by reason of erroneously holding a suit to be cognizable by a Court of Small Causes or not to be so cognizable, failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law, or exercised a jurisdiction not so vested, the District Court may, and if required by a party shall, submit the record to the High Court with a statement of its reasons for considering the opinion of the Subordinate Court with respect to the nature of the suit to be erroneous.

Power to District Court to submit for revision proceedings had under mistake as to jurisdiction in small causes.

(2) On receiving the record and statement the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

(3) With respect to any proceedings subsequent to decree in any case submitted to the High Court under this rule, the High Court may make such order as in the circumstance appears to it to be just and proper.

(4) A Court subordinate to a District Court shall comply with any requisition which the District Court may make for any record or information for the purposes of this rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Corresponds with S. 646 B of the Code of 1882. The alterations are insignificant.

(1) Scope and object of the rule.

- (a) This rule is only an enabling rule. 30 M. 41 (43).
- (b) The obvious object of the section is to enable the High Court to pass such an order as the justice of the case requires, without being compelled to decide the case solely with reference to jurisdiction and thus perhaps put the parties to the expense and trouble of fruitlessly litigating the same question again before the very Judge sitting as a Small Cause Court, who had already tried the case on the ordinary civil side with the greater formality thereby required and with the safeguard of an appeal. 27 M. 478 (479), following 21 C. 249 and not following 26 M. 176. I

(2) Is a Court bound to make a reference when parties require it?

- (a) A District Judge is bound to make a reference to the High Court under S. 646-B, where one of the parties require him to do so. 13 M. 344 (346). J
- (b) The fact that an appeal lay to him does not preclude him from making the reference. 13 M. 344 (346). K
- (c) If the parties so require it, the District Court has no discretion at all; it is bound to submit the case for the orders of the High Court. 21 C. 249 (251). L
- (d) The references contemplated by S. 646-B (=r. 7) are limited to cases where the District Court is of opinion that there has been an error in the exercise of, or in the declining exercise of, jurisdiction in cases of the kind mentioned in the section. 11 A. 804 (807) = 9 A. W. N. 75. M
- (e) But these references are not intended to apply to a case where a Judge has not exercised his mind to consider whether or not the Court below, whose judgment he was dealing with, had or had not jurisdiction. That section is limited only to cases where there has been an error. 11 A. 804 (807). N
- (f) S. 646-B does not apply to every case in which a Court of Small Causes has failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law, but only to a restricted number of such cases, namely, those cases in which a Court of Small Causes has erroneously held a suit to be or not to be cognisable by it. A.W.N. (1902), 219 = 25 A. 185. O
- (g) The District Court can make a reference under this rule only when it believes the order of the subordinate Court to be erroneous. 91 P.R. 1890; 28 P.R. 1907 and 93 P.L.R. 1908. P

(3) Construction of word "shall".

The word "shall" in S. 646-B, cl. (1), is not mandatory, but directory. 11 A. 804 (806) = 9 A.W.N. 75. Q

(4) District Judge may refer whether appeal is pending or not before him.

A District Judge has jurisdiction under S. 646-B to refer a case to the High Court, whether the case is or is not pending in his Court in appeal. 80 C. 20, (13 M. 344 R.). R

(5) Record and reasons to be submitted on reference.

When a reference is made to the High Court, under S. 646 B the record must be submitted with a statement of the reasons for considering the opinion of the subordinate Court with respect to the nature of the suit to be erroneous. 28 A. 293=3 A.L.J. 23=A.W.N. (1906), 29. S

(6) District Judge's power to refer where first Court has no jurisdiction to try suit.

(a) Where no question as to the Court's jurisdiction was raised by either party, and the Court of Small Causes proceeded to judgment as if the case was properly cognisable by it, the High Court refused to interfere upon a reference made by the District Judge, purporting to be under S. 646-B of the Code. 25 A. 185=A.W.N. (1902), 219. T

(b) S. 646-B must be read with S. 16, Provl. S. C. Courts Act, so as to modify its full effect in a case wrongly tried by an ordinary Civil Court and taken on appeal to the District Court; the parties having in both the lower Courts submitted to the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts, all the time, it is not competent to either of them, on second appeal, to plead the want of jurisdiction in those Courts, so as to render all proceedings taken in the suit void. 21 B. 249 (252); see also 27 M. 478. U

(c) Where a suit cognisable by a Court of Small Causes was tried as a regular civil suit, by the Munsiff who had the powers of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes, held, that this was no ground under S. 646 B for setting aside the proceedings and decree of the Munsiff and ordering a fresh trial. 30 C. 20; see, also, 127 P.L.R. 1903. V

(d) A Court of first instance, having no jurisdiction, decreed a suit with costs, and the decree was reversed, on appeal, on the merits, and the suit dismissed with costs throughout, the parties and the Courts assuming that the lower Court had jurisdiction in the matter. Held, that the decree for costs was not a nullity and that such amount was recoverable. 30 M. 41 (43); (27 A. 479 and 25 A. 135, R.). W

(e) S. 646-B gives the High Court a discretion to pass such orders as it thinks proper, in cases referred for its orders under that section, and such cases include a case where the small cause suit has been irregularly tried by an ordinary Civil Court. 27 M. 478 (479), followed in 30 M. 41. X

(f) Where a case has been submitted to the High Court under S. 646-B, held, that the High Court had full power to consider the matter of jurisdiction or to deal with the case on the merits so as to do substantial justice, without necessarily putting the parties to the expense of a fresh trial (despite S. 16, Act IX of 1887). 21 C. 249 (252). Y

(g) Because S. 646-B, being an enabling section, does not cut down the jurisdiction of the appellate tribunal. 30 M. 41 (43). Z

(h) As to whether, having regard to Ss. 646-A and 666-B, the Appellate Court would be right in dismissing a suit for want of jurisdiction, even supposing that the order made under S. 23, Provl. S.C. C. Act, had not expressly conferred jurisdiction upon the Munsiff. See 23 C. 425 (427). A

(7) "Subordinate Court" meaning of.

The subordinate Courts referred to in the rule are subordinate Courts other than Courts of Small Causes. 91 P.R. 1890; 23 P.R. 1907 and 93 P.R. 1908. B

ORDER XLVII.

REVIEW.

Application for review of judgment.

1. (1) Any person considering himself aggrieved—

- (a) by a decree or order¹ from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,²
- (b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed, or
- (c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes,³ and who, from the discovery of new and important matter or evidence⁴ which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him⁵ at the time when the decree was passed or order made, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record,⁶ or for any other sufficient reason,⁷ desires to obtain a review of the decree passed or order made against him, may apply for a review of judgments to the Court which passed the decree or made the order.

(2) A party who is not appealing from a decree or order may apply for a review of judgment notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by some other party⁸ except where the ground of such appeal is common to the applicant and the appellant, or when, being respondent, he can present to the Appellate Court the case on which he applies for the review.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 628 of Act XIV of 1892.

Distinction.

The word "hereby" in (a) and (b) is omitted.

The word "judgment" in (c) is changed into "decision."

The words "or to the Court,.....has been transferred" towards the end of the second paragraph of the former Code are omitted.

The words "or order" in sub-rule (2) are new. The word "when" is changed into "where."

(GENERAL).

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule authorises reviews of judgment in respect to decrees of Court and also in respect to orders which are not decrees. 10 W.R. 845. C

(GENERAL)—(Continued).

(1) Scope of the rule—(Concluded),

- (b) The rule has a general application and is not confined to suits proper. 4 P.L.R. 170. D
- (c) The rule applies to all cases, whether they are disposed of in the presence of the parties or ex parte in the absence of the defendants. 18 C.L.R. 254. E
- (d) The rule applies to applications for review by minor. 16 W.R. 231; see, however 19 B. 571; 29 C. 735. F
- (e) A petition for the rectification of a decree is not different from an application for a review when the object of the rectification is to alter the decision of the Court. 13 W.R. 38. G
- (f) The rule gives a more extensive right of review than existed in England, where a review would only be obtained by showing that there was apparent on the record error in law or that new and relevant matter had been discovered, after the judgment which could not possibly have been used when the judgment was given or that judgment was obtained by fraud. 9 A. 36=6 A.W.N. 293. H
- (g) An application by a respondent to an appeal, whose interest had at one time been represented by an official Receiver, to replace on the record of the appeal as a party respondent the name of such official Receiver, which had been struck off owing to a misrepresentation of fact, might be treated as an application for review of the order striking off the name of the official Receiver. 18 A. 285. I
- (h) Notwithstanding O. IX, r. 13, the terms of the rule were sufficiently wide to admit of an application being made by the representatives of a deceased party, who would be materially affected by the decree. 9 O.C. 35. J
- (i) A mistake in the matter of copying out the petition of compromise may not, by itself, fall within the scope of the rule, but, taking it with the other grounds, it might be a good ground for review. 10 C.W.N. 286. K
- (j) Under the rule, no review can be made of a decree, which was right upon the state of facts existing at its date, on the ground of the happening of any subsequent event. 27 I.A. 197; 10 M.L.J. 221; 2 Bom. L.R. 771. L
- (k) An application for review of judgment does not include an application for a new trial in a Small Cause Court in the mofussil. 14 W.R. 249. M

(2) Construction of the rule.

- (a) The general words used in the rule are controlled and restricted by the particular words, and it is only the discovery of new evidence or the connection of a patent and indubitable error or omission or some other particular ground of the like description which justifies the granting of a review. 1 C. 197; 23 W.R. 438; 1 A. 296; 24 W.R. 387; 24 W.R. 410; 25 W.R. 48; 2 M. 10. N
- (b) The rule is only an enabling rule. The procedure prescribed therein is not compulsory, though in the case of mistake, an application under the rule is doubtless the simpler and expeditious course. A suit will lie to rectify a mistake in a decree which was also framed in the judgment, 8 C.W.N. 473. O

- (c) It may be competent to entertain an application for review, although such application contains no distinct allegation of an error in law in the order sought to be reviewed, nor any suggestion of the discovery of new evidence. 2 C. 131; 26 W.R. 50; 8 I.A. 121. P
- (d) For the entertainment of an application for review of judgment, there must be shown some mistake or error apparent on the face of the judgment or some other sufficient reason. An error in law may be a ground for review, but the law must be definite and capable of distinct ascertainment. 10 W.R. 143; 7 M. 307; U.B.R. (1892-96) p. 287. Q
- (e) An application for review could not be admitted, when to grant it would in fact be to grant a second special appeal, which is not the object of a review. 12 W.R. 409. R
- (f) The rule means that a person considering himself aggrieved by a decree or order cannot apply for a review of judgment, if either he himself has appealed or any other person has appealed on a ground common to appellant and himself or any other person has filed an appeal to which he has been made a respondent and in which he can, under O. XII, r. 22 or otherwise, present to the Appellate Court the case, on which he wishes to apply for review. 7 O.C. 299. S

(3) Appeal.

- (a) When two Judges of a Division Bench have concurred in a final decree, the fact that there is a difference of opinion as to one point, amongst others, raised in review on the judgment on which such final decree is passed, is no ground for an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. 10 C. 108; 13 C.L.R. 285. T
- (b) Where an application for review of judgment is granted "for any other sufficient reason" under the rule, the sufficiency or otherwise of the reason is not a good ground of appeal against the order. 27 A. 695; 24 C. 878; 17 M.L.J. 608; see, however, 28 M. 814. U
- (c) An application to reopen execution was made by the decree-holder referring to both S. 47 and this rule. The first Court re-opened the proceedings under S. 47. Held that even if this rule only was applicable, the order of the first could not be interfered with in appeal. 5 O.W.N. 627. V
- (d) The general rule for extending the time to prefer an appeal and for excluding the time taken up in prosecuting an application for review is, that the delay may be excused if the applicant can show that he had reasonable grounds for applying for a review instead of preferring an appeal. 15 C. 242; 14 M. 81; 18 B. 84; 8 O.L.J. 545—10 O.W.N. 986—33 C. 1823; 35 P.R. 1872; 39 P.R. 1892; 166 P.R. 1883. W

(4) Duty of Court.

- (a) The Court must consider and decide whether a review is necessary to correct any evident error or omission or is otherwise requisite for the ends of justice. 6 B.L.R. 126; 15 W.R.1. X
- (b) The Court should not travel beyond the grounds mentioned in the application for review. 5 O.W.N. 485. Y

(GENERAL)—(Continued).(4) Duty of the Court—(Concluded).

- (c) In dealing with applications for review, Courts should not be too technical, but should look to the substance of the application rather than the form in which the application is made. 3 I.A. 221; 16 A. 390; 18 A.W.N. 83. Z

(5) Duty of the applicant.

An applicant should, at the time of presenting his application for new trial, deposit in Court the decretal amount or tender security for payment of the same. 18 C. 83; (13 M. 178, D); 28 A. 470; 9 Bom.L.R. 883; 5 P.R. 1894; 108 P.R. 1894. A

(6) Execution of decree.

A Judge has power to review an order relating to the.—Marsh 205; W.R. (F. B.) 66; 1 Hay 577; 6 W.R. 127; 4 Bom. H.C. 87; 4 P.L.R. 170; 17 A. 106; 15 A. 84; 76 P.R. 1903; see, however, 5 C.W.N. 627. B

(7) Limitation.

- (a) The pendency of an appeal is not a sufficient cause for the delay in filing an application for review. 8 B. 260. C
- (b) Nor the pendency of a previous application for review. 26 B. 485=4 Bom. L.R. 121. D

(8) Married woman.

Her application for release from jail was virtually an application for review of the order for her imprisonment, on the ground, that it was contrary to law. Her mere omission to take the objection at the time of her arrest could not be regarded as a waiver of her right of exemption from arrest. 12 B. 228. E

(9) Minor.

An application for review of judgment on behalf of a minor must be made by the constituted guardian. 115 P.R. 1885. F

(10) Power to review.

- (a) The Court has inherent power to remedy injustice by a reconsideration of an order passed by it unless precluded by a rule of procedure or practice. 28 P.R. 1898. G
- (b) A Court has the power, for any reason that it may consider good and sufficient, to grant a review of its judgment. 11 W. R. 197. H
- (c) When the decree was regular in itself and on the face of it correct, it could only be set aside by a regular suit. The only modes of setting aside a decree prescribed by the Code are by review under the rule and by suit under S. 9. 13 B. 137; 15 B. 594; 25 C. 649; 22 C. 8; 3 C.L.J. 119; but see 6 C. 687; 10 C. 857; 13 B.L.R. 11. I
- (d) The High Court could not alter its own decree except under S. 152 or this rule. The ground of review must have been existing at the time of the decree and could not be subsequent. 24 M. 1; 4 C.W.N. 725; 4 M.L.T. 86; but see 13 B. 380. J
- (e) Review ought not to be allowed on grounds which virtually disclose reasons for appeal from the judgment. 5 A. 14, K

GENERAL—(Continued).

(11) Principal and Agent.

A decree by consent may be set aside by review if the attainment of the ends of justice requires it, and, therefore, if it appeared that the confession of judgment had been made by the agent under such circumstances that it operated as a fraud upon the defendant, or was made in error, or acted as a surprise upon him, he would be prima facie entitled to the relief sought. 58 P.R. 1878. L

(12) Review of judgment—Review of the decree.

These terms are applicable not only to cases where there is something faulty in the judgment itself, but also to cases where there is any mistake or error on the face of the record, or any clerical error apparent on the face of the decree. The term "review of judgment" is used interchangeably with the term "review of decree." 25 C. 258; (4 A. 137, It.). M

(13) Revision.

- (a) The order of a Court granting a review of judgment, when it appeared to be right in its results though wrong in principle, is not open to revision. 21 A. 152. N
- (b) An application for review of judgment in a Small Cause Court was rejected wrongly, on the ground of a supposed deficiency in the Court-fee paid. Held, that this order was open to revision. A.W.N. (1907), 182=4 A.L.J. 489=29 A. 468; (26 A. 572, D.). O
- (c) In cases where a second application for revision should not be received, the proper remedy for the applicant is to ask for a review of judgment. 54 P.R. 1901. P

(14) Second appeal.

No — to the High Court lies from an order setting aside an order granting a review of judgment. 24 C. 819; 24 C. 819 (note); 6 C.L.J. 225; but see 183 P.R. 1882. Q

(15) Second review.

- (a) A Court has no jurisdiction to grant a second review of judgment on the application of the same party. 5 M.H.C. 828; 7 W.R. 464; B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 867; 5 W.R. 98; 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 147; 7 P.L.R. 187; 6 P.R. 1878; see, however, 107 P.R. 1883. R
- (b) There is nothing in the Code which prevents a second application for a review being made after a previous application for the same has been made and rejected, and such an application can, therefore, be entertained. 15 C. 482; 57 P.R. 1892; 54 P.R. 1901; 9 P.R. 1905=65 P.L.R. 1906; see, however, 4 Bom. L.R. 131=26 B. 485. S

(16) Special ground.

- (a) The fact, that the Court-fee, originally paid, was, afterwards, found to be more than sufficient, constituted a most fitting ground for granting a review, and was clearly "other sufficient ground" within the meaning of the rule. A.W.N. (1905), 154=2 A.L.J. 465=27 A. 695. T
- (b) "The question arising in this case is not a question merely between two parties, but is one of great general commercial importance, and under the circumstances, and on the very special grounds I have mentioned we think that the review ought to be granted." 15 B. 267. U

GENERAL—(Continued).

(17) Stamp.

- (a) The stamp-fee on an application for review must be calculated on the amount that would be obtained if the review were granted and not necessarily on the whole value of the suit. 7 M.H.C. 1; 4 B. 26; but see 3 C.W.N. 292; 18 A.W.N. 212; 6 A.L.J. 215. Y
- (b) If an application is made beyond time, the full fee leviable on the memorandum of appeal must be paid in the first instance, but the Court, if satisfied that the delay was not caused by the laches of the applicant, might direct a refund of one-half of such fee. 9 C.L.R. 479; 9 M. 134; 7 C.P.L.R. 111. W
- (c) When an application for review is presented in a suit in forma pauperis, that application, like the plaint in the suit, is not liable to any Court-fee. 20 A. 410; see, however, 24 P.R. 1870; 91 P.R. 1895. X

(18) Acts.

(i) Act VIII of 1855.

The provisions of the Code relating to review of judgment are applicable to proceedings under S. 108 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. 25 C. 146=2 C.W.N. 137. Y

(ii) Act XXVII of 1860.

A review of judgment is admissible in proceedings under—. 1 C. 101; 24 W.R. 376; 1 A. 287; but, see 5 M.H.C. 417. Z

(iii) Act XXIII of 1861.

The Chief Court can entertain applications on review coming within the intention of S. 28 of the Act. 28 P.R. 1872; 86 P.R. 1872. A

(iv) Act XI of 1865.

The decrees or orders of Small Cause Courts constituted under Act XI of 1865 are subject to review of judgment under this order. 29 P.R. 1879; 60 P.R. 1881. B

(v) Act XIX of 1865.

(a) The Chief Court has no jurisdiction to review the decisions of the Financial Commissioner given under S. 22 of Act 38 of 1869. 5 P.R. 1881. C

(b) The Chief Court can review an order passed by the Financial Commissioner in the exercise of his old jurisdiction prior to the passing of the Act or in the exercise of powers conferred by Act XXVII of 1865. 16 P.R. 1871. D

(vi) Acts VII of 1868 and VII of 1880.

The provisions of the Code relating to reviews of judgment were not extended to proceedings under Bengal Acts VII of 1868 and VII of 1880. 22 C. 419. E

(vii) Act VIII of 1869 (Bengal Rent Act).

Orders in rent suit were not subject to review, before the passing of the Act. 3 N.W.P. 22; 16 W.R. 159; 14 W.R. 27; see, however, 4 N.W.P. 171; 12 W.R. 195; 11 W.R. 246; 11 W.R. 108; 14 W.R. 414. F

(viii) Act II of 1873.

The order passed under S. 68 of the Act can be reviewed under this rule. 3 C. 340. G

GENERAL—(Continued).(18) Acts—(Continued).

(ix) Act IV of 1882.

Having regard to the provisions of S. 85 of the Transfer of Property Act as to necessary parties, the review granted after dismissal of suit to bring in the heir of one of the mortgagees as a party defendant was not improper. 5 C.W.N. 88. H

(x) Act XIV of 1882 (C.P.C.).

S. 544 of — has no application to applications for review. The section applies only to appeals and cannot be applied to reviews by analogy, for there is in effect no analogy between the two. 20 W.R. 284; 15 W.R. 1; 47 P.R. 1904. I

(xi) Bengal Regulation XXVI of 1814.

The Regulation allowed a review in respect to a decree from which no further appeal may have been admitted by a Superior Court. 8 W.R. 483. J

(xii) Bengal Act I of 1895.

An order made by a certificate officer under S. 19 of — is open to review. 80 C. 619 = 7 C.W.N. 483; (B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 367; 19 B. 113; 19 B. 116, relied upon). K

(xiii) Companies Act (VI of 1882).

S. 169 of the — is not intended to refer to a case in which a judge, upon the discovery of fresh matter, considers it expedient to pass a fresh order or to review an order passed by him. 16 A. 53; (31 Beav. 206, R). L

(xiv) Court Fees Act.

A decision under S. 5 of the Act is not open to appeal, revision, or review, and is final for all purposes and no means have been provided or suggested by the legislature for questioning it. 12 A. 129; 20 M. 398. M

(xv) Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act.

(a) The Code of Civil Procedure is not applicable to proceedings before the special Judge under the — (XVII of 1879). The special Judge has, therefore, no jurisdiction to grant a review of a decree or order once made by him on the ground of the discovery of new evidence. 15 B. 550. N

(b) But the special Judge has discretionary power to review his decree in order to correct a mistake into which he has fallen. 19 B. 116; 19 B. 118. O

(c) The special Judge has power to review an ex parte order made by him. 20 B. 281. P

(d) The special Judge has jurisdiction proprio motu to vary the decree of the lower Court while not reviewing the case on the ground applied for by the plaintiff. 22 B. 520. Q

(e) It is illegal on the part of the special Judge to reverse the decree of a subordinate Judge on review without giving proper notice to the party in whose favour the decree was passed. 11 B. 591. R

(xvi) Divorce Act (IV of 1889), S. 16.

In a case decided under S. 16 of the Act, it is competent to grant a review of judgment; but a new trial could not be granted. 5 B. 416. S

GENERAL—(Concluded).

(18) Acts—(Concluded).

(xvii) Guardians and Wards Act.

Under the wording of Ss. 47 and 48 of Act VIII of 1890, the legislature could not have intended that the rule should be applicable to such a case, since the words "or otherwise" necessarily precluded the notion that such orders were liable to be contested on review. 143 P.R. 1906=12 P.W.R. 1907. T (xviii) Inferior Mofussil Courts.

These have no jurisdiction to review their own judgment, except under the circumstances and with the limitations set forth in the Code. 20 W.R. 180; 14 M.L.J. 321. U

(xix) Insolvent Court (Bombay).

It has jurisdiction to review its own orders. 4 B. 489. Y

(xx) Letters Patent.

The rule does not apply to a judgment passed by two Judges of the High Court in an appeal under S. 10 of the Letters Patent. 1 A.L.J. 509. W

(xxi) Limitation Act (XV of 1877).

An order granting an application under S. 152 is an order passed upon review of judgment, within the meaning of Art. 179, Sch. II, cl. 3 of the Limitation Act. 25 C. 258; (4 A. 137, R.); but, see 6 C. 22. X

(xxii) Madras Act VIII of 1865.

A judgment of a Civil Court passed on appeal from the decision of a Collector under — may be reviewed. 4 M.H.C. 251. Y (xxiii) N. W. P. Rent Act.

This rule and the following rules of the Code which deal with reviews of judgments have no application to suits and proceedings under N. W. P. Rent Act, 1881. 19 A. 522=17 A.W.N. 139. Z

(xxiv) Punjab Land Revenue (Act XVII of 1877).

The Financial Commissioner can suo moto review his predecessor's order at any time, where it is necessary to do so for the sake of justice. 3 P.W.R. 1908. A (xxv) Registration Act (1871).

An order rejecting an application for registration under S. 73 of the Act, falls within the operation of the rule. 2 C. 181; 26 W.R. 550; 8 I.A. 221; (10 B.L.R. 394; 19 W.R. 303; reversed). B (xxvi) Small Cause Court.

The Judge of a Mofussil Small Cause Court may grant an application for review. 5 C. 699; 5 C.L.R. 539; 8 C. 287; 10 C.L.R. 275; 10 C. 297; 6 C. 286; 6 C.L.R. 549. C

2.—“An appeal is allowed . . . has been preferred.”

- (a) A Judge was not, under the old Code of 1859, competent to hear a review in a case in which a special appeal had been admitted by the Higher Court. 1 N.W.P. 97; 1 N.W. Pt. II, 39; 17 W.R. 130; 1 Agra 133; 9 W.R. 301; 9 B. 238; 11 W.R. 511; 9 W.R. 471; 2 Agra 133. D
- (b) A judge is bound to proceed with an application for a review of his judgment, even though a petition of appeal has been filed subsequently to the application for review. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 362; 5 W.R. 59; 12 C.L.R. 64. E
- (c) It is illegal to admit a review on fresh evidence after the decision in special appeal. 6 B.L.R. 333; 14 W.R. 438; 6 B.L.R. 334 (note); 7 W.R. 218. F
- (d) A subordinate Court is competent to review its judgment on an application put in before an appeal has been preferred against its decree, and is not prevented from proceeding upon it by the subsequent presentation of an appeal, but it cannot entertain or deal with any such petition after an appeal in the case has been decided by a superior Court. 5 W.R. 59; 12 C.L.R. 64; 7 W.R. 166; 32 P.R. 1896; 59 P.R. 1900; 25 P.R. 1904. G
- (e) Where there has been an appeal, there still may be a review of the judgment of the Court against whose decree the appeal was preferred, provided the appeal to the High Court is withdrawn. Where, however, an appeal is preferred but the same is rejected, the original Court cannot entertain an application for review. 8 Bom. L.R. 842=30 B. 625; (7 B. 287; 9 Bom. H.C. 9, R.). H
- (f) When an appeal has been dismissed, the Court which made the decree appealed against has no jurisdiction to review its judgment or decree. 24 C. 759; 4 C.L.J. 566; see, however, 21 B. 548. I
- (g) An appeal was filed pending an application for review of judgment in the Court below. The review was granted and an order passed which purported merely to amend the decree then under appeal. Held, that the order for review superseded the original decree; the decree under appeal had ceased to exist and the appeal could not be heard. A.W.N. (1905), 265=28 A. 240; A.W.N. (1890), 144. J
- (h) Lower Courts have no right to interfere on review with decrees passed by them after an appeal has been preferred to an Appellate Court from such decrees. 14 M.L.J. 321. K

3.—“By a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes.”

- (a) The High Court has no power to review a judgment passed by it on a reference from a Subordinate Judge with Small Cause Court powers. 10 B. 68. L
- (b) An application for a review of judgment by the High Court on a reference from a Small Cause Court was not admissible under the old Code of 1859. 3 W.R. 8. M

(N.B.—Act XIV of 1882 and the rule have changed the law.)

- (c) The High Court is entitled to go into the question whether an application for review of judgment was rightly admitted, when it has to satisfy itself whether a decree of Small Cause Court is in accordance with law. 5 M.L.T. 73. N

4.—“From the discovery of new and important matter or evidence.”

(1) Principle.

- (a) The new evidence referred to in the rule is evidence that would probably alter the decision of the Court. The facts relied on must be fully set out. Bourke O.C. 115. O
- (b) The new evidence need not be, per se, sufficient to show that the previous decision is wrong or such as to cause an over-mastering balance of evidence. 22 W.R., 288. P

(2) Examples.

- (a) The decision of the Privy Council, reversing the decree of the High Court in the first suit, having been passed subsequently to the decree in the second suit, which depended on the reversed decree of the High Court, was “new and important matter” within the meaning of the rule. 18 B. 330; but see 24 M. 1; 4 M.L.T. 86. Q
- (b) A decree was rendered wholly ineffectual by virtue of a decree passed in another suit. The latter decree can only be treated as new and important matter. The proper remedy for the judgment-creditor was by application for review of the original case under r. 2 and not under this rule. 1 S.L.R. 227; (10 B. 338, R.). R
- (c) The subsequent reversal of a decree on which the decision sought to be reviewed was based is a new matter. 22 W.R. 161; but see 6 A. 292=4 A.W.N. 89. S
- (d) So also the evidence asked to be taken when new in the sense that it was not already on the record and it was important. 136 P.R. 1889. T
- (e) A new exposition of the law by a Full Bench after the passing of the original decree is not “just and reasonable cause.” B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 892; 9 W.R. 181; 6 W.R. 100; 7 W.R. 408; 7 W.R. 405; 9 W.R. 102; 10 W.R. 415; 7 M. 307; 6 W.R. 167; 17 W.R. 163; but see 6 Bom. A.C. 146; 8 C. 700; 15 W.R. 143. U
- (f) The variance between the different judgments of the Divisional Benches of the High Court is not a ground for review. 9 W.R. 161; 9 W.R. 158. Y
- (g) Nor the production of an authority, which was not brought to the notice of the Judge at the first hearing and which lays down a view of the law contrary to that taken by the Judge. 1 C. 184; 4 W.R. 882; 6 C.L.R. 550; but see 10 M. 357; 24 C. 334; 11 C.P.L.R. 41. W
- (h) Nor a subsequent Full Bench ruling over-ruling the decision of the Divisional Bench, which was followed in the judgment of the lower Court. 6 A. 292=4 A.W.N. 89; but see 14 C. 627; 124 P.R. 1906=97 P.L.R. 1907; 7 W.R. 408. X
- (i) Nor the discovery of a new ruling. 7 M. 307. Y
- (j) Nor the grounds abandoned in appeal, in the absence of circumstances justifying the Court in disregarding such abandonment. 3 O.C. 277. Z

(3) Privy Council.

The judgment of the Judicial Committee reported and confirmed by Her Majesty in Council cannot be reopened only for the reason that new evidence is forthcoming. 14 M. 439; (10 M. 78; 13 I.A. 155, R.). A

4.—“From the discovery of new and important matter or evidence”

—(Concluded).

(4) Special appeal.

- (a) The discovery of new evidence is not a ground for the admission of a review of a judgment passed in special appeal. 16 W.R. 112; 1 M.H.C. 254; 5 M.H.C. 464; 4 B.L.R. 213; 14 W.R. 388; 7 W.R. 218; 15 A.W.N. 31; see, however, 6 Bom. H.C. 68; 9 Bom. H.C. 89; 7 B. 287; 18 M. 480; 145 P.R. 1882. B
- (b) The application for review on the ground of the discovery of new and important documentary evidence, could not be entertained if the ground relied upon could not successfully be relied upon in a second appeal. 18 M. 480; 5 M.H.C. 464; 10 M.L.J. 184. C

5) Objection to review.

The objection to the admission of a review of judgment on the strength of a new document was not sound in the presence of other grounds. 18 W.R. 316. D

5.—“Was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him.”

- (a) It must be stated in the application and proved that the new matter was not within the applicant's knowledge or could not be adduced at the time when the decree was passed. Marsh 553; 2 Hay 650; 3 Agra 69; 20 W.R. 426; 8 B.L.R. 34; 16 W.R. 7; 18 B.L.R. 427; 11 B.L.R. 428; 12 W.R. 461; 8 B.L.R. 35; 10 W.R. 432; 8 B.L.R. 36; 12 W.R. 536; 8 B.L.R. 37; 14 W.R. 26; 11 B.L.R. 424; 17 W.R. 458; 2 W.R. 174; Bourke O.C. 131; 17 W.R. 230; 3 Bom. H.C. 49; 19 W.R. 130; 8 W.R. 413; 5 O.C. 59; 60 P.R. 1897; 5 P.L.R. 38; 145 P.R. 1882. E
- (b) The discovery of new evidence may make it proper to grant a review, but the circumstances must be very special. 23 W.R. 323; 4 P.R. 1876; 70 P.R. 1867. F
- (c) The Code of Civil Procedure permits applications for review, on the ground of discovery of new and important evidence, but enacts very strict conditions, so as to prevent litigants lying on their oars when they ought to be looking for evidence. 11 C.W.N. 721=6 C.L.J. 5=4 A.L.J. 461=9 Bom. L.R. 671=17 M.L.J. 347=31 B. 381=2 M.L.T. 435; 2 Sind L. 35. G
- (d) In a suit for rent, the plaintiff applied for postponement on the ground that he was unable to obtain a copy of a document which he had applied for from the Collectorate. The adjournment was refused and he got a modified decree. Subsequently, he obtained a review of judgment and decree in full. Held, that the review is proper. 22 W.R. 446. H

6.—“On account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record.”

- (a) A lower Appellate Court has power to review its own judgment for correcting a clerical error even after the determination of the special appeal. 9 W.R. 471. I
- (b) A review may be admitted whenever the Court considers that it is necessary to correct an evident error or omission, or is otherwise requisite for the ends of justice. 6 B.L.R. 126; 1 B. 543; 15 W.R. 1; see, however, 3 A.W.N. 173. J

6.—“On account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record”—(Concluded).

- (c) A review of judgment may be granted when there is error of law on the face of the judgment or where the decision of the Court has proceeded upon a mistaken view of the law. 14 C. 627; 14 C. 18; 13 I.A. 106. K
- (d) Where, in a case, the provisions of the second paragraph of S. 98 were erroneously applied, and the judgment of the junior Judge holding that the appeal should be dismissed as time-barred, prevailed, held that there was a mistake or error apparent on the face of the record and that there was sufficient cause for granting a review. 11 A. 176. L
- (e) Where it is clear on the face of the judgment or decree which is impugned, that it is irregular, and incorrect, and not in compliance with the provisions of the law, the plaintiff can proceed by way of review. 9 C. 810; 3 M. 103; 17 A. 531; 3 C.L.J. 119; see, however, 20 A. 98. M
- (f) A clerical mistake regarding costs is not an error calling for review of judgment. 6 C. 22; but see 25 C. 258. N
- (g) When all the other grounds, except an error in the adjudication of costs, are held to be untenable, the Court may reject the application absolutely, and permit the applicant to apply for a rectification of the clerical mistake. 6 C. 22; 6 C.L.R. 575. O
- (h) The Courts in India, after deciding an issue in which an infant is interested, have no power to reserve to the infant the right of questioning such decision, even though it is open to the infant to impeach such decree on account of the fraud or negligence of his guardian. 19 B. 571. P
- (i) When inadvertently wrong words are used in a judgment in describing the property in suit, the corrections may be made on an application under O. XX, r. 3, and an application for review is not necessary. 40 P.L.R. 1908. Q

7.—“For any other sufficient reason.”

(1) Meaning of.

- (a) The words “sufficient reason” should receive a liberal construction, and should be construed so as to do substantial justice to the parties. 11 C. 767. R
- (b) Although it is difficult and perhaps undesirable to attempt to define precisely the meaning of the words “any other sufficient reason,” yet it is clear that a point which might have been, but which was not, discovered at the trial by the exercise of due diligence, was not intended by the rule to afford any sufficient reason for review. 13 C. 62. S
- (c) The words “or for any other sufficient reason” mean that the reason must be one sufficient to the Court or Judge to whom the application for review is made, and they cannot be held to be limited to the discovery of new and important matter, or evidence, or the occurring of a mistake or error apparent on the record. Whether or not there is in such cases “any other sufficient reason” may depend on a question of law, or on a question of fact, or a mixed question of law and fact. 9 A. 86 = 9 A.W.N. 298; (2 C. 131, R.). T
- (d) The words “any other sufficient reason” do not necessarily imply that such reason is to be of a like nature with the other two reasons previously stated in the rule ; but a Court is competent, if it considers any other reason than the first two sufficient to review its previous order, if it deems it necessary in the ends of justice to do so. 14 A.W.N. 148. U

- (e) It cannot be laid down as a matter of law that an application for review made upon the ground of error in law in the judgment to be reversed, is not based upon a sufficient reason for review within the meaning of the rule, so as to justify a reversal of the final order passed upon review. 128 P.R. 1881. Y

2) Held sufficient.

- (a) Necessity for a review not arising. 13 W.R. 69. W
 (b) The absence of the applicant at the hearing owing to the omission to serve notice of hearing of the appeal on the applicant. 9 A. 61=6 A.W.N. 296. X
 (c) Improper refusal to pass an interlocutory order. 16 B. 511. Y
 (d) Fraud practised upon a party in connection with a petition of compromise. 10 C.W.N. 286. Z
 (e) Unfairness of the trial or decision. 10 W.R. 42. A
 (f) Decision absolutely wrong in principle. 1 P.R. 1872. B
 (g) An error on a point of law. 10 W.R. 143; 7 M. 807; 14 C. 18; 13 I.A. 106; 14 C. 627; 12 B. 228; 12 M.L.J. 194. C
 (h) The omission of a Court to take into consideration a material issue. 3 B.L.R. 346; 12 W.R. 223; 16 W.R. 134; 16 W.R. 150. D
 (i) The omission to consider the effect of important documentary evidence materially affecting the merits of the case. 1 M. 396. E
 (j) Declaring the report of a commission to be unworthy of reliance because he was a mohurrir of the Court. 1 A. 363. F
 (k) A mistake by the judge as to the subject of a certain dagh in a Government halabadee chitta. 14 W.R. 236. G
 (l) Declining wrongly to admit additional evidence. 17 W.R. 47. H
 (m) Execution of a decree against a wrong person. 7 W.R. 166. I

(3) Held not sufficient.

- (a) The absence of a formal finding on an issue tried and decided. 2 M. 58. J
 (b) An erroneous decision on a point affecting an issue which, in consequence of the finding, has become immaterial. Bourke O.C. 131. K
 (c) The neglect to examine a witness, if the objection was not taken when the case was heard by the Court in regular appeal. 9 W.R. 129. L
 (d) The probability of arriving at a different conclusion by going through the evidence a second time. 25 W.R. 324. M
 (e) The failure to remand the case on the ground that the Judge had wrongly decided a point of law. 9 W.R. 589. N
 (f) The chance of eventually throwing doubt upon the decision already passed, by allowing the parties to re-argue the case upon the evidence. 24 W.R. 186; 17 W.R. 434; S.C. 262; 3 O.C. 279. O
 (g) Judgment passed on special appeal on grounds not raised in the lower Courts. 17 W.R. 182. P

7.—“For any other sufficient reason”—(Concluded).

- (h) The probability of a different judgment, if facts had been more fully placed before Court. 19 W.R. 189. Q
- (i) A purely technical error. P.J.L.B.R. p. 540. R
- (j) Inconsistent decision of the same Judge on similar facts. 5 A.W.N. 123. S
- (k) The questionableness of the soundness of the judgment. 2 A.W.N. 102. T
- (l) Technical irregularities to which objection is not taken at the earliest stage. 1 B. 543; 23 W.R. 174; 15 W.R. 88; 14 W.R. 421; 12 W.R. 363; U.B.R. (1892-1896), p. 284; 94 P.R. 1882. U

8.—“May apply for a review of judgment.”

- (a) It is competent to a party, against whom an ex parte decree has been made, to apply for review of judgment. 6 A. 65; 20 W.R. 284; 12 W.R. 195; 13 C.L.R. 254; 9 A. 36 = 6 A.W.N. 293; 9 A. 61 = 6 A.W.N. 296; 20 B. 281; but see 2 W.R. 34. Y
- (b) The rule appears to contemplate action by a party to a decree or order; and consequently an application by a creditor, not party to the order, to set aside an insolvency order obtained on the motion of another creditor does not fall within the rule. 8 C.W.N. 468. W
- (c) An application for review commences ordinarily with an ex parte application under the rule. 7 Bom. L.R. 864 = 30 B. 56. X
- (d) It is not necessary that an application for review should be accompanied by a copy of the decree, order, or judgment sought to be reviewed. 17 A. 218. Y

9.—“Notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by some other party.”

The preferring of an appeal against a decision by one defendant does not deprive another defendant of his right to apply for a review of the same decision. 7 W.R. 166. Z

2. An application for review of a decree or order of a Court, not being a High Court, upon some ground other than the discovery of such new and important matter¹ or evidence as is referred in rule 1 or the existence of a clerical or arithmetical mistake or error² apparent on the face of the decree, shall be made³ only to the Judge who passed the decree⁴ or made the order sought to be reviewed; but any such application may, if the Judge who passed the decree or made the order has ordered notice to issue⁵ under rule 4, sub-rule (2), proviso (a), be disposed of by his successor.⁶

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 624 and proviso (c) of S. 626 of Act XIV of 1882.

624. Except upon the ground of the discovery of such new and important matter or evidence as aforesaid, or of some clerical error apparent on the face of the decree, no application for a review of judgment, other than that of a High Court, shall be made to any Judge other than the Judge who delivered it.

To whom applications for review may be made.

Proviso (c) to S. 626. (c) an application made under Section 624 to the Judge who delivered the judgment may, if that Judge has ordered notice to issue under proviso (a) to this section, be disposed of by his successor.

The provisions of the old Code are rearranged for the sake of greater clearness.

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

The rule is not applicable to Courts of Small Causes, and the successor of a Judge of such Court is not prohibited from reviewing the order passed by his predecessor, dismissing an application for review of the decree. dismissing the suit, passed by him. 68 P.R. 1905 = 104 P.L.R. 1905. A

(2) Construction of the rule.

(a) This rule must be read as a proviso to r. 1. 8 M. 567.

(b) The rule merely provides that an application for review of judgment must be made to the Judge who delivered the judgment, except in certain classes of cases. The rule in effect enacts that that applications on the ground of "any other sufficient reason" shall be made only to the Judge who delivered the judgment. The rule refers not only to decrees and judgments, but also to orders. 16 C.P.L.R. 151. B

(3) Appeal.

A Judge granting a review is bound to put his reasons on record as required by the rule, but his failure to do so cannot, by itself, be a sufficient ground for the admission of an appeal. 2 Bom. L.R. 596. C

1.—"New and important matter."

(a) An application for a review, on the ground of the discovery of new evidence of the judgment of the late Sudder Court rejecting a special appeal ought not to be made to the High Court, but to the Court of original jurisdiction. 8 W.R. 511. D

(b) The District Judge has jurisdiction to grant a review of his predecessor's decision, when the review is sought on the ground of the new decision of the Privy Council reversing the decree of the High Court. 13 B. 330. E

A clerical error is intended to mean an error in recording what, on the face of the record, was the decision which the Court had arrived at. 8 O.C. 316. F

3.—“Shall be made.”

The term “made” in the rule does not mean, “presented”, but means and includes the hearing and determination of the application for review of judgment. 4 A. 278=2 A.W.N. 26; 134 P.R. 1884; 97 P.R. 1885; 97 P.R. (1885) (note); 6 P.R. 1887; 7 P.R. 1894; 10 C. 80; 13 C. 231; 12 M. 509, 16 B. 603; 10 C.P.L.R. 62. G

4.—“To the Judge who passed the decree.”

The Court which pronounces a judgment is the only Court that can review that judgment. 2 N.W.P. 230. H

5.—“Has ordered notice to issue.”

An application for review of judgment, upon a ground other than those mentioned in the rule, if presented to the Judge who delivered it, and who thereupon directs notice to be given to the opposite party, may be heard and disposed of by his successor. 10 C. 80; 13 C.L.R. 261; 13 C. 231; (4 A. 278=2 A.W.N. 26, D.); 16 B. 603; 13 M. 178; 3 O.C. 368. I

6.—“Be disposed of by his successor.”

(1) General.

- (a) The law makes no distinction between the power of a Judge who originally heard a case, and subsequently has an application for review before him, and the power of a Judge subsequently succeeding to the same office who has such an application before him and is not barred by the circumstances stated in S. 379, Act VIII of 1859. 6 W.R. 316. J
- (b) A review was intended to be a consideration of the same subject by the same Judge, as distinguished from an appeal, which is hearing before another tribunal. A review, therefore, should be presented with as much expedition as possible with a view to the re-hearing before the same Judge. The exceptions to this rule are allowable only ex-necessitate, i.e., from the death of the original judge or some unexpected and unavoidable cause which prevents him from hearing the review. 3 W.R. 45; 7 I.A. 288; 9 W.R. 125. K
- (c) A Subordinate Judge has the power under the law to review the decision his predecessor, although the power is one which should be exercised very sparingly. 13 W.R. 198. L
- (d) A Judge has no power to allow a review of his predecessor's judgment on the ground that he comes to a different conclusion on the facts of the case. 1 C. 197; 23 W.R. 488; 1 A. 296; 24 W.R. 887; 24 W.R. 410; 25 W.R. 48. M
- (e) A Judge cannot allow a review of his predecessor's judgment on the sole ground that it appeared to him that the judgment of his predecessor had done injustice; 2 M. 10; (2 C. 181, discussed). N
- (f) An application to review the order striking off an execution proceeding could be heard by the successor of the Judge who made it. 14 B. 101. O
- (g) It is not competent for the successor in office to review his predecessor's order dismissing an appeal for default. 82 P.R. 1906=107 P.L.R. 1907; (28 C. 115, Dis.). P

6.—“Be disposed of by his successor”—(Concluded).

(2) Application beyond time.

A lower Court acts without jurisdiction if it admits a review of his predecessor's judgment, unless either the party apply for review within ninety days or the Court is satisfied that there is just and reasonable cause for not having preferred the application within the limited period. W.R. (1864), 287; 5 W.R., 226; 18 W.R. 286; 51 P.R. 1871; 101 P.R. 1876; 114 P.R. 1876. Q

(3) Small Cause Judge—Jurisdiction.

A Judge of a Mofussil Small Cause Court was held to have jurisdiction to direct a new trial of a case tried by his predecessor. But he should have regard to the provisions of this rule. 6 C. 236=6 C.L.R. 549; 144 P.R. 1879. R

(4) Transfer of suits.

(a) When a Court had been abolished and its business transferred to a Court presided over by another Judge, such Judge should not entertain an application for review of judgment except in the case provided for by this rule. 8 M. 567. S

(b) A Judge cannot, by transferring a case to his own file, confer on himself the power to review an order of dismissal pronounced by a principal sudder Ameen. W.R. (1864), 29. T

(5) Resignation of Judge. •

An application for review of judgment was presented on other grounds than those specified in the rule to a District Munsiff who had delivered the judgment. The District Munsiff having resigned, his successor heard and determined the application. Held, the successor is not competent to entertain the application for review. 12 M. 509. U

(6) Transfer of Judge.

Where an application for a review of judgment on the ground, not of the discovery of new and important matter or evidence as mentioned in rule 1 or of a clerical error apparent on the face of the decree, but on other grounds, was presented to the District Judge who delivered the judgment, and such Judge was transferred before he could entertain such application, his successor was not competent to entertain it. 4 A. 278=2 A.W.N. 26. Y

(7) Retirement of the Judge.

An application for the review of a judgment delivered by a subordinate Judge who had retired after delivering it, to his successor in office, made upon a ground not falling within the exception mentioned in the rule, should be rejected. 2 A.W.N. 96. W

Form of applications for review.

3. The provisions as to the form of preferring appeals shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to applications for review.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 625 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "rules" and "making" in the old Act are substituted by the words "provision" and "preferring" respectively.
- (2) The words "hereinbefore contained" in the old section are omitted in this rule.

(General).Application.

- (a) Application for review of judgment should set forth concisely the grounds of objection to the decision of which a review is sought, without argument or narrative, and such grounds should be numbered consecutively. 1 B.H.C. 185. X
- (b) The Court will presume that the proper preliminaries have been observed in admitting the review, and unless anything appears to have been contrary to law, it will not set aside the decision. 18 W.R. 15; 1 M.H.C. 164. Y
- (c) The informalities in presenting a review cannot be raked up after a decree is passed in terms of the review. 17 P.R. 1897 (Civil.) Z

To whom a review petition should be presented.

An application for a review should be presented to the Judge and not to the Munsarim of the Court. 12 A. 57. A

By whom review petitions can be made.

- (a) Review applications when the party is a minor, must be made by the guardian of the minor. 115 P.R. 1885 (Civil). B
- (b) An application for review can be made by the legal representatives of a deceased party to a suit. No appeal lies against the order except on the ground of limitation. 9 O.C. 35. C

Review petitions by minors.

A minor applying for review is bound by the provisions of this rule. 16 W.R. 281. D

Limitation for filing a review petition.

- (a) The time taken up in prosecuting an appeal cannot be deducted from the 90 days allowed for putting in a review. 8 B. 260. E
- (b) In computing the 90 days within which a review could be admitted by the payment of half the Court fees, the time during which the Court is closed cannot be excluded. 9 M. 184. F
- (c) When a second application for review is presented, the time occupied in prosecuting the first application of review cannot be deducted in calculating the period of limitation. 26 B. 435 = 4 Bom. L.R. 121. G
- (d) In computing the time for filing a review petition, the time requisite for obtaining copy of judgment cannot be deducted. 2 O.C. 302. H
- (e) A pauper may apply for a review of judgment with the same indulgence as to delay in making the application as a person who is not a pauper. 2 M. 280. I
- (f) There seems to be no limit to the time after the expiration of 90 days at which the application for review may be filed, provided that there is just and reasonable cause for the delay. 8 W.R. 483. J

(General)—(Concluded).

Copy of decree need not be attached to a review petition.

It is not necessary that an application for review should be accompanied by a copy of the decree, order, or judgment, sought to be reviewed. 17 A. 213=15 A.W.N. 61; but see 4 B. 414. K

Certificate by pleaders.

Junior pleaders of the High Court should be cautious how they certify for a review, when they find that the case has been in the hands of their seniors and who have refused to certify to the review. 10 W.R. 54; 24 W.R. 430. L

What is a proper presentation.

The presentation of an insufficiently stamped review petition within 90 days is no valid presentation. 12 A. 57. M

The Court fee payable on a review petition.

- (a) The stamp fee on a review application must be calculated on the amount that would be obtained if the review were granted, and not necessarily on the whole value of the suit. 7 M.H.C. Ap. 1; 4 B. 26; contra 3 C.W.N. 292. N
- (b) The Court fee payable on an application to review an appellate decree, is that which is payable on the memorandum of appeal, and not the fee leviable on the plaint. 11 A. 176. • O
- (c) The Court-fee payable on an application for review of an appellate judgment is that which was payable on the memorandum of appeal, irrespective of the value of the relief claimed in the review. 20 A. 401=18 A.W. N. 212. P
- (d) When an application for review is presented in a suit in forma pauperis, no Court-fee need be paid on the application. 20 A. 410. Q
- (e) A petitioner for review who has not been declared a pauper in any of the earlier stages of the case, must file the usual stamps required by law on his application. 91 P.R. 1895. R

Refund of excess Court fees.

When a review is preferred after 90 days, the full Court fee must be paid, and if the Court finds that there is "reasonable cause" for the delay, a refund ought to be made. 9 C.L.R. 479. S

Costs need not be deposited with a review petition.

An application for a new trial or review of judgment need not be accompanied by a deposit of the costs. 18 W.R. 446. T

Reviews of Small Cause Court judgments.

- (a) When a Small Cause decree is sought to be reviewed, the decretal amount must be tendered at the time of application or immediately after. 5 P.R. 1894; 108 P.R. 1894; 5 B.L.R. Ap. 87=14 W.R. 42; 8 Bom. A.C. 70. U
- (b) Where a Small Cause Court passed a decree and the defendant applied for a review giving security for the decree amount, held, a review could be granted. 11 W.R. 245, Y

4. (1) Where it appears to the Court that Application where rejected. there is not sufficient ground for a review, it shall reject the application.

(2) Where the Court is of opinion that the Application where granted. application for review should be granted, it shall grant the same :

Provided that—

- (a) no such application shall be granted without previous notice to the opposite party, to enable him to appear and be heard in support of the decree or order, a review of which is applied for ¹ and
- (b) no such application shall be granted on the ground of discovery of new matter or evidence which the applicant alleges was not within his knowledge, or could not be adduced by him when the decree or order was passed or made, without strict proof of such allegation. ²

(Notes).

• Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 626 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "and the Judge...opinion" in the second para. of the old section and sub-cl. (c) of the old section are omitted in this rule.

(General).

Applicability of the rule.

S. 626 of Act XIV of 1882 corresponding to this rule, does not apply to judgments on review, but only to orders rejecting reviews. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 281; 10 W.R. 887. W

Reasons to be recorded for the review order.

Though it is not necessary that the reasons for granting a review should be recorded, yet there will be some cases in which reasons should be recorded and would form part of the order granting the review. 23 M. 496. X

Irregularities in the form of the order.

- (a) An order intended to operate as an order for review is not invalidated by an irregularity in its form by reason of which it purports to be an order made on an application to set aside a decree and restore a suit for trial. 28 M. 496. Y
- (b) If a review order is not signed, the proper course for the Court is to sign it and not to ask the parties to put in an application for review. 4 Bom. L.R. 909. Z
- (c) In granting a review, a Court should not travel beyond the grounds mentioned in the application for review. 5 C.W.N. 485. A

(General)—(Concluded).

Benefit of a review order cannot be taken advantage of by others.

When the several defendants, against whom a common decree is passed, prefer separate appeals and the appeals are dismissed, a review applied for and granted to only some of the appellants cannot be taken advantage of by the other appellants. 18 W.R. 464. B

Powers of Court on review.

The defendant was ordered to pay Rs. 40 as costs. On his application for review, the amount was increased to Rs. 100. Hell, the Judge had no jurisdiction to increase the amount of costs in the absence of a review petition by the plaintiff. 73 P.L.R. 1901. C

Effect of an order on a review petition.

(a) Any order passed on a review except the one which absolutely rejects the review, is the final order in the case, although the modification or alteration extends only to the rectification of a clerical mistake. 6 C. 22=6 C.L.R. 575. D

(b) A mere refusal to grant a review of judgment cannot alter the judgment sought to be reviewed or the decree founded on it, and nothing which the Judge says with reference to his refusal to grant a review can be binding so as to alter such judgment or decree. 20 W.R. (P.C.) 450. E

1.—“No such application....is applied for.”

Notice to the opposite party.

It is illegal on the part of a Judge to reverse a decree on review without giving a proper and sufficient notice to the other party. 11 B. 591; 8 W.R. 304. F

2.—“No such application....such allegation.”

Discovery of new evidence must be alleged and proved.

A review of judgment on the ground of discovery of new evidence should not be admitted without proof of the truth of the ground alleged. 8 B.L.R. Ap. 34=16 W.R. 7; 18 B.L.R. 427 (note); 11 B.L.R. 428 (note)=12 W.R. 461; 8 B.L.R. Ap. 35 (note)=10 W.R. 432; 8 B.L.R. Ap. 36 (note)=12 W.R. 536; 8 B.L.R. Ap. 37 (note)=14 W.R. 26; 11 B.L.R. 424 (note)=17 W.R. 458; 2 W.R. 174; Bourke O.C. 131; 17 W.R. 280; 3 Bom. A.C. 49; 19 W.R. 120; 18 W.R. 413; P.J.L.B. 527; 20 W.R. 426; 8 Agra 69; Marsh 558=2 Hay 650. G

Contents of the affidavit accompanying a review petition.

The affidavit on which an application for review is grounded must state what the new evidence to be relied on is; in such an affidavit no reliance can be placed on a statement of belief of good defence on the merits, but the facts relied on as such must be set out. Bourke O.C. 115. H

Miscellaneous.

(a) When an application for review is admitted upon other grounds, fresh evidence not produced at the trial may be received, although no reason had been assigned for the non-production at the trial. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 346. I

(b) A lower Appellate Court ought not to have allowed points to be explained away in the review stage by admitting additional evidence thereon, 15 W.R. 9. J

5. Where the Judge or Judges, or any one of the Judges, who passed the decree or made the order, a review of which is applied for, continues or continue attached to the Court at the time when the application for a review is presented, and is not or are not precluded by absence or other cause for a period of six months next after the application from considering the decree or order to which the application refers, such Judge or Judges or any of them shall hear the application, and no other Judge or Judges of the Court shall hear the same. ¹

Application for review in Court consisting of two or more Judges.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 627 of Act XIV of 1882.

1. - "And no other Judge...hear the same."

- (1) When one of the two Judges who heard a case was absent from India, the other Judge singly was held to have jurisdiction to grant a review. 16 C. 788. K
- (2) The Chief Justice cannot appoint a Bench to hear a review petition. 18 W.R. 82. L
- (3) A District Judge cannot transfer to his own file a review petition pending before a Sub-Judge. 2 N.W.P. 280. M
- (4) An application for re-admission of an appeal dismissed owing to the default of the applicant to deposit the cost of printing a paper book, is an application for review, and can be disposed of by a single Judge of the High Court under S. 627 of Act XIV of 1882. 24 C. 350; 1 C.W.N. 21 (F.B.). N

Application where rejected.

6. (1) Where the application for a review is heard by more than one Judge and the Court is equally divided, the application shall be rejected. ¹

(2) Where there is a majority, the decision shall be according to the opinion of the majority.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 628 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—"The Court is equally...shall be rejected."

An order passed by the senior of two Judges of a Division Bench who differed in opinion, dismissing an application for review of their judgment, is not appealable. 4 B.L.R.A.O. 10; 12 W.R. 459. O

Order of rejection not appealable. Objections to order granting application.

7. (1) An order of the Court rejecting the application shall not be appealable,¹ but an order granting an application may be objected to² on the ground that the application was—

- (a) in contravention of the provisions of rule 2,
- (b) in contravention of the provisions of rule 4,³ or
- (c) after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed therefor and without sufficient cause.⁴

Such objection may be taken at once by an appeal from the order granting the application or in any appeal from the final decree or order passed or made in the suit.

(2) Where the application has been rejected in consequence of the failure of the applicant to appear, he may apply for an order to have the rejected application restored to the file, and, where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he was prevented by any sufficient cause⁵ from appearing when such application was called on for hearing, the Court shall order it to be restored to the file upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for hearing the same.

(3) No order shall be made under sub-rule (2) unless notice of the application has been served on the opposite party.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 629 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "shall be final" and "whenever such application is admitted" in the old section are substituted by the words "shall not be appealable" and "an order granting an application," respectively, in this rule.
- (2) The words "where it is proved" and "shall order" in sub-rule (2) are substituted for the words "if it be proved" and "may order" in the old section.

(General).

(1) Applicability of the rule.

Ss. 624 and 629 of Act XIV of 1882 are not applicable to Courts of Small Causes.

(2) Limitation for filing an appeal against a review order.

When an application for review is rejected by the High Court, the time for appealing to the Privy Council is six months from the date of the judgment and not the order rejecting a review. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 585 = 6 W.R. Mis. 102. Q

(General)—(Concluded).

(3) Construction.

- (a) The words "an order of the Court rejecting the application shall be final" in the old section, prima facie apply to the Court which passed the original decree, but in spirit they would seem properly to apply also to an order of the Appellate Court. 13 B. 496. R
- (b) The terms of S. 378 of Act VIII of 1859 that the order granting the review shall be final means, that the grounds on which a review is held to be necessary may not be called in question. 4 N.W.P. 74; 1 A. 363. S
- (c) The word "final" in the old section means that the order rejecting the application or granting the review shall not by itself be open to appeal. 11 B.L.R. 423—20 W.R. 84; 20 W.R. 426; 4 Bom. A.C. 57. T

(4) The Court cannot on its own motion correct an error of law.

When the parties neglect to get an error of law in a decree of the High Court corrected by a review, the High Court will decline to correct it when the case comes up before them again in a subsequent special appeal. 6 Bom. A.C. 238; 25 W.R. 63. U

1.—"An order of the Court rejecting the application shall not be appealable."

- (1) An order rejecting an application for review is final. 1 W.R. Mis. 7; 11 W.R. 264, 184. Y
- (2) If a review petition is rejected after issuing notice to the other side, there is no appeal against the order. 7 Bom. L.R. 664—30 B. 56. W
- (3) No appeal lies from an order of a Judge rejecting an application for a review of his order dismissing an appeal for default of prosecution. W.R. 1864, Mis. 20. X
- (4) An order rejecting an application for review of an order dismissing an execution case for non-payment of process fees, is not appealable. 4 C.W.N. 89. Y
- (5) An appeal was decided by a Divisional Bench and a review petition was presented to one of the Judges who refused it. The order was held to be not appealable. 9 C.W.N. 502. Z

(6) Power of the High Court to interfere under the Charter Act.

- (a) Under S. 15 of the Charter Act, the High Court can set aside an order of a Court of original jurisdiction, refusing to entertain an application to review an order refusing a petition for leave to sue in forma pauperis, on the ground that it had no jurisdiction to entertain it. 5 B.L.R. App. 29. A
- (b) Where a subordinate Court rejected an application for a review of judgment, refusing to consider the grounds of the same, because the decree was passed by his predecessor, the High Court directed such Court to consider the grounds. 1 A. 296. B

(7) Appeal to Privy Council.

- (a) Where question of facts involved legal considerations in every point in the reasoning process, though findings of Indian Courts were concurrent, the Privy Council could review such findings in appeal. 12 C.W.N. 1095 (P.C.)—4 M.L.T. 284—10 Bom. L.R. 1101—8 C.L.J. 486—P.L. R. 1906 (110). C

1.—“An order of the Court rejecting the application shall not be appealable” —(Concluded).

- (b) Where an application for review was rejected and no appeal to the Privy Council was filed against the order of rejection, papers filed with the application for review will not be forwarded with the record to the Privy Council. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 264=11 W.R. 145. D
- (c) An appeal lies to the Privy Council, under S. 39 of the Charter of the High Court, from an order rejecting an application for review of judgment. The petition of appeal must be presented within six months of the date of the said order. 1 W.R. Mis. 13; 5 W.R. Mis. 17; 1 B.L.R. (F.B.) 1=10 W.R. 1. E

2.—“An order granting an application may be objected to.”

(1) A review order cannot be challenged on other grounds.

- (a) When an admission of a review petition is not challenged on any of the grounds in S. 629 of the old Act, it cannot be challenged in appeal at all. 7 O.C. 345; 62 P.R. 1895; S.C. 298; 12 B. 171; 16 C. 788; 22 C. 3, 984; 1 C.W.N. 338; 21 B. 328; 24 C. 878; 22 W.R. 288; 18 A. 44=15 A.W.N. 151; 17 M.L.J. 603. But see the next two cases. F
- (b) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Judge in granting the review may be taken in an appeal under this rule from the order granting the review, although such objection is not mentioned in this rule as one of the grounds on which an appeal can be preferred. 14 M.L.J. 331. G
- (c) On an application presented by a plaintiff a suit was dismissed. The plaintiff subsequently applied for a review of judgment on grounds other than those mentioned in this rule. The review was granted. It was held that the Appellate Court had no jurisdiction to set aside the order. 16 C.P.L.R. 151. H

(2) The sufficiency of the reason is not a ground of appeal.

When an application for review of judgment has been granted for “any other sufficient reason,” the sufficiency or otherwise of the reason for granting it is not a ground of appeal under this rule. 2 A.L.J. 465=1905 A.W.N. 154=27 A. 695; 17 M.L.J. 603; 1 M.H.C. 164; 13 W.R. 82; contra 1 A. 868; 22 W.R. 183; 25 W.R. 324; 24 W.R. 186; 23 W.R. 275; 13 W.R. 133; 8 C.L.J. 294. I

(3) Second appeal.

- (a) No second appeal lies against an order passed under this rule. 11 C. 296; 16 C. 758. J
- (b) No second appeal lies to the High Court from an order setting aside an order granting a review of judgment. 24 C. 319, 319 (note); 6 C.L.J. 225. K
- (c) No second appeal lies to the High Court from an order dismissing an appeal under this rule from an order granting an application for review of judgment. 11 A. 883=9 A.W.N. 151. L
- (d) A second appeal lies against an order of a lower Appellate Court passed under this rule, where the appeal to the lower Appellate Court has been, not from the order allowing a review, but from the original decretal order itself as amended by the original Court on the application for review. 13 B. 496. M

2.—“An order granting an application may be objected to”—(Concluded).

- (e) As S. 629 of the old Act allows an appeal from an order admitting a review, the order passed on such appeal and reversing that of the first Court becomes itself appealable under S. 38 of the Punjab Courts Act. 133 P.R. 1832 (Civil). N

(4) Revision.

- (a) It was the intention of the Legislature that the Court which originally heard a case should be the Court to decide whether a review should be granted, and where that Court rejects it, its decision should not be open to appeal or revision. 1904 A.W.N. 130=1 A.L.J. 298. O
- (b) Where a Judge declines to deal with an appeal under this rule from an order granting an application for review, on the ground that the lower Court's order was passed under S. 103 of Act XIV of 1832, and that no appeal would lie from that order, the High Court will interfere with the order in revision. 9 A.W.N. 179. P
- (c) An application for review wrongly granted by the Small Cause Court, is subject to revision by the High Court. 38 P.L.R. 1904. Q
- (d) An application for review of judgment in a Small Cause Court suit was rejected, wrongly, on the ground of a supposed deficiency of Court-fee on the application. Held that this order was open to revision. A.W.N. (1907), 132=4 A.L.J. 439=29 A. 468. R

(5) Appeal against the order granting review is allowable even though the decree itself is not appealable.

Although an appeal is not allowable from a final decree in a suit, an appeal is allowable from an order granting a review, which could reopen the case after it has been disposed of. 22 C. 734; 23 M. 490; 33 P.R. 1902; 24 P.L.R. 1902. S

(6) Estoppel of the party to deny the propriety of the review.

- (a) A party who does not object to the granting of review cannot, afterwards be heard to say that the review was improperly granted. 22 W.R. 399. T
- (b) The fact that the defendant also took advantage of a review granted to the plaintiff and adduced fresh evidence, does not estop him from objecting on appeal that the review was granted on insufficient grounds. 2 C.L.R. 257. U

(7) Review of a Revenue appeal judgment.

The order of a Judge admitting a review of his judgment in an appeal from a Revenue Court is not illegal. 4 N.W.P. 171. Y

3.—“In contravention of the provisions of rule 4.”

Where a Subordinate Judge, after deciding an appeal, granted a review on the ground of discovery of new evidence, without any inquiry or proof that such evidence was not within the knowledge of the applicant, held that this error could form a ground of appeal when the decision was brought before the High Court. 11 B.L.R. (F.B.) 423=20 W.R. 84; 20 W.R. 426; 4 Bom. A.C. 57. W

4.—“After the expiration . . . sufficient cause.”(1) General.

(a) A Judge has power to grant review after the lapse of 90 days within which the application ought to be made, if there be just and reasonable cause. W.R. (F.B.) 84; B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 892=9 W.R. 181; 5 B.L.R. 318 (note)=11 W.R. 22; 12 W.R. (1864), 91; 17 W.R. 230; 8 Bom. A.C. 234; 13 W.R. 33. X

(b) If a review is granted after the prescribed period without just and reasonable cause, the order will be set aside. 14 B.L.R. 373; 2 I.A. 58; 10 W.R. 42; 24 W.R. 294; 8 Bom. A.C. 234; 8 W.R. 184; 25 W.R. 343; 12 W.R. 94; 18 W.R. 286; 5 W.R. 226; W.R. (1864), 287; 5 C.W.N. 485. Y

(2) When cause for the delay in not alleged, a second application alleging it can be filed.

If the Appellate Court sets aside a review granted by the lower Court on the ground that the applicant did not allege and prove a sufficient cause for the delay for filing the review petition after 90 days, the applicant is at liberty to put in a second review petition alleging his reason for delay. 101 P.R. 1876 (Civil). Z

(3) Delay subsequent to the 90 days also should be explained.

Not only the delay of 90 days but any delay after the 90 days must be explained. 114 P.R. 1876, (Civil). A

(4) Appeal.

(a) An appeal lies from the order of a lower Court deciding what is just and reasonable cause for admitting a review after 90 days. O.C. Book Cir. 22 of 1873; 51 P.R. 1871 (Civil); B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 892=9 W.R. 181; 4 N.W.P. 74. B

(b) The High Court refused to interfere, under cl. 15 of the Charter Act, with the order of a Court granting a review, although the application was made three years after the decree, the lower Court being satisfied that there was “reasonable cause.” 2 B.L.R.A.C. 181=11 W.R. 56. C

(c) The lower Court admitted a review after 90 days without the applicant explaining the delay. The High Court refused to interfere under cl. 15 of the Charter Act with the order granting the review. 5 B.L.R. 316=13 W.R. 439. D

5.—“Sufficient cause.”A.—What amounts to sufficient cause.

(1) A decree for Washlat was granted against “the defendant” in a case where there were several defendants; and as soon as one of them, who was not the person against whom the plaintiff sought for Washlat, found that the decree was to be executed against him, he applied for review after 90 days. Held there was just and reasonable cause. 7 W.R. 166. E

(2) Though a certain issue in a suit was decided against the plaintiff, the suit was decreed, and the defendants obtained a review on which that decree was set aside. On this plaintiff applied for review. Held that the plaintiff had just and reasonable cause for the delay. 13 W.R. 69. F

(3) A disagreement between the Civil and Revenue Courts as to the rights of a party was held to be sufficient cause for presenting the review petition out of time, 9 P.R. (1905), Rev.=65 P.L.R. 1906. G

5.—“ Sufficient cause ”—(Concluded).

B.—What does not amount to sufficient cause.

- (1) Where an application for review was granted after the 90 days simply because the same question in another suit was decided in favour of the applicant, the order was set aside. 13 W.R. 120. H
- (2) Where the only cause for admitting a review after 90 days was that the High Court construed the law differently from the way in which it had been laid down in the decision admitted to review, held that the cause alleged was no excuse for the delay. 10 W.R. 26; 6 Bom.A.C. 146; 7 W.R. 405; 9 W.R. 102; 19 W.R. 415. I
- (3) A new exposition of the law by a Full Bench is not “just and reasonable cause” for admitting a review after the prescribed period. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 892=9 W.R. 181; 6 W.R. 100; 7 W.R. 408. But see 8 C. 700. J
- (4) A new exposition of the law by the Privy Council is not a “just and reasonable cause” for admitting a review long after the judgment. 6 W.R. 167; 17 W.R. 168. But see 15 W.R. 148. K
- (5) One of the parties appealed against the decree of a High Court and it was reversed. The other party applied for review to the High Court within three months of the decree of the Privy Council. The application was refused. 9 B.L.R. 187-18 W.R. 317. But see 3 B.L.R.A.C. 287; 12 W.R. 154. L
- (6) The pendency of a special appeal is not a just and reasonable cause for filing it after 90 days. 9 W.R. 301; 8 Bom. A.C. 284. M
- (7) An applicant for review cannot plead his ignorance of the effect of the judgment as a justification for his delay. 8 B. 260. N
- (8) The fact that the applicant is a minor is no excuse for the delay. 6 B. 107. O
- (9) The fact that the High Court had decided one of the contentions in favour of the applicant after the date of the original judgment, is no ground for excusing the delay. 2 A. 287. P

8. When an application for review is granted ¹

Registry of application granted, and order for re-hearing.

a note thereof shall be made in the register and the Court may at once re-hear the case or make such order in regard to the re-hearing as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 680 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“ When an application for review is granted. ”

(1) Effect of an order granting a review.

When a review of a decision has been admitted, the whole case thereby is re-opened. 10 B.H.C. 860. Q

(2) Nature of the order to be passed.

- (a) The Judges of the Sudder Court admitting an application for review were competent to make a qualified order, leaving in the Court, which was to review the decision, a discretion as to the extent to which the review should be carried. 9 W.R.P.C. 28=11 M.I.A. 487. R

1.—“When an application for review is granted”—(Concluded).

- (b) When an application for a review is made upon several grounds, one of which refers only to the question of costs, and the Court finds that all other grounds except this one are tenable, it can order the applicant to apply, under S. 206 of Act XIV of 1882, for the rectification of a clerical mistake. 6 C. 22 = 6 C.L.R. 575. S

(3) New Judge trying the case is bound by the order of review.

When a case is admitted to review by the deciding Judge, and tried afterwards by another Judge, the new Judge ought to try only the point directed by the order of review. 5 C. 89; W.R. 1864, 142; 24 W.R. 427; 10 C.L.R. 106; contra, 9 C. 209; 12 C.L.R. 64. T

(4) What questions may be argued on review.

- (a) It cannot be treated as a universal rule that no point can be raised on an application for a review which has already been discussed and decided on the original hearing or that no new point which has not been raised, on the hearing of the appeal, can be argued on the application for a review. 6 B.L.R. 126 (F.B.) = 15 W.R. 1 (F.B.); 1 B. 543; 17 W.R. 479. U

- (b) Whether certain documents which have already been admitted as evidence were so admissible or not, is not a point which can be argued in review. 24 W.R. 186. Y

- (c) A party, who not only had an opportunity of raising a question, but who did raise it on appeal, and on argument abandoned it, cannot, under ordinary circumstances, be allowed to agitate the question on review. 2 M. 58. W

- (d) Where an application for review is admitted upon other grounds, fresh evidence not produced at the trial may be received. 8 B.L.R.A.C. 846. X

9. No application to review an order made on an application

Bar of certain applications.

for a review or a decree or order passed or made on a review shall be entertained.¹

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the last para. of S. 629 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words “or made” and “or a decree” are newly added in this rule.

1.—“No application . . . shall be entertained.”

(1) Second application for review when not allowable.

Although a second application to have original judgment reviewed upon new materials is permissible, an application to review an order passed on review is prohibited by S. 629 of the old Act. P.J.L.B. 580, 581; O.C. Book Cir. 22 of 1878; 7 W.R. 464; 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 147 = B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 36 7 = 5 W.R. 93; 6 P.R. 1878 (Civil); 57 P.R. 1892; 5 M. H.C. 828. Y

1.—“No application . . . shall be entertained” —(Concluded).

(2) A second review when allowed.

The prohibition contained in the last clause of S. 629 of Act X of 1877 to the admission of an application to review the order passed on review, does not extend to the admission of a second review of the original order, when some fresh ground is advanced in support of such application. 107 P.R. 1883 (Civil); contra 4 Bom. L.R. 121=26 B. 485; 15 C. 482. 6 W.R. 110, 91; W.R. (1864), Mis. 31; 2 W.R. 61; 1 W.R. 287. Z

(3) Order dismissing a second review is a judgment.

When a review is admitted and a contrary decision is given, if the other party applies for a review of the new judgment and it is refused, the order refusing to review is a judgment and not a mere order refusing a review. 18 W.R. 494. A

ORDER XLVIII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Process to be served at expense of party issuing. 1. (1) Every process issued under this Code shall be served at the expense of the party on whose behalf it is issued, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(2) The court fee chargeable for such service shall be paid within a time to be fixed before the process is issued.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The section corresponds to S. 93 of the Code of 1882. In the second paragraph of the rule, the word “chargeable” is substituted for “leviable” in the old Code; for “levied,” the new Code has “paid”; and the phrase “by the Court” has been omitted from the new Code after “to be fixed”.

(1) Scope.

(a) Old S. 93 relates to the payment of process fees by the parties to a suit, and gives the Court, acting judicially, power to make an order, between party and party only, as to who should pay the process fees. 8 C.W.N. 82 (84). B

(b) It does not expressly give power to remit the fees, or, what comes to the same thing, to order that the process should be served free, i.e., at the expense of Government. 8 C.W.N. 82 (84). C

(2) High Court not empowered to relax process fee rules.

The High Court has no power to relax the process-fee rules framed by it in accordance with S. 20, Court Fees Act. 8 C.W.N. 82 (88)—Per Ramprini, J. D

(3) Order under rule when Government is no party.

An order under old S. 93 (=r. 1) cannot be made where the Government is no party to the suit. 3 C.W.N. 82 (84). E

(4) Service of notice.

(a) A person refusing a registered letter (containing a notice) sent by post cannot afterwards plead ignorance of its contents. 16 W.R. 223 (224). F

(b) The service of the notice is sufficient where it has been effected by a registered letter, the posting of which was proved, and which was produced in Court in the cover in which it was despatched, that cover containing the notice with an endorsement upon it purporting to be by an officer of the Post Office, stating the refusal by the addressee to receive the document. 15 C. 581; see, also, 13 C.P.L. R. 74 (77); 6 C.W.N. 184 (187); 7 C.L.J. 251. G

(c) Service of notice by a registered letter through the Post Office is not necessarily bad and is not necessarily a non-compliance with the provisions of S. 106, Transfer of Property Act, if there is evidence that the postman tendered or delivered the notice, either personally to the party or to one of his family or a servant. 4 C.W.N. 790; (4 C.W.N. 572, l'). H

(d) In a suit for ejectment under the Transfer of Property Act, notice to quit which was addressed to all the joint tenants, who lived in commensality was handed over to one of them and he signed an acknowledgment for it: held, that the service was good. 4 C.W.N. 572. I

(5) Omission to deposit, where no time fixed for it—Effect.

The omission by a plaintiff to deposit tullubnannah required by the Court, in a case pending for some time, was held not to warrant a dismissal of the suit, inasmuch as the Court had not fixed a period for the deposit, as it was bound to do under S. 2, Act XXIII of 1861. 11 W.R. 290 = 3 B.L.R. Ap. 25. J

(6) Costs of summoning witnesses.

A defendant was held not bound to pay into Court the cost of summoning and defraying the expenses of the witnesses, until the Court had fixed what was reasonable. 9 W.R. 127 (128). K

2. All orders, notices and other documents required by this

Orders and notices how served.

Code to be given to or served on any person shall be served in the manner provided for the service of summons.

(Notes).

Old Act.

94. All notices and orders required by this Code to be given to or served on any person shall be in writing, and shall be served in the manner hereinbefore provided for the service of summons.

Notices and orders in writing how served.

Changes.

Corresponds with S. 94 of the Code of 1882. For the expression "notice and orders" in the old Code, the expression "orders, notices and other documents" has been substituted in the new Code; the expression "shall be in writing, and" has been omitted from the new Code.

Scope.

The provision contained in old S. 94 (=r. 2) would include service by post, where the person resides out of British India, as provided by old S. 89 (=O. V, r. 25). 5 B. 240 (251). L

3. The forms given in the appendices, with such variation as the circumstances of each case may require, shall be used for the purposes therein mentioned.

Use of forms in appendices.

(Notes).

Old Act.

644. Subject to the power conferred on the High Court by Section 639 and by the twenty-fourth and twenty-fourth schedule. fifth of Victoria, chapter 104, Section 15, the forms set forth in the fourth schedule hereto annexed, with such variation as the circumstances of each case require, shall be used for the respective purposes therein mentioned.

Nature of forms prescribed.

With regard to the forms ordained by this rule to be used for the respective purposes mentioned, it is fair to assume that those forms do not exceed that which is permissible. 24 C. 766 (772). M

ORDER XLIX.

CHARTERED HIGH COURTS.

1. Notice to produce documents, summonses to witnesses, and every other judicial process, issued in the exercise of the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court, and of its matrimonial, testamentary and intestate jurisdictions, except summonses to defendants, writs of execution and notices to respondents may be served by the attorneys in the suits, or by persons employed by them, or by such other persons as the High Court, by any rule or order, directs.

Who may serve processes of High Court.

Old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

This section corresponds with S. 636 of the Code of 1882. The Order is simply named "Chartered High Courts". The noteworthy changes are:—the words "ordinary or extraordinary" before the expression "original civil jurisdiction" are omitted in the new Code; for the expression "notices under S. 558", the new Code has "notices to respondents"; and the phrase "from time to time" has been omitted in the new Code before the last words "directs."

2. Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any rules in force at the commencement of this Code for the taking of evidence or the recording of judgments and orders by a Chartered High Court.

Savings in respect of Chartered High Courts.

(Notes).

Old Act.

High Court to record judgments according to its own rules.

633. The High Court shall take evidence, and record judgments and orders, in such manner as it by rule from time to time directs.

(1) Intention of the Legislature.

The intention of the Legislature as expressed in S. 633 (which this rule embodies) is that the Judges might frame rules as to how their judgments should be given, so that they might give them orally or in writing, or adopt any mode which might appear to them best in the interests of justice. 9 A. 98 (96). N

(2) Effect of rules so framed on O. XLI, r. 31.

(a) Where such rules have been framed, they modify the provisions of S. 574 (= O. XLI, r. 31), in their application to the judgments of the High Court. 9 A. 98 (97). O

(b) E.g., Where the High Court substantially adopts the whole judgment of the Court below, it is not necessary to go through the formality of re-stating the points at issue, the decision upon each point and the reasons. 9 A. 98 (96). P

(c) And where the High Court disagrees, it goes without saying that it would not set aside the decree without stating its reasons fully. 9 A. 98 (96). Q

3. The following rules shall not apply to any Chartered High Court in the exercise of its ordinary or extraordinary original civil jurisdiction, namely:—

- (1) rule 10 and rule 11, clauses (b) and (c), of Order VII;
- (2) rule 3 of Order X;
- (3) rule 2 of Order XVI;
- (4) rules 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15 and 16 (so far as relates to the manner of taking evidence) of Order XVIII;
- (5) rules 1 to 8 of Order XX; and
- (6) rule 7 of Order XXXIII (so far as relates to the making of a memorandum); and rule 35 of Order XLI shall not apply to any such High Court in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

Old Act.

638. The following portions of this Code shall not apply to the High Court in the exercise of its ordinary or extraordinary original civil jurisdiction, namely, Ss. 16, 17 and 19, Ss. 54, cl. (a) and (b), 57, 119, 160, 182 to 185 (both inclusive), 187, 189, 190, 191, 192 (so far as relates to the manner of taking evidence), 198 to 206 (both inclusive), and so much of S. 409 as relates to the making of a memorandum; and S. 579 shall not apply to the High Court in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

Changes.

Corresponds with S. 638 of the Code of 1882. The changes in the new Code are insignificant, and are made to suit the altered frame of the new Code.

ORDER L.

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS.

1. The provisions hereinafter specified shall not extend to Provincial Small Courts constituted under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887, or to Courts exercising the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes under that Act, that is to say—

(a) so much of this schedule as relates to—

- (i) suits excepted from the cognizance of a Court of Small Causes or the execution of decrees in such suits;
- (ii) the execution of decrees against immoveable property or the interest of a partner in partnership property;
- (iii) the settlement of issues; and

(b) the following rules and orders,—

Order II, rule 1 (frame of suit);

Order X, rule 3 (record of examination of parties);

Order XV, except so much of rule 4 as provides for the pronouncement at once of judgment;

Order XVIII, rules 5 to 12 (evidence);

Orders XLI to XLV (appeals);

Order XLVII, rules 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 (review);

Order LI.

(N o t e).

This order and rule are new.

ORDER LI.PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS.

1. Save as provided in rules 22 and 23 of Order V, rules 4 and 7 of Order XXI, and rule 4 of Order XXVI, and by the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, this schedule shall not extend to any suit or proceeding in any Court of Small Causes established in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay.

(N o t e).

This order and rule are new.

PROCLAMATION OF SALE. (O. 21, r. 66.)

(Title.)

Notice is hereby given that, under rule 64 of Order XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, an order has been passed by this Court for the sale of the attached property mentioned in the annexed schedule, in satisfaction of the claim of the decree-holder in the suit (1) mentioned in the margin, amounting with costs and interest up to date of sale to the sum of

(1) Suit No. _____ of 19 _____, decided by the
 of _____ in which was plaintiff and was defendant.

The sale will be by public auction, and the property will be put up for sale in the lots specified in the schedule. The sale will be of the property of the judgment-debtors above-named as mentioned in the schedule below; and the liabilities and claims attaching to the said property, so far as they have been ascertained, are those specified in the schedule against each lot.

In the absence of any order of postponement, the sale will be held by _____ at the monthly sale commencing at _____ o'clock on the _____ at
 _____ . In the event, however, of the debt above specified and of the costs of the sale being tendered or paid before the knocking down of any lot, the sale will be stopped.

At the sale the public generally are invited to bid, either personally or by duly authorized agent. No bid by, or on behalf of, the judgment-creditors above-mentioned, however, will be accepted, nor will any sale to them be valid without the express permission of the Court previously given. The following are the further.

Conditions of Sale.

1. The particulars specified in the schedule below have been stated to the best of the information of the Court, but the Court will not be answerable for any error, mis-statement or omission in this proclamation.

2. The amount by which the biddings are to be increased shall be determined by the officer conducting the sale. In the event of any dispute arising as to the amount bid, or as to the bidder, the lot shall at once be again put up to auction.

3. The highest bidder shall be declared to be the purchaser of any lot, provided always that he is legally qualified to bid, and provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Court or officer holding the sale to decline acceptance of the highest bid when the price offered appears so clearly inadequate as to make it advisable to do so.

4. For reasons recorded, it shall be in the discretion of the officer conducting the sale to adjourn it subject always to the provisions of rule 69 of Order XXI.

5. In the case of moveable property, the price of each lot shall be paid at the time of sale or as soon after as the officer holding the sale directs, and in default of payment the property shall forthwith be again put up and re-sold.

6. In the case of immoveable property, the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of 25 per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer conducting the sale, and in default of such deposit the property shall forthwith be put up again and re-sold.

7. The full amount of the purchase-money shall be paid by the purchaser before the Court closes on the fifteenth day after the sale of the property, exclusive of such day, or if the fifteenth day be a Sunday or other holiday, then on the first office day after the fifteenth day.

8. In default of payment of the balance of purchase-money within the period allowed, the property shall be re-sold after the issue of a fresh notification of sale. The deposit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, may, if the Court thinks fit, be forfeited to Government and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may be subsequently sold.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

ARBITRATION.

Arbitration in suits.

Parties to suit may apply for order of reference.

1. (1) Where in any suit all the parties interested agree ¹ that any matter in difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, ² they may, at any time before judgment is pronounced, apply to the Court for an order of reference.

(2) Every such application shall be in writing ³ and shall state the matter sought to be referred.

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 506.

(General).(1) Schedule applicable to.

—arbitration in a pending suit. 29 C. 793.

A

(2) Schedule not applicable to.

—rent suits, 16 W.R. 160; 6 C. 251, contra, 2 A. 119; proceedings under the Arbitration Act, 1899, 29 C. 793; and proceedings in insolvency under the provisions of the Punjab Laws Act. 88 P.R. 1887.

B

(3) Scope of section.

This section is an enabling section and is not intended to be restrictive or exclusive. 24 W.R. 41.

C

(4) Limitation—Determination after reference.

(a) An objection on the ground of limitation cannot be raised, where the matter in dispute had been referred to arbitrators and an award had been made by them. (1879) S.O Part X, No. 13.

D

(b) In the absence of express authority, a reference to arbitration in Upper Burma does not include an authority to dispose of a question of limitation. U.B.R. (1892-96), p. 9.

E

1.—“All the parties interested agree.”(1) Necessity for consent of parties to reference.

The parties interested must consent to the reference. 10 M.I.A. 413 (427)=5 W.R. (P.C.). 21.

F

(2) Who need not join in reference.

Parties between whom there is not any difference need not be parties to the reference. 24 A. 229.

G

(3) Reference by some—Effect on this.

A reference by some of the parties not binding on the others, 7 A.W.N. 215; in the absence of proof that they subsequently ratified it. 109 P.R. 1888,

H

1.—“All the parties interested agree—(Concluded).”(4) Reference not joined in by all parties, legality of.

A reference to arbitration on petition not joined in by all the parties to a suit is illegal. 26 M. 47.

(5) Reference not joined in by all parties, award on.

(a) An award on a reference not agreed to by all the parties to a suit is invalid in law. 9 C.W.N. 878. J

(b) Where a defendant, who had appeared and filed a written statement, did not join in the application for the order of reference, an award made on a reference, by Court is illegal. 17 M.L.J. 394. K

(c) Where a defendant did not join a reference, though the submission was signed by the pleader for all the defendants, and the award was objected to by the non-joining defendant, there was no valid award such as could bind any of the defendants. 4 A.L.J 347 = A.W.N. (1907), 147 = 29 A. 428. L

(d) An award will bind only the parties to the reference. 11 C. 37. M

(e) An award of the arbitrators is not binding on a person not a party to the reference, though, during the arbitration, he produced a document before the arbitrators in obedience to a summons. 5 C.W.N. 268. N

(f) An award made on a reference not consented to by all the parties to the suit is not a nullity, and the party in whose favour it is made is entitled to have a decree upon it, provided the opposite party does not show cause why it should not be given effect to. 4 P.R. 1882. O

(g) An award is evidence against the parties concerned. 15 W.R. 427. P

(h) An award on a reference made by Court in the course of a suit cannot be set aside on the ground that all the parties to the suit did not join the reference. 11 C.W.N. 1152. Q

(6) Refusal to refer, effect of.

Refusal to submit to arbitration cannot raise any presumption against a party to a suit. 20 W. R. 172. R

2.—“That any matter....referred to arbitration.”(1) Agreement to be bound by oath.

An agreement to be bound by the statement of a particular person on oath is in the nature of a reference to arbitration. (Oldfield, J., diss.) 4 A. 302. S

(2) Power to refer.(i) COURT MAY RECOMMEND ARBITRATION.

A submission to arbitration may be recommended but not ordered by the Court. 52 P. R. 1869. T

(ii) COURT CANNOT COERCE INTO SUBMISSION.

A reference to arbitration brought about by coercion on the part of the Court is invalid; the submission should be voluntary. 28 P. R. 1868. U

(iii) COURT CANNOT REFER OF ITS OWN MOTION.

The Court has no power of its own motion to order a reference to arbitration, and it can do so only in the manner prescribed by the Code. 1 Bom. L.R. 617. Y

2.—“That any matter....referred to arbitration”—(Continued).

(iv) COURT CANNOT REFER CERTAIN MATTERS.

(a) A Court to which certain issues in suit are referred for trial cannot refer to arbitration. 7 A. 523. W

(b) In a suit under the Religious Endowments Act, a Court cannot refer the whole suit to arbitration, but may refer certain issues for decision by the arbitrators. 26 M. 361. X

(v) APPELLATE COURT MAY REFER APPEAL OR QUESTION OF FACT.

An Appellate Court can refer an appeal, 7 N.W.P. 248, S.C. Oudh 25, or any question of fact in dispute between the parties, 1 C.P.L.R. 118, to arbitration. It has all the powers of the Court of first instance in matters of reference to arbitration. 11 A. 8=7 A.W.N. 240. Y

(vi) GUARDIAN.

The guardian has authority to agree to a reference to arbitration on behalf of the minor, and, in the absence of fraud or gross negligence, the agreement is binding on the minor, notwithstanding that the sanction of the Court was not obtained therefor. 28 A. 35=2 A.L.J. 493=A.W.N. (1905), 171. Z

(vii) MUKTEAR.

Without special authorisation, a muktear, cannot bind his principals to a submission to arbitration. 11 P.R. 1869. A

(viii) NEXT FRIEND.

There is nothing to prevent a next friend from referring the minors' interests to arbitration. 92 P.R. 1885. B

(ix) PARTNER.

A firm cannot be bound by the reference to arbitration, made at the instance of one partner alone. 2 A. 135. C

(x) PLEADER—REFERENCE WITHOUT SPECIAL AUTHORISATION.

(a) A pleader has no authority to apply for an order of reference, unless he is expressly authorised so to do. A vakalatnamah in general terms is wholly insufficient. 4 A.L.J. 342=A.W.N. (1907), 189=29 A. 429. D

(b) Reference to arbitration made by a pleader, not specially authorised to make it, in the absence of acquiescence by the party concerned, is not valid. 7 C.W.N. 343. E

(c) An application for reference signed by a pleader holding a defective vakalatnamah is not binding on the party whom the pleader purported to represent. 29 A. 428=4 A.L.J. 347=A.W.N. (1907), 147. F

(d) Where a pleader holding a vakalatnamah in general terms applied for an order of reference to arbitration, and no objection was raised to the reference on the ground of want of authority on the part of the pleader, the award and the decree, which followed, were not disturbed. 29 A. 429=4 A.L.J. 342=A.W.N. (1907), 189. G

(e) Where a party, on whose behalf an application for reference is signed by his pleader, knows about it and acquiesces in it, he cannot raise the objection of want of authority in the pleader afterwards. (Ibid.) H

2.—“That any matter . . . referred to arbitration ”—(Concluded).

(xi) RECOGNIZED AGENT.

The recognized agent of a party can submit a matter in dispute to arbitration,
 . 1 P.R. 1882, 48 P.R. 1882, contra, 170 P.R. 1883; and there is no special form of authorisation in that behalf. 51 P.R. 1893.

(3) Reference of the whole matter.

A — in dispute between the parties may be a reference of a particular matter. 167 P.R. 1889. J

(4) Reference of matter in issue.

Only matter in issue before Court can be referred to arbitration. 14 W.R.
 469. K

(5) What cannot be referred.

An application for revocation of a grant of probate cannot be referred to arbitrators for their decision, even with the consent of the parties. 72
 P.R. 1894. L

(6) Filing of reference.

A Court has power to file a reference to arbitration, notwithstanding the denial by the defendant of the agreement to refer. 84 P.R. 1901. M

(7) Revocation of reference.

(a) One of the parties cannot revoke a submission to arbitration. 9 P.R.
 1870; 7 C.W.N. celi. N

(b) A reference to arbitration can be revoked only for good cause shown.
 (1880) S.C. Part X, No. 14. O

(c) More arbitrary revocation of an arbitration is not permitted. S.C.
 Oudh 17. P

(8) Withdrawal from an agreement to refer.

— not allowed arbitrarily or on insufficient grounds. 7 A. 278 = 5 A.W.N. 12. Q

(9) Objection as to validity of reference—Second appeal.

An objection by a party that his muktewar was not specially empowered to refer the case to arbitration could be urged in second appeal, though not raised in the first Appellate Court. 11 P.R. 1869. R

(10) Effect of agreement to refer on pending suit.

A registered agreement to refer during the pendency of a suit bars the further prosecution of the suit. 8 A.W.N. 133. S

(11) Withdrawal of suit after reference, permissibility of.

Court has no jurisdiction to permit a plaintiff to withdraw his suit, with liberty to bring a fresh suit, after the arbitrator had made an award.
 7 C.W.N. 186. T

(12) Question as to regularity of proceedings.

In cases of reference under this section, no question can arise as to the regularity of the proceedings up to the order of reference by the Court. 6
 C.W.N. 226 = 29 C. 167. U

(13) Reference to settle price—Decree on valuator's award.

Valuators not being arbitrators, no decree on the award of the valuator can be made under S. 16 (2) of this schedule. 5 C.W.N. 242 = 23 C. 155. Y

3.—“Application shall be in writing.”

(1) Provision directory—Non-compliance an irregularity.

The provision that an application for reference to arbitration shall be in writing is directory only as to the form in which the application should be made, and non-compliance with the provision does not render the reference a nullity, but is only an irregularity which can be cured. 4 C.W.N. 92=27 C. 61; A.W.N. (1907), 273=4 A.L.J. 691=30 A. 32; but see 67 P.R. 1879. W

(2) Agreement to refer not in writing, effect of.

Agreement to refer to arbitration, not in writing, is not an adjustment of suit. 7 C.W.N. 180. X

(3) Application to refer not in writing—When not objectionable.

An application for reference, made in open Court in the presence of all the parties and with their consent, was not required to be in writing. 2 N.W.P. 419. Y

Appointment of arbitrator. 2. The arbitrator shall be appointed in such manner¹ as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 507.

1.—“Arbitrator shall be appointed in such manner.”

(1) Record should show appointment.

Appointment of arbitrators should appear clearly from the record. Old S. C. 60 (O.C.). Z

(2) No nomination against protest.

A Court cannot nominate arbitrators to try an issue against the protest of one of the parties to the suit. 5 W.R. 21 (P.C.)=10 M.I.A. 418. A

3. (1) The Court shall, by order, refer to the arbitrator¹ the matter in difference which he is required to determine, and shall fix such time as it thinks reasonable for the making of the award,² and shall specify such time in the order.

(2) Where a matter is referred to arbitration, the Court shall not, save in the manner and to the extent provided in this schedule, deal with such matter³ in the same suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 508.

1.—“The Court...by order refer to arbitrator.”

(1) Order of reference—Necessity for.

An order of reference is necessary. 67 P.R. 1886. B

I.—“The Court...by order refer to arbitrator”—(Concluded).(2) Matter to be stated in order of reference.

All the points referred to arbitration must be stated in the order of reference.
10 W.R. 898. C

(3) Legality of award without order of reference.

An award is not legal, in the absence of an order of reference as is contemplated by the Code. 35 P.R. 1884. D

(4) Second reference on the same submission.

Where an award is set aside, a Court has no authority to make a— A.W.N. (1908), 228 = 5 A.L.J. 658. E

(5) Order for payment of expenses of arbitrators, legality of.

A Court has no jurisdiction to order deposit of money for the payment of remuneration, or direct its payment to the arbitrators. 94 P.R. 1894; nor can it hold back a reference until payment of such money. 11 P.R. 1886. F

(6) Nature of evidence to be admitted by arbitrators.

(a) The arbitrators should take only such legal evidence as may be necessary to decide the matter referred to them. 2 B.L.R. App. 25. G

(b) An arbitrator cannot import into his proceedings admissions made and evidence taken in a former proceeding. 24 W.R. 81. H

2.—“Shall fix such time...for making of the award.”(1) Time for making award—Court should fix.

It is necessary that a time should be fixed in the order of reference for the making of the award. 10 W.R. 206 = 1 B.L.R.S.N. 18; 6 M.I.A. 184; 13 A. 900; 30 A. 169. I

(2) Failure to fix time—Effect of.

(a) Failure to fix time for delivery of the award does not make the subsequent arbitration-proceedings ineffectual and bad. 10 A. 187 = 8 A.W.N. 28. J

(b) An omission to fix a date for the delivery of the award is not a mere irregularity, but is a defect fatal to the order of reference and to all subsequent proceedings founded thereon. A.W.N. (1908), 59 = 6 A.L.J. 144 = 30 A. 169. K

(3) Award to be made within time fixed.

The validity of an award depends upon the making of it within the period allowed, and it is immaterial on what date it is filed in Court. 27 A. 459 = 2 A.L.J. 201 = A.W.N. (1905), 47; 28 A. 105. L

(4) Award made after time fixed—Validity of.

An award made after the expiry of the time fixed by the Court is void ab initio. It cannot be validated by an acceptance thereof by the Court after the expiry of the time, nor by an order made by the Court, for extension of time, after the making of the award. 2 N.L.R. 81. M

(5) Appeals—Award not made within time.

An appeal lies from a decree on an award not made within time fixed. 8 A. 542 = 6 A.W.N. 179. N

2.—“Shall fix such time....for making of the award.”—(Concluded).

(6) Appellate Court—Objection as to time of delivery of award.

An objection that an award was made beyond the time allowed could be taken in the Appellate Court, in the absence of proof that, in the Court of first instance, the party was aware of the defect or that he had consented to the extension of time. 6 A.W.N. 179. O

3.—“Court shall not....deal with such matter.”

(1) Court not to proceed with suit after reference.

A Court is not competent to dispose of a case referred to arbitration, 80 P.R. 1879; but may proceed with the suit if it is apparent that the reference will be fruitless. 24 P.R. 1875. P

(2) Dismissal for default after reference.

A suit referred to arbitration cannot be dismissed for default of appearance. 10 P.R. 1899. Q

(3) Supersession of reference.

It is not competent to a Court to supersede a reference, in the absence of the arbitrator declining to act. 4 A.L.J. 691=A.W.N. (1907), 278. Q 1

Where reference is to two or more, order to provide for difference of opinion. 4. (1) Where the reference is to two or more arbitrators, provision shall be made in the order for a difference of opinion¹ among the arbitrators—

- (a) by the appointment of an umpire²; or
- (b) by declaring that, if the majority of the arbitrators agree, the decision of the majority shall prevail; or
- (c) by empowering the arbitrators to appoint an umpire³; or
- (d) otherwise as may be agreed between the parties, or, if they cannot agree, as the Court may determine.

(2) Where an umpire is appointed, the Court shall fix such time as it thinks reasonable for the making of his award in case he is required to act.

(Notes).

Old Act.

1.—“Provision shall be made....for a difference of opinion.”

(1) Award to be unanimous.

An award must be unanimous in the absence of provision for a difference of opinion. U.B.R. (1902), June 1; 12 C.P.L.R. 112. R

(2) No provision for difference of opinion, effect of.

An award is not a nullity, merely because no provision has been made in the order of reference for difference of opinion. 8 C.L.J. 475. S

(3) Evidence as to provision in case of difference of opinion.

Where a reference to arbitration did not contain any provision that the decision of the majority should prevail, oral evidence was admissible to prove that there was such a stipulation. U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 5. T

1.—“Provision shall be made....for a difference of opinion”—(Concluded).(4) Court need not adopt award not unanimous.

Where an award is not made by all the arbitrators, a Court is not bound to adopt it. S.D. 2 of 1886 (O.C.) U

(5) Parties bound only by unanimous award.

In the absence of a provision in the agreement to refer to arbitration, to the effect that the award of the majority should prevail, the parties would be bound only by the unanimous award of the arbitrators. 57 P.R. 1879.

(6) Difference among arbitrators, effect of. Y

Where an agreement to refer did not make any provision for a difference of opinion among the arbitrators, the reference became fruitless on a difference occurring among them, and the Court had no power to appoint an umpire without the consent of the parties. 191 P.R. 1882. W

(7) Partial disagreement among arbitrators, effect of.

An award as a whole is not nullified by a partial disagreement of the arbitrators. 2 W.R. 32. X

(8) Appeal.

Where a reference to arbitration provided that, in case of difference of opinion among the arbitrators, the Court itself might decide the case, the decision of the Court on the happening of such difference was appealable. 96 P.R. 1868. Y

2.—“By the appointment of an umpire.”Umpire—When his opinion prevails.

Where there was provision for the appointment of an umpire in case of difference of opinion among the arbitrators, the opinion of the umpire prevailed on the happening of difference among the arbitrators. 46 P.R. 1889. Z

3.—“Empowering the arbitrators to appoint an umpire.”Delegation of powers—Arbitrator—Umpire.

Neither an arbitrator nor an umpire can delegate his powers. U.B.R. (1897—1901), p. 8 ; 17 B. 129. A

5. (1) In any of the following cases, namely :—

(a) where the parties cannot agree within a reasonable time with respect to the appointment of an arbitrator,¹ or the person appointed refuses to accept the office of arbitrator,² or

(b) where an arbitrator or umpire—

(i) dies, or

(ii) refuses or neglects to act or becomes incapable of acting, or

(iii) leaves British India in circumstances showing that he will probably not return at an early date, or

Power of Court to appoint arbitrator in certain cases.

(c) where the arbitrators are empowered by the order of reference to appoint an umpire and fail to do so, any party may serve the other party or the arbitrators, as the case may be, with a written notice to appoint an arbitrator³ or umpire.

(2) If, within seven clear days after such notice has been served or such further time as the Court may in each case allow, no arbitrator or no umpire is appointed, as the case may be, the Court may, on application by the party who gave the notice, and after giving the other party an opportunity of being heard, appoint an arbitrator or umpire⁴ or make an order superseding the arbitration,⁵ and in such case shall proceed with the suit.

Power to modify or correct award.

12. The Court may, by order, modify or correct an award 1,—

- (a) where it appears that a part of the award is upon a matter not referred to² arbitration and such part can be separated³ from the other part and does not affect the decision on the matter referred; or

- (b) where the award is imperfect in form, or contains any obvious error which can be amended without affecting such decision ; or
- (c) where the award contains a clerical mistake or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission.

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 518.

1.—“ Court may . . . modify or correct an award.”(1) Construction of award.

An award must be construed by its language, and not by the oral evidence of the arbitrators. 8 N.W.P. 117. S

(2) Validity of award opposed to Hindu Law.

An award of proprietary rights cannot be questioned on the ground that the devolution of property is opposed to Hindu Law. 14 C.P.L.R. 94. T

2.—“ Award . . . upon matter not referred to.”Necessity for separate awards.

There should be separate awards in respect of matters referred to by the parties and those referred to by the Judge. 8 W.R. (Mis.) 27. U

3.—“ Where . . . such part can be separated.”(1) Part in excess of authority separable.

Where an award consists of two separable parts and one of them only is an excess of authority, the other part of the award can be given effect to. 87 P.R. 1902 (P.C.). Y

(2) Void portion separable.

Where the void portion of an award is separable and the remaining portion of it determines all material questions submitted, the valid portion of the award may be maintained. 18 P.R. 1892. W

13. The Court may also make such order as it thinks fit

Order as to costs respecting the costs of the arbitration where any of arbitration, question arises respecting such costs¹ and the award contains no sufficient provision concerning them.

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 519.

1.—“ Court may . . . make . . . order . . . respecting costs.”(1) When arbitrators can deal with question of costs.

The question of costs of the reference and award may be dealt with by the arbitrators, only when all the matters in difference between the parties have been referred to them. 1 B.L.R.O.C.J. 144; 91 P.R. 1888. X

(2) Unauthorised provision as to costs in award, effect of.

Where a submission to an arbitration does not leave the question of costs to the arbitrators, an award which makes provision therefor should not be filed in Court, 9 B. 82. Y

14. The Court may remit ¹ the award or any matter referred to arbitration to the reconsideration of the same arbitrator or umpire, upon such terms as it thinks fit,—

Where award or matter referred to arbitration may be remitted.

- (a) where the award has left undetermined any of the matters referred to ² arbitration, or where it determines any matter not referred to ³ arbitration, unless such matter can be separated without affecting the determination of the matters referred;
- (b) where the award is so indefinite as to be incapable of execution;
- (c) where an objection to the legality of the award is apparent upon the face of it. ⁴

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 520.

1.—“Court may remit.”

(1) Propriety of remission—Determination.

- (a) The Court which accepts an award should determine the propriety of remitting it to the arbitrators for reconsideration. 64 P.R. 1870. Z
- (b) A Court should not remit an award for reconsideration unnecessarily. 14 W.R. 469. A
- (c) The question whether the remission of an award was proper or not could be entertained in an appeal. 3 A. 686 = 1 A.W.N. 34. B

(2) Remission of private award.

The Court has no power to remit an award, made without the intervention of Court, for reconsideration by the arbitrators. 27 A. 526. C

2.—“Where award has left undetermined....any matters referred to.”

Remission for mistakes and omissions.

If the arbitrators commit mistakes or omissions such as cannot be amended, the Court should return the award for reconsideration. 7 W.R. 406. D

3.—“Where it determines any matter not referred to.”

Remission for deciding matters not referred to.

Where an award embraces matters not referred to arbitration, the Court should remit it for reconsideration by the arbitrators, 60 P.R. 1896; and not file it. 29 M. 303. E

4.—“Where . . . objection to the legality . . . is apparent.”

(1) Remission of illegal and defective award.

An award illegal and defective on the face of it, must be remitted for reconsideration, 2 N.W.P. 150; and in the absence of such illegality or defect, a Court is not justified in remitting the award. 2 A. 118. F

(2) Remission for disregard of law or custom.

Open disregard by arbitrators of proved law or custom is a good ground for remitting the award. 12 P.R. 1869. G

(3) Remission for illegal set-off.

Where an award had allowed as a set-off, an item founded on a wagering transaction, the proper procedure for the Court was to remit the award for reconsideration by the arbitrators. 101 P.R. 1868. H

Miscellaneous.

(1) Proof of objections to filing of award.

Objections urged against the filing of an award must be proved and not merely alleged. 28 B. 287. I

(2) Waiver of condition in reference.

Before the disposal of a case by the arbitrators, the parties may waive a condition that the award shall deal with all the matters referred to arbitration. 21 C. 590 = 21 I.A. 47. J

(3) Necessity for separate finding.

Where the whole matter in difference between the parties is referred to arbitration, a separate finding on each issue is not necessary. 22 M. 202. K

(4) Court not to decide in excess of award.

A Court cannot give something not allowed by an award. 5 C.L.R. 338. L

(5) Parties to join in agreement to abide by oath.

All the parties to a referred suit must join in an agreement to abide by the oath of a party thereto. 4 A. 802. M

15. (1) An award ¹ remitted under paragraph 14 becomes void² on failure of the arbitrator or umpire to reconsider it. But no award shall be set aside³ except on one of the following grounds,⁴ namely :—

- (a) corruption or misconduct ⁵ of the arbitrator or umpire ;
- (b) either party having been guilty of fraudulent concealment of any matter which he ought to have disclosed, or of wilfully misleading or deceiving the arbitrator or umpire,
- (c) the award having been made after the issue of an order by the Court superseding the arbitration and proceeding with the suit or after the expiration of the period allowed by the Court, or being otherwise invalid.⁶

(2) Where an award becomes void ⁷ or is set aside under clause (1), the Court shall make an order superseding the arbitration and in such case shall proceed with the suit.

- (j) Where, notwithstanding that some witnesses were examined by some arbitrators in the absence of the others, a party took part in the proceedings, such conduct on his part amounted to a waiver of the irregularity in the procedure. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 21. E

(4) Appeal against order.

No appeal lies against an order setting aside an award, 28 A. 408=A.W.N. (1906), 64=3 A.L.J. 168; contra, if the order proceeded on ground not contemplated by this section. A.W.N. (1908), 242=5 A.L.J. 614=4 M.L.T. 400. F

4.—“Except on one of the following grounds.”

(1) Nature of objections.

- (a) The parties to a reference are bound by the result of the arbitration, in the absence of proof that the award is open to just exceptions. 180 P.R. 1888. G
- (b) A Court should not enquire into objections to the filing of an award other than those mentioned in this schedule. 21 P.R. 1898. H

(2) Proof of objections.

Mere allegation that the consent to an agreement to refer to arbitration had been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation is not a sufficient cause for not filing the agreement; the allegation must be proved. 49 P.R. 1893. I

5.—“Misconduct.”

(1) Meaning of the term.

The term “misconduct” does not necessarily imply “corruption”. 7 C.W.N. 545=80 C. 897. J

(2) What is misconduct—Examples.

- (a) Where a witness was examined by some of the arbitrators, and subsequently all of them refused to examine the witness that had already been examined, such refusal amounted to misconduct on their part. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 14. K
- (b) So is failure to give an opportunity to a party for proving his contention. 9 A.W.N. 124. L
- (c) An arbitrator is bound to examine all the witnesses produced before him, and a refusal to do so is misconduct on his part. 58 P.R. 1889. M
- (d) So is a refusal on the part of the arbitrators to amend an award remitted to them for reconsideration on the ground of illegality. 101 P.R. 1868. N
- (e) An allegation that certain arbitrators were not present at the time the award was made and did not sign the award, though it purported to have been signed also by them, is a charge of misconduct. 20 C. 36. O
- (f) Where an arbitrator omitted to disclose the fact that he was consulted, engaged or retained by a party to the proceedings before him, such omission amounted to misconduct on his part. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 18. P

(3) What is not misconduct.

- (a) Inattention or delay on the part of the arbitrators does not amount to misconduct. 41 P.R. 1875. Q
- (b) Nor does open disregard of proved law or custom. 12 P.R. 1869. R
- (c) Where, in a dispute between the members of a family as to the division among them of the family properties, an arbitrator was selected by reason of his knowledge of the circumstances of the family, a decision of the arbitrator giving effect to what he conceived to be the intention of the father of the parties was not bad for misconduct. 70 P.R. 1891. S
- (d) Where all the disputed matters between the parties were decided by the arbitrators at sittings, when all were present, the fact that one of them did not attend some of their sittings, when no business of a disputed character was gone into, could not amount to misconduct. 2 C.L.J. 61. T

(4) Enquiry into charge of misconduct.

When a charge of corruption or misconduct is brought against an arbitrator or umpire, the Court should make a full enquiry into the matter, 2 A. H.C. 241; and record its opinion as to the truth or otherwise of the allegation. 12 P.R. 1869. U

(5) Misconduct sufficient to set aside award.

In order that a Court may set aside an award on the ground of misconduct, the misconduct charged must amount to corruption or fraud or something from which corruption or fraud might be inferred. 2 C.P.L.B. 202. Y

5.—“Misconduct”—(Concluded).

(6) Charge of misconduct—Action against party.

No action for damages would lie against a party for imputing corruption to the arbitrators appointed in a suit, though the charge was false and unfounded and made from express malice. 16 P.R. 1879. W

(7) Appeal on ground of misconduct.

No appeal lies against a decree on judgment in accordance with an award, on the sole ground that the arbitrator had been guilty of misconduct. 29 A. 457 = A.W.N. (1907), 117 = 4 A.L.J. 455. X

(8) Appellate Court—Plea of corruption rejected by first Court.

A plea of corruption of arbitrators rejected by the Court of first instance cannot be taken up by the Appellate Court. C.C.'s S.C., 18th June 1864 (O.C.). Y

(9) Revision of order setting aside award.

- (a) An order setting aside an award on the ground of the arbitrators' misconduct is not subject to revision. 4 Bom. L.R. 267 = 26 B. 551. Z
- (b) Where a subordinate Court erroneously sets aside an award on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrators, the Court cannot be considered to have acted illegally in the exercise of its jurisdiction, so as to justify interference in revision. 7 C.W.N. 545 = 30 C. 397. A

6.—“Award...being otherwise invalid.”

(1) Award when not valid.

- (a) An award made on evidence recorded by the umpire alone, the arbitrators not attending any of the sittings, is not valid. 1 O.C. 181. B
- (b) An award in excess of authority is not valid. 6 C.P.L.R. 95. C
- (c) Where the plaintiff and only one of the defendants consented to arbitration, and the arbitrators passed an award against all the defendants, the award was illegal, and the Court was wrong in adopting it, by striking out the name of the non-consenting defendant. 3 P.R. 1872. D
- (d) Where the object of a reference was that certain accounts should be examined by the arbitrators, an award arrived at without such examination was not valid. 5 P.R. 1876. E
- (e) An award made by arbitrators, who were unwilling to act, was not valid. 4 A.W.N. 209; 7 A. 20 = 4 A.W.N. 212. F
- (f) An award purporting to be made by persons more than were addressed to in the order of reference is not valid. 7 N.W.P. 367. G
- (g) An award made without taking evidence, as required in the order of remission, is not valid. 13 A.W.N. 45. H
- (h) Where an agreement to refer, contemplated that all the arbitrators should take part in the decision of the case and one of the arbitrators did not join in the decision, the award was not binding on the parties. 55 P.R. 1882. I

(2) Award when not invalid.

- (a) An award was not bad, on the ground that two of the arbitrators ceased with the consent of the parties and argued the case before the other arbitrators, when there was provision in the order of reference for the remaining arbitrators to proceed with the case during the absence of some of them. 9 C. 905; 12 C.L.R. 525. J

6.—“Award....being otherwise invalid.”—(Concluded).

- (b) An award of talukdars of Oudh not filed within six months after the passing of the Oudh Estates Act, 1869, was not, on that account, invalid. 23 C. 838=23 L.A. 61. K
- (c) An award is not invalid, because the arbitrators adopted, as their decision the agreement arrived at and signed by the parties. 22 A. 224 20 A.W.N. 52. L
- (d) Nor because it was in accordance with a compromise or agreement between the parties. 5 A.W.N. 259; 12 A.W.N. 79. M
- (e) Nor because the arbitrator did not give his reasons for his decision or enter into details. 167 P.R. 1889. N
- (f) In the absence of any provision for consultation between the arbitrators and umpire, an award is not invalid, merely because that the umpire did not confer with the arbitrators. 6 P.R. 1891. O
- (g) Where an award was remitted as being incomplete and the arbitrators filed a second award after making the investigations directed by the Court, the second award could not be considered a nullity, merely because it differed from the first. 50 P.R. 1889. P
- (h) Where it was provided that the decision of the arbitrators should rest with the majority, an award arrived at by the majority was not invalid merely on the ground that the dissenting arbitrator did not record his separate opinion. 112 P.R. 1885. Q

7.—“Where an award becomes void.”

Maintenance of separate suit.

- (a) Where an award is declared void, a regular suit to enforce such award is not maintainable. 19 P.R. 1907 46 P.L.R. 1907. R
- (b) An award, a portion of which dealing with matters beyond the jurisdiction of the Civil Court being incapable of enforcement as a whole, does not bar a suit, in respect of the matter contained in it, cognizable by the Civil Court. 56 P.R. 1886. S

Miscellaneous.

- (1) A Court should not adjourn a case for objections, when both parties express their acceptance of an award. 15 P.R. 1899. T
- (2) A party cannot take advantage of an irregularity committed by the Court at his instance. 15 P.R. 1899. U
- (3) An acquiescence in the proceedings of the Court after setting aside the award will prevent a party from insisting upon the award. 117 P.R. 1876. V
- (4) Where both the parties to a suit agreed to be bound by the decision of the Court passed after inspecting the site in dispute and examining the documents filed by them, a decree passed by the Court after complying with those conditions was not appealable, as the Court was constituted an arbitrator by consent of both the parties. 26 M. 76. W
- (5) An objection that some of the arbitrators did not take part in the arbitration proceedings cannot be taken for the first time in the High Court. 22 A.W.N. 195. X
- (6) A suit is not maintainable to set aside an award of the arbitrators appointed by a Revenue officer under the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887. 52 P.R. 1898, Y

16. (1) Where the Court sees no cause to remit the award or Judgment to be any of the matters referred to arbitration for re-according to award. consideration in manner aforesaid, and no application has been made to set aside the award, or the Court has refused such application,¹ the Court shall, after the time for making such application has expired,² proceed to pronounce judgment according to the award.³

(2) Upon the judgment so pronounced a decree shall follow,⁴ and no appeal shall lie from such decree⁵ except in so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 522.

1.—“Court has refused such application.”

(1) Rejection of improper award.

An award purporting to be the act of a certain number of arbitrators, if tendered to be filed as the award of all the arbitrators, should be rejected. U.B.R. (1892-1896), 276. Z

(2) Validity of decree passed without enquiring into objections to award.

Where a decree was passed on an award, without enquiring into the objection to the award on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrators, the suit was remanded for passing a fresh judgment after enquiring into the objection. 184 P.R. 1882. A

2.—“After the time...has expired.”

Remedy in case of insufficient time being allowed.

Where, instead of ten days, only a few hours were allowed for objecting to an award, the proper remedy for the aggrieved party was a review of the judgment on the award. 8 M. 59. B

3.—“Pronounce judgment according to the award.”

Judgment on award—Validity of.

In the absence of grounds to set aside an award, a Court is bound to deliver judgment in accordance with the award, 4 O.C. 82; S.J.L.B. 302; and should not modify it in any way. 2 N.W.P. 150. But a judgment passed on an award not in accordance with the agreement to refer cannot be upheld. 8 P.R. 1883. C

4.—“A decree shall follow.”

(1) Nature of decree.

Where an award directed the realization of the amount due to the plaintiff by sale of the property belonging to the defendant, the Court had no jurisdiction to pass a personal decree against the defendant. 89 P.R. 1878. D

(2) Effect of decree.

A decree in terms of an award is not a private alienation. 4 A. 219 (p. 225). E

5.—“No appeal shall lie from such decree.”

A.—Appeal from decrees.

(1) Appeal does not lie.

- (a) No appeal lies from a decree strictly following an award, 17 W.R. 30; 12 W.R. 85; 8 B.L.R. 316, note; 5 M.H.C.R. 404; 21 M. 405; or passed in accordance with a revised award, 4 M.L.T. 328 = 18 M.L.J. 485; though the award was made without the intervention of Court. 10 C.W.N. 601 = 2 C.L.J. 153; the question of validity or otherwise of the award is immaterial. 33 C. 899. F
- (b) Where a decree has been passed on an award, no appeal lies against the decree, except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award, 6 C.W.N. 226 = 4 Bom. L.R. 161 = 29 C 67. 1 I.A. 6 = 51; 74 P.R. 1894; 25 P.R. 1902; 5 O.C. 13; or unless the award is illegal ab initio. 29 B. 285. G
- (c) No appeal lies from a decree on an award, on the ground of error of law in the award, 6 C.W.N. 226 = 29 C. 167 = 4 Bom. L.R. 161 = 29 I.A. 51; in the absence of proof that the award is illegal. 29 B. 285. H
- (d) This section does not allow an appeal on the ground that the judgment is in excess of the award, but only on the ground that the decree is so. 8 C.L.J. 475. I
- (e) An award embodying the result of a settlement come to by the parties is not invalid, and no appeal lies against the decree passed on that award. 22 A. 224; 5 A.W.N. 259. J
- (f) No appeal lies from a decree passed in accordance with an award, after proving the objections thereto, 17 P.R. 1898; on the sole ground that the arbitrator was guilty of misconduct, A.W.N. (1907), 117 = 4 A.L.J. 455 = 29 A. 457; 8 C.W.N. 916; nor can a revision Court interfere with the decision. 88 P.R. 1902. K
- (g) Where, in a suit, one of the defendants alone appeared and the others did not enter any appearance at all, no appeal lay against a decree passed on an award on a reference by the parties who appeared, on the ground that there was no legal and valid award, inasmuch as all the parties did not join in the reference. 33 C. 899. L
- (h) No appeal lies from a decree on an award on the ground of the irregularities in the procedure of the arbitrators where the irregularities are not such as to render the award no award in law. 18 A. 414 = 16 A.W.N. 116. M
- (i) Nor on the ground that the arbitrator did not consider the plea of limitation. 12 A.W.N. 151; 1 A.W.N. 17. N
- (j) No appeal lies from a decree strictly in accordance with an award, on the ground that the arbitrator had exceeded his power or that the award was submitted after the expiry of the time fixed for its delivery. 6 A.W.N. 151. O
- (k) Where the arbitrators applied to the Court for an expression of its opinion on the burden of proof in the case, and the conduct of the arbitrators in this particular case was not objected to in the Court of first instance, no appeal lay from a decree on the award of the arbitrators merely because the Court gave its opinion on the question put in the special case. 55 P.R. 1899. P

(2) An appeal lies on the following grounds.

- (a) That the reference was illegal and, in consequence, the award was void. 26 M. 47. Q
- (b) That there was no real agreement to refer to arbitrators and consequently there was no legal award. 134 P.R. 1888. R
- (c) That the consent of all the parties to the suit was not obtained to the reference. 4 P.R. 1882; 33 P.R. 1881; 170 P.R. 1883; 9 C.W.N. 878. S
- (d) That there was no award in law or in fact. 6 A. 174=4 A.W.N. 15; 8 A. 64=6 A.W.N. 2; 23 A.W.N. 159; 29 A. 426=A.W.N. (1907), 115; 20 C. 355. T
- (e) That the award was too indefinite to be capable of execution. 70 P.R. 1881; 47 P.R. 1883. U
- (f) That the award determined matters not in accordance with the order of reference. 70 P.R. 1881. Y
- (g) That the award was made after the expiry of the time fixed by the Court. 2 N.L.R. 81. W
- (h) That the judgment was not in accordance with law. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 290. X
- (i) That the judgment^e was passed before the expiry of the time allowed for an application to set aside the award. 48 P.R. 1882. Y
- (j) That the decree was not in accordance with the award. 60 P.R. 1896; 9 A. 449=6 A.W.N. 210. Z
- (k) That the decree was passed before the expiry of the time allowed for taking objections to the award. 4 A.L.J. 450=A.W.N. (1907), 184=29 A. 584. A
- (l) That the decree varied the award. 7 N.W.P. 36; 23 W.R. 105. B
- (m) That there was misconduct on the part of the arbitrators. 2 C.L.J. 61 (65). C
- (n) That an arbitrator was a debtor of a party, and the fact was not disclosed to the other party. 25 C. 757. D
- (o) That the arbitrator was the retained pleader of a party and the fact was not disclosed before the appointment. 25 C. 141. E
- (p) That the lower Court committed an error in procedure or misused the jurisdiction prescribed by the Code. 89 P.R. 1902. F

(3) Determination of question of appeal.

The question whether an appeal lies against a decree made in accordance with an award depends upon whether the award itself is valid and legal. An appeal lies if the award is not legal. 38 C. 498. G

(4) Second appeal.

- (a) When an appeal is not allowed, a second appeal does not lie. 6 C.W.N. 614. H
- (b) Where an Appellate Court reversed the decree of the first Court and passed a decree in accordance with an award of arbitration in the suit, no appeal lay from the decree of the Appellate Court. 26 P.L.R. 1905; see, also, 26 P.R. 1890; contra, 8 C.W.N. 390. I

A.—Appeal from decrees—(Concluded).

- (c) The objection that an award was confirmed in the absence of the appellant could not be taken in second appeal, when not urged in the first Appellate Court. 50 P.R. 1881. J

(5) Finality of award and decree thereon.

- (a) A decree on an award cannot be set aside by a party, who had been served with a notice to file objections to the award and who chose to remain ex parte. 98 P.R. 1900. K
- (b) When a decree has been passed on an award, neither the decree nor the award can be modified afterwards. 17 B. 657; 18 B. 495. L
- (c) When a person accepts benefits from an award, he cannot afterwards impeach it. 24 A. 164. M
- (d) The finality prescribed to an award applies only when it is regularly and properly arrived at. 134 P.R. 1888. N

B.—Appeal from orders.

(1) An appeal lies in the following cases.

- (a) Order directing an award to be filed. 33 C. 757. O
- (b) Order refusing to file an award made without the intervention of Court. 2 C.L.J. 80. P
- (c) Order in execution of a decree, though passed on an award. 13 W.R. 62. Q

(2) Appeal does not lie.

- No appeal lies from an order setting aside an award. A.W.N. (1906), 64 = 3 A.L.J. 168 -- 28 A. 408. R

C.—Appellate Court—Power of.

- (1) An appellate Court cannot enter into the question of the corruption or misconduct of an arbitrator, merely because he has delivered an award, which includes an adjudication on a matter not submitted to him. 18 P.R. 1906. S
- (2) Nor into the allegations of misconduct which had been heard and disposed of by the Court of first instance. 167 P.R. 1889. T
- (3) Where the Court which referred a case to arbitration sets aside an award, the Appellate Court has no jurisdiction to pass a decree in terms of the award. 4 A.L.J. 256 -- A.W.N. (1907), 110. U
- (4) Where the Court of first instance disposed of a suit on the merits after setting aside an award, the Appellate Court, if convinced that the award was set aside on insufficient grounds, could restore the award and pass judgment according to it. 72 P.R. 1881. V

D.—Revision.

(1) A revision lies on the following grounds.

- (a) That the Court had no jurisdiction to try the case in which the award was given. 8 M. 235. W
- (b) That the Court appointed the arbitrators without jurisdiction. 6 M. 414. X
- (c) That notice of the filing of the award was not given to the parties. 20 A. 474 = 18 A.W.N. 122. Y

5.—“No appeal shall lie from such decree”—(Concluded).

D.—Revision—(Concluded).

(2) Revision does not lie.

- (a) No revision lies from an order setting aside an award on the ground of the arbitrator's misconduct. 26 B. 551. Z
- (b) A Court of revision will not interfere with the adjudication of the Court of first instance on the question of objection to an award, merely on the ground that the adjudication was erroneous. 59 P.R. 1889. A
- (c) Where an award embodying matters not referred to was delivered and a decree was passed in accordance with the award, the Chief Court had no power to interfere in revision. 63 P.L.R. 1905=41 P.R. 1905. B

E.—Miscellaneous.

- (1) The rules regarding arbitration govern an award by the ecclesiastical authorities on a secular matter. U.B.R. (1892-1896), p. 11. C
- (2) It is necessary that notice should be given to the parties, before filing an award in its final shape, after reconsideration by the arbitrators. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), 24. D
- (3) Referees for purpose of valuation are not arbitrators. 28 C. 115=5 C.W.N. 242. E
- (4) A judgment and decree passed in accordance with an award will bar a subsequent suit in respect of the same matter. 21 B. 465; 7 C. 727. F

Order of reference on agreements to refer.

17. (1) Where any persons agree ¹ in writing ² that any difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, the parties to the agreement, or any of them, may apply ³ to any Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which the agreement relates, that the agreement be filed in Court.

Application to file in Court agreement to refer to arbitration.

(2) The application shall be in writing and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between one or more of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiff or plaintiffs, and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant if the application has been presented by all the parties, or, if otherwise, between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants.

(3) On such application being made, the Court shall direct notice thereof to be given to all the parties to the agreement, other than the applicants, requiring such parties to show cause, within the time specified in the notice, why the agreement should not be filed.

(4) Where no sufficient cause is shown, the Court shall order the agreement to be filed, ⁴ and shall make an order of reference to the arbitrator appointed in accordance with the provisions of the agreement or, if there is no such provision and the parties cannot agree, the Court may appoint an arbitrator.⁵

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 523.

1.—“Where any persons agree.”

(1) Agreement must name arbitrators.

An agreement to refer must name the arbitrators. 20 B. 232.

G

(2) Agreement how far binding.

An agreement to refer is binding on the parties, whether it is filed in Court or not, and, if made in a pending suit, bars the continuance of the suit by the Court. 27 A. 53.

H

(3) Agreement—Arbitration in suit.

The mere fact that litigants agree to refer matters in dispute to a private arbitration does not make that arbitration an arbitration in the suit, unless there is an order of reference. 8 Bom. L.R. 777.

I

(4) Agreement, revocation of.

(a) A reference to arbitration without the intervention of Court cannot be revoked. 4 O.C. 17.

J

(b) A telegram for stay of proceedings does not amount to a revocation of the arbitrator's authority. 2 C. 445.

K

2.—“Agreement in writing.”

Agreement to refer to be in writing.

This section applies only where the agreement to refer to arbitration is in writing. 30 C. 218.

L

3.—“The parties... may apply.”

(1) When legal representative may enforce contract to refer.

Where the right dealt with in a reference survives on the death of a party, the legal representative of the party can enforce a contract to refer to arbitration. 27 M. 112.

M

(2) Failure to file agreement—Effect on pending suit.

Where a long time was allowed to elapse, without either party taking any steps to carry out an agreement to refer to arbitration, one of the parties was not debarred from prosecuting his suit. 1 N.W.P. 252. N

(3) Court to inquire into factum of reference.

Upon an application made to it, a Court has power and is bound to inquire into the question whether the parties had or had not referred the matter in question to arbitration. A.W.N. (1906), 126—28 A. 631. O

4.—“Court shall order the agreement to be filed.”

(1) Court should file.

A Court is bound, on the application of one of the parties, to file a voluntary submission to arbitration, and cannot permit the other party to withdraw from it arbitrarily and without good reason. 80 P.R. 1870. P

(2) Court may file.

A general agreement to refer future differences to arbitration may be filed in Court. 20 B. 232. Q

(3) Court cannot file.

An agreement to refer to arbitration, which includes matters beyond the jurisdiction of the Civil Court, cannot be filed in Court, unless the parties agree to do so with the view of proceeding with the reference. 5 P.R. 1883. R

(4) Court when may set aside.

An agreement to refer to arbitration might be set aside on the ground of mistake by the parties but an award cannot be so set aside. 3 C.P.L.R. 89. S

(5) Appeal lies from an order refusing to file.

An — an agreement to refer to arbitration. 11 O.C. 116; 89 P.R. 1901; contra, 5 A.H.C. 179; 3 A. 427; 5 A. 333=3 A.W.N. 56; 6 A. 186; 3 M.H.C. 183. T

(6) Appeal does not lie from order disallowing objection.

No appeal lies from an order disallowing an objection to the validity of a submission to arbitration. U.B.R. (1906), Civil Procedure, 52. U

5.—“Court may appoint an arbitrator.”

Appointment of successor to arbitrator.

The Court should hear the parties when appointing a successor to an arbitrator, who has declined to act. 17 C. 200. Y

Miscellaneous. .

(1) Reference to effect partition—Order for sale, validity of.

Where a reference empowered the arbitrators to make a partition, the Court could not order sale of the property though the award contained a recommendation to that effect. 3 C.L.R. 357. W

(2) Filing of award.

An award should be filed, though the reference was also at the instance of persons not parties to the suit. 4 B. 1. X

18. Where any party to any agreement to refer to arbitration,

Stay of suit where there is an agreement to refer to arbitration. or any person claiming under him, institutes any suit ¹ against any other party to the agreement, or any person claiming under him, in respect of any matter agreed to be referred, any party to such suit may, at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, apply to the Court to stay the suit; and the Court, is satisfied that there is no sufficient reason why the matter should not be referred in accordance with the agreement to refer to arbitration, and that the applicant was, at the time when the suit was instituted and still remains, ready and willing to do all things necessary to the proper conduct of the arbitration, may make an order staying the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This is a new provision.

1.—“Where any party to any agreement...institutes any suit.”

(1) Private award bar to suit.

A private award is a bar to a suit in respect of the same matter. 2 Agra Rep. A.C. 224; 32 P.R. 1888; 113 P.R. 1890. Y

(2) Reference bar to further progress of suit.

Where, during the pendency of a suit, the parties, without the intervention of Court, referred the matter in dispute to arbitration, the reference was a bar to the further hearing of the suit. 4 A. 546 - 2 A.W.N. 135. Z

(3) Infructuous arbitration not bar to suit.

Where, in contemplation of a reference to arbitration, the parties agreed to withdraw a suit, and the arbitration became infructuous in consequence of the arbitrators declining to give a decision, there is nothing to prevent the institution of a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 286. A

(4) Agreement to refer not made rule of Court, effect of.

An agreement to refer, made out of Court during the pendency of a suit and not made a rule of Court, is not a bar to the further progress of the suit, in the absence of a distinct agreement between the parties that the pending suit should be abandoned. 130 P.R. 1892. B

19. The foregoing provision, so far as they are consistent with any agreement filed under paragraph 17, shall be arbitration without intervention of Court.

without the intervention of a Court¹ and an award has been made thereon,² any person interested in the award may apply³ to any Court having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the award that the award be field in Court.

(2) The application shall be in writing and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants.

(3) The Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration, other than the applicant, requiring them to show cause, within a time specified,⁴ why the award should not be filed.⁵

(Notes).Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 525.

1.—“Where any matter has been referred....Court.”(1) Agreement to refer—Writing, necessity for.

An agreement to refer need not be reduced to writing. 18 W.R. 533; W.R. (1864), 76. E

(2) Guardian cannot refer.

In pending suit, a guardian cannot refer to arbitration without the leave of the Court. 24 M. 326. F

(3) Factum of reference, determination of.

The question whether a certain matter had been referred to arbitration and an award had been made thereon ought to be decided by the Court to which the application for filing the award was made, 20 B. 621=7 Bom. L.R. 644; when it is disputed by any party, 17 A. 21; 28 A. 621; 20 M. 89; contra, the matter must be left to a regular suit. 9 B. 254; 20 B. 596. G

2.—“An award has been made thereon.”(1) What is not award.

Valuation arrived at by valuers, 30 C. 831; or a recommendation of a solution of the matters in dispute, is not an award. 11 C. 356. H

(2) Award relating to property outside Court's jurisdiction.

Where the submission to arbitration as well as the making of the award took place within the jurisdiction of the Court, it did not matter that the award related to property, part of which was outside the Court's jurisdiction. 24 M. 81. I

2.—“An award has been made thereon.”—(Concluded).(3) Award on reference in criminal proceedings.

An award made upon a reference in criminal proceedings has the same effect as an award made on reference in civil proceedings. 6 A.W.N. 158. J

(4) Award made after receipt of notice of revocation.

An award made by the arbitrator after receipt of notice of revocation, given on valid grounds, is invalid on the ground of judicial misconduct and cannot be enforced by suit. 29 C. 278. K

(5) Necessity for enforcement of award.

Where an award is valid, it is operative even though neither party has sought to enforce it by regular suit or by the summary procedure. 33 C. 881 = 4 C.L.J. 162; 7 O.C. 369; it is not necessary that the award should be made a rule of Court. 6 A. 28 3 A.W.N. 237 4 A.W.N. 148; 12 A.W.N. 288. L

(6) Power of Court to remit or amend award.

A Court has no power to amend or remit for reconsideration an award made without the intervention of Court. 27 A. 526 A.W.N. (1906), 86 2 A.L.J. 416. M

(7) Plea of limitation when reference falls through.

A plea of limitation can be raised when a reference to arbitration falls through. 3 N.W.P. 177. N

3.—“Any person interested . . . may apply.”(1) Mode of enforcement of award.

(a) Proceedings described as a suit and registered as such must be taken, in order to bring the award under the cognizance of the Court. 6 C.W.N. 226 = 29 C. 167. O

(b) Where sufficient cause is shown why an award should not be filed, the party concerned must be left to bring a regular suit for the enforcement of the award. 1 A. 156. P

(2) Who may apply.

Any person interested in an award, though not a party to the reference, may apply to have the award filed in Court. 5 W.R. 128; but a stranger to a submission to an arbitration cannot take advantage of the points favourable to him in the award. 2 A. 809; 6 A. 822. Q

(3) Court to receive application.

A Court of Small Causes in the mofussil has a right to receive an application to file a private award, provided the subject-matter is otherwise cognizable by it. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 48 = 10 W.R. 85; 10 Bom. H.C. 54.R

(4) Form of application.

An application to file an award may be made without any valuation of suit. 14 W.E. 255. S

(5) Proof of lost award.

Secondary evidence of an award is admissible if it has been lost. 15 M. 99. T

3.—“Any person interested . . . may apply”—(Concluded).

(6) Proof of objection to file awards.

The party opposing the filing of an award must adduce evidence in support of his objection. 8 A. 340=6 A.W.N. 107. U

(7) Withdrawal of applicant.

An applicant for filing an award in Court can, at any stage of the hearing prior to the delivery of judgment and preparation of the decree, withdraw from the proceedings. 31 C. 516. Y

(8) Application re award determining extraneous matters.

An application to file a private award determining matters not referred to cannot be maintained. 8 A. 541. W

(9) Distinction between granting and not granting application.

The distinction between cases when an application to file an award is allowed and when it is not, is that, in the former, the Court shows itself satisfied with the regularity of the submission to arbitration, and, in the latter, it does not. 10 C.W.N. 601. X

4.—“Show cause within a time specified.”

Appeal for not allowing time to file objections.

An appeal lies from a decree passed on an award, without allowing time to the parties to file objections thereto. 29 A. 584=A.W.N. (1907), 184=4 A.L.J. 450. Y

5.—“Why the award should not be filed.”

A.—Appealability of order re filing of award.

(1) Appeal lies.

(a) An appeal lies from an order refusing to file an award made without the intervention of Court. 25 C. 757=2 C.W.N. 529; 27 M. 255; 29 M. 803; 100 P.R. 1907=17 P.L.R. 1908; but see 2 C.L.J. 142; A.W.N. (1907), 118; 28 A. 21=A.W.N. (1905), 165=2 A.L.J. 450. Z

(b) Where an award is illegal ab initio, an appeal lies from an order granting or refusing an application for filing the award. 84 P.R. 1901. A

(2) Appeal does not lie.

No appeal lies from an order rejecting or dismissing an application to have an award filed in Court. 9 O.C. 205; 3 A. 427=1 A.W.N. 4; 6 A. 186=4 A.W.N. 31; 26 A. 205; 2 A.L.J. 450=A.W.N. (1905), 165=28 A. 21. B

B.—Appealability of decree on award.

Appeal does not lie.

No appeal lies against a decree passed in accordance with an award made without the intervention of Court. 11 C.W.N. 220. C

21. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that the matter has been referred¹ to arbitration and that an award has been made² thereon, and where no ground such as is mentioned or referred to in paragraph 14³ or paragraph 15⁴ is proved,⁵ the Court shall order the award to be filed⁶ and shall proceed to pronounce judgment⁷ according to the award.

(2) Upon the judgment so pronounced a decree shall follow,⁸ and no appeal shall lie from such decree⁹ except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 526.

1.—“Where the Court is satisfied that the matter has been referred.”

Objection as to factum of reference—Duty of Court.

Where the filing of a private award is objected to on the ground that there was no reference to arbitration, the Court has power to determine the genuineness of the reference and validity of the award. 16 M.L.J. 474. It is bound to do so. 134 P.R. 1888. D

2.—“An award has been made.”

(1) Validity of award on reference by Hindu father.

The father of a joint Hindu family has authority to refer to arbitration the partition of the joint family property, and an award, when properly made, is binding on the sons. 16 A. 281 = 14 A.W.N. 60. E

(2) Award bar to suit.

A private award is a bar to a suit upon the same cause of action, 113 P.R. 1890; or in respect of the same matter. 18 C. 414 = 18 I.A. 78. F

(3) Award, construction of.

In India, an award should be construed in accordance with what may reasonably be supposed, under the circumstances of the case, to have been the intention of the arbitrator. 20 A. 245. G

3.—“Ground mentioned or referred to in para. 14.”

Power of Court to amend or remit award.

(a) A Court has no power to amend a private award or remit it for re-consideration, but must either affirm it in its entirety or wholly reject it. 84 P.R. 1907; 10 B.H.C. 301; 9 B. 82; see, also, 27 A. 526 = A.W.N. (1905), 86 = 2 A.L.J. 416. H

(b) An award cannot be remitted for re-consideration after judgment has been passed on it. 2 N.W.P. 235. I

4.—“Ground mentioned or referred to in para. 15.”

(1) Arbitrator not taking steps to secure attendance of witnesses.

An award made by a private arbitrator, without taking any steps to secure the attendance of witnesses before him, when he had undertaken to do so, is not valid. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 4. J

(2) Arbitrator exceeding powers given.

Where, in a reference without the intervention of Court, the arbitrators exceeded the powers given to them under the agreement, the Court had no power to affirm the award. 84 P.R. 1907. K

4.—“Ground mentioned or referred to in para. 15”---(Concluded).

(3) Award deciding matters not referred to.

Where a private award decides rights in respect of properties not included in the reference, the Court is bound to refuse to allow it to be filed. 29 M. 303. L

(4) Award not determining matters referred to.

An award which does not determine one of the principal subjects of dispute should not be filed in Court. 6 B. 663. M

5.—“Where no ground.... is proved.”

Necessity for proof of objections to filing of award.

Where an objection was raised that an award was sham and fraudulent, meaning thereby that there was corruption and misconduct on the part of the arbitrator, the Court was bound to investigate the objection, 7 Bom. L.R. 793; 17 A. 21=14 A.W.N. 187; there must be proof of allegations made. 28 B. 287. N

6.—“Court shall order the award to be filed.”

Award providing compensation for seduction of girl.

There being no authority for the view that arbitrators can take cognizance only of claims in respect of which the regular Courts will give relief, a Court can file an award providing for the payment of compensation for the seduction of a girl. U.B.R. (1908), 2nd Quarter, Civ. Pro. 19. O

7.—“Court shall.... pronounce judgment.”

Court not to pass judgment before expiry of time fixed.

A Court should not pass judgment on a private award before the expiry of the time fixed for filing objections. 2 N.W.P. 235. P

8.—“A decree shall follow.”

(1) Decree in accordance with award.

Where a valid award is made without the intervention of Court, a decree should be passed in accordance with the award. 4 O.C. 17; 5 O.C. 27; 14 A.W.N. 88. Q

(2) No decrees on an indefinite award.

A private award too indefinite cannot be converted into a decree under the provisions of the Code. 77 P.R. 1832. R

(3) Objection to form of suit not bar to passing of decree.

An objection to the form of a suit should not stand in the way of a decree being passed in terms of an award. 5 N.W.P. 226. S

(4) Award executable only after decree.

A private award becomes capable of execution, only after the passing of a decree in accordance with it. 112 P.R. 1879. T

9.—“No appeal shall lie from such decree.”

A.—Appeal from decree.

(1) Appeal lies.

Where a decree on an award, instead of being drawn up specifically in terms of the award, merely decrees in general terms the claim of one party or the other, an appeal lies against the decree. 13 A. 366=11 A.W.N. 129. U

9.—“No appeal shall lie from such decree”—(Conclude it).

A.—Appeal from decree—(Concluded).

(2) Appeal does not lie—Revision.

An appeal does not lie from a decree passed in accordance with a private award, embodying the result of a settlement come to by the parties, 22 A. 224; or made a rule of Court, A.W.N. (1908), 54 5 A.L.J. 160 80 A. 151; or made after investigation of objections to the filing of the award, 10 C.W.N. 601; 10 C.W.N. 609 3 C.L.J. 450 33 C. 756; 11 C.W.N. 220. But, the High Court can interfere in revision on its own motion. 10 C.W.N. 609 3 C.L.J. 450 33 C. 756. Y

B.—Appeal from orders.

(1) Appeal from order on petition to file award.

An order granting or refusing an application to file a private award is appealable. 33 C. 757 3 C.L.J. 450 10 C.W.N. 609; 29 M. 303; 2 C.L.J. 80; L.B.R. II, 105, contra; 9 O.C. 205; 3 A. 427; 5 A. 333 3 A.W.N. 56; U.B.R. (1905), C.P. 40; 3 Agri 353; 1 A. 156. W

(2) Appeal from order of reference.

An order of reference upon an agreement to refer is not appealable. 15 A.W.N. 121. X

C.—Revision.

Order refusing to file award.

The High Court can interfere in revision with an order of a subordinate Court refusing to file a private award, 8 Bom. L.R. 570; passed without hearing objections to the filing of the award. 38 P.L.R. 1906. Y

D.—Miscellaneous.

(1) Applicability of corresponding provisions of old Code.

Ss. 506 to 522 of the old Code applied to arbitrations in a suit. 29 C. 798. Z

(2) Representation of minor party.

In proceedings under this section, a minor party should be perfectly represented. 9 Bom. L.R. 289. A

(3) Order refusing to file not res judicata.

An order refusing to file a private award is not a decision as to the validity of the award, so as to make the rule of res judicata applicable to it. 70 P.R. 1891. B

(4) Party not to impeach award after accepting benefits therefrom.

Where a party acts upon and accepts benefits from an award, he cannot impeach it. 24 A. 164 21 A.W.N. 208. C

(5) Suit to enforce or set aside award.

A suit is maintainable to enforce as well as to set aside a private award. 2 U.B.R. (1897-1901), p. 10. D

(6) Suit on award when not valid in law.

Where the arbitrators exceed their powers, a suit based upon their award is not maintainable. 7 N.W.P. 329. E

Exclusion of certain words in the Specific Relief Act, 1877.

22. The last thirty-seven words of section 21 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 (I of 1877), shall not apply to any agreement to refer to arbitration, or to any award, to which the provisions of this schedule apply. ¹

(Notes).

Old Act.

This is a new provision.

1.—“The last . . . shall not apply.”

(1) Reference to arbitration.

A reference to arbitration made during the pendency of a suit is not governed by S. 21 of the Specific Relief Act. 50 P.R. 1891. F

(2) Suit on award.

A suit on an award is not a suit for specific performance of a contract. 15 C.P.L.R. 115. G

23. The forms set forth in the Appendix, with such variations as the circumstances of each case require, shall be issued for the respective purposes therein mentioned.

THE THIRD SCHEDULE.

EXECUTION OF DECREES BY COLLECTORS.

1. Where the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector under section 68, he may ¹ —

- (a) proceed as the Court would proceed when the sale of immovable property is postponed in order to enable the judgment-debtor to raise the amount of the decree; or
- (b) raise the amount of the decree by letting in perpetuity, or for a term, on payment of a premium, or by mortgaging, the whole or any part of the property ordered to be sold; or
- (c) sell the property ordered to be sold or so much thereof as may be necessary. ²

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 321.

1.—“Where execution....transferred to....Collector....he may.”

(1) Applicability of the Code to decrees transferred to Collector.

The execution of decrees transferred to a Collector is governed by the rules framed by the Local Government, where such rules exist, and not by the provisions of the Code. 5 A. 314; 11 A. 91. A

(2) Power of Collector—Ministerial, not judicial.

The functions of a Collector are purely ministerial and not of a judicial character, 11 A.W.N. 189; he cannot allow payment by instalments, but can only pursue one of the three courses mentioned in the section. 7 B. 332. B

(3) Power of Court.

(a) POWER TO RECALL CASE TRANSFERRED.

A Court can recall a case sent to the Collector. 7 B. 332, contra 5 A. 314; see, also, 2 A. 407. C

(b) QUESTION OF REPRESENTATION.

After the transfer of a decree to the Collector, the Civil Court has no jurisdiction to entertain an application to treat the applicant as heir to the deceased decree-holder. 3 A.W.N. 164. D

(c) DELIVERY TO PURCHASER.

The matter of delivery of property to the purchaser is within the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. 5 A.W.N. 87. E

(d) SUIT TO SET ASIDE COLLECTOR'S ORDER.

A suit to set aside an order of a Commissioner setting aside a sale is cognisable by a Civil Court. 7 A.W.N. 267. F

(4) Appeal from order of Collector.

An appeal does not lie from an order of the Collector in execution of a decree transferred to him. 7 Bom. L.R. 682. G

2.—“Sell the property....as may be necessary.”

Application to set aside sale.

(a) POWER OF COLLECTOR.

The Collector is the proper authority to dispose of an application to set aside a sale effected by him on the ground of material irregularity. 5 A. 314; 11 A. 94. H

(b) POWER OF COURT.

The Civil Court is the proper authority to dispose of an application to set aside a sale held by a Collector, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold. 9 A. 48; 11 A. 94; see, also, 12 A. 564 (568). I

(c) PRACTICE—PROCEDURE.

In disposing of an application to set aside a sale, the Collector should observe the practice and procedure generally followed by the Civil Courts in such cases. 2 A.W.N. 61. J

2. Where the execution of a decree, not being a decree ordering the sale of immoveable property in pursuance of a contract specifically affecting the same, but being a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of which the Court has ordered the sale of immoveable property, has been so transferred, the Collector, if, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, he has reason to believe that all the liabilities of the judgment-debtor can be discharged without a sale of the whole of his available immoveable property, may proceed as hereinafter provided.

Procedure of Collector in special cases.

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 322.

Notice to be given to decree-holders and to persons having claims on property.

3. (1) In any such case as is referred to in paragraph 2, the Collector shall publish a notice, allowing a period of sixty days from the date of its publication for compliance and calling upon—

- (a) every person holding a decree for the payment of money against the judgment-debtor capable of execution by sale of his immoveable property and which such decree-holder desires to have so executed, and every holder of a decree for the payment of money in execution of which proceedings for the sale of such property are pending, to produce before the Collector a copy of the decree, and a certificate from the Court which passed or is executing the same, declaring the amount recoverable thereunder;
- (b) every person having any claim on the said property to submit to the Collector¹ a statement of such claim, and to produce the documents (if any) by which it is evidenced.

(2) Such notice shall be published by being affixed on a conspicuous part of the Court-house of the Court which made the original order for sale, and in such other places (if any) as the Collector thinks fit; and where the address of any such decree-holder or claimant is known, a copy of the notice shall be sent to him by post or otherwise.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to old S. 322-A.

1.—“Every person having any claim....to submit to the Collector.”

Failure to submit claim, effect of.

One, who failed to submit his claim to the Collector, cannot set up his claim, after the Collector had made provision for the satisfaction of all other claims. 4 C.P.L.R. 118.

K

4. (1) Upon the expiration of the said period, the Collector shall appoint a day for hearing any representations which the judgment-debtor and the decree-holders or claimants (if any) may desire to make, and for holding such inquiry as he may deem necessary for informing himself as to the nature and extent of such decrees and claims and of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property, any may, from time to time, adjourn such hearing and inquiry.

Amount of decrees for payment of money to be ascertained, and immoveable property available for their satisfaction.

(2) Where there is no dispute as to the fact or extent of the liability of the judgment-debtor to any of the decrees or claims of which the Collector is informed, or as to the relative priorities of such decrees or claims, or as to the liability of any such property for the satisfaction of such decrees or claims, the Collector shall draw up a statement, specifying the amount to be recovered for the discharge of such decrees, the order in which such decrees and claims are to be satisfied, and the immoveable property available for that purpose.

(3) Where any such dispute arises,¹ the Collector shall refer the same, with a statement thereof and his own opinion thereon, to the Court which made the original order for sale, and shall, pending the reference, stay proceedings relating to the subject thereof. The Court shall dispose of the dispute if the matter thereof is within its jurisdiction, or transmit the case to a competent Court for disposal, and the final decision shall be communicated to the Collector, who shall then draw up a statement as above provided in accordance with such decision.

(2) For the purpose of managing the whole or any part of such property, the Collector may exercise all the powers of its owner.

(3) For the purpose of improving the saleable value of the property available or any part thereof, or rendering it more suitable for letting or managing, or for preserving the property from sale in satisfaction of an incumbrance, the Collector may discharge the claim of any incumbrancer which has become payable or compound the claim of any incumbrancer whether it has become payable or not, and, for the purpose of providing funds to effect such discharge or composition, may mortgage, let or sell any portion of the property which he deems sufficient. If any dispute arises as to the amount due on any incumbrance with which the Collector proposes to deal under this clause, he may institute a suit in the proper Court, either in his own name or the name of the judgment-debtor, to have an account taken, or he may agree to refer such dispute to the decision of two arbitrators, one to be chosen by each party, or of an umpire to be named by such arbitrators.

(4) In proceeding under this paragraph the Collector shall be subject to such rules consistent with this Act as may, from time to time, be made in this behalf by the Local Government.

CHIEF COURT, PUNJAB.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 4—2213-G.

To

ALL CIVIL COURTS IN THE PUNJAB,

Dated LAHORE, the 12th May 1909.

The annexed correspondence in connection with the framing of rules under the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), is circulated for the information of presiding officers of Civil Courts in the Punjab, in continuation of the Court's Circular Memo. No. VII—4431-G., dated the 20th of October 1908.

2. I am to add that the remarks in the statement appended to the note that accompanied the Circular Memo. referred to above, are intended merely for the assistance of the Subordinate Courts, and not in any way as a finally authoritative exposition of the law.

By order, &c.,

A. DANSON,

Registrar.

[TRANSLATED.]

No. 4490-G., dated Lahore, the 23rd October-21st November 1908.

From—A. L. DANSON, Esquire, I.C.S., Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

IN continuation of Mr. Craik's letter No. 2978-G., dated 6th July 1908, I am directed by the Hon'ble Judges to submit, for the provisional sanction of the Local Government, a draft report of the Rule Committee, Lahore, of which the Hon'ble Judges are prepared to approve.

2. The reasons for each proposed amendment or addition are given in the report under each change and sufficiently explain the proposal.

3. I am to request that if the proposals meet with the approval of the Local Government, provisional sanction may be granted in order that a Rule Committee may be appointed as soon as Act V of 1908 comes into force, and that these proposals may be submitted without delay for official sanction.

4. The gentlemen who have informally met as a Rule Committee are the gentlemen whom the Chief Judge intends in due time to appoint as members of the Rule Committee.

Draft report by Rule Committee, Lahore, on proposals to amend certain rules in Schedule I, Act V of 1908.

IN submitting this our report we have been guided by the principle that unless it is absolutely necessary no important alteration or additions should be made at present, and that the working of the Code should be carefully watched and modifications only made in the rules as dictated by experience. The practice of the courts should be as far as possible uniform all over India and diversity allowed only to the extent that local conditions require.

We have therefore advised few changes, and would deprecate alterations and additions for the sake of fancied improvement just when the new Code is being introduced. It is a great effort of the legislature, and we should not commence to attempt to improve on it before it comes into operation.

We consider that the following additions and amendments should be made for the reasons given after each proposal:—

A.—After rule 7 of Order II, insert—

"8. (1) Where an objection, duly taken, has been allowed by the court, the plaintiff shall be permitted to select the cause of action with which he will proceed, and shall, within a time to be fixed by the court, amend the plaint by striking out the remaining causes of action.

(2) When the plaintiff has selected the cause of action with which he will proceed, the court shall pass an order giving him time within which to submit amended plaints for the remaining causes of action and for making up the court-fees that may be necessary. Should the plaintiff not comply with the court's order, the court shall proceed as provided in rule 18 of Order VI and as required by the provisions of the Court-Fees Act."

The former rule accords with the present practice of this Court which would thus be legalized. See 1, P. R., 1906. The opinions of the High Courts are conflicting, and in some the whole plaint is rejected or the whole suit dismissed. We consider the proposed rule embodies the right procedure. The other rule follows as a corollary.

B.—To rule 16 of Order V the following proviso should be added:—

"Provided that in any case if the plaintiff is allowed to amend the plaint...

this rule: and provided always that should the defendant not appear in answer to the summons so issued, the court shall have service effected in accordance with the provisions of this Order."

We are unable to recommend the introduction of service by post in substitution for personal service. The difficulties attending proof of service and the opportunities for fraudulent practices are so great and so numerous that we can suggest no procedure by which these could be overcome. At the same time we desire to introduce it in some modified form in the hope that experience may bring to light some solution and render its introduction possible. It will be seen that our proposal does not dispense with personal service if the defendant does not appear. If he does, there will be some advantage. If he does not, and personal service has to be resorted to, there will no doubt be some loss of time and it may necessitate two appearances by plaintiff which commercial men may object to, but it is optional for the plaintiff to attempt service by post and it is open to him to demand service in the ordinary way ab initio.

C.—In the second paragraph of rule 2 of Order VII after the words "and the defendant" insert "or for moveables in the possession of the defendant, or for debts of which the value he cannot, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, estimate;" after the words "the amount" insert "or value."

The reason for adding these words is that if they are not included, the plaintiff will only be able to get a decree for the actual amount claimed. The words will not apply to specific moveables for which there are other provisions but only to those cases where the exact moveables or their value cannot be known. For instance, a suit by one heir for his share in moveables left by a deceased which are in the possession of another heir or of a trespasser, or for debts where neither the extent nor the amount can be known to him.

D.—Order IX, rule 9 (1).—To rule 9 (1), the following proviso should be added:—

"Provided that the plaintiff shall not be precluded from bringing another suit for redemption of a mortgage, although a former suit may have been dismissed for default."

In No. 43, P.R., 1907, it was decided that a second suit was barred if the former suit had been dismissed for default by reason of the provisions of section 103 which corresponds with rule 9 (1) of this Order. A suit for redemption decree will not bar a second suit, (98, P.R., 1908), and this has been now enacted in rule 7 (d) of Order XXXIV in respect of simple and usufructuary mortgages. The proposed proviso will remove the anomaly and also maintain what has generally been understood to be the law.

E.—Order XXI, rule 43.—Rules will now have to be framed by the court under section 128 (2) (b) for the custody of property seized under this rule, as power for this has not been reserved for the Local Government. But the present rules are sufficient and will remain in force.

F.—Order XXI, rule 63.—After rule 29 of Order XXI, the following rule shall be inserted :—

“29 A. When a suit under rule 63 of this Order is pending, the court in which such suit is filed may, if it considers that execution of the former decree should be stayed, intimate the fact to the executing court, which shall thereupon stay execution until the suit is decided.”

This is generally done in practice, but there is no express provision for it, and if the executing court is of superior status the order may be set at naught. The order on objection being made is based on the question of actual possession at the time of the attachment only and is summary. If execution proceeds, the real owner may suffer serious loss. Where the enquiry on the objection has showed that the objector has clearly no real claim, the court in which the suit is filed will have a discretion to refuse to stay.

G.—Order XXX, rule 1.—To rule 1 of Order XXX, the following explanation shall be added :

Explanation.—“This rule applies to a joint Hindu family trading partnership.”

The joint Hindu family trading partnership is not in all respects the same as a firm under the ordinary Contract Law, and doubts may arise as to whether this order will apply to such trading partnerships. It has been held (69, P. R., 1906), that the father, though the managing member of the family, cannot maintain a suit in his own name alone for a debt due to the family, and this results at times in a failure of justice. Objections in execution also are many, and we consider that in this Province, at any rate, such a trading partnership may properly be brought under this order.

H.—Order XXXII, rule 1. To rule 1 the following paragraph shall be added :—

“Such person may be ordered to pay any costs in the suit as if he were the plaintiff.”

These words appeared in section 440 of the old Code, but have now been omitted. It may have been an oversight, but in any case we consider that they should be retained. Where the suit or defence is found to have been false, vexatious or unfounded, it is only right that the next friend or guardian should be made personally liable for the costs, and the courts may be trusted to exercise the power wisely and not in a manner calculated to deter the next friend from upholding the interests of the minor.

I.—Order XXXIV.—Regulation XVII of 1806 is still in force in the Punjab, but its provisions are considerably restricted by the provisions of section 10 of the Alienation of Land Act. There can be no mortgage by conditional sale of land such as is defined in that Act, and this provision is not affected by this order. Again, no land belonging to a member of an agricultural tribe can be sold in execution of any decree,—see section 16 of that Act. There can therefore in the Punjab be no mortgages by conditional sale in respect of agricultural land, nor can the land belonging to a member of an agricultural tribe be sold or mortgaged contrary to the provisions of the Alienation of Land Act,

Section 21-A. of that Act also provides a safeguard against unwitting contraventions of provisions of the Act by the courts. It has been suggested that the heading of the Order should be amended so as to state that it applies only to English mortgages. This would not be of any use as the heading is not part of the Act ; and further, even if this be done, the Order would have to be still further greatly changed as it refers to all kinds of mortgages.

Again, it has been suggested that the Regulation should be repealed, and that when this has been done the Order might be adopted for the Punjab, provided that it is made clear that mortgagors granting simple or usufructuary mortgages should not lose the right to bring a second suit for redemption if they have already obtained a decree, but have not executed it. We entirely agree with the suggestion that the Regulation should be repealed, and that as soon as possible. We do not consider that it can be held to have been repealed so far as the Punjab is concerned by anything in the Order itself. It is true that both relate to procedure and are in pari materia, but it is at least doubtful whether their provisions can be pronounced to be absolutely repugnant. The provisions of the Regulation could be worked with those of the Order, but the procedure would thus be made very cumbrous, and considering the pitfalls that abound in proceeding under the Regulation and how often they prove abortive, we are of opinion that they should be repealed and those of the Order accepted. Suits for foreclosure can only be filed in cases of English mortgages and mortgages of non-agricultural land by conditional sale.

As regards the right to bring a second suit for redemption in simple and usufructuary mortgages, we would point out that that right is saved since the provisions of rule 7 (d) of the Order do not apply to such mortgages. Moreover, there is a Full Bench ruling of this Court (No. 93, P. R., 1908) that such second suits are not barred. The provisions of rule 8 (2) of the Order also do not apply to simple or usufructuary mortgages. There is also no fear of any special kinds of mortgages being devised to take away the right to bring a second suit. Every mortgage must fall under one or other of the four kinds defined in section 58 of the Transfer of Property Act, and these definitions are followed in the Punjab, and always will be, even though that Act is not in force in the Province.

Rule 8 (4) of the Order makes no change in the existing law, but only in the procedure. The right to bring a second suit for redemption was, and has always been, subject to the condition that the mortgagee has not moved to enforce his rights under the mortgage. The change made now is that the mortgagee instead of being forced to bring a suit may now effect his object by an application. This new procedure saves heavy costs to both parties and appears to us to be distinctly beneficial in every way.

We do not consider it right to extend to mortgagees by conditional sale the benefit of rules 7 (d) and 8 (2), and there does not appear to be any ground why the law as to such mortgages in the case of non-agricultural land should be different to that for the rest of India.

As regards sales under this Order, we must point out here that the court orders the sale, and as matters will stand when the order is in force, the court will itself, so far as the Code is concerned, carry out the sale, there being no provision under which rules may be made similar to those under section 327 of the old Code which has not been re-enacted (vide letter No. 4491-G., of even date). Section 326 of the old Code has been re-enacted as section 72, but neither these provisions nor the rules under the old section 327 would apply to mortgage-decrees, in which the sale of the land is ordered by the court in the decree, as they apply to simple money-decrees only. The old section 320 has been re-enacted in sections 68, 70 and 71, but it has never been utilized in the Punjab. However, under section 141 of the Land Revenue Act, all land in the Punjab must be sold by the Collector, but he must now carry out the order for sale as he has to execute the order in accordance with the provisions of the law applicable to the court which passed the decree.

After taking all these matters into consideration we are of opinion that Regulation XVII of 1806 should be repealed, and before the 1st January 1909 if possible; that the order should then be accepted for the Punjab as it stands with the addition of a rule, to be inserted as rule I-A, incorporating the provisions of section 67 of the Transfer of Property Act as to the right to foreclosure.

First Schedule, Order V, rule 18, form 11. - With a view to check the inefficiency and corruption of the process-serving staff, the Hon'ble Judges propose, subject to the approval of Government, to substitute the following for the 3rd and 4th parts of (3) in form No. 11, appendix B. No. 4491-G., dated Lahore, 28rd October-21st November 1908.

From—A. L. DANSON, Esquire, I.C.S., Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

WITH reference to your letter No. 2748-S., Home, dated 15th September 1908, I am directed to invite attention to my letter of to-day's date, submitting a draft report as to the amendments the Hon'ble Judges propose to introduce in the rules contained in Schedule I of Act V of 1908.

2. That letter contains a complete reply to your letter referred to above, but in respect of the matter of second suits for redemption, I am directed to reply in further detail.

3. It appears to the Hon'ble Judges that there is in your letter some confusion as to the effect of rules 8 (2) and 8 (4) of Order XXXIV so far as they affect simple and usufructuary mortgages, but they understand that what His Honour fears is any change in the law relating to simple and usufructuary mortgages that would deprive mortgagors of the right to bring a second suit for redemption.

4. Under the present law, if the mortgagor brings a suit for redemption and obtains a decree, but does not proceed further, the mortgagee, if he desires to enforce his right under the mortgage, has to bring a separate suit. By reason of rules made under section 327 of Act XIV of 1882, the sanction of the Commissioner or of the Financial Commissioner has to be obtained before the land can be brought to sale. As this was generally refused, mortgagees were mostly deterred from bringing these suits and thus the right of mortgagors to bring second suits for redemption remained alive. But I am to remark that section 67 of the new Code reproduces only the first clauses of section 327 of the Act of 1882, whereas it was presumably under the second clause that the rules requiring such sanction were made. The Rule Committee are of opinion that under the new Act these rules become inoperative. They cannot be made under section 67, at any rate not in their present general form, nor are they continued under the provisions of section 167, because they are not consistent with section 67 of the Code. Further, if Order XXXIV is allowed to apply to the Punjab, mortgagees instead of bringing suits will be able to enforce their rights by an application under rule 8 (4) of that Order. It is perhaps the fear that mortgagees, when they realize that sanction is no longer necessary, and that a far cheaper and simpler procedure has been introduced, may enforce their rights more frequently, that is the basis of His Honour's objection.

5. As to this, I am to explain that lands belonging to members of an agricultural tribe are protected from sale by section 16 of the Alienation of Land Act, and it is possible that His Honour may not consider it necessary to withhold his sanction to the application of Order XXXIV to the lands of other persons. In this connection it is to be noted that when a mortgagee applies under rule 8 (4), notice will issue to the mortgagor, who can then move the court under the proviso to that rule to grant him a further extension of time within which to redeem, and the Hon'ble Judges will be prepared to issue instructions to all courts that a liberal use is to be made of this power.

6. If, however, His Honour considers that rule 8 (4) must be amended, this could be done by providing that an application can only be made in the case of land not falling within the definition of that expression in section 2 (3) of the Alienation of Land Act. If this were done, however, it would prevent mortgagees from taking action in the case of lands owned by banias, bankers and others in no sense connected with agriculture, which the Hon'ble Judges consider would be very undesirable.

7. Another method of amendment is to save the land of any class or classes by an extension of the list of agricultural tribes.

8. I am to express a hope, however, that, after a consideration of the above remarks, His Honour may be able to see his way to sanctioning the proposals in my other letter of to-day's date.

No. 4868-G., dated Lahore, 21st November 1908.

From—A. L. DANSON, Esquire, I.C.S., Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

I AM directed to invite your attention to the opinion contained in paragraph 4 of my letter No. 4491-G., dated 23rd October 1908, regarding the validity of the rules made under section 327 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882. I am to say that, if the view there expressed is correct, it seems desirable to recognize the fact and to withdraw the rules. This would involve a very material alteration in the orders of this Court and in those of the Financial Commissioner as to the execution of decrees, contained in Revenue Circular No. 66, and it would be convenient if the necessary alterations could be made without delay.

No. 4491, dated 23rd October-21st November 1908.

No. 4868, dated 21st November 1908.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letters noted in the margin regarding the rules under the new Civil Procedure Code.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to accord provisional sanction to the draft amendments to the first Schedule of the Code which are proposed in your letter. It is presumed that these amendments will be made the subject of 'previous publication' by the Court under section 122.

3. As regards Order No. XXXIV, the Lieutenant-Governor is content to leave the provisions of that Order to stand for the present as they are, and the question of repealing the Regulation XVII of 1806 will be taken into consideration at an early date. It will however take some months before the Regulation can be repealed, and although the procedure as regards mortgages to which the Regulation applies will in the meantime be cumbrous, it is understood that the difficulties of procedure will affect a comparatively small class of cases.

4. With reference to your letter No. 4868, dated 21 November 1908, it will be seen by a reference to this office letter No. 935, dated 26th November 1908, that it is proposed to withdraw the Notification No. 1297-S., dated 10th September 1885, and action will be taken on receipt of a reply to that letter.

No. 132 (Home—Judl.), dated Lahore, 5th February 1909.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. E. D. MACLAGAN, C.S., C.S.I., Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab and its Dependencies,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Legislative Department.

I AM directed to forward for approval a copy of a draft of a Bill to repeal Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 in the Punjab and to enact as law certain rules hitherto in force by notification under the Code of Civil Procedure, Act XIV of 1882.

2. It will be seen from the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the draft Bill that the objects of the Bill are two-fold,—(i) to repeal the Regulation of 1806 relating to conditional sales of land, (ii) to continue certain provisions previously in force in this Province regarding the sanction necessary for the sale of land in execution of a decree of a civil court.

3. As regards the former of these objects, I am to explain that Regulation XVII of 1806 has hitherto been in force in this Province. Its provisions were considerably restricted by section 10 of the Alienation of Land Act, which rendered null and void any mortgage of agricultural land by way of conditional sale after the passing of that Act, but the provisions of Regulation XVII of 1806 still apply to all conditional sales of land other than agricultural land. The Rule Committee appointed for the purposes of the new Civil Procedure Code have advised that the Regulation cannot be held to have been repealed, so far as the Punjab is concerned, by anything in Order No. XXXIV of the new Civil Procedure Code. It is true that both relate to procedure and are in pari materia, but it is at least doubtful whether their provisions can be pronounced to be absolutely repugnant. The Committee stated that the provisions of the Regulation could be worked with those of the Order, but the procedure would thus be made very cumbrous, and considering the pitfalls that abound in proceedings under the Regulation and how often they prove abortive, the Committee were of opinion that they should be repealed and those of the Order accepted. The Lieutenant-Governor, following the advice of the Committee, recommends that the Regulation of 1806 should be repealed so far as this Province is concerned. The result will then be that in cases of English mortgages and mortgages of non-agricultural land by conditional sale, the foreclosure provisions of Order No. XXXIV will apply.

3. As regards the second object of the enclosed draft Bill, I am directed to state that under section 16 of the Alienation of Land Act no agricultural land belonging to a member of an agricultural tribe can be sold in execution of any decree or order. Land not belonging to a member of an agricultural tribe can be so sold, but hitherto in consequence of the rules issued in Notification No. 1297-S., dated the 10th September 1885, no such land, if applied to agricultural or pastoral purposes, could be sold without the sanction of the Commissioner of the division, or if it is hereditary or joint-acquired property, without the sanction of the Financial Commissioner, and sanction under these rules was seldom given. This notification issued under the authority of the second clause of section 327 of the old Code, which has not been re-enacted in section 67 of the new Code, and there is therefore no provision in the new Code which would authorise the republication of this notification or keep it in force.

Although it is not now needed for the protection of land belonging to agricultural tribes, it is still, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, desirable to afford the protection given by the rules above-mentioned to land belonging to those agriculturists who have not been notified as belonging to agricultural tribes; and unless this can be provided, civil courts and Collectors will be compelled to sell, in execution of money decrees, land belonging to others than members of agricultural tribes; and the Commissioner and Financial Commissioner will no longer have the power they possess at present to prevent such a sale. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore thinks that, as it was not expressly intended by the new Civil Procedure Code to abolish the protection afforded by these rules, a provision should be made by legislation to maintain the substance of these rules and to protect the class above-mentioned in the manner hitherto in force in this Province.

4. I am, in conclusion, to ask that the orders of the Government of India may be conveyed at a very early date on this reference, as pending the enactment of legislation on the lines now proposed there will be considerable inconvenience in the decision of suits for foreclosure or conditional sale and a certain amount of hardship to classes which have hitherto been protected against the sale of their lands in execution of decrees.

DRAFT BILL.

TO

Repeal Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 within the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, and to enact as law certain rules hitherto in force by notification under the Code of Civil Procedure, Act XIV of 1882.

Whereas it is expedient to repeal Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 within the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and to continue in force certain rules regarding the sale of land ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

- | | |
|------------------------------------|---|
| Title. | 1. This Act may be called the Sale of Land and Foreclosure of Mortgages Amendment Act, 1909. |
| Extent. | 2. It extends to the Punjab. |
| Commencement. | 3. It shall come into force at once, but the provisions of section 5 shall have application from January 1st, 1909. |
| Repeal of Regulation XVII of 1806. | 4. Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 is hereby repealed. |
5. (1) No land which is applied to agricultural or pastoral purposes and no interest in such land shall be sold in execution of a decree of a civil court without the previous sanction of the Commissioner of the division, and where the land or interest in land proposed to be so sold is hereditary or joint-acquired property, without the previous sanction of the Financial Commissioner.
- (2) Sales of such land or of any interest in such land, in satisfaction of a decree passed by a civil court, shall be made by the Deputy Commissioner upon the requisition of the Court executing the decree.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN all Provinces where the Transfer of Property Act is in force, Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 has been repealed. The rights of mortgagors, in the case of mortgages by way of conditional sale, were felt to be sufficiently safeguarded by the provisions of that Act, and the additional protection given by the Regulation was no longer thought necessary. By the Code of Civil Procedure, Act V of 1908, the sections of the Transfer of Property Act dealing with the foreclosure of mortgages have been repealed and have been reproduced as part of Order XXXIV of the First Schedule of that Code. It is thought that that order may properly be enforced in the Punjab, and equally as in other Provinces, the provisions of the Regulation no longer remain necessary. It is true that rule 2 of the Order might be worked with the Regulation, but the procedure would then become very cumbrous. Moreover, the notice proceedings under the Regulation are most strictly construed and frequently prove abortive owing to the many pitfalls that abound in them. It has therefore been deemed advisable to repeal the Regulation and to allow proceedings for foreclosure in all cases to be governed by Order XXXIV of Act V of 1908.

Section 5 is merely a continuation of the rules regarding the sale of agricultural and pastoral land which were notified by Notification No. 1297 S., dated 10th September 1885, it introduces no fresh change in the law. That notification continued in force by virtue of the powers conferred

Under the provisions of section 23 of Act X, 1897, the General Clauses Act, the following rules have been made under section 122 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by the Hon'ble the Chief Court of the Punjab, to regulate its own procedure and the procedure of the Civil Courts subject to its superintendence :—

RULES.

After rule 7 of Order II, insert :—

8. (1) Where an objection, duly taken, has been allowed by the Court, the plaintiff shall be permitted to select the cause of action with which he will proceed and shall, within a time to be fixed by the Court, amend the plaint by striking out the remaining causes of action.

(2) When the plaintiff has selected the cause of action with which he will proceed, the Court shall pass an order giving him time within which to submit amended plaints for the remaining causes of action and for making up the court-fees that may be necessary. Should the plaintiff not comply with the Court's order, the Court shall proceed as provided in rule 18 of Order VI and as required by the provisions of the Court-Fees Act.

To rule 10 of Order V the following proviso should be added :—

“Provided that in any case if the plaintiff so wishes, the Court may attempt to serve the summons in the first instance by registered post instead of in the mode of service laid down in this rule: and provided always that should the defendant not appear in answer to the summons so issued, the Court shall have service effected, in accordance with the provisions of this Order.”

In the second paragraph of rule 2 of Order VII after the words “and the defendant” insert “or for moveables in the possession of the defendant, or for debts of which the value he cannot, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, estimate;” after the words “the amount” insert “or value.”

Order IX, rule 9 (1).—To rule 9 (1) the following proviso should be added :—

“Provided that the plaintiff shall not be precluded from bringing another suit for redemption of a mortgage, although a former suit may have been dismissed for default.”

Order XXI, rule 63.—After rule 29 of Order XXI the following rule shall be inserted :—

“29-A. When a suit under rule 63 of this Order is pending, the Court in which such suit is filed may, if it considers that execution of the former decree should be stayed, intimate the fact to the executing Court, which shall thereupon stay execution until the suit is decided.”

In Order XXI, rule 75 after the word “stored” shall be added the words “or can be sold to greater advantage in an unripe state, such as green wheat or gram.”

Order XXX, rule 1.—To rule 1 of Order XXX the following explanation should be added :—

Explanation.—“This rule applies to a joint Hindu family trading partnership.”

Order XXXII, rule 1.—To rule 1 the following paragraph shall be added :—

“Such person may be ordered to pay any costs in the suit as if he were the plaintiff.”

First Schedule, Order V, rule 18, form 11.—For the 3rd and 4th parts of (3) in the form read :—
